Leduc changed that, for it proved to be a new key which revealed that the underground wealth was there after all. Today nearly every major oil company in North America is sharing in the search and development.

More To Come

Before February 13, 1947, reserves of oil in Alberta totalled 35,000,000 barrels, mostly in the declining Turner Valley. Today that total is some 1,077,000,000 barrels, and oil students consider it not unreasonable that 5,000,000,000 barrels may be found within the not-distant future; and some predict that ultimate discoveries will run far belond that.

Not only did Leduc-proper expand, but the nearby Woodbend section was discovered in 1948 to establish what is known as the Leduc-Woodbend field with total estimated reserves of 242,000,000 barrels and some 250 wells now drilled.

Then in August, 1948, came the Redwater field, 35 miles northeast of Edmonton, with reserves estimated at 500,000,000 barrels, and some 300 wells now drilled.

There have been encouraging results at many other places of which perhaps the most significant are:

Stettler, which indicates that the oil-producing reef structure may be found over a large part of the Central Alberta plains;

Golden Spike, in the Edmonton area, with the thickest oil-bearing zone ever found in Canada—more than 545 feet;

Normandville, 240 miles northwest of Edmonton, near the Peace River, the first well of commercial importance in that part of the province.

Sharing in Boom

Because of the event of three years ago steel is being rolled in Hamilton, made into pipe at Welland, and scores of other communities across Canada are sharing $44,000,000 worth of contracts for materials which will go into a 1,150-mile $90,000,000 pipeline from Edmonton to Superior, Wisconsin, at the head of the Great Lakes.

For Canada as a whole, in addition to the stimulus which oil is giving to her economy, she was saved from spending last year $90,000,000 in scarce American currency; and when the pipeline is in operation she will save another $50,000,000.

All in all, February 13 is right up at the top of historic dates in Canadian industrial and economic history; and perhaps never before has a single event of this kind in this country been followed by such fast-moving developments.

Two Young Men Fined For Resisting Arrest

Two Campbellford young men, Ronald Pryke, 22, and Wesley Mechetuk, 23, each pleaded guilty to two charges of resisting Constable B. M. Bell, Havelock, and being drunk and were fined $35 and $7.50 costs before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court today.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said one of the men had to be dragged almost two blocks to jail. He said Constable Bell had to be assisted by other townspeople before he could get the two in jail.

Urges Lifting Trade Barriers

MONTREAL, Feb. 13 (CP) — Lifting of all trade restrictions and a free exchange of money from one country to another were asked today by Colin MacKay of Saint John, N. B., president of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, at the opening meeting of the body's 42nd annual convention here.

Mr. MacKay told the 2,000 delegates that international economy should return to a system of free trade among nations. In normal times, he said, citizens and private companies handle business not governments.

"These private companies," he said, "use their own money and their own resources and do a much better job than a government relying on taxes."

Mr. MacKay also said he believed the different currencies of the world would come closer to their intrinsic value if they could be exchanged on a free market instead of being converted on a fixed rate.

He warned lumber producers against the growing demand by the United States for Canadian lumber following reduced importations from the United Kingdom. He said business in the states was swollen from allocations from the economic co-operation association.

Farewell Party For McCombs

BONARLAW, Feb. 13 (ENS)— More than 300 people gathered in the Orange Hall at Springbrook Wednesday to honor Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McComb, Mr. Jack McComb and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert McComb before their departure for their new home near Belleville.

The Rev. J. M. Brownlie was chairman and led community singing.

An address was read by W. J. Barlow and Stanley McInroy and Harold Stiles presented Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McComb with a chest of Rodgers Silver 1847, in the Remembrance pattern and a china wall plaque. Jack McComb a pen and pencil set and to Mr and Mrs. Delbert McComb, a coffee table and electric clock.

Chief Requested To Caution Pupils

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 13 (ENS)—The Public School Board decided to request Police Chief Garnet Samis to caution the school children to be more careful crossing the street at the swamp crossing, the bridge and other danger points, as motorists have been complaining that when the streets are icy they have difficulty stopping for the children who are careless crossing the streets.

Trustee M. O. Kingdon was named to represent the board, at the annual School Fair being held by the Home and School Association in March.

Mrs. R. Doubt read and explained a little from the Lakefield Red Cross in which they offered to give vitamin pills to the first three rooms in Public Schools the three months, at a cost of $85 the Board was asked to aid in helping finance the piece for the upper grades.

After much discussion and a 'phone call to Inspector K. O. Birkin who stated there was no grant available to cover this expenditure, it was moved by Trustee Albert Buchanan and Stan. Richardson that the secretary write the Red Cross thanking them for their offer and advising them that the board would recommend its adoption to Principal Sloan, pending parent's consent. The Red Cross had intimated the approval of M. O. H. Dr. Hugh Gastle had been received.

The board decided to temporarily repair portion of school roof damaged in recent gale and Trustee M. O. Kingdon was named to inquire from insurance company what they would allow if a new roof was laid.

It was moved by trustees Charles Hunter and Jessie Doubt that new boards be purchased for the teeters.

Trustees Richardson and Kingdon moved that the board purchase a window platform for cleaning windows.

The secretary was authorized to pay the $100 rent to the rink.

Chairman Roy Bullock presided for the meeting.

Rector's Wife Talks To Warkworth WMS

WARKWORTH, Feb. 13 (ENS)—The Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's United Church met Thursday evening in the Sunday School Room with 33 members and three visitors present.

The worship service was in charge of Mrs. R. F. Jolliffe and Mrs. D. Thompson. Mrs. Jolliffe read a poem "The Fruit of the Spirit is Love", Mrs. Grant Allan read the Scripture Lesson and a vocal duet was sung by Mrs. Allan Buchanan and Mrs. Don Thompson with Mrs. C. Massey as their pianist.

Mrs. J. M. Ritchie wife of the Rev. J. M Ritchie of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was guest speaker. She made use of illustrations in poetic form to explain her address which was en titled "Lost Opportunities" A vote of thanks was extended to the speaker by Mrs. D. Thompson on behalf of the Society.

The business meeting followed. A motion was carried that the meetings would be discontinued in July and August. Mrs. Harold Buttars, the Finance Secretary stated the allocation for 1950 would be $300. Mrs. H. Allen, Community Friendship Secretary, reported four cards sent to the Sick and two to the bereaved Mrs. H. G. Lester announced that the World's Day of Prayer would be observed on Friday, February 24 at 3 p.m. in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Short reports were given by Mrs. Lorne Evans, Mrs. Harry Allen and Mrs. Howard Evans on the highlights of the Presbyterial meeting held recently in Frankford when the Warkworth Society conducted the Memorial Service.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Harold Buttars.

15 Fatalities In E.-Canada Over Weekend

By The Canadian Press.

A double slaying near Windsor, was among 15 fatalities reported in eastern Canada this weekend

A Canadian Press survey showed Ontario with 13 of the fatalities while Quebec and New Brunswick each reported one. Fires claimed four of the victims with traffic accidents claiming five persons.

At Comber, Ont., 30 miles east of Windsor, Mrs. Ellen Wallace, 48, manager of a farm, was found bludgeoned to death and a broken chair was lying beside the body.

Police investigating the slaying said that 44-year-old Louis Raes, tenant farmer, raced from his home. They fired warning shots and a bullet strick him in the head.

Three persons died when trapped in flaming buildings. A 10-month-old baby, the daughter of Clifford Burdett Jones, was burned to death when the two-room Jones cabin at Leamington, Ont., caught fire. Earl Mitchell, 40, had gone to Haliburton, on a fishing trip and died in a house fire and Gordon Gilliland was trapped in his burning barn at Sarnia.

A five-year-old Shippegan, N. B., boy, Jilbert Chaisson, died from burns suffered in a grocery store fire.

Freak Accident

A freak accident claimed 44-year-old Clarence Hands near Dresden. A tree he was chopping struck him when it fell while James Davidson, 44, of Toronto, died from injuries received in a fall at a New Year's Eve house party.

William Tarcia, 10, and William Beahan, 77, died in Windsor traffic accidents and Gordon L. Porter, 32, was killed in a street-car-automobile collision in Toronto.

Robert B. Bostwick, 60, Montreal engineer, was killed in an automobile mishap at Montreal Harry Edwin, of West Flamboro near Hamilton, was the other traffic victim.

Angus Currie, 76, a Dutton farmer who had been missing since Friday, was found drowned in a drainage ditch and Jack Ross Clemens was found dead near Galt. A .22 calibre rifle was near the body.

Mature Believes Stars Make Too Many Films

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 13 (AP)—Victor Mature, a man who is never speechless, comes out with this amazing statement—movie stars make too many pictures.

The massive male is making "Alias Mike Fury" after a six-month vacation from films Although he disliked the lay-off, he feels it was a boon to film-goers.

"Just think," he mused, "that's less Mature for the American public. Isn't it wonderful?"

"Movie stars work too much. It would be a great thing for the industry and for the nation as a whole if every star would agree to do one less picture a year.

"The public gets sick of seeing stars so often. No, this sickness isn't evident on the surface. It invades the subconscious. People don't realize it is happening to them."

Todd Talks

Richard Todd, who reached almost immediate fame as the Scotsman in "The Hasty Heart," is making his first American film, "Lightning Strikes Twice." Here are his reactions to Hollywood:

"I was really quite surprise to learn there is so little difference between making films in England and here.

"The most notable difference the magnitude of everything in Hollywood. There is more of everything here. Every department is vast. For instance, we don't have the huge publicity departments that Hollywood has.

"The English people don't care about the private lives of the stars. There are only two fan magazines and both of them are thin. Most newspapers carry film news only once a week. The more conservative ones carry only film criticism.

"But that doesn't mean the English people aren't fans. They have fan clubs and write to their favorite stars, just as Americans do. When a star makes a public appearance, they jam the theatre, ask for autographs and try to snatch a souvenir."

Seek To End Cold War If Elected

Churchill Promises Personal Approach To Premier Stalin

EDINBURGH, Feb. 14 — (Reuters)—Winston Churchill hinted tonight that if he again becomes Prime Minister after the February 23 general elections, he will personally approach Prime Minister Stalin of Russia "in a supreme effort" to try and end the cold war.

Speaking to a huge election meeting, he recalled his earlier relations with Stalin and said:

"Still I cannot help coming back to this idea of another talk with Soviet Russia upon the highest level.

"The idea appeals to me of a supreme effort to bridge the gulf between the two worlds, at least without the hatred of the cold war."

As thousands surged outside Edinburgh's Usher Hall, unable to obtain admission, an overflow audience a mile away listened by radio relay as Churchill said:

"It is my belief that the superiority in the atom bomb, if not indeed almost the monopoly of this frightful weapon, in American hands is the surest guarantee of world peace tonight."

The Soviet-Communist world has by far the greatest military force, Churchill said, but the United States has the atom bomb — "and now, we are told that they have a thousand-fold more terrible manifestation of this awful power."

"It is my earnest hope that we may find our way to some more exalted and august foundation for our safety and its grim and sombre balancing power of the bomb," Churchill said.

"When I say 'we' I must not let you forget that 'we' means the United States, and it is their power which protects not only Britain but Europe."

8 More Arrests In New Drive

MONTREAL, Feb. 14 (CP). — Pierre Gelinas, 25-year-old editor of the Labor-Progressive Le Combat, and Mrs. Alphonsine Morand are scheduled to appear today in Recorder's Court to answer charges of peddling circulars without permit.

They were among eight persons arrested Monday by city police in a drive against alleged subversive activities. Gelinas and Mrs. Morand were booked and later released on $50 bail each.

Police said the pamphlets Gelinas was distributing sought membership for L'Association des Contribuables de L'Est (East-end Taxpayers' Association), labelled by a police official as "positively and without the shadow of a doubt Communist-controlled."

These charges were vigorously denied by Paul Croteau, organizer of the association. In a telephone interview with The Canadian Press, he said that he was not a Communist but a practising Roman Catholic.

"I know that we have some Communists in our midst but we are no more afraid of them than we are of members affiliated with any other party," he said.

Council Has Refused Licence Electricians

SUDBURY, Feb. 14 — (CP).— Sudbury City Council on Monday night rejected a plea from the city's Electrical Contractors' Association for support of a Bill to be introduced at the coming session of the Ontario Legislature. The Bill, aimed at regulating the industry, would set up a licensing system for electricians.

The Bill would put part-time electricians out of business and the association argued that this was reasonable as these men engaged in other work during the day and they provided unfair competition to established electricians.

Before rejecting the plea for support, the Council investigated and found that 12 other municipalities had taken similar action.

US Coal Miners Ignore Orders 2nd Day

Midnight Shifts Fail To Report In Key Coal-Producing States

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 14 (AP) —For the second day in a row striking United States soft coal miners today defied back-to-work orders from the Federal Government and from John L. Lewis.

Midnight shifts failed to report in the key coal-producing States of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

There was talk that the 372,000 idle United Mine Workers stayed home to celebrate Lewis' 70th birthday. It is not a legal holiday in the bituminous fields.

Today also is a holiday — Valentine's Day. However, it appears more likely the miners are backing up their "no contract, no work" tradition.

The miners did not seem much concerned with President Truman's Taft-Hartley court injunction. Nor with Lewis' telegraphed instructions to the UMW district leaders to get the men back to the mines.

The governemnt is marking time on enforcement of court orders to halt the strike. It has adopted a wait-and-see attitude at least for the time being.

Lewis and the coal operators get together tomorrow in another try at writing a contract to replace the pact that expired June 30.

Lewis, acting on court instructions to revive collective bargaining "in good faith," invited the operators to start new talks.

A spokesman for the operators said the new contract talks will be conducted in a "different atmosphere" since Federal Court has forbidden Lewis to use four key demands.

Demands ruled illegal include Lewis' insistence on an "able and willing" clause to determine when his men work, and the right to special holidays or memorial time off.

Housing, Labor Legislation For Legislature

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP) — Leslie Frost, who sat through eight sessions of the Ontario Legislature in opposition and through seven as Provincial Treasurer, starts his first as Premier of the Province on Thursday. He goes into the session with the strength of his Progressive Conservative majority unimpaired, despite two by-elections since the 1949 session.

The speech from the throne — part of the centuries-old opening ceremonies—is expected to predict a new Ontario labor code and a low-cost housing plan.

Other legislation likely to come before the 22nd Legislature includes a bill to allow Toronto Sunday afternoon sports and solution to the deadlock between resort owners and the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Company over pollution of the Spanish River, in Northern Ontario.

Mr. Frost, who succeeded Agriculture Minister Thomas L. Kennedy as Premier following the last session, will lead 53 Progressive Conservative members E. B. Jolliffe, CCF leader, has been meeting in caucus with his 20 supporters to draft policy of the official opposition.

Farquhar Oliver, who recently resigned as Ontario Liberal leader will continue to lead the 13 Liberal members and one Liberal-Labor member pending a party convention to choose his successor. There are two Labor Progressive members, representing the Toronto constituencies of Bellwoods and St. Andrews. There are no vacancies in the 90-seat Legislature.

Amend Labor Act

The government is reported planning to amend the Labor Relations Act which is virtually a copy of the Federal Act and was adopted in 1948. The Ontario Labor Relations Board is expected to be retained to authorize prosecution in cases of unfair labor practices. This power now is held by the Minister. Labor groups have argued that the Minister is not equipped to investigate charges of unfair practices.

Premier Frost has hinted at gifts "under the Christmas tree" for Ontario municipalities in

UN Diplomats May Speed But They Can't Be Pinched

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 14—(CP)—You can drive 100 miles an hour on the super-highway leading to the United Nations and probably get away with it—if you're a diplomat. Certainly a diplomat can't be jailed. If a cop does catch up with the delegate, he takes his name, address and the country he represents. That's all.

The diplomat might spit in the cop's face—as an excited one once did—and get away with it.

These questionable privileges are part of the protection given foreign diplomats by the United States government.

No Canadian delegate ever has used the privilege although there have been some minor traffic violations that might have been pushed aside by showing the little blue identification folder.

Needed Lesson

Wives of diplomats also come under the immunity privileges. The wife of one Canadian blue-card holder, however, spent the day in court and paid a $20 fine after a traffic accident on the road between New York city and Lake Success. Her husband thought the experience might make her drive more carefully.

Traffic violations make up the majority of cases where immunity has been pleaded. Many have waived the rights and paid their fine. Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, holds diplomatic immunity, he once fought the case of his speeding chauffeur who was on a UN mission when stopped. Once the principle had been won, Lie paid the $10 fine.

Other cases included an important delegate sued for unpaid alimony by a divorced wife. He pleaded immunity and had the case thrown out of court, making a private settlement.

Arrest 40 Outlaws

ROME, Feb. 14—(AP)—Special police hunting Salvatore Giuliano, Sicilian bandit king, have arrested 40 outlaws and suspects in a two weeks' sweep through the Sicilian Hills, dispatches said today. More than 1,000 militarized police were sent to Sicily late last summer to clean out the island notorious bandit gangs, and the outlaw leader, Giuliano, who has eluded the law for seven years.

Shaw Defends Price Supports

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP) — Spokesmen for organized farmers today took issue with a government suggestion that the federal price support problem for agricultural products must be administered only to keep farm prices "out of the cellar."

H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said that Canada must accept as part of its national fiscal policy the maintenance of a price support program which would give the producer a fair return on his product in relation to production costs.

He, and A. M. Shaw, chairman of the Agriculture Department's price-support board, spoke before the annual convention of the Canadian Horticultural Council. The issue of price-supports thrown open for discussion from the floor, brought questions of whether the government was keeping faith with the farmers in the problem of maintaining farm prices.

In National Interest

Mr. Shaw said administration of the program must be considered in the "national interest." the idea of price-support was not to boost prices, but to hold them against dropping too low."

"One of the dangers of price-supports," said Mr. Shaw, "is the accumulation of surpluses. If there is no market outlet, these become embarrassing.

"The program then boomerangs and incites the public to look warily on price-supports."

He believed floor prices must be carefully considered in relationship to marketing possibilities, not only in Canada, but throughout the world.

Trapped In Fire By Injured Leg

LUCKNOW, Feb. 14. — John Barger, 88, died of suffocation on Monday because an injured leg prevented his escape from a fire in Miss Henderson's Home for the Aged here. Barger injured his leg less than half an hour before the fire started.

Although the blaze raged for several hours before being brought under control, the other four residents of the home were unhurt. Damage was estimated at $15,000.

Ironically, an undertaker who runs an ambulance service had been called to pick up Barger, who fell on the lawn in front of the frame building, and carry him to his second-story bedroom. No sooner had the undertaker left than flames swept through the home.

The Rev. D. M. McConnell, retired, and a resident of the home, was acting as caretaker in the absence of the Misses Pearl and Elizabeth Henderson, who operate the home. He and three elderly women who also live there escaped minutes before flames made it impossible to re-enter the building.

Fireman George Wheeler reached Barger's room by ladder and carried him down, but Coroner M. H. Gillies of Teeswater pronounced him dead.

Planes Carry Own Hangars In Latest Arctic Wrinkle

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., Feb. 14 (CP)—Canada's Air Force is waiting to try out in Exercise Sweetbriar a development of major importance for any real northern warfare—a prefabricated hangar that can be flown about in a single transport plane.

It is designed to lick the problem of servicing fighter planes on bleak, wind-swept, shelterless landing strips that are scattered all across the northland for use in emergency and which would become vital in any defence of the Arctic.

That is one of numerous RCAF tests going on here. A second is the first operational test of white nylon fur flying suits that are based on Eskimo experience and make the fliers—generally enthusiastic about them—look like polar bears.

A third is the first sub-Arctic test for Canada's first regular fighter interceptor squadron and their jet-propelled planes. But the toughest experiment of all is falling on those ground crew men who get up at 4 a.m. to mother the jets for hours in the brutal weather that sweeps across Whitehorse's airport.

The RCAF tackled the hangar at United States' suggestion and built it at the construction and maintenance unit in Calgary. The man in charge of the crew that finally built it was WO. William Bockwell and he's the head of the crew scheduled to erect it on a snow-packed air strip at Burwash Landing, 175 miles from here, once ground troops seize that area.

Made of plywood, it is 42 by 44 feet, big enough and high enough to allow a fighter to be rolled in out of temperatures that reach 50 and 60 below zero and to be serviced in the warmth of heaters.

It sits on a foundation of wood and ice. Water is poured into wooden holds, freezes and takes the place of cement. Out of the ice stem the bolts by which the hangar is held down.

50 People Marooned In Schoolhouse Near Guelph Area

By The Canadian Press

Sleet and freezing rain stung southern Ontario today, making thick, heavy slush of the four to eight inches of snow which fell during the night. The unusual mild spell of recent weeks was ended; king winter was in full command again. Temperatures hovered near freezing and biting winds bowled across the province.

Telephone and telegraph communication was disrupted in many sections. Road, rail and air transportation was badly hampered.

At least three deaths were attributed to the storm. Joseph McLean, 84, collapsed in a snowbank and died while shovelling snow in Toronto. Hedley Bushey, 72, collapsed and died as he trudged through deep snow in Toronto. Sydney Howard, 63, died at work in Hamilton after plowing through deep drifts from his home.

All schools, including McMaster University, were closed in Hamilton. At noon there was no indication from officials as to when they would be reopened.

50 People Marooned

More than 50 persons were marooned between Guelph and Elora and spent the night in a schoolhouse. They include bus passengers, two Provincial Policemen, three carloads of motorists and a tow-truck crew.

The high winds brought big waves crashing ashore at all lake points. In Toronto harbor, big ones broke over tugs plying between the mainland and Toronto Island. Passengers said the tug decks were ankle-deep in water.

In Toronto, Agriculture Minister Kennedy said the storm suited him fine.

"Snow is what the farmers need from now on," he said in an interview. "There never has been a year in the history of the province when there has been so much moisture in the soil. When spring comes, the moisture will be there and it will last all summer."

Driving Dangerous

Heavy snow drifts and rain made driving hazardous in the area bounded by Toronto, Windsor, Barrie and Sarnia. Roads in western Ontario were hardest hit and the main highway from Toronto to Windsor was almost impassable.

At London, falling trees and poles cut off power. Westminster Hospital was without power most of the night and it was feared Victoria Hospital might be hit today.

Highway Blocked

No. 2 Highway, the main artery west from Hamilton, was blocked at Ancaster. Wentworth County officials said in Hamilton that 108 miles of county roads were impassable. City Engineer W. L. McFaul, of Hamilton, described the storm as the worst in six years. More than 20 automobiles were stranded in Hamilton's Binkley subway as the underpass flooded to a depth of three feet.

Two sisters, aged three years and 16 months, were stranded in a snowdrifted police car near Oakville after being taken from a fire which engulfed their home at Bronte. Firemen returning from the blaze finally rescued the children after several hours.

Reds Speed Handling Of Berlin Truck Traffic

BERLIN, Feb. 14—(AP)—The Russians speeded up to normal their handling of Berlin's truck traffic today after a sudden three-hour slowdown Monday night.

Berlin-bound vehicles were allowed to enter the Russian zone at Helmstedt today at the rate of nine or 10 an hour, considered normal for the winter.

German customs officials said they could offer no explanation for the slowdown. It caused a backlog of 50 trucks, which cleared up early this morning.

Mysterious Explosion

HELSINKI, Feb. 14—(AP)—Police said they had no explanation of an explosion early today that rocked the parliament buildings where a Finnish president is to be elected tomorrow. The officers said the explosion, on the staircase leading to the building's entrance, caused no serious damage inside the structure.

King And Queen May Visit Australia In '52

CANBERRA, Feb. 14.—(Reuters).—The King and Queen may visit Australia in the spring of 1952, Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies said here today.

The royal visit—cancelled last year because of the King's health —could not be arranged for 1951 because of the Festival of Britain, from which it was "almost unthinkable" for the King and Queen to be absent, Menzies said.

The King's private secretary, Sir Alan Lascelles, had told Australia's governor-general, J. W. McKell, that the success of the festival, of first-class importance to the general economy of Britain, would be seriously endangered "if the King and Queen were not able to launch it with other members of the royal family and take part in its subsequent activities."

The King and Queen were to have visited Australia and New Zealand last year with Princess Margaret, but the trip was cancelled after a medical report said it would be hazardous for the King to make the journey.

Poses Problem

Menzies said:

"It has been emphasized that the King is not unmindful of the fact that Australia is celebrating the 50th birthday of the Commonwealth.

"Weighing the respective claims of this and the Festival of Britain had given the King much concern.

"The King has, however, come to the conclusion that all things considered it is his duty to devote the period in question to the Festival of Britain and to remain in the United Kingdom for that purpose."

Face Major Decision About German Steel

DUESSELDORF, Feb. 14 (AP) —Spurting German steel production is confronting the Allies with a major policy decision.

Shall they raise the 11,100,000 ton limit that West Germany now is allowed to produce annually?

"It would help relieve her unemployment and strengthen her economy, the Germans argue.

But against that, it would raise the old fears of her neighbors that a strong German steel industry means a strong German war potential.

A British spokesman has estimated West Germany's actual steel production capacity at 14,700,000 tons—3,600,000 tons more than she is allowed to produce.

Allied sources expect German political and industrial leaders to begin an intensive campaign in the near future to win permission to increase the output.

Bomber From Alaska Base Ditched Off BC Coast, 16 Men On Missing Plane

Pick Up SOS Engine Afire, Instruments Out 300 Miles North Of Seattle, Canadian Destroyer Joins In Sea Search

SEATTLE, Feb. 14—(AP)—An authoritative source said today that a B-36 bomber has been forced down in Queen Charlotte Sound with 16 men aboard, 400 miles northwest of here. The informant said there is no doubt that the plane "ditched" in the icy waters off the British Columbia coast after encountering severe icing conditions and fire in one engine while on a trip from Elelson air force base, near Fairbanks, Alaska. Officials at McChord air force base have refused to discuss the matter and a veil of secrecy has been wrapped around the matter.

MacKay radio first reported the giant six-engined plane in difficulty when it picked up a message at 2.54 a.m. PST. The plane en route to Carswell air force base, Fort Worth, radioed:

"One engine on fire, contemplating ditching in Queen Charlotte Sound between Queen Charlotte Island and Vancouver Island. Keep a careful lookout for flares or wreckage."

Receive Same Report

At Fort Worth, Eighth Air Force headquarters said it received the same report at 4:30 a.m., CST. The plane's third distress message said:

"At 17,000 feet in severe icing Instrument and engine trouble. Severe emergency. Going to let down through overcast to lose ice."

The last message gave the plane's position as roughly 300 miles northwest of Seattle. Contact with the plane was lost after the third message.

A Seattle radio amateur reported he had listened to a radio report from the RCAF and that it had sighted an unidentified light in Queen Charlotte Sound and was sending planes to investigate.

The coast guard at Port Angeles, about 300 miles southeast of the approximate position of the disabled plane, dispatched a seaplane with life rafts and other emergency rescue equipment.

The Canadian destroyer HMCS Cayuga, under command of Capt M. A. Medland, left her Esquimalt, B.C. base at 8:15 a.m. today to help search for missing bomber.

Montreal Said Free Of Organized Vice

MONTREAL, Feb. 14—(CP)— Police Director J. Albert Langlois said today "on my sworn oath of office" that Montreal is free of organized vice.

Langlois, who became head of the police department four years ago, handed reporters without comment a 1,200-word statement which he said is a condensation of a complete report made to civic authorities.

"On my sworn oath of office, on my responsibility as director of the police department," he said. "I affirm that Montreal is a city closed to organized vice, notable in the two most evil forms, prostitution and gambling."

Tackle Ticklish Problem Of Potato Exports To US

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—The Canadian Horticultural Council today tackles one of Canada's agricultural headaches—the shipment of potatoes into the United States.

One of 10 committees at the Council's annual convention will concentrate on a resolution put forward by potato growers that the government be asked to undertake means of expanding the American market—biggest foreign market for the Canadian product.

The problem is ticklish because of the huge stocks of potatoes piling up in the United States and the complaints by some American producers that Canadian potatoes are flooding the American market.

However, Canadian growers say a "very unfair situation exists."

Seed potatoes, they say, enter Canada free of duty. But when Canadian exporters ship to the United States, they must pay duty of $7.50 a ton on a quota of not more than 2,500,000 bushels annually. Any amount over the quota must bear a duty of $15 a ton. The same duty applies on table potatoes for which the US has established an annual quota of 1,000,000 bushels.

They ask the Council delegates to consider proposing that if the US persists in charging duty on Canadian spuds, Canada do the same against the American product, which enters this country during off-season periods.

If this plan cannot be accepted, the growers ask that the current duty be lowered and the quota increased.

Prairies Drawing Battle Plans Against Hoppers

WINNIPEG, Feb. 14 (CP) — They're getting ready on the prairies for the 1950 battle royal against the grasshoppers.

It threatens to be a touch-and-go fight—man and chemical weapons against the multi-million-dollar appetite of an insect horde which is expected to be bigger than last year.

What side the weatherman takes may decide the winner.

"Give us ample moisture and temperatures that don't range too high and leave the grasshoppers to us," said H. E. Wood, weeds director for Manitoba. "If the weatherman favors us, we'll win."

Two-thirds of Saskatchewan farm areas report greater infestation in prospect this year and agricultural officials in Manitoba and Alberta predict a wider area will be affected in their provinces.

The campaign against the hoppers has been started already though snow still lies deep on the prairies. Farmers have been briefed on their part through distribution of pamphlets and at public meetings. They'll use a new chemical which is believed to be more poisonous to grasshoppers than chlordane, which was used successfully last year.

The chemical is aldrin, tested extensively and used in the United States last year.

Entomologists in Alberta are boosting a "cultural control phase" which prepares infested soil by plowing and exposing the eggs to the weather. Officials believe 60 to 70 per cent of the hoppers can be killed this way.

Bogus Tickets Sold On Sweeps

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Police said today thousands of Toronto residents are holding counterfeit sweepstake tickets and they wouldn't be surprised if there were "many millions" in Canada.

They said Monday was the last day for sweepstake sales and those without official receipts can figure their tickets are not genuine.

The tickets are difficult to detect as counterfeit. Police admit that they were fooled by them and it was only after seizing 200 books and arresting a man on a lottery charge that the tickets were recognized as counterfeit.

Police believe they come from the United States and may be circulated by the same gang distributing counterfeit $10 bills.

Newspaper Guild Files Objection To Voting

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP)—The American Newspaper Guild (CIO-CCL) and the Toronto Newspaper Guild, Local 87, have filed an objection to an election conducted Feb. 3 among editorial employees of the Toronto Evening Telegram.

P. M. Draper, chairman of the Ontario Labor Relations Board, declined to divulge details of the objection.

In the Telegram vote, conducted by the Labor Board, the Guild failed to win the support of the majority of Telegram editorial employees. It therefore lost its bid for certification as bargaining agent.

Mr. Draper said the Guild's objection will be heard at a date not yet fixed.

First Decline In 10 Years For Farmers

Farm Prices Still Comparatively High According To Bureau

OTTAWA, Feb. 14—(CP)—Canadian farm prices were down in 1949, the first decline in 10 years. However, the general average still remained more than 2½ times higher than during the 1935-39 period.

The Bureau of Statistics reported today that farm prices of Canadian agricultural products dropped 1.3 per cent from the 1948 record high of 252.6 to 251.3. This index is based on 1935-39 equals 100.

Responsible for the overall drop were declines in prices of grains, dairy products, potatoes, vegetables and furs. Increased prices of livestock poultry and eggs, fruits, tobacco and maple products failed to make up the loss.

The regional picture showed small increases in Ontario, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. These were offset by decreases in the other provinces. Newfoundland was not included in the survey.

Biggest Decline

Prince Edward Island came up with the biggest decline, from an index of 237.9 in 1948 to 204 in 1949. The drop of almost 34 per cent in farm prices in the province was followed by one of close to 30 per cent in New Brunswick from 250.6 in 1948 to 220.7 last year. By comparison, the changes in the other provinces were small.

Here are the indices for the seven others, with 1948 figures in brackets:

Nova Scotia 210 (213.1); Quebec 261.9 (265.6); Ontario 259.4 (259.3); Manitoba 251.9 (254.6); Saskatchewan 239.4 (239.3); Alberta 257.2 (256.2); and British Columbia 244 (238).

December Drop

During December there were price decreases from the previous December in almost all commodities. Compared with November however, the prices for livestock and dairy products were higher while potatoes, poultry and eggs were down. General indices were down in all provinces from the same month a year earlier.

The bureau reported that lower grain prices were largely a result of government authorization of the wheat board to undertake marketing of western oats and barley delivered by producers during the 1949-50 crop year.

Under this arrangement the wheat board pays to producers on delivery of these grains an initial payment only. Not included in present figures in the money which will later be paid to farmers in the form of participation payments.

The bureau gives a statistical review of farm price indices dating back to 1935. The review shows a drop from 1938 to 1939 but yearly increases from then on, right up to 1948.

Here are the indices for the last 16 years:

1935—88; 1936—96.9; 1937—119.7; 1938—105; 1939—91.8; 1940—96.8; 1941—110.3; 1942—133.1; 1943—157.8; 1944—172.4; 1945—184.2; 1946—200.8; 1947—212.5; 1948—252.6 (all-time high); 1949—251.3.

Some People Making It Difficult For Canada To Distribute Food

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Some people in the world are making it difficult for Canada to distribute food surpluses to areas where they are needed, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Monday.

Conditions are not yet normal and Canada is producing surplus foodstuffs which "are needed somewhere," Mr Gardiner told the opening session of the Canadian Horticultural Council annual convention. The council is meeting for three days.

He said some people are making it difficult to move these surpluses to the areas where they can be consumed. Mr. Gardiner did not identify these persons. However, it appeared to be a reference to the Canadian proposal for establishment of an international commodity clearing house, turned down by the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization.

Fight For Sales

Following Mr. Gardiner's address, the delegates heard reports from both the industry and the government. They were informed:

1. The so-called honeymoon of effortless sales was definitely over. The industry had to fight hard for the consumer's dollar.

2. In making decisions, they should consider the long-range possibilities, rather than the short-range problems.

3. That a surplus of 4,000,000 bushels would appear on the 1950 apple-crop scene if the current estimate of 18,000,000 bushels materializes. Potatoes also would be in oversupply and the 1950 price prospect for these items was not encouraging.

Mr. Gardiner told the 125 delegates, representing more than 175,000 fruit and vegetable gardeners, that while Canada was nearing the end of the transitional period from war to peace, there still were some difficulties in the marketing of farm produce.

Cold War Hindrance

He linked these difficulties with the existence of the cold war—the same kind of cold war that existed for 10 years before the outbreak of hostilities in 1939.

At that time Canada, because of its small numbers, was left to manage for itself. Nobody paid much attention to the country.

"We were considered rather small potatoes when the world was preparing for war," he said.

The dislocation from peace to war had caused "those living in Canada considerable punishment." Yet when the war broke out, Canada jumped in to help.

Now, one of the countries it had helped—the United Kingdom—was buying from other sources because it did not have the dollars with which to buy from Canada. The countries Canada had assisted now were buying from others, rather than from Canadians who depend on selling foodstuffs for a livelihood.

Weather experts at Toronto, who expect the conditions to hold at least 24 hours, called it "a strange storm" because the steady snowfall was so light in its descent.

But it was heavy enough to recall the great storm of December, 1944, when Toronto was isolated and 11 persons died as the city was buffeted with a gale-driven fall of 22 inches, and soldiers aided more than 1,000 street department workers in digging out of the mess. Before that there was the great storm over Eastern Ontario and Quebec in January, 1943, which was called the worst in 50 years after the lifting of wartime censorship regulations enabled the story to be told.

Continues Mild

Temperatures today are expected to continue fairly mild, around 30 degrees at the maximum in most parts, but more snow is expected.

The wind that whipped the snow into huge drifts Monday over a wide area of Ontario generally ranged between 25 and 45 miles an hour, but was much stronger in spots. Gusts as high as 75 miles an hour were reported at London.

The Lake Erie area—the long stretch betwen Windsor and Welland—bore the brunt of the storm. Some trees were toppled at Windsor and telephone and telegraph wires were in bad shape in Essex County.

Utility power poles were broken down around Chatham, which had a short power blackout, and telephones to Wallaceburg were cut.

Stuck In Drifts

Between Bronte and Burlington, near Hamilton, a snowplow, a Provincial Police car and two Gray Coach Line motorbuses were stuck in the drifts late Monday night. Further east of Hamilton hotels at Oakville were jammed with motorists who gave up the struggle against the storm.

The Ontario Highways Department and municipal departments all had full crews battling the storm. There were many reports of property damage and cars stalled but no serious accidents.

Roads from Toronto to the east and north were in fairly good shape, but were blocked at many points in western Ontario. The main No. 2 Highway from Hamilton to St. Catharines was particularly hard hit. Dozens of transport trucks were pulled up at Clappison's Corners early today while drivers sat out the storm.

At Hamilton a Canadian National Railways engine slid off the tracks, hard-packed with snow, and blocked Main Street East. Three freight cars were derailed in the Hamilton yards.

Board Discusses Why Vocational Not Attracting

Why don't more students coming to PCVS take the vocational rather than the academic course?

That perennial problem confronting the Board of Education was brought up again at Monday night's meeting of the Supervision Committee.

Reasons put forward ranged from snobbery on the part of the students toward a vocational career, to lack of accommodation for such training at the school. Peterborough male students, unlike those in many other urban centres, shun such subjects as machine shop, electricity and woodworking.

Similarly the female students seem not too fond of domestic science.

K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, pointed out that two students chose the academic for every one that chose vocational. (According to the January report the enlistment was 1,211 and 776 respectively.)

Lack of Enthusiasm

Mrs. Paige Rowell was concerned over the lack of enthusiasm among the girls—Peterborough's prospective mother— for domestic science.

G. Wilson Craw said he thought in many instances it was downright snobbery; that some students thought there was a stigma attached to a person working on a manual job. Several members agreed with this point of view.

The situation seems all the more strange in a city which is as industrialized as Peterborough, it was pointed out. However, it was suggested, as part explanation, that at least one large employer in the city preferred hiring the academic students and then training them later on a special course.

"We've been trying to sit on two stools," said Mr. Wightman. "We've been trying to include academic education and yet we still have not got vocational training linked up with the future of the child."

US Practice

He told the committee members that in the United States he found secondary schools giving vocational education could almost guarantee their graduates a job This was true even of a girls' sewing class, and a similar class on cosmetics, he said.

Chief stumbling block, it was generally agreed, was the lack of accommodation in the school. But better publicity on the possibilities of the vocational course would be a help.

An illustrated booklet to advise public school graduates on their next step and an educational film on vocational training were two other suggestions.

Begin Factory Visits

Students of Grade IX at the the Collegiate made their first visit in a series to local plants Monday under the direction of Howard Moebus, vocational guidance department. Two students from each class will report to their classes at the next Occupations period on what they saw on their trip through the Canada Packers Company.

Williams Funeral

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Williams, 78, 698 Elcombe Cres., was held on Monday at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church officiated. Pall-bearers, all grandsons, were Jack, Earl, Gerald and Maxwell Williams of Toronto and Ted and Robert of Peterborough. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

2.5 inches snow.

Four to eight inches of snow have fallen in Southern Ontario since the current storm began Monday. Winds of 25 to 50 miles per hour and heavy drifting snow have been reported from southern regions. The snow has changed to rain and freezing rain in the most southerly part of the province as wintry conditions have spread slowly eastward and northward. No general relief is in sight for the next 24 hours although the snow is expected to change to rain or freezing rain in many southern localities. Northern Ontario remains clear and cold with no change indicated for Wednesday.

Forecasts:

Industrials Weak On A Slow Market

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP)—Industrial and base metal stocks led a steady decline on the Toronto stock exchange today. Activity was the slowest in recent months with prices barely moving.

Volume for the first three hours was 392,000 shares.

Declines ranged from fractions to a full point on the industrials. The steady drop was largely the result of a lack of buyers rather than increased selling.

Steels, foods, refining oils, liquors and textiles were lower. International Paper dipped in an otherwise firmer paper list and utilities were mixed. Financial institutions and agricultures found support.

Consolidated Smelters, Steep Rock and Pend Oreille slumped to new lows in base metals. Noranda Mines, selling ex-dividend $1, dipped the full amount.

Senior golds weakened slightly and a handful of juniors lost pennies. Several smaller issues moved briskly on their own.

The four-day decline in western oil stocks slowed to a crawl. Key issues mixed penny gains and losses.

Jury Suggests Bylaw Changed

TORONTO, Feb. 14—(CP)—A lengthy inquest into the deaths of nine asphyxiated garment workers trapped behind barred windows in a blazing basement factory Jan. 20 ended Monday night with jury recommendations for immediate changes in the "antiquated" building by-law.

Thirty-four witnesses were heard in four sessions held under Chief Coroner Dr. Smirle Lawson to investigate the tragic fire which swept through the Phillips Garment Company factory.

In its verdict, the jury labelled the factory a fire-trap. It recommended that Mayor Hiram McCallum and the Board of Control form a committee of men familiar with fire hazards and building trades to develop new building by-laws.

The jury found that the fire victims had been asphyxiated by carbon monoxide generated from fumes of burning celanese. It was suggested regulations should be established governing storage of such material.

Lindsay Woman, 77 In Snow All Night

LINDSAY, Feb. 14.—Losing her way near her home late Saturday night, Mrs. Lillie Elstine, 77, lay through the night in a grove of tag-alders. She was found semi-conscious by two neighbors, Earl Casey and J. A. Robertson, Haliburton, on Sunday morning.

Removed to Haliburton Hospital, her condition is reported serious.

The aged woman, who weighs 250 pounds, said she had wandered aimlessly and finally collapsed in the snow and bushes.

Water And Light Surplus Fund Keeps Tax Down

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14 — The sum of $12,000 was granted to the town of Campbellford Monday by the Public Utilities Commission.

The usual amount of this yearly grant is $8,000, but Mayor Ayrhart asked for an increased grant this year in order that taxes remain at their present level. This grant comes from the surplus fund of the Water and Light Commission.

Gerald Mitchell, representing the consumers on the English Line, asked the Board for a new contract to insure uninterrupted service to the consumers of that area. The present contract expires this month. The Board decided that a new contract should be drawn up and presented for approval at the next regular meeting.

Mayor Ayrhart spoke to the Board regarding the recent acquisition of the building formerly known as Davidson's Arena, as a community centre. He said that as this was now a municipal enterprise, he felt the Water and Light Committee should supply its services free of charge and the Board decided in favor of this.

The Board further decided in favor of cancelling all outstanding charges for services now on its books against the building. These were about $14.20.

A representative of the Blue Cross hospitalization plan, addressed the committee regarding taking out a hospitalization policy to cover its employees. The Board decided to let the representative take this matter up with the employees themselves, and obtain their reaction to the idea.

Commissioner Howard E. Hogle asked that the employees be instructed in first aid and resuscitation. He stated that the life of his son was undoubtedly saved a short while ago because of the fact that fellow members of a Hydro gang on which his son was employed, applied artificial respiration after he was injured on the job.

It was decided that P. C. Denyes, manager of the Water and Light Commission, be empowered to see that the employees received this instruction.

Hydrogen Bomb Prime Topic In U.K. Election

LONDON, Feb. 14—(CP)—The Hydrogen Bomb has become a prime topic in the British political campaign which brought out a record 1,864 candidates for parliament when the seven-day period for nominations closed Monday night.

Speakers for both Prime Minister Attlee's labor government and Winston Churchill's conservative opposition have called for a new attempt at International agreement to head off the use of the fearful atomic weapon.

With the election only nine days off, the bomb still is not in the issue category But if it should become so, debate probably would boil up over which party could do more to get the United States and Russia to agree—labor or the conservatives.

Without mentioning the H-Bomb by name, Anthony Eden, who is likely to become deputy prime minister if the conservatives win, Monday spoke fearfully at Radford of the "race in new weapons of destruction."

Must Act Soon

He said something must be done to stop this by ending international distrust.

"I am quite sure," Eden declared, "that we must make an attempt and make it soon."

Eden, Churchill's wartime foreign secretary, said Britain's "unique geographical position" and leadership of the British Commonwealth "imposes upon us the obligation to make the attempt."

Earlier, at a women's rally at St. Helen's, Attorney-General Sir Hartley Shawcross mentioned the H-bomb, declaring that science now could destroy the whole world.

"With patience and resolution," Sir Hartley said, "we must continue to seek agreement or arbitration on international differences."

Sir Hartley is among those mentioned to succeed the ailing Bevin as foreign secretary if Labor is re-elected. He was a British delegate to the last U.N. General Assembly.

Suburban Smith Not Favorable To Fire Scheme

Restriction to suburban residents of proposed assessment of their properties for fire protection, as tentatively approved by Smith council, did not appeal to the group of representative property owners to whom the official action was reported Monday night.

The proposal of the council, as reported, is to arrange for the financing of the purchase of necessary fire fighting equipment by a charge on the properties in a defined area immediately north of the city. The view of the council has been to the effect that the suburbanites could then proceed to sell fire protection service to any of the rural residents who wished to pay for it on terms similar to those adopted by the village of Omemee.

The suburban promoters declare that they have a petition expressing substantial support from many of the farmers in the broader area south of the fourth and fifth concessions, and that the service which they are trying to establish should be applied to that area. In their plan, and to lighten the cost to rural property owners, the necessary levy beyond the suburban fringe would apply only on assessment of farm houses, and not on farm lands.

It is understood that Smith council recently decided to confine the financial project to the suburban area, leaving to farmers the option of arranging for fire protection if they wished it.

Campbell Memorial Rink To Open At TCS February 18

PORT HOPE, Feb. 14 (CP). — Historic Trinity College School adds to its facilities with the opening Feb. 18 of the Peter Campbell Memorial Rink. It is a $105,000 monument to the life-long interest taken in sport by the late president and general manager of the Toronto Maple Leafs Baseball Club.

The rink, which seats 1,412 persons and has standing room for 1,500, will be used by the school and by the community in general. It is the gift of George McCullagh, publisher of The Toronto Globe and Mail and The Telegram, a close friend of the Toronto sportsman who died Nov. 7, 1948.

P. A. C. Ketchum, headmaster, says the addition of the rink gives the 85-year-old boarding school "most complete facilities for the full development of boys and makes it one of the best-equipped schools in North America.

However, construction of a memorial chapel to cost about $250,000 is scheduled to be started next Spring. Funds for the chapel have been subscribed by friends of the school as a memorial to all boys killed in the Boer War, and the First and Second World Wars.

A new workshop also is planned.

Good-Sized School.

The school stands on a hill overlooking Lake Ontario to the south and the Baltimore hills to the north. Beside three houses for accommodation of the 250 boys, it has a chapel, a panelled and oak-beamed hall, a library, classroom building with chemistry and physics laboratories, a large gymnasium, two squash courts, a swimming pool, an indoor shootin grange, a workshop and music practice rooms.

Also on the school's 110 acres of land are a hospital and a tuck building with fireplace room. The Junior School building stands on the north side of the campus and is complete in itself, with classrooms, dormitories, dining-room and library.

The school's history dates from May 1, 1865, when the Rev. W. A. Johnson organized a class of nine boys in his rectory in the village of Weston, near Toronto, and arranged for instruction to be given with "the approval and countenance" of Trinity College, Toronto.

Three years later, the growing school was moved to the Ward homestead, a mile northeast of Port Hope, where it still stands.

Have Two Fires

Fire in 1895 and in 1928 destroyed the school buildings, but the school was rebuilt, the second time at a cost of $125,000.

To date, 4,200 boys have attended. In the last 16 years, Trinity boys won 86 university scholarships, including two Rhodes Scholarships.

Sir William Osler, internationally famous doctor and professor of medicine at McGill University, Montreal, and Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, was Trinity's first head boy in 1866. Another Old Boy was Archibald Lampman, the Canadian poet.

Others include the Rt. Rev. R. J. Renison, Anglican Bishop of Moosonee; Admiral Percy Nelles, Chief of the Canadian Naval Staff during the Second World War; R. A. Fessenden, who worked with inventor Thomas Edison; Max Mackenzie, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce; J. deC. Hepburn, former Speaker of the Ontario Legislature and George Magann, newly-appointed Canadian Ambassador to Greece.

Peter Campbell, for whom the new rink is a memorial, was a Trinity College School Old Boy.

CBC Still Considering Ruling On Bingo

OTTAWA, Feb. 14(CP)—The CBC is still considering whether it will rule bingo games off the airwaves.

After public hearings on the question in Toronto last week, the CBC governors announced on Monday that they will study the question some more before announcing their decision.

The CBC board first said Jan 23 it was thinking of prohibiting broadcast of bingo games.

There was no indication of when the CBC will make known its decision on radio bingo.

Minorities Under Mao's Regime

HONG KONG, Feb. 14 (AP) — The minor parties that threw in their lot with the Chinese Communist regime are being consolidated or eliminated.

Originally there were 13 of these minorities, some of whose leaders were given not-very-important places in the Peiping government organization, enabling the Communists to present the regime as a coalition.

Latest reports from Peiping are that by merger and elimination, the minorities now are down to two fairly large parties and four small ones.

Part of the reduction of these splinter groups is logical, but some whose aims seemed a little out of line with the "new democracy" have been written off.

Li Has Place

The largest remaining minority is the so-called Kuomintang revolutionary committee headed by Li Chi-shen, longtime foe of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang Nationalist regime.

The second large majority is the Democratic League, which at one time was the major hope for a middle of the road political movement in China.

Finally outlawed by the Nationalists, it swung more and more to the left until it became practically an out and out Communist unit.

In a recent reorganization, the Democratic League absorbed four other political parties which had been represented in the original drafting of the present Peiping Government. In the consolidation process, some of these seem simply to have been disbanded.

It was apparent even before the Peiping regime was created that the minorities would mean little or nothing to the Reds. There is now said to be considerable disillusionment among the leaders.

Call 2-Day Strike

TRIESTE, Free Territory, Feb. 14—(AP)—A two-day general strike began in this former Italian city early today. It was called by both non-Communist and pro-Communist trade union leaders to back up demands by industrial wokers for a 60-lire (10-cent) a day cost-of-living bonus. The industrial workers have been on strike since Feb. 1.

To Revive System

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Feb. 14 —(AP)—California, along with Oregon and Washington, will reactivate its wartime air raid warning systems. Governor Earl Warren disclosed Monday he is calling together the state disaster council as a step in reviving the war-born ground observers corps and the state air raid alert system.

Woman Burned

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP)—Mrs. Flora German, 70, was found burned to death early today in the kitchen of her west-side home. Firemen, who found the aged woman crumpled on the floor of the kitchen, said there was no fire in any part of the house and believe Mrs. German may have set her clothing on fire while lighting a cigaret. They said she was a heavy smoker.

Stranded 6 Months

JIDDAH, Saudi Arabia, Feb. 14 —(AP)—Stranded here for more than six months, 1,700 Moslem Filipino pilgrims to the holy city of Mecca are expected to sail for home within a few days. During the pilgrimage more than 50 Filipinos died from disease or old age. Government authorities here refused to let the pilgrim ship sail for home until safety conditions aboard were improved.

Urge Ammunition Sale Prohibited To Minors

KITCHENER, Feb. 14—(CP)—A coroner's jury Monday night recommended that the sale of ammunition to minors be prohibited following an inquest into the death by shooting of Armin Caldwell, 17, of Kitchener, Jan. 4.

The jury found that Caldwell died from a gunshot wound inflicted by his own hand.

The youth, evidence showed, carried away a .303 calibre hunting rifle owned by Alexander Campbell, for whom his mother, Mrs. Veronica Caldwell is housekeeper, and in some manner obtained 39 rounds of ammunition.

Suspended For Ideas

LONDON, Feb. 14 —(Reuters) —Because of his political views, Robert William Mattocks, 29, draughtsman at Chatham naval dockyard, has been suspended from his post with full pay and given two weeks to write to the Admiralty stating his case. He joined the Communist party in 1939.

26 Czechs On Trial

PRAGUE, Feb. 14—(AP)— Twenty-six more Czechs, alleged members of a large anti-government ring in Moravia, went on trial today on charges of plotting to overthrow the country's Communist-led regime. Three leaders of the group already have been sentenced to death and 23 other members were given prison sentences Saturday.

Farewell Party Held For Anderson Family

DARTFORD, Feb. 14—(ENS)— The community of School Section No. 5 met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs Fred Ward for a farewell party to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Anderson and daughters Faye and Ferne. The family is moving to Warkworth.

After an address by Mrs. George Fisher, Harold Bedford presented a tri-light table lamp to the Andersons.

Progressive euchre was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Bruce Gummer and Sloan Ewing.

Lunch was served.

Will Help Lepers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—(AP) —A 30-year-old doctor, Lieut. Gordon C. McNeilly, is going to the Pacific Island of Tinian at his own request to take charge of the leper colony there. His wife and their two children are going with him, the Defence Department said Monday.

Will Hear Charges In Union Controversy

GUELPH, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Charges, laid by representatives of the United Electrical Workers Union against the press, radio station and Roman Catholic church for alleged violations of the non-propaganda period during the recent union-jurisdiction vote at Leland's Electric Company here, will be heard by the Ontario Labor Relations Board Feb. 22, it was learned today.

The charges were laid following the vote in which Leland electric workers voted 238 to 57 in favor of having the International Union of Electric, Radio and Machine Workers (CIO), to act as their bargaining agent.

The UE is calling for a nullification of the vote on the grounds that the three parties named in the charges violated the 72-hour non-propaganda period prior to the vote.

The Drear Atomic Age

Einstein is reported to have said on Sunday that if the hydrogen bomb is developed, "annihilation of any life on earth . . . is within the range of technical possibilities". It could be done through "radioactive poisoning of the atmosphere".

He said that the armament race now "assumes hysterical character . . . Every step appears as the unavoidable consequence of the preceding one . . . In the end there beckons more and more clearly general annihilation".

As a scientist his judgment is irrefutable. As a scientist he has said that man is now likely to be able to destroy all life on this planet. This is a momentous statement.

As a humanitarian his judgement must be respected. As a humanitarian he has said that the armaments race is hysterical. His statement on general annihilation is a moral one.

* * *

As a political philosopher his judgement is interesting but not necessarily realistic. It was in this guise that he also said that a "supra-national" body would be necessary to control the products of atomic physics, in order that they may be turned to non-violent purposes, and not used to annihilate. Whether mankind is ill served by it or not, the fact is that our world is nationalistic. The largest working unit of humanity is the nation. International cooperation and organizations are not supra-national. They are effective—and then only in limited ways, as sore evidence of this century shows—as inter-national agglomerations, where the nations act as nations, but in concert. The last war was an international, not a supra-national, effort.

* * *

Nationalism grew out of such organizations as the Holy Roman Empire and feudalism. Such authority as existed in them was not supra-national, it was merely un-national. It is doubtful if that kind of authority could suffice in these times. Moreover, the nation-state developed over a period of two or three centuries. It will not be got rid of in fifty years. Supra-nationalism is a concept which mankind is too foolish to accept.

* * *

Some idealists of the period 1900 to 1939 believed that Communism would be the salvation of mankind. Certainly it has been the only modern approach to supra-nationalism. If any political theory put into proper practice could have destroyed the nationalism which now seems to threaten to destroy humanity, Communism could. But what is the verdict of history already unfolded about Communism? It is that Communism is not above nationalism. It is that the chief Communist state is as great a threat to the survival of life as any confessed nationalistic state like Germany, or even the United States. Russia will have the hydrogen bomb as surely as the United States.

A Word About David Low

Our cartoon in the lower right-hand corner of this page today may require explanation to some of our readers. David Low, the brilliant cartoonist who has worked on the London Evening Standard since 1927 has left that office and has gone to work for the Daily Herald; the cartoon shows him taking leave of the Standard and his old employer Lord Beaverbrook, while a chorus of Blimps rejoice at his going.

Low is decidedly to the Left in his political beliefs, as followers of his cartoons know. During his time on the Standard he was not restricted in any way. On the Herald, which is owned by the Labour party, we presume that he will enjoy the same freedom. Low is not likely to become a party hack because he works on a party paper. We shall continue to publish his cartoons because, although we are not always in agreement with the opinions they express, they are remarkably shrewd appraisals of British affairs and world politics.

Churchill In Wales

In many parts of Wales the British Conservative Party is considered as black as the coal pits, and as heartless. Into this arena went Mr. Churchill the other day on his campaign tour. It was a challenge suited to the great fighter's taste, and to his political oratory. While he may not have won more votes for his party, he gave his hearers a good time and burnished his own personal reputation for pith and wit. For instance, in talking about the jargon of Socialism—"lower income group" instead of "the poor", "arresting increases in personal income" instead of "wage freezing", he said:

"There is a lovely one about the houses and homes of the future. They are in future to be called 'accommodation units', I don't know how we are to sing our old song 'Home, Sweet Home'," And Mr. Churchill proceeded to recite, "Accommodation unit, sweet accommodation unit, there's no place like our accommodation unit".

His audience cheered, as we do in our heart, when he said: "I hope to live to see the British democracy spit all this rubbish from their lips." Under the battering of science, socialism and schemes, the English language is being scuppered. Whatever the political consequences of Mr. Churchill's Cardiff electioneering, it is good to have him berate the abusers of the tongue.

The Conservatives are, by the way, making the biggest effort in Wales since the Liberals and of late Labour were able to take advantage of Conservative government's neglect of Welsh unemployment and poverty. The Conservative Party is contesting every one of Wales' 26 constituencies except three; and in these three it is supporting a Liberal and two National Liberals.

Our Slate For World Government

When he spoke about the dangers of the H-Bomb on Sunday Professor Albert Einstein referred once again to an old dream of his, a supra-national body to carry out non-violent aims. We do not think that any such body is likely to come into being until people are a good deal wiser than they are now, but it is interesting to toy with the notion of such a body, and to try to think of the men who would be most likely to do a good job on it.

Professor Einstein himself would be among our first choices. And we think that Dr. Albert Schweitzer ought also to have a place on the board. Benedetto Croce the Italian philosopher and Bertrand Russell, the English philosopher, would be good appointments. Thomas Mann would be among our appointments too. And the Spaniard, Salvador de Madariaga. These men, if all nations would trust them, could very probably deliver the world from the fear of another hideous war.

But the nations would not trust them. Madariaga and Croce have been politicians, but it is unlikely that any of the others could get himself elected for dogcatcher. There is no Russian, no South American, no Oriental on the list (though we are open to conviction in the matter of Pandit Nehru). All that these men have to offer the world are great goodwill, great love for mankind, and great wisdom.

Curiously, the world does not seem to want these qualities in its rulers.

Our Well-Off Children

Children live luxuriously today when we compare their lot with that of their parents. Where is the child this spring who is playing with marbles—the old, almost-spherical clay marbles which we remember from childhood? Nowhere to be found. They are all playing with alleys, which, in our childhood, were highly prized and were called agates. And it is noticeable that they do not use these alleys to play the complicated marble games which we remember; they chuck the alleys at one another, they "touch" and "span", but they do not play marbles as we remember marbles. This is a well-off generation, too sated with pleasures to find much fun in the enthusiasms which fired their parents.

Most children's toys seem to be at once more expensive and less durable than they used to be. Whether the children of today are more destructive than their parents, or whether toys are not made to last would be a difficult question to decide. But it is a fact that in many homes there are toys which were the playthings of parents and even of grandparents, which are still in pretty good shape, but the toys which are bought today seem to fall apart within a few months.

The children take this in their stride. They have been born in an age of waste, and they see nothing remarkable or regrettable about it. They regard alleys not as prized possessions, but as the normal commerce in the game which they call marbles. Their children, we presume, will play with golden pellets, or perhaps with lumps of plutonium.

Has U.S. Lost Faith In U.N.?

By NORA BELOFF
From Washington

REPEATED suggestions at home and abroad that the United States should revise its foreign policy in the light of its lost atomic monopoly, its giant budgetary deficit and its new knowledge of the perils of the hydrogen bomb, have been rejected but not silenced by Mr. Acheson's (U.S. Secretary of State) warning that there is no quick and easy way to end the cold war.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN telling his weekly news conference that the only argument which the Russians understood is force and that pleading with them to stop making trouble is like pleading with a river not to flow, Mr. Acheson was taking a calculated risk. Logically, his words could have been taken to mean that the United States has lost faith in the United Nations, that it intended to break off the five-Power talks on the international control of atomic energy, or even that there was a prospect of a rupture of diplomatic relations with the whole Soviet bloc.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN fact, as State Department experts afterwards confirmed, the Secretary of State was merely reiterating the Truman doctrine which has been America's foreign policy for three years and involves containing Soviet aggression not by argument but by economic and military action. This was done successfully first in Turkey and Greece, later in Berlin and in the military aid plan for Western Europe.

◇ ◇ ◇

STATE Department policy planners have long believed that it is in the nature of Soviet Communism to feel for soft spots in the capitalist world, to draw back where resistance is encountered and to press forward where resistance fails. From this they have drawn the conclusion that U.S. policy must be to harden wherever posible the economic and military capacities for resistance.

◇ ◇ ◇

THIS policy of containment of Communism does not preclude specific agreements with Russia either bilaterally or through the United Nations wherever there is reason to suppose that "realism" may have convinced the Russians that the risks of violating them exceed the burden of respecting them. It is doubted whether this is possible in the case of atomic energy since the Russians are expected to refuse to lift the Iron Curtain to permit the required minimum inspection of atomic plants and uranium mines. Nevertheless, even here the Americans are still studying possibilities of agreement and experts say that Mr. Acheson's public pronouncement has not excluded new American initiatives.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE most dangerous obstacle to the policy of containment is that it requires immense perseverance and high expenditure and this involves contained active support from the American tax-paying and voting public. During the past few weeks, quite apart from the specific proposals for new action on atomic energy control which Mr. Acheson welcomed, there have been important speeches and articles expressing widespread opposition to the prolonged cold war required by the present method of resisting Soviet aggression.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE most eloquent came from Senator McMahon, chairman of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee. The Senator was proposing that the Russians might be induced to accept atomic control in return for a disarmament agreement and an American offer to spend fifty billion dollars, diverted from arms, on a world-wide Marshall Plan.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE American Government, which believes that Russia's rulers want continued tension and poverty as the best breeding ground for Communism, dismissed the proposal as a dream phantasy. What alarmed them was Senator McMahon's belief that their own alternative of continued cold war was itself unworkable. The Senator said: "Arrayed against such a choice is the 5,000 years of recorded history which teaches that armaments races lead to war". Even if the policy averted war, he added, it would undermine and corrupt our liberties. "Consider", he went on, "what sustained fear does to the individual, especially to individual enterprise. Consider the crushing burden already imposed on our private enterprise economy". Two days later similar warnings were echoed by the equally influential Senator Tydings, chairman of the Armed Services Committee, and the speeches of both Senators have been warmly acclaimed by orators and writers throughout the country.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE problem now worrying the U.S. Government is whether its policy of co-operation with the other democracies to create economic stability and military strength sufficient to discourage the Russians from attack will continue to enjoy the essential support of an American public wearied of the cold war, frightened of the hydrogen bomb and tired of heavy taxes.

Killer Dogs

Killing of a six-year-old Flin Flon boy by sleigh dogs which were running loose is one more shocking reminder that no legislative action has yet been undertaken to protect northern Manitoba residents from these animals.

Three such tragedies have occurred in the last five years, and numerous cases have been reported of children being badly mauled by half-starved dogs. Many of these attacks would undoubtedly have ended fatally had not the dogs been beaten off by adults.

Better a few dogs destroyed than a child torn to pieces. If a wolf were sighted in a settlement it would be shot without compunction, but a half-starved husky is much more dangerous than a wolf for it has no instinctive fear of man.

It has long been the established custom in the well-settled parts of the country to allow a dog one bite. In the North, however, the half-wild and often half-starved sleigh dogs do not stop at one bite; they attack to kill.

NEW RECRUIT

Letters To The Editor

NOSEY PARKERS REBUKED

Sir: The letters have been pouring in to you from those poor married women who ridicule those of us who do an honest day's work. I have something to say.

Attention "Neurotic Wife"! Evidently from your letter you are suffering from a pang of severe jealously. The best prescription for that is to occupy your mind with the joys of life that matter and quit sticking your nose into other people's business. Believe me, we could get along quite easily without idle prattle.

As for being anti-Christian I think you had better study the meaning of the word before you use it. We working wives do not ask for something which does not belong to us. We work and work hard for those two pay cheques which come into our home. Many of us would not have to work, if you wives who can sit at home and enjoy yourselves would not demand such outrageous rent. You talk about us being our own boss—how can we? Most of us are squeezed into two or three rooms and the landlady is boss. Turn down that radio! Don't make any noise when you come in at night! Have your company out by eleven! Oh, you women with the luxuries of a home can't possibly realize how necessary it is for us to get away from the continual whine of those who think they're doing us a great favour by renting us those precious rooms for $45.00, $50.00, $60.00 and even $70.00 a month.

We would like to have a family but even you landladies control that. You don't want children in case they might cry a little or put a few marks on the wall. If you would open up your hearts instead of your lips we could be a whole lot happier.

Instead of making us appear as nothing but a lot of selfish imbeciles, why not give us credit for having the ambition and spunk to get out and give our husbands a helping hand to overcome the great demands that are made of the young married couples today.

"Madam Neurotic"—we have no maids to do our work for us as you contend. We have only one pair of hands which are kept busy. If you used your hands as much as you are using your tongue you would no doubt make a better wife for that poor husband of yours. You and many like you are trying to make a civil war out of such a trivial matter. Hitler lost out, so did Mussolini and Hirohito—what makes you think you can win against democracy? Surely our time is our own to do as we see fit. We are not hurting anyone and we don't want to hurt anyone—all we want is to be able to run our lives as you evidently have been yours—by the way, why don't you stick to running yours and let well enough alone. Put your mind to better use and don't waste your life away prying into affairs that are definitely none of your business.

My husband is no pantywaist but from the sound of your letter your husband is more to be pitied than laughed at. Bad luck to you Madame in your fight against democracy. Fellow working wives, take a few minutes off and show these gossipers that you still own the two feet you stand on.

Yours very truly,
A HAPPY WORKING WIFE.

SUGGESTS PEOPLE MIND OWN BUSINESS

Sir: I have been following the letters on married women working for quite a while and I am getting pretty fed up reading letters from old busybodies who have nothing better to do with their time. What is their beef anyway? Would they like to work too? I can't think of any other reason because why should they worry whether we work or not? The single girls are the ones who should be complaining, if any and if I thought I was holding a single girl out of a job I would glady quit.

You married women say you find it takes all your time to run your house the way it should be, well then, why don't you quit neglecting your home by taking up your time writing letters of jealousy, because that is what they are, and mind your business. Certainly we have reasons for working. I, for one, have been married six months and three of those months my husband was in the hospital and I still had to go on living and paying rent, etc. What would I have done it on, buttons? I also know of a couple who have had quite a bit of sickness since getting married and you can't pay doctors with buttons either. Maybe you would like to give us this money to pay the hospital, doctors, etc., seeing as some of you can even save as much as we make each year, at least that is what one wife claimed, and still live comfortably.

We know we are not indispensable but your jealous prattle certainly is. We also know there are quite a few office jobs open for girls as you would also know if you look at the want ads. There are generally one or two jobs open each night. Personally, I think you are the kind of a woman who would always find something to beef about. If the government put us out of work most of us would be able to collect unemployment insurance for a while and you would still be dissatisfied

Maybe if you would mind your own business and not try to mind everybody else's you wouldn't be a neurotic wife. Why don't you leave the working wives alone for a while? They are not doing you any harm and they are quite happy and satisfied and everyone else is too, except for a few jealous women like you.

This is supposed to be a democratic country and I would like to see it kept so, but if you have your way if ruling would never go very far. It has been tried before in other countries and failed.

Yours very truly,
A WORKING WIFE

STATISTICS FROM U.S.A.

Sir: We hear much of polio at present. May I present the following statistics from the U.S.A.:

"Alcohol traffic accident deaths 8,075.
Polio deaths 959.
Alchohol accident injuries 230,000.
Polio cases (mild and severe) 9,111".

And note that this alcohol death toll doe not include crime, only the traffic deaths.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise. For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness. (I Cor. 3: 18, 19.)

LOST OUT

A dress-shop owner met a friend, who greeted him with: "Joe, I hear your shop was robbed last night. Lose much?"

"Some," answered the owner, "but it would have been much worse if the burglars had got in the night before."

"How's that?"

"Well, yesterday I marked everything down 20 per cent."

Canada Third Largest Producer Of Finished Plastic Products

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Oil and iron aren't the only big developments in Canadian industry. Another one is plastics.

Ten years ago the industry was virtually non-existent here. Today Canada is the world's third largest producer of finished plastic products, next to the United States and Britain. Russia probably is next, with Germany crowding up.

Total sales last year in Canada were $91,000,000; direct employment 15,760, with a payroll of $26,237,000; purchases of raw materials $31,000,000.

Seventy-two per cent of the plastics merchandise sold in Canada was made in Canada; and 71 per cent of the raw materials used were bought here.

The growth in the industry is outlined by L. C. MacLeod of Montreal, president of the Society of the Plastic Industry (Canada), in a report to the society's current annual conference.

What Plastic Is

What is a plastic? It is air, water, coal, petroleum by-products, lime and salt, for from these it is possible to extract virtually all the organic chemicals required In a well-known form, casein, it comes from milk.

In its finished form it is many things: handles on pots and irons, drapes, floor coverings, wall tiles, refrigerator and stove parts, ice cube trays, dishes, buttons, table tops, and scores of additional items.

It competes, of course, with other materials—wood, steel glass. It won't do away with any of them, but it has found a big place in modern life which promises to grow.

15 Types

There are 15 types of plastics, divided into a multiplicity of chemical terms and trade names, but there are two general classifications.

One is thermoplastics. They soften under heat pressure and wouldn't make good pot handles, but are all right for things not exposed to excessive heat.

Thermosetting is the other general classification. These undergo a chemical change under heat and pressure and will not soften when re-heated. Fine for pot handles.

Southern Ontario and the Montreal and Shawinigan Falls areas of Quebec are present leaders. Sarnia, with its concentration of chemical, oil refining and synthetic rubber facilities, has a special place, for Polymer Corporation, government-owned synthetic rubber plant there produces styrene, important raw material.

Dresden Attack To Help Reds, Propaganda Fire

BERLIN, Feb. 14 (AP).—Communist leaders whipped up a bitter hate campaign against the United States and Britain in Soviet-occupied East Germany Monday.

It was the fifth anniversary of the destructive bombing of Dresden, ancient centre of German culture, by fleets of American, British and Canadian planes.

RAF records of the Feb. 13-15 raids were not made public, but news accounts indicated then that the raids were intended to assist the army of Russian Marshal Georgi Zhukov, advancing from the east.

In the ruins of the old Saxon capital Monday, all street traffic was ordered stopped for one minute silence at noon.

Communist organizations in all other towns and villages of the Russian zone sponsored "Remember Dresden" observances.

The Soviet Army's official newspaper, Taegliche Rundschau, told the 20,000,000 East Germans "Destroyed Dresden reminds you —fight against the imperialist robber.

Dresden's mayor wrote in the chief Communist party organ, Neues Deutschland, that the Allied raids killed 35,000 civilians but had "not been a military necessity."

Mayor Walter Weidauer added: "For this dreadful deed, we shall remember the American and English war-mongers again and again. We wish tirelessly to recall this horrible destructive work to all Germans who have been bought by Wall Street and have become traitors to our German Fatherland."

Mrs. Van Luven Dies

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Mrs. Ethel Van Luven, widow of Maxwell Van Luven, of Kingston, died Sunday. She was 73. Born at Paisley, Ont., she was a daughter of the Rev. James Anderson and Mrs. Anderson, of Belleville. Much of her married life was spent in Kingston where she devoted her time to social work. Funeral services will be held in Ottawa, with burial in the family plot at Oshawa. Three daughters survive.

Nobody Wants To Doll Up For Parliamentary Session

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Almost nobody, it seems, wants to doll up at the opening of a parliamentary session.

There was a time when an opening engendered a social whirl that had all Ottawa in a spin. But by common—if tacit—consent, parliament has trimmed its complex formalities to the wartime minimum and plans to keep them there.

The second session of Canada's 21st Parliament opens Thursday. It, and probably all future sessions will follow a pattern which, after two world wars, has finally "set."

From the time of Confederation until the First World War started an opening included three days of doings which were labelled "formal" and meant it. A session always started with a State dinner at Government House, where the Governor-General presided on Wednesday.

The opening came the following day and on Friday at was "full dress" for the third day in a row when the King's representative held the "drawing room" in the Senate chamber.

Cost $11,000.

"Full dress," came pretty expensive. The so-called "Windsor uniform," worn by privy councillors, might cost $1,000. There was varying amounts of gold braid down the front and on the jacket cuffs, depending on whether a privy councillor was an "Hon." or a "Rt. Hon."

Apart from this expense, there was the considerable matter of outfitting women in full evening dress, long white gloves and train and obtaining the three ostrich plumes which tradition demanded she sport in her coiffure.

Last formal opening was Jan. 12, 1939, although parliament went through the same general formalities in May of the same year when the King and Queen visited their Canadian capital and the King gave his formal royal assent to several bills. The royal couple happened to visit Ottawa in mid-session, making the extra formalities necessary.

Presumably, Prime Minister St. Laurent has the right to order a return to the full dress.

The last Conservative Prime Minister, the late Viscount R. B. Bennett, had to wear the white satin breeches, while silk stockings, buckled boots and a coat heavy with gold braid for openings in the 30s. As Prime Minister he also had a plumed hat, and in company with other privy councillors, wore a sword.

Ceremony Streamlined

There's still plenty of tradition left in the ceremony. But it's been streamlined and isn't so costly.

In place of the Windsor uniforms, it's likely that Canadian privy councillors will stick to their morning coats and striped trousers, as do the judges of the Supreme Court, who in earlier days had to dress in their scarlet and ermine robes.

The Governor-General, when he comes to read the throne speech, will still get the traditional 21-gun salute. But he won't arrive, as before, in a horse-drawn sleigh with a mounted eschelon of plumed guards. He will come in a limousine with an accoutrement of motorcycles.

HAVELOCK, Feb. 14 (ENS)—Prosperity Chapter No. 63 Order of the Eastern Star, Havelock, was host recently to members from Cobourg, Port Hope, Peterborough, Brighton, Napanee Trenton, Bancroft, Madoc and Wellington at a school of instruction which was combined with the annual inspection by the WGM Mrs. Emma Campaigne, Hamilton, of the Grand Chapter for Ontario.

The local branch is the home chapter of the DDGM, Mrs. Georgina Nobes for district No. 12. Also present for the occasion were Dr. Floyd Day, WPG for Grand Chapter of Ontario and Mrs. Day, PWGM.

A corsage and gift were presented to Mrs. Campaigne from the officers and members of Prosperity Chapter.

Soloists during the evening were Mrs. Leah Prentice and Mrs Rosa Wells of Marmora.

A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the lunch committee. The event was held in the town hall.

Early Graduate Dies

HAMILTON, Feb. 14—(CP)—Mrs. Clara H. Jones, 81, one of Victoria College's earliest women graduates, died Monday. Born in Norwich, she belonged to a pioneer family of settlers on Hamilton Mountain and was the widow of Professor George M. Jones. For six years she taught on the staff of the Ontario Ladies' College, Whitby.

Hold 3 For Poaching

PEMBROKE, Feb. 14—(CP)—Three men, trailed for several days by Algonquin Park Rangers in aircraft and on foot, are in custody on charges of poaching. They will be tried later this week. Dorien Smith and Harold O'Brien both of Parry Sound, and Babe Weluh of Sundridge were arrested at Weluh's camp in Paxton township, near Sundridge.

Need One Voice

OTTAWA, Feb. 14 (CP)—Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Anglican Primate of Canada, said Monday that growth of the Ecumenical movement is a matter of "urgency" in the world today. "It would be wonderful if the churches had one voice in dealing with the threat of war." said Archbishop Kingston in an address before the Ottawa General Ministerial Association.

Call Special Session?

TORONTO, Feb. 14—(CP)—If provincial legislation is necessary to bring about the progressive amalgamation of Toronto with its 12 smaller surrounding municipalities, it is not likely to be brought down at the legislature session opening Thursday, it was learned at Queen's Park Monday night. If the government so desired, it could call a special session later to deal with the matter.

Taking No Chances

ALAMEDA, Calif., Feb. 14 — (AP)—United States naval air stations in this area were placed on an alert during most of Monday after a telephone call had been overheard in which two men talked about "blowing up the naval air station." The three naval air stations in the area are at Alameda, Oakland, and Moffett Field in Sunnyvale, about 30 miles south of San Francisco.

Asks More Aid For Colleges

FRREDERICTON, Feb. 14 — (CP)—Further federal assistance to Canadian universities was suggested Monday night by Dr. R. C Wallace, president and vice-chancellor of Queen's University.

"The federal government has some responsibilities for education at the university level," he said in a founders' day address at the University of New Brunswick.

"In these days when university financing is causing much anxiety to boards of governors and presidents, there is a great need for sympathetic consideration of a problem, which is national in its scope, by the Government of Canada and the people of Canada irrespective of boundary lines.

"We believe. . . that our universities give a national service that is profoundly important. No one wishes to see them crippled. private funds are harder to get, and students are unable to pay their full costs. We know our weaknesses—some of them at least —but we feel none the less that we are making a sound contribution to Canada's welfare. On that we are prepared to rest our case."

2 Old Friends Die

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP) — John S. Howard, longtime friend and co-worker of the late John A Tory, died Monday a short time after acting as pall-bearer at Mr. Tory's funeral. Mr. Howard, who was about 60, appeared in good health at the funeral service. On the way to the grave he mentioned feeling unwell, did not take part in the final rites, and was taken to hospital where he suffered a heart seizure and died.

Want Workers Back

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP)—The United Electrical Workers Union Monday asked Labor Minister Daley to compel the Hoover Company, Ltd., to take back seven employees. Ernie Briginshaw, union agent, said the company locked out the employees Monday after they left the premises to hold a meeting.

The Price of Success~ a few cents a day

The success of your business is judged not by the number of dollars that go through a cash register daily, but by how much of each dollar you retain for yourself. Providing you can look forward to a reasonable number of years in business, as little as two cents from each of these dollars can assure a suitable cash reward for your time and your business investment.

This cash reserve will enable you to take advantage of expansion and improvment opportunities to protect your business during times of adversity.

Kingston On Top of Heap After 7-1 Win Over Petes

Kingston Nylons racked up their 15th straight OHA senior "B" victory here last night and clinched top spot in their grouping as the schedule concluded in Peterborough, the Nylons taking a 7-1 triumph over the Petes. A small crowd saw a very clean contest—with but one penalty throughout—but also a tame tussle, as the Petes didn't make much of a fight of it till after the halfway mark. The visitors looked smart from the start, taking a 2-0 edge the first frame and leading 4-0 to end the second. But for good goaltending by Ray Harding, the Petes would have absorbed a worse beating.

GOOD EFFORT—Though the Petes were trimmed by Kingston here last night, Gus Leonard turned in a good effort all through. He and Harding were the pick of the losers in their 7-1 OHA senior "B" reverse.

Smart Squad

The Nylons demonstrated why they are atop the heap with consistently good work in all departments. Not only did Udy Udale shine in the net, but he had plenty of support from poke-checking and blocking defencemen, as well as back-checking forwards. The Limestone Citizens also worked those long angle forward passes to perfection, their passes clearing the disc from their own corner to right in front of the Petes' goal as speedy forwards whisked fast and slapped at the rubber.

It took more than half the game for the Petes to act as if it weren't an exhibition game, as they went for a skate till well out in the second. Then they began to muck in a little more and give Udall some real work to do. Though outscored 3-1 in the third, play was fairly even with the Nylons still proving the better opportunists when the breaks came. It was generally a tame game with little crowd re-action.

Spread Around

Gerow, Catlin, Partis, McKeown and Joyce sparked the Kingston attack, each being in on two goals and coming close on a lot more. Single points went to Plumb, Harrison, Ohlke, Armstrong and Aitken. The whole team looked strong from the goalie out, and the defencemen gave away nothing at the Nylons' blue line. Ray Harding shone for the Petes, despite the count, and Gus Leonard was consistently good, none of the others playing a starry role over the whole distance.

McKeown got the first goal from Harrison and Ohlke and then the same player made it 2-0 shortly with Joyce aiding. Early in the second heat, Legrow got the lone penalty for boarding. He was back when Gerow hit the twine with Catlin's pass. Partis went in fast for a solo marker and it was 4-0. Tompkins got the Petes' counter on a screened shot from Pagett's corner passout in the third. Joyce got right back with Armstrong and Aitken aiding. Gerow from Catlin and then Plumb from Partis wound it up.

Kingston: Goal, Udall; defence, Plumb and Graves; centre, Armstrong; wings, Joyce and Aitken; alternates, Partis, Catlin, Gerow, McKeown, Harrison, Ohlke, Murphy and Patterson.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Leonard and Horton; centre, West; wings, Reid and Garvey; alternates, Fife, Collins, Legrow, Pagett, Conlin, Griffin, Jopling and Tompkins.

Referee, W. Wilson; linesmen, R. Ouimet.

Summary:

First Period
Kingston—McKeown (Harrison, Ohlke)	6:03
Kingston—McKeown (Joyce)	8:25
No penalties.
Second Period
Kingston—Gerow (Catlin)	10:23

More than 14,000 Toronto hockey fans cheered as Ace Bailey and Eddie Shore clasped hands 16 years ago tonight at a benefit game for the former Toronto right winger. Bailey's hockey career had been ended when he suffered a fractured skull, Dec. 11, 1933, in a collision with Shore in a game at Boston. On his recovery a benefit game was arranged with the Bailey-Shore reunion the attraction. Leafs won the game 7-3.

Towne Togs Get Cage Win Against Trenton

Peterborough Towne Togs swept to a 36-11 LOBA group victory over Trenton on the latter's floor last evening to continue in first place in the standing. The Togs go to Belleville on Wednesday and still have a postponed one in Port Hope before their schedule is completed. They go into the playdowns if they can stay in top spot.

The game last night was rugged enough, and Togs were slow in clicking on their passing attack, but dominated play completely in the last stages. It was 13-1 at the half for them, and they had a 23-10 margin in the last couple of quarters. Dot Callan, Jean Vass and Polly Stewart led the attack, but they all turned in a solid effort for Hy Smith. Teams:

Togs—D. Callan 11, M. Kennedy 2, J. Dunk 2, J. Vass 9, D. Saunders, B. Stewart 2, M. Freeman 2, J. Castle 1, J. Stewart 7.

Trenton—M. Reed 4, J. Farrar, H. Taylor, M. Whitley 4, F. Robertson, H. Day, M. Macdonald 3.

Referee—Ted Smith.

Below is the standing of the group leaders in the second schedule, up to and including Friday night:

Group 6, H. Baptie 5-1; Group 7, F. Green 5-0; Group 8, R. Bacon 6-0; Group 9, N. Hamley 5-0; Group 10, C. Lawrence 4-1, M. Wells 4-1, J. Welsh 4-1.

From what we can gather from the men who saw the ladies play Monday afternoon, the games played were just about the best the ladies have turned in this season. Two games went into overtime, one point difference in one game and two points in the other. That proves that no one can tell what will yet happen before the schedule is finished.

The leads and seconds rinks have been prepared and are posted on the notice board. Consult the board and see whose rink you are on and what position you are playing.

Playing in the Ontario open bonspiel in Toronto yesterday, Vern Selkirk lost his game in the Royal York Trophy but won his game in the Birks-Ellis Trophy. Play continues all week.

Campbellford Wins

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 14.—(ENS).—A small crowd in the Campbellford Community Centre saw the Tweed bantams bow to defeat before the home puck chasers by a score of 11 to 5.

The game was close and well played. This was the first of a two-game series, goals to count, and Campbellford goes to Tweed next Thursday with a 6-goal lead on the round. The leading goal-getter for Campbellford was Fields, and for Tweed, Hasler.

Goals: Campbellford— Fields (5), Bakes (2), Dooher (2), Wilson, Dewey.

Tweed—Hasler (3), Dion, LeSage.

Line-up:

Tweed—Goal, Bob Beavis; defence, LeSage and Morton; centre, Lionel McAllister; wings, Leslie McAllister and Hasler; alternates, Dion, Thompson, Burns, Hunter, Jordan, Woodcock, Feeney and spare goal, Kelly.

Campbellford—Goal, Dave Ingram; defence, Paul Hendricks and Jim Baker; centre, Dooher; wings, Field and Wilson; alternates, Ingram, Holmes, Bland, Peake, Garvey, Petherick, Seymour, Ross Hendricks, and spare goal, Bob Hendricks.

King Edward Loses

Confederation defeated King Edward 3-1 in a tidy School Hockey League fixture at the arena, Sutherland and Floyd turned in a good effort, the latter scoring two and Parnell one for the winners, as Rusaw counted for the other side. Teams:

Confederation: Smillie, Jones, Goldie, Floyd, Scharf, Brown, Druery, Rose, Parnell, McArthur, Kimball.

King Edward—Ferguson, Keeting, Hunt, Sutherland, Rusaw, Beggs, Simmons, Curtis, Saunders, Mills, Rowe Stevens.

Referee—Mr. Rutherford.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A break for mat fans at the Brock Arena this Thursday eve. Popular and powerful Yukon Eric, the lumberjack who dwarfs many trees, is coming again, and will meet Wee Willie Davis. Yeah, a main bout between two giants, and we don't think that the nigh onto 300 pounds Willie totes around will soften up the Alaskan with his 54-inch chest. We had been told a few weeks back that Eric wouldn't be available for the smaller centres till out in the spring, so it's a break for local and district grappler followers that he had a spare night to fit into this card. Steve Stanlee tackles Dr. Len Hall (who hasn't shown here in years) in the semi-windup, as Pat Flanagan takes on Barney Bernard in the prelim. A prime wrestling program.

Frank Shine ships along some info on the Industrial Hockey League. Playing part time on natural ice around the district and some of the time on an artificial ice surface here, these rugged puckists are down to the first round of semi-finals this week, each in a two-game, goals to count, series. Tomorrow p.m. in Omemee, Westclox opens against Brintons at 7.30, followed by CGE versus Nashua Paper. On Thursday here at nine p.m., Vent. Shades tackle De Laval, followed by Keene 'gainst Quakers. And then Quakers play Keene on the latter's ice Friday, so the loop will be pared down sharply and shortly.

Orono Plays IOOF

There's an OHA junior "B" fixture Wednesday night at 8.30 in Civic Arena between Orono and the Oddfellows. To finish up the home schedule for the IOOF-ers, who go away twice this week-end ere playoffs commence. The Orono team were provincial junior "D" champions last season, and Junior West—now starring for the senior "B" Petes—was in that Orono lineup. Right now, there are several more Wests aboard, brothers and cousins, we understand, and all real good. Last chance of the week to see a sizzling, scrappy puck joust, and it rates a crowd.

* * * * * * *

It'll be Petes and Legion in one OHA senior "B" group semi-final bracket, and Belleville vs. Kingston in the other. The Nylons' 7-1 win o'er the Petes here last night clinched the group leadership for them, though they have a Wednesday windup tilt yet in Gananoque—but that's a foregone conclusion. While Legion had a good lead over most of the schedule. Nylons came on with an amazing win streak which hit No. 15 here last eve, and then Legion lost by default when they didn't go to Gananoque last Saturday, the Petes also losing to the Gans when they didn't make their last trip there. Both clubs paid the Gans, instead, and that team was quite agreeable, having little natural ice all winter.

* * * * * * *

Nylons Looked Good

Of the game here last p.m., most of the slim crowd will agree that Nylons looked good and the Petes didn't. The latter didn't show any fight or hustle till late in the second frame and then it was too late. Some of them hustled most of the way—and Ray Harding and Gus Leonard hustled all of the way—and some of them had an evening's skate. You can't beat a strong and hot club like Nylons without fighting hard every minute of the 60 in the game. The fact that it was the cleanest contest of the year (only one penalty!) proves that it was more like an exhibition tilt than a league encounter. One good thing, Honey Tompkins is starting to strut his stuff once more.

* * * * * * *

The Petes-Legion senior "B" semi-final series, going best of five games, opens Friday. Legion have the first home game as they finished ahead of the Petes, and then games alternately are next Monday, Wednesday and, if necessary, the following Friday and Monday. Meantime, Belleville open their best-of-five series in Kingston on Saturday, going back to Bella Villa on Tuesday of next week, and Kingston again on Thursday. The idle talk down Kingston way of Lorne Cook forcing the Petes and Legion to fulfil their engagements in Gananoque ere playoffs commence is just so much eyewash. Playoffs will commence this week-end.

Douglas Keeps Lead

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP) — Les Douglas of Cleveland Barons still maintains a commanding lead in the race for individual scoring honors in the American Hockey League. Douglas, although held to three points last week, holds a nine-point bulge over teammate Fred Thurier. Douglas has 81 points on 29 goals and 52 assists. Thurier has 72 points.

Lakefield Wins

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 14 (ENS)—Lakefield defeated Young's Point 7-4 on the latter's ice last night in a Haywire League puck fray. Patterson scored two goals for the winners in the first, as Chittick, Sabatino and Twist got one each, an assist apiece going to Calberry and Montgomery. Hill scored one in the second from Patterson, while Tedford tallied for the Point. In the third, Heinz, Hogarth and Heard scored for the homesters while Patterson banged in his third goal, with Hill aiding. Teams:

Lakefield: Goal, Huddlestone; defence, Sabatino, Hamblin; centre, Chittick; wings, Millage, Twist; alternates, Patterson, Calberry, McIntyre, Hill, Montgomery.

Young's Point: Goal, B. McNaughton; defence, Heinz, J. Freeburn; centre, Hogarth; wings, Tedford, S. McNaughton; alternates, York, G. Freeburn, Heard, Hockaday, Bullock, Coones and Ayotte.

Here And There In Sports . . .

British craftsmen will make a new steel propeller for Harold Wilson's Harmsworth Trophy challenger, the speedboat Miss Canada IV.

Wilson returned to London on Monday from a flying trip to England where he conferred with designers. In his unsuccessful bid in the Harmsworth races at Detroit last year Wilson used a bronze propeller, the blades of which bent badly, causing loss of considerable power.

Decision to try a stainless steel propeller was made at Gloucester, England, where Wilson was told about 400 man-hours of labor would be needed to machine the propeller from a solid block of steel.

"It's an unusual move in propeller manufacture," said Wilson, "and an expensive one. But it will be the last word in propeller design and manufacture."

At Apsen, Colo., Dagmar Rom, 21-year-old co-ed at the University of Innsbruck, shot down a three quarter mile icy corkscrew Monday in 1:29.6 to win the women's world giant slalom ski crown for Austria.

Five of her team-mates grabbed berths among the next six finishers as the red-sweatered Austrians dominated the opening event of the Alpine phase in the world ski meet.

Calgary Stampeders' galloping Greek, Pete Thodos, and his football shadow, Rod Pantages, announced Monday at Vancouver they will play the 1950 season with Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Football League.

(In Montreal, Eric Cradock, vice-president of the Alouettes, said Monday Pantages had been signed and will arrive in Montreal May 22 to start training with the Grey Cup champions.)

Detroit Red Wings Monday announced they will call up a brother combination from their Omaha farm club for a one-game National Hockey League trial on Wednesday at Chicago.

Manager Jack Adams said the brothers, John and Larry Wilson, sparkplugs of Omaha's league-leading United States Hockey League club, will return to Omaha after appearing against Chicago Black Hawks in Detroit uniforms.

A youthful foursome from Mirror, Alta., which won the northern Alberta curling championship with six straight victories, will represent Alberta at the Dominion high school championships in Quebec City Feb. 20-22.

The curlers, skipped by Ted Ray went through the provincial finals Monday at Edmonton with straight wins in a round-robin series against Blackie, the southern Alberta rink that represented the province in Dominion play last year, and Dawson Creek, B. C.

Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, and Syl Apps, former captain of Toronto Maple Leafs, joined Pembroke sport enthusiasts Monday night in launching a campaign for a $150,000 memorial centre arent.

The proposed arena would be the first unit in a memorial centre that would also include a civic auditorium.

Group of Disabled Vets Making Basketball Tour

NEW YORK, Feb. 14 (AP) — A group of disabled war veterans who once would have been doomed to spend bed-ridden lives, are on a barn-storming tour of the United States—playing basketball.

The 11 paraplegics (paralyzed from the waist down) who make the "Flying Wheelers" play from their wheelchairs and show all the zest and ability of a hot high school squad.

They have a lot of fun, hard work and some knocks. Their main idea is to show other paralytics that they can take a place in active society.

Their game is simple—regular basketball played sitting down. A man can put the ball in his lap, give the wheels two pushes, then he must pass or dribble before pushing again.

If a player falls out of his chair—which doesn't happen too often—time out is called and the team loses the ball. They play 10-minute quarters with two minutes between quarters and five minutes between halves.

The veterans are all from the Birmingham Hospital at Van Nuys, Calif., where wheelchair basketball was started four years ago. It has spread to many United States cities, for civilian polio and accident victims as well as the war disabled.

Ray Mitchell, star centre of the Wheelers, says the Paraplegic Association in Vancouver is "extremely interested" in the game.

After joking about the time he spent in bed and the fun the team was having, Mitchell, wounded in Italy, spoke seriously of the inspirational effect of their game.

Teammate Red Schneidau said he played "just for the sport of it. In the summer I play water polo and archery all year round."

C's Beat Hastings

HASTINGS (Feb. 14 (ENS) — Campbellford remained atop the TVL here last night by beating Hastings 7-3. Wilson and Morrow shone up front, with Greenley and Petticrew good on the defence, the latter having three assists. Doherty, Robinson and Herrington went best for the winners.

Wilson and Morrow scored for the homesters in the first, Petticrew aiding on both, while Robinson and Forester scored for the C's. In the second, Pace got one and Herrington two for the visitors, Robinson and Doherty each having an assist. Peake and Robinson having an assist each as Wilson scored from Petticrew for Hastings. Teams:

Campbellford—Goal, Laverne; defence, Don Free, Forester; centre, Blake; wings, Hay, Pace; alternates, Doherty, Robinson, Herrington, Peake, Smith, Hendricks, Taylor, Tanner.

Hastings—Goal, Mueller; defence, Petticrew, Greenley; centre Wilson; wings, Morrow, Edwards; alternates, West, Ball, Carr.

Referees—W. Shannon and H. Ingram.

NEWCOMER—Barney Bernard, shown above, who takes on Pat Flanagan in the opening bout of Thursday's mat card at the Brock. In the semi-final spot, Dr. Len Hall returns after a long absence to test Steve Stanlee. Local fans will recall Doc Hall as a rough customer specializing in some drastic foot work on his opponents. Main interest, of course is centred on the feature bout which brings together two giants of the ring, Yukon Eric and Wee Willie Davis. The entire card is a starry one and rates a huge crowd.

Detroit Line Captures Scoring Honors

MONTREAL, Feb. 14 (CP) — A Detroit three-man ace line tops the National Hockey League individual scoring race.

Sharpshooting Ted Lindsay widened the gap between his first spot and teammate Sid Abel's, while Gordie Howe broke away from the rest of the pack to tag along with his Red Wings' mates.

The three took advantage of two straight games in which the Red Wings scored nine goals each time to fatten their percentages.

Lindsay has 19 goals and a pace-setting 39 assists for a total of 58 points, three more than team captain Abel who leads in the sniping division with 28 markers which, added to his 27 assists give him a total of 55.

In third spot is Howe with an even 25 goals and 25 assists.

Lindsay who leads all in assists, is a close second in another field —this one adding nothing to his credit. He has spent 101 minutes in the penalty box, second to Chicago's Bill Gadsby who has been in the coop 113 minutes.

Eighth Shutout

Turk Broda, Toronto Maple Leafs' goal-tender, chalked up his eighth shutout of the season when the Maple Leafs blanked Montreal Canadiens 2-0 in a game at Toronto last Saturday. Broda leads in the gooseegg section, one ahead of Montreal's Bill Durnan.

Durnan has the least goals scored against him, allowing only 113 shots past him in 52 starts for an average of 2.17. Chuck Rayner of New York Rangers is second with 120 goals-against in 50 games for a 2.4 average.

Most penalized team is Toronto with 593 minutes in the hoosegow Detroit follows with 542 minutes.

Detroit won two games during the week after a series of consecutive deadlocks. The victories strengthened the Red Wings' grip on first place in league standings with 66 points, nine ahead of Toronto.

Maple Leafs have a two-point edge on Montreal Canadiens who hold on to third spot with 55. New York Rangers are in fourth place with 48, three more than Boston Bruins. The Rangers have played three games less than the Bruins The hapless Chicago Black Hawks are in the cellar with 41 points.

Taylor Wins Scoring Award

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP)—Jack Taylor, first line centre of Hamilton Tigers, staged a driving finish to beat out the favorite and win the Ontario Hockey Association Senior League scoring honors.

Nobody gave Taylor much chance of winning the honors from Toronto Marlboros' Scotty Mair until near the end of the schedule. A furious scoring pace in the last few games did the trick.

Taylor led Mair by one point into the Hamilton-Marlboro encounter last Friday night. That all but guaranteed him the Moose Ecclestone Trophy—awarded annually to the player with the most scoring points at the end of the regular schedule—but he scored another for good measure, Mair was sidelined for the game.

Taylor finished the race with 27 goals and 34 assists for 61 points Mair had 59 points from 38 goals and 21 assists.

Also-rans were Bill Johnson of Marlboros, in third spot, with 55 points—22 goals and 33 assists — and Owen Sound's Pat McReavey, n fourth spot with 51 points—26 goals and 25 assists.

Marlboros' Pat Boehmer won the Nat Turofsky Trophy, awarded to the best goalie in the senior league, with 112 goals allowed, eight less than Bruce Dale of Hamilton, his nearest rival.

CANADIAN BOXERS WIN

Two Canadian boxing champions Monday night in England pounded their way closer to shots at Empire titles. Vern Escoe, Toronto heavyweight, outpointed Jack Gardner over eight rounds at Leicester and Fernand Gagnon, Quebec City bantam, hung a fourth round TKO on Teddy Gardner at Newcastle.

Election Gets Full Play In U.K. Papers

By NORMAN CRIBBENS.

LONDON, Feb. 14 — (CP). — Britain's newspapers, most of them outspokenly partisan, are fighting fiercely over the rival claims of the three major political parties seeking power in the February 23 general election.

Many news reports, as well as editorials, carry a strong party slant, while most letters from readers seem to favor the policy of the paper in which they are printed.

However much they may resent these policies, Britain's politicians cannot complain of any lack of publicity. Most newspapers open their columns to all parties and despite a paper shortage, a surprisingly large number of election speeches are printed.

In London most dailies have taken up the expected positions. But the Daily Mirror, which wholeheartedly supported the Labor Party in the 1945 election, recently took an independent line, exhorting its readers to "study the pronouncements of all parties before making up their minds."

Its weekly companion, the Sunday Pictorial, also avowed its complete independence, but added: "We believe the nation will again return a Labor Government. We stand in firm, unswerving suport of the Labor Party."

Back Conservatives

Adhering closely to the Conservative line are Lord Rothermere's Daily Mail, Evening News and Sunday Dispatch; Lord Kemsley's Daily Graphic and Sunday Graphic, and Lord Camrose's Daily Telegraph.

Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express and Evening Standard are predominantly right-wing, but sometimes quarrel with the Conservative Party on the issue of Empire free trade—Lord Beaverbrook's pet slogan.

Holding slightly aloof from battle are the Times and the Observer, a Sunday newspaper. The Times prides itself on being an independent institution, traditionally reserved, but is often capable of taking a strong line of its own.

Lone protagonists for the Liberal Party in London are the News Chronicle and its evening affiliate, the Star.

The Daily Herald is Labor's chief proponent.

Generally speaking, the leading provincial papers are less vehement than their London compatriots. Though traditionally Liberal, the Manchester Guardian has a reputation for impartiality and fair play to all sides.

The Yorkshire Post, the Birmingham Post, the Western Mail of Cardiff, and the Glasgow Herald usually take a conservative line in their editorials, but avoid political slanting of their news columns. Most other provincial dailies fall into this category.

ROYAL VISITOR — Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands will pay a weekend visit to Ottawa and Quebec City March 10-13. It will be his seventh trip to Canada—he came often during the war when Queen Juliana, then princess, and their daughters lived in this country. The prince, a keen pilot, will fly his own plane to Canada at the end of an official tour of Dutch colonies in the western hemisphere.

Valentine Bazaar YPU Raises $92

HAVELOCK, Feb. 14—(ENS)—Colorful decorations made an attractive setting in the Sunday School auditorium of the United church Saturday for the annual valentine tea and bazaar sponsored by the Young People's Union. The proceeds amounted to $92.

Tea was served in the Valentine Inn at quartette tables, each being centred with red candles in crystal holders. Serving were Misses Brenda Lucas, Ethel Menzies, Helen Robinson and Mrs. James Watson.

A large tea table was attractively arranged with a lace table cloth centred with a potted plant with a profusion of pink blooms flanked with red candles in silver holders.

Ye Olde Sweet Shoppe, where a variety of home made candy was on display, was in charge of Misses Joan and Edith Thompson and Miss Audrey Newell. Philip Chevalier kept the Shoppe supplied with freshly popped corn.

Misses Lois McKay and Marla Whitney were in charge of Aunt Lucy's Kitchen, where home baking was on sale. A large variety of novelties were on sale in the Chug Ling Laundry, which was in charge of Misses Eleanor Scott and Lois Wilde

The fish pond and wishing well were under the direction of R. J. Hill and Kenneth Nobes. Those arranging the plates for the tea were: Mesdames H. Hoard, F. R. Vanderburgh H. Agnew and Miss Shirley Bennett.

The articles in the antique booth were in charge of Mrs. A. Anderson and were donated by Miss Annie Young.

Earl Agnew, the president, had booths and states the main objective of the bazaar was to raise the missionary allocation. The balance will go to the general fund.

Roseneath News

The Women's Institute held a bazaar on Saturday in the township hall. It was officially opened by the president, Mrs. Harold Taylor.

Among delegates attending the Ontario Faairs Association Convention in Toronto were Mesdames Earl Waldie, Ivan Thackeray and Lorne Thackeray; Messrs. F. J. Slade, Bart Thackeray, Leo Timlin, C. W. Varcoe, James L. Timlin, Neil Sherwin and John Coyle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Drope attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Arch Nichol of Cobourg on Friday.

Miss Aureen Brown attended a Federation of Agriculture meeting as a delegate of West Dartford Farm Forum, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Rutherford, Campbellford.

The Misses Mavis Thackeray, Betty McMillan and Adeline Mouncey, Cobourg, spent the weekend at their respective homes.

Among those attending the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Willis (nee Marie Timlin) at Cold Springs were Mrs. Leo Timlin, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Timlin, Mrs. Jas. L. Timlin, Messrs. Blair Thackeray and Neil Adams.

Miss Hilda Arthur has returned home after spending the past month in Peterborough.

Mrs. Jack Armstrong, Toronto, was a guest during the weekend of her sister, Mrs. J. T. Drope and Mr. Drope.

Faith Required To Win Wars Rotarians Told

A war can't be won with a rampart of Bibles, Commander R. H. Stokes-Rees of the building supply firm of Stokes-Rees, Talbot & Company, told the Rotary Club Monday. His topic was "Greatness Thrust Upon Us."

Commander Stokes-Rees added that although war can't be won by a rampart of Bibles, wars cannot be won without faith. The type of faith does not matter, he said, but there must be some, whether Protestant, Catholic or Jewish.

A friend of King Paul of Greece, Commander Stokes-Rees told of how Greece was not fighting a civil war but a war against its bordering countries which he referred to as USSR 2 and USSR 3. He explained that at night aircraft fed the Communist-led forces with supplies.

On raids into Greece, Commander Stokes-Rees said the Communist bands would kill all the men and women over 40 years, take all the physically-fit men to Siberia, and all the children to special Communist school. The children, he added, were taught to loathe their type of government and their parents. They would then be sent back to the country.

Mr. Stokes-Rees said that two other examples of Communist infiltration were, in Germany after the war, and in South Africa at the time of the Pan-American conference.

Greatness has been thrust on Canada by the world starvation and the security of north Atlantic area. Mr. Stokes-Rees said that Canada had been chosen by the United Nations to aid in feeding the world. His second reason for greatness being thrust on Canada is that Canada has become the pivot point of North Atlantic security.

Briefly Commander Stokes-Rees told some of his experiences with the Russians during and since World War 2. He showed how childish they can be, yet how cunning they are at the same time.

He urged that younger people be educated to realize their responsibilities. Newspapers, he said, should publish more stories on world affairs instead of the crime stories. Canadians should travel more and become known better in foreign countries.

The speaker was introduced by Gordon Dobbin and thanked by Col. John A. Dewart

Gerald Grady, vice-president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, spoke briefly to the club on Brotherhood Week, February 19 to 26.

William Holden Intends To Slow Down

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 14. (AP) William Holden is letting his bosses know that he's not going to be the one-man production machine he has been.

Holden's contract is split between Columbia and Paramount, and each has had steady assignments for him. He made nine pictures in the last two years, something of a record for a star.

"I nearly had a nervous breakdown after the last one," he told me. "I'm not going to work that hard again."

One of the roles Holden played last year was in "Sunset Blvd.", which was turned down by Montgomery Clift. Now Holden and the picture are getting raves. He is just as happy that Mr. Clift was so choosy.

Notes 'n' Stuff

Ruth Roman gets a large percentage of her fan mail from college men. She's trying to figure out what that means.

Canasta makes its movie debut, I believe, in "My Friend Irma Goes West." Jerry Lewis will play the card game with a chimpanzee.

Busy Bing Crosby starts another air show March 6. This time he'll be working for himself, because the sponsor is Minute Maid Orange Juice, which Bing owns.

Aren't the movies cutting their own throats? At least a dozen current and upcoming pictures have scenes that include television sets. Wonder how the theatre managers will like that?

Capsule Review

"Dancing In The Dark" (TCF) is not the least bit believable, but it's pretty good entertainment. The main thanks go to William Powell whose lively trouping makes a wonderful character of a has-been movie star. Betsy Drake and Mark Stevens provide the love interest. Miss Drake is also represented as a singer and dancer, but I suspect this is accomplished by the magic of the movie makers.

Seek $100,000 To Battle Mystery Disease

The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada will launch its first national financial campaign for $100,000 for financing and extending basic and clinical research projects, according to an announcement today by Professor Wilder Penfield, honorary chairman of the medical advisory board of the society.

Professor Penfield stated that there were some 25,000 young men and women in Canada today who are prisoners of MS and are looking forward eagerly to the day when the cause and control of this baffling and crippling disability will be found. He mentioned that satisfactory results are being secured from the modest research projects now being conducted by the society at the Neurological Institute of Montreal, but larger financial resources are needed to gain substantial research results.

The chairman of the board, Dr. Colin Russel, pointed out that MS is perhaps the most important of the completely unsolved problems in neurology and that research on MS is still in the trial and error stage and requires added public interest and financial support to yield valuable results.

The Multiple Sclerosis Society of Canada received its charter from the Dominion Government in 1948 and today there are six chapters across Canada, with membership progressively increasing, and a number of new chapters in various stages of formation.

Prefab Chimney Banned By City Council

City council felt almost convinced Monday night that it had got the municipal door shut against an importunate prefabricated chimney that has been around the premises for at least eighteen months.

"What I'd like to be assured is that we are now finally getting rid of it," Ald. Sands said.

The cylindrical type of chimney, seven inches in diameter, whose sections are put together, has been "considered" more often than many a question of actual importance.

"I can't understand how it got back before us again," said Ald. Sands. "I thought we had got rid of it."

He was informed that at a recent committee meeting Ald. E. C. Braund, new to the council's business and curious about the merits of the chimney, enquired about its possibilities and suggested some further discussion.

"I think we would all like to be certain that this is the end of it," Ald. Sands said.

The motion of ultimate dismissal, beyond appeal and respite, so it sounded, was Ald. A. B. Burrows' recommendation that there "be no change in the building by-law with regard to chimneys".

That was a deft way of avoiding the direct naming of this manufactured product.

Meeting In Camera

Ald. Hugh Waddell presided as chairman of the finance committee with all the members present.

Top subject was a conference with Board of Governors of Civic Hospital about the county's contribution to the building fund. That stretch of the meeting was held "in camera" as expressly intimated in announcement of the Monday night session of the Waddell committee.

Utilities Commission's water bill for $35,000 this year stirred up some opposition. This is the charge levied by the Commission for fire protection.

The waterworks system is owned by the property owners through the agency of the council but in the management of the Utilities Commission.

The Commission has to plan extensions, lay the mains, connections and hydrants, and finance the work, collecting from the water consumers.

Capital expenditure on the waterworks system in the last few years, resulting from expansion of the city, has been approximately $500,000.

Larger Mains Required

It has been the contention of the Utilities Commission that provision of water pressures and capacity of mains for fire protection is a large factor in their capital costs. For domestic services they could get along with six-inch mains. The larger diameters are required for the purposes of the fire department.

Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the Utilities, recently said that the cost of the Commission's operations extended for fire protection even to the capacity of the pumps. The feeling was that the council did not fully appreciate the circumstances of efficiency for fire protection which, the Commission asserts, were properly chargeable to the council and through it to the property owners who received the benefit of all this investment.

Discussion of the Utilities bill will probably be arranged for a meeting of representatives of both bodies.

WHILE FIREWORKS made a brilliant arch high above Ste. Agathe Des Monts, Que., the snow covered "capital" of the Laurentians, brunette and pretty Huguette Lamarche, shown above waving from her float, was crowned Carnival Queen of 1950 and the third annual Mardi Gras of the Snows was officially under way.

Trained Security Officers On Watch For Communists

Facts about the selection of immigrants to Canada, gleaned first hand in the European centres, were given by Dr. H. Wright, at the University Women's Club meeting Monday evening. Dr. Wright, who is now on the staff of the Peterborough Board of Education, spent nearly two years overseas, as a medical officer for the Canadian government, examining displaced persons who applied for entry.

He assured his listeners that it would be very difficult for Communists to get by the trained security officers who knew just how to question so that they would reveal themselves. After passing these tests they were again questioned by immigration officials, also trained in the art of detecting undesirable traits.

Dr. Wright is doubly sure that Communists did not get through since most DP's were Estonians, Latvians and Lithuanians who escaped to Sweden to get away from Communism. "They wanted to come to Canada because they were afraid of Russia, much more so than those in Germany," he said. "In 1948 those people were sure there would be a war the next year, and though this fear passed off later, Estonians flocked to the immigration office every time there was a disturbance in Moscow."

Praise For Those From Baltic

"Such people should be given refuge here," declared Dr. Wright. "I cannot tell you how much I think of the people of the Baltic. Canada would never be at a loss if it took all of them." Natives of Sweden, he explained, are able to come if they pay their own way and can satisfy the financial requirements of both Governments, which is a little hard to do at present. Estonians are quite independent and are not willing to serve as domestics.

The physical examination was a rigid test, especially the chest. People with TB conditions who might be allowed to work in Canada were rejected. They had to remain in their own country. General physical condition of the people was not good in 1948 but has since improved. Mennonites who came from the Ukraine on foot or by cart were probably in the worst physical condition.

The total number of immigrants received by Canada is 350,000 of which 100,000 were displaced persons. Polish and Ukrainians form the largest group, and 10,000 are Jewish people. Dr. Wright said there will not be much immigration activity in the future, as only the relatives of those already here are likely to come. The greatest worry to all concerned is for those who have been rejected and must remain in Europe.

Members showed considerable interest by the questions they asked the doctor after his talk.

Mrs. V. R. Henry moved a vote of appreciation which was extended to the speaker by vice president Mrs. J. E. Watters who presided for the meeting.

3 More Break-ins By Match Burner Gets No Loot

Peterborough's match breakin artist staged three jobs Sunday and Monday nights, but took nothing for all his trouble.

The home of William Jeffries, 1266 Clonsilla Ave., was broken into sometime Monday evening. Burnt matches were found in every room and every drawer in the house had been ransacked.

Mr. Jeffries, who had been away all day, returned to his house about 10:30 p.m. to find his house had been turned upside down. Mrs. Jeffries was visiting in Toronto.

Basement Entry

Entry had been made by the thief kicking in a basement window on the south side which had been nailed shut. The thief had first tried to reach a non-existent latch by knocking out a pane of glass. Traffic Officer Claire McGillen and Constable Douglas Farthing carried out the preliminary investigation.

The two breakins made Sunday were similar. The two houses were Frank Braithwaite's on Rose Ave. and John Vilneff's at 628 St. Catherines St. Both had been staged before about 8:30 p.m. when the Braithwaites and Vilneffs returned.

Entry into both had been made through basement windows in which a pane of glass had been broken and the catch pulled. Again burnt matches littered the floors and all drawers were ransacked.

Hotel Guests Leave With 3 Mantel Radios

Three mantel radios were stolen by departing guests of the McGillis Hotel over the weekend.

The thefts were reported to police Monday The radios were standard equipment in the hotel rooms. It is not known definitely how the radios were taken out.

Probably the guest sneaked the radio down a back way and put it outside a rear door. After checking out, the thief went back to the rear of the hotel and picked up the radio.

Two Committees Of Board Draw Estimates

Two committees of the Board of Education Monday night struck their estimates for the year. Both slightly exceeded the 1949 estimates as well as the actual disbursements.

This year the supervision committee expects to spend a total of $21,945 on the public schools and PCVS, compared to an expenditure of $20,733.37 last year.

Tentative estimates for the Health Committee are $19,000. In 1949 the estimates were for $17,270 while the actual disbursements exceeded that figure by $17.87.

Both the recommendations of the health and the supervision committees now go to the finance committee and at that time the budget for the year will be drawn up.

It is unlikely that there will be any substantial paring though some adjustments might have to be made.

Following is the recommendation of the supervision committee in detailed form:

(Key—1, public; 2, collegiate academic; 3, collegiate vocational)

	1	2	3
School supplies	2,800	2,000	1,100
Pupils' books and supplies	2,200	300	—
Library	1,800	450	400
Auxiliary supplies	1,200	—	—
Agriculture	200	—	—
Voc. guidance	250	150	75
Manual training supplies	1,200	—	—
Science supplies	—	500	—
Home econ supplies	800	—	—
Art supplies	100	200	100
Music supplies	1,000	50	150

Athletics and prizes	225	500	250
Scholarships and prizes	90	655	—
Cadets	—	300	—
Commencement	—	150	75
Totals	$12,765	6,405	2,775

Salaries Biggest Item

Largest item on the estimates of the health committee was the dental and medical staff salaries. This year these will come to $17,600 compared with the 1949 estimate of $16,070 and disbursement of $15,865. Of this last figure $14,726 was chargeable to public schools.

Included are the salaries of a doctor, dentist and three nurses.

Car allowances and medical supplies put another $1,400 on the estimate of the health committee bringing the total to $19,000.

The committee also recommended that additional help be procured if possible from local dentists to help in the examination of children's teeth. Should this extra help be obtained it would throw out the estimates somewhat but not enough to matter, K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools stated.

Skiers Planning Most Active Week

The Peterborough Ski Club made plans today to speed up their winter operations this week. Besides skiing under the lights Tuesday and Thursday nights at Kenpt's Hill, the club plans skiing hours Wednesday afternoon and a special students' night on Friday.

Mollie Craig, Peterborough's representative at the Canadian Travelling Ski School, spent the week-end finishing the course which started in January at Huntsville. The school was held this time at Beaver Valley Club near Flesherton. The students tramped the tow hill on Sunday and were given a free ride on the new electric tow, believed to be the only one in Canada.

J. D. Cumming of the Belmont Ski Club, Havelock, reports that the club were hosts to a bus load of skiers from the Lakefield Boys' Preparatory School over the week-end. The snow stood up well to the severe test given it.

HOUSEWIFE FALLS

Falling on a step while doing her housework on Monday, Mrs. Albert Rogers, Norwood, fractured her left wrist. She came to Peterborough for treatment at the Civic Hospital, and then returned home.

Robertson Davies Writes Play For Little Theatre

How do letters to the editor of a newspaper come to be written? That is the theme of "The Voice of The People," by Robertson Davies, which is being presented by the Peterborough Little Theatre at the PCVS auditorium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

The author of the play, himself an editor, might be expected to have inside information on this subject. And when the play was performed before an audience of newspapermen in Detroit in 1948, it was unanimously agreed that he had gone to the heart of the subject. The play was, however, written for the Peterborough Little Theatre, and some of the parts in it were written with special consideration for the talents of the actors who will perform them.

The play is being directed by Fern Rahmel, with a special setting by Gertrude Cox and Jack Hamer. As well as "The Voice of The People" J. M. Synge's play "The Tinker's Wedding" and "The Play of The Weather" will be presented each evening.

Pay City $13,087

PAYMENT of $13,087.20 to the city last year by Peterborough Bus Lines is the largest amount of their annual contributions under their franchise agreement with the council.

This sum has been received by the City Treasurer A. S. Couper for 1949. It is based on the gross revenue from the operation of the bus service.

Mr. L. R. Mitchell, head of the bus company, is reported recovering from an illness of the last three weeks, and may be able to return to his office next week.

City's Six Plows Out At 5 a.m. Plowing Streets

The law of winter weather averages caught up with Peterborough and its rural district today as the tail end of a Texas storm blew snow about the countryside and into the lanes of traffic.

Bus drivers reported that the city's streets department had cleared their routes by timely plowing before daybreak. W. J. McKibbin, superintendent of the board of works department under Street Commissioner Burgess, confirmed the grateful information and experience of the bus men.

By five o'clock six plows were heading into the weather. Three of them are graders and three are trucks with plow attachments.

"It looks like an all day job for the fleet," Mr. McKibbin said. It has been.

Bus Routes First

The bus routes get first attention as a convenience to the public that depend on the community transport system.

Local transport companies said their trucks were arriving on time, and there had been no interruption of schedules up to noon today.

"But, if it begins blowing. . ." Toronto-Peterborough Transport remarked, with a note of apprehension of what could happen if the wind picks up velocity.

Probabilities suggested the snow might turn to sleet by night. At any rate, February would not run true to its long accustomed habit and form without snow swirling from the roofs of George St., spreading across the way store tops and drifting down into the faces of pedestrians. This was a typical February day, except in the register of thermometers. Temperature was moderate for the urban shovellers who have had a winter of light labor up and down their lanes and walks and verandahs.

Costs Man $11.50 To Withdraw Charge

It cost $11.50 in police court today for Carl E. Ellis, Norwood, to withdraw his charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm laid more than a week ago against David Innes, Norwood.

As the case appeared before the court, Ellis said he wanted to withdraw the charge. Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, said it could be withdrawn only on condition that the costs involved be paid.

Ellis said he believed Innes had agreed to pay the costs.

The charge read that Innes had hit Ellis with an iron poker.

Takes Month In Jail

James Heffernan, 56, no fixed address, who has appeared at least three times since just before Christmas in police court on vagrancy charges, was back on the same charge today.

An attempt to have him taken into one of the local old people's homes was not successful.

He was fined $5 and costs or one month in jail today and took the one month. On other occasions when he went to jail, a friend appeared and paid his fine releasing Heffernan.

Cobourg Council Accepts Resignation of Mayor, Accused of Racial Bias

COBOURG, Feb. 14—(ENS)—Mayor Joseph Smith of Cobourg tendered his resignation Monday at a special meeting of the council, after explaining that publicity which appeared in the Sentinel Star, Cobourg weekly newspaper, was putting the town in an "unfavorable light." The resignation was accepted "with extreme regret" because of the "unfavorable publicity which has occurred." The mayor's action was a sequel to a report of a labor meeting in the Cobourg paper and an editorial in which the paper demanded his resignation.

In an editorial published last week the Star accused the mayor of racial bias as the result of his remarks at a labor dinner.

Pavilion Lease

The feud arose after the lease of the park pavilion, held last year by Stanley Williams, was renewed. Williams offered $1,500 when tenders were invited and Sam Stover, a naturalized Canadian of Greek origin, offered $8,500.

In explanation of its action the council said there had been a renewal clause in Williams' contract last year, and the councillors had been under the impression this gave him prior rights if he wished to lease it again.

The mayor made reference to the lease at a private labor dinner and in its report of his remarks, the Cobourg paper stated he had spoken with racial discrimination.

The following is a statement made by the mayor at the council meeting which he had called specially for the purpose:

"Last Thursday morning the Sentinel Star, in an editorial written by Foster Russell, owner and publisher, called for my resignation as mayor of the town. This article was written from notes given him by his reporter, Pengelley, taken during a private dinner.

"This article was published in the same issue as an article covering the Parks Board meeting, in which the pavilion lease had been discussed and granted. I do not intend to rehash here in the council what I said or did not say. I will stand by the majority of the remarks attributed to me as I am now in the council chamber and not at a private dinner. It is also my feeling that the town has already been sufficiently smeared through last week's effort of the Sentinel Star.

Apologizes To People

"I do however, wish without any reservation, to apologize to the people of Cobourg for being the means through which their town has been unnecessarily smeared. I wish particularly to apologize to the Allied Labor Council, whose private dinner guest I was and I would like to publicly state that the published suggestion that I used labor for my own purpose and then threw them out, at no time entered my mind. It is entirely a figment of the imagination of the publisher of the Sentinel Star.

"In regard to the remarks which have been interpreted as showing racial prejudice, I repeat that I thought I was expressing my personal views at a private meeting and I am most sorry that these have been made public and that anyone has been hurt as a result.

"To the members of the council, I am now asking you to be good enough to accept my resignation as mayor. It is with extreme regret that I do this. However, I am unable any longer to refuse to recognize the harm which is being done the good name of this town through the constant feud of the Sentinel Star.

"It appears to me as not only ridiculous that this feud should exist, but also it is much ado about nothing. It also appears to me as particularly vicious that the publisher of the Sentinel Star took the time and trouble to mail to all the Toronto papers and press association offices in Toronto, an advance copy of the article in last Thursday's paper."

USING HIS CREDIT

A local businessman, who had been overseas for a lengthy period, recently called at the DVA office and claimed his re-establishment credit of more than $800. He remarked, while the papers were being made out, that he had spent hundreds of dollars since his discharge in furnishing and fixing up his house. This money, he pointed out, could have been obtained at any time on his army credit, but he spent his own cash on hand, and the point he was making was that his bank balance would have been earning interest, but his re-establishment credit was just earning money for the government as long as it wasn't drawn.

Lambert presiding in the YWCA club room, members of Alhpa Theta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi on Monday evening discussed the furnishings of a room in the new Civic Hospital for which they are donating the funds. They also appointed conveners for their fall bazaar, Miss Mary Bolton and Miss Joyce Wyatt. A bazaar meeting is to be held next Monday evening at Miss Bolton's home on Walton St.

Mrs. L. Ford took charge of the program in absence of Miss Myrtle McKeown, program director. Mrs R. Duder was the first speaker, her subject "The Person Beautiful." She commented on the subtle changes of beauty fashions and also spoke of the eye make-up being introduced this year, which is likely to make history as did the first use of lipstick.

Pledge Mrs. Eric Martin, introduced by Miss Mary Scollard, gave a talk on modes of dress in the middle and rennaisance period, covering the years 476 to 1700, and also described the hair styles and hats. Miss Barbara Carter then discussed dress from the Rennaisance to present day, and dwelt on the short hair styles of this year and the shorter ones probably to come. She was introduced by Miss Mary Knox. Each speaker highlighted her talk with illustrations from the period.

Refreshments were served at close of the meeting with Miss Joyce Wyatt in charge, and members of Exemplar Chapter joined the group.

RomanceNotDead Expect Valentines Despite Election

LONDON, Feb. 14.—(Reuters).—Thousands of young women in Britain looked to be awakened today by a gentle, cheerful tapping on their front-door mail boxes, instead of the militant quick-fire rapping of enthusiastic political workers canvassing for election votes.

That is, if the postmen can forget the prospect of coping with several millions of election communications and can act in the spirit of St. Valentine's Day.

Though the centuries-old custom of sending anonymous love tokens to an admired one on Feb. 14 has taken some severe setbacks in these unromantic times, it is not quite dead. Firms publishing special Valentine cards have done their best to stimulate new life.

American soldiers in wartime Britain gave the old custom a big boost Though even the Valentine became enmeshed in austerity regulations—no card, for example, could weigh more than two-fifths of an ounce—the publishers kept up an adequate supply of cards.

A century ago some of the election candidates would probably have indulged in a little anonymous mud-slinging by means of Valentine communications. But politics appears to be more serious today and candidates are likely to be too preoccupied wooing the electorate to sit down to compose verses (either adulatory or derisory) for any one individual.

Sacred Heart CWL Holds Pleasing Valentine Tea

A successful Valentine tea was held Sunday afternoon in the Sacred Heart club house, sponsored by the Catholic Women's League.

The tea table, supervised by Mrs. O. Hallihan and Mrs. H. Masterson, was decorated following the Valentine motif, centred with a silver bowl of red and white carnations and flanked by silver candelabra holding red candles. Red streamers ending with large red hearts accentuated the beautiful lace cloth.

During the tea hour cups were filled by Mrs. Ed. Hickey and Mrs. F. McCarthy, Mrs. Joe Grady and Mrs. T. McGarrity.

Individual tea tables were set about the room, attractively decorated with red carnations, and in charge of Mrs. M. Murray, Mrs. A. Atwood, Mrs. H. White, Mrs. Joe Kearns, Mrs. V. Flynn and Miss E. Armstrong.

President Mrs. Leo Martyn was on hand to greet the guests and Mrs. W. Curtis was at the door.

Mrs. Wm. De Noble and Mrs. Frank Perry sold tickets on a cake which was donated by Mrs. De Noble. It was won by Miss Mabel Desautels when little Leone Martyn drew her ticket.

Frances Healy Heads Club Of Little Women

Little Women's Club of the YWCA held a Valentine party Saturday afternoon in the recreation room. There were 14 members present and one guest from Toronto. After playing games refreshments were served and Valentines distributed from a pretty white and red Valentine box.

Elections were held and the following is the new slate of officers:

President, Frances Healy; vice-president, Janet Hughson; secretary, Joan Pearce; treasurer, Carol Hughson; pianist, Evelyn Hajnik; club reporter, June Pearce; social convener, Cecile Bartley; program, Ann Gilbert, Gloria Rishea; corresponding secretary, Patsy Taylor.

Plans are being made to hold a St. Patrick's tea on Saturday, March 18, at the YWCA.

KING EDWARD SCHOOL

President Mrs. E. Reynolds welcomed those attending the founder's night meeting of King Edward Home and School Association on Monday evening.

An outline of the growth of home and school work was given by Mrs. E. Chambers, district chairman, who was introduced by Mrs. G. MacMillan. She stressed the benefits of all parents who become members and the need for co-operation and understanding of parents to solve the problems they face with children. Also the benefit of instruction groups to parents and teachers.

A skit arranged by Mrs. L. Gibson, home education convener, was given with assistance of Mrs. J. Dunkerly, Roy Murduff and Victor Peters. A short discussion and questionnaire followed. Announcement was made of a home education meeting at Queen Mary School on February 20 when films on the family circle will be shown. Also a meeting at the Collegiate February 27 with Rev. Dr. D. C. McClennan speaking on alcoholic education.

Vocal solos by Reg. Peters, accompanied by Mrs. B. Wallace, and piano solos by Bob Turner were much enjoyed.

Mr. J. Telford's room won the attendance treat.

Refreshments, including birthday cake, were served at the close.

The 5-cent coin he slips in his pocket is pure Nickel. Nickel is a good metal for coins because it does not tarnish, and is so hard it wears well.

What's Nickel ... in his young life?

Just a few minutes ago, the news boy papers came pouring from the printing press. Presses must not break down. So parts subject to unusual wear and strain are made of Nickel alloys.

In the trucks, trains and planes which distribute newspapers far and wide, Nickel Steel and other Nickel alloys prevent breakdowns and give long wear.

To turn this pile of logs into tomorrow's newspapers, rugged machinery will be used—also acids and other corrosive chemicals. That's why so much equipment in pulp and paper plants is made of Nickel and Nickel alloys.

Forty-three years of research have uncovered hundreds of uses for Nickel in the United States and other countries. Now Nickel exports bring in millions of U.S. dollars yearly. These dollars help pay the wages of the 14,000 Nickel employees in Canada and also help pay Canadian railwaymen, lumbermen, iron and steel workers and other men and women making supplies for the Nickel mines, smelters and refineries

Keeping Romance Lasting Too Difficult To Attempt

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a very fine girl and we are very ardently in love with each other. What shall we do to keep our love always as thrilling as it now is? How shall we avoid the pitfall of boredom? I never go out with other girls, she never goes out with other boys, mainly because we do not want to. If we try not to see each other too often, will that help to keep our love always romantic?

ANXIOUS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You can no more keep the glamour and romance of young love than you can keep the rosy mystery of the dawn from turning into the full day. Nor can you perpetuate thrills and keep turning hot and cold over a thing that has happened to you a hundred times.

Something Different

There is always something different in a first time—a first time of sailing into a new harbor, a first time of getting some recognition in the work you are doing, a first love, a first kiss, that never comes again. It is a surprise, a revelation, a promise of undiscovered delights that makes our pulses leap and floods our souls with the joy of expectancy. So if you are asking how you can keep your love keyed up always to the nth degree and be always in this hectic chills and fever state, I can only say it just can't be done.

But all of this has nothing to do with real love. Romance is just the fancy trappings in which love is wrapped up in the days of courtship. It isn't love itself, and a man and woman never know how much they really care for each other until they throw away all of this flubdub and see each other without illusion as they are.

Doubtless you can keep your love romantic longer by seeing little of each other, as you suggest, but affection that can't stand the test of familiarity is a poor, weak reed on which to lean. How about the long years of close daily association after you are married when you will have to bear with each other in sickness and comfort each other in misfortune? And you will be just a human man and woman whose love must be strong enough to bear the strain or else break under it.

As for avoiding boredom, that's easy. Be sure the one you marry is in your own intellectual class and has the same tastes and interest and then set deliberately about developing comradeship.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX:
I have three grown children and one of the best husbands in the world, but my home is made miserable and we are all being turned into grouches by my mother, who lives with us. She makes our every minute miserable by her faultfinding and cutting remarks about everything we do and leave undone. She thinks she should dominate our entire lives and we should obey her just as if we were little children, and she is furious if we leave her at home at all or fail to take her everywhere we go. My nerves are simply worn out with the strain. What shall we do?

PERPLEXED

ANSWER: A family should be run for the greatest good for the greatest number, and if there is one member of it who breaks up the peace and happiness of all the rest, then he or she should be as gently and painlessly removed as possible.

If that can be done. Of course, very often this is an utter impossibility for financial reasons. In such cases the only method that can be used is intimidation. Holding the threat of throwing the firegrand out into the cold, cold world will generally work, because the individual who is willing to upset a whole household to gratify his or her love of tormenting others is invariably selfish, and anything that promises to interfere with his or her comfort will bring him or her to terms.

So screw up your courage and have a good plain talk with your mother and tell her that she is ruining your home life and that you can't stand it. She will cry and accuse you of ingratitude, but the chances are that she will brace up and be pleasanter to live with.

DEAR MISS DIX: Don't you think that a man, whether he be a lover or a devoted husband, is offended by his sweetheart or his wife asking him if he loves her and thus forcing him to tell her outright: "I adore you, darling." Isn't such a question repulsive to him?

B. V.

ANSWER: Not at all. It is simply part of the litany of love, and men just eat it up and ask for more. A man does not want the woman he loves to take his affection for granted. He likes her to be so keenly interested in the matter, and for it to be so vital to her happiness, that she wants to hear all about it over and over again.

Couldn't Be Tried

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Albert Fogg, 48, wanted to be tried Monday on a charge of stealing tools. But he wasn't—because Jack Rose, 51, jointly charged with him, elected trial by jury. "That's ridiculous," Fogg told Judge Samuel Factor. "We're guilty, we took the things, let's get it over with." Rose was released on $1,000 bail but Fogg was unable to raise a similar amount and was held in custody.

Tass Hints Plot

LONDON, Feb. 14—)AP)—A Tass dispatch said today that the United States has told Japan secretly to reorganize her police into an armed force of 500,000. The report, which the official Soviet news agency picked up in Czechoslovakia, was credited to a Washington correspondent of the left-wing Telepress agency. The Tass dispatch was distributed here.

Heads For Italy

PARIS, Feb. 14—(Reuters)—Otto Skorzeny, one-time German S.S. (Elite Guard) corporal who liberated Mussolini in 1943, was said to have left France Monday, as clandestinely as he is believed to have entered it. A few hours after an evening paper published a purported picture of him ambling down the Champs Elysees he was reported heading for Italy.

Pool Crime Notes

CHICAGO, Feb. 14—(AP)—Fourteen American newspapers Monday pooled efforts to spotlight the shadowy workings of organized crime. In 14 cities across the United States, they began telling the story of the rackets developed from comparison of notes by their crime reporters at a three-day meeting here last week. The newspapers co-operating include the Cleveland Plain Dealer and Detroit Free Press.

Potatoes For Spain

SEARSPORT, Me., Feb. 14—(AP)—Fifty thousand tons of Maine potatoes will go to Spain, it was announced Monday. This amount equals 1,666,000 of the state's 18,000,000 bushels of surplus from the 1949 crop. The announcement was made by John P. Jacobs, vice-president of the Brewster Trading Corporation of New York and Juan Montals Fontrodona of Barcelona, a Spanish potato expert.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14—(AP)—The United States air force Monday disclosed it will equip its Arctic rescue teams with big twin-motor helicopters able to land on any flat surface. The new mercy ship is the Piasecki H-21, developed from the "Flying Banana" type long used by the United States navy, marines and coast guard.

Marmora Resident, Wm. Archer Makes Violins; Started In 1917

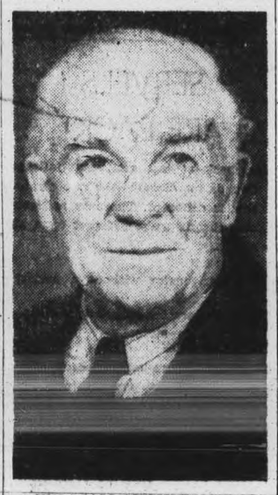
MARMORA, Feb. 14—(ENS)—In the year 1917, a copy of a Stradivarius violin was made by William Archer, resident of the Marmora district for the greater part of his life, but more recently a resident of Grafton.

Since this first attempt at making string instruments Mr. Archer has met with continued success and four instruments, a 'cello, viola, copies of Stradivarius and Guirnirous violin, were used recently at a recital in Toronto played by a quartette of professional musicians.

Violins and violas made by Mr. Archer are being used daily by players in the Toronto Symphony Orchestra and also by musicians in other parts of the continent.

In addition to acquiring proficiency as a violin maker, Mr. Archer is also a painter. Among his works are murals in the sitting room and rotunda of the Royal Hotel, Marmora.

Seventy-four years ago, on April 5, Mr. Archer was born in Marmora township at what was then named the lower mines of Deloro or the Williams Mine. His parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Archer who came to this district from the Lake District of England.



WILLIAM ARCHER of Grafton, who has spent most of his 74 years in Marmora, has been making violins, violas and 'cellos since 1917, when he experimented by making a copy of a Stradivarius. Several of his instruments are used by players in the Toronto Symphony Orchestra and a quartette of professional players recently formed an ensemble of two violins, a viola and 'cello made by Mr. Archer, to give a recital.

Played In Bands

William Archer inherited his father's love of music and identified himself with various bands which played from time to time in this district.

The violin which was copied, was at the time being played on a Canadian concert tour by an accomplished violinist, Miss Isobel Menges of England. Miss Menges was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Wright, the former manager of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company. Mr. Wright was also an ardent violinist and the Deloro String Quartette which he organized, was renowned in this section of Hastings County.

Later, when Miss Menges returned to Deloro, again as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wright and to play at a concernt in Marmora Town Hall, she used the locally made violin.

Mr. Wright suggested to Mr. Archer that he should go further in his endeavour to make violins.

And that is how he launched out on a new career, following at the same time his professional as a painter and house decorator.

Adjudicates Festivals

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Guy Glover, formerly of Vancouver and now associated with the National Film Board at Ottawa, has been chosen to adjudicate regional ballet festivals in various Canadian cities next spring, it was learned Monday night. This will be the first year that regional ballet festivals have been held before the national festival, to be at Montreal next November.

Say Polygamy Needed

GENEVA, Feb. 14 (Reuters)—After a 17-day inquiry in the British Cameroons in Africa, a four-man United Nations trusteeship council commission has decided that polygamy is "a type of social security." "Polygamy, the members of the commission said in their report issued Monday, would have to continue "until western civilization through education, convinces the Africans that other ways are better and preferable."

Paying $553,113 To Aid 3 Hospitals

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Premier Frost Monday announced the Ontario government is paying $553,113 to three hospitals to assist them in expanding accommodation, under the plan by which capital grants are paid to hospitals from general revenues. Receipts from the amusements tax are used only for maintenance grants to hospitals.

The capital grants announced Monday were $99,666 to Queen Victoria Hospital at North Bay, which is adding 93 beds and 20 infant bassinettes; $93,446 to St. Mary's on the Lake Hospital, Kingston, representing half the cost of 118 beds, and $340,000 to St. John's Hospital at Newtonbrook, near Toronto.

May Allow Movies Used As Evidence

VANCOUVER, Feb. 14—(CP)—Chief Justice W. B Ferris may create a legal precedent Tuesday by ruling moving pictures admissible as evidence in a case now before the Supreme Court.

The movies, taken by a commercial photographer, were offered Monday as evidence by the New Westminster, B.C., Army and Navy Store which charges two union officers with defying an anti-picketing injunction.

It is believed that moves never before have been admitted as evidence in a Canadian court.

Britain May Harness Winds To Beat Power Shortage

By H. L. JONES, Canadian Press Staff Writer

The almost incessant winds which lash the coast of Britain may be harnessed to help beat the country's power shortage. Authorities say it could be done through employment of a modern version of the old windmill hooked up to electrical generators. In this way, they believe, the winds along Britain's west coast and in the north—some of the most constant in the world—could be used to save coal and manpower and even to establish new industries.

The possibilities of windpower were suggested as far back as 1924, but only recently did they come in for serious consideration. The north of Scotland hydro-electric board now is setting up a 100-kilowatt windmill generator in the Orkneys and the British electricity authority is considering building a similar experimental unit.

Power For Free

The Rural Electrification and Windpower branch of the Electrical Research Association has just completed a two-year survey on the subject. It concluded that 600 wind-driven generators set up on coastal hilltops could save Britain almost 4,000,000 tons of coal a year.

An association official, R. W. Golding, said windpower has the obvious advantages of being free and inexhaustible. Uncertainty of continuity might be overcome by installation of Diesel engines for use when winds failed to blow.

Britain's might was built on windpower which propelled her ships, Golding said, "and there is no reason why we should not use it again." Several hundred sites could be found in the country for wind-driven generators with a capacity of 2,000 kilowatts each.

The modern wind-driven generator would be a far cry from the old corn-grinding windmill. It would have 50-foot steel blades like those of an airplane propeller and would be set up on giant steel towers. Its installation cost would be twice that of a steam-driven generating plant but supervision and upkeep would be much lower.

Blow, Ye Winds

The idea of wind-driven generators has been already seriously taken up in several other countries.

Dotted throughout the United Kingdom today are hundreds of tiny windmills—some old, some comparatively news—which supply electricity for charging batteries in the countries' homes and farms. But few of them have the potential to supply energy for heating or cooking.

SERVELS
ARE BACK!
Yes, back at last and now built in Canada too. Servel—the refrigerator that is different. The only refrigerator that is truly different from all others.

The refrigerator without a motor!

Silent in operation—absolutely silent—forever—no motor!

Lasts many years longer because there are no moving parts to wear—no machinery to break down — no motor! That's why Servel offers two types, one for electric operation—uses a tiny heating element instead of machinery. One for kerosene or coal oil, where you are out of reach of hydro—a small built-in Aladdin lamp does the job. See this

Ask Secret Ballot In Laundry Vote

The application of employees of Fannings' Launderers and Dry Cleaners to become a local in the Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CCL) will be heard February 21 in Toronto.

It is understood that the Company will intervene in the application.

Forty-six workers, all but half a dozen of them women, would be affected.

The Company has insisted that a secret ballot be taken of the employees. And it claims further that the TWUA is not the appropriate collective bargaining agency to represent the employees concerned.

It does not have jurisdiction for organizational purposes among laundry workers, the Company has stated to the OLRB.

"We have a substantial majority in the plant already signed up," a union official told the Examiner.

Four Pens Stolen From City School

Prince of Wales School at Monaghan Rd. and Sherbrooke St., was broken into, but only four children's pens taken, over the week-end, it was reported to police Monday.

It is believed children were probably responsible. Several teachers' desks had been opened, but nothing of value had been left in them to be taken. The pens were taken from children's desks.

The thieves entered by climbing up on a porch on the west side of the school then working their way along a ledge to a window in which one pane beside the window latch was covered only by a square of cardboard. The break in is being investigated by Detective Sergeant John Stevenson.

Banning Of Movie Not Decided—Frost

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP)—Premier Frost of Ontario said today it has not been decided whether the Italian movie "Stromboli" will be banned in Ontario. The movie stars Ingrid Bergman, who gave birth to a baby boy in Italy February 2.

The premier has met briefly with the Ontario Censor Board in the absence of O. J. Silverthorne, chief censor.

"We'll deal with the question when the picture comes," Mr. Frost said.

WINS DOG DERBY—Wilf Lepine, Quebec City musher, was an easy winner in the 90-mile International Dog Sled race at Ottawa. With a team of five cross-bred hounds, he covered the three 30-mile daily heats in an aggregate time of eight hours, 41 minutes and 30 seconds. Lepine, who won $1,000 and the Chateau Laurier Gold Cup, is shown after the race with his lead dog, "Puce".

Police, Natives Battle In Johannesburg

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 14 — (AP)—Police and natives fought each other Monday night in the Johannesburg area. It was one of the city's worst riots in years.

About 100 natives attacked police and stoned cars and a railway station. Both sides exchanged gunfire. There was no immediate report on any casualties.

The trouble began when a flying squad of police tried to arrest a native. He resisted, and residents from the New Clare location, a native area, came to his assistance.

The police were forced to withdraw, but one of their sergeants was isolated. Three natives smuggled him into a house.

Strong police reinforcements then opened fire on the rioters and used tear gas to bring the sergeant back out safely.

Some native rioters also opened fire, and others attacked the police with a barrage of stones. The natives then stoned the railway station and a passing train.

During the riot police made several charges with their clubs to clear their way through the location.

What's Right

WRONG WAY: Say, "He isn't here" and shut the door quickly.

RIGHT WAY: Treat the child as courteously as you would an adult.

Two Other Car Thefts Charged To Davis

Two additional car theft charges were laid in police court today against Russell Davis, 19, of RR 2 Warsaw, who has already pleaded guilty to the theft of two cars and to four breakins. He also pleaded guilty to the added charges.

William John Robinson, 23, of Toronto, pleaded not guilty to six identical charges. The two other charges have not yet been laid against Robinson. Both were remanded one week.

The latest charges against Davis were of stealing a car owned by Clifton Midgely in Reach township, Ontario County, Jan. 29; and stealing the car of Leonard Blackford in Scarboro township at the east end of Toronto Jan. 12.

A week ago in police court Davis made a statement about break-ins in Buckhorn and subsequent car thefts.

Gladiolus Society Plans Centennial Show

An invitation will be extended to the 192 societies of the Ontario Horticultural Society to attend the centennial flower show to be held in Peterborough in August. George Clarke, Fred Storey, and Bud Lloyd will attend the 44th annual conference in March in Hamilton and will invite the societies on behalf of the Peterborough and District Gladiolus Society.

A flower show was held in the Armories last summer under the auspices of the local Gladiolus Society. It is planned to have a larger show this year, including flower lovers, small dealers and large florists. An official of the society said Monday the location of the show may be at the Armories as last year, but as yet was indefinite.

A FEMALE FIRST—Mrs. Nancy Hodges of Victoria, the first woman ever named speaker of a parliament in the British Commonwealth, presided at the opening of the British Columbia legislature, Feb. 14. Here she is seated in the speaker's chair in the legislative assembly. Mrs. Hodges, who also writes a newspaper column, has been a Coalition-Liberal member of the house since 1941.

Quarter Of PCVS Off With Colds Six Staff Away

A small epidemic of colds and flu has hit PCVS. Friday the first signs of it were seen and Monday it reached its peak as five teachers were off in the morning and six in the afternoon. C. S. Browne, principal, said that as many as 16 students were absent from a single class Monday.

Today the attendance picked up slightly although there was still 27 per cent or approximately 330 students still absent. Of this number 49 were pupils of the Vocational Department. One teacher returned to the staff, but another was reported sick.

The majority of the students away today, said Mr. Browne, were absent due to illness although some might have been forced to stay away because of the weather.

Whole Class Goes

Mr. Browne explained that students who find themselves with five spare classes in the morning or four spares in the afternoon are allowed to stay away from school. This morning in the absence of one vocational department teacher a whole class was allowed to go home after the second class. This particular group had three straight periods with the teacher, the last periods of the morning.

Mrs. S. J. Graham is the only person to be taken on to help the depleted staff. Most of her time is with the pupils with spare classes in the school auditorium.

St. Peter's High School reported no noticeable increase in the number of absentees this week. Last week four teachers had time off due to sickness.

Percy D. Windrim, inspector of public schools, said that the public school teaching staff situation is improving but the children's is still grim. Today eight teachers were off with colds and flu whereas last week there were 13 off.

Mr. Windrim said the worst case of the minor epidemic was in one class where 22 pupils out of 44 were absent. He estimated that 20 per cent of the pupils were away because of the flu or a cold.

Legion Women Raise $60 At Tea

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14 (ENS)—The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion No. 402 held a Valentine tea party Saturday in the waiting room. Guests were received by the president, Mrs. E C. Richards. More than $60 was raised.

Mrs. Basil Richards poured tea at a table covered with a lace cloth, centred with spring flowers and decorated with Valentine favors.

Mrs. Hugh Blair was the general convener. Mrs. David Lunn was in charge of making tea, and the cake and sandwich plates were replenished by Mrs. George Roper, Mrs. G. Freelove and Mrs Theobald.

In charge of the small tables, which were decorated with bouquets of tulips and Valentine hearts were Mrs. Allan Earle, Mrs. Kenneth Foottit, Mrs. Ken. Pinnington and Mrs. Vincent Crough

Mrs. Douglas Sanders was in charge of the miscellaneous table and Mrs. Allie Sloan and Miss Jean Smith of the home-made candy.

The home-baking table, where cakes, pies, tarts, cookies and tea biscuits were displayed, was attended by Mrs. Stanford Sloan, Mrs. Linden Sanders and Mrs. H. Roper.

Mt. Pleasant Hosts To Springville YPU

SPRINGVILLE, Feb. 14 (ENS)—The Springville - Fairmount Young People's Union was entertained on Friday evening by the Young People of the Mt. Pleasant Church at a skating party. Lunch was served in the Hall.

The Sunday evening meeting of the Y.P.U. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Seymour. The president, Hazel McIntosh, took charge of the business part of the meeting. It was arranged that Russel Gardiner and Carl Preston be captains for a membership drive.

Wilma Seymour missionary convener, arranged the remainder of the program. Eleanor Bowles, Roger Hanbidge, Wilma Seymour and Marie Hooten read letters from missionaries. Lila Seymour and her mother sang a duet. Rev. E. S. Linstead led in prayer. A song-service with Myrna Seymour at the piano, closed the meeting. The hostess and family served refreshments.

The next meeting will be on Feb. 26.

Remove Police Guard

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 14 — (Reuters)—Authorities here Monday suddenly removed a day and night police guard put over the local offices of two United States news agencies—The Associated Press and United Press—Nov. 24 by a congressional committee investigating anti-Argentine activities. The action lent support to unconfirmed reports that the committee is about to wind up its activities.

Court Cases Doubled

TORONTO, Feb. 14—(CP)—Cases in Toronto courts have more than doubled since 1945 and revenue from fines had almost tripled, Board of Control was told Monday. Mayor McCallum attributed the increase in prosecutions to the heavy increase in vehicular traffic. Revenue was up from $357,071 to $977,183.

Large-Scale Exodus

DAM BOOM—Huge quantities of rock, earth and ice were blasted high when a 12-ton dynamite explosion carved a diversion channel for the Ottawa River at the La Cave hydro project. The new route will carry the water until the great hydro dam, 40 miles east of North Bay, Ont., is completed sometime in 1952.

Labor Party Hoping Better Luck In Wales

LONDON, Feb. 14 (AP)—Britain's Labor party, which won 25 of the 36 Welsh seats at stake in the 1945 general election, hopes to do even better this time.

Morgan Phillips, party organizer, and a native of Aberdare, Wales, said in an interview he thinks Welsh support for Labor will be even stronger in the Feb. 23 election.

The Labor Government's record and policy on Welsh affairs, accorded only a passing reference in the party manifesto, is set out in a special statement published in Welsh and English.

The statement claims that in its five years of office Labor succeeded in changing "the awful sense of stagnation" that it alleges prevailed in Wales between the two world wars.

Saunders Sure U.S. To Approve Projects

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb 14—(CP) — Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, said Monday night he felt the United States would approve development of the Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers power project.

In an address before the annual meeting of the Greater Niagara Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Saunders said negotiations with Washington were proceeding satisfactorily and he felt permission would be forthcoming. Later, he said there was a possibility approval would be obtained in a few months.

"Give Ontario the Niagara and St. Lawrence developments and we will do the job of taking care of Ontario's future for many years to come," he said.

Aluminum Workers Pleased With Raise

SAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Feb. 14 (CP)—Aluminum workers expressed satisfaction Monday at the new contract signed with the Aluminum Company of Canada here giving them an hourly three-cent raise.

The contract, effective Monday will raise the workers' basic salary from 92 to 95 cents an hour and the maximum wage from $1.30 to $1.33. In addition, the contract provides three paid statutory holidays instead of two and five unpaid holidays.

More than 350 employees will receive the benefits of the new contract negotiated by the National Syndicate of the Aluminum Workers of Shawinigan.

Subsidize Arts By $1,782,500

By WILLIAM BOSS.

LONDON, Feb. 14 — (CP). — British opera, ballet and drama was subsidized last year to the extent of £575,000 ($1,782,500).

The figure, said the Arts Council of Great Britain in its annual report, was £147,000 more than the year before.

The Council is the body through which the British Government encourages the arts. It receives an annual "grant-in-aid" and spends the money where it thinks it will best be used.

Covent Garden Opera House, home for Sadler's Wells' Senior Ballet Company as well as for the Royal Opera, received the lion's share £145,000.

The Sadler's Wells Theatre, home of first-class opera sung in English and at cheap prices, as well as the Junior Ballet Group of the same name, received £40,000

Symphony orchestras to benefit by Council spending were the London Philharmonic, the City of Birmingham Orchestra, the Halle Orchestra of Manchester, and the Liverpool Philharmonic. Altogether they received £100,000.

British communities are entitled to levy a 6d tax per capita to support the arts locally, and the Council said that increased assistance from local authorities had encouraged it to step up its own assistance.

Belgian Referendum

BRUSSELS, Feb. 14—(AP)—The official Journal today published the law calling on Belgians to vote within 40 days whether they want exiled King Leopold III to return to the throne. No date has been announced for the referendum Reliable sources have predicted it will be held March 19. Leopold has declared in Switzerland that he will not return unless 55 per cent of the votes in the referendum favor his recall.

He was well known in this vicinity, having spent many summers in his cottage on Deer River He was a frequent visitor during the past few years at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barlow.

Mr. Steenburgh was born in Belmont township and while still a young man, took up residence in U.S.A. where he became a successful contractor.

Former Maud Roper And Husband Feted

MILLBROOK, Feb. 14 (ENS)—About 25 members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion No. 402 and their friends met at the home of Mrs. George Roper on Thursday for a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Roper's daughter Mrs. William Meyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were married recently in Chepston and have been visiting here on their way home from their honeymoon. They will live in Walkerton.

For the shower the rooms were decorated with pink and white streamers, with bouquets of snapdragons and daffodils and balloons filled with confetti which was later showered on the bride.

Gifts of pyrex, china, crystal linens and kitchenware were presented to the bride. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

Forest Inventory Takes 5 Years

TORONTO, Feb. 14 — (CP) — Lands Minister Scott said Monday that Ontario's forest resources inventory, which started three years ago, will take at least another five years.

The task includes taking thousands of aerial photographs to show the types and availability of trees in all of Northern Ontario.

"If expansion of woods industry is at a standstill temporarily, it is only to permit thorough stock-taking of our position so that future expansion may be on a sound business basis," Mr. Scott said in a statement.

"Ontario, with its large forest area in relation to population, is dependent on foreign markets for sale of manufactured products of the forest. We are, therefore, in the position of giving priority to local industry and markets within the province and at the same time vigorously developing foreign trade in forest production."

2nd Robbery Charge Laid Against Trio

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 14 (CP)—A second charge of armed robbery was laid Monday night against three local youths in connection with the armed raid on a loan company office here Saturday in which about $450 in cash was stolen.

The trio now is charged also with the robbery of Betty Beach of nearby Lobo from whom $30 was taken as she stood in the company office when it was looted.

Allan Brown, 19, Ronald W. Harding, 18, and Harry Peterson, 17, were arraigned on the first charge Monday and remanded without plea to Feb. 16. They were captured within half an hour of the robbery and two sawed-off .22 calibre rifles were recovered.

Hydro Easing Lighting Ban

TORONTO, Feb. 14 (CP) — A further easing of store lighting and electric sign restrictions in southern Ontario was announced Monday, effective Wednesday. The restrictions on power consumption are lifted for a further hour.

Effective Wednesday the restrictions will be lifted from 6 p. m. to 7 a.m., each week-night, and all day on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Last month it was announced the restrictions would be removed from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m.

Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, in making the announcement said the seasonal increase in hours of daylight and consequent reduction of evening peak loads enabled the further easing, but added that voluntary saving electricity by all consumers remains vitally important.

Asks Provinces For Suggestions

ST CATHARINES, Feb. 14—(CP)—Resources Minister Winters said Monday night he has written to provincial governments for suggestions on how to use the Canada Forestry Act.

The Act, passed at the last session of parliament, provides for federal participation in joint Dominion-Provincial forest conservation and utilization projects.

In an address prepared for delivery to the St. Catharines Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Winters said his experience with provincial governments during talks on housing and the Trans-Canada Highway had "been so encouraging that I have just last week ventured another step forward."

He said he had written the premier of each province "inviting his views as to how provincial governments believe the most effective use can be made of the Canada Forestry Act."

Projects under the Act include protection of forests from fire, insects and diseases; research, watershed protection, road-building in forest areas, improvement of streams and growing conditions, establishment of national forests and building forest-products laboratories for research and testing.

Trucker Burned To Death Near Napanee After Head-on Collision

Eye-Witness Says Transport Pulled Out From Behind Stationary Bus, Driver Trapped Before He Could Be Moved

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 15—(CP)—A truck driver was burned to death today when trapped in the cab of his transport after a head-on collision 22 miles east of here, near Napanee. The victim was identified as Stewart Allin, about 50, of Cornwall. He was employed by the Smith Transport Ltd. Henri Benoit, 47, driver of the other truck, owner by Kingsway Transport, was taken to Kingston General Hospital. Attendants said he suffered head injuries which are "not believed serious."

Allin's body was removed from the wreckage two hours after the crash.

His transport was loaded with 10 tons of steel being shipped from Toronto to Cornwall. The other truck also was fully loaded.

Turned Out

An eye-witness said the eastbound Smith transport pulled out behind a bus which had stopped to pick up passengers. It smashed head-on into the west-bound Kingsway truck. The Smith vehicle burst into flames, trapping the driver. Onlookers were unable to save the driver who was burned to death.

Traffic on No. 2 Highway was blocked and police estimated it would take two hours to clear. Snow started falling shortly after the crash and visibility was reported poor.

Allin was a former resident of Vankleek Hill, Ont. It was reported that, some seven years ago he was seriously burned when a transport he was driving caught fire near Hawkesbury.

Hungry Pair Guilty

LINDSAY, Feb. 15—(CP)—Unemployed, destitute and hungry, two men appeared in court here today charged with breaking, entering and theft from an Eldon Township cottage and also receiving stolen goods. David Bradley, 33, of Hamilton, pleaded guilty to the theft charge and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Edwin O'Connor, 29, of Kirkfield, who has spent five years in jail since 1938, pleaded guilty to a receiving charge and was sentenced to six months definite and six months indefinite in the reformatory.

2,000 Poles Downed During Storm

20,000 People Left Without Phones, In Western Ontario

TORONTO, Feb. 15—(CP)—The Bell Telephone Company said today more than 20,000 subscribers in Western Ontario are without phone service as a result of Tuesday's storm.

Some 2,000 telephone poles are "down or leaning" in that section of the province, a company spokesman said, and 614 circuits are out of order.

The company has 1,000 repair and maintenance men working to restore normal service. Many were sent from the Toronto area—less hard hit by the storm—to reinforce work gangs regularly stationed in the southwestern part of the province.

"We hope there will be some restoration of service in most points within two or three days," the spokesman said. "But there is not much prospect of widespread restoration. Before the end of next week—depending on the weather."

Have 23 Communities

He listed 23 communities which have no telephone link with outside points: Simcoe, Tillsonburg, Cayuga, Caledonia, Dunnville, Smithville, Hagersville, Freelton, Waterdown, Comber, Merlin, Rodney, Aylmer, Elmwood, St. Marys, Baden, Wellesley, Thorndale, Ayr, Lynden, Otterville, Norwich and Waterford.

Some of them may still have local service, he said.

In some communities which suffered complete hydro failures, the company has fallen back on auxiliary generators to maintain local service, he said.

Find Children Locked Up In Fire Trap

Say Blaze Started From Cigarette In Waste Basket

TORONTO, Feb. 15—(CP)—Twelve inmates of the Toronto Children's Detention Home fled from fire today that broke out in the 85-year-old building. District Fire Chief William Culling said the blaze started from a cigarette butt tossed into a waste paper basket beneath a wooden staircase between the first and second floors.

"The windows are barred and the building is a fire trap," he said. "The fire escape on that building is kept locked."

"I'd hate to think what would have happened if this fire had broken out at night. All those children sleeping in the attic would not have had a chance."

All Doors Locked

He said all doors in the building are kept locked and must be opened by keys carried by several officials in the building.

Police Inspector William Cool said the children were "obviously not under supervision" when the blaze broke out since someone had been left alone long enough to smoke. He said the children are supposed to be under constant supervision.

The fire broke out in a free period after breakfast before the children were detailed to play and work rooms.

A report by W. J. Soctt, Ontario Fire Marshal, to the Toronto Board of Control, said all doors were kept locked to prevent escapes and only one watchman had a key.

Canada Earns $261 Million In Foreign Trade

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Canada, one of the world's leading traders, earned $261,300,000 in foreign trade last year. Total imports were $2,761,200,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported on Tuesday. The value of Canadian goods exported was $2,993,000,000 and, in addition imported foreign goods worth $29,500,000 were re-exported bringing total exports to $3,022.500,000.

The surplus balance compared with $473,100,000 in 1948 and the record surplus of $1,724,200,000 in 1947. It was nearly $40,000,000 higher than the 1935-39 average.

On trade with Canada's biggest customer, the United States. there was a deficit of $427,800,000 compared with $283,600,000 in 1948.

The increase in the deficit with the U. S. accounted for nearly two-thirds of the drop in the overall surplus, the bureau said. The U. S. deficit was, however, less than half the record deficit of $918,100,000 in 1947, the year Canada imposed emergency import controls which have been gradually eased since then.

Highest In History

Imports during the year were the highest in history. They compared with $2,636,900,000 in 1948 and were nearly four times larger than the 1935-39 average.

Bomber Crashes 8 Men Killed

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 15 (AP)—Eight men were killed and seven escaped when a United States Air Force B-29 bomber crashed today shortly after taking off from the air force base here about 8:30 a.m.

The big four-engine plane, which had been searching for a missing B-36 in Queen Charlotte Sound, plummeted to the prairie about three miles southwest of the local base from a low altitude. It burned shortly after it hit one side of a highway.

The plane was taking off from the Great Falls field to resume search for the missing bomber reported missing Tuesday.

NameAnti-Communist Finland's President

HELSINKI, Finland, Feb. 15—(CP) — Anti-communist Juho Paasikivi today was named president of Finland for a second six-year term. The college of 300 electors met this afternoon giving Paasikivi a majority vote of 171.

The 79-year-old statesman was chosen over communist candidate Mauno Pekkala who received 67 electoral votes. The agrarian candidate, Dr. Urho Kekkonen, received 62 votes.

The electors were chosen in the popular vote of a month ago. Passikivi had the support of the electors chosen by the Conservatives, the Progressives and the Swedish People's party, who mustered, together, 107 electoral votes. In addition, the Social Democrats, who had won 64 electors, had decided to throw their strength to him.

Passikivi thus was chosen on the first ballot. He will be inaugurated March 1 for his second term.

The presidential campaign was a bitterly fought one, marked by furious attacks on Passikivi by the Communists. The press of Finland's giant neighbor, Russia, joined in these attacks.

Soviet, RedChina Have Signed 30-Year Treaty

MOSCOW, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Soviet Union and Red China Tuesday night signed sweeping treaties which ally the world's two largest Communist countries in peace or possible war for the next 30 years.

The treaties, signed in the Kremlin after nearly two months of intensive negotiations, were said to be aimed at developing and strengthening the economic and cultural ties of the two countries, and preventing the rebirth of Japanese aggression.

Russia agreed to lend Communist China $300,000,000 during the next five years and give up railroad and navigation rights in Manchuria by 1952.

(In London and Washington, diplomatic authorities speculated that the treaty may have secret clauses, since the published agreements were silent on reported Red Chinese desires for planes and ships to send against Nationalist-held Formosa).

Negotiations had been carried on by Prime Minister Stalin and Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky for the Soviet Union, and Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung and Premier and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai for China. Vishinsky and Chou signed the documents.

"Great Contribution"

Chou said "only the Imperialists and war-mongers will assume an attitutde of hate towards this treaty and the agreements."

Vishinsky characterized the agreements as the "greatest contribution to the cause of strengthening peace and democracy in the whole world."

By their treaty, Russia and Red China pledge themselves to act jointly to prevent any violation of the peace by "Japan or any other state which directly or indirectly would unite with Japan in acts of aggression."

The reference to "any other state" is interpreted as apparently meaning the United States. Soviet newspapers and broadcasts have accused the United States of following a policy in Japan to further what they describe as aggressive American designs.

Coal Officials Begin Talks

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP)—John L. Lewis and United States soft-coal operators sit down in court-directed peace talks with federal government mediators standing by.

An explosive air hung over the bargaining—with a full-fledged strike still in progress in the U.S. coal fields. A close-to-home development was the start of an informal coal rationing system in the District of Columbia.

Government officials watched the bargaining sessions closely. If the talks fail and the strike continues much longer, the justice department may go into court with contempt proceedings against the union.

Thousands Homeless In Louisiana Area

CHICAGO, Feb. 15 — (AP).—Floods and storms dealt destructive blows across wide areas of the United States today. The mid-February snow and ice storms were blamed for at least 16 deaths. Property damage mounted into the millions of dollars.

Thousands were made homeless as rising rivers spilled into lowland homes in Louisiana and Missouri. Other thousands were threatened with evacuation in Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee as new floods menaced the area which fought floodwaters only a few weeks ago.

Many communities remained isolated from outside telephone communication. Trees, telephone and power lines snapepd under the weight of the heavy snow and sleet. The snow carpet over some Mid-west US areas measured more than 20 inches.

Kelley Improving

HAMILTON, Feb. 15—(CP)—Health Minister Kelley, who was been brought from Toronto to St. Joseph's Hospital here, is said to be in "somewhat improved" condition today. The 72-year-old minister, member of the legislature for Hamilton-Wentworth, suffered a stroke in Toronto five weeks ago.

Hold Little Hope Of Finding Plane Survivors

SEATTLE, Feb. 15 (AP)—Upwards of two dozen planes from Canada and the United States today awaited a break in the weather to resume search for a gigantic American B-36 bomber which may have crashed to its doom in the icy, wind-whipped waters of Queen Charlotte Sound just before midnight Monday.

SEATTLE (CP)—an ominous oil slick was sighted in the hunt for the missing bomber. It was sighted from the air in Queen Charlotte Sound.

No word has been heard from the 163-ton U.S. Air Force heavyweight since the last of three messages reported at 11:40 p.m. (2:40 a.m. EST) Monday night: "Going to let down...."

Searching airmen and surface craft Tuesday and Tuesday night found no trace of the wreckage in the area, some 460 miles northwest of here. Nor were any distress signals picked up from the crank-style "Gibson Girl" radio which is a part of the bomber's emergency crash equipment.

A sombre note on whether the big plane could survive "ditching" in the wind-driven waves of Queen Charlotte Sound came from RCAF headquarters in Vancouver.

Hold Scant Hope

They said they held scant hope that the six-engine plane could remain afloat long in the gale-swept, icy strait, and survival of the 17 aboard would depend on whether they launched their life rafts in time.

The RCAF said it planned to send nine planes into the search during the forenoon, when the near zero-zero visibility in the area is expected to lift somewhat. A dozen B-29s were ready to take off from Spokane, Wash., and Great Falls, Mont.

Commons To Study Jobless Situation

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP).—The unemployment situation in Canada will be reviewed in the House of Commons, Controller David Balfour told the Board of Control today.

"The Prime Minister is very much concerned about this, to such an extent that he is bringing it up before the House of Commons," he said.

A letter from Mr. St. Laurent in reply to one sent by Mr. Balfour concerning unemployed workers said in part:

"Anything the Prime Minister is prepared to do to meet the wishes of the officials of one municipality, he should also be prepared to do for any other municipality making a similar request."

Report Truman Losing Faith In Russ Promises

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—(AP)—President Truman is reported today by the New York Times as saying he has lost faith in Russian promises but still is hopeful about the future. The President's views are outlined in an interview by Arthur Krock, Times Washington correspondent. Krock says the President told him:

He no longer has any hope that the Soviet union will keep any agreements with the United States which it now would be good policy to seek.

When the Russians blocked east-west trade, he began to lose hope that the good peace prospects apparent at the founding of the United Nations would survive.

The last vestige of hope vanished when he learned that the Russians were hiding from their people the facts about the war assistance the US had given them.

The real trouble with the Russians is that they are still suffering from a complex fear and inferiority where the US is concerned, Truman is quoted as saying.

Truman is reliably informed that the Russians have 16,000,000 people in concentration camps, Krock reports, adding that this is the way of the police state, which the President finds utterly abhorrent.

Doucett Gives Clue To Route

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—The Trans-Canada Highway will likely follow Highway 17 from the Manitoba border to the head of the lakes, Highways Minister Doucett said today.

He told a delegation from the Lakehead and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., that no decision has been made on the remaining section of the highway. The delegation visited the minister today to urge him to have the highway follow a route along the north shore of Lake Superior.

The Ontario government had given careful consideration to 16 possible routes through Ontario, Mr. Doucett said. Some of these roads did not meet with the approval of the federal government.

The route could be made about 50 miles shorter by by-passing Port Arthur and Fort William, he said, but this was not contemplated.

"From the Manitoba border to the Lakehead the route will likely follow Number 17 pretty nearly 100 per cent," he said.

He told the delegation a decision would be made on Ontario's section of the highway "in the near future."

Appoint W. H. Hobbs CNR Vice-President

MONTREAL, Feb. 15—(CP)—Appointment of W. H. Hobbs, secretary of Canadian National Railways, as vice-president, personnel, was announced today.

The announcement by Donald Gordon, chairman and president of the company, said the new post will carry out the management's policy of modernizing the planning activities of the personnel department. The Canadian National has more than 100,000 men and women on its payrolls.

R. C. Johnston, assistant vice-president, personnel, will continue to conduct the labor relations of the railway with the unions and brotherhoods.

Badly Beaten, Found In Snow

NORTHBROOK, Feb. 15—(CP)—Provincial police said today they are holding Franklin Douglas, 22, of London, Ont., on a charge of drunkenness in connection with the severe beatig of a 50-year-old Northbrook farmer.

The victim, Abel Vanness, was found late Tuesday in a foot of snow on a road half a mile from this village. He had suffered head cuts, his wrist was slashed and one leg was frozen. A boot had been torn from his foot and his clothing ripped.

Provincial Police Constable Gordon Stout said the man's cries were heard by two girls who came to the village for aid. Stout said he arrested Douglas and James Wood, 21, of Tamworth, in a car further up the road. Wood later was released.

Stout said a knife was found in the car. Douglas was taken to jail at Napanee.

Vanness and the pair were employed here a Stawyer Stoll Lumber Company. Police said they had gone on a spree yesterday.

Vanness was taken to Belleville General Hospital where his condition was not thought critical.

Guns, Military Guard At Legislature Opening

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — Booming guns and a military guard of honor will mark tomorrow's opening of the second session of the 23rd Ontario Legislature by Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson.

A military escort of the Canadian Provost Corps will bring the Lieutenant-Governor to the Legislative buildings in Queen's Park.

He will be met by a guard of honor of the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada. The 29th Field Regiment, Royal Canadian Artillery will fire a 15-gun salute and the Queen's Own band will play the Royal salute—six bars of "God Save the King."

The Lieutenant-Governor will be met by Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Slemon, air officer commanding the training command at Trenton, Col. M. L. Brennan, acting for the general officer commanding central command, and Capt. F. R. Base, senior naval officer.

Army Hits Oil In Arctic Bulldozer Wrecks Pipeline

WHITEHORSE, Y. T., Feb. 15 (CP)—The aerial show of exercise sweetbriar got under way late Tuesday after being grounded by weather since the exercise was launched in this northern world of mountains, trees and snow.

Four American jet fighters went down the tall and jagged valley where the Alaska Highway runs to pounce on an "enemy" convoy of some 25 or 30 vehicles, and, they claimed, destroyed half of them. But the umpires later slashed their claims to two vehicles.

The pilots of four Canadian Mustang fighters streaked up the valley with their rockets, ready to complete the route and came home disgruntled. Through mistake or misunderstanding they weren't allowed by the air liaison team to attack with advance elements of Canadian infantry fully engaged more than 200 miles northwest of here.

They had hardly turned back when twin American Mustangs struck at the Canadian infantry on the Donjek River causeway and inflicted an estimated 32 per cent casualties and loss of 10 vehicles. The enemy's losses for the day were estimated at only five per cent.

For the army, too, it was a big day. The land war really began. Patrols of American troops posing as an enemy from Alaska were encountered around the Donjek River and the skirmishing began.

But the big news came when an army bulldozer struck oil. It was clearing out a roadway for a supply dump at Burwash Landing, an airstrip 175 miles from here, when it crushed into the canol pipeline that sends 45,000 gallons of oil and gas a day from Skagway to Fairbanks, Alaska. An estimated 10,000 gallons of oil flowed out of a 10-foot slash in the war-built pipeline before the gap was plugged.

People Now Living Longer Boosting Canada's Economy

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP).—Canada's growing population and the fact that people now live longer were pointed to today as hopeful signs in Canada's economic future by James A. Roberts of Hamilton, president of the Canadian Exporters Association.

Another hopeful sign Indications of easement in United States tariffs.

Said Mr. Roberts, in an address to an exporters' luncheon meeting

"Since 1940 our population has grown by nearly 3,000,000.

"We tend to forget not only the increased buying power of the individual but the increase in life expectancy, even within our time.

"A boy born in 1850 could expect to live to the ripe old age of 38.3 years. Today, life expectancy is about 66 years and it is anticipated that by 1960 it will be 68.2 years.

"Our people are living more than 25 years longer than their grandfathers' — think what that extra 25 years of buying means as a huge addtiion to the richness of our domestic market.

"Consider also stabilized wages for labor, extension of profit sharing and pension developments, baby bonuses and other forms of social security.

"These factors alone would tend to point to developing markets in Canada, even if, one's imagination were not stirred by the distant thunder of the rising development of the natural resources, hitherto undreamed of which give promise of freeing us forever from the thralldom of the United States dollar and which may well be the economic salvation of Canada's national sovereignty."

Veteran City Editor Dies In Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Feb. 15 (CP)—E. A. (Eddie) Armstrong, 46, city editor of The Winnipeg Free Press and long associated with athletics in an executive capacity, died early today at his home.

His death came a few hours after attending Manitoba Curling Association matches at the Amphitheatre. Armstrong, born at Weymouth, N.S., had been a member of the Free Press staff for 23 years.

He was city editor of the Free Press from 1944 and sports editor from 1939 to 1944. President of Winnipeg Blue Bomber Football Club last season and secretary of the Manitoba Amateur Hockey Association, he was a member of the Manitoba Boxing and Wrestling Commission. Winnipeg Amateur Athletic Association, and the Manitoba Track and Field Association. He also was an ardent curler.

Federation Officer Wants Chance To Discuss Plans Going To Commons

Up To Canadian Farmers To Shoulder Greater Share of Responsibility

Stewart Advice To Peterborough Branch

Effectual means of marketing their products is the primary need of Canadian farmers, Mr. R. A. Stewart of Almonte, vice-president of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, said at the annual dinner meeting Tuesday of its Peterborough county branch. Enabling government legislation for the establishment of marketing boards has been promised by the federal government, and farm leaders are asking the Hon. Jas. G. Gardiner for an opportunity of discussing the proposed terms before they are presented to the House of Commons.

"Our farmers have enjoyed a considerable degree of stability during and since the war, with adequate export markets and the support which contract prices gave our industry," Mr. Stewart said. Farm organization and government are agreed on the advisability of continuing this principle.

The government is not inclined to enter the selling of farm produce on the domestic market, and, we think, rightly so. It appears that farmers will have to take more responsibility for the marketing of their produce, assume some of the attaching risks, and also undertake more planning for the balancing of their production to their needs. If ever we needed an example of the inadequacy of present marketing machinery, the recent fiasco was it."

Organizing Machinery

The Federation has set its energy toward the organizing of suitable marketing machinery, Mr. Stewart said, and hoped to obtain legislative support for the handling of major agricultural products.

"We recognize that even with this, some government aid may be necessary. The government has agreed, and we have assurance of a permanent price support program.

"There will be opposition to these marketing boards. Some of it may come from among our farmers. If opposition was encountered, farmers generally should be prepared to give moral and financial co-operation to organize the agency their best interests required."

In principle there was already substantial agreement with the government, Mr. Stewart said, but as yet the extent of government support had not been reached.

"With the promise of legislation for marketing boards, the Federation has requested that we be consulted before the legislation goes to the House. It would be better if we could have a look at it beforehand than wait for the introduction of something that might not suit us. We think that will be done."

Mr. Stewart reminded his audience that they had many examples of successful marketing of farm products throughout Canada, and with that experience and background they should look forward with confidence to the prospect of expanding their function of marketing.

Operate Efficiently

Many co-operative groups were operating efficiently, Mr. Stewart said. He mentioned in particular the British Columbia tree fruits group and the Fraser Valley milk producers with the bulk of the business in the Vancouver area. Incidentally, the Fraser Valley enterprise cashed in on butter to such an extent that, when other distributors were asking for a higher price of milk, they said they did not want it. Their objective was for increased consumption of their products.

The average farmer who depends on his farm work for his standard of living asks for only two things, Mr. Stewart summarized. One was the opportunity to produce, and for efficiency, he must be able to produce abundantly. The other essential requirement was that when he had produced "he will not be slaughtered in the market place."

It was lamentable, Mr. Stewart said, that so far no satisfactory way had been found to distribute food from surplus producing countries to those in need. Development of the International wheat agreement was at least a hopeful promise for the future.

Must Curtail Production

"Apparently it will be necessary for Canadian farmers to curtail production in some lines. This is not because of lack of potential demand, or that there is no one needing food. It is because the world lacks an effective means of distribution."

This was unfortunate because the expert farmer was not able to produce efficiently if he was restricted to less than his ability in production."

"There must some more orderly way to balance production to markets than by the drastic measures we saw recently in the egg situation."

"The people who raised more hens last year in spite of warnings spoiled the market for themselves and everybody else. Those who have drastically reduced their flocks now, are the ones who are correcting this problem. It is not only the inefficient who have gone out of the business. Many of our best producers realized that it was the quickest way to get back onto a satisfactory basis under the present methods of marketing.

Didn't Need Drastic Cut

"Actually there was no need of drastic reductions if we had a better way of marketing so that producers would have some say about the sale of their produce. There must be some way of sharing an orderly reduction of output when it appears to be necessary."

Mr. Stewart said there would usually be practical opportunities of change in production. He mentioned the great demand for small seeds at present. It was accentuated by demand from the United States where a federal soil conservation program was planning to plant up to 23 million acres in clover and grasses "to rebuild soil for future production".

The average farmer preferred stable marketing conditions. He did not like what might be called the economy of scarcity, such as the probability that as a result of depleted flocks this winter the retail price of eggs might soar to 70 or 80 cents a dozen by late summer and fall.

Mr. Stewart quoted the statement of Louis Bromfield in his Toronto address that "every depression in the United States since the Civil War began by farmers not being able to buy."

In the last year the buying power of the Canadian farmer had declined 7% to the end of December. Since then it had dropped lower. In the same 12-month period the purchasing power of the consumer had increased 5% or more. It was that disparity which impressed farmers as being obviously unfair and disturbing to the national economy. And, in asking for the consideration as producers which their industry had the right to expect, they were not proposing support of peak prices. Their demand was for reasonable conditions that would enable them to continue in production on the basis of a fair return for their work and investment.

Want Their Share

Mr. Stewart quoted from the book "Road to Survival" by William Vogt, that marks of the American standard of living were the automobile, bathroom and radio. Farmers felt they were entitled to them with the other groups of society.

"Behind every farmer's chair at the dinner table," Vogt wrote, "stands a shadowy host of other families to which he is convergiveness within the lifetime of the nation."

Mr. Stewart was introduced to the meeting by Reeve James Gifford of Ennismore, and appreciation of his visit and address was expressed by Mrs. W. G. Barrie. Dinner chairman was W. W. Dawson, president of the Federation.

CIO Committee Asks Mine Union Expelled

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (AP) —A CIO committee recommended today to the union's executive board that the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union be expelled for adhering to Communist Party doctrines.

The committee was the first to report on investigations of four unions accused of following the Communist Party program rather than CIO policy. All four faced almost certain ouster. Together they have less than 200,000 members.

Biggest of the four is the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers with slightly more than 100,000 members.

The committee reported to the CIO's 50-member, policy-making executive board. It said it had found testimony "demonstrating conclusively" that top policy of the union was dictated by Communist leaders.

The CIO committee said it had received testimony that a steering committee from the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers met frequently with such Communist Party leaders as William Z. Foster, chairman, and Eugene Dennis, the general secretary.

There was a regular envoy from the Communist Party who was designated as liaison man between the union and the party, the committee reported.

The executive board was expected to act immediately on the committee's report and then take up the recommendations of similar committees on the charges against the United Office and Professional Workers; United Public Workers; and the Food, Tobacco and Agricultural Workers.

Canada Gets

The exports were down from the 1948 record total of $3,075,400,000 and compared with the 1935 average of $884,500,000. In addition, imported foreign goods worth $29,500,000 were re-exported, further increasing the total exports.

Late in the year, there were indications that Canada may be winning its struggle to remove the adverse balance with the US.

Each of the first 10 months of the year resulted in deficits. But in November, there was a surplus of $10,900,000, followed by a surplus of $10,700,000 in December.

Canada had a surplus of $401,800,000 with Britain, more than $11,000,000 higher than in 1948. Imports from Britain were $307,400,000, the highest in history, and exports were $705,000,000, about $18,000,000 higher than in 1948.

Exports to the U. S. were $1,503,500,000, a record total and $2,500,000 higher than in 1948. Imports were $1,951,900,000, about $146,000,000 higher than in 1948.

The decline in the export total to all countries was attributed to lower exports to dollar-short European countries.

Report Prices Steady On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — Prices steadied from early declines as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Many declines were completely recovered and some gains were scattered among key issues.

Volume for the first three hours was 412,000 shares.

In industrial papers, utilities, steels and textiles were balanced. Foods attracted considerable attention for some strong gains while liquors slumped. Simpson's Ltd., A and B stock broke out of the rut for losses of more than a point.

A handful of leading junior golds tended slightly lower. Individual issues were brisk traders for gains. MacLeod Cockshutt, with property in the Little Long Lac district, Northwestern Ontario, spurted ahead for a gain of seven cents at $2.62.

Base metals couldn't quite make the recovery grade Consolidated Smelters sagged to a new low at 96⅝ and Noranda weakened from an early advance.

Western oils pushed into the plus column for the first time in six sessions.

Big Show Opens Tomorrow In Parliament

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Sometimes dull, often lively but always unpredictable—Canada's biggest annual political show will hold its 1950 premiere tomorrow.

Officially it will be called the second session of the 21st Parliament.

The Commons now has 260 members—189 Liberals, 40 Progressive Conservatives, 13 CCF, 10 Social Credit, five Independents, three Independent Liberals and two vacancies.

But it will be a comparative handful who will play the leading roles in the battle of political wits.

Piloting the government program will be Prime Minister St. Laurent, 68, precise, self-assured, forceful in debate but carefully avoiding political pyrotechnics.

Ready With Criticism

Directly across the green-carpeted Commons chamber will be George Drew, 55-year-old Progressive Conservative leader. His loud, clear voice will ring regularly with a note of impatient indignation as he attacks and criticizes the government.

Further down in the front row of the opposition side will be M. J. Coldwell, 61-year-old CCF leader, whose sincerity in arguing for the cause of Socialism is admitted by members of all parties.

A few desks away will be Solon Low, youngest of the Commons party leaders. The 50-year-old Social Credit head will espouse his party's doctrines in a calm, business-like debating manner.

Flanking Mr. St. Laurent will be such leading Liberals as Agriculture Minister Gardiner, always ready for a free-swinging political fight; Justice Minister Garson, master of painstaking legal argument; External Affairs Minister Pearson, probably the least criticized of the front row cabinet ministers, and Defence Minister Claxton.

Absent for the first two weeks of the session will be Trade Minister Howe, plain-talking, grass-roots business type of the cabinet. He is in Europe at present.

Make 100 Houses Available For Vets

STRATFORD, Feb. 15 (CP) — Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation has offered to make the 100 houses built here in 1946-47 available for purchase by ex-servicemen provided the city will accept a fee of $200 per lot, city council was informed Tuesday night.

W. W. Scott, corporation official, explained that the original agreement provided they could be sold at any time. If the sale took place during the first five years, the city would receive $400 for each lot while if the sale was in the second five years the figure would be $200.

The corporation now is asking that the city accept the $200 fee in lieu of the larger amount. The council delayed decision.

Finds Margarine Not Such Blow

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — Agriculture Minister Kennedy said today that margarine sales last year did not affect Ontario's dairy industry as severely as first anticipated.

More than 24,000,000 pounds of margarine were sold in Ontario last year, the first complete year since its return to the market, but butter sales did not fall to the same exent.

Mr. Kennedy said there were 7,495,000 pounds of butter in Toronto storage. He said this compared with 2,462,000 pounds for this time last year but was "nothing unusual."

Last year, he said, some 15,000,000 pounds were imported from Denmark and New Zealand to meet demands. There are usually about 6,000,000 or 7,000,000 pounds in storage this time of the year.

They also agreed that Soviet troops will be withdrawn from Port Arthur, a Manchurian city, upon the conclusion of the peace treaty with Japan or not later than the end of 1952. It was stated that administration of the Manchurian city of Dairen "belongs entirely to China."

In addition to the main agreements, auxiliary notes were exchanged at the same time between the two countries. These provided:

1. Confirmation of Chinese recognition of the independence and sovereignty of the Mongolian People's Republic (outer Mongolia).

2. That the Soviet Union will return to China without cost all property acquired by Soviet organizations from Japanese property in Manchuria.

Indian Riots Blamed On Reds

NEW DELHI, Feb. 15.— (CP).—The wave of riots and disorders in India during the last week was caused by Communism as well as old Moslem-Hindu hatred.

Dozens have been killed and hundreds arrested in the disturbances in East and West Bengal, the Punjab, Madras, and Bombay Province.

Home Secretary H. V. R. Iengar said Tuesday that a chain reaction of Hindu-Moslem troubles started in Pakistan's East Bengal in the east, spread to India's West Bengal and back again. It also had repercussions in Assam.

Parliament Monday authorized the government to expel 500,000 Moslems from Assam as well as many Chinese and Burmese who have migrated to the exposed border state since the partition of India 30 months ago.

In Karachi, Prime Minister Liaquat Ali Khan charged that most sanguinary riots in India had driven thousands of Moslems from their homes and started a large-scale exodus to East Bengal in Moslem Pakistan.

Severe Storm About Over For Ontario

Power Wires Down In Western Areas, 10 Inches of Snow

By The Canadian Press

Relief was promised today for southern and western Ontario, cleaning up after the big blizzard and rainstorms that caused four deaths, disrupted power and communication wires in some areas and interrupted road, rail and air traffic.

After a fall of snow and freezing rain that reached 10 inches in some areas, drifted deep by high winds, rain or occasional snowflurries were forecast for today but little change in the moderate temperatures was expected.

The original storm, an offshoot of a big Texas twister, was moving northeast and was due in northwestern Quebec early today after hitting Ottawa late Tuesday.

Previously the whole north shore of Lake Erie from Windsor to Welland, up into Hamilton and Toronto, bore the brunt of the storm whose effects were felt farther north. In Northern Ontario generally however clear, cold weather prevailed.

Power Complications

Many Western Ontario communities were plagued by power and communications failures Tuesday, including black-outs at London, St. Thomas and Sarnia, Hamilton and Brantford. Hamilton schools were closed Tuesday and at London hundreds of homes were without lights Tuesday night.

Telegraph service was interrupted to Sarnia, St. Thomas, Stratford, Kitchener, Guelph, Galt and Brantford.

Death of four elderly men was attributed to the storm conditions. Joseph McLean, 84, and Alexander Crawford, 78, died at Toronto after shovelling snow. Hedley Bushey, 72, died at Toronto after trudging through heavy drifts and Sydney Howard, 63, died at Hamilton after reaching his home on foot through drifts.

Official opening of the new community centre at Hensall was postponed Tuesday night on account of the dangerous condition of roads around the Huron county community, 25 miles west of Stratford.

Oil lamps and battery-lamps were used when doctors vaccinated a number of students at the Beal Technical School in London, a chartered bus carrying 40 passengers was marooned for 12 hours near Kitchener and factories at Listowel closed down for five hours because of power failure.

In Oxford county thousands of cows were milked by hand as extensive rural power failure silenced the electric milking machines. The Alexandria Hospital staff at Ingersoll worked by candle-light, but had no emergency cases.

Highways were being brought to normal today by full crews of Provincial Highway Department workers and municipal street staffs but the highways department warned that travel in Eastern Ontario is dangerous.

About 1,000 London households passed the night without hydro-electric service, as the district's worst sleet storm in 27 years swept eastward. Hardest hit from a heating standpoint were the homes with coal stokers and oil burners depending on motors for operation.

Officials expected all domestic service to be restored today.

An estimated 20,000 of London's 26,000 homes had power disruptions Tuesday, ranging from a few minutes to several hours. For the majority, interruptions lasted less than an hour.

TWISTER DID IT — Army cooks at Slack Air Depot, Shreveport, La., move their personal belongings out of the wreckage of the combination mess hall-barracks hit by a savage tornado. Three men were killed in the mess hall when the twister struck. In all 41 persons were killed and hundreds injured in a series of tornadoes in the south and southwest.

Thirty Attend WI Meeting

TRENT RIVER, Feb. 15 — (ENS) — Thirty members and visitors attended the February meeting of the Women's Institute at the home of Mrs. Douglas Dart. Mrs. Earl Greenly, president, was in the chair.

Mrs. Francis Ruttan and Mrs. Robert Morrison handed in their $2 in the $2 a member drive. Mrs. Ruttan held a bridge party to raise her money and Mrs. Morrison sold recipes.

Mrs. Bill Waters was appointed home economics convener.

A letter of greetings was read by the secretary from the district president, Mrs. H. Shearer of Halls Glen. A card of thanks was received from Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vass, Peterborough, for a gift of silver which was presented to them as a wedding gift.

A card of appreciation was received from Mrs. George Brownsell for fruit received during her recent illness.

Pack Clothing Bale

A bale of good used warm clothing and footwear is to be packed for the appeal from the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada.

Mrs. Thomas Brown, Mrs. Tom Wight, Mrs. G. McLaughlin, Mrs. R. Morrison, Mrs. Frank Openshaw and Mrs. Harry Mann were the committee named to look after the assembling of the pieced quilt which is to be ready for competition at the district annual meeting in the summer.

Mrs. Francis Ruttan and Mrs. Eric Little presented papers on the standing committee's community activities and publicity.

Mrs. James Cook gave a detailed demonstration on the moulding of jellies.

Presents Program

Mrs. Earl Greenly, program convener presented the program. Mickey Hughes won the Valentine birthday prize. Mrs. W. G. McLaughlin won the lucky Valentine prize and Mrs. Frank Openshaw was the winner of the "Heart" contest.

Mrs. Bert Robson sang with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Douglas Dart.

The hostess served lunch assisted by Mrs. Thomas Brown, Mrs. Joseph Tedford, Mrs. Francis Ruttan and Mrs. James Cook.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thomas Wight.

No Concert Work

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—Dr. Robert Graham, 24-year-old doctor-violinist, said Tuesday he intends to take time out from his professional music career until mid-1951. He becomes resident senior physician at Wellesley Hospital here in July. Until that appointment ends, in June, 1951, there probably will be no concert engagements, he said in an interview.

Acheson May Resign

BANGKOK, Thailand, Feb. 15 — (Reuters) — State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States is likely to resign within six or eight weeks, a source close to American diplomats meeting here said today. The source said that Dr. Philip Jessup, President Truman's roving ambassador, is expected to succeed Acheson.

United Counties Location For 1953 Plowing Match

The 1953 International Plowing Match will be held in the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham, the Ontario Plowing Association has announced This decision followed a request from Northumberland and Durham Plowing Association, which will celebrate its hundredth anniversary that year.

Leonard Henderson of Millbrook, president of the United Counties Association, received word of the decision at the weekend.

The first plowing match in Durham was held west of Canton in 1853 and the Northumberland and Durham Association is one of the three oldest Associations.

Exact location of the match has not yet been decided. Among the places suggested are an area near Plainville, another on the Lakeshore Rd. and yet another west of Welcome. It was thought the selection should be as near the front as possible, perhaps in Hope or Hamilton townships.

Rules for the international match outlined by the secretary, John Rickard, stipulate that suitable land must be obtained, approximately 70 acres in all, including 350 acres of plow land and additional areas for practising. This must be in a solid block, conveniently located and of easy access. Parking facilities accommodation, water and other conveniences must be planned.

A cash payment of $2,00 must be paid to the provincial organization and a free banquet provided for 1,000 people, contestants and officials.

Eighteen committees would be necessary to handle the arrangements, all under one chairman for the whole organization. These would have to look after such things as horses, tractors, billeting both of officials and the general public, parking, publicity, sanitation and so forth. One estimate placed the number of people likely to attend in the neighborhood of 90,000.

Poor Equipment Hinders Firemen

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 15. — (CP).—Lack of most up-to-date oxygen mask equipment prevented St. Catharines firemen from penetrating to the location of the blaze during the early stages of a fire last Dec. 24, it was indicated Tuesday in testimony given at an inquiry by the deputy fire marshal.

Witnesses from the St. Catharines fire department said that they were unable to reach the immediate scene of the fire because they could not breathe in the old type of respirators and the range of the fresh air masks, which were alternative equipment, was limited by the 75-foot hose on them.

The testimony of the firemen who fought the blaze, however, indicated that much of the trouble they experienced was due to the fact that there were insufficient men on hand at first to man the fire fighting equipment available and bring it into play quickly. There were only 13 on duty on the day shift that morning. Only seven men, including Chief Burch's driver, were sent on the first alarm. These men manned two pumpers and an aerial ladder truck.

Neglect Of Ontario's Parliament

The parliament of the Province of Ontario assembles tomorrow. It will be the first session of the Legislative Assembly since Mr. Frost became premier in the first week of May last year. In a country devoted to parliamentary democracy and a Province which has long been a chief exponent of "Provincial Rights", it is odd that a ministry which has been in power in Ontario for more than nine months—three quarters of the year—should only now be facing its first parliamentary session. Only after nine months of governing, months in which important executive action has been taken and millions of dollars spent, is the Frost Ministry being called to the floor of the provincial parliament to give an accounting of itself to the Members of the Legislative Assembly who were elected by the people of this province to legislate for them.

* * *

We do not suggest that Premier Frost has deliberately evaded calling the provincial parliament together. He is following established custom. The Ontario House now ordinarily meets in late winter, runs through some of the work facing it in time to be prorogued by Easter, and does not assemble again until the following year. Other provinces have similar short sessions, and government by executive and departmental direction. If "Provincial Rights" mean anything, are they adequately safeguarded by parliament which meets only six weeks in the year? Is the voice of the Cabinet during the other 46 weeks the sufficient and authentic voice of the people of the Province? The shortness of the Legislature's sessions seems to indicate either an oligarchical trend, or the unimportance—uselessness would be too strong a term—of provincial parliaments.

* * *

Ontario, which includes a third of the people of Canada, is nearly ten times the size of England, its population is larger than Norway's, it has an annual budget of tens of millions of dollars, its enterprises and economic importance are greater than all of Canada's two generations ago. Should such a province be legislated for by a parliament which meets during only six weeks? Can its affairs be properly scrutinized and met in so short a time? The increasing tendency to delegate provincial government to cabinet ministers and their departments is dangerous to political democracy. The Legislative Assembly should not be considered an awkward, ineffective instrument, a body whose meetings disturb the ways of executive rule. The members of the Assembly should not be thought incapable of coping with intricate provincial affairs.

* * *

The present short sessions of the provincial parliament do not, apparently, allow time for even the scrutiny of accounts. Parliamentary committees appointed at the beginning of sessions are known never to have met. Affairs of consequence to the people and the legislators come up in the House in a summary fashion as matters already approved and set into motion by the Cabinet. Many issues of great moment get only a one-day airing in the provincial parliament. The members of the Assembly may themselves feel that their voices and careful study are not individually necessary; or they may be discouraged by the method of governing by order-in-council. But these members are elected by the people as their voices. They should not be mere swallowers of prepared legislation. They have a right and a duty to consider thoroughly in the Assembly, whatever concerns the people. They must not delegate their authority to an executive council. The sessions of the Assembly should be long enough to assert the supremacy of the provincial parliament, not only in the initiation of legislation but also through a careful examination of provincial affairs, and the cabinet's direction of them

Premier Frost Takes The Right Line On "Stromboli"

Premier Frost has announced that the decision as to whether the moving picture Stromboli will be shown in Ontario will be made when the picture has been released by its studio and appears before the Ontario Censorship Board for consideration in the ordinary way. Some attempts have been made to persuade the Premier and the Censorship Board to ban the film without seeing it.

The film is the one in which Ingrid Bergman appears under the direction of Roberto Rossellini, whose child she bore on February 2. It is asserted that the publicity of the film makes distasteful capital of this aspect of the matter. But as neither the publicity nor the film have yet been seen no considered judgement is possible.

The film has been banned in some parts of the U.S.A. without any consideration whatever. Premier Frost wins our admiration by his refusal to put Ontario on the same intellectual level as Alabama and Tennessee. It is in the power of the Censorship Board to cut anything out of the film which is improper, and to delete any objectionable references to the private life of the star from the advertising. This should cover the matter amply.

The affair of Miss Bergman and Mr. Rossellini has not been an edifying one, and we thing that some newspapers and magazines have given it unwarranted publicity. But it is ridiculous to pretend that a film which they have made is ipso facto an incitement to adultery. That can only be decided when the film is available for study.

Boredom

It is, of course, bad taste and bad business to admit that one is ever bored with one's job. And we must say, in self-defence, that we rarely tire of our work, which consists in the main of commenting on the affairs of the day. But there are days—and this is one of them—when we seem to have said everything that we have to say about every possible subject, and when we lack even the initiative necessary to chew over a few old opinions and spit them out again in an altered form.

Such days of boredom come to everyone, no doubt. But the executive can pretend to be wrapped in thought, and the clerical worker can take refuge in some simple and non-productive routine. The shop assistant can pretend to be busy behind a few bolts of linsey-woolsey; and the factory worker can rub gently at his machine with a piece of cotton-waste, as he allows his eyelids to droop. The farmer can go to the barn on a day like this, and do something peaceful with bits of wire or an old piece of harness. In most jobs, it seems to us, it is possible to conceal the dreary unproductiveness of a boring day without anyone being the wiser, or the worse for it. But not in our job.

The columns gape emptily before us. We must fill them, somehow, and if we fill them with nonsense, we shall hear about it from our readers tomorrow—if not by telephone tonight. We must produce our daily stint of indignation, criticism, alarm and informed guesswork. To us, alone among mortals, the frank enjoyment of boredom is forbidden.

American Atomic Energy Commissioners

The most urgently vital body in the world today is undoubtedly the United States Atomic Energy Commission. It has supervision over the production of atomic bombs, and advises the American Government on all matters of atomic energy as it is being exploited in the U.S.A. For instance, it advised President Truman that the hydrogen bomb should be made. Yet at this important time, the Commission's chairman, David E. Lilienthal, has resigned (his resignation was to take effect today), and another Commissioner, the very man who most strongly recommended the production of the H-bomb, has retired. He is Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, a banker, who for nine years, has been a member of the Commission. Canadians and other foreigners are as anxiously concerned as Americans that President Truman appoints to fill these two positions men who have the intellectual capacity, the imagination and the humanitarian patriotism essential for such grave responsibility.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Shortening of skirts tends to focus attention on shoes", says a fashion note. Mmm—well—

Some British political campaigners accuse Churchill of living in the past. Yes, and if they had a past like his they'd live in it too.

"Your home should look like you", says an article in a woman's magazine. Go on, the neighbours would never stand for it.

From The Critic's Notebook

MARIE DONADIEU by Charles Louis Philippe, translated by Violet Hudson (British Book Service).

THIS is not a book that will appeal to everyone, but it should be read, if only to reacquaint the reader with the lost art of concise and perfect prose writing. In this book the author does not meander through pages of meaningless conversation, nor does he use a page if one sentence will suffice to carry his meaning. Compared to a modern novel the style may seem stilted but as the story unfolds it becomes apparent that its clarity and beauty lie in the stark simplicity of its telling. This work has already found fame in its original form, the author being a famous French writer in the early part of the century, and it commends itself once read. Violet Hudson in her translation has managed the impossible. She has rewritten the book in English whilst still retaining its own nationality. There is never any doubt throughout the story that you are in France, among French people. There is no false interposing of French words, no accented speech, nothing to betray their nationality—but there is no mistaking it. I don't think there is any greater compliment to a translator than that.

The story itself is the growth of a child into womanhood. Marie Donadieu is not a particularly talented child nor an endearing woman. A child of a broken home, in a time and a country where broken homes are the exception, she is raised by adoring grandparents and soon learns how to have her own way with them all the time. Educated at a convent in Lyons she persuades her grandparents to allow her to stay on in the town, on the pretext of studying music. At 17 she is already the mistress of a student serving his military term in Lyons; when he returns to Paris she follows, duping her grandfather into believing that she has a position as companion to a wealthy old lady. Once installed with her lover she betrays him whenever the occasion presents itself—not with any evil intent but simply because no other course ever seems open to her. She feels she has always been seduced whereas she actually never makes any attempt to avoid it. When Raphael, her permanent protector, leaves her to pay his annual visit to his parents Marie moves in with his best friend Jean, being sure that this is the only thing to do under the circumstances. However it needs little persuasion from Raphael, when he returns unexpectedly, to get her to return to Lyons for the summer. Unhappy at her original abode in Lyons, she decides to return to her grandparents' home in the country only to be turned away by her grandfather, who has discovered her way of life and is finally disgusted with her. He sends her to her mother, whom she has always presumed dead, who is the mistress of a wealthy man in Lyons. Her mother persuades her that her real salvation lies with Jean and she hurriedly goes back to Paris expecting to be greeted with open arms, but once again she finds herself unwanted and is faced with the knowledge that desire does not last forever, and that she is going to need a lot of courage to face the only life left open to her. I found nothing appealing in any of the characters in the book; they were selfish and vacillating, and only the grandfather had the strength and willingness to live in the world to which he belonged.

This book is being sold for $2.25, and I think the Grey Walls press have done a great service in bringing it within the means of most reading Canadians. S.S.T.

JUBILEE TRAIL by Gwen Bristow (Ambassador Books)

In spite of the fact that this book is only being introduced in the early part of February it is definitely not a new story. It is, in fact, an old familiar trail that we have travelled many times before under various disguises. The characters are old friends too—Garnet, the heroine a beautiful brunette with strong character. Oliver, the handsome but weak husband. John Ives, the ever-present strong silent friend to whom Garnet turns. Charles, the wicked brother. There is a beautiful blonde actress turned tavern-keeper whose heart of gold redeems her lack of morals, and a drunken doctor who always 'turns up trumps' in the end. The book abounds with the other diamonds-in-the-rough without which no story of the American west in its infancy would be complete. This is a woman's book and, if you like stories with a bit of the Wild West and the sentiments of the south combined with a happy ending you will definitely enjoy the 'Jubilee Trail'.

The plot, or plots, since Gwen Bristow has enough material in this book for three novels, follows a course the outcome of which is easy to anticipate. Garnet Cameron, a well-bred young New Yorker, spurns the attentions of the men in her own set . . marries a trader from California, Oliver Hale. She accompanies him across the Mojave desert, of which we already know every thirsty grain of sand from previous treks by other authors, and of course they have a brief but victorious battle with Indians. Garnet is wounded but in a suitably proper part of her anatomy which permits nearly everybody else in the book to stand around and admire her courage as she allows the drunken doctor to cauterize the wound with a hot iron. Arriving in California, then still under Mexican rule, Garnet meets her brother-in-law, the villainous Charles, who makes his dislike of her so evident that she tries to discover some reason for it. In this manner she finds out that her husband has, previous to their marriage, seduced the only daughter of a wealthy Spanish ranch owner and she has had a son by him. Charles had turned this to his own advantage and arranged an ageous match between Oliver and the girl, only to have it ruined when Oliver chose to marry Garnet. All this supplies the authoress with a suitable motive to rid herself and the heroine of Oliver Hale, so the Spanish grandee's daughter rides over a cliff with her son on her arm and the grief-maddened father shoots Oliver. Garnet, widowed, pregnant and desperately ill is rescued from her brother-in-law's clutches in the nick of time by the strong silent friend John and nurs back to health by the blond actress, and later works for her in her tavern, where a son is born. One must compliment the authoress here on her restraint. All too often harrowing details of birth are considerd a great attraction in this type of novel and such descriptive passages as "beads of sweat rolling down", "animal screams" and "contorted bodies" cover two or three pages, but Miss Bristow glosses it over as incidental to her story, and I think she is right to do so. Naturally the evil brother attempts to gain possession of the child and is only prevented from doing so by Garnet's shooting him. Texas the drunken doctor takes the blame for this on himself as he is already dying of injuries received in a drunken fall. Any suspicion of murder that might fall on Garnet is quickly quashed by a Captain in the local fort who is both in command and in love with the heroine. After eathquakes, fires and a lot of effort, we leave Garnet on the last page ready to marry John Ives who has discovered some gold, on the proceeds of which one presumes they will live happily ever after.

The dust cover ascribes years of research to the authoress and although I think the places, atmosphere and incidents may be authentic, the characters seem to be pure romantic fiction. The men are all the handsome muscular types, good fighters, tough riders but perfect gentlemen where a 'real lady' is concerned. The women are all beautiful, feminine but with a reserve of toughness that would shame a stevedore. is a Literary Guild selection. It is a long novel, and if it were not so cluttered up with people, plot and counterplot, it would be a reasonably good one. S.S.T.

Letters To The Editor

GREEDY, SELFISH MARRIED WOMEN

Sir: We are a group of employed single girls who have read the recent letters regarding married women working and we must say we do agree 100 per cent. with the one which appeared in your column Feb. 9, 1950.

She understands the Blunt Refusal of No. 1—"We have experienced married women on the job"!

It seems in this day and age the marriage vow is—"Love, Honour and Work until you build a new home, buy a car and all the other luxuries instead of the blessed sacrament of marriage".

Did our mothers leave their household duties—neglect us (their children) and work in a factory or office to save for these things? Certainly not! Most of our parents raised a large family and lived through a depression on a husband's wage and we didn't starve or go naked.

Why can't the young married women of today be satisfied as our mothers were?

The answer is very simple—it's just because they are too greedy and selfish. We know this as we work with some of these married women and know only too well that they are the only ones who can salt down their whole earnings and live on their husband's pay cheque. Remember the old proverb—"Two can live as cheap as one".

They may consider themselves ambitious but an ambition to hold onto their jobs and grab all the money they possibly can is not any credit when there is so much unemployment today.

We are not beefing nor jealous—in fact we are satisfied and content as we are lucky enough to be employed but we are thinking of those single girls who are not.

After reading the edition of Feb. 7th, we were left with the impression that these married workers certainly have a very high opinion of themselves as far as the productivity of a factory is concerned. There are plenty of girls intelligent enough to learn these jobs that now are occupied by the married women who should be home raising a family for the good of the country instead of having dogs and cats for pets.

It is unfair to the single girls to be deprived of these jobs and the opportunity to earn some of the money these women are making—so give them a chance!

Sincerely,
SYMPATHETIC GIRLS.

GRAB THE CROSS, REBELLIOUS WOMEN!

Sir: Why all this rebellion of the female (woman) against her lots.

Would she (who-rebels) rather be a man? change her curves for the straight lines: her softness for muscle; to be a father instead of a mother; or perhaps be neither, neutral?

But again it may be that times ago in another land, country, or city, she was male; she thought, wrote, or toiled as a man and rebelled; so today in her punishment she is woman. Why not? Since God is all-powerful even to causing virgin birth, so also a natural birth, in a seeming fruitless effort to redeem man, whose only hope in the sea of tumult is to grab the cross and call for help.

The help would come, and in the ensuing new world there will be no insurrection over sex, but thanks to be what we are. And in this new life the education will be first in the two things now left out, religion and sex (life)—the study of mankind in relation to his God. No longer, will he or she be taught 'against the grain', but talents inherent in every one brought out.

COUNTRY VIEW.

COMPLAINS OF IMMIGRATION

Sir: In regard to married women working when jobs are so hard to get, why can't the employer give their jobs to veterans at the same wages as they pay the women. Surely any married man should be entitled to work to keep his family. My husband is willing to do any kind of work but right now they can't even get jobs in lumber camps or on farms as they are hiring immigrants and still bringing thousands out here and we have to sit back and take it. I know a lot of young men that can't get work; they are either too young at seventeen or too old at twenty; or they live in Peterborough, not some other place. I think if all young men that get in wrong had jobs it would save the country a lot of trouble. And I'm sure any married women would be glad to quit work if her husband made enough to keep her and would be willing to hand her job over to her husband if he was out of work.

As a veteran it is hard to get life insurance and with my husband not working I had to drop all insurance policies. We are not asking for luxuries, we just want to live and let live. So let's all work and fight for the rights of our country.

Thanking you,
A CANADIAN BORN.

KINK EXIT OBSTRUCTED

Sir: Would you do the public a favour and print this gripe in your paper about the newest improvement in the City-owned rink: re the extra seats erected squarely in front of main end of t gates and, d s the Fire Chief know of it? Or does he have to give his O.K. on public owned property? To me it's just like putting bars on the windows (only worse) as happened in Toronto. I suggest they put in a public recording system that we can at least hear who got the assist without the squeaks and squawks.

N. De. P. J. B.

ASKS FOR TRUTHFUL ANSWER

Sir: Now for the $64.00 question! How many married women (in this day and age) being honest and truthful in their answers, would admit, had it not been for a family coming along, they too would have continued working just as long as they could! Remember ladies, the truth!

UP, UP AND AWAY FOR A BASKET by Jeanne Bell RIGHT, and there's Catharine Graham (10) and Nancy Mason (12) of PCVS players trying to prevent Lindsay seniors from tying the score 14-all. The Collegiate seniors piled up points in the second half to take Lindsay Collegiate 34-25. Energetic Cath Graham, centre, crashes between Nancy Mason of PCVS and Marj Owen of Lindsay for a lose ball. Collegiate Lasses Get Two In Hoop Tilts With Lindsay

Collegiate girls' basketball squads, senior and junior, continued their winning ways with victories over the Lindsay Collegiate teams Tuesday in the school gym. The senior lasses battled tooth and nail for the victory as the Scugog girls absorbed their first loss 34-25 while their younger Lindsay schoolmates were downed 18-12.

Miss Doreen Pemberton's seniors were unsteady on the offensive during the first quarter. The girls couldn't seem to click when in payoff territory. Meanwhile the guards, Nancy Mason and Jane Tivy, fought off the Lindsay crew who managed to slip in only one basket to the eight points of the PCVS.

Both squads opened up in the second quarter displaying a fast brand of basketball both on the attack and on the defence. Mary Braund, Mary Craw and Peggy Estlick led the attack with snappy passing plays to build up a fair lead which disappeared as the Lindsay girls, M. Owen, J. Bell and A. Patterson just before the end of the half tied the score. But Mary Braund slipped in a basket close in to make the half score 16-14 for the locals.

Give And Take

No time was lost by the teams in the third quarter. The PCVS girls added five points to the Lindsay four to take a fair lead in the first two minutes 21-18. From there to the end of the game it was give and take. Mary Craw whipped in 12 points, six baskets, on plays with Mary Braund, Peggy Eestlick and Betty Jaquith to outdistance the Lindsay scores by Jeanne Bell and Marjorie Owen. The Collegiate squad pulled through to the final whistle out in front 34-25.

Mary Craw easily led the scoring with 18 points as teammates Mary Braund had nine. Peggy Estlick four and Betty Jaquith three. Nancy Mason, Marney Hollingsworth and Jane Tivy were the standouts among the guards. Marjorie Owen and Jeanne Bell each had nine points for Lindsay while Florence Abbott was good for seven.

A Bit Easier

The Collegiate juniors, coached by Miss Eva Scott, were not as hard-pressed by the Lindsay cagers as their seniors. They swarmed all over the Scugog defensive zone in the first quarter but the Lindsay guards were on the bit with close checks. Pat Nixon was the only player to sink a basket in the slow quarter and she netted two.

Lindsay charged back in the second quarter with the spearhead of the attack, Lillian Thornbury, Arden Stevens and Martha Walling. Except for the defence thrown up by Marg Clark, Anne LaPointe and Audrey McGee, the Lindsay lasses would have taken a lengthy lead; as it was they outscored the PCVS cagers 8-6 to be behind only two points at the half 10-8.

All the girls seemed to lose interest in the game in the last half as play returned to the ragged slow basketball of the first quarter. Rosy McInroy held the locals' heads above water as her five points, two baskets and a foul shot came when needed most, in the last quarter as the Scugog quintet began to move in. The score at the three-quarter mark was 13-9 and at the end 18-12.

Ida Hollend of PCVS turned in three baskets and a foul shot to lead the scoring while Lillian Thornbury had six points for Lindsay and Rosy McInroy five for PCVS.

Lineups—Junior game:

Lindsay—H. Hudson 1, M. Walling 3, L. Thornbury 6, R. Robertson, A. Ward, D. Gabrielson, A. Guest, B. Bailey, D. Jordon, A. Stevens 2.

PCVS—Ida Holland 7, Rosy McInroy 5, Lorraine Derry 2, Marg Lang, Joan Krogh, Pat Nixon 4, Marg Clark, Phyllis Peryer, Anne LaPointe, Audrey McGee, Eleanor White, Shirley Leggatt.

Senior game:

Lindsay—M. Owen 9, J. Bell 9, F. Abbott 7, C Abbott, A. Patterson, M. Frost, R. Imrie, G. Wells, A. Torrey, K. Moore.

PCVS—Mary Craw 18, Mary Braund 9, Betty Jaquith 3, Peggy Estlick 4, Lois Hutchinson, Nancy Mason, Marney Hollingsworth, Marilyn Jackson, Catharine Graham, Jane Tivy.

Lord Beaverbrook Back In U.K., Party Worried

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Feb. 15—(CP)—The line formed on the left, politically speaking, when Lord Beaverbrook came back to Britain for another election campaign.

Soft words of welcome from Labor opponents, and strained silence from Conservative friends, marked the homecoming last week of the man veteran political writers call the most stubbornly-independent Tory of all time.

Lord Beaverbrook was impudently aware of this mixed reception.

The day he returned from a holiday in Jamaica, a large cartoon showed the old Empire crusader, wide mouth spread in an evil leer, juggling sinister tools over an apparatus labelled "Tory election machine."

The cartoon appeared in the mass-circulation Daily Express, a Beaverbrook newspaper whose front pages and editorial columns daily expound Commonwealth and Empire ideals in short, punchy paragraphs which a rival newspaper has characterized as "political baby-talk."

Could Upset Apple Cart

The artist's drawing reflected an oft-expressed feeling—that Lord Beaverbrook, a life-long Conservative, could upset the Tory apple-cart any time. He did in 1931 when he and the late Lord Rothermere combined to assail Stanley Baldwin's leadership of the Conservative Party.

Lord Beaverbrook himself has said "there is only one good Conservative—and that is Winston Churchill." Churchill replied last fall by saying he and Lord Beaverbrook were old friends, but that the Canadian-born publisher's views did not necessarily reflect those of the Conservative Party.

With Lord Beaverbrook back in Britain, Socialist leaders rolled out the welcome mat. War Minister Emanuel Shinwell saluted him as a man of great intelligence.

"You may not agree with his politics," Shinwell said. "I certainly would not . . . sometimes, indeed, I find it very hard to understand what his politics are."

Study Recommendation

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — Mayor Hiram McCallum said on Tuesday that full consideration will be given to the recommendation of a coroner's jury that the city appoint a special committee to review building by-laws. The jury, which inquired into the fire that took nine lives in the Phillips Garment Company basement factory Jan. 20, found that iron bars and flimsy partitions, blamed as contributing to the tragedy, were permitted under existing by-laws.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A bunch of the Wests will be whooping it up in Civic Arena tonight. These Wests—relatives of Junior of the Petes—comprise an important part of the Orono puckists who tangle with the Triple Links at 8.30 here this eve in an OHA junior "B" joust, last scheduled junior game of the season in this borough. The IOOF-ers go to Orono on Friday and to Oshawa on Saturday, with group playoffs following. The 1949 junior "D" champs upset Belleville not long ago, and they may do ditto to Bun Kingdon's hustling squad. Kids with adults accompanying 'em will get in free tonight, and the tilt should draw a hefty gallery.

* * * * * *

While Kingston Nylons have one game yet—Wednesday in Gananoque—the group race is o'er. Nylons have 32 points right now with 16 wins in 19 starts, whilst Legion have 31 points with 15 nods and a tie in 20 tilts. Diesels came out of the deal with nine wins and 11 reverses for 18 points, Petes having four victories and two draws for 10, and the Gans so far having three wins and a tie for seven in 19 frays. Nylons swept four from the Petes, five of six from Belleville, five straight over Gananoque and two of four from Legion for their 16 wins, 15 of 'em in a row, showing how hot they are. Though Legion are only a point down.

* * * * * *

Series Opens Friday

Rumors that Legion, dissatisfied with insufficient practices allowed at the arena, would transfer "home" games henceforth to Lindsay are unfounded. The best-of-five OHA senior "B" group semi-final series will open here Friday night, and resume Monday as the Petes' home playoff. The other bracket won't get underway till Saturday when Belleville goes to Kingston, returning to the Quinte centre on Tuesday. Three out of five. Finalists may stage a best-of-seven series if time permits. In less than two weeks, two of these four clubs will be hanging up their skates.

* * * * * *

One week from tonight, an open meeting of ORFU football players, officials and followers (anyone interested) will be held in the "Y" at eight o'clock. Some six or eight local business men are putting money into the new club, as the Panthers Club has been dissolved. A new name will be given the team and a different setup will provide Peterborough grid followers with a much better sport next autumn. It was felt that a city this size should be making a better showing than has been the case the past several seasons, so determined efforts will be made from now on, and Peterborough once again should go places on the gridiron. With Oshawa, Orillia and Cobourg also going in for floodlights, a double schedule will probably result. But more again.

* * * * * *

In Those Days Of Gore

We are glad the colorful and powerful Galloping Ghosts of Cobourg have returned to the fold. They are worthy enemies, and never spared the horses against our Orfuns in bygone seasons. We recall a tilt Orfuns barely won over them (shortly before we went senior) down in their Horse Show Park. A bruising battle, and near the end Chuck Kearns and a husky of the Ghosts named Pratt started swinging. The redheaded Chucker came off—as both got the gate—with blood pouring from his nose and a big grin on his pan, remarking: "Gee, did that big guy ever tee off on me!" The late Chuck (who was a real scrapper, too) was always lots of fun.

* * * * * *

Important PMHA playoff games today here. At 4.30, Trojans No. 1 bantams meet Optimists in first of two, and at 5.30 it's Southend and Trojan midgets in a sudden-deather. At 6.30 Friday Clapper's juves have a sudden-deather with IOOF, this being decided today. Wally Bent advises that local winners in bantam, midget and juvenile "A" meet Oshawa in two-game OMHA series to be over by Feb. 25. Players' certificates and birth certificates (not baptismal or those by a division registrar) must be sent in at once. No players may be signed after Feb. 15, which is today. Teams are warned against rough play in the provincial playdowns, coaches being held responsible—and they may be suspended.

Two Marks Set By Runners In Track Meet

Two indoor track records were marked at the harriers' meet last night in the "Y". In the first race of the night, Jack Brown won the 440 yard event in a hard-fought race with Jim Flowers and Bill Thistlewaite. Brown timed himself well but had little left at the finish. Flowers took off exceptionally fast and held it for 300 yards, then tired rapidly, though he was only beaten by 3/5 of a second by Brown.

In the 600 yard run, Thistlewaite turned the tables and ran a fine, fast race to finish strongly. Flowers started fast but again tired, although he held his speed for about 500 yards and finished fairly strong, being six seconds slower than Thistlewaite. Brown coasted along in third place. These local record marks show continued improvement, and next Monday the mile run and the ¾ mile relay will be held. Times and places last night:

440-yard dash:
Jack Brown—65 secs.
Jim Flowers—65 3/5.
Bill Thistlewaite—66.
600-yard run:
Thistlewaite—1 min. 52 3/5 seconds.
Flowers—1 min. 58 sees.
Brown—2 min. 1/5 secs.

Marmora Leading TVL By Beating Norwood

MARMORA, Feb. 15 (ENS)—Marmora proved too good for Norwood in their home game with the Westerners on Monday evening and before a crowd of 300 came out TVL winners by a score of 10-6 Borland, who was injured in the game at Frankford last week, played in the home net and despite the disability from which he has not fully recovered, turned in a fine performance, being a little sounder than Morrison, the Norwood goalie. Stewart, the Marmora centre and ex-Madoc player who has been showing fine form of late, did the hat trick in the first period and secured another goal and an assist in the third. Although keenly fought, the game was devoid of roughness.

Norwood—Goal, Morrison; defence, Fennell and G. Payne; centre, B. Payne; wings, Gilbert and Lonsberry; alternates, Kelly, Hamilton, Clements, Smith, Brown, Rogers, Petterson and Webb.

Marmora— Goal, Borland; defence, Kerr and Leonard; centre, Stewart; wings, Lavender and Trumble; alternates, Darrah, McInroy, Loveless, Goodchild, Nayler; spare goalie, Sweet.

Referees—Owen Hendy, Campbellford, R. Scriver, Hastings.

The summary:

First Period
Marmora—Stewart (Lavender) 0:35
Marmora—McInroy (Goodchild). 3:17
Marmora—Trumble (Lavender). 7:50
Marmora—Loveless (Darrah, McInroy) 8:25
Norwood—B. Payne (Lonsberry) 10:10
Marmora—Stewart (Trumble) 10:55
Norwood—Clements (Hamilton) 15.45
Marmora—Stewart (Leonard) 17:45
Penalty—B. Payne.

Second Period
Marmora—Lavender 0:50
Penalty—Kelly.

Third Period
Marmora—Stewart (Lavender) 0:35
Norwood—B. Payne (Fennell) 2:35
Norwood—Fennell 10:50
Marmora—Trumble (Stewart) 12:10
Norwood—Lonsberry (Hamilton, Gilbert) 16:30
Marmora—Loveless 17:30
Norwood—Hamilton (Rogers) 19:10

Lakefield Wins

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 15—(ENS)—Beating Nepheline Mines 4-1 here last night, Lakefield tied Buckhorn for first place in the Haywire Hockey League standing in a rough tilt. Seven of the 13 penalties came in the third period. Ridpath scored from Calberry for Lakefield in the first frame, and each team counted one in the second, Calberry for the homesters and Dafoe for the visitors. Chittick made it 3-1 for Lakefield in the third on a pass from Millage, and Ridpath finished the scoring, aided by Calberry.

Teams:

Nepheline Mines: Goal, Lindhorst; defence, D. Whetung, Crowe; centre, Woodruff; wings, Trude, Bedore; alternates, R. Whetung, Hughes, McInroy, Lambert, Little, Dafoe, McClure.

Lakefield: Goal, Huddlestone; defence, Hamblin, Montgomery; centre, Hill; wings, Calberry, Chittick; alternates, Twist, Millage, Sabatino, McIntyre, Ridpath, Wanamaker, Stewart, Knox.

Plan For Crowds

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP)—Special committees of the 1951 Festival of Britain are considering the problem of dealing with huge crowds expected to attend the exhibition now taking shape on the south bank of the River Thames. One suggestion is that any form of special entry should be barred and all visitors should pass through the cash turnstiles.

CURLING NOTES

By HERB MARTIN

Dr. C. McKee's rink defeated W. Harvey's rink 16-17 in the final game of the Consolation event of the Neill Trophy bonspiel. The doctor's rink took an early lead and was never headed. In fact, the farther the game went the better the boys curled. Without taking anything away from any of the others we believe the doctor himself was the highlight. He was hitting them far and wide. Maybe that week's training up in Sudbury did him good—it looks like it. As usual, the boys on No 8 had a great evening, although they themselves were knocked out of the competition early they still insist that No. 8 should be recognized.

The system under which the Neill competition was played was new this year and we believe it made a big hit. The committee adopted the system early last fall. No one was rushed to death, no one played two games on one night and the games were scheduled for each Tuesday night. Jim Dutton was appointed to look after this event and he did the job in fine style. He was on the job at all times—the right man in the right place. And so we once more congratulate the winners and losers and all who helped to make this Neill event one of the best.

Toronto court stars were awarded top positions Tuesday night at Ottawa in the annual rankings of the Ontario Lawn Tennis Association.

The Toronto players took the No. 1 position in five of the six divisions, with the other going to Miriam Rainboth of Ottawa. Every position on the ranking lists were taken by either Toronto or Ottawa stars.

Jack Hopkins and Mrs. Louise Brown topped the men's and women's senior lists, respectively. Don Fontana of Toronto was ranked junior men's No. 1 player, while John Tattle of Toronto won the same spot for 15-year-old and under boys. No. 1 star in the girls' division is Josephine Smith, also of Toronto.

Thirty-six Canadian Empire games athletes boarded a plane at Auckland, N. Z., for home today but some of them felt they were missing out on a good deal.

They arrived at the airport just to see 104 other games competitors setting out on a wide tour of New Zealand, and some of the Canadians admitted they would like to spend another month at Auckland.

"The hospitality has been terrific," said one athlete. "I've never had such a wonderful time in my life."

Bucky Harris Tuesday at Washington overlooked his former team-mates, New York Yankees, and picked Boston Red Sox to win the 1950 American League pennant race.

"They'll probably think this sour grapes in New York," said Bucky, "but I think the Red Sox's young pitchers will carry them to the pennant. At least that's the way it looks on paper."

Harry Levene of London, English manager of Vern Escoe of Toronto, Tuesday night offered to deposit £500 ($1,550) or £1,000 for a British Empire heavyweight title fight between Bruce Woodcock and the Canadian champion.

Levene said more than six months have elapsed since Woodcock's last successful Empire title contest. Bruce knocked out Freddie Mills, the former world light-weight champ, last June 2.

University of Western Ontario Mustangs can all but clinch the intercollegiate basketball title Friday when they take on Queen's Gaels in the London arena.

A win against the Tri-color would give the western team a three and nothing league record for the season and they would have to lose both remaining games before a team could tie them for first place.

Entries from many clubs are expected for the annual Canadian squash racquets championships to be held at Hamilton Feb. 24-26. Racquet stars from Quebec City, Montreal, Ottawa, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton and London have entered with a draw of 32 players competing for the title held by Jack Leibel of Toronto.

Optimists In Draw With Omemee Boys

The Optimist bantams and Omemee midgets tied 6-6 in overtime in the most exciting game seen this season in Omemee. A good-sized crowd saw the home squad leading 5-4 with three minutes of play left. Coach Wally Bent of Optimists pulled his goalie and with seconds to go the game was tied up. In overtime, Omemee went ahead 6-5 and again the goalie was pulled and Optimists once more sewed it up with four seconds left to play. Fans want a return contest between these teams.

Tom Stevenson scored three goals for Omemee while Thornton, Crawford and Mitchell got the others Stewart, McFadden and Kane each counted three for the Optimists, and all the players on both sides turned in a whale of an effort in this hard-fought exhibition. There were 11 penalties handed out. Teams:

Optimists: Ash, Byrnes, Pavy, Pollard, Bryan, Roberts, Brooks. Stewart, McFadden, Blodgett, Jones, Kane, Davidson, Gardner. Pagett.

Omemee: James, Crawford Stevenson, Parker, Mitchell, Thornton, McKenzie, Maunder. Brown, Hyland, Blake, Collins, Whitmore, Steenburgh, Laidley.

Take Late Contest

MARMORA, Feb 15 (ENS)—Due to late arrival of the Norwood team, their Circle "C" loop fixture with Marmora in the latters' rink on Tuesday did not get started until 10 p.m. The verdict went to Marmora by the score of 6-4. Marmora were without Moloney, their regular goalie, and Don Shannon took the nets for the first time. Teams:

Olivia de Havilland, Crawford Leading Academy Award Race

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb 15 (AP)—Broderick Crawford, Olivia de Havilland and "All The King's Men" took top contention today as the Academy Award race entered the stretch.

Crawford's portrait of a demagogue in "All The King's Men" has been the most praised in the male division. Also nominated were Kirk Douglas in "Champion," Gregory Peck in "Twelve o'Clock High," Richard Todd in "The Hasty Heart,' and John Wayne in "Sands of Iwo Jima."

Miss de Havilland has been named the favorite among the actresses for her performance as the love-starved Victorian in "The Heiress." Her competition: Jeanne Crain in "Pinky," Susan Hayward in "My Foolish Hart," Deborah Kerr in "Edward, My Son," and Loretta Young in "Come To The Stable."

Mentioned for best picture award were: "All The King's Men," "Battleground," "The Heiress," "A Letter To Three Wives," and "Twelve o'Clock High."

The winners will be announced March 23.

Other Major Nominations

Supporting actors—John Ireland in "All The Kings Men," Dean Jagger in "Twelve o'Clock High," Arthur Kennedy in "Champion," Ralph Richardson in "The Heiress," and James Whitmore in "Battleground."

Supporting actress — Ethel Barrymore in "Pinky," Celeste Holm in "Come To The Stable," Elsa Lanchester in "Come To The Stable,' Mercedes McCambridge in "All The King's Men," Ethel Waters in "Pinky."

Direction — Robert Rossen for "All The King's Men," William A Wellman for "Battleground," Carol Reed for "The Fallen Idol," William Wyler for "The Heiress," and Joseph L. Mankiewicz for "A Letter To Three Wives."

Sinatras Separate

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Sinatra announced Tuesday through her lawyer that she and her husband, crooner Frank Sinatra, have separated. "Unfortunately my married life with Frank has become most unhappy," her statement said. "W. have therefore separated. I have requested my attorney to attempt to work out a property settlement. I do not contemplate divorce proceedings in the foreseeable future."

Stanlee, Hall, Flanagan, Bernard Support Yukon Eric-Davis Match

Yukon Eric, the amazing Alaska lumberjack, appears headed for the toughest test of his impressive career to date when he meets Wee Willie Davis, the mat and film villain from Hollywood, in the feature wrestling bout at the Brock Arena on Thursday night The towering Davis, besides being one of the roughest and most rugged grapplers in the game, would seem to be safe from Yukon Eric's specialty back-breaker hold, on account of Davis' great weight, height and strength. Yukon maintains the size and power of an opponent has never stumped him yet, but it is hard to figure how he can dispose of this rival. This will be interesting to see as Eric had little difficulty with Atkins, Samara and Watson in using this hold. But Wee Willie is quite a bit heavier than any of the grapplers Yukon has met to date. The Alaskan has not lost a decision here, having a draw with Whipper Watson.

Steve Stanlee

An all-star card has been lined up to go along with the feature match. Steve Stanlee will oppose Dr. Len Hall, back after a absence, in the semi-final and Pat Flanagan will tackle Barney Bernard, a newcomer, in the opener.

Canadiens Have Toughest Training Session

By VIC MORRIS, JR.,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Montreal Canadiens haven't got around to naming what they intend to call the invasion of Toronto Maple Leafs at Montreal on Thursday night although their coach is giving the National Hockey League contest as much attention as a field marshal about to march into battle.

Last week the Montreal Canadiens went through an exercise called operation pitchfork which had the players going through a series of farm chores. The operation, intended by coach Dick Irvin to condition the boys, backfired when Canadiens limped past two weekend games with only one point of a possible four. The team lost out to Toronto and managed to battle Boston Bruins to a stalemate.

Tuesday, Irvin went hard out on the boys and put them through the stiffest training session held this season. He said he wanted to synchronize the gang into plays that will pay off.

Canadiens in third place with 55 points, are two points back of the second place Maple Leafs. A victory for the Montrealers, who have played one game less than the Leafs, would give them a slight edge to finish in the favored runner-up spot.

News To Him

At Toronto general manager Conny Smythe said he had not heard about a deal whereby Leaf winger Fleming Mackell would join Canadiens. He said he'd be interested if Canadiens wanted to offer Maurice Richard.

Today is the last day the NHL allows for any inter-club deals. Leafs say they will stand pat on their present line-up and Selke says he'll go along with his present squad.

Toronto goaler Turk Broda, recovering from a cold, put in an extra practice session Tuesday.

Tonight, the New York Rangers seven points behind Canadiens in fourth place, will be out to cement their three-point margin over Boston when the two teams clash at New York.

Two Chatham Rinks Still In Curling Race

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — With the fourth and fifth rounds of the Royal York Trophy event of the Ontario Curling Association bonspiel scheduled to be run off today, play was shaping up for the semi-finals Thursday.

Of the 16 rinks left in the premier event, eight were local representatives. Out of town rinks, however, fared better in the second event, the Birks-Ellis-Ryrie Trophy and the two consolation trophies already started.

Chatham is still represented by two foursomes in the big event, Peter Gilbert and M. Harrington carrying the western Ontario colors. Nap Laurandeau of Midland and W. E. Palmer of Sault Ste. Marie came through with second round victories but only one United States rink is still in the running, the Utica, N. Y., hopefuls skipped by T. Foster.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Canada's oldest racing fixture, the King's Plate, run annually at Woodbine Park in Toronto, had its value increased to $3,000 46 years ago today, by the Ontario Jockey Club. The Plate was first run in 1860 when Queen Victoria donated the place to encourage Canadian racing. Its present value is $15,000.

Tigers Belt Kitchener 5-0 In Debut At Playoffs

By The Canadian Press.

George Redding had his Hamilton Tigers rolling in high gear last night as the Bengals made their debut in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A playoffs by belting Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen 5-0.

The injury-riddled twin-city team were no match for the revitalized Tigers and dropped their second straight contest of the 12-game round robin semi-final series.

In a Junior A competition last night the league-leading Toronto Marlboros blasted last-place Oshawa Generals 8-0, Galt Black Hawks pulled a 2-1 upset over St. Michael's College and St. Catharines Teepees whitewashed Guelph Biltmores 4-0.

With Don Bauer and Harvey Jacklin sitting out the game with injuries most of the sting was taken out of the Kitchener-Waterloo attack.

Paces Winners

Bobby Laurent paced the winners with a two-goal performance, clicking for the only scores of the opening and closing periods. Murray Comfort, Polly Miocinovich and Maxy Taylor counted three markers in the middle session.

Oshawa was completely outclassed in the first game of a double-header at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens. The powerful Marlboros pumped home a trio of markers in the opening period, added a pair in the second and closed out with three in the third.

George Armstrong and Larry Regan were firing the heavy artillery as they both came up with two-goal performances.

Marlboro singles were counted by Danny Lewicki, Ron Hurst, Red Mitchell and Jack McKenzie.

Change Tactics

The surprising Galt Black Hawks, out of the running for a playoff spot, skated the sixth-place Collegians into the ice in the first game of a double header. George Ford opened the scoring in the first frame and after second period pressure, Bronco Horvath made it 2-0.

With Lorne Howes in the St. Michael's nets holding off the Galt attackers in the third period, the Irish had a slight edge on the play. Leo Labine finally clicked for the only Collegian tally but pulling Howes and putting on six forwards in the last minute of play failed to get the equalizer.

St. Catharines vaulted over Guelph into second place with the victory over the Biltmores.

The Teepees waited until the third period before turning on the pressure and then rapped in three goals. They had counted a single in the opening session.

Jack White, Jack McIntyre, Con Switzer and Norm Corcoran were the St. Catharines marksmen.

Babe Expected To Head List

NEW YORK, Feb. 15 (AP) — For 20 years a slender American girl of Norwegian blood has dominated women's sports internationally. So it was to be expected that Babe Didrickson Zaharias would be overwhelmingly selected as the greatest female athlete of the first half of the 20th century.

Eleventh and last of the sports titans chosen in The Associated Press mid-century poll, the Babe is unchallenged in versatility.

She won world fame at the 1932 Olympic games by taking two gold medals and losing a third on a technicality. In 1947 she became the first American to win the British women's golf championships.

She was noted even before 1932; she has gone right on winning after 1947. Out of 361 first-place votes cast by American sports writers and broadcasters, she received 319. Only 34 rated her in second place, and five in third.

On the basis of three points for first, two for second, and one for third, the Babe amassed a total of 1,030. Helen Wills Moody, the tennis immortal, was second with 394. Stella Walsh, the track star, was third with 136, followed by the Netherlands Olympian, Fanny Blankers-Koen, with 107.

Detroit Writers Rap NHL Policy

DETROIT, Feb. 15 — (AP).— The Detroit Hockey Writers' Association today condemned the policy of the National Hockey League in relation to the recent so-called "Conacher incidents."

In a sharply-worded communication to the NHL, the writers group protested the league's "failure" to take "disciplinary action" against the Chicago Black Hawks coach, Charlie Conacher.

The protest was sent to NHL President Clarence Campbell and the league's Board of Governors.

League policy, the writers said, threatens to "work great harm" to hockey and lead to "degeneration of authority on the ice."

The association is a group of Detroit and Windsor hockey reporters. Conacher figured in two incidents in the February. 8 game here between Chicago and the Detroit Red Wings.

CAPTURE CURLING TITLE

At Moose Jaw, Sask., Mrs Dayton Walker and her Saskatoon Granite Club curlers Tuesday captured the Saskatchewan women's curling championship. The northern representatives defeated Mrs. Gladys McIndoe of Carlyle in two straight games, 11-10 and 12-8.

Canadian Prices More In Tune With U.S. Trend

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

It appears likely that the downward pressures on Canadian prices in the near-term future will be at least as great, and possibly greater, than those working to reduce prices in the United States.

This is the finding of the current Monthly Review of the Bank of Nova Scotia in a study of price trends.

And it finds that the weight of evidence appears to be on the side of a continued downward trend in the United States price level, provided there is no great increase in defence outlays.

Explaining why Canadian prices were more strongly sustained in 1949 than American prices, but are more likely to be in tune with them this year, the letter says:

"The sustaining influence of the British food contracts on Canadian farm prices is passing . . . the effect of devaluation of the Canadian dollar in raising prices is diminishing, competition is becoming keener, and the much lower rate on sterling is introducing a new element in the Canadian market."

Investment Award

Efforts of financial houses to make investment understandable to the average person will be recognized by an annual award.

The Financial Times of Montreal through its president, Edward C. Ertle, announces that it will present a silver cup and scroll to the member of the Investment Dealers' Association of Canada which is judged to have done the outstanding job during the year in the fields of public relations and investment information.

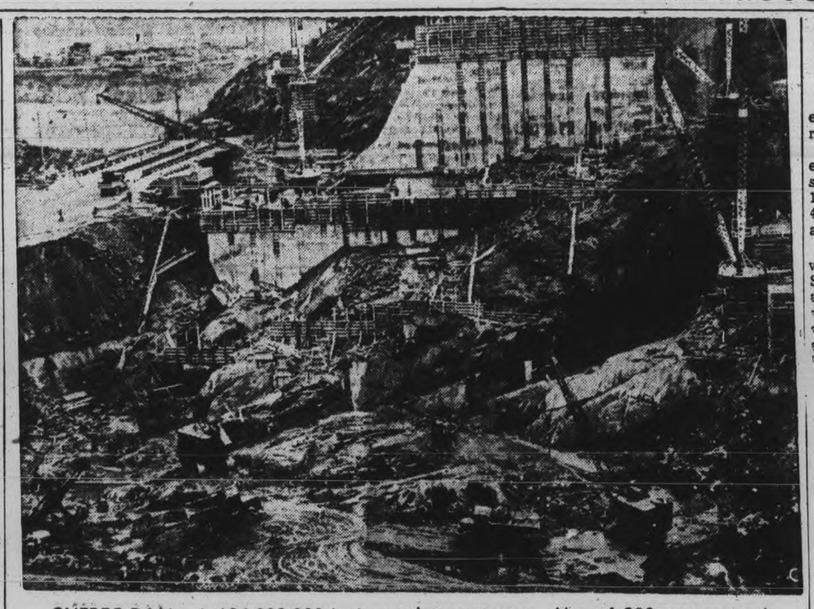
A group of financial editors of daily newspapers across Canada have been invited to give their opinions and to vote for the best work in various fields.

The first award will be presented at the annual meeting of IDA next June.

Fruit Stocks Up

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Stocks of fruit, frozen and in preservatives, increased by almost 1,000,000 pounds last month. The Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday that at Feb. 1 fruit stocks amounted to 29,070,000 pounds, compared with 28,124,000 at Jan. 1 and 37,245,000 at Feb. 1 a year earlier.

VETERAN TEACHER FIRED —Leo Guindon, 59, president of Montreal's French - speaking Alliance of Catholic Teachers, has been dismissed by the city's Catholic School Commission for "insubordination and misconduct." The fiery little teacher and union leader, on leave of absence from classroom duties while he conducted Alliance affairs, refused to return to teaching. Mr. Guindon led 2,000 Catholic teachers in a 10-day strike in Montreal a year ago.



QUEBEC DAM—A $36,000,000 hydro-electric development by the Shawinigan Water and Power Company on the St. Maurice River is expected to be completed late next year. About 1,800 men are working on the project which will have an initial capacity of 325,000 horsepower, half already contracted for by a smelting company now building a plant at Sorel, Que.

Red Tape Eased On Imports Going Into The U.S.A.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 (CP) —The United States today snipped away some of the red tape that has been hampering imports from Canada and other countries which need American dollars.

The treasury announced the institution of a new type of bond for import transactions and a new bonding procedure, and said both are expected to facilitate greatly the clearance of imported merchandise through customs.

The new procedure becomes effective as soon as new bond forms can be printed. This is expected shortly.

The import bond is one which importers will deposit with the United States government to cover payment of any duties which may be found owing after the merchandise has left customs custody

This will replace a cumbersome, long-standing arrangement under which, when duties were to be collected, after the goods had been released, the government has made a formal demand for return of the merchandise or payment of liquidated damages.

Get Prompt Release

It is said the most important provision is one which makes it possible for brokers to obtain prompt release of all merchandise submitted for examination.

In the past, such goods sometimes have been retained in customs custody for long periods pending the completion of entry formalities.

They now will go directly to market.

While the new arrangements are of benefit to exporting countries, semi-official quarters say it still does not overcome what some countries, including Canada, consider to be one of the major obstacles to trade with the United States.

That obstacle, they say, lies in regulations which permit the levying of additional duties after goods have entered the United States. The effect of this is that an importer never knows precisely what duties he will have to pay, and therefore cannot accurately set a retail price, thus hindering retail sales.

To Get Strap

KINGSTON, Feb. 15—(CP) — Magistrate James B. Garvin Tuesday sentenced Ralph Blackley, 30, to six strokes of the strap plus one week in county jail when he pleaded guilty to assaulting and causing bodily harm to his wife.

74-Mill Rate

NAPANEE, Feb. 15 — (CP) — Town council Tuesday struck a tax rate for 1950 of 74 mills, an increase of five mills on 1948. Higher school costs and other civic expeditures were given as a cause for the increase in the tax rate.

Production Record Set By Canadian Breweries During Year Of 1948

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP)—Breweries in Canada set a production record in 1948.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that the output of beer, ale, stout and porter combined was 169,703,074 gallons. Of this amount 49,142,649 gallons were draught and 120,560,425 gallons bottled.

Value of production generally was also a record at $215,552,230. Sales tax and other excise taxes and duties paid to the federal and provincial governments amounted to $88,613,094, leaving a net value of production of $126,939,136.

Compared with the previous year there was an increase of $12,392,326 in the value of production. The volume was 8,828,227 gallons more.

Industry's Output

The industry's output included 15,449 tons of grains dried for sale valued at $602,573; 124,579 tons of grains sold wet valued at $381,827; 1,476,339 gallons of soft drinks for $947,530; 1,018,974 pounds of yeast for $86,272 and $218,026 worth of other products and by-products.

The taxes and duties on the total amounted to about 41 per cent of the total selling value.

The number of establishments engaged in production of malt liquors was 61 in 1948, unchanged from the two previous years Of these 22 were located in Ontario, eight in Quebec, 11 in British Columbia, six in Manitoba, five each in Alberta and Saskatchewan and two each in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Net value of production by provinces was: Ontario, $51,021,921; Quebec, $35,511,807; British Columbia, $11,104,822; Alberta, $10,807,960; Saskatchewan, $7,441,110; Manitoba $7,050,551; Nova Scotia and New Brunswick (combined) $4,000,965.

SUGGESTIONS AND Bargains

Ask Tamblyn's

These days everyone is interested in making or saving money. Here are this week's money savers. Pin up this column in your kitchen.

RUG WASHING: "Can I wash my rug at home? It is huge and will take days, I'm afraid. But I'd like to tackle it."

You can make almost a professional job of your rug at home. Tamblyn's have three aids. Vap-O-Rite, a 16-ounce package, at $1.25. Owen's Nu-Clean, an 18-ounce package at 60 cents. And a soap jelly made at home.

FOR IT dissolves ¼ cup soap chips in 4 cups of hot water; let mixture cool to jelly. Put ¼ of jelly in a deep bowl; whip to thick dry froth. Brush suds on small area of rug, rubbing just enough to loosen dirt. Remove dirty suds with cloth or sponge wrung dry from lukewarm water.

FOOD BUDGET: "Where can I get the low cost food budget announced on the Tamblyn broadcast? We get CFRB quite clearly in Pennsylvania. If you can help me feed my family for $25 a week we'll move to Canada."

For Tamblyn customers it was "pick up the budgets in every Tamblyn store." (All gone.) For visiting Americans it's a mail-out service. By this time the budget is yours.

FUNERAL PARLOR RECEPTIONIST: "I am an undergraduate nurse and would like to become a receptionist in a funeral parlor. What are the hours? The pay?"

This is a part-time position in most undertaking establishments. In large establishments two receptionists are employed. Short week hours are 7 to 10 p.m. alternate nights. Long weeks include a Sunday shift, 3 to 5 p.m., 8 to 10 p.m. Salary is $10 weekly. Suitable clothing is provided.

Conservatives Promise Lighter Taxes

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP)—More take-home pay without loss of social-security privileges is the election promise of the Conservative Party.

The party manifesto commits the party, if returned to power Feb. 23, to:

1. Reduce taxation.
2. Limit controls
3. Stop nationalization.
4. Maintain social services.

Winston Churchill personally edited the manifesto of the party he heads. The document is titled "this is the road."

The prospect of more take-home pay is held up before the workers in a promise of lighter tax on overtime and piecework rates. It has been a common contention that there is little gain in working overtime because the tax collector takes most of the extra earnings.

In addition, the party promises "substantial" reduction in both direct and indirect taxation.

The party says another aim is a "Workers' Charter" which would guarantee "more human relations and a fair share of the proceeds for the worker."

"We wish to give every employee a legal right to a written contract of service with length of notice adjusted to length of service, if both parties agree," the manifesto adds.

CCF Asks Frost Keep Espanola Plant Open

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—The CCF said Tuesday it will "press Ontario government to take steps ensuring that the Kalamazoo Vegetable Parchment Company plant at Espanola will not be closed.

(Lands Minister Scott has announced that government legal experts are considering a solution to the Espanola problem, which stems from polution of the Spanish river with waste from the K.V.P. pulp mill.)

Resort-owners near Espanola, 50 miles west of Sudbury, have obtained an injunction, effective April 4, restraining the company from dumping waste into the river.

The CCF provincial council said today in a statement that in urging continuation of the mill operations the CCF also will demand government action to eliminate as soon as possible "the unnecessary pollution of waterways in Ontario by all pulp-and-paper companies."

Labor Council Applies For Federation Charter

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—The Toronto Labor Council (CCL) voted unanimously Monday night to apply for a charter for the National Federation of Unemployed Persons.

The new body, to be administered by a committee of five members appointed by the Canadian Congress of Labor, was formed with the intention of "stimulating activities, provincial or local, on a national basis which will increase employment."

In addition to drafting proposals for public works projects, the federation will deal with unemployment insurance questions; arrange welfare and assistance for its members, and provide recreation and education facilities. The congress said membership will not be granted to "members of any Communist or Fascist organizations."

RAF Pilot Killed

HONG KONG, Feb. 15 (AP)—An RAF pilot was killed Tuesday when his Spitfire crashed on Lantao Island, 20 miles northwest of here.

The plane wreckage was spotted by a helicopter from the United States carrier boxer seven hours after the plane failed to return to its base.

Says UK Must Remain Market For Produce

LONDON, Feb. 15 (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, in a front-page message to readers of his Empire-minded Daily Express, today said Britain must remain "the market for Empire produce, on which Canada's farmers depend altogether."

"The Canadian economic situation can only be satisfied if Britain, in her strength, remains the market for Empire produce, on which Canada's farmers depend altogether," he said.

Lord Beaverbrook urged readers to join The Empire Lobby, which he described as "an organization formed for the purpose of promoting here and now the union of the Empire."

15-Minute Sentence

SARNIA, Feb. 15 (CP)—A 15-minute jail term was imposed on Tuesday on a key witness in a robbery trial by County Judge E. A. Shaunessy. Joseph Mogine, elderly Lithuanian, was ordered to the cells when he argued with counsel in the trial of seven men who were charged with robbing him of $60 last June 3. Charges against three of the men, Frank Cook, James and Joseph Mulligan were withdrawn by the crown early in the hearing.

No Salary Boosts

GUELPH, Feb. 15 (CP)—School teachers here will receive no salary increases this year as a result of a decision of the salary committee of the Board of Education Tuesday night. Maximum salary limits were adjusted, and a scale of yearly increases set out for secondary, vocational teachers and principals.

On Hospital Council

TORONTO, Feb. 15—(CP)—Dr. Leonard O. Bradley, of Toronto, has been appointed executive of the Canadian Hospital Council, it was announced Tuesday night. He succeeds Dr Harvey Agnew, who resigned to do hospital consulting work. Dr. Bradley assumes his duties Aug. 1.

Deputy Minister Charges Union Speaks For Reds

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 15 (CP)—Canada's Deputy Welfare Minister Tuesday charged that the World Federation of Trade Unions is trying to speak for Russia in the United Nations.

Dr. George Davidson told the Social Committee of the Economic and Social Council that there is no justification in the WFTU's charge that the International Labor Office is trying to undermine the UN.

The 18-member committee approved the ILO decision to set up a nine-member fact-finding commission to investigate any complaints regarding freedom of labor association.

Canadians Hold 3 Jobs In Combined Operations

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., Feb. 15 (CP)—Canadians held three key jobs in direction of a combined Canadian - American Air Force defending an area massed with mountains which make it as tough for air defence as any in the world

Their role in Exercise Sweetbriar was seen as an augury of a future that might see the RCAF in an imminent position in real joint defence of this rugged northland. It reflected maturing plans for combined defence of the continent.

It also was part of the first outstanding success of the exercise proper — a relatively enormous staff setup in which hundreds of officers of the two countries are working together so closely, so easily and so well it is hard to believe.

As the first full day of the 10-day manoeuvre brought no contact with the "aggressor," either on land or in the air, attention focussed on this headquarters establishment that is big enough to fight a force many times the size of the 5,000 men actually involved. It, too, was an augury of a potential future.

Senior officers said it is the sort of setup that would exist if the two countries ever hope to wage war together to defend Canada's emptiness.

From the air standpoint, officers said, it would be a fight in which a real aggressor would hold big advantages. The mountains are so numerous, complex and close, they would thwart the humble radar far more numerous and efficient than the small amount in use now They would provide abundant approaches for an attacker, too.

The tactical situation is expected to move into the combat stage today, with the thermometer dropping towards low temperatures of 35 and 40 below, one of the essential requirements of army experiments.

On land, the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry should meet enemy troops, really Americans, moving down from Alaska, approximately 200 miles from Whitehorse. At the busy RCAF airdrome here, fighter pilots will be ready for the second consecutive day to duel for air supremacy with American planes from Alaska.

Weather Balky

Skittish weather that only got down to 13 below and intermittent snow ruined the air show on the first day.

Group Captain O. A. Gilchrist, DFC, lean, native of Weyburn, Sask., is in charge of the air force component.

Above the Gilchrist staff is another big and integrated headquarters directing the entire allied force. Above that again is a four-man court of final appeal for the entire manoeuvre, both friend and enemy.

Its chief is U. S. Brig. G. Stewart. Its Canadians are Lt.-Col. M. R. (Mike) Dare and Air Commodore Martin Costello

Bridgenorth Asks Central Location For Twp. Fire HQ

BRIDGENORTH, Feb. 15 — (ENS)—Residents in the Bridgenorth and Chemong Park area are now working to make sure that the fire fighting organisation which is being discussed by Smith township council will be adequate to deal with any emergency in that part of the township.

During the past three weeks a committee of residents has organised a canvass of Bridgenorth and Chemong residents, obtaining signatures to a petition to be presented to the township council requesting that fire fighting equipment shall include a pumper centrally located.

Residents in this area feel that one pumper stationed near Peterborough on the outskirts of the township would not give adequate protection and are asking that, if necessary, a second station be set up.

The committee composed of Al Crowe, Barry Seabrooke, Jim Johnson, Jack Smith and Jim Pettersone of Bridgenorth and Al Hyderman representing the Chemong Park residents, has canvassed 85 per cent of the population to date.

Date Of By-Elections Announced This Week

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 — (CP) — Date of Federal by-elections to fill two Ontario seats may be announced by the government this week. There has been speculation that the by-elections may be held in April in Toronto Broadview, left vacant by the death last week of T. L. Church, Progressive Conservative, and Hamilton West, represented by Mines Minister Gibson until he was appointed to the Supreme Court of Ontario in Janaury.

If the date is to be April 3 the law requires the election writ be issued this week. That's to allow the necessary 45 days to prepare for the by-elections.

Gang Up On Thief

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — Police said Tuesday night an attempt to rob a chain grocery store backfired when the store manager and his assistant ganged up on a suspect and gave him a thorough beating. In hospital with severe eye injuries is Clifford Nelson Hoover, 24, charged with armed robbery.

Falling Foreign Markets Concern Manitoba Gov't

By The Canadian Press.

The scope of problems confronting Canadian Legislatures began to appear today as members assembled for sessions at various provincial capitals.

The Manitoba and British Columbia Legislatures opened Tuesday; Quebec and Newfoundland start today, Ontario to-morrow. The others come later.

A Dominion-wide note was struck in the Throne Speech at Winnipeg, which said the Manitoba Government is concerned about falling foreign markets. The Coalition Government of Liberal Progressives and Progressive Conservatives won a sweeping majority in elections last fall.

The Manitoba Throne Speech, read by Lieut.-Governor R. F. McWilliams, declared the welfare of Canada requires that "active steps be taken to free world trade to the greatest extent possible." The Speech outlined the plans to amend labor legislation, an extensive highway program, expansion of the telephone system and rural electrification, and an expanded campaign against the grasshopper menace.

Mark Centennial

The opening at Victoria marked a centennial for British Columbia, where Governor Richard Blanchard read his commission for the region, then a Crown colony, on March 11, 1850.

It also saw BC's first woman Speaker in the chair, Hon. Nancy Hodges of Victoria, first woman Parliamentary Speaker in the Commonwealth.

The Throne Speech read by Lieutenant-Governor Charles A. Banks held few surprises; the major promises were decisions to proceed with a three-way housing project and to change administration procedure in the hospital insurance service.

Formalities will occupy the Quebec Legislature at today's opening, but starting next week the two - chamber Provincial House is going to sit afternoon and evening to clean up a big program by Easter.

Premier Duplessis' Union Nationale Government plans to introduce legislation for a provincial lottery, probably contingent on Federal amendment of the Criminal Code; and a measure to assume rent control if this field is removed from Federal jurisdiction by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Slate Not Ready

At St. John's the full slate of legislation is not yet ready for presentation and indications are that Canada's newest Provincial Legislature will adjourn for a week after today's opening. Premier Joseph Smallwood leads a group of 22 Liberals in the 28-member chamber.

A heavy program is ready for the Ontario Legislature, which opens tomorrow. The official CCF opposition has indicated it will oppose as "ambiguous and confusing" the government's education policy of reorganizing the curriculum and lowering academic standards for an emergency teachers' training program.

Make Daring Trip

CORK, Republic of Ireland, Feb. 15 — (AP). — Paul Muller, 64-year-old German radio engineer, and his daughter Aga, 17, sailed from here Tuesday for the Canary Islands in a 16-foot boat. The islands, 1,000 miles away, are the first objective of the German pair who are determined to cross the Atlantic to Buenos Aires to find a new home. They expect to make the Canary Islands in about three weeks.

Lucille Ball Big Flop As Salesman

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 15 (AP). —What happens when a movie star poses as a door-to-door seller? In Lucille Ball's case, she flopped flatter than a doormat.

The carrot-topped actress will play the title role in "The Fuller Brush Girl." She got in training for her part by being a residence retailer of cosmetics. Not only did she meet buyer resistance—she had trouble giving her wares away.

She picked out an area in North Los Angeles for her research. I tagged along. Also three studio employees, a photographer, Miss Ball's hairdresser, and a studio chauffeur.

At the first house she rang the doorbell and tapped her foot impatiently. A housewife stuck her head around the door.

"How do you do," said the actress, "I'd like to show the new line of cos—"

"Sorry, I've got some friends I am entertaining. I don't have time." That ended the interview.

No Better Luck

We tried the next house. This time the saleswoman identified herself as a face appeared at a peephole in the door.

"How do you do, I'm Lucille Ball and I'd like to show you the new line of—"

"Can't see it now," was the answer and the peephole closed.

"She was stark naked," reported Lucille.

"The next three residents failed to answer the doorbell. Lucille decided to try her luck across the street. Still no answers. She went back to the original side.

She finally had some luck with a little old lady. The lady admitted being a sucker for salesmen, adding that she had "boxes full of brushes in the basement." She accepted a box of cosmetics and tried to pay for it. "It's free," said Lucille.

Anyway, I hope she does better in the picture than she did in real life.

Great Engineer Dies

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—Internationally - known electrical engineer, Harold W. Price, died Tuesday. He retired three years ago as professor emeritus of the University of Toronto after serving nearly 45 years on the university staff. He was awarded the McCharles prize for distinguished work in power generation and transmission in 1935. In 1942 the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario endowed a $10,000 scholarship in his name for research at the university.

Dr. Harold Griffith Made A Fellow

MONTREAL, Feb. 15—(CP)—Dr. Harold R. Griffith, associate professor of anaesthesia at McGill University, has been made a Fellow of the Faculty of Anaesthetists of the Royal College of Surgeons of England, a McGill official announced Tuesday.

The award was made in recognition of outstanding contribution to anaesthesia, notably the introduction of Curare, a South American Indian arrow-head poison first used by Dr. Griffith. Only other Canadian doctor made a fellow of the English institution is Dr. Wesley Bourne, chairman of the Department of Anaesthesia at McGill, who was given the honor two years ago.

Eight Canadian Teachers Have All Comforts In U.K.

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Feb. 15—(CP)—Eight Canadian exchange teachers are enjoying the comforts of home in single and double-room London flatlets provided by the League of the British Commonwealth and Empire. They cook their own meals, arrange furniture and pictures to their own individual tastes, and, if they choose, put up their own curtains. They are relieved of the chores of cleaning and polishing, but have modern facilities for doing their own washing.

Since 1932 the league has maintained a hostel for the use of Dominion exchange teachers in a large, stone-fronted house at Victoria, southwest London. Recently the hostel was extended by purchasing a bomb-damaged house next door, which has since been repaired.

The two houses now accommodate eight Canadians and 15 others from Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia. They are temporarily employed at schools in London, Middlesex and Sussex.

No Central Heating

There is no central heating, but the Canadian girls, all of whom arrived in Britain last September, say they have learned to get along without it.

They speak highly of their new quarters, and when Minister of Education George Tomlinson opened the new premises this month, one of them signified her approval by presenting the minister with an apple.

"We feel we can really make homes for ourselves here," said Edith Carscadden of Toronto.

Aside from the eight living in London, 48 other Canadian teachers are working at schools in Wales, Scotland, Ireland and different parts of England. Fifty British teachers are working in Canada on exchange.

"Fortunately devaluation of the pound presents no obstacle to our teachers in Canada," said Miss E. A. Doggett, secretary of the League of Commonwealth and Empire. "The British Government is making up the difference between the old exchange rate and the new.

"We expect at least 39 British teachers will go to Canada this year, while a similar number will be coming here from Canada. The next exchange is due to take place some time in August when those now holding temporary posts will be returning to their homes."

Named News Editor

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Feb. 15 (CP)—Appointment of James F. (Jake) Calder as news editor of the Prince Albert Daily Herald was announced Tuesday by editor Burton Lewis. Apart from six years in the Canadian army, Mr. Calder has been engaged in newspaper work continuously for some 20 years, having worked with Toronto Star, Windsor Star, the old Hamilton Herald and the London Free Press.

County Roads All Open Engineer Says

"All 210 miles of county roads are open so far as I know," J. D. Kean, county engineer and road superintendent, told the Examiner today. Thus the heavy snowfall apparently did not hold up rural motor traffic to an appreciable extent.

By 6 a.m. Tuesday the county's snow clearing force of two graders and three trucks—one of the latter on hire — had swung into action. Most of the work was completed by early evening except for the River Road.

Having completed the sweep once the graders and trucks have returned to some of those stretches of road plowed early Tuesday. In the course of the day some of the snow had drifted back.

Crews worked about 17 hours yesterday to clear the roads for vehicular traffic.

Today the crews are working in two of the townships: all of the roads in North Monaghan and the 1st and 2nd Concessions of Smith, as well as the boundary road. These municipalities rent snow plowing equipment from the county.

United Council Asks Apology Of Cobourg Star

COBOURG, Feb. 15—(CP)—Northumberland and Durham counties council asked today that the Cobourg Sentinel-Star apologize for an editorial about the council.

The editorial, published in the Jan. 26 issue of the weekly newspaper, said that the council session last year had been marked by vile language and that one member staggered and read a report in a voice "heavily influenced by intoxicants"

A resolution was passed unanimously asking the paper to apologize."

"I condemn the paper," said Warden Bruce Jandrew. . . It is high time that this paper refrains from such writings. I never saw anybody stagger in this council chamber nor was his speech thick. It is about time those people over in the Sentinel-Star were put in their place."

Deputy Reeve G. F. Jamieson of Bowmanville, sponsoring the resolution, said: "I do not approve of drinking to excess but I never saw anything to support such an editorial."

Deputy Reeve George Galbraith of Cobourg seconded the resolution.

PARKED OFF!

The Reid Street driver was not running any risk of getting a ticket for all-night parking on the street, especially when the snow-plow was sure to be around sometime. He ran his car into the driveway—just a little bit, for the driveway had not been shovelled, and it would be downright silly to get stuck in one's own driveway, wouldn't it? Half the car — it was a small one—occupied the street sidewalk.

The snowplow did come around, but not the road one. It was the horse-pulled sidewalk plow. At nine o'clock this morning the Reid Street sidewalk was cleared, except where the car blocked it. The snowplower merely went around the obstacle, and so did all following pedestrians, along a path cleared from the walk to the gutter, into the road, back to the gutter, and up to the sidewalk again.

A question: is there a penalty for all-night parking on the sidewalk?—A.J.

Old Veteran Most Thankful

Appreciation of a Christmas gift parcel from Peterborough is expressed in a letter received by Mayor Swanston from Mr. A. Guttridge of Bournemouth, Eng., a former resident of this city and veteran of the 2nd Battalion, C. E.F., in the First Great War.

The parcel was not identified as to name of the donor, and Mr. Guttridge said he wished to thank somebody here for their kindness.

"It may innterest you to know that I lived on the bank of the Otonabee river near the bridge. That was in 1886. I enlisted in the 2nd Battalion of what was then known as the Peterborough Rangers. Captain Everett Birdsall and Lieut. (Harold) Hill were my officers, and a surgeon named Kincaid was our medical officer.

I think all have passed on (Col. Birdsall survived serious injuries in that war, and is still one of the leading farmers of Peterborough county).

I am now, I suppose, a relic of bygone days; 85 in March. My happiest days in Canada was when the going was on the hard side; but it made a man of me

Here is wishing you and Peterborough all the best for 1950 Kindly rest assured the people of Britain are at heart very grateful to you people for your generosity and self sacrifice."

Site Proposals Stir Interest Perplexity Rises

A spark of interest in the Community Centre is still glowing. Ald. Herb Young mentioned Monday night at the finance committee meeting that some property which had been considered for a site near the corner of Hunter and Burnham streets was "open for sale."

That location had been generally acceptable and had received the approval of the building committee of the Centre.

Ald. Young said he had also heard favorable comment on the proposal to try to have the federal government property on Chorlotte St. considered. It is based on an assumed deal between the city and the government.

Advantages Cited

Advantage as tenuously conceived was: clearance of the old stores on the south side of Charlouis St.; central site for the Memorial Centre with the rosiest prospects of avoiding annual deficits in operation that would have to be paid out of the taxpayers' treasury; on that site the building might be revenue producing; further prospect of a construction job getting under way at a time when several of the major contracts around town are nearly completed; suitable central site for the postal-customs building with as much land as they require, and entry on four sides.

Mayor Swanston said that the George St. site at Rink and Townsend Streets had been re-investigated again of late, and that tenders for the foundation on that property had been obtained by the architects, Blackwell and Craig. That information has been forwarded to the Centre committee.

In the meantime, street comment is inclined to retreat, reluctantly, from the first grandiose plans for auditorium-arena plus community meeting rooms. Casual opinion has reached the stage of wondering how the council and the Centre committee will ever surmount the obstacle of costs against the insufficient fund at present building expense levels.

Nursing Registry Asks Council For $1,000

Request for a grant of $1,000 was made to the finance committee of the council Monday night by representatives of the Community Nursing Registry.

Income of the Registry service last year was $2,839; expenditure amounted to $2,764.63, leaving a balance of $74.37.

Estimated income for this year is $3,714 and expenditure $5,079.80.

Details of financing last year showed receipts of $1,120 from registered nurses; $84 from nursing assistants; $165 from Victorian Order of Nurses; $1,125 doctors' telephone service; $110 from the County Medical Association; $25 from St. Joseph's Alumnae; $200 from Civic Hospital Alumnae.

Disbursements included $1,875 salaries; $616.47 office expenses; $180.56 telephone; advertising $16.36; miscellaneous $76.24.

Number of calls received and relayed to doctors 4,035; calls for registered nurses 1,771; calls for nursing assistants 110; calls relayed to V.O.N. 176.

Witness Claims Byrnes Did Not Point Gun Before Fatal Shot Fired

Joseph Byrnes, 26, charged with the murder of Mrs. Helen Kendry, Feb. 5, did not point the gun at any person, Crown witness Joseph Spencer, 24, of 610 Armour Rd., testified at the preliminary hearing which began before Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in police court today. Spencer, who was a member of the party said, just before he saw the flash of the gun and heard its report, he saw Byrnes with the rifle held in a natural manner at his hips at arms length, while standing beside a bed in the Byrnes bedroom.

Witness Spencer said the gun was pointed at the door swung back into the bedroom. He was bending over Mrs. Robert Weir, 41, of 634 Park St. who was lying on the floor just inside the bedroom doorway. Another unidentified was at Mrs. Weir's head.

Immediately after the gun report, Spencer heard someone in the living room say, "She's been shot!"

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw called Dr. Louis Zacks as first crown witness. Dr. Zacks went to St. Joseph's Hospital to examine Mrs. Kendry but found her dead, he said. There was considerable blood which had come from a wound in the left upper abdomen.

The doctor said he was called at 2.50 Sunday morning and Mrs. Kendry did not arrive at the hospital until about 3.25 a.m.

Emmett O'Donoghue, 22, of 449 Rogers St. was the first witness who was a member of the party at the Byrnes home.

He said he had ridden in the ambulance to St. Joseph's Hospital with Mrs. Kendry's body.

O'Donoghue first saw Byrnes about 10.15 p.m. Saturday night in a downtown hotel. With O'Donoghue were Vincent Garvey and Joseph Spencer.

Byrnes came to the table and drank one glass of beer and then left. They next saw him outside the hotel after 11 p.m.

Byrnes asked O'Donoghue to drive Danny McGregor, Mrs. Robert Weir and Mrs. Edward O'Toole to Byrnes home at 520 Hamilton St.

O'Donoghue, Spencer and Garvey then went to a party on Rubidge St., but returned to the Byrnes home about 1.30 a.m. Sunday.

When they arrived, there was "a bit of a scrap going on" between Byrnes and McGregor in the kitchen.

"They were pushing each other," said O'Donoghue. "There was a bit of blood around both their mouths."

"I was asked to drive Mrs. Byrnes to Dr. Robert Young," O'Donoghue continued as she had a cut on her hand. When they returned from the doctor's office everything was quiet. However about 15 minutes later the lights went out. At that time every one, except Byrnes was sitting in the living room. Someone suggested they go home. He said Garvey and he went outside and sat in their car. In about 10 minutes "As I approached the living room I heard a loud bang, saw a flash of fire and saw a figure fall in the living room," O'Donoghue said.

To Call Police

He said he went to call the police. Along with Garvey, Spencer, Mrs. O'Toole, Mrs. Byrnes and her baby, they drove to O'Donoghue's sister's home on Arndon Ave.

After phoning the police, O'Donoghue return to the Byrnes home.

Frost was in the living room bending over Mrs. Kendry. In the house were Constables Claire McGillen and Andre Dalton.

The lights were still out. O'Donoghue said he saw the wound in Mrs. Kendry but didn't know if she were living.

He went downstairs to the basement with Constable McGillen and found there were no fuses in the fuse box.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

SMOULDERING REGISTER

An accumulation of dust, lint and other rubbish in a hot air register began to smoulder shortly before 9.30 p.m. Monday at Ross Food Markets, Hunter St. E., and the Fire Department was called. Firemen used a hand pump to douse the rubbish.

SELKIRK RINK WINS

The Peterborough rink skipped by Vern A. Selkirk won its morning game today from Irwin Wallace, Port Carling by the score of 9-4 in the first round for the North American Life trophy. Two Fenelon Falls rinks were drawn against each other. T. G. Graham defeated J. H. Curtis by 14-7.

CCL CONFERS WITH UNION

Three top CCL officers tonight will be guest speakers at a private dinner for Outboard Marine Co. employees at Marino's Restaurant, George St. They are Fred Hannah, formerly CCL representative in Peterborough and now special IUE representative for Toronto; Henry Rhodes, regional director for Ontario, and Albert Johnston, director of the Trent Valley Area Joint Board, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CCL). At present the Outboard Marine plant has an independent union.

Priory Thanks Leo Tompkins

One of the highest awards of the St. John Ambulance Brigade and the first award of its type to be given to a Peterborough man, the Priory Vote of Thanks for Services Rendered, will be presented to Leo E. Tompkins, 88 Lynch St., in Toronto Thursday.

Mr. Tompkins will be the only Peterborough member to receive an award at the ceremonies Thursday. A large number of awards will be made to men who worked during the Noronic fire.

For the past 25 years Mr. Tompkins has been a member of the local brigade and previous to that he served in England He is now on reserve. For 15 years he was superintendent of the brigade, from which position he retired four years ago, but is still an active member.

The award is signed by the Governor-General of Canada and by the King. It is for special services rendered by a member of the St. John Brigade.

Attempt Is Made Enter Chamber Office

An attempt by someone to chisel his way into the Chamber of Commerce offices Tuesday night failed, probably because he was disturbed at the job.

Constable Donald P. Jones, in checking the Chamber of Commerce office in the Dominion Bank building about midnight, found that someone had tried to cut his way through the door stop to allow him to slide back the night latch.

Nothing was missing from the office.

No Serious Accidents

Despite the combination of ice, snow and sleet making driving conditions dangerous. Monday there were no serious accidents on local highways.

Provincial police report a minor mishap at 8.30 p.m. at Highways 7A and 28.

A car driven by Malyn Jones of RR R6, Peterborough, was going east on No. 7 when it hit a snow bank. It skidded on the slippery road surface and ran into the ditch, striking a hydro pole.

Jones was uninjured but there was about $125 damage to the car. The hydro pole remained intact.

Provincial Constables Roy Feeley and Norman De Bow investigated.

CAPTAIN S. G. MACKNESS

Third Mackness Receives Medal For Long Service

Award of the Long Service Medal to Captain Samuel G. Mackness, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mackness, 802 Water St., announced this week, adds a third member of the Mackness family to obtain the medal. The Captain's father, now aged 76, was with the Canadian Army 22 years, serving in both the South African and First World Wars and his brother Bill, a second class Warrant Officer, was awarded the Long Service Medal last year.

At the age of 36, Captain Mackness has served 21 years in the Infantry and was overseas four years, in Italy and Europe, during the Second World War. Warrant Officer Bill Mackness was in Canada during the greater part of the war, serving overseas in the last year.

Bert, the eldest of four boys, worked in an ammunition factory during the war and Jack, the youngest, was in the RCAF. He is now back to civilian life and is employed at the De Laval.

During the First World War Mr. Mackness attained the rank of sergeant major and he retired with the Meritorious Medal. He came to Canada from Britain in 1887, settling in Peterborough in 1894. He has four sons and four daughters.

Local UE Voice At Toronto In Negotiations

The UE-GE Joint Negotiating Committee representing the Toronto CGE plants, are renewing talks with the Company today in Toronto. Recently the union authorized a strike vote which the membership ratified.

Although not included in joint negotiations Local 524 UE is expected to have an active day in Toronto. Six of the local's negotiating committee have requested an interview with the Hon. Charles Daley, Ontario Labor Minister.

Should they be successful in their mission they will present a petition which the union claims was signed by 1,300 workers in the Peterborough plant.

The petition charges the Company with having broken the labor laws of the province in refusing to negotiate with it as the certified bargaining agent. It calls on the Minister to intervene and thus break the deadlock.

The delegation consists of T. P. Davies, president; Art Hunter, vice-president; and four other UE members—Roger Allchin, Cecil Harvey, Alex Sappela and Ray Peters.

Hydrogen Bomb Pushed Into UK Election

LONDON, Feb. 15 — (AP) — Winston Churchill's suggestion for new Big Three talks to end the cold war has pushed the debate on the hydrogen bomb into the British election campaign.

Churchill mentioned the bomb —but not by name—Tuesday night in a speech at Edinburgh. Then he called for East-West talks on the "highest level" in a "supreme effort to bridge the gulf between two worlds so that each can live their life, if not in friendship, at least without the hatreds and manoeuvres of cold war."

It was the first attempt by either the Conservatives or Labor to inject the East-West issue into the Feb. 23 general election campaign that thus far has been fought mainly on domestic grounds—more or less Socialism.

Better Trader

This suggested that Conservatives may end up their campaign by claiming that Churchill, if he becomes prime minister, could deal better with Premier Stalin than could Prime Minister Attlee.

Attlee, in correspondence made public recently, turned down a British Quaker suggestion that he try to arrange a meeting with President Truman and Stalin. President Truman also had stated he sees no prospect of reaching any agreement on atomic control in a Big Three meeting at the present time.

Churchill in his political speech at Edinburgh said that U.S. possession of the atom bomb had been a powerful force for peace since the war's end and added: "And now we are told they have a thousand-fold more terrible manifestation of this awful power." He failed to remark that the hydrogen bomb apparently is not yet perfected but is only in the development stage.

Newspaper Guild Raps Case Before Labor Relations Board

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CU)—The Canada Labor Relations Board today will hear evidence and argument on an application of the American Newspaper Guild (CIO-CCL) for certification as bargaining agency for a unit of employees of The Canadian Press, Canada's national news-gathering co-operative. The CP is opposing the application.

The application was made under the Federal Industrial Relations and Disputes Investigation Act. The Act provides that 51 per cent of eligible employees in a unit must belong to the applicant union before obtaining bargaining powers.

The Guild application purports to cover editorial employees of the CP within Canada, defined generally as those apart from the management, mechanical and maintenance staff. It states there are 124 of these employees and that at the time of application, Jan. 9, the Guild had signed cards from 78, or 63 per cent.

This total includes employees of Press News Ltd., which purchases news from CP, processes and sells it to private and CBC radio stations.

File Reply

In a reply to the union application filed with the Labor Board, The Canadian Press denies that the union has, as members in good standing, a majority of employees in the bargaining unit.

It says, too, the unit consists of only 71 employees, excluding those working for Press News and also excluding office boys and other employees which the Guild holds should be brought into the unit.

The Canadian Press also claims that "some of its employees were induced to become members of the applicant trade union by misrepresentations as to individual membership, numerical strength and general aims of the applicant."

John Osler of Toronto, representing the Guild at the hearing, said Tuesday night that claim would be contested.

"We do not believe there has been any misrepresentation," he said in an interview. "There may have been some misunderstandings, but no misrepresentations that affected the (Guild) membership."

No External Influences

In its reply, The Canadian Press also declared that CP reports serve 91 daily newspapers having 96 per cent of the total daily newspaper circulation in this country and that it is imperative CP news reports be factual, unbiased and non-partisan.

Noting that Guild policies are directed from the United States, it said that the integrity of Canada's national news requires that the editorial staff should not be subject to external influences.

The Canadian Press said also that "the horizons of some trade union interests have been extended in recent years into the fields of politics and political ideologies." It added work stoppages are called at times without reference to the public interest and on occasion in defiance of the laws of the land.

Norwood High School Holds Valentine Dance

NORWOOD, Feb. 15—(ENS)—The students of Norwood High School held a Valentine dance in the Armouries on Friday.

Music was supplied by Golloher's Orchestra, and the girls' Athletic Society sponsored the booth.

Winners of spot dance prizes were Janet Giffen and Arthur La Brash, Ruth Wood and Donald Wilson and Mrs. B. Kelly and Mr. B. Quinlan.

Won't Cut Immigration

TEL AVIV, Israel, Feb. 15 — (AP)—Israel "will not limit immigration" of foreign Jews, Foreign Minister Moshe Sharrett was quoted as saying Tuesday. A delegation of United Jewish Appeal officials headed by Louis Nizer of New York said Sharrett told them "Israel belongs as much to Jews seeking its haven as to those who have already obtained its shelter."

Railway Program

BONN, GERMANY, Feb. 15 — (AP)—The West German government Tuesday announced a 250,000,000-mark ($60,000,000 work program for German railways to help fight unemployment. Transport Minister Hans-Christoph Seebohm said the maintenance program will begin at once and provide 100,000 jobs for the next 10 months.

BATTLEGROUND — Political map shows percentage of seats in English House of Commons won by Labor Party in 1945 general elections. Black parts of map are mining and industrial areas where Laborites are solidly entrenched. Conservatives find strength in Northern Ireland (inset), residential districts, and farm areas. Shaded and cross-patch parts are "twilight zones" — critical battlegrounds where both parties are campaigning heavily for general election on Feb. 23

New Gun Developed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15—(AP)—The United States Army has asked for $4,518,500 to continue tests of the "Skysweeper," a top-secret anti-aircraft gun which it says can hit planes of supersonic speed (faster than sound) either night or day. Army Secretary Gordon Gray described the weapon as "our best answer to date for the threat posed by aircraft at short and medium ranges."

Ex-Editor Dies In Fall

NEW YORK, Feb. 15—(AP)—Laird Shields Goldsborough, 47, former Foreign Editor of Time magazine, plunged to his death Tuesday night from the ninth floor of the Time-Life building in Rockfeller centre. His hurtling body grazed a passer-by on the sidewalk before it crashed to the curbing. Joseph Padr, 37, a Czech jeweller and recent immigrant, was dashed to the pavement by the blow but escaped with a head cut and shock.

Fleming Says Reds In Key Positions

TORONTO, eFb. 15 — (CP). — Donald Fleming, Progressive Conservative member for Toronto Eglinton, said Tuesday night that there are Commnuists "in key positions in Canada's government service.

In an address delivered over the Trans-Canada network of the CBC in free time provided on the nation's business program, Mr. Fleming said the "time has come for action against Communists in Canada."

"We not only have Communists in our midst," said Mr. Fleming: "We have them in key positions in the government service."

Charges Seaway Subsidy For Steel Men

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15 (AP) —A coal company official said Tuesday night that a small group of steel operators would be getting a federal subsidy "of more than a billion dollars" if the St. Lawrence Seaway project is approved by the United States Congress.

Carroll B. Huntress, vice-president of Republic Coal and Coke Company of New York and chairman of a group opposing the St. Lawrence project, told the Women's Traffic Club that the proposed Canada-United States Seaway "has developed some of the most tragic quirks of human nature."

"For example, business men generally in this country have been loudly decrying the heavy spending by the federal government and the trend towards Socialism," Huntress said.

"But in the St Lawrence controversy we have the amazing spectacle of a group of small steel operators seeking what, in effect, would be a subsidy of more than a billion dollars in their hope of developing the Labrador-Quebec ore.

Huntress did not identify these steel operators.

ALBAN, NY, Feb. 15 (AP). — An eight-point blast at the proposed $1,000,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway and power development was loosed on Tuesday by a Republican legislator.

Assemblyman Wilson C. Van Duzer introduced a resolution asking the State Legislature to urge the United States Congress to continue blocking construction of the Canada-United States St. Lawrence River project.

Among Van Duzer's objections:

1—Vessels using the seaway would by-pass other ports and do "irreparable harm to the merchant fleet."

2—Railroads have estimated they would lose from $100,000,000 to $250,000,000 in revenue if the seaway were built.

3—The St. Lawrence affords an easy route for a foreign enemy to invade North America through the Great Lakes.

A HOUSE WAS HERE — Only a few foundation stones and two scratching chickens remain where a devastating tornado blew away a three-room farmhouse near Ripley, Tex. The bodies of Wilson Carroll, his wife and six children were scattered over a 60-yard area. All were dead. Another death brought the death toll in the house to nine.

Break Tradition Of Parliament No Woolsack At This Opening

By H. DENT HODGSON.

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 — (CP). — Parliament, for the first time since Confederation — to the knowledge of senior officials — will open tomorrow without a woolsack. It may be that the woolsack has disappeared from parliamentary tradition.

The woolsack is a wobbly, circular object stuffed with wool and covered with crimson cloth. It appears only at the formal opening of Parliament and spends most of the time in a storeroom.

Placed a few yards in front of the Speaker's chair in the Senate, it provides a traditional, if uncomfortable, seat for the Supreme Court Judges when the Speech from the Throne is being read by the Governor-General.

When the Supreme Court of Canada Act was amended last year abolishing appeals to the Privy Council, the number of Supreme Court Judges was raised from seven to nine. A few months ago it occurred to officials that, where seven Judges had found the woolsack difficult, nine would find it impossible. There wasn't time to build a new one.

Sit On Chairs

Consequently, the Judges this year will sit in three rows of straight-backed chairs, facing the Speaker's throne.

Nobody seems to have decided yet, but the new arrangement may turn out to be permanent. If so, it will mean a break with a tradition handed to Canada from the British Parliament and which originated during the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

At that time, Parliament passed an Act prohibiting the export of wool, one of England's chief sources of wealth. The High Judges of the realm were provided with sacks of wool as seats so that they might be constantly reminded of the English woollen industry.

BUILDING BOOMS

Alberta's contracts for construction totalled $104,400,000 in 1949, making her the third-ranking province in total of new building.

COMMISSIONED IN NAVY

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 (CP) — Petty Officer John Maxwell Reid, 24, of North Bay, has been commissioned with the rank of Acting Sub Lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy, naval headquarters announced today. He joined the navy as an ordinary seaman in 1943 and served as a gunner aboard merchant ships in the Second World War before transferring to the permanent force in 1945. He has served aboard both the Cruiser Uganda and the tribal class destroyer Nootka.

Bishop Addresses Joint Meeting At St. Anne's

The meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of St. Peter's parish was held in St. Anne's School Monday evening. Chairman Mr. W. J. Cunningham presided.

His Excellency Bishop Gerald Berry opened the meeting with prayer. The president welcomed members from the Immaculate Conception, Sacred Heart and St. John's parish.

Two solos by Mr. Earnest Saraccini, "Old Man River" and "Some Enchanted Evening," were much enjoyed. He was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Aman.

Bishop Berry gave an interesting account of his recent trip to Rome. He began by saying none of the bishops of Peterborough had been to Rome in some 20 years. They are required to go or send a complete, detailed report of the diocese.

Bishops are usually granted a private audience of at least 15 minutes. It is a great and unique privilege to see the holy father. This visit is called "ad lima"—meaning going to the tomb of St. Peter and St. Paul. St. Peter was buried at St. Peter's and St. Paul outside the city of Rome.

"As we approached the square or piaza and viewed the immense granite column, I must confess I did not immediately grasp the immense physical proportions. We saw the immense altar, constructed in a "U" shape, with lights all around. The first altar is where St. Peter confessed his faith and which is called the altar of confession. Here the bishops when on formal visits say mass. Above this and immediately under the dome, is the papal altar where the Pope alone says mass, facing the people.

"At St. Peter's one can start at the 16th Century and work down to the 4th Century, and even down to the 2nd Century before Christ."

His excellency went one to describe the beautiful dome of St. Peter's, lined with mosiac, in which the cross is set.

"We also visited the famous art galleries in the beautiful medieval city of Florence. A most unforgetable sight was the sun shining through the famous west rose window in the magnificent Notre Dame Cathedral. We also viewed appalling destruction by bombings in Germany."

His excellency was thanked by Mr. P. J. Burke.

Parent attendance prizes were won by grade 1 of St. Peter's, room 1 of St. Mary's and Miss Neville's room at St. Ann's.

Lunch was served by Mrs. D. Emery and room mothers, Mrs. P. J. Anglesey, Mrs. John Legris, Mrs. Joseph Marino and Mrs. C. J. Perdue. Tea was poured by Mrs. M. Murray and Mrs. C. Dinon. Mrs. W. J. A. Fair was in charge of the tea table, assisted by Mrs. H. Crowley.

"I got the job dear. It seems to have plenty of opportunities!"

Chapter Repeats Success With 1950 Valentine Ball

"Will you be my Valentine?" said a lovely home-made picture card, embodying all the old-fashioned lace and romance of the Festival of Hearts, and keynoting decorations for the Valentine Ball at Club Aragon Tuesday evening.

And cupids were taking aim at a great big red heart, with a halo silver, and stirring the emotions of 500 dancers, enjoying another of the grand parties that Major Bennett Chapter members give each year. This time they had it right on St. Valentine's birthday, and it was, as usual, a social and financial success.

A ciel of balloons in assorted colors and shapes hung over the dance floor and balloons and hearts outlined the orchestra stand where a silvery tree had red heart-shaped blossoms.

Inscribed match books were favors to the guests and gentleman had the privilege of choosing fresh flower corsages for their ladies from a wide selection offered by Chapter members.

Winners of the door prize were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fitzgerald, and the draw prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. V. J. LaPlante and Miss R. Allen and Mr. H. Barrett.

Miss Joyce Alexander, regent of the Chapter, received the guests, assisted by the honorary regent Mrs W. Gordon Hall and Lt. Col. Hall, and Mayor M. J. Swanston and Mrs. Swanston.

Hartley-Palin Wedding Rites Of Interest Here

A wedding of interest here took place Saturday afternoon in St. Cuthbert's Anglican Church, Leaside, with Canon P. Morland Lamb officiating, of Shirley Kathleen Palin, Reg. N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric L. Palin of Leaside, and formerly of Peterborough, and Mr. John Hartley, only son of Mrs. M. E. Hartley and the late Mr. Hartley, also formerly of this city.

Wedding music was played by Mr. John Hooper of Peterborough, brother-in-law of the groom. Spring flowers at the altar formed a background for the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin with long train. Tiny buttons fastened the fitted bodice which had long sleeves. She wore a finger-tip veil inset with tiny seed pearls and carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias and bouvardia.

Miss Germaine Laderach of Toronto, formerly of Peterborough, was maid of honor, wearing a gown of azure blue satin made with high buttoned yoke and long sleeves. She had mittens to match and a halo of pink carnations and pink bouvardia, and she carried a cascade of Bettertime roses. Sharon Hooper, niece of the groom, was flower girl in a dress of matching blue satin with which she wore a tiny tiara of pink carnations and pink rosebuds. Her small nosegay was of the same flowers.

Mr. Ken Mann was groomsman and the ushers were Hal Holden and Neil Harris.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 98 Donnelly Drive. Mrs. Palin receiving wore a long fitted gown of black crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses and orchids. She was assisted by Mrs. Hartley who was in a long gown of blue crepe and wore black accessories and a corsage of pink roses and orchids.

The bride and groom left by motor for a winter holiday in the Muskoka district. The bride's going-away outfit was a suit of royal blue velvet with matching hat and gloves and shortie coat. Her corsage was of white gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley will live at 98 Donnelly Drive, Leaside.

DOROTHY DIX

Marriage on Shoestring Fault of Parents

DEAR MISS DIX: People are always saying that the young people of today are not willing to start life as their fathers and mothers started. Don't you think that this is often the fault of their parents?

A REGULAR READER.

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: It is the fault of their parents and life in general, for we are all products of our own age and slaves to the habits that have been bred in us.

When mother and father married they commenced housekeeping in a couple of rooms of a tiny cottage. Mother did all of the cooking and washing and scrubbing. Father worked early and late to provide for his family and neither one ever any more thought of going out to some amusement two or three times a week or belonging to clubs or of giving cocktail parties than they thought of having diamond tiaras and going to Europe every summer. And all of this was no hardship on mother and father because it was just continuing the simple manner of life in which they had been brought up.

A Different World

But the girl and boy of today who get married live in a different world. The bride nowadays doesn't retire to the kitchen. She hikes out to the beauty parlor and the little French shops. She has a dozen dresses where her mother had one and she generally is more adept in mixing a drink than she is performing on the gas range. Same way with the man. He wants to step out just as much after marriage as he did before. And no young couple would think that they could live without an automobile or going to the movies or any othter of the diversions to which they have been accustomed.

We may say this is all foolish and wrong and the young people should start where their parents did, but it isn't easy to go backwards.

It isn't easy for a girl who has always had lots of pretty clothes to go shabby or for one who all of her life has ridden in an automobile to drag around in a street car. It isn't easy for the boy who has always had good clothes and been able to indulge himself in everything he wanted to have to wear hand me downs and count his pennies. It isn't easy for those who have always lived in beautiful surroundings to have to live in a shabby little house and eat plain meals.

And so it is no wonder that when so many young couples who have married on a shoestring and the proposition that love is enough find themselves up against the hard realities of trying to scuffle along on an insufficient income, they declare that marriage is a failure and throw up their hands and quit.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widow with two children whom I adore and for whom I have made many sacrifices, trying to educate them and to make them a comfortable home. I am not a prude, but I feel that they are going too far, for they are doing things that shock my ideas of right and wrong. Please tell me if you would be willing for your daughter, a young girl, to go in a car to a city 160 miles distant with two men, both of whom drink in excess. Do you think two girls should go to a strange town with a young man friend to stop with him at a hotel for a week-end?

OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER.

ANSWER: There are certain principles of proper conduct that are never oldfashioned, because they are elemental. And one of these is that a girl may not go to a hotel with a man unless she is adequately chaperoned. Their relationship may be purely platonic their conduct the ping of propriety, but they could never convince a suspicious and censorious world of it. It simply isn't done by a respectable girl.

Nor is it proper for two girls to go alone to a strange town and stop at a hotel unless they have some very good reason for doing so and unless they are very discreet in their conduct. As for letting your daughter go on a long automobile ride with two strange men of whom you know nothing except that they drink, it is like throwing her to the beasts.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a husband who is at home a great deal, and he is about to run me crazy by running the radio every minute. I have done considerable talking about this to my husband but it does not make any difference. What can I do?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Nothing except put cotton in your ears. When people are radio addicts they lose all human pity and become fiends, indifferent to the suffering of others. But you have lots of companions in misery, if that is any comfort.

McKENNEY Answers Your CANASTA Questions

Today's article continues the explanation of the science of freezing the pack as outlined in Oswald Jacoby's new book, "Complete Canasta," published by Doubleday & Company of New York. Mr. Jacoby's earlier book, "How to Win at Canasta," was a best seller for many weeks. This new book is far more complete, covering fine points for beginners as well as scientific plays for experts.

Mr. Jacoby has the following to say about attacking freeze:

"The attacking freeze is used when you are playing for a big hand. It is extremely effective against opponents who have made the mistake of putting down several melds without having left themselves a play for out.

"For example, suppose the opponents hold four or five cards each after melding:

K K K, Q Q Q 2, 7 7 2, 5 5 5, and 4 4 4

"Your side has melded:

K K K K K Joker-Joker, Q-Q Q , J J J, 8 8 2, 7 7 7, and 5 5 5 5 5

"You hold these 18 cards:

A A J J 10 10 9 9 8 8 6 6 4 4 3 3 2 2

"Your partner is down to only a few cards, and you suspect that he has a couple of fours among them. If you simply discard a black three, there is a good chance that your partner at his next turn will have to throw an ace, ten or nine. Since none of these cards has yet been melded, there is also a good chance that the next player will take the pile, acquiring some extra cards and a base for a canasta.

"If you freeze the pile, your partner will be able to discard his fours safely. Your right-hand opponent will have to give you the pack with almost any discard. Even better, your partner may be able to take the pile and thus get back into position to co-operate in the offensive.

"The only danger is that one of the opponents will manage to acquire one of the few remaining bases, meld a canasta, and go out. The odds are greatly against this and much in favor of a long and successful offensive."

Q—I have 3 nines in my hand. The top card of the discard pile is a 9 and I know that the card under the up-card also is a 9. We need 50 points for our initial meld. Can I pick up the discard pile with my 3 nines and then add the fifth nine to make the minimum meld?

A—No, you may not. Only the top card of the discard pile may be used to meet the requirement of your initial meld. For example, if you held 2 nines and a deuce in your hand, you could pick up the pile and use the nine on top for your initial meld of 50 points. Then you could add any other nine or nines in the discard pile to your meld.

Q—If I complete a canasta of 5 tens, a deuce and a joker, what does it count for me?

A—First you get 300 points for a mixed canasta. After scoring your basic, you add up the value of the individual cards you have melded. In this case the cards in your mixed canasta add up to 120, which you would include in the total value of all the cards you have melded. This is not a duplication of count. The 300 points for a completed mixed canasta is a bonus in addition to the point value of the individual cards.

✧ ✧ ✧

In past articles I've spelt out the main features of Canasta strategy for you and if you've learned your lesson you should be playing a good game. The amount of mail I've received from readers shows there is some uncertainty on important points. This week let's take time of to discuss those questions which seem to bother readers most.

Q—I do not like to get caught with an ace, as it counts 20 points against me. Do you recommend discarding an ace?

A—If the opponents only need 50 points for their initial meld, do not hesitate to discard an ace if the pack consists of only 3 or 4 cards. If the opponents need 90 points for an initial meld, and you are the first player next to the dealer, the discard of an ace is not too inadvisable.

But when the opponents need 120 points for their initial meld, the discard of an ace is dangerous. If your left-hand opponent happens to have 2 aces, he can pick up the one you discard, and he may be able to add a joker and a deuce to them for a five-card meld.

I would not be inclined to start a canasta of aces too quickly. If I have to meld 2 aces and a joker so that my partner or I can pick up the pack, I think that is a valuable play; but it is more difficult to form a canasta of aces than of any other card because most palyers hesitate to discard aces.

There is therefore a stranger possibility that you may not be able to complete a canasta of aces; but as I said above, if you want to discard an ace, do it when the pack is very small.

Q—If I can take the up-card of the discard pile and form a canasta, but it does not meet the initial meld requirement, may I do so?

A—The melding of a canasta does not waive the initial meld requirement unless you go out concealed—that is, meld your whole hand at one time.

Q—Must we have a canasta before I can ask my partner's permission to go out?

A—No, you do not have to have a completed canasta before asking your partner for permission to go out, but you must be in a position to lay down or to complete a canasta. Remember that if your partner says yes, you still could not go out unless you had a completed canasta.

Q—Our initial meld requirement was 50 point. I had 3 aces in my hand. The up-card of the discard pile was a 7. I had a 7 and a deuce in my hand. At my turn to play I laid down the 3 aces, then I put my 7 and deuce down and started to pick up the discard pile.

My opponents objected, and said I had to have an initial meld down before I could take the discard pile. I pointed out that I had made my initial meld of 3 aces (60 points); therefore I thought I had a perfect right to pick up the discard pile. Was I right?

A—No, you were wrong. The rules state that the procedure of play is the draw, the meld and the discard. When you put your 3 aces down, you melded before you drew. According to the rules, you must draw first.

The rule further state that you cannot take the up-card of the discard pile before you have made an initial meld unless you have 2 natural cards to match the up-card. Therefore your opponents were right in stating that you could not take the discard pile in the circumstances you describe. You could draw from the stock pile and then meld your 3 aces.

2 Taxi Drivers Turn Midwives

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP).— Two taxi-drivers, one married and one single, were hurriedly pressed into the role of midwives today, assisting in the birth of a baby at the home of Mrs. Anne McKeown, 23.

Michael Bendetto, the married driver, said when he answered the emergency call early today, he realized Mrs. McKeown could not be moved downstairs to the cab.

He called the cab company on its radio system and told them to send a doctor. Don Copland, single, heard the call and tried to get a stretcher. Then he telephoned for an ambulance and rushed to the house.

The woman was later removed to hospital where she and the baby, a six-pound girl, were reported "doing fine."

Witness Claims

"They couldn't get the stretcher in the house, so Frost and I picked up Mrs. Kendry and carried her out to the ambulance," he said.

"What was Byrnes' condition when he came into the hotel?" defense counsel T. J. Carley, K.C., asked.

"He had been drinking." I could tell that."

"What about the condition of Danny McGregor?"

"He was partly drunk."

At the other party on Rubidge St., O'Donoghue said he had one pint of beer and no hard liquor. Spencer had one pint but Garvey had none.

"I saw Byrnes get up and leave the living room," the witness said.

"Was there anything said about going home before the lights went out?" Mr. Carley asked.

"Not that I heard," O'Donoghue replied.

Before O'Donoghue and Garvey went out, Mrs. Weir and Mrs. O'Toole had asked for a ride home.

O'Donoghue had gone back to Byrnes' home to hurry up the others. He said he didn't know where he saw the flash, whether it was in the living room or the bedroom.

As soon as he saw the figure fall he turned and went out again. He phoned the police from his sister's home.

O'Donoghue drove back to Hamilton St. and parked a few doors east of the Byrnes' home. He followed the police constables into the house, whre he saw Byrnes standing in the doorway of the bedroom dressed "just in his shorts."

Constable Douglas Farthing said he received one call from O'Donoghue at 3.05 a.m. and another at 3.06 a.m. from 519 Hamilton St.

Constable John Morrow called an ambulance at 3.10 a.m. on a radio call from Constable McGillen.

Next witness, Constable McGillen, said: "When I arrived O'Donoghue and Garvey were standing on the sidewalk, and Spencer and McGregor were at the door."

"When I went in there was a lady lying on the floor with a Mr. Frost kneeling by her side, stroking her head and holding her hand," he continued.

"Her clothes were disarranged and you could see a hole in her abdomen about two inches above the navel."

"I saw Byrnes carrying a rifle." Byrnes later handed it to Constable Dalton who turned it over to Constable McGillen. There were no shells in the gun.

He said there was considerable light in the living room coming from the moon and a street light across Hamilton St.

The rest of the house was not so light and Constable McGillen needed a flashlight to find his way about.

In the bedroom were two cartons of beer containing mostly empty bottles. In the hall 21 empty bottles were lined up, and another four empties were in the kitchen sink.

"At the centre by the chesterfield I picked up a lead slug," Constable McGillen continued. He found a shell in the baby's crib. It smelled strongly of burnt powder.

The hole in the door and north living room wall went through at a horizontal angle of about 45 degrees.

The hole on the living room side of the wall was bigger indicating the bullet had travelled from bedroom to the living room.

Constable W. S. Fife drove Byrnes to the police station. Byrnes had been drinking but was not drunk. McGregor was very unsteady on his feet. Garvey, Spencer and O'Donoghue were not drunk, the officer said.

"Mrs. Kendry was still living when I arrived," the constable said. He could not tell whether she was living when put on the stretcher.

Constable Dalton said, when he went into the house the first thing he saw was a woman lying on the floor.

With a flashlight he saw a wound on her stomach about half an inch in diameter.

Two men came out of another room, one carrying a rifle. The rifle was not produced in court. It was in Ottawa for examination.

Mrs. Kendry's breathing was short with a gurgling sound. The only movement was a spasmodic jerk of one of her arms, Constable Dalton testified.

During the testimony Byrnes, sitting in the prisoner's box, smiled slightly to his wife across the court room.

Seeing a man kneeling beside Mrs. Kendry, Dalton said "Who are you?"

The man answered, "I'm her boy friend." He learned later the man was Frost.

"What was Byrnes' condition?" Mr. Carley asked.

"He had been drinking, but was not drunk," Constable Dalton declared.

Joseph Spencer, 24, of 610 Armour Rd., another member of the party, said he first saw Byrnes at the downtown hotel.

Spencer said he also saw Byrnes and McGregor scuffling in the kitchen. He stayed at the house when Mr. Byrnes was taken to a doctor.

Mrs. O'Toole and Mr. Byrnes were dancing while the others sat around and talked. After Mrs. Byrnes arrived back with O'Donoghue and Garvey, the lights went out.

The next thing I saw was Byrnes standing in the doorway with a gun. He asked everyone to leave. He said he wanted to go to bed.

Spencer said he got up to leave. Mrs. O'Toole and Mrs. Weir asked for a ride home.

"I started for the back door and I heard Mr. Byrnes yelling "Get her out of here! Get her out of here."

"As I got to the bedroom I saw Mrs. Weir fall to the floor just inside the bedroom door," Spencer said. Her head was near the door. Spencer thought she had been knocked out and he leaned over her chaffing her hands. Another woman was at her head.

"Where was Byrnes?" Crown Attorney Bradshaw asked.

"He was standing by the bed with a gun in his hands," Spencer said.

He had the gun at his hip pointing toward the door. Spencer saw a flash and heard the report.

"Someone yelled in the other room, 'She's shot!' or something like that."

"Did you see during the whole night the gun pointed at any person?" Mr. Carley asked.

"No, I didn't," Spencer replied. He said Byrnes was holding the gun in a natural manner at arm's length, in answer to a question by Mr. Carley.

At this point court adjourned to 2.15 p.m.

CHAMPION EGG-EATER, George Howell, is shown taking the first glass of six raw eggs, on the way to setting a new record—six dozen in six minutes, 37 4/5 seconds. The champ, who performed his feat in Lethbridge, Alta., had one complaint. His handlers, who were cracking eggs into glasses, were careless. "Could have clipped 45 seconds off my time by not stopping to pick shells out of my teeth," said George. The plate of French fried potatoes, at right, was used as a chaser to the 72 cackle-berries.

Property Committee Asks Board To Provide $132,835

Property Committee estimates for the Board of Education this year have been tentatively set at $132,835. This is an increase of $1,340 over the 1949 estimates but $13,367.13 more than the actual disbursements.

Increased caretakers' salaries and maintenance men's wages account for a difference of $9,937.32 between the 1949 disbursements and this year's estimates. Caretakers' salaries are up $4,760.05 and wages of those engaged on maintenance $5,207.27.

Other items are fairly well in line with those of 1949. The estimate on fuel is up nearly $2,000, but it was explained that in view of the labor unrest in the coal mining industry in the United States it was difficult to make an accurate prediction on this item.

Following is the recommendation of the property committee in detailed form:

Cobourg Board Took Lower Pavilion Bid

COBOURG, Feb. 15—(ENS)—Tenders offered in 1949 by Stanley Williams and Sam Stover for the lease of the park pavilion here were $1,500 and $3,100.

Previously the tenders had been quoted at $1,500 and $8,500 —the latter $5,400 over what was actually offered. Williams' $1,500 bid for the pavilion, which was accepted by the Parks Board, touched off a feud in Cobourg that ended Monday in the resignation of Mayor Joseph Smith.

The mayor referred to the lease at a dinner party a couple of weeks ago and was reported as making derogatory remarks about Stover who is of Greek origin.

The implication was that Stover had been discriminated against because of his national origin.

Council said they were under the impression that Williams, who leased it the year before, had a prior claim.

Two New Judges Have Been Appointed

OTTAWA, Feb. 15 — (CP). — Appointment of two new Judges in Ontario and Quebec was announced today by the Justice Department. Gerald F. Smith of Napanee has been appointed Judge of the County Court for the County of Lennox and Addington in Ontario. Harry Batshaw, a Montreal lawyer, has been named puisne Judge of the Superior Court for the district of Montreal in Quebec.

Carries 3 Children From Blazing House

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP) — Three children were saved by their mother today when fire destroyed a partly-completed house in suburban Scarboro township. Damage was estimated at $7,500.

Firemen said Mrs. G. Weese awakened to find the house in flames, started by an overheated stove. She carried her three children out of the basement where all were sleeping.

Geo. W. Bourke Heads Sun Life

MONTREAL, Feb. 15—At the 79th annual meeting of the Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Arthur B. Wood's last act as president was to announce, for the benefit of 16 million policyholders, that their dividends will be increased in 1950. The total paid in 1949 was $16 million. At a directors' meeting following the annual meeting Mr. Wood was elected chairman of the board, and George W. Bourke, vice-president and managing director, was elected president.

Five years ago a new scale was adopted for the distribution of dividends to policyholders, and on most plans this resulted in substantially increased dividends. Earnings in 1949 were favorable, and Mr. Wood said that the board's opinion is that they are likely to continue favorable. Therefore on policies issued at Northern rates the announced increase will take effect from April 1 this year.

The $4.2 billion of life assurance in force includes $3.2 billion of ordinary business and $953.1 million of group life. Of 1.1 million ordinary life assurance policies the minimum policy is for $1,000 and the maximum for $250,000, the average being $2,970. The group life assurance certificates number 495,116.

Battle For Control Of 5,000 Union Men

VANCOUVER, Feb. 15.—(CP).—The battle for control of 5,000 mine and smelter workers in Trail, B.C., moved into Supreme Court Tuesday.

Two officers of the Trail local of International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union (CIO) announced they will seek an injunction preventing any other labor organization from using their name in order to get members.

The desired injunction is directed against the newly-formed Trail local of the United Steel Workers of America, which is attempting to absorb the members.

Last October the UMMSWU was expelled from the Canadian Congress of Labor on grounds that it was Communist-led.

Last week 86 elected officers of the local resigned and joined the Steelworkers' Union.

Sees End of Deficit

TORONTO, Feb. 15.—(CP)—Regularity of winter service and the steady development of commodity traffic will put an end to the North American operations deficit of Trans-Canada Airlines, Gordon R. McGregor, said in an address the financial difficulties entailed in over-ocean operations will not be cleared up as fast as those in North America but "in time," he said, "these evils will be overcome."

Guelph Police Ask Increase Of $300

GUELPH, Feb. 15 (CP)—Maintaining that Guelph policemen are paid less than city bus drivers and public works employees while their occupational hazard was much greater, a delegation from the police association waited on the Guelph Police Commission Tuesday requesting an annual wage increase of $300.

The delegation claimed that only two centres in Ontario, Owen Sound and St. Thomas, pay starting officers less than Guelph.

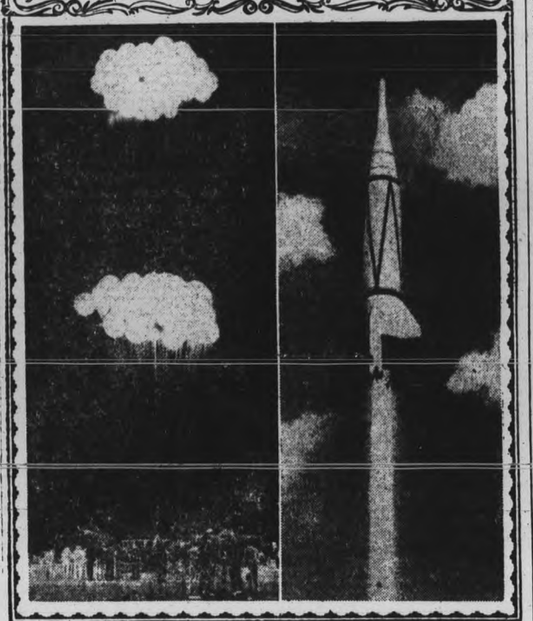
HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS



GOING UP! Throughout the first half of the Twentieth Century, scientists probed ever further into the mists beyond the earth's atmosphere. At left above is the weird, multi-balloon contraption in which Dr. Jean Piccard, noted stratospherist, hoped in vain to soar 20 miles above the earth. This test flight, in July, 1937, began at Rochester, Minn., and ended safely near Lansing, Iowa. At right is the spectacular takeoff at White Sands, N. M., of a two-stage rocket, a German V-2 and a smaller, American-built "WAC Corporal." Carrying delicate intruments for sending back cosmic data by radio, the "Corporal" zoomed at the rate of 5,000 miles an hour up 250 miles above the earth, higher than any other man-made object had ever gone.

Northern Ireland Has 12 MP's But Election Noisy, Involved

By DON GILBERT

BELFAST, Feb. 15 — (CP) — Northern Ireland sends only a dozen members to the Parliament of Westminster, but campaigning for the Feb. 23 General Election is noisy and involved.

As always in Irish electioneering, a lot is heard of the partition which separates Northern Ireland from the Republic of Ireland to the south.

Some 25 candidates are in the field for the 12 seats. The Conservatives, who in Northern Ireland call themselves Ulster Unionists and are champions of the British connection, are contesting every one. They hope to improve on their nine-seat showing in 1945.

Opposing the Conservatives are two Labor parties and an assortment of groups militantly partisan to Dublin.

The Northern Ireland Labor Party, which had lost ground because of a tendency to fence-sit on the partition issue has changed its ground. Now it is distributing 365,000 copies of a pamphlet called "Get into Step With Great Britain."

Second Labor Group

This stand has brought into action a second Labor Group, the Eire Labor Party, controlled from Dublin, which seeks to unite all Ireland under a Labor administration. Jack Beattie, who sat for Belfast west as a regular Labor member, now is running as an Eire Labor candidate.

Belfast west is the riding where a former deputy mayor of Lloydminster, Sask., Major J. H. McCormick, entered the fray as an Independent Conservative but later withdrew, increasing the chances of the regular Conservative nominee, the Rev. J. G. MacManaway known as the "fighting parson."

A fourth candidate is James Steele, representing the Irish revolutionary Sinn Fein Party. But not much will be heard from Steele personally. Like two other anti-partition candidates, he is serving a long prison term for his militant political activities.

Another imprisoned Sinn Fein candidate is Hugh McAteer, Chief of Staff of the Irish Republican Army in Northern Ireland, who is serving a 15-year sentence. His nomination papers gave his address as "H. M. Prison, Belfast."

Officer Crushed

WHITEHORSE, Y.T., Feb. 15—(CP)—A Western Canada army officer has been reported as the first severe casualty of Exercise Sweetbriar. He is Lt. J. W. D. Lewis, of Calgary, who was crushed Sunday night between a snowmobile and a jeep.

The officer of the Princess Pat's Canadian Light Infantry is reported in serious condition and a doctor at the military hospital at Whitehorse said he is suffering multiple injuries.

How to Make a Splendid Cough Syrup at Home

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of plain syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make in your own kitchen. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble! (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.)

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16 oz. bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really splendid medicine for bad winter coughs. It makes a real saving, because it gives you four times as much cough syrup for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is a very effective, dependable, quick-acting cough medicine for the whole family. Quickly, you feel its penetrating effect in the air passages. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You will be delighted with its quick effect in clearing up coughs.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well known reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

Pinex Is Dependable. Saves Money. Easy To Mix.

Canadians Make Security Creed

TORONTO, Feb. 15 — (CP) — Millions of Canadians are making a creed of security," Leslie Mutch, Parliamentary Secretary to Veterans Minister Gregg, said Tuesday.

"In Canada," he said in a prepared address to the Liberal Business Men's Club of Toronto, "it is an ill-fitting garment that hampers our development and could strangle us." The almost universal demand for some form of security is because "we Canadians are afraid."

This fear was caused partly by the "hungry mismanaged '30s."

It was in part, a heritage of two world wars and evidence of the "softening of our moral fibre." It was not confined to any group, class or region.

"Security in this sense is the antidote to terror, the excuse of the lazy, the narcotic for the weak-willed and the refuge of the coward."

Mr. Mutch said "social security is indefinable, immeasurable and dishonest. It promises to all, by inference, and directly to many, according to locality and interest, something which is capable of a thousand interpretations and has no reality."

Second Blonde Gets Threat From First

DETROIT, Feb. 15 — (AP). — A second blonde in the Walter Reuther shooting trial Tuesday reported a threat—from the first one.

Mrs. Lucille Bonasara said the threat came from Mrs. Dorothy Collins of Toronto. Both were State's witnesses in the trial of Carl Bolton on a charge of assault with intent to kill Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers (CIO).

Mrs. Bonasara said Mrs. Collins, common-law wife of the State's star witness, John Kaliszewski, telephoned her twice last weekend. She said the Toronto blonde told her to "stick to the story Johnny (Kaliszewski) told or you'll be taken care of."

Only last Friday Mrs. Collins said she was threatened by two men on her way to testify in court.

Plastic Applicator

TORONTO, Feb. 15 (CP)—Development of a plastic radium applicator for treatment of internal cancerous growths was disclosed today at the eighth annual Canadian plastics conference.

The applicator was designed in the radio therapy departmen tat the Toronto General Hospital. It is made of nylon closely resembling the molecular structure of human tissue.

$25,000 Increase In Police Expenditures

KITCHENER, Feb. 15—(CP)—An increase of nearly $25,000 in police department expenditures was indicated for 1950 when preliminary estimates were discussed Monday by city council and the police commission.

The increase includes provisions for salary and equipment of seven new recruits which are urgently needed according to Chief John Patrick.

Last year's expenditures totalled $122,618. The preliminary estimates for the year show a possible expenditure of $150,999.

No Trace Of Six Fliers On Missing Bomber, Ship Rescues 11 Others

Canadian Navy, RCAF Spearheading Search Along British Columbia Coastline; Man Hangs Head Down From Tree 10 Hours

VANCOUVER, Feb. 16—(CP)—Six crew members who parachuted from the American B-36 bomber are reported still missing today along the Island-dotted Queen Charlotte Sound. A United States Coast Guard report Wednesday night that all 17 of the men had been picked up or located was without substantiation this morning. The R.C.A.F. search headquarters here at 12 noon said: "The search is on for the remaining six. They have not been sighted."

Wednesday, 11 of the fliers who fled the 163-ton sky giant were plucked from the grim northern beach area of Princess Royal Island, 500 miles northwest of here.

More than a dozen low-flying planes from Canadian and United States bases resumed the search for the other six, while at sea RCAF high speed rescue launches and the Canadian destroyer Cayuga steamed along the coastline

Three Engines Afire

With three of its six engines afire, the bomber was ditched over Princess Royal Island early Tuesday as the plane headed southward from Alaska. It was about three miles inland when the first men jumped. The six still unreported may have been carried over nearby Gil Island or into Whale channel, a gale-swept waterway.

Word that the 11th survivor, only injured member found so far, had been rescued from a rocky perch on a cliff on the 1,404-mile-square island came late Wednesday night from the Cayuga.

Hold High Hopes

First survivors were rescued about noon Wednesday — three from a rubber raft—and seven others from the shore of the island. First reports, relayed by the rescuing herring fleet vessel, said the men were picked up on Ashdown Island near Princess Royal.

However, later reports said the survivors all were taken from the larger group of land.

Eleven men have now been recued and it is hoped to locate the other six today. The plane last made contact with a station at (2). It was en route from Eielson Air Base (3) to Texas. Search vessels berthed at Port Angeles, Wash. (4), Sitka (5) and Ketchikan (6) were dispatched to locate the downed plane.

Housing Plan To Ease Home Costs

Provincial Labor Code Also Planned; In Throne Speech

TORONTO, Feb. 16—(CP)—Ontario is spending $25,000,000 a month on public works, the largest investment program in the province's history, the Ontario Legislature was told today.

The news came in the speech from the Throne, read by Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson at the opening of the legislature's 1950 session. The speech said that the Provincial government had offered to co-ordinate its works plans with those of the Federal government to assist in maintaining a high level of employment.

The speech also forecast a low-cost housing program, a provincial labor code and legislation concerning discriminatory covenants in deeds.

Also in prospect is a municipal development corporation purpose of which will be to loan to smaller municipalities money to build water works, sewage disposal plants, incinerator plants and similar works.

Describing the province's public investment program as the largest ever undertaken in Ontario, the speech said capital outlays made through the government its agencies and municipalities included "enormous" development by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, extensive highway construction, construction of hospitals, government offices, housing and other public works.

Affects Employment

Conditions "quite beyond the jurisdiction of a provincial government" had affected employment. Ontario had offered to integrate its plans with those of the Federal government to maintain a high level of employment although the Provincial government had no control over world trade and sterling balances.

"Nevertheless by co-ordinated effort the province and its municipalities can do much to assist" the speech said.

The Ontario government had indicated that implementation of a Federal-Provincial employment program "need not await a Federal-Provincial conference."

Legislation would be introduced to inaugurate a low-cost housing plan to provide additional aid to municipalities in providing services to new home-owners.

Truman Hints Peace Mission To Russia

No Immediate Plans, But Says Door Always Open For Negotiation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — (AP). — President Truman hinted today that he still has in mind a possible special peace mission to Russia at some future time.

At a press conference, he also said the American door is always open to international negotiation for the control of atomic weapons.

He dashed cold water on the idea of a possible "Big Three" meeting abroad, newly raised by a campaign speech of Winston Churchill.

The President repeated what he has said before — that he does not intend to go outside the United States to meet with Stalin or any other state head.

The matter of a possible special mission to Moscow was raised by reporters who asked Truman about a story Arthur Krock had in the New York Times yesterday.

Krock quoted Truman as saying in an interview that if a political campaign had not been in progress in 1948 the President would have sent Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to Russia to try to "straighten out" Stalin and other Russian leaders as to American intentions.

Krock also quoted the President as saying maybe that would be the thing to do some time.

A reporter asked if Krock story was correct.

The President told him to read Krock's article — that it would answer the queston.

In response to a question as to whether he thought the time has come to see Stalin, Truman replied that he does not

Will Extend Jobless Insurance

Ottawa To Establish Purely Canadian Army Discipline Code

OTTAWA, Feb. 16—(CP)—Extension of Unemployment Insurance benefits to new categories of workers and renewal of prices support legislation for some primary products was forecast today in the speech from the Throne at the opening of parliament.

The speech, read in the Senate Chamber by the Governor General Viscount Alexander, gave no details of the legislation. It is believed that the Unemployment Insurance benefits will be extended to workers in seasonal employment not covered by existing legislation.

At Jan. 12, there were 323,000 unemployed in Canada.

The prices support legislation applies to farm and fish products. The new legislation, extending existing acts passed after the war, will be aimed at asuring farmers and fishermen of a fair price for their products.

The speech said that legislation will be introduced to continue the Canadian Wheat Board as the sole marketing agent for wheat and coarse grains

Seek New Markets

On trade, the speech said continued efforts will be made to develop new markets and to reduce trade barriers.

Legislation providing for extension of domestic rent controls will be introduced if the Supreme Court of Canada rules that the controls are within the jurisdiction of parliament. The court is due to give a decision on the controls before the end of this month.

Several changes will be made to the Canada Shipping Act. Some of them will incorporate changes suggested by the safety of life at sea convention of 1948 and others will deal with the registration in Canada of Canadian ships.

The speech referred to dominion-provincial relations and to developments on the international front.

6 Killed In Plant Explosion

MIDLAND, Mich., Feb. 16—(AP)—An explosion ripped apart a building at the sprawling Dow Chemical Company today, killing an estimated six workers. A Dow Company official said that six to eight more workers were injured in the shattering blast. There was no immediate report on the extent of their injuries. The explosion blasted the roof and one wall off the building which houses Dow's emulsion polymerization process in the manufacture of rubber base paint.

It was not immediately determined how many workers were in the plant at the time.

Every ambulance in this chemical city was called into action to take away the dead and injured. The first of the injured were removed by truck.

Don't Know Cause

Dow Company officials said they did not yet know the cause of the explosion.

The plant is "not too large," they said, but could not give offhand, the exact number of men employed in it.

The explosion blew off the roof and knocked out a wall of a 100-by-400-foot building known as "Number 414."

Service crews—not the regular employees—were working in the building at the time. For this reason company officials said they could not learn quickly how many men were at work there at the time of the blast.

Pilot Parachutes Into Lake Rounds Up 10 Survivors

By CAPTAIN HAROLD L. BARRY

McCHORD AIR FORCE BASE, Tacoma, Wash., Feb. 16—(AP)—"When we started to lose altitude at around 15,000 feet, I told the radar operator to direct us over land," Capt. Harold Barry, pilot, said after his rescue from the missing B-29 off the B.C. coast. "We dropped to 5,000 feet in 10 minutes."

I set it on the automatic pilot and we bailed out in only 10 to 15 seconds. I was the last to leave the plane. It kept flying on beyond us after we left the ship.

I landed in a little lake on Princess Royal Island. It was covered with slush and ice. I came up pretty good, then waded through the water, dragging my parachute behind me. That got the chute wet, and it didn't do me any good during that first night.

Couldn't Start Fire

I tried to start a fire but it was raining in torrents and the wood was wet. It wouldn't start.

Early Tuesday morning I started off for the coast. I saw a ground squirrel and shot at it a couple of times with my .38 service revolver, but I didn't hit it.

Then I heard Whitfield (First Lieut. Raymond P. Whitfield Jr., 25, of San Antonio, ex.) blowing on his whistle. He was about a mile away. It was about noon. He was the first of the crew that I saw. The island was hilly and brush-covered and it was hard to make progress.

Whitfield and I could only make about a half a mile per hour on foot.

Then we heard S/Sgt. Vitale Trippodi (of Brooklyn, N.Y.) yelling for help.

Caught In Tree

He was hung up in his chute on a tree and had been there all night. It took all our efforts to bring him down. He was in pretty bad shape. We did everything we could to make him comfortable, and made him a sort of bed out of pine boughs, after we'd cut him down from the tre and moved him down from the cliff where the tree was.

Later the Canadian destroyer Cayuga sent in 25 men to pick him up and search for the others.

Meanwhile, however, Whitfield and I scrambled down to the beach, where we stamped out an SOS in the snow. Then we waited for the others, who showed up shortly.

A little while later the fishing boat picked us up.

Stalin Meeting Branded Stunt

LONDON, Feb. 16 — (CP). — Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said Wednesday night that Britain must continue to work through the United Nations in any move to promote new peace talks with the Russians.

Replying to Opposition Leader Winston Churchill's election-speech call for new peace talks with the Soviet Union, Bevin said the question of atomic energy control "is not a problem which can be solved by any stunt proposals."

Bevin's election broadcast over the BBC echoed a statement made earlier in the day by Prime Minister Attlee

"I do not rule out the suggestion which has been made by Mr. Churchill," said Attlee in an interview at Lincoln, "but at the present moment it rests with the United Nations."

At Nottingham Attlee talked back to Churchill's criticism that Britain, under the Labor Government had not yet manufactured an atom bomb.

"Mr. Churchill ought to know," Attlee said. "He made the agreement (while Prime Minister) with the United States. He knows perfectly well the agreement was that atomic energy should be developed in America and Canada."

Russians Get Big Chinese Labor Force

NEW YORK, Feb. 16 (AP)—The New York Times today reports Communist China had agreed secretly to furnish Russia with a large labor force and to give the Russians control of seven yellow seaports in case of war.

A Times dispatch from Paris says the Chinese Reds had agreed also that Soviet "advisers' would be given key positions in China's army, secret police organization and Communist party."

The dispatch, by Times correspondent C. L. Sulzberger, says these concessions by Mao Tze-tung, chairman of the Chinese Communist government, and Foreign Minister Chou En-lai were believed to be in secret codicils signed in Moscow prior to the announcement Tuesday of a treaty of alliance between the two Communist governments.

The Chinese Reds, Sulzberger reports, were understood to have agreed that the ports of Dairen, Port Arthur, Chinwangtao, Haichow, Chefoo, Weihaiei and Tsingtao "would be placed under Soviet supervision immediately in case of war."

Remain Obstinate

The Times dispatch says the original Russian demand for full control of the ports was modified because of the "obstinacy" of Mao and Chou to "what they interpreted as Russian efforts to infringe upon Chinese sovereignty".

The Times also relays reports that the Russians had requested 1,000,000 Chinese manual laborers be sent to Siberia. Sulzberger writes that "300,000 workers, a sizable proportion of the contingent agreed upon, are reported to be already en route to the Soviet Union from Manchuria."

Order Count To Be Deported

MONTREAL, Feb. 16 (CP) — Immigration department officials said today a three-man board has ordered the deportation of Count Jacques de Bernonville.

Under the order the 52-year-old French nobleman must refurn to his native country where he is under death sentence for collaboration with the Nazis.

A possibility was seen that de Bernonville may ask the federal government to exercise clemency and permit him to remain as a political refugee.

Woman Wins Round In St. Catharines Feud

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 16 — (CP)—All is quiet today at the Carleton Street home of Walter Burke. And Mr. Burke says he isn't ill and doesn't need the services of a fire truck, a police cruiser, a taxi or an ambulance.

All those vehicles went to the Burke home Wednesday night in response to calls placed by a woman who has been carrying on a two-week campaign to annoy him.

Mr. Burke, who says he doesn't know the woman, has been disturbed by telephone calls at all hours of the day and night. Finally, in desperation, he disconnected the phone wires.

Lindsay Man Dragged 165 Ft. By Train

LINDSAY, Feb. 16.—Joe Henry of Lindsay had a miraculous escape from death when he was dragged 165 feet by the cowcatcher of a CPR passenger train here Wednesday.

Wednesday night, recovering in Ross Memorial Hospital, the 21-year-old youth said he'd had "plenty of time for prayer" as the big engine wheels ground along, interminably it seemed, and finally stopped.

"I had a miraculous escape all right, and it all seems like a nightmare to me now," he said. "I could see those front wheels of the engine going round and round, and I wondered just when they might reach me. I couldn't do anything. I don't think I even yelled. I could hear the brakes catching—and I just waited for the train to stop. I guess the engineer did a good job in stopping when he did."

It was the prospect of a job, his first in some time, which started Joe Henry on the walk which nearly ended in death. He'd had a call from the employment bureau telling him there was a temporary job at the Allenbury factory. Joe had a bad head cold, but he went out anyway.

It was the cold which kept him from spotting the train until it was too late.

Hardly See

"I was on my way home and was right at the King St. crossing before I heard the engine whistle. I turned quickly, but my eyes were filled with water and I could hardly see. Then, in a split second, I knew the engine was right on top of me. I went to step back but my foot slipped," he said.

Copper Cliff Rector Dies Suddenly At 37

SUDBURY, Feb. 16 (CP) — The Rev. Stanley V. Hatt, 37, rector of St. John the Divine Anglican Church, Copper Cliff, died at the rectory Wednesday night, following a heart seizure.

Burial services will be held on Saturday. Interment will take place at St. John's Anglican Cemetery, North Bay.

Although a newcomer to Copper Cliff, as rector of the church since December 4, 1948, Mr. Hatt was no stranger to Northern Ontario. He came to Sudbury district from North Bay, where he had served as rector since 1943 at St. Brice Anglican Church.

Bingo Player Dies In Fire,

CHARLOTTETOWN, Feb. 16—(CP)—Charred walls are all that remain today of the Sporting Club in the city's west-end where fire Wednesday night brought death to one woman and sent 14 other persons to hospital with severe burns.

The body of Mrs. Thomas J. Keoughan was found 15 feet from an exit of the one-storey wooden building where fire broke out as more than 200 persons inside played bingo and bowled.

A report Wednesday night that two men were missing was denied by firemen early today after they had searched the charred remains of the club.

Several persons who escaped from the bingo hall at the rear of the building said the fire was first noticed around a hot air register. When one of the players opened a door leading to the furnace room flames burst into the room. The fire spread so rapidly that many didn't have time to get their overcoats before racing for the exits.

Tables and chairs were overturned as 100 bingo players dashed for the door. There was a brief scuffle in the hall leading to the exit as the panic-stricken players raced for the door.

The fire loss was estimated at $50,000.

Senator Sworn In

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP) — Senator Vincent P. Burke, a new Liberal Senator from St. John's, Nfld., and the only appointee to the Senate since the opening of the last session of Parliament, today was sworn into office. About 40 Senators were present in the Senate chamber for the swearing-in, which took place shortly before noon.

Conservatives Gaining On Labor, in Betting

LONDON, Feb. 16—(AP)—One of Britain's biggest betting commissioners said today the Conservatives are fast overhauling the Labor Party for the role of gambling favorite in the national election next Thursday.

"They may even go to the post as equal choices—say 5 to 6 and take your pick," predicted the odds maker for Douglas Stuart, Limited, a London bookmaking firm which reckons its annual turnover in millions of pounds.

"There has been quite considerable backing for the Conservatives in the last few days," he told reporters. "It is a very lively market, with heavy betting on both sides. If the money keeps pouring in on the Conservatives there will probably be nothing between them at the start of next week."

For the last two days Labor has been an 8 to 13 favorite after once touching 4 to 7. You can still get 5 to 4 against the Conservatives.

Blame Troops For Race Riots

CAPETOWN, Feb. 16 —(CP)— Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan Wednesday blamed the use of native troops in the Second World War for race riots at Johannesburg this week.

Malan told parliament:

"...The non-European said to himself: 'If we are good enough to fight the white man's battles, we are good enough to take our place on an equal footing here in South Africa.'"

Justice Minister C. R. Swart said the government has provided for the use of mechanized army units if necessary to keep order.

Former Prime Minister Jan C. Smuts, leader of the opposition, told parliament innocent natives have suffered. He said "a crisis has arisen."

Actress Sends Columnist Skunk As Valentine Gift

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP)—Hedda Hopper received a skunk as a valentine present from Joan Bennett — and christened it "Joan."

Then she gave it away to catfancier James Mason, saying, "seems there's a great affinity between cats and skunks."

Miss Bennett paid $35 for the deodorized, house-broken animal. She also spent $400 for full-page adds in trade paper to tell all Hollywood about her feud with Miss Hopper.

The actress said of the columnist: "I've been the victim of her attacks for many, many years."

The ad contained reprints of columns by Hedda and rival Harry Crocker of the Los Angeles Examiner.

Hedda's item as reprinted in Miss Bennett's ad read:

"Joan Fontaine's press agent is working overtime again. Says she is wanted for the Queen Victoria role in 'The Mudlark.' She thought she was a dancing queen at Katie and Harry Goetz's when she put on a solo dance atop the thickest carpet I've ever trod upon. Exhibitionism I calls it."

Crocker's item did not mention Hedda or Miss Fontaine, a close friend of Miss Bennett, by name. It read in part:

"Hollywood is smiling tolerantly at the inane attack in print by a certain female upon a younger star for her gay New Year's Eve dance. Hollywood realizes that this and similar ridiculous outbreaks are the result of her years of frustration as a jobless actress."

The bottom of the ad read:

"This couldn't be you, could it, Hedda?

(Signed) "Joan Bennett."

1 Of Every 20 People Unemployed—Report

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—One out of every 20 members of Ontario's labor force is unemployed, the latest figures compiled by the Department of Statistics and Research show.

The figures, compiled Jan. 26, showed 91,842 jobless compared with 70,551 at the same time last year.

Job seekers were having the worst luck in the Upper St. Lawrence, Border, Quinte, Highlands and Niagara areas. "A reasonably favorable" situation existed in the Metropolitan, Upper Thames and Upper Grand River zones.

Compared with last year, all groups in the manufacturing fields, except food manufacturing, showed declines in employment.

Scotland Yard, US Organize Big Battle Against Crime

LONDON, Feb. 16 (Reuters)—London's top police officials meet at Scotland Yard today to plan one of Britain's biggest battles against gangs guilty of armed robbery and violence.

The most serious crime wave since the war has forced British police to make this special drive.

Murders, safe-blastings, mail robberies, and holdups are competing on front pages with the general election news.

Last week-end a girl of 15 was murdered near her home in Edinburgh. Someone beat her savagely about the head with a heavy weapon.

A woman, washing up, was killed by a bullet fired through the door.

A man sorting mail was clubbed and £2,000 ($6,300) worth of registered letters stolen.

Then there is the strange case of the frightened schoolgirl. Detectives are trying to solve the riddle of what so terrified 13-year-old Evelyn Washburn that she died on her way home from a dance in Northwich, Cheshire.

Leniency is blamed in some quarters for the crime wave.

At Washington, law enforcement officials today began whipping into shape a "master plan" for moving in on rackets in the United States.

The decision to set in motion an organized crackdown on the country's multi-billion - dollar gambling machinery was taken Wednesday by Attorney-General J. Howard McGrath's national conference on law enforcement.

The steps proposed in this direction ranged from "moral influence" to far-reaching new legislation by Congress, along with the closest possible co-operation among Federal, State and local authorities.

Flag Passenger Train Avert Bad Accident

BOLTON, Ont., Feb. 16 (CP) —Canadian Pacific Railway trainmen flagged down an eastbound passenger train today minutes before it would have collided with a derailed box car on the main line here. Bolton is about 35 miles north-west of Toronto.

Crewmen said a serious accident would have occurred if the passenger train had been running on time.

Railway officials said a car on an east-bound freght train broke a draw bar and was being shunted on to a siding when it jumped the track. Railway men ran several hundred yards back along the track to flag the speeding passenger train.

Hint Lewis To Boost Pay Demands

Lose Contract Terms Say Union Leader Asks Healthy Increase

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16 — (AP)—Hints that John L. Lewis is making ready stiffer money demands on coal operators came today as strike effects spread steadily in basic United States industries using coal for fuel.

David L. Cole, President Truman's personal observer in the court-directed coal dispute bargaining meetings, declined to tell reporters whether Lewis already has boosted his demands.

Lewis, barred from seeking four of his key contract terms, is reported determined to get instead a healthy wage and welfare fund boost, a shorter work week and a seniority system for employing miners.

Besides the union shop and union-controlled welfare fund set-up, Lewis now is restrained by federal court order from insisting that miners work only when "able and willing" and that they may take long "memorial period holidays." These clauses had been bitterly opposed by the industry.

Previously Lewis has indicated he would settle for a $15 daily wage for miners, compared with the present $14.05 rate, and a 35-cent tonnage royalty for the welfare fund for miners' pensions and other benefits in place of the present 20-cent royalty.

Possible Demands

Now Lewis may insist on a pay increase to $15.50 and a 40-cent royalty, with a seven-hour work day instead of an eight-hour day, along with assurances that older miners will retain their jobs if there is any firing.

Court-ordered bargaining between Lewis's United Mine Workers Union and the operators was to resume today in spite of the continuing strike.

A presidential adviser, John D. Clark, warned of "terrible" demoralization in industry if the strike continues two or three more months, with "serious unemployment."

Want An Answer

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 — (CP). — Scientists are going to be asked to find out what makes some potatoes turn dark after they are cooked. The Canadian Horticultural Council Wednesday adopted a resolution to get scientific research workers in government experimental stations, schools, and colleges across the country working on the problem.

"My coat caught in the pilot and wouldn't come loose. I was pulled down with my legs across the track and my head outside the rail. My legs were then jammed under the pilot."

"I didn't feel any pain, but it was a funny sensation when the snow kept jamming up my pant legs. After the train crew backed the train up to release me I felt real sick. The doctors say I'm all right, and dad says I'll stay right here until my cold is better anyway."

Preliminary examination indicated the young man received only bruises and a chip off a part of the vertebrae.

Service Station Operator Dies

NORWOOD, Feb. 16 (ENS) — William John Turner, proprietor of the Imperial Service Station, Norwood, died Wednesday at his home in Norwood after a long illness. He was aged 54.

Born in Peterborough, he went to Norwood three years ago from Montreal. He was the son of Mrs Mary Turner, of New Westminster, B.C., and the late James A Turner.

Mr. Turner was a veteran of the first orld war, when he served in the Air Force.

Funeral will be held Thursday at 8 p.m., at the Tedford Funeral Home, conducted by the Rev. E. E. Pugsley, and burial will take place Friday at Westmeath Cemetery, Ontario.

Thief Takes $7,000 In Jewelry Hold-up

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — A woman cashier was bound and gagged Wednesday by a tall gunman who escaped with $7,000 worth of watches, rings and other jewelry from the office of a wholesale company.

Natalie Hamaguicho, 24, told police a tall, well-built bandit entered the office of Maurice Lax and Son on the second floor of a downtown building, whipped out a revolver and told her to "keep quiet if you know what's good for you."

She said she was gagged and wired to a chair. He stuffed jewelry into his pockets and a briefcase, fled to the street and disappeared into heavy mid-afternoon traffic. A dozen men, attending a union meeting in the building, tried unsuccessfully to stop him.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN FITZGERALD.

Mrs. Ellen Fitzgerald, RR 11, Otonabee, died early today in hospital in Peterborough after a lengthy illness. She was aged 76 and was predeceased by her husband, John Fitzgerald 13 years ago and also by a daughter, Sister Mary Catherine and four sons. She is survived by two sons and two daughters, two brothers and a sister.

Born in Otonabee, Mrs. Fitzgerald, daughter of the late Thomas Powers and his wife, Hannorah Hallihan, spent her entire life there. She was a member of Sacred Heart Church, where requiem mass will be celebrated Saturday at 10 a.m. prior to burial in St. Peter's Cemetery. The funeral will take place from the Anglesey Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fitzgerald leaves two sons, Leo and Alphonse at home, two daughters, Mrs. John Sweeney (Margaret) of Douro and Mrs Denis Menague (Nora) of Indian River; two brothers, Pierre of Otonabee and Thomas of Peterborough and a sister, Miss Annie Powers of Peterborough.

Western Oils Buck A Downward Trend

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP).— Western oils bucked a downward trend on the Toronto Stock Exchange to chalk up gains ranging up to 15 cents. Wednesday's easier trend continued in the three remaining major groups — industrials, golds and base metals —and activity continued at a small pace.

Volume for the first three hours was 417,000 shares.

In Western oils Pacific Petroleum, Commonwealth Petroleum, and Royalite were among the gainers.

In industrials a block of 100 shares of Canadian Locomotive changed hands at 23¾, down 2¼, and Kelvinator of Canada added to yesterday's 2½ gain, rising to a new high at 50, up 1½ on the day. Crown Trust bounded ahead 3½ at a new high at 120.

Sporadic Search

The rescue of the 11 capped a sporadic search Tuesday as weather halted most air operations. Some 24 planes as well as numerous surface craft from the United States and Canada Wednesday combed the area where the plane last reported itself.

The injured survivor was 23-year-old Sgt. Vitale Trippodi, Brooklyn, N. Y. The crewman was taken aboard the Cayuga on Wednesday night after his mates cut him from a tree atop a cliff where he had hung head down deliriously for 10 hours. His condition is said to be fair. However, it is feared he has gangrene in his feet.

The others rescued earlier were flown to Port Hardy, B. C., and from there to McChord Field, Wash., where they are resting.

Will Extend

The cold war still continues and imposes on all free nations "heavy burdens for the provision of defence forces and modern armaments," said the speech.

Must Be Prepared

"Preparedness to meet any sudden onslaught is essential and the means must be provided. But the free nations also face a test of endurance, and our staying power could be endangered by attempting to achieve complete preparedness at the expense of our adaptability to new developments in weapons and techniques of warfare or the efficiency of our social and industrial systems."

The government plans to reintroduce a bill consolidating existing legislation respecting the defence forces and providing for a purely Canadian code of discipline.

Veterans' Bills

Several bills affecting war veterans will be introduced. Provisions will be made for distribution of the prize money obtained by Canadians from the capture of enemy ships during the war. The War Veterans' Allowances Act will be extended to include veterans of British and allied forces. Amendments will be made to the Militia Pension Act.

Without giving any details, the speech said that other measures to be considered will include bills to amend the Criminal Code; the Government Annuities Act; the Post Office Act; the Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act; the Currency Act; the Trust Companies Act; the Canadian and British Insurance Companies Act, 1932; the Foreign Insurance Companies Act, 1932; the Customs Act; the Maritime Marshland Rehabilitation Act; and the Northwest Territories Power Commission Act.

It is believed the Criminal Code amendment would extend parimutual privileges to tracks where harness racing meets are held. The changes in the Annuities Act likely will plug loopholes through which some taxpayers obtained income tax reductions on annuity income.

Unemployment Temporary

The government's decision to pay grants in lieu of taxes to municipalities where there is a heavy concentration of Federal property will be put into legislative form.

Dealing with the employment and unemployment situation, the speech said:

"Employment and prosperity remain at a high level in Canada. The prospects are good for continued private investment in construction and capital development throughout the present year. The demand for consumer goods of all kinds continues to be strong.

"However, seasonal and local acts have given rise to a significant amount of temporary regional unemployment during the past few months and the security provisions established under unemployment insurance legislation have been called upon to meet the first important test since they were brought into effect.

Widen Scope

"Although a high proportion of persons temporarily unemployed are actually in receipt of unemployment insurance benefits, you

Take 6 Weeks To Repair Storm Damage

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—With repair gangs hard at work clearing havoc wrought by Southern Ontario's snow and sleet storm Tuesday, it is estimated that at least one area will not be back to normal for several weeks.

As Old Man Winter's teeth lost edge with the storm's departure, unhampered emergency crews sought to restore power lines snapped under the wight of frozen rain.

Repair crews were rushed to help. Western Ontario workers. Weather permitting, it is hoped some type of emergency telephone service will be available within 48 hours.

An estimated 3,500 telephone subscribers in the Hamilton-Niagara area were without service Wednesday. Damage to lines and loss of revenue will cost the Hamilton Hydro-Electric System upwards of $20,000, it is estimated.

Take Six Weeks

More than six weeks will be needed to restore to normal the disrupted telephone communications in the Ingersoll area. More than 200 poles are down and some 2,000 telephone circuits are out of commission.

The telegraph communications picture also is dark. Telegraph officials said at least three weeks will be needed to re-open lines London Wednesday was using telephone lines for commercial telegraph service to Toronto and Windsor.

Canadian National Telegraphs brought additional repair men from Burlington and Belleville to help regular line crews repair 160 poles down between London and Stratford; 150 breaks between London and Hamilton; 20 breaks north of Exeter; all lines down between London and Windsor and a similar situation between London will be asked to give consideradon and St. Thomas.

tion to a bill to widen the scope and extend the benefits of unemployment insurance."

Besides extending the Act to new categories of workers, the new legislation may extend the length of time for which unemployment insurance benefits are paid.

"Circumstances outside Canada have been responsible for some downward adjustment in the price of farm products," said the speech. "Measures have already been taken to reduce the impact of these adjustments."

The Agricultural Prices Support Act and the Fisheries Prices Support Act would be extended to provide for continued floor prices.

MORE ABOUT—

Housing Plan

"The greatest encouragement and assistance" would be extended to enable the tenants of these new houses to own them. Ontario housing loans of more than $17,000,000 in the last two years had enabled 15,000 families to own their homes.

Relieve Burdens

Arrangements would be made to "relieve our municipalities of many burdens which they have previously borne."

"Very careful consideration" had been given to labor conditions and legislation would be introduced to "set out a labor code for the Province of Ontario."

The present Ontario Labor Code is virtually identical with the Federal code.

The report of a Royal Commission appointed to review the working of the Workmen's Compensation Act would be presented. The Royal Commission on education had made an interim report and "further reports are expected this year." A report would also submitted by the Royal Commission on conservation appointed at the last session.

Municipal Development

In reference to the Municipal Development Corporation the speech said:

"It is proposed that methods be provided which will facilitate the construction of water works, sewage disposal plants, incineration plants, works for the elimination of pollution and related services, especially within the smaller municipalities. You will have submitted to you a measure providing for the creation of a municipal benevolent corporation the purpose of which will be to loan to municipalities at a favorable rate of interest, the money necessary to carry out such projects where the burden of other methods of financing may be too heavy."

Reviewing the government's record, the speech said "great progress and expansion" continued "undiminished." In Ontario "possibilities in every field of human endeavor are unlimited."

Conservation Plans

"Of special importance" was extension of the use of the newest principles of conservation within more settled parts of the province, elimination of flood conditions, prevention of erosion and soil depletion and the spread of wooded areas.

A program of aerial survey of northern forests was "rapidly approaching completion."

"Its purposes include the creation of a forest inventory, the improvement of the methods of timber management and the best utilization of our forest resources."

Agricultural development was "under constant and critical consideration." The farmer and city worker were equally significant in the expansion and progress of the province.

The war, and particularly currency difficulties had created problems for agriculture. With the assistance, however, of "very largely increased provincial grants," township roads were much improved and hydro-electric power extended to "an additional half million" rural people The Agriculture Department was engaged in "a multitude of activities" tending to improve the industry.

Canada's 8-Man UN Team Lives Up To Expectations

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 16 —(CP)— Canada's eight-man team at the United Nations Economic and Social Council is living up to expectations of other delegations.

When the Dominion ended a two-year council term in 1948, the majority of its members came forward with praise for Canadian initiative.

After a one-year lapse, Canada was voted back into the council taking her seat when the winter session opened 10 days ago.

Since then the Canadians have been in the thick of the work which some U. N. officials describe as the organization's most important in the drive to wipe out causes of war.

Raymond Eudes, 38, Liberal member of the Commons for Montreal Hochelaga and a newcomer to U. N. Halls, heads the delegation. Speaking alternately in English and French, he has driven home Canada's insistence that the U. N. operate efficiently in the fields where it can do most good.

Two Old Hands.

He has two old U. N. heads as alternate delegates: Dr. George Davidson, Deputy Welfare Minister, and Sidney Pierce, Deputy minister of Trade and Commerce.

Davidson, 41, born at Bass River, N. S., and raised in Vancouver earlier this week tangled with the Communist-Dominated World Federation of Trade Unions whose representatives denounced the International Labor Organization.

Defending the I. L. O. of which Canada is a charter member, Davidson said the W. F. T. U. spoke only for Russian-Bloc Governments and was merely trying to mislead the council.

The Montreal-born Pierce, former Ambassador to Mexico, has the job of presenting Canada's views on the U. N's report on major economic changes in 1949. This is scheduled to be one of the top subjects on the council's 41-item agenda— pointing up the International trade problems and outlining possibel solutions.

Long Way Round

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP)—Because of storm damage, there was no direct telegraphic link Wednesday between Sarnia and Toronto. But Canadian Pacific communications arranged an indirect route for a message—about the storm—from the Sarnia Canadian Observer to The Canadian Press' by way of Port Huron, Mich., Boston and Montreal.

Russ Satellites Want To Get Peiping Trade

LONDON, Feb. 16 — (AP). — A number of East European countries were reported today to be forging, in concert with Russia, a multi-million dollar trade pact with Communist China.

The countries are identified, besides Russia, as Poland, Czechoslovakia and Finland, which, while anti-Communist, is dependent upon the goodwill of neighbor Russia.

Delegations from these countries have been in Moscow during the lengthy Chinese-Russian talks which culminated Tuesday with the signing of a new Sino-Soviet treaty.

The effect of such an agreement, which would be on an interlocking basis, would be to weld European and Asiatic Communism even more closely together.

Figures have not been mentioned by Eastern diplomats here, who revealed the treaty moves, but the amount is expected to be large. Evidently this would supplement the $300,000,000 Sino-Soviet agreement just negotiated in Moscow.

Great Stimulus

The pact would serve as a stimulant to China's program for reconstruction and eventual industrialization. Through it, Mao Tze-tung would get some of the machines, steel and tools he needs to convert China's preponderantly agricultural economy into an industrial one.

The Eastern European countries would profit through access to China's vast stores of raw materials and natural resources, such as coal, iron and tungsten.

Taken in combination with Russia's concessions to China in Manchuria, such a pact could well eliminate Western powers as a factor in the future development of China.

Coal Gas Fumes Overcome Three In Family

BRIDGENORTH, Feb. 16 (ENS) —Mrs. Martin McDonagh and two of her three young children were overcome early Wednesday when coal gas fumes from a faulty stove filled their cottage in Chemong Park.

Mrs. McDonagh and her elder daughter Pat woke about 9 a.m. and both were violently ill. Neither realized the cause of their debility but Pat had presence of mind enough to phone a neighbor, Mrs. R. Read, and inform her that something was wrong. Then the 13-year-old girl collapsed.

When Mrs. Read arrived at approximately 10 a.m. she found the mother, Pat, and five-year-old Michael unconscious. Barbara age 4, another daughter, was sleeping in the living room and was unaffected by the fumes.

After throwing open the window and doors to let in fresh air, Mrs. Read called Dr. Ralph Clark of Peterborough for assistance. All three regained consciousness in less than half an hour.

Mr. McDonagh, an employee of CGE, woke late Wednesday morning and hurried out of the house at 6.30 a.m. He was apparently under the impression that the others were all right. If there were coal gas fumes escaping at the time he did not notice them.

The family entered the cottage shortly after Christmas and it is believed they used the same kitchen stove pipes as the previous occupants. Through continued use the pipes have become clogged and the effectiveness of the draft has been reduced.

Presumably this was the cause of the near tragedy.

All three affected by the fumes are now well. Nausea and headaches continued throughout Wednesday afternoon.

Another neighbor, Mrs. Nichols, stayed with the family during the remainder of the day.

Oak Trees Threatened

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16 (AP) —A fungus disease, which is spreading at the rate of 50 miles a year, threatens all the country's oak trees according to a prominent botanist. Dr. Wendell H. Camp, curator of experimental botany at the Academy of Natural Sciences, said Wednesday the disease "may bring about the worst situation this nation ever has faced."

Has Longest Beat

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP)— Roland Flynn retired from the longest police beat in Canada Tuesday. He retired as head of the Canadian National Railways Special Service Department after more than 45 years' service. His "beat" theoretically was 22,000 miles long.

EYE TOPICS

SPEAKING IS SEEING

Not long ago there was a movie in which an amazing character said over the phone. "What did you say?" and then he said, "Hold on a minute, till I put my specs on—I can hear you better that way." And then he put on his glasses, and immediately his face became satisfied. He did hear better.

Now, how in the world can the wearing of glasses make us hear better?

This business of learning to talk begins with the birth-cry—a querulous little wail that usually ends in the same sound as king or rang or hung.

Somewhere between 6 months and 17 months, baby repeats syllables, like "ma-ma, ba-ba, papa," and the first syllables ordinarily begin with labial or lip sounds. If you'll look in your mirror and say "ma-ma," or "papa, bay-bee," you'll see what I mean.

Now, these repetitive syllables. Why are the first ones invariably made with the lips? Of all the organs of articulation, the lips are the easiest for normal babies to move. They are controlled by rather large muscles. And we have a law in physiology and anatomy that says, "the larger the muscle, the easier and earlier it is brought under control." That's why we crawl before we can walk. We walk before we say words because walking depends upon grosser co-ordinations than speaking.

But the second reason why the lip sounds come under our governance first is that they are the easiest to see. Children who are blind from birth—but who hear—are delayed in the formation of "ma-ma," "pa-pa," and so on because they can't see mother's lips.

A child learns to talk by watching other people talk as well as listening. That's why speech is easier to comprehend when the speaker faces us. And that's why we who have faulty vision "hear" better when we wear our glasses.

Paint Men See Fair Year For Business

By FORBES RHUDE, Canadian Press Business Editor.

This is the day of the "paint up" men, about 100 of them from across Canada who are in Toronto for the annual meeting of the Canadian Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association.

Here are some extracts from reports being presented to them:

G. C. McEwan of Toronto, president:

"All the facts point to a fair year ahead. Production continues to keep up. New building and maintenance painting will both call for considerable quantities of the industry's products."

And C. C. Pettet, of Montreal, general manager:

"Our industry is closely tied to the basic Canadian economy. There is a general lowering in farm prices coming. If farm income is scaled down, inevitably it will discourage buying on the part of the farmers."

In Good Shape

Yet agriculture was never in better shape. It is better equipped with modern methods and modern machinery than at any time in our history. Furthermore, the debts that once were a colossal consideration where the farm market was concerned are gone.

"All this makes for low cost production and while the farmer may not have the funds to expand he will still be in a position to undertake necessary maintenance and to buy such consumer items as machinery, refrigerators, washing machines and automobiles." However:

"We must be cautious and utilize the soundest business tactics of which the industry is capable."

C. C. Hoffman of Montreal, national chairman of the Canadian beautification campaign for the Junior Chamber of Commerce:

"One thing that has amazed me in my few years' experience in the beautification campaign has been the general lack of interest on the part of the average paint and varnish man.

Few Tie-ups

"Paint companies spend hundreds of thousands of dollars annually in advertising. Usually this advertising is at its peak around the time of the campaign, but do you see many tie-ups with the campaign which is worth so many dollars to them?

"No sir. Year after year we have tried to get more tie-ups with the campaign, only to be told, 'it is too late, our advertising is planned a year in advance and our budget is exhausted for any special advertising of this kind.

"We don't want special advertising—all we want is for your advertising departments to tie up their regular advertising with the them 'clean up, paint up, plant up, light up.'"

Depression Trouble

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—(AP) —Unemployment in some spots in the United States is "as high as it was during the depth of the depression," government experts Wednesday told a Congressional Appropriations sub-committee. It was disclosed at the same time that the administration will ask Congress to approve use of $875,000,000 to help the States meet increasing demands for unemployment compensation.

9 Sentenced To Die

SINGAPORE, Feb. 16—(AP)— Nine men were sentenced to death today for planning the assassination of Duncan Stewart, British Governor of Sarawak, last December. The two men who stabbed Stewart to death at Sibu, Sarawak, previously had been sentenced to be hanged. They and the nine convicted of joining in the murder plot were members of a band agitating against British rule over the colony.

Freed On Probation

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 16 (AP)— A 43-year-old woman who testified she killed her son to spare him the agony of epileptic fits was released on probation for five years Wednesday after being convicted of manslaughter. Mrs. Agnete Soendergaard said she carried out the mercy killing by turning on a gas jet while her 17-year-old son slept in the kitchen.

Television Progresses

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP) — Television made new progress on Wednesday. Board of Control granted the request of Toronto firemen to have television sets at downtown halls. Only a week ago the fire-eaters were insisting that TV would never replace dominoes.

Alderville Honors Former Chief Norman Marsden

ROSENEATH, Feb. 16 (ENS)— Norman Marsden, who has served as chief of Alderville Indian Reserve intermittently during the past 23 years, was honored by Alderville residents recently when a presentation was made to him and Mrs. Marsden. Mr. Marsden retired as chief at the beginning of this year.

Meeting at Mr. Marsden's home the community presented a pair of white woollen blankets made by Stuart Cornego. An address on behalf of the residents was read by Mrs. Everett Simpson and Mrs. James Bigwin Jr., read an address on behalf of the church choir. H. Lander was chairman.

Mr. Marsden has served as councillor and chief and Mrs. Marsden, as organist and choir leader. He was chief under five Indian superintendents, namely W. R. Coyle, F. L. Slade, the late James Grieves, V. Eastwood Sr., and Major V. M. Eastwood.

During the evening addresses were given by the Rev. J. N. Lovelace, the Rev. R. C. White, Chief John Beaver and Councillor Smoke.

Lunch was served.

Hold Ladies' Night At Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 16 — (ENS) — The Rotary Club of Campbellford held its annual Ladies' Night on Tuesday in the Masonic Temple. About 120 Rotarians, together with their wives and other guests, enjoyed a banquet provided by members of the Parish Guild.

President Charlie Calver presided and welcomed the guests. Later, A. K. Loucks took charge of the program and announced the following entertainment:

Piano solo, Don Bennett; reading, George Palliser; vocal solo, Georgia DeCarroll accompanied by Rotary Ann Frances Nicholls; monologues by Rotarian Ross Richardson; two groups of dance numbers by Geyle Meyers and Nancy Island, with Colletta O'Keefe at the piano, and a piano duet by George and Frances Nicholls. Those contributing to the program were thanked by Rotarian Franklin Linton.

The orchestra which was to be in attendance for dancing was snowbound and was replaced by a record player and by piano selections.

Bridge prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Armour and euchre prizes by C. W. Palliser and Mrs. F. M. Rutherford. Rotary Anns Thelma Kingston and Marion DeCarroll won the prize in a lucky spot dance.

WHEN your Baby's head feels hot to your hand it may be because of simple fever common to some minor baby ailment. If so, Baby's Own Tablets will help reduce this simple fever by clearing harmful wastes out of the system.

Mrs. Francis Carroll, of Midland, has this to say: "My little baby was feverish and hot. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and by night-time she was up and around again." If baby's fever is not promptly relieved consult your physician.

Baby's Own Tablets are sweet-tasting, easy to take—and have been used with confidence by mothers for over 50 years. No "sleepy" stuff—no dulling effect. Equally good for constipation, teething troubles, upset stomach and other minor ailments. 25¢ at druggists. Get a box today.

Want Schools To Aid In Chest Drive

Organisers of the Community Chest campaign are seeking permission of the Board of Education and Separate School Board to hold the annual Penny-a-Day Drive in all city schools during the campaign. Last year the children of the community contributed $486 as a result of the drive.

If the Boards give them consent boxes will be placed in every school room in the city and the children will be encouraged to earn pennies to put in them.

The campaign committee is asking parents to encourage the children to find some method of earning the pennies rather than give them the money when they ask for it. In this way the drive will be stressed as a duty of citizenship.

So enthusiastic was one youngster during the campaign a few years ago, that he robbed his money box of 23 cents, all he had, in order to help the drive.

The boxes, placed in schoolrooms are collected daily between two and four o'clock by Ernest Reid of the Utilities Commission.

Owing to the difference in size of the various city schools, the drive is not run on a competitive basis. The pennies are stacked in the window of a down-town store and at the end of the campaign, one representative from every bank counts them. Last year this task took four hours.

Organiser of the Penny-a-Day drive is Clare Collins, a member of the publicity committee. In addition to helping swell the funds of the Community Chest, it is felt that the drive among the children will draw the larger Community campaign to the attention of parents.

Council Ponders Old Hospital For Housing Aged

COBOURG, Feb. 16 (ENS) — Northumberland and Durham Counties Council opened a special session Wednesday to discuss the proposed $60,000 addition to the Counties Home for the Aged.

Conforming with a decision made at the January session this year, council adjourned Wednesday morning in order to view the Bowmanville General Hospital, which will be vacant when the new one is ready.

The Bowmanville representatives in Counties Council suggested at the January session that, before they decided to build an addition to the Counties Home, it might be advisable to look into the old Bowmanville hospital to house counties home inmates instead of building an addition.

A letter from the Hon. W. A Goodfellow to counties council, pointed out that as it was the rule of the Department to subsidize only new construction of counties homes for the aged, council could not expect the 50 per cent grant if the hospital building in Bowmanville were taken over To make an exception in that case would pave the way for many similar requests from other counties who wanted to dispose of old buildings.

Council agreed to the addition of a half mill on the road rate, covering work of the road and bridge committee. This would bring the counties road rate up to 4½ mills.

Bulgaria In Parade

BELGRADE, Feb. 16—(AP)— Premier Tito's official newspaper claimed Wednesday night that uranium—basic material for the atom bomb—had been discovered in Bulgaria and is being "exploited under guard" by Russia.

Reviving German Nationalism

Many recent reports from Germany speak of a return of that stiff-necked and unreasonable nationalism of which we heard so much during the time between 1932 and 1939. It is being said that Germany's defeat was brought about by the sabotage of those soldiers and civilians who took part in the unsuccessful attempt to kill Hitler on July 20, 1944; this failure is referred to as "the stab in the back." How familiar that is! Germany has never been defeated; she has always been betrayed. It is also said that Germany has never been the aggressor in any war since the eighteenth century—a lie which any fair consideration of history can disprove. The story is spread that nothing will be right with Germany until the occupation troops are kicked out—as though Germany could kick them out. Anti-Jewish feeling is gaining strength again. This sort of nationalism is said to be confined to comparatively few people, but they are noisy, and they influence the thousands of Germans who are sick of their present condition and want some sort of stability—any sort. One American observer says, sadly: "If reviving Nazi-style nationalism rushes on unchecked, these people will follow in its train; and once again they will have been lost to democracy".

• • •

This last word is the one which rouses our interest. What sort of democracy? For we must understand that there is not one exclusive type of democracy. It can wear many garments. What sort of democracy is being presented to the German people, and how is it presented to them? Are they being asked to swallow the externals of a foreign type of democracy? It is useless to ask Germans to turn themselves into Americans or Englishmen; they cannot do it and have no desire to do it. Can the basic democratic idea that every man has certain rights which cannot be taken from him be driven into their heads? If they ever got hold of that idea, and liked it, they could make a democracy on their own plan. The question is whether they can understand such a notion and whether having understood it, they like it well enough to insist on making it work.

• • •

The Germans are among the most intelligent peoples on earth. Love of liberty, however, has never been very strong in them either nationally or individually. What they seem to like best is power. Whether democracy can ever be brought to such people is doubtful. And whether it is being presented to them at present in a form which they can understand is at least equally doubtful.

Saar Problem

Last Tuesday week the French Foreign Minister opened a ten-day conference with representatives of the Saar Government. The Saar is a symptom of German-French relations, and has been for a century. Now the rich iron and coal valley is in the French economic orbit. The French want to incorporate it fully into their Republic; the Germans want it back. Conversations were held last month on the matter, between M. Schuman of France, and Dr. Adenauer, the West German Chancellor.

M. Schuman is a Lorrainer whose German is excellent (he was a German subject for a considerable part of his life); Herr Adenauer is Rhinelander who speaks French and remembers the time when the Rhineland was one of the most faithful areas in the empire of Napoleon. M. Schuman is the deputy for the Moselle, famous wine district, and Herr Adenauer is contemptuous of the "beer" districts of Germany and proud of belonging to the Rhine wine region. Both men really belong to the same supernational nationality, the grey frontier region between the core of France and Prussian Germany. It is the debatable land of the old Lotharingia, which lay between the East and the West Franks. Yet when they discuss the Saar which has troubled Franco-German relations for so many generations, they cannot come to agreement. They are patriotically, even bitterly German or French in this matter, with the German pride in Germanic potential, and the old French notion that the way to treat a Prussian is to stamp on his foot until he apologises.

The Saar is important because of its coal. (It is said that the greatest single fact accounting for the rise of Germany and the decline of France in the nineteenth century was the poverty of France in coal and the richness of Germany.) The Saar coal and the Lorraine iron fields have been and must continue to be part of the same economic system. Between 1870 and 1918 both the Saar and Lorraine were part of Bismarck's Second Reich. Between 1918 and 1935 both were within the French customs system. In 1935, the Saar people voted to enter the Third Reich. After the recent war, the Saar was put under France again. In 1947 the Saar elections resulted in its becoming autonomous. Now Germany wants it back, and makes out a case for its political necessity. It is probable, too, that if the people of the Saar were now given a free vote, as in 1935, they would vote for union with West Germany. The chief reason is that West Germany looks more prosperous than France. And so the French Foreign Minister is having talks with the Saar representatives. The French resist the German approach, and look with suspicion on any British and especially American inclination to side with the Germans.

If the French keep the Saar in their economic orbit, it could become a new Luxembourg and would make impossible the restoration of the former economic dominance of Germany based on its steel production. If the French give in—the French Foreign Office now is accepting the idea that France and Germany must live together—De Gaulle and the French Communists will say that France is being betrayed by Anglo-American imperialists, and the opportunity for effective co-operation between the two countries would be lost.

The Death Of Sabatini

The death of Rafael Sabatini on Monday leaves a gap in contemporary writing which will not quickly be filled. He was by no means a great writer, but he was a purveyor of a popular type of romance to which he brought gifts of craftsmanship and thoroughness which are not to be despised. He carried on the tradition of the cloak-and-dagger novel which he inherited from such men as Maurice Hewlett and Stanley Weyman; he based his novels upon a sound and thorough knowledge of history, and his writing, though full-blown and rococo, was never tawdry. He had millions of delighted readers, and he never wrote anything which would do them any harm. Like the writers of romantic melodrama of the later nineteenth century, he was sensational but never shabby or pornographic. He was an entertainer, and a good one.

Scores of historical novels are written today, but they are not cast in the Sabatini mould. Though often founded upon historical research they have a strongly sensational flavour, and there is about many of them a quality of thin cheapness which is repellent to critical readers. They lack the dash and glitter which Sabatini gave to his best work. They lack most markedly that authentic sense of the past which he was able to create, for although he never probed [illegible] into human character he was able to open the doors into past ages, and particularly into the seventeenth century. One of his great virtues was that he thoroughly understood how long an historical romance should be; he knew how long his readers could maintain their interest in such stories, and he always stopped before that interest had changed to boredom; in this respect many modern historical novelists might strive to copy him.

Finnish Election Displeasing To Russia

The re-election of 79-year-old President Paasikivi in Finland yesterday will be displeasing to Russia. For the past fortnight the Finnish Communists have denounced Paasikivi as "an agent of Western Imperialism", and the Russian radio and press campaign against Finland has been intense. There has been some thought that Russia might renounce her treaty of friendship with Finland, but the best-informed sources both in Finland and Sweden do not believe that this will happen. But they are worried about the present dispute over "war criminals" which is straining Russo-Finish relations.

These war criminals are persons who were, in one way or another, active against Russia during the war. It is reported that considerable numbers of them are now escaping over the Finnish border into Sweden, and that Finnish authorities are making these escapes possible. Whether this is true, or to what degree it is true cannot be discovered at present, but it is serving as the excuse for a vigorous Russian condemnation of Finland. The re-election of Paasikivi will do nothing to decrease Russia's anger.

The British Voter And Foreign Policy

By SEBASTIAN HAFFNER

FOREIGN affairs have so far played almost no part in the British election campaign, and it does not look as if there is going to be much change in this respect before Polling Day. The party manifestos in their references to foreign policy, are almost interchangeable: all alike stress the need for co-operation with the Commonwealth, the United States and Western Europe—the doctrine of the "three unities" which, during the last three years, has replaced the old idea of the balance of power in Europe as the basis of British foreign policy.

◇ ◇ ◇

BY and large, this fundamental unity on foreign policy is real, and not merely apparent. The mood of the middle 'thirties up to and beyond Munich, when Britain was deeply and passionately divided on foreign political issues, has passed completely. On the great lines of British foreign policy, there has been little or no controversy during the lifetime of the past Parliament; where there has been controversy—as over Palestine, or over dismantling in Germany — it has cut across party lines. There is no one major issue on which one could say with certainty that British foreign policy would be different according to which party is returned to power on Feb. 23.

◇ ◇ ◇

BUT it would also be an exaggeration to say that British foreign policy will be entirely the same whoever wins. Some countries abroad are convinced that it will not at all be the same. It is well known, for example, that India (but not Pakistan) fervently desires a continuation of the Labour Government. On the other hand, there are indications that some Western European countries would feel greatly relieved by a Conservative victory. In both cases, the motive is not, at any rate not exclusively, idoleogical sympathy. The Indians feel that the British Conservatives still regard Indian independence as rather a humiliation for Britain, while Labour regards the new British-Indian relationship as one of its greatest triumphs. Not that the Conservatives do not accept this new relationship; but the difference in feeling with which they accept it makes a great difference to sensitive Indians.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE Western Europeans, on the other hand, expect that a Conservative Government in Britain would be a more wholehearted champion of Western European unity and integration. It is not easy to say whether in this they are right or wrong. Mr. Churchill's advocacy of European unity, though more fervent in temper and more brilliant in oratory than any Governmental utterances, has always stopped short of any firm commitment to federation, customs or currency union, or indeed anything that would go beyond the present Council of Europe and the co-operation in defence that has been achieved under the Brussels and Atlantic Treaties. Moreover, for the bulk of the Conservative Party the "Empire"—a term it rather prefers to the term "Commonwealth"—still comes a long way before Europe.

◇ ◇ ◇

ON the other hand, it is true that the Conservative delegation at the Strasbourg Assembly—which is, however, not necessarily representative of the Conservative Party as a whole—found co-operation with the French, Belgian and Italians more congenial than did the Labour delegation. It is also true that the kind of free economy to which the Conservatives aspire at home would be easier to merge with the similar economies of France, Belgium, Western Germany and Italy, than the planned economy of Labour Britain. Whether such a Western European economic fusion on the basis of universal laissez-faire would not run great risks of internal dislocations, bankruptcies, and unemployment is another question.

◇ ◇ ◇

ALTOGETHER, it is not easy to gain any firm ground in predicting British foreign policy by looking at the contending parties as such. There are too many cross-currents in both parties to say for certain which way either of them will turn on any particular question. There is, however, one prediction that can be made with some confidence: that in the event of a Conservative victory foreign policy would again, as during the late war, to a large extent pass from the hands of the Foreign Secretary into those of the Prime Minister, and furthermore, since that Prime Minister would be Mr. Winston Churchill, that there would be a rather greater amount of dramatic British initiative in the foreign field than during the last four years.

◇ ◇ ◇

WHETHER such increased initiative would be a good or a bad thing is by no means easy to say. To take the biggest example only: Mr. Attlee has several times declined suggestions to take the initiative for arranging a tripartite meeting with President Truman and Marshal Stalin; he has consistently taken the line that no good purpose would be served by such a meeting in present conditions. Mr. Churchill, by contrast, has several times advocated a policy of "bringing matters to a head" with Russia and to judge from his conduct of affairs during the war, he would perhaps not be disinclined to do this by means of another "Big Three" Conference.

◇ ◇ ◇

IN general, the feeling, though unexpressed, is widespread that Mr. Churchill would be far more inclined than any Labour Foreign Secretary to end the present world stalemate by "make or break" tactics. And though there is hardly any allusion to this in the campaign speeches on either side, it is a feeling which may contribute quite considerably to the outcome of the elections. Rightly or wrongly, many people feel that in voting for Labour they vote for a cautious foreign policy and for not rocking the boat; in voting for Churchill, they vote for drama, for daring adventure and for living dangerously. A case could be made out for either of these decisions; but no such case is made out publicly. The matter is left unsaid, to be decided by instinct rather than reason. And there is little doubt that the collective instinct of Britain in the present gloomy and uncertain world situation favours cautious vigilance rather than bold and heroic initiative.

THE RED TIDE....

Letters To The Editor

AN OLD MAID SPEAKS HER MIND

Sir: I would like to say a few words in reply to "working married woman" which appeared in your column on Feb. 11th why be so vindictive about "Old Maids?" You know Dearie if the Old Maids were no more particular in choosing their mate than the majority of your married women, they could all have "Beloved Wife" on their tomb stone. I entirely agree with you that far too many women, marry for security and refuse to accept the responsibility that marriage demands, therefor so many working married women. It's boredom not necessity compels them to work.

A man worthy the name marries for a home, companionship and children - when about all they get, (that is 50% of them) is a continuous headache evidence the numerous divorce cases.

Now lady, don't pull that gag "you cannot have ch ren" as you well know if you have the mother instinct there are thousands of lovely little children just waiting to be adopted, and that act would place you in the select group and give you a greater chance for contentment and a happy home than working eight hours a day outside the home to make money.

So don't start weaving the Halo for yourself just yet, as its not at all becoming.

ANOTHER OLD MAID.

"A SNAKE IN THE GRASS"

Sir: Can you imagine any person or group of persons sending a public notice to a newspaper and refusing to sign their names? Neither can anyone else who "supposedly" are the ratepayers in the immediate vicinity of S.S. No. 5, Smith Township.

A good citizen would not go to the length these persons have done in order to stop any modernization and who are satisfied with school conditions of 70 years ago. We know that some of the instigators of this ad do have all modern conveniences in their homes along with other present-day luxuries and yet begrudge our children an education in up-to-date surroundings. In two years time, there will be approximately 106 children going to S.S. No. 5 school at Bridgenorth and just where do these so-called citizens think these children are going to be educated? Certainly, they cannot go on in a one room school and a temporary classroom in the basement of the church.

In this notice it says: "We the ratepayers of this immediate vicinity". This is completely wrong as it gives readers the impression that all ratepayers in this community are like those mentioned. This certainly is not so, as most property owners with a high assessment in this community are in favour of the new school.

If these so-called ratepayers in the immediate vicinity aren't hypocritical, why did the vote in favour of a new school go 47 to 10 last May 26th.

I can honestly say our trustees have gone to no end of trouble and inconvenience to find out what can be done at a minimum of expenditure, in spite of what these so-called "ratepayers of immediate vicinity" say about $26,000.

EARL M. BLEWETT,
(a ratepayer in this immediate vicinity).
Bridgenorth, Ont.

UNION STAND ON MARRIED WOMEN WORKERS

Sir: Regarding the many letters re married women working I should like to add these brief comments in the light of U.E. policy.

There is much to be said pro and con on this highly controversial subject which we as union leaders have found very difficult to approach. Firstly, in organized shops the employer has no choice, since usually he is bound by union contract to consider layoffs only from a point of view regarding seniority, regardless of marital status. Secondly in negotiating a contract, a union must stay clear of clauses that may complicate the importance of seniority and job security. Also the preamble of our constitution very definitely states "We form an organization which unites all workers regardless of craft, age, sex, nationality, race, creed or political belief." [illegible] a special discriminatory clause would mean the sabotage of our constitution upon which our very existence as a union depends.

We contend that there can be no second class citizens in our union and one of our main struts lies in equal pay for equal work regardless of sex. However we fight for more than wages and hours, but to protect the rights of all workers through seniority provisions with no discrimination. We have to or no one has any protection. Seniority cannot be qualified. When it's qualified it is no longer seniority.

If the boss can lay off married women, why not single men—or men with a farm or men over forty or men with red hair? Start tinkering with seniority and we end up somewhere near the labour reform periods of 1820.

Two world wars have resulted in women coming into industry both married and single and liking it and deciding in bulk to stay.

The married women came largely through patriotic desires to work part and full time to overcome the shortage of manpower often at the invitation of the government.

As soon as a position is reached that there is not enough work for married and single girls it will be the government's responsibility to either force them back to the home (which will be difficult in the light of our highly advertised freedom and democracy) or to enact laws of taxation making it unprofitable for wife to work if her husband earns a sufficient wage.

We must also bear in mind that workers in unorganized shops — particularly in small business houses, stores etc., are so poorly paid that even with an added women's wage the total take home pay is below that of the worker in an organized shop. The answer is rather in organizing the unorganized and raising the wage of the husband making it unnecessary for the married woman to work.

Admittedly today there are many ills caused in the home by both parties having to work, some will undoubtedly worship the almighty dollar even to the detriment of their own flesh and blood. However, we as unionists must look at the overall picture and only [illegible] conclusively to our constitution of No Discrimination, regardless of sex or marital status can we achieve our goal of equal pay for equal work—equal job rights for women and good wages all around — good homes—better living standards—prosperity and peace.

We must not allow these controversies between two groups of our sister workers to divide or disunite us—as disunity can only lead to further deterioration of our living standards and aims.

Thanking you,

FRANCIS JOHN CHAMBERLAIN.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.... And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is: who by the mouth of thy servant David hath said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things? The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathed together against the Lord, and against his Christ....

And now, Lord, behold their threatenings; and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word, by stretching forth thine hand to heal; and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.

And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness, and the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul. (Acts 4: 21, 23-26, 29-32.)

MEMBERS OF THE CONGREGATION of Grace Anglican Church, in Montreal, are being called to worship every Sunday by the youngest chime-ringer in Canada. The churches set of chimes are handled by 14-year-old Freddie McKee. McKee's job is not just "ringing" the bells, as he plays well-known hymns for half an hour preceding the morning and evening services. There is no keyboard, but the youngster operates the chime by pulling ropes. There are 13 of them, and McKee was taught this work by the late Walter Clark, who played the chimes for 25 years. TTC Employees Take Pay Offer

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP).— Toronto Transportation Commission employees voted Wednesday to accept a wage and contract offer from the Commission. The vote, among members of the Street Railway Union (AFL) was 2,770 to 1,490 to accept the offer.

Basically the offer provides for a 5-cent-an-hour wage increase and the incorporation into the basic wage rate of a 12-cent-an-hour cost-of-living bonus now being paid. Operators of one-man cars now will receive $1.24 an hour.

Wage provisions are retroactive to October 1, when the old contract expired.

Oddfellows Defeat Orono To Finish Schedule Here

Bun Kingdon's junior Oddfellows defeated Orono Orphans 5-1 at Civic Arena last night in a fairly fast, clean game of hockey, the result of which does not affect the standing of either club insofar as playoffs are concerned.

Play was close for two periods with the visitors a definite threat, holding IOOF to a one goal lead, but three fine tallies by Casey, Wyatt and Fennell in the third as Triple Links showed reserve power, put the game safely away.

Early Lead

Norm Bradley gave the visitors a temporary lead midway in the first, unassisted, following a hot scramble to the left of Wasson as play steamed up. Floyd equalized six minutes later on a pretty goal when he sped into the blue line, circled to the right and whistled a fast backhander behind Gearing as he crossed in front of the cage.

Play continued fast and close till out in the second when Dave Casey combined nicely with Baker to score from close in as Links surged in on Gearing who played a fine game in the net. Wasson was equally brilliant on the hard shots too, particularly in the late stages though IOOF did hold a definite edge in territorial play in the last half and outshot their rivals by a fair margin on the night's play.

Proves Clincher

Casey's second goal from Baker, who also played a good hard game, at the quarter mark in the third, proved the clincher but Links continued to press hard to the delight of the customers and only fine work by Gearing kept the score within respectable limits.

Jim Millar returned to his defence position though his eye is still bad and played well while Gord Fennell and Dean Wasson turned in a bang up chore along with Ricklark on the defence. Fennell's hard low shot to the left corner from Ross Mason in the third was possibly the smartest goal of the night. Up front, Wyatt, Birch and Floyd worked hard, the former clicking on a beautiful shot late in the third. Casey and Baker were outstanding while the rest of the gang worked hard all the way.

For Orono, Creamer, the West brothers, Robinson, Mercer, and Hamilton were best with Gearing.

The lineups:

Orono: Goal, Gearing; defence, Bradley, Creamer; centre, D. West; wings, R. West, Mercer; alternates, Robinson, Hutton, Hamilton, Stevenson, Twilligar.

Peterborough: Goal, R. Wasson; defence, Fennell, Millar; centre, Birch; wings, Baker, Casey; alternates, Desjardins, R. Mason, B. Mason, Richlark, D. Wasson, Floyd, Wyatt, Turner.

Referee, Red Wakelin; linesman, Dick Ouimet.

The summary:

First Period

Orono—Bradley 10:46
IOOF—Floyd 16:46
Penalty—Bradley.

Second Period

IOOF—Casey (Baker) 10:46
Penalty—Millar.

Third Period

IOOF—Casey (Baker) 5:56
IOOF—Wyatt 15:10
IOOF—Fennell (R. Mason) 18:20
Penalties—Robinson, Baker.

Marlies Trounce Generals 8-2, Regan Stars

By The Canadian Press

The lineup tabbed him as a second-stringer, but Larry Regan didn't take a back seat to anybody Wednesday night.

The Toronto Marlboros centre came up with a blistering six-goal performance to pace the Dukes to an 8-2 decision over the last-place Oshawa Generals in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League.

The victory left Marlboros in first place, 11 points ahead of the second-place Windsor Spitfires.

The Senior Marlboros were also successful, winning their second contest of the Senior A round-robin semi-final playoffs by downing Hamilton Tigers 7-1. Marlboros now lead Hamilton by a single game and Kitchener-Waterloo by two. Both teams have beaten the Dutchmen once.

In the only other junior game last night Spitfires dropped a four-pointer to Barrie Flyers, who now have a virtual stranglehold on fifth place.

Sensational Performance

Regan tallied one goal in the opening frame, scored another three in the second and finished his sensational performance with two in the final. George Armstrong saved face for the first line with a single while Ron Hurst got the other Marlboro marker. George Samolenko scored both goals for Oshawa.

The Senior Dukes could only manage a single in the first frame but turned on the pressure for four in the middle session. Hamilton finally broke the spell and beat netminder Pat Boehmer's one goal in the third frame.

Scotty Mair, nosed out for the league scoring title in the last three games of the schedule, paced the Marlboro attack with two counters while singles went to Al Buchanan, Johnny McLellan, Don Rope, Chuck Blair and Howie Lee. Husky rearguard Carl Smelle notched the Tiger goal.

Windsor dropped 11 points behind Marlboros in the race for the league title by bowing to Barrie. The Flyers counted the only score of the first period, outscored the visitors 3-1 in the middle session and divided a pair in the third.

Jerry Toppazzini was the giant killer, scoring twice in the Flyer cause with singles coming off the sticks of Stan Long, Real Chevrefils and Dan MacDonald, a Junior B recruit.

Belleville Rockets Swamp Cobourg 15-1

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 16 — The Belleville Rockets broke their three-game losing streak in the Memorial Arena Tuesday night by trimming the Cobourg Kinsmen, 15-1 in an OHA Junior "B" encounter.

The Rockets injected four or five juveniles in their lineup for last night's encounter and still had an easy time as they rapped in five goals in each period. The visitors scored their lone marker with less than six minutes of play remaining.

Captain Don Hogan and Bill Strachan led the scoring parade for the winners with three goals apiece while "Duke" Doran, Doug Hull, Doug Mulholland and Ted Pletsch got the others.

Clarke Harnden was the Cobourg marksman.

Top Cage Scorers

All the school basketball teams are down in their scoring this year. The champion seniors have only racked up 253 points in six games while the Junior "A" squad has rolled in only 113 in four frays. Figures are considerably lower than last year's.

Miss Doreen Pemberton's senior girls cagers are one point behind Bev Goulding's junior "A" boys whipping in 50 baskets and 12 foul shots in three games. Miss Eva Scott's juniors, although they haven't been defeated so far this year (as the other three teams haven't), are down this year winning their three games with 61 points.

Al Northcott is leading the senior boys with 63 points while Neil Thompson has 48 points and Harold Grafstein 36 points. Other scorers are: Bryon Young 16, Tom Taylor 9, Ted Cranfield 9, Peter Bailey 7, Darrel Ackford 17, Carl Sergeant 11, Ted Evans 22, George Hall 2, and Paul Frise 8.

Langhorne High

The junior "A" squad's little men are leading their scoring parade with Langhorne, 21 points, and Hempstead 19. Larry Cunningham, who has been steady on the defence for the team, has 14 points. Other points were by: McIlraith 10, Murray Grafstein 11, Fowler 8, Ash 10, Doughty 10, Brown 6, Hendren 2, Stewart 2.

Mary Craw leads the senior lasses with 44 points, 21 baskets and two foul shots. Mary Braund has 31 points while Betty Jaquith is third with 22. Peggy Estlick with six points, Lois Hutchinson four and Carol Raper two are other PCVS scorers.

Joan Krogh with five baskets and two foul shots for 12 points heads the juniors while Pat Nixon and Rosy McInroy each have 10 points. Ida Holland, Lorraine Derry and Marj Lang have each nine points while Phyllis Perryer has two.

Comes a copy on curling from the Copp Clark Co. and it is entitled "Ken Watson On Curling". Now, we are not too up on the "roarin' game", having never done any more at it than spectate, but this handsome copy, 177 pages betwixt stiff covers, looks right interesting. According to the jacket, Watson has won about everything possible in Canadian bonspiels, so he must know whereof he speaks. Lot of keen instruction, with illustrations, and the first local curler who drops around may borrow it. That sport is having a swell season on artificial ice here, many newcomers to the game appearing on ladies' and men's rinks.

Here's the boxing card for Monday (it's free) at Ashburnham Hall, Lindsay boys being named first: Main bout—Mike Hurlihey vs. Ralph VanAllen, 154; John Angers vs. Bill Davis, 140; Jerry Ferguson vs. Ira Bradley, 130; Mike Murtha vs. Jerry Tyler, 125; Bill Baker vs. Bob Lagana, 130; Ron Hutton vs. Louie Carveth, 109; and the curtain raiser, Carl Saville vs. Ron Emery, 154. They're matched within two or three pounds of each other, and all must be judged in the pink of condition ere going on. Three-round bouts, approved by the AAU of C, and the card commences at eight p.m.

Hitting The High Hoop

Just four basektball games here this week-end on different front two different nights. Tomorrow in the YWCA gym, Normals play Nurses Jrs. followed by Nurses Srs. against Black's, the schedule having but a week to go. On Saturday p.m. in the YMCA, a men's City League twin bill again. Marines "A" cagers are idle, though most of 'em play in the city loop. PCVS boys' and girls' teams, as well as the Togs are busy this week, also, but away from home. Schedules are winding up, and results are being run here as they come in.

Admitting that Legion and Petes don't have to go to Gananoque again, the Quinte columnist remarks: "The civil war in Peterborough will be waged in earnest, 'tis likely, when Legion and Petes tangle in the money series. They tell us the boys had some tip-top jousts during the schedule and, when they meet in the playoffs, the supporting factions of both squads should have plenty to howl over. In any event, the semi-final series in all four quarters of this senior 'B' hockey globe should be thrillers. Nylons, with all their 15 straight victories, are not out of the woods yet, and Diesel Electrics are bound and bent the cocky Kingstonians will know they've been in a hockey game or two before the final whistle sounds 'taps' in their series."

Petes And Legionnaires

With the senior "B" schedule decks all cleared, the Petes and Legion open their best-of-five OHA group semi-finals at 8.30 tomorrow in Civic Arena. No doubt the building's walls will bulge with hockey humanity as these bitter ice enemies tee off in the first big one which counts. Both teams will try desperately for that opener and, while the odds favor Legionnaires, the Petes might well pull an upset, as they've come mighty close before. It'll be fast, action-packed hockey of playoff calibre, and probably rough enough—though both coaches will urge their charges to stay on the ice. Yeah, it's playoff time and another thriller between Petes and Legion.

It is quite likely there will be harness horse racing under the lights here this summer in Morrow Park. Some talk of it last summer but no organized move was made. Hugh Stewart is on the provincial executive of the body governing the trotters and pacers, and he is keenly interested in putting the sport on an important basis here. Jim Coleman—erstwhile Globe columnist and now a public relations gent with a Toronto office—phoned us yesterday saying J. W. Brown, prexy of the Canadian Standard Bred Horses Society, would speak on night racing over the radio station here at 10.15 Thursday (tonight), so that Peterborough enthusiasts might listen in. Jim is down this way frequently to visit his son at Lakefield Grove.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

At Aspen, Colo., Dagmar Rom, blonde 21-year-old Austrian skiing co-ed, Wednesday added the women's world slalom crown to the giant slalom title she won just two days ago.

The slender, red sweatered ski rider twice wove her way through the 440-yard zig-zag course which has 33 sets of gates and a drop of 495 feet. She skied in almost flawless style and her combined time was 1:47.8.

That gave her a twin margin of one-tenth of a second over her teammate, Ericka Mahlinger, along a fast course under ideal weather conditions.

Windsor Sterlings upset a favoured Assumption College basketball team at Windsor Wednesday night to win the city senior cage championship. The score was 61-57.

The University of Rochester Wednesday night defeated University of Toronto 67-32 in an exhibition basketball game. The match was a return contest from a game played earlier in the season at Rochester when the home team defeated U. of T. by five points.

Murph Chamberlain, former National Hockey League star and now coach of the league-leading Sydney Millionaires of the Cape Breton Senior Hockey Loop, said Wednesday he is considering an offer to coach Ottawa Senators of the Quebec Senior League next year.

At Ottawa officials of the Ottawa Senators Hockey Club said they had no information about an offer being made to Chamberlain.

Dr. W. A. Campbell, president of the Canadian Rugby Union, said at Kingston Wednesday the late E. A. (Eddie) Armstrong was "a truly valuable man to Canadian and international sport." Mr. Armstrong, city editor of the Winnipeg Free Press, died Wednesday at his Winnipeg home.

At London, Freddie Mills, former light heavyweight champion made it official Wednesday. He says he's through. The 31-year-old Briton, who was knocked out by Joey Maxim of Cleveland in a title bout here Jan. 24, announced his retirement in a letter to his manager.

McMaster Marauders led Buffalo State Teachers' College team through three quarters of an exhibition basketball game Wednesday night at Hamilton only to lose out 51-45 in the last quarter.

In the opening game University of Western Ontario senior girls downed the McMaster Maroonettes, 36-33.

Quinte Cagers Drop One To Towne Togs

Towne Togs kept atop their LOBA group last night with a 34-15 triumph in Belleville. The overhanging balcony slowed up the Togs the first half, but they had a 10-5 margin at the intermission. Their passing was off and the Quinte girls got the ball easily enough a lot of times. The last half saw some keen cage work with the score 14-8 at the third quarter finish. Towne Togs tore in hard in the fourth to salt it away, though Jean Vass was lost through five fouls and Dot Callan just hung on with four.

The whole Peterborough team fought hard, with Jean Castle and Joan Dunk strong on defence, and also good on scoring in the last half. Jean Vass, Marg Kennedy and Polly Stewart also went good. Togs scored four of 11 foul shots as Belleville got but four in 17 tries. The victors have but one postponed game yet with Port Hope before the schedule is completed. Teams:

Towne Togs: D. Callan 4, M. Kennedy 2, J. Dunk 10, J. Vass 7, D. Sanders, B. Stewart, M. Freeman, J. Castle 5, P. Stewart 6.

Belleville: S. McLeod, B. Rutter, M. Maunoff 3, M. Tomaso 2, B. Holway 3, J. Mathews, D. Poulos 1, B. Zebedee, D. Bell 3, S. Bunnett 3, B. Gibson, K. Mills.

Referees, Watkins and Ketcheson; timer, Neiman.

Marmora Victorious Against Hastings 14-5

MARMORA, Feb. 16 (ENS)—Before three hundred spectators Marmora accounted for Hastings at the former's rink on Wednesday evening to the tune of 14-5.

Hastings iced only eight men but the team played the type of hockey that fans thrill over and Marmora had to play strenuously to keep their lead until halfway through the third. The homesters put on their customary high pressure at this time to yield another five goals to place the issue well beyond doubt. Lavender and Stewart did the hat trick and Trumble, Gus Leonard and McInroy got two goals apiece for Marmora. Fife and Pettigrew were best players on the losing team and each got a couple of counters.

Marmora's win ties them with Campbellford for first place. The ice was in fair condition whereas at Frankford the game with Campbellford the same evening had to be postponed through poor ice.

The teams:

Hastings — Goal, Mueller; defence, Ball and Stevenson; centre, Fife; wings, Clapperton and Pettigrew; alternates, West, Carr.

Marmora— Goal, Borland; defence, G. Leonard and E. Leonard; centre, Stewart; wings, Lavender and Trumble; alternates Goodchild, McInroy, Nayler, Darrah, Gray, Loveless.

Referees—C. W. Heldman, Batawa; Dick Bridgman, Trenton.

The summary:

First Period

Marmora—Lavender (Trumble) 2:05
Marmora—G. Leonard (Goodchild) 7:40
Marmora—Lavender (G. Leonard, Loveless) 10:45
Marmora—McInroy 10:55
Hastings—Pettigrew (Fife, Stevenson) 15.53
Marmora—Loveless (G. Leonard) 17:55
No penalties.

Second Period

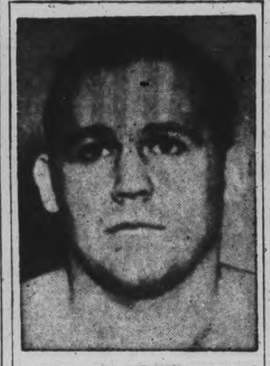
Hastings—Pettigrew 2:13
Marmora—Stewart (Lavender) 15:07
Marmora—Stewart (Lavender) 16:35
Marmora—McInroy (E. Leonard) 19:30
Penalties—Nayler, Trumble, Ball.

Third Period

Hastings—Fife (Ball) 2:55
Hastings—Clapperton (Pettigrew) 4:12
Marmora—Trumble (Stewart) 7:53
Hastings—Fife 9:50
Marmora—G. Leonard 10:35
Marmora—Trumble (Stewart) 12:45
Marmora—Stewart (Lavender) 12:57
Marmora—Lavender (Trumble) 13:40
Marmora—Darrah 15:03

Ottawa Actor Dies

LONDON, Feb. 16 (CP)—Guy Le Feuvre, 66, Ottawa-born actor, vocalist and composer, died Wednesday at his home here. Le Feuvre was associated with the stage for 45 years and appeared in many London productions, including "The First Gentleman," "Nurse Cavell," "Thunder Rock," "The Father," and "Man and Superman."



TONIGHT AT THE BROCK—Dr. Len Hall, pictured above, who takes on Steve Stanlee in the semi-final at the Brock tonight. The main bout features Yukon Eric and Wee Willie Davis—and what a battle this should be. The opener marks the first appearance here of Barney Bernard, who opposes Pat Flanagan. An all-star card that rates a capacity crowd.

ANOTHER QUEEN YET—This is the open season for carnival queens and one of the latest is Valoree Lord of Winnipeg, selected as queen for the 1951 Banff Winter Carnival. The pretty 21-year-old candidate of the Manitoba Ski Zone is shown receiving the crown from Shirley MacKeen of Calgary, who presided as queen of this year's big do. Queen Valoree, a stenographer back home, will reign over all events of the 1951 jamboree.

CITY CARPETBALL

The draw for the first round of the President's Cup playdowns is Big Bens No. 1 vs. Legion No. 6; Quakers No. 4 vs. St. Georges No. 2; LOL. No. 8 vs. S.O.E. No. 3; Legion No. 7 vs. Legion No. 5 and Glens No. 10 vs. Treasurer's No. 9.

These games must be played on neutral grounds of 8 ends each.

The league schedule is drawing to a close with only two games not heard from No. 6 vs. No. 7 and No. 4 vs. No. 8. The cards that were missing have all been reported except No. 10 vs. No. 4 and understand the Quakers won the first 10-7 and lost the second 3-15 and have been entered in the records that way.

The Old Soldiers attacked the Old Citadel to catch the Sons napping to the tune of 11-7. But the Guardians deciphered the attack formation on second push and threw back the Old Sweats 17-5.

King Billie visited the fire hall and went down before the powerful jets directed at them by a score of 14-7. With the smoke-eaters leading 5-0 in the second game King Billie had the White Charger step on and puncture the hose of the fire-fighters so that their jets died and with their skip in lead position went on to win 14-6.

The Anglicans had as their guests Legion No. 6 and with the chips down in the battle for first place the Saints, after sweeping the first game 16-12 and leading in the second game going into the final end, the Bakers slipped two across to tie it 10-all.

The Big Bens did not like the look of the 16-2 score in the first game at the Citadel against the Sons; and adjusting their balance wheel quickly went on to a 15-9 victory in the second.

The Glens on a visit to the washrack against the Saints lost the first battle in a close game by 10-7 and were tied going into the final end in the second game when they scored to take it 9-8.

The front end of the fire-fighters were too good for the Legion No. 5 on their visit to the fire hall and the hosts swept the first game 23-3 and went on to take the second but much closer game 10-5.

Lowly Hawks Come Through Whitewash Red Wings 3-0

By VIC MORRIS, JR.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Conacher Incident may have far-reaching effects on the future relations between National Hockey League clubs and sports writers.

Although the incident, which grew out of the alleged slugging of Detroit sports writer Lew Walters by Coach Charlie Conacher, of Chicago Black Hawks, has only produced a few chuckles from the club operators, it is likely to be the number one item on the agenda the next time the hockey magnates get together.

The sports writers—especially those south of the border—have no intention of allowing the incident to be forgotten. Wednesday the Detroit Hockey Writers' Association in strong language condemned the policy of the NHL in relation to the alleged slugging.

Their sharply-worded communication to the NHL protested the league's "failure" to take disciplinary action" against the fiery Chicago coach. The writers said that the league policy threatens to "work great harm" to hockey and lead to "degeneration of authority on ice."

Not Lying Down

The association which represents a group of Detroit and Windsor, Ont., hockey reporters has let it be known that they aren't going to take the "slugging" lying down.

The Association's communication brought a reply from NHL President Clarence Campbell who said that the Association statement "is based on pre-judgment of the facts in a matter still to be decided before the courts."

"When the present controversy ceases to be in the courts the matter will be thoroughly investigated in light of its effect on the welfare of the game and appropriate action will be taken then . . ."

Surprise Win

The lowly Chicago Black Hawks came through with a surprise 3-0 victory over league-leading Red Wings Wednesday night. Hawks came to life in the middle session when Metro Prystai fired a goal past netminder Harry Lumley before the period was 90 seconds old. Winnipeg's Bill Mosienko put the second Chicago tally on the scoreboard when he took a pass from Doug Bentley and Roy Conacher early in the third frame. Bep Guidolin slammed home the Hawks' third marker on a neat play with Bert Olmstead and Prystai.

At New York, Boston Bruins battled to a 2-2 stalemate with Rangers in the only other NHL contest. A crowd of 11,269 was on hand to see Coach Buck Boucher of Boston pull out rookie goalie Jack Gelineau with just 22 seconds remaining and send out six forwards. Schmidt fired the tying marker with 10 seconds remaining.

Bisons Wallop Providence 7-1

By The Canadian Press

It was cold in Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium Wednesday night but the hometown Bisons were hot enough to trounce Providence Reds 7-1 in one of four American Hockey League encounters.

Some 5,178 shivering fans—the building was unheated to conserve a rapidly-dwindling coal supply—watched the Eastern Division leaders outclass the second-place Reds and stretch their lead to 10 points.

Sid McNabney and Les Hickey fired two goals each for the winners while Knobby Warwick, Gordon Pennell and Doug Lewis notched one apiece. Jack McGill was the lone Providence marksman.

Meanwhile the Western section-leading Cleveland Barons kept right on rolling with a 6-0 triumph over Pittsburgh Hornets. It was goalie John Bower's fifth shutout of the season.

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

The two big guns in the National Hockey League scoring race Ted Lindsay and Sid Abel of Detroit Red Wings, were held scoreless last night. Paul Ronty of Boston picked up a goal to move into a three-way tie for fourth place with Montreal Canadiens' Maurice Richard and Chicago's Doug Bentley. Bentley earned an assist. Metro Prystai of Chicago moved into the last berth of the select circle on the strength of a goal and an assist.

The leaders:	G	A	Pts

Girl 21 Held In Yugoslavia Wants To Die In Canada

MONTREAL, Feb. 16 (CP) — Nancy Bozich, 21-year-old Canadian, wants to come back from Yugoslavia to die.

Nancy's plight was made known Wednesday in a letter received by a brother living in Montreal. It was written by Nancy's mother.

Nancy was one of several thousand Canadians of Yugoslav descent who set out for the old folks' homeland in 1948. All had high hopes for the future. The mother's letter filled in the story.

Last year Nancy was thrown into jail after delivering a petition to Canadian authorities signed by hundreds who want to return to this country.

She remained in jail three months before her case was brought to the attention of the Canadian officials in Belgrade She finally was tried and sentenced to three months in prison, Seriously Ill.

Not long ago she was released, broken in spirit and seriously ill. Doctors had given up hope for her. Now she wants relatives here to appeal to the government and arrange her return.

But the Canadian passports the Bozich family had have been taken from them and new applications have been turned down by Yugoslav authorities.

"We were told when we left Canada for Yugoslavia we could return if we were not satisfied," Nancy's mother wrote. "Many of us have asked that our Canadian passports be returned, but so far we have not got them."

Nancy's father has found things far from pleasant in his native land. He has been unemployed more than 10 months. A 15-year-old sister escaped an illness that struck the family.

Plans Appeal

Nancy's brother Sam, who lives in Montreal with his wife and 5-year-old son, plans an appeal to the External Affairs Department. He said he realized that those who went to Yugoslavia were warned by the Canadian Government they would be jeopardizing their citizenship.

Before sailing for Yugoslavia, the Boziches made an agreement with those remaining here. When things got blackest a photograph of one of the family would be sent.

When Same received his mother's letter, not one, but two, photographs fell from the envelope.

External Affairs Department officials said in Ottawa they don't think they can help. If a naturalized Canadian citizen returns to the country of his birth, he is regarded as a citizen of that country by its government, and Canadian consular officials cannot use their good offices on behalf of a person in that position.

Remember When—

Maj. William Brooks Southworth Jr., son of Billy Southworth manager of the St. Louis and Boston National baseball clubs and formerly an outfielder with Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, was reported missing in a non-combat plane crash five years ago today. Southworth was the first professional ball player to enlist in the Second World War.

THE TINKER'S WEDDING, a rarely performed play by J. M. Synge, is one of the three one-act plays making up the program presented by the Peterborough Little Theatre tonight, Friday and Saturday. It is the story of a priest who makes an unfortunate bargain with a group of gypsies. Donald Munro is seen above (Left) as the Priest, with Jack Nichols, Brenda Davies and Mildred Bailey. THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE, seen (Right) by Robertson Davies, tells how at least one Letter to the Editor came to be written. The players, from left to right, are Musa Cox, Arnold Olmstead, Albert Hill and Jean Leach.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

Lose Their Hold

TORONTO, Feb. 16— (CP) — Four rinks—three from Toronto and the other from Utica, N.Y.— will battle it out today for the Royal York Trophy, top award in the Ontario Curling Association's open bonspiel. The 1949 Royal winners—skipped by W. G. Allen, of Toronto High Park—lost their hold on the trophy 11-8 in the fifth round Wednesday to Tom Beattie from the Toronto Curling Club. T. S. Graham skipped another quartet from the same club to a semi-final berth with a 10-5 triumph over Andy Grant's Royal Canadians from Toronto.

Optimists-Trojans Gain PMHA Victories

In the first of a two-game bantam PMHA series to declare a playdown team, Optimists defeated Trojans No. 1 9-3 yesterday at the arena. Parry, Pagett, Stewart, Brooks, Roberts and Kane were all prominent in the winner's attack, while Carveth, MacDonald, Floyd, Keeting and Coit looked best for the losers. Teams:

Optimists—Ash, Parry, Pollard, Jones, Davis, Pagett, Stewart, Brooks, Bryan, Roberts, Blodgett Kane, McFadden, Patterson, Gardner.

Trojans No. 1—Marchen, Cuff, Marrett, Wilkinson, Smith, Godfrey, Carveth, MacDonald, Floyd, Keeting, Clarke, Krogh, Chamberlain, Girard, Coit.

Referees—P. Nigh and R. Ouimet.

Trojans triumphed 6-1 over the Southend midgets in their sudden-death struggle, and now meet Marines in a two-game final for the right to go into provincial playdowns. After a scoreless first frame, Trojans took a 3-0 lead in the second, and had a 3-1 margin during a hard-fought and interesting third period. McCarthy counted the lone goal for the losers. Doris and Seabrook each had a pair of markers for the winners, while Lundy and Griffis got one goal apiece.

Omemee Juves Out

OMEMEE, Feb. 16 —(ENS) — Harmony won the OMHA juvenile play down round over Omemee in Orono last Saturday, 11-10, the second game being a 4-all draw on soft ice. It was a tough series to lose in the last half minute of play, but superior weight paid off against the lighter Hornets on heavy going. The Hornets will continue to play exhibition games the rest of the season.

Stephenson scored in the first period from H. Fox and D. Fox, while Baker counted from Bottom for the other side. After a scoreless second heat, H. Fox tallied from Brown, and Shetler then tied it up. Stephenson put Omemee ahead from D. Fox, and the latter got another from H. Fox and Stephenson. However, Harmony tapped in two late ones, Hockin first and then Shelter at 59.38. Teams:

Omemee: Goal, Lanciault; defence, Brown, Fisher; centre, H. Fox; wings, Stephenson, D. Fox; alternates, Evans, Morrissey, Lytle, Crawford, McGuire and O'Donnell.

Harmony: Goal, Wilson; defence, Pringle, Hockin; centre, Rogers; wings, Shetler, Waltham; alternates, Aitken, Baker, Dykstra, Bottom.

Royal Family Least Affected By Election Furore In Britain

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Feb. 16 (CP)—Probably no one in Britain is less affected by the forthcoming general election than the Royal family.

By tradition Royalty never casts a vote, never lends it support to any political candidate, never refers to politics in public speeches —and never by so much as a smile, a nod or a frown, expresses any political preference.

The king only is concerned in the state formalities preceding an election. On the advice of his privy counsellors he issues a Royal proclamation dissolving parliament. Later he signs papers calling for an election. Afterwards he opens the new parliament in state and delivers the speech from the throne.

Only when summoning or dissolving parliament does the king go to the House of Commons. He can go to the House of Lords whenever he pleases, but he cannot take part in the deliberations except on occasions when he goes in state.

In earlier times kings attended parliament regularly, and often took part in debates. Later they confined themselves to the role of spectator.

Relations between the king and parliament are well defined, though sometimes perplexing. Only the king can summon parliament to meet, but if a king died during a period when parliament was prorogued parliament could reassemble itself automatically.

While the sovereign has rights in going to parliament, members of parliament have rights in going to the king; but they differ as between the two Houses.

The House of Lords as a body has free access to the throne, and each individual peer has also the privilege of audience with the king. The peers enjoy this privilege as hereditary counsellors of the king.

The prime minister also enjoys the privilege of audience when he wants it but individual members of the House of Commons have right of the audience only under certain conditions. They accompany the speaker to the king when an address is being presented to his majesty by the whole House.

King George Wins

King George defeated King Edward 4-2 in a neat Public School Hockey League encounter Barker and Crowder combining for a pair in the first period which spelled the difference. Crowder got another in the second from Thompson, and Barker got the last marker for the winners in the third. Hunt scored in the third for King Edward, and they pulled their goalie with two minutes to go, resulting in Tarkington tallying one more for the losers. Teams:

King George—Found, Barker, Crowder, Fairs, Roote, McKenzie, Barclay, McIlmoyle, Thompson Butcher.

King Edward—Hobart, Robbins, Johnston, Hunt, Smyth, Sutherland, Bennett, J. Hobart, Haggart, Chalmers, Tarkington, Phillips.

Calumet Horses Snag $250,000 Since Jan. 1

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—(AP)—Those galloping gold mines the Calumet Farm calls horses are well on the way to another $1,000,000-plus season in stacking up race track swag.

In just one month and a half of the 1950 campaign, Calumet already has knocked off close to $250,000 in purses. And this without attractions Citation and Coaltown.

In the last three years, Calumet horses have won more than $1,000,000 each season.

The chief keeper-of-the-wolf-from-the-door is Ponder, the stable's surprising 1949 Kentucky Derby winner.

Ponder won the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity Jan. 28, and last Saturday grabbed the $50,000 San Antonio handicap. Of the $214,850 salted away by the California branch of the Calumet Bank and Trust Company, Ponder has accounted for $120,500. Not bad for a horse that could earn only $400 as a two-year-old in 1948. His Maturity victory alone was worth $75,200.

Open-Air Rinks

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP) — A plan for 100 open-air artificial rinks will be presented to the Civic Parks Committee, Mayor Hiram McCallum said Wednesday. He mentioned the plan when the Board was considering construction of three ice arenas at an estimated $200,000 each.

Intermediate Bowlers Reach Hi-Y Semi-final

Bill Stewart's and Bob Howe's bowling squads earned the right to advance to the semi-finals of the Intermediate Hi-Y Bowling League Tuesday. Stewart's team eliminated Murray Grafstein's 784-713 and Bob Howe's cast out Miles Finnie's 781-723 in league play.

The semi-final games will be played March 7 with Stewart meeting Doug Graham's bowlers and Dave Fanning's boys against Bob Howe's. The final round will be played in April.

Lionel Hempstead toppled the pins to the tune of 260 gaining high single for the day. Bob Boyce placed second with 202.

Amazing Ingenuity Shown In 1949 In Smuggling Efforts At Border

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP)—The story of the Vancouver man and the race horse that failed to materialize is a good example of the tricks some Canadians use to try to smuggle money out of the country.

The Foreign Exchange Control Board told Wednesday in a press release of the unsuccessful attempts.

It said that fines and forfeitures of $90,397 were imposed during 1949 for infractions of foreign exchange control regulations.

The Vancouver man and the horse was a typical example. This man was given a permit in 1946 to get $3,500 in US currency to go to the US to buy a race horse. The money was given on condition that all the unused US dollars would be brought back to Canada and returned to the bank.

Fined $300

Months went by with no evidence of the import of the horse. The months rolled into years. The man was finally located in Vancouver last September. He explained that he had been unable to find a suitable horse in the US, but had used all his American money for expenses and pleasure purposes. He was fined $300.

The board did not disclose the names of the persons convicted.

Clever Ideas

Summing up the general situation, the board said:

"The ingenuity of persons attempting to smuggle U. S. or Canadian currency across the border was matched only by the alertness of customs officials in finding it.

"Women pinned money to their corsets, hid in the heels of their shoes, underneath the linings of their handbags and among their cosmetics.

"Men, too, resorted to many crafts and stratagems in an effort to conceal funds which were discovered when searches were ordered."

For pleasure purposes Canadians are permitted to take $150 in American funds from Canada each year. This amount is exclusive of $10 in American money and $15 in Canadian which can be taken out without a permit each month.

Total Fines

The total of fines and forfeitures includes 1,065 seizures of $100 or less made by customs officials and 32 by RCMP officers amounting to $33,726.

Nine seizures totalling $18,882 were the subject of actions in the Exchequer Court which deals with seizures of more than $100. In eight cases the court ordered forfeiture of the goods or currency involved. One action, involving $154, was dismissed.

One of the biggest catches was a man returning to Seattle after a visit to Victoria, B. C. He said he was carrying $85 in U. S. currency and $166 in Canadian money. Investigation disclosed an additional $10,152 in U. S. money hidden in his clothing. He was fined $525 and costs.

Other Rackets

A Toronto woman operating a tourist home had her American visitors pay for their accommodation by cheque. She did not cash the cheques until she got into the US on a pleasure trip. Then she opened an account in Florida by depositing the American cheques valued at $1,037. She was found out and fined $300 and costs.

A Toronto man apparently banked on customs officers having a short memory. He was going to New York in September, 1948. He told customs officials he had $250 in Dominion of Canada bonds and 67 shares of a Canadian common stock.

He was unwilling to surrender the bonds and stocks and arranged to leave the train at Welland, so he could turn them over to a relative. Later that evening he boarded the second section of the train. When questioned he said he was carrying $10 Canadian.

Further investigation revealed the stocks and bonds hidden in cigarette packages in his pockets and tucked into his shoes. He was fined $100 for trying to export securities from Canada without a permit.

HUGE PARK SYSTEM

The national park system of the United States embraces a total of some 20,500,000 acres in 169 different parks.

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 16 (CP)—Delbert Alberry, 50-year-old Brockville carpenter Wednesday was sentenced to three months in jail and ten strokes of the strap after pleading guilty to two offences involving young girls.

Sentenced To Hang

WINNIPEG, Feb. 16 (CP) — Camille Allarie, 31-year-old farm hand, Wednesday was sentenced to be hanged May 2 for the murder of Mrs. Edith Delbridge in her farm home at nearby Poplar Point last Sept. 24. Allarie is also alleged to have shot and killed her husband, William Delbridge, at the same time.

Judge Tries Case Himself

KINGSTON, Feb. 16 — (CP)— Because the defendant in a damage action twice mentioned the word insurance, Mr. Justice Dalton Wells Wednesday took the case from the jury and tried it himself.

He awarded the plaintiffs, Lionel and Eva Scott of Hendeson damages totalling $2,201. The defendant, Graydon Gray of Mountain Grove, was accused of driving his three-ton dump truck into a light truck driven by Scott.

Scott, Reeve of Kennebec Township, suffered head and knee injuries in the accident last May 29. His wife suffered fractures of four ribs and her collarbone.

The Judge said it was a principle in law that when mention of insurance is made, the case must be taken from the jury and tried by the Judge alone, or traversed to another court.

Navy League Meets

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP)— Delegates from 14 divisions of the Navy League of Canada meet here February 24 and 25 for the league's annual meeting, D. H. Gibson, Dominion president, announced Wednesday. Vice-Admiral H. T. Grant, Chief of Naval Staff, Ottawa, and Dr. C. H. Best of Toronto will speak at the annual dinner.

JUDY MUST HAVE THOUGHT the envelope slipped under the door contained a bill. The Cocker Spaniel chewed it to pieces, along with a $363 National Service Life Insurance dividend cheque. Her master newspaper cartoonist Bruce Shanks, was chagrined until he was advised by the Veterans Administration that a duplicate would be issued. "I understand how it happened," said Shanks. "We had spent hours training that pup to chew up only the regular monthly bills.'

Sunday School Awards Presented

APSLEY, Feb. 16 (ENS) — Sunday was presentation day at Trinity United Church when the following Sunday school scholars received diplomas and seals:

First year diploma—Anna Lee Parkin, Murray Montgomery; second year seals, Earl Spencely, Harry Ross Reynolds; third year seals, Gail Reynolds, Bobbie Hales, Maureta Montgomery; fourth year seals, Joan Wagner, Wayne Tucker; fifth year seals Evelyn Lean, Arnold Brown, Marie Tucker, Henry Wagner, Albert Wagner, Marion Johnson. Betty Lean; sixth year seals, Ted Wilson, Elaine Brown, Mary Jean Wilson; seventh year seals, Coralie Johnson, Donna Lean, David Lean.

The last three have all the seals placed on their diplomas and received them in frames.

Honorable mention — Holly Tucker, Joan McCauley, Herbie Parkin.

Mr. Robb congratulated the pupils on their achievements and was assisted by two elders, Joseph Tucker and N. H. Wilson. He also spoke highly of the work of the superintendent and teachers

Gordon Tucker announced the hymns and lead in the responsive Psalm reading. Mary Ellen Caverly read the scripture lesson.

The junior choir led the singing of hymns and sang an anthem Shirley Reynolds, Joan McCauley, Anna Lee Parkin and Gail Reynolds sang "A Sunbeam."

Marie Tucker was at the organ with A. Chase conducting.

Donald Earnshaw and Ted Wilson were ushers and took up the collection.

Discarded By Own Party Zilliacus Still Confident

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Feb. 16—(CP)—Alone and practically friendless, discarded by his own party and snubbed by his companions in exile, Konni Zilliacus goes into the Feb. 23 General Election as frothily confident as ever, his political enthusiasms still strong. "The betting in the Gateshead Pubs", says Zilliacus, "is still 6-4 on me." A less ardent man would have given up long ago. Last June, the ruling Labor party unceremoniously ditched him for following a pro-Russion line on foreign affairs; Communist newspapers which once applauded his speeches now abuse him for supporting Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito; even his former friends in the last Parliament apparently want no part of him.

Five years ago, the politically shrewd touted Zilliacus as a good bet for a high post in the foreign office.

Yale Graduate

His fall from grace doesn't disturb the Japan-born Labor rebel, son of Swedish-American parents, who graduated first in his class from Yale University and has devoted all his time ever since to foreign affairs. Currently campaigning as a Labor Independent in Gateshead East, he thinks he has a good chance to retain the seat he won with a majority of nearly 20,000 votes in the 1945 election.

His opponents are A. S. Moody, the official Labor candidate, and Douglas Clift, a Conservative lawyer.

Once the back-room boy of Labor foreign policy, Zilliacus was expelled for salty speeches against the government. Describing a speech by Prime Minister Attlee, he said in typically picturesque language that the Socialist premier "Grizzled like a governess rendered peevish by the naughtiness of the little ones confided to her care."

He also took some hefty wallops at the Conservative opposition. Winston Churchill, he said, was a "senile Walter Mitty." In a recent nautical metaphor, he said he was not suggesting that Churchill should be towed out to sea and sunk, like any other glorious hulk surviving from the Trafalgar; "he ought to be recognized and cherished as a museum piece."

Belgrade Spy

Zilliacus used to be known as a Russo-Phile, but even that relationship soured. The Paris Communist newspaper L'Humanite, which appreciated speeches made by Zilliacus at a Paris "Peace Congress" last year, criticized the British M. P. for supporting Tito against Stalin.

"Strong bonds must link Zilliacus to the gang of Belgrade spies," the paper said.

NEW HEAVYWEIGHT TIDE gets clothes dazzling clean WITHOUT RINSING!

"MY WASH LOOKED WONDERFUL WITHOUT RINSING!" SAYS MRS. A. G. WESTBERG OF TORONTO, ONT.

"Was I surprised! I used new Heavyweight Tide—and didn't rinse—and my whole wash looked wonderful. I took the clothes out of those wonder suds, wrung them out, and hung them up. And they dried so fresh and soft and CLEAN—and ironed so nice, too! Believe me, I'll never use anything but new Heavyweight Tide from now on!"

Cuts washday work in half! Just wash – wring out – hang up!

All over Canada women are talking about the amazing fact that you can wash with new Heavyweight Tide—without any rinsing at all. Some women just plain don't believe it—and you can hardly blame them, for it's the most revolutionary thing that ever happened to washday. But whether or not you find it hard to believe, it's absolutely true.

When you wash with the new Heavyweight Tide, you can take your wash right from those wonder suds—put it through the wringer and onto the line, without rinsing! You see, new Heavyweight Tide gets the dirt out of the clothes—then holds it suspended in the sudsy water. As the clothes go through the wringer, the dirt runs out with the wash water, leaving the clothes so bright, fresh and CLEAN, you'll be amazed.

IT'S NEW! IT'S GOT STEPPED-UP WASHING POWER to do your heaviest, dirtiest wash!

AT YOUR DEALER'S NOW – IN THIS SAME FAMILIAR PACKAGE

Just wait till you see how clean new Heavyweight Tide gets hard-to-do things like workshirts and overalls! Because of its new stepped-up washing power, every grain does more work . . . licks your toughest laundry problems. Yet with all this terrific new washing power, it's safe for all your colors!

More for your money! So much more washing power, every package goes much farther!

Get New Heavyweight Tide! Try it without rinsing and save yourself time, and work . . . and hot water. See how beautifully fresh and clean your clothes come . . . see how nice and soft they dry . . . how easily they iron. All without rinsing!

No other washing product known matches NEW HEAVYWEIGHT TIDE for getting out dirt and soap film too! ...yet it's truly safe for colors!

THESE SKETCHES taken from a government report, show what happens to a small house, a tree and a dog in the path of an atomic blast. The calm of the top sketch is broken by the pressure phase of the blast, which whips the tree, tosses the dog and begins to shake the house apart When the pressure is past there comes a lull, followed by the suction phase of the blast. Here the air rushes back to fill a partial vacuum. The tree is shredded, roof is ripped from house and dog is flung against the wall. Now the air is still again and nothing remains but ruins and a dead dog. Diagram at right shows time relation to blast, measurement of which is not disclosed, for security reasons.

Name April 5 For Next Round

WASHINTON, Feb. 16 (CP).—The Federal Power Commission has set April 5 for the next round in a fight by New York State for a licence to develop a power project on the St. Lawrence River in co-operation with Ontario.

The Commission will hear argument against the recommendation by its presiding examiner that the application of the State's power authority be denied and the matter referred to the United States Congress.

The presiding examiner recommended that the United States itself develop the American portion of the water resources of the river's international rapids section for both navigation and power "at the earliest possible date." The New York-Ontario plan does not contemplate immediate construction of navigation facilities.

It proposes that New York develop the United States portion of the rapids and that Ontario's Hydro-Electric Power Commission undertake the building of the Canadian section of the power project.

Crosby Firm Sons Finish College First

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP)—It's still too early to determine whether Bing Crosby's sons will follow in their famed father's footsteps. That's the word of "papa Croz" himself.

The groaner was noticeably proud of the singing debut of his oldest sprout, Gary. But he doesn't know whether Gary wants a career in show business.

"Right now he's more interested in football," said Bing of his husky first-born. I asked if Gary would be allowed to make records or accept any singing dates.

"No, he's got to finish college first," Bing answered. "That goes for all the boys."

All Sing

Do the other three lads show talent? "Well, they sing around the house, just like Gary. But they seem more interested in playing right now. They're all good at baseball and football."

He added that the boys will appear on his radio show once a year, but that will be the extent of their singing and acting careers until they become college graduates.

Much-travelling Crosby was in town briefly for a musical number with Groucho Marx in "Mr. Rhythm." I asked about reports he would be seeing Rome this year.

"I doubt it," he said. "I expect to go to Europe this summer, but I don't think I'll have time to get down there." The trip will be strictly pleasure and will centre around Paris. As for the boys, "they'll be tilling the soil" at the family ranch in Elko, Nev.

No More "Road"

Bing will be kept pretty busy with picture making in the future He has two or three films already lined up. I asked if one would be another "road" picture with Bob Hope.

"I guess not," he answered. "The studio seems to think 'road' pictures are too expensive."

The reasoning around Paramount seems to be: Why waste Hope and Crosby in the same picture when they can be making a picture apiece?

Get More A-Energy

LONDON, Feb. 16 (CP)—The Ministry of Supply said Wednesday it has found a way to run Britain's atomic-energy piles at a much higher temperature than was possible in the past. The result, the Ministry said, will be a "considerable increase" in energy available for experimental work at the government atom laboratory in Harwell.

Diver Searches River

MONTREAL, Feb. 16 (CP) — RCMP said Wednesday night they will send down a diver today to search the bottom of the back river for evidence that will help them in their drive against a counterfeit money gang Inspector Rene Belec said a man held on charges of conspiracy to possess equipment for purposes of making bogus bills told them he threw engraved plates into the river.

Decorations On Cake

BAULIEU, Hampshire, England, Feb. 16 (CP)—A Canadian maple leaf, a Texas oil derrick, a cowboy on a horse and a 16th-century Abbey were wedding-cake decorations at the marriage Wednesday of the Hon. Caroline Douglas-Scott-Montagu to George Grainger Weston, eldest son of Garfield Weston, Toronto-born biscuit millionaire.

Up To Superintendents

TORONTO, Feb. 16 (CP) — Segregation of senile patients is made the responsibility of superintendents of homes for the aged under regulations proclaimed on Wednesday by the Ontario government. They implement the Homes for the Aged Act passed at the last session of the Legislature.

Driver Gets Out Before Car And Train Collide

An empty car stuck on the CNR tracks crossing north Water St. was hit by a train travelling west and shoved 42 feet sideways along the tracks Wednesday about 6.30 p.m.

The car was being driven south on Water St. by Donald A. Landry, 315 Reid St. He told Constable Grant Gillespie as he was crossing the railway tracks his car stopped and could not get it moving again. He was driving alone.

He heard a train whistle and jumped out of the car to try to wave the train to a stop. However, Engineer Norman James, Lindsay, told police he didn't see the car in time.

He estimated the speed of his train at about eight to ten miles an hour. He put on the brakes, but by then it was too late to avoid hitting the car.

Almost the whole left side of the car was pushed in. The train fireman was E. Reeves, Lindsay and the yard foreman riding with the train was Michael A. Doherty, 714 McKellar St.

Ski Champions To Be Decided

Club championships for Peterborough Ski Club will be decided this week-end at Nassau and Bethany. Saturday afternoon the junior and Class "C" juniors will perform on the small jump at Nassau and the seniors will take to the air off the big jump. These events start at 1.30 p.m. The downhill and slalom events will be held at Bethany on Sunday.

A large crowd of skiers begged, borowed or bought their way to Kempts' Hill Tuesday night The skiing was good and would have been better if the hill had not been wind-blown. Wednesday afternoon the poor condition of the tow-line (windblown down to the ice) made officials decide not to run the tow. Wednesday night a group of members snowed the tow-trail for skiing tonight.

SLUSH SLOPPED

Perhaps it's nice to see the snow go, but not on one's own clothes. In the mucky slush of today one of the most treacherous walks is across Hunter Street Bridge, for there is only a limited space for pedestrians to jump when a car comes splattering along—unless they jump over the bridge wall. This morning a young woman fashionably dressed in a pretty green jacket and rust skirt took the full treatment from a car rioping over the bridge well beyond the legal speed limit. She crowded as far into the wall as possible, but emerged completely spattered, wet and black. It is not known whether she got the car's number. Bus drivers over the bridge today were very careful, slowing up to a snail's pace—a hint on courtesy other drivers might take. J.T.

CCL Officials Expound Among Outboard

About 62 employees of the Outboard Marine Manufacturing Co. attended a dinner meeting Wednesday night at Marino's Italian Room and heard three high-ranking CCL officials speak on CCL policy and labor problems generally

J. L. McGuire, president of the independent union which sponsored the meeting, said its purpose was to acquaint the membership with union affairs outside their own shop.

Henry Rhodes, regional director for the CCL in Ontario, spoke on the aims and organization of the CCL, the setting up by that body of the National Union of Employable for the organization of the jobless, and the new international labor body started recently in London in opposition to the left-wing WFTU.

CCL Version

Fred Hannah, special IUE representative, gave the CCL version of the present conflict now going on between the UE and the IUE (CIO-CCL) in the Peterborough plant.

Third CCL official was Albert Johnston, director of the Trent Valley Area Joint Board, TWUA (CIO-CCL).

A question period followed the meeting

A leaflet handed out by the Union included a questionnaire, asking the membership if they would like other meetings of a similar kind and what speakers and organizations they would prefer

Prizes For Posters

Cash donations from Peterborough residents and business people have been received by the VON as prizes for the poster competition, closing date of which is March 20. At the annual meeting of the Peterborough branch Wednesday at the YWCA, donations were acknowledged from the following: Deyell's Book Store, Scarfe's Paints, P. D. Scollard, H. L. Garner, G. Matthews, Ed Riley, Tom Doughty, Dr. Clifford McKee and B. LaBranche.

Health Clinics For Babies Largely Attended

Usually a slack month at the Well Baby Clinics, January this year was one of the busiest for this time of the year, Dr. R. A. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health, told the Board of Health today.

At 17 clinics held during the month, there was a total attendance of 423.

The Board gave permission for one of the Department's nurses to attend a three-day course in March, sponsored by the province. Subject of the course is maternity hygiene and prenatal classes.

Miss Clark said 20 student nurses from St. Joseph's Hospital had each spent three days with the Department during the past year. This completed the year's quota of nurses from this hospital, who visit the Department to observe public health methods and eight more nurses will visit from Civic Hospital before the year's schedule is completed

Conduct Swab Tests

Swab tests have been conducted in city restaurants by R. P. H. Tyler. Dr. Harold Worton, food and dairy inspector reported results have been good and chief source of counts was with soda fountain and ice cream scoops.

Return visits by Mr. Tyler have revealed considerable improvement.

One restaurant received notice to have a general clean-up in 24 hours and this was done, Dr. Worton reported.

The market was inspected regularly and foods were wholesome and clean looking

Cloth Workers New Contract

The membership of Local 743, Textile Workers Union of America (CIO-CCL) have approved the terms of a new contract negotiated between the Textile Workers and the Campbellford Cloth Co., A. E. Johnston, director of the Trent Valley Area Textile Joint Board, has announced Affected by the new agreement, not yet signed, are some 230 employees in the bargaining unit.

The contract which was negotiated on February 7, 1950, calls for the following revisions for the year 1950:

1—An adjustment of the cost of living, giving all employees a 2c per hour increase, retroactive to January 7.

2—Two weeks' holidays for all employees after three months' employment, on an esculator plan, as follows:

Three months to two years, 2 per cent of annual earnings; two years to three years, 2½ per cent of annual earnings; three years to four years, 3 per cent of annual earnings; four years to five years, 3½ per cent of annual earnings; five years and over, 4 per cent of annual earnings.

3—Two more statutory holidays, for all employees after six months' employment, making a total of eight holidays.

4—The incorporation of 13c per hour, cost of living into all piecework and hourly rates.

5—A complete re-study of the entire sick benefit, surgical and medical plan which is in operation at present in the plant. The company and the union are to meet within three months to study the findings and negotiate the changes.

Health Nurses Visit School Outside City

Attendance of public health nurses from the city Health Department at St. Anne's Separate School in Smith township commenced at the end of January, Gene Clark, supervisor, reported to the Board of Health today.

Although outside the city limits the school's 172 students are mostly from the city, Miss Clark said. The nurses visit the school two mornings and one afternoon a week, spending an hour or one and a half hours on each visit.

Four Witnesses Complete Crown's Evidence In Case Against Byrnes

All evidence in the preliminary hearing in which Joseph Byrnes, 26, is charged with the murder of Mrs. Helen Kendry, 26, was presented to the court before it adjourned at 12.45 p.m. today. Magistrate W. R. Philp reconvened court at 2.15 and the hearing continued.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said he had presented all the evidence he intended to in the one and a half days the hearing has been in progress.

Mrs. Kendry died as the result of a bullet wound received at the climax of a beer drinking party about three a.m. Sunday morning Feb. 5.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw called four witnesses, today, including Peterborough county's coroner, Dr. Herbert N. Young. The three other witnesses who had all taken part in the party before the shooting were Harold Frost, 35, of 550 Sherbrooke St., Vincent Garvey, 24, of Sherbrooke Place and John Jones, brother of the victim, Mrs. Kendry.

Jones had been upstairs in bed when his sister was shot. The Jones's had a two-room apartment on the second floor of the Byrnes house.

Jones shocked the court when he testified he had heard Byrnes say he didn't care if he had killed his wife, that they could take her to the canal and drown her as far as he was concerned. Jones said he heard Byrnes say the only thing he cared for was their two year-old child.

Frost Gives Evidence

As the murder hearing's second day opened, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw called Harold Frost, 550 Sherbrooke St.

He said he and Mrs. Kendry arrived at the Byrnes home about 11:30 p.m. Mrs. Kendry suggested they go in to see her brother, Jack Jones, who lives in the upstairs apartment, but Danny McGregor invited him to join their party.

Frost said he had four pints of beer and one drink of liquor before going to the Byrnes home.

"I was feeling pretty good," he said, but added he was not intoxicated. At the party he had about four pints of beer.

Mrs. Kendry joined the party about 20 minutes after arriving at the house.

He said there was no disturbance until McGregor woke Byrnes up from where he was lying on the floor.

Frost said he did not hear anyone suggest the party break up. He didn't hear anything before the lights went out. Nor did he see Byrnes leave the living-room.

Between the time the lights went out and shot came he had only a vague recollection of seeing Byrnes in the hallway.

A. that point, Crown Attorney Bradshaw asked him whether he was sober.

"I had more to drink that I should have had," Frost said.

Looked For Fuse Box

Frost said he and Mrs. Weir went down to the basement, and with lighted matches tried to find the fuse box to turn on the lights.

He returned to the living-room and said to Mrs. Kendry, "Let's get out of here."

They were standing by the chair in the north-east corner of the living-room. He heard a loud report and Mrs. Kendry said, "Oh, Huck!", and dropped. He felt a stinging on his stomach. He examined Mrs. Kendry and found "a hole underneath her breast." Blood was coming from the wound.

Asked by Mr. Carley, Frost said he met Mrs. Kendry about 8.45 p.m. and they went directly to a hotel.

After closing at 11 p.m., they went to visit friends on Hauley St., but there was no one there. After waiting a short time, they walked toward Mrs. Kendry's home on Hamilton St.

On the way, Mrs. Kendry decided to go in to visit her brother, Jack Jones.

Frost said he knew Byrnes, but didn't know Byrnes lived there.

Frost said he had a bottle of rye whiskey with him, but didn't drink any of it and didn't give any to anyone else, including Byrnes and Mrs. Kendry.

Throughout the whole evening there was no ill will between Byrnes and Frost and Mrs. Kendry. Frost and Mrs. Kendry took no part in the fighting. He said he sat on the chesterfield chair in the north-east corner of the room most of the evening.

After the lights went out he and Mrs. Kendry continued to sit in the chesterfield chair before he decided to go down to the basemnt to turn on the lights.

"To be quite frank about it you were pretty intoxicated," Mr. Carley said.

"I was feeling pretty good, yes," Frost answered.

"You were pretty high weren't you?" Mr. Carley asked.

"Yes," Frost answered.

He said that was partly the reason he didn't remember details. He returned to the living-room chair.

When Mrs. Kendry got up out of the chair, she took a step to the south-west and turned facing north. Frost stepped directly behind her almost close enough to be touching her.

Frost said he thought he caught Mrs. Kendry as she started to slump toward the floor, and laid her down on the floor.

McGregor Testimony

Frost was followed by Daniel McGregor, 284 Sherbrooke Place, in the witness box. McGregor said he was in the navy with Byrnes.

He met Byrnes about 4:30 p.m. in a downtown hotel. He had two draughts of beer and Byrnes had two pints. From there they went to Byrnes' home where Byrnes gathered up empty beer bottles. They went to the brewer's store and McGregor bought two cases.

They returned to Byrnes' home where they ate supper. About 8:30 p.m. they left. Byrnes went to a downtown hotel and McGregor went home to ge dressed.

The two met later and went to a hotel where they had "a few". They visited two other hotels.

"I'm suggesting by that time you were pretty well under the weather," Mr. Bradshaw said.

"I was," Mr. McGregor answered. At the last hotel, they met Mrs. Weir and Mrs. O'Toole and then went to the Byrnes home.

McGregor said he and Byrnes got in "a little scrap," which was not unusual, he said. He said he didn't remember how the fight started. He also didn't remember shaking Byrnes.

When Byrnes threw the tricycle McGregor was standing near the chair where Mrs. Byrnes was sitting.

"I ducked and it hit Mrs. Byrnes," McGregor testified.

McGregor said he was outside when the shooting occurred. The lights were on when he went out the front door and he didn't hear the shot.

The first he knew of it was when he stepped back in the front door and heard someone say "She's been shot."

He saw Mrs. Kendry lying on the floor and went to a neighbour's house to phone for an ambulance.

Under cross-questioning by Mr. Carley, McGregor said a third man he did not know was driving them about. He left during the evening.

At several times while testimony was given, Byrnes smiled across to his wife sitting at the side of the court room.

"Joe wasn't too drunk," McGregor said, answering a question by Mr. Carley.

McGregor said Frost gave him and Byrnes one drink of liquor each.

Autopsy Report

Dr. Herbert N. Young, Peterborough county coroner, ordered the autopsy. He said the wound was in Mrs. Kendry's abdomen and the bullet had ruptured the largest artery in the body which travelled along the spine. The bullet had torn the artery and glanced off the spine. Cause of death was internal hemorrhage.

"I don't see how she could have been alive when she was put in the ambulance," Dr. Young said.

John Jones, brother of Mrs Kendry, said he was living in the upstairs of the Byrnes home.

He said Mrs. Kendry came to their apartment and stayed about half an hour.

After he and his wife went to bed he heard a racket.

"We heard Joe tell them to get out several times, and I also heard him tell them to come back, he was sorry," Jones testified

"I heard Joe [illegible] when Mrs Byrnes came back in, he didn't care if he had killed her," Jones added. "That they could take her over to the canal and drown her as far as he cared That all he cared for was his kid."

He did not hear the shot but his wife woke him up. He told Mr. Carley he had nothing to drink that evening.

He added that Mrs. Kendry left them about midnight and they went to bed about 1 a.m.

"Were you listening to hear what you could downstairs?" Mr Carley asked.

"Yes," Jones answered.

He said he didn't know what time it was when he heard Byrnes talking about his wife.

"Was that in the statement to the police that you signed?" Mr Carley asked.

"I don't think so," Jones answered.

"I don't think you told the police that at all," Mr. Carley said

"Yes, I did," Jones answered. He told the court he only knew about Mrs. Brynes' injury from Mrs. Weir.

When he was wakened by his wife, Mrs. Weir was in their kitchen He said his clock had stopped.

Normal Pageant Of Centenary Creative Effort

A pageant in three scenes entitled Centennial Highlights, written by the students of the Peterborough Normal School, was presented as the feature of the So-Ed program Wednesday night. The performance was a dress rehearsal in preparation for the At Home Friday night.

The general feeling after the play by the So-Ed members was that the pageant should be presented several times before the end of the school term to help the city celebrate its centennial year.

A side-scene continuity of a modern couple (John and Martha, played by Alex McLeod and June Harrison), evocative singing by the Normal school choir under the direction of Quirt McKinney, and a narrator, unified the history of Peterborough as presented in pageant sequences.

In the first tableau, the gay atmosphere of an old-time barn-raising celebration was re-created. With girls lining the walls of the barn eight couples glided through a dance to the tune of "The Waves of Tory." Caller William Anderson introduced Mary Grant, who did an Irish jig. This was followed by a chorus of girls doing the Reel of Tulloch. The scene ended with an old-fashioned square danee

Royal Visit

Singing by the choir changed the setting from the living-room of John and Martha to the Civic Reception of H.R.H., the Prince of Wales in 1860. The ceremony was short with the Prince, Francis McTeague, welcomed by the County Warden, Douglas Nichols, and the Mayor of the town, Ailen Moore. Several songs were sung by the choir representing the choirs at the celebration.

Tenor soloist Edward Hewitt was the feature of the last scene, the centennial celebration in the civic auditorium. Mr. Hewitt sang the current popular song, Dear Hearts and Gentle People. The blended voices of the choir on the second chorus of the song were acclaimed by the audience. The choir's impressive finale of the pageant was the chorus "Mighty Land, Wondrous Land."

In this pageant on the theme of the centennial the whole student body took part in some phase of the production: script writing, acting, singing, dancing, painting design, playing accompaniments, arranging lighting and stage management.

Following the play the So-Ed members entered the fourth period of interest group meetings on topics such as square dancing and fix-it corner. They concluded the evening with progressive games under the direction of Alex Sinclair, city recreation director.

A.R. MacGregor Heads Kawartha Golf Club

Alex R. MacGregor was elected president of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club at their annual meeting on Monday evening. Others of the executive elected for 1950 were A. R. Joes, 1st vice-president, Ed Riley, 2nd vice-president, T. Glover, treasurer and G. F. White, secretary

Past-president F. L. Buckland presided at the outset of the meeting before turning his office over to Mr. MacGregor. Reports from the treasurer and all committee heads were read and Mr. Buckland commented on the excellent co-operation of various committees toward a successful year in 1949.

The unchanged board of directors of the club is composed of A R. MacGregor, A. R. Jones, C. K. Fraser, T. Glover, I. F. MacRae, L. Brown, E. Riley, F. L. Buckland and G. F. White.

Company Adds $275 To Employee's Award

Lloyd James of the small motors division of C.G.E. has received an additional award of $275 for a suggestion that won him $75 last May. The Works News says his original idea related to a change of lead location on dual voltage motors and elimination of the need of lead markers.

"The award was based on savings resulting from the use of his suggestion on "40" series motors, and last week Mr James received a further award of $275 for savings which will result from the application of the same idea to "60" series motors.

James Leckie of switchgear division received $160 for an idea of omitting certain nuts on high voltage bushings for KSO breakers. Those were the major awards recently reported at the C.G.E.

Aside from shock, she quickly recovered from the experience.

GE Wage Offer Unchanged To UE Workers

TORONTO, Feb 16 (CP)—The Canadian General Electric Co., at a meeting yesterday with the United Electrical Workers, stood pat on its wage and contract offer to the UE as the nine-month dispute moved to a climax.

C. S. Jackson, Canadian director of the UE, said the union's joint conference board, which has authority to call a strike, will meet Monday to consider the next step.

R. G. Flood, CGE's personnel director, and chief negotiator for the company, said the company had reaffirmed its conviction that its offer to implement all the recommendations of the majority report of a conciliation board was a sound and fair basis for settlement.

This report recommended a reduction in the work week from 44 to 42 hours with a compensating wage increase of 4.77 per cent.

Mr. Flood added that the union and company were still seeking to find common ground on seniority clauses of the agreement.

Approximately 3,000 employees in four Toronto plants of the company are affected by the dispute. The company's largest and key plant—that in Peterborough — is the scene of a contest between the UE and the CIO electrical union. Pending settlement of this interunion battle, the plant has been left out of negotiations.

Mr. Flood said the company had informed the union that it had no wish to see its employees subject to the hardships of a strike. It hoped the union would accept the company's offer and make strike action unnecessary.

No further meetings were scheduled between the two parties as the meeting broke up.

R. J. Chandler, New President Of Victorian Order Of Nurses

Peterborough branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses Wednesday elected Reginald Chandler president. He took over office from J. E. Girven, 1949 president, at the annual meeting at the Y.W.C.A.

Briefly outlining the function of the Order, Mr. Girven explained that the VON fills a need which is not taken care of by any other organisation.

There are many cases where patients return to their homes after hospitalisation who still need a small amount of nursing care each day, he said. This, the VON provides by a call at the home as well as carrying out the directions given by the doctor and instructing members of the family on matter which can make the patient more comfortable.

A visit such as this does not usually exceed one hour. The charge for each visit is $1.50 providing the patient is in a position to pay for it. Of the total number of 6,063 visits last year 24 per cent were paid for in full, 12 per cent were paid in part and 56 per cent were free of charge.

Educational Visits

Of the 56 per cent free visits, the vast majority were educational, for which no charge is made. Certain insurance policy holders were given nursing care, which was financed by the insurance company.

During the year the nursing staff made 42 calls to two war veterans. All such service to veterans of both world wars is paid for by the Department of Veterans' Affairs.

The four members of the permanent Peterborough nursing staff, Miss Mary Ross, supervisor; Miss Mary Allan, Miss Wilma Strong and Miss Enid Apps and also Mrs. Loughman responsible for the office work, were introduced to the meeting. Mr. Girven explained that the work in Peterborough is done by four nurses and a relief nurse joins the staff during the summer holidays period.

Take Emergency Calls

Although the VON nurses have a regular working day and the office is closed during off duty hours, they are prepared to take emergency calls outside the regular working time and are obtainable through the community nursing registery, Mr. Girven said. Miss Ross gave a brief summary of the development of nursing care in the Peterborough community during the past 50 years. She also predicted that future trends might well be towards a greater emphasis on home care and described an experiment in home care which has been carried out by a New York hospital during the past three years.

Mentioning some of the problems which face a hospital patient on returning home to the family. Is the patient's family ready and able to assume the responsibility of subsequent care, or do the other members resent and fear his illness? Will they be able to make the necessary emotional adjustment or will they feel inadequate? Is the patient confident that home care will be beneficial or is he afraid that he will be unwanted and therefore neglected on discharge from hospital? These were some of the factors mentioned by Miss Ross.

Illness often involves considerable expense which prohibits families from renting and purchasing articles that make care easier to give and add so much to the comfort of the patient, the superintendent pointed out. The VON was grateful to the Red Cross for supplying such articles from its loan cupboard.

Of the total number of visits made by the nurses 443 were to 164 prenatal patients and in all, 2,742 visits were made in the interests of mother and infant.

Adequate Care For Aged

Miss Ross mentioned the problem of the present lack of adequate care for the aged. While many are the centre of the family group, loved and cared for, others live in one room on small pensions or incomes and with no relatives. The care given by the VON is not entirely adequate for their needs, she said and they often suffer from neglect and loneliness.

Guest speaker was Miss Hazel Miller, a national supervisor, whose territory includes this part of Ontario. She explained that permanent VON staff are required to have public health training and said that during 1949 the Order gave 50 scholarships of $700 each for post graduate training.

The Order was continually receiving requests to extend its work and new centres were being set up. Lindsay was one of the centres to have a branch established in the community during the past year.

Wilson Gemmell, treasurer, reported the deficit, which was $919 at the end of 1948, had been reduced during the year to $33. Total receipts were $14,760 and expenditures amounted to $13,874. The Order was asking the Community Chest $5,550 this years.

Nescafé is real coffee at its best

THE COFFEE THAT SAVES YOU UP TO 25¢ A POUND

Make it instantly in cup or coffee maker

One satisfying sip and you'll discover that Nescafé brings you all the flavour and "lift" of pure, freshly roasted, freshly brewed coffee. With Nescafé you get perfect COFFEE every time.

Even the 4-oz. jar makes about as many cups as a pound of ordinary coffee — yet costs you less. The big family size jar saves even more. And Nescafé stays fresh to the last spoonful.

Nescafé is made in an instant —right in the cup. No muss, no bother. No messy grounds.

DRINK NESCAFE AND ENJOY THE FINEST CUP OF COFFEE YOU EVER TASTED

*Nescafé (pronounced NES-CAFAY) is the exclusive registered Trade Mark of Nestlé's Milk Products (Canada) Limited to designate its Soluble Coffee Product. It is composed of equal parts of pure soluble coffee and added pure carbohydrates (dextrins, maltose and dextrose) added solely to protect the flavour.

Members To Make Hospital Supplies

The meeting of the afternoon Auxiliary of the W.M.S. of George St. United Church was held in the board room Tuesday afternoon.

Considering the weather there was a splendid attendance of both members and visitors.

Mrs. E. H. Brown, president, opened the meeting and proceeded to hear the reports from various secretarys. Mrs. F. Barrett, secretary Christian stewardship, gave an inspiring talk on the work and urged everyone to consider their duties and try to do even more during the coming year to help in the great missionary enterprise.

Mrs. P. M. McCarrell secretary of finance reported from the meeting of the presbyterial that more money will be required this year.

Mrs. F. W. Burnham supply secretary read a letter from head office telling of the need of hospital supplies for work in Africa. She will have articles ready shortly for the various groups to make up. She also reminded of the bale of used clothing which will be shipped overseas sometime in April.

Mrs. Ross Moore, accompanied by Mrs. W. L. McNeil, rendered two beautiful solo's, "The Altar of Prayer" and "Gate of The Year," by request.

The offering was by Mrs. G. P. Benton and Mrs. S. Booth, while Mrs. W. P. Purdy played soft music.

Mrs. A. Rosborough, leader of district one, took the chair and conducted devotions assisted by Miss Dewart, Mrs. Lincoln Brown, Mrs. W Mason, and Mrs. S. Booth.

A social time was enjoyed when the group served a cup of tea and cookies at close of the meeting.

STOMACH ACTING UP

Don't let indigestion, heartburn or other stomach upsets make you afraid to eat a good meal! Just take a Digestif Rennie Tablet after eating. Quick-acting RENNIES dissolve pleasantly in the mouth—relieve over-acidity. Individually-wrapped. Easy to carry in purse or pocket. 25c. 7

REACH FOR A RENNIE

UNUSUAL TOUCHES—Quilting on the collar lapels and cuffs add a provocative touch to Alvinna's satin raincoat that doubles in brass for any season. It can be worn with open collar or closed high at throatline. At right, the designer uses pinwale corduroy for coat featuring scalloped yoke to match collar. A dog leash belt and matching "little boy" hat complete the ensemble.

E. Chambers, district chairman, poured the tea.

KING GEORGE SCHOOL

The father's night meeting of King George Home and School Association was held in Mark St. Church Sunday school rooms on Tuesday evening with a large attendance. President Mrs. B. Bell handled the business before turning the chair over to Mr. Ed MacDonald.

Guest speaker the Rev. B. Morwood, introduced by Mr. J. E. Girven, took as his subject "The big Three" home, school and church."

Mr. A. Croasdale, in charge of musical training at PCVS, told of his work with the school orchestra and entertained at the piano.

Refreshments were served by Messrs. J. Nornabel, B. Bell, F. Ennis, C. English, J. H. Moebus and E. MacDonald.

The guests were thanked by Mr. G. Lathangue.

Bride-Elect Showered

Mrs. C. H. Hamilton, 337 Rogers St., entertained at a delightful, shower for Miss Barbara Reid whose marriage takes place this week.

Miss Maizie Shearer read an address and a gaily decorated basket of attractive gifts was presented. Mrs. Clark Darling and Miss Marilyn Hamilton served a delicious lunch at the close of the evening.

Those present were: Mesdames F. Shearer, S. Hutton, W. Scrace, A. Hillis, I. Johnston, J. E. Rutherford, A. Hewitt, C. English, F. Britnell, R. Bennett, E. Bickell, J. Miller, C. Darling, W. Purcell, E. Howden, R. Skuce, Della Hewitt, B. Reid, C. H. Hamilton. Misses Wilma Hewitt, Maizie Shearer, Anita Mason, Barbara Reid and Marilyn Hamilton. Miss Marie Derry sent a gift but was unable to attend. Little Helen Hamilton made a charming door attendant.

Executive Serves Tea at School

In spite of inclement weather, a lovely Valentine tea was held at Prince of Wales School Tuesday afternoon, when members of the Home and School executive entertained room mothers and the teaching staff.

Convener for the tea was Mrs. H. Parnell, assisted by Mrs. A. Kearns, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. J. Fraser, and Mrs. P. Johnson.

The guests were received by Mrs. F. Gray, president, and Mrs. J. Morley. Tea was poured by Mrs. R. Bolton and Mrs. A. Hill.

The tea-table was attractively arranged, using the valentine colours, and had a novel centrepiece in the form of graceful branches, adorned with lacey hearts and cupids.

PARKHILL SCHOOL

President Mrs. L. Parnell gave a hearty welcome to those members of Parkhill Home and School Association who braved Tuesday evening's weather to attend the founder's night meeting.

Plans were made for a St. Patrick's Tea on March 15 and for a fathers' night meeting on the 14th.

After a sing song the meeting was taken over by Mrs. M. Bullied. In a talk on Home and School Mrs. C. Collins, introduced by Mrs. H. Griffin, stressed the need for cooperation and understanding between teacher and parent to solve the problems of children. She urged the parents to talk to the teachers and get to work together as a unit.

Mrs. B. Holloway thanked Mrs. Collins.

Songs by 17 members of the Boys' Town choir were much enjoyed. They ranged from "Clancy lowered the boom" to "Brahm's Lullaby." Director Walter Bent spoke briefly about boys' town.

A vote of appreciation to the guests was moved by Mrs. R. Fulton.

A special candle-lighting service commemorated founder's day, after which refreshments, including birthday cake, were served. Miss M. Pound and Mrs.

PANCAKE DAY is a field day for Junior . . . and hundreds of thousands like him. Dig in, Junior, there's lots more pancakes where these came from!

ShroveTuesdayPancakeDay

Shrove Tuesday February 21, will not be complete if you don't serve the traditional feast of golden brown pancakes. Pancake Day without pancakes would be like Christmas without the turkey and plum pudding. Preparing pancakes today is so simple that you can even enlist hubby's aid. . .simply give him a package of pancake flour and a mixing bowl and let him go to it! Confidentially he'll probably enjoy the honor, because most men rather pride themselves on their ability to bake grand pancakes. Another thing you'll like about pancakes is that they're so easy on the budget. Try serving them frequently as a supper dish and see what you save.

Easy Pancake Recipe

Here's a good basic recipe that makes 14 to 16 medium sized pancakes.

2 cups ready-mix for pancakes.
2¼ cups milk.

1. Just add water to unsifted pancake mix (all at once) and stir lightly.
2. Pour ¼ cup of batter for each pancake onto a hot lightly greased griddle.
3. Bake to a golden brown, turning only once.

For greater economy, substitute water for part or all of the milk. For thinner pancakes, use more milk. For extra rich pancakes, add 1 beaten egg and 2 tablespoons melted shortening to pancake batter and for delicious buckheat cakes; use 2 cups Buckwheat Ready-Mix to 2½ cups milk following the above directions.

Plan Listening Groups

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — The executive of the National Council of Women decided Wednesday to recommend the setting up of listening groups across Canada to study and evaluate radio programs. The survey will be concerned with the amount of advertising and other content of programs.

FIRST FRATERNITY

The first college fraternity in the United States, Phi Beta Kappa, was organized at William and Mary College in 1776

Customers' Corner

A GOOD food store must be a CLEAN store.

. . . We believe our customers are entitled to top quality food at low prices, served in clean, healthful surroundings.

That's why we train and instruct our employees to keep all trays and cases and scales scrubbed and sanitary; to keep refuse and packing cases out of the aisles and off the sidewalks, and to keep floors and grocery racks clean and orderly. Sometimes during rush periods it's hard to keep a store as neat as it should be. But that's our job, and you will be doing us a favour if you will let us know if your A&P store ever fails in any way to measure up to our high standards of cleanliness.

Fete Member Leaving City

Members of the Bowling Club at St. John's Roman Catholic Church had a pleasant social time Wednesday evening when they feted Mrs. Clarence Smith of Wilson Ave., who, with her family, is moving next week to Fort William. Captain Mrs. Wm. Prindible presented a purse and handkerchief to Mrs. Smith on behalf of the bowlers. A gift of two holy pictures was from the CWL members and presented by their president Mrs. T. McGarrity. Mrs. B. Monahan presented a cake in honor of Mrs. Smith and Mrs. W. Jones and team members served a lovely lunch. Mrs. Smith was secretary of the CWL and skip of the Bowling Club.

Four-in-one Party

Four branches of the Catholic Youth Organization, St. Alphonsus, Sacred Heart, Immaculate Conception and St. Peter's united for a Valentine party and the gaily decorated K of C hall was packed with an enthusiastic crowd, testifying to the popularity of the idea. Entertainment consisted of square round and novelty dancing. Miss Joan Rose gave a personification of a male opera singer doing "Figaro". A skit revolved on the idea of mistaken orders in a restaurant and a surgical operation on a luckless customer, handled delicately by "Dr." R. Fitzgerald. Dancing was resumed after lunch. A speech from each branch president brought the party to a close.

Plan Membership Contest

Excelsior Bible Class of St. James' Church met at the home of the president Mrs. R. Bell this week. Those taking part in the worship service were Carol English, Jean Armour and Miss Jessie Martin, who gave an inspiring talk on "The Love of God".

Plans were made for a rummage sale on April 20 and a bazaar November 15. Mrs. A. Saunders and Mrs. N. Sullivan were chosen as captains to select teams for a membership contest. During the evening a pretty Valentine sunshine box was prepared for a class member who is ill.

Contests were enjoyed and a dainty lunch served by Mesdames R. Armour, R. Bell, and G. English.

March meeting is to be at the home of Mrs. G. Cuffe, Morrow St.

WMS Group Meets

The meeting of Group 8 of George St. Church W.M.S. was held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Eileen Wimon, Aylmer St. Leader Mrs. C. Hurl opened with a short business session. Worship Period was in charge of Miss Loreta Sedegwick. Mrs. R Hetherington read the Scripture and Mrs. Jack Howson led in prayer. An inspiring talk was given by Miss Doris Horton. The Study Book was read by Mrs. E Rosborough who with her committee served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. Wm. Young tendered a vote of thanks.

Attend Toronto Dinner

Misses Mary Eason, Mabel Moore, Helen Lytle and Mrs. Lyda Telford were in Toronto Monday evening attending a dinner sponsored by the inter-club council of the Toronto and district Business and Professional Women's Clubs, held in the Royal York concert ballroom. In an international candle-lighting ceremony, candles were lighted for each of 24 countries in the International Association, and the flags of each decorated the hall. Miss Margaret Hyndman KC was chairman and introduced the guests. Miss Nasla Dane, chairman of the speaker's committee of Canadian Federation, introduced the speaker, Miss Vera Micheles Dean whose interesting discourse was on "The individual and world affairs. She is a brilliant writer, lecturer and traveller, born in Russia, educated in US and now an American citizen. She was present in an advisory capacity at the UN meeting in San Francisco and is now at UN headquarters in Washington.

Entertain Junior Group

Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary of Trinity United Church had a Valentine dinner party at which they entertained members of the Explorer's group. The meal was served in cafeteria style from a long table, attractively decorated in white and red. A program of games was conducted by Miss O. Armstrong. Worship period was taken by Misses E. Bennett, O. Marshall, Mrs. F. Rappe, Mrs. S. Constable. Miss M. Brown reported on the recent Presbyterial meeting. An interesting chapter of the study book was taken by Mrs C. McIntyre, Miss I. Giles and Miss A. Edmondson.

LIGHT AND BRIGHT NEW SHOES are keyed to spring suits and dresses. Repeating the beige tones of the suit modeled (center) are blond kidskin sling-back pumps trimmed with a small self bow and white punchwork outlining vamp and toe. Slender threads of mauve and raspberry kid wind and cross to form the lacy, high-heeled shoes (upper left) which are ensembled with a chiffon evening gown printed in harmonizing colors. Matching the blue linen sports skirt, flat-heeled linen shoes (lower left) have an open vamp framed by soft shirring. Soft cinnamon suede walking shoes (top right) shown with cinnamon-checked wool skirt owe their airy look to wide straps which cross the instep and provide good support for feet. Strips of yellow, pink and blue patent leather are braided to make the wedge-heeled sandals (lower right). These sandals are modeled with a pastel sheer afternoon dress.

Missions Groups Honor Miss C. Wagar

A joint meeting of the missionary organizations of St. James' United Church was held Tuesday evening in Wesley Hall.

Miss M. Bowers, WMS president extended a welcome and led in the opening devotions.

"The Church, the Household of Faith" was the theme of the worship service conducted by Mrs. E. M. Davis with Mrs. H. F. Doig assisting.

The Rev. F. W. Craik introduced the guest speaker, the Rev B. Heywood of Bailleboro who, by means of slides entitled "Growing with the years," told the interesting story of the achievements of the United Church of Canada, in the home mission and overseas mission fields, during the first quarter century of its history. These were followed by scenes of Trinidad where Rev. Harold Kitney is now serving.

A hymn was sung by several mission band and Explorer group members and Jane Bullied favoured with a piano solo.

As a gesture of appreciation for her years of efficient service as Mission Band leader on behalf of the WMS, Miss C. Wagar was presented with a necklace of pearls by Mrs. Doig, and the accompanying address was read by Mrs. R. B. English.

Mrs. E. Johnston tendered a vote of thanks to those having a share in the program.

Contest Losers Banquet Winners

Losers in the "copper contest" of Ever Awake Class of St. James Sunday school, the team headed by Mrs. T. Busby, provided a banquet Wednesday evening for Mrs. B. Callan's team which had collected the most coppers at meetings during last year.

Regular meeting of the class followed with Mrs. C. Jones in the chair. Mrs. N. MacMurchy led the devotions taking as her theme "The Good Samaritan." Mrs. B. Callan read the story from the Bible, Mrs. E. Carroll, Mrs. R. Tully, Mrs. H. Ferguson, Mrs. C. Sedore, Mrs. T. Watson and Mrs T. Busby read selections to follow up the theme. The hymn "Love Lifted Me" closed the devotions.

Mrs. E. Maudsley gave the sunshine report. There was much discussion of plans for presenting the play "The Little Clodhopper" on Friday evening, February 24, in the Wesley Hall. It was decided to give $1. to Mrs. B. Naish toward the cost of toys for the church nursery class. Mrs. Noel Monks brought in three quilt tops for quilting.

On motion of Mrs. Monks and Miss Zetta Wood it was decided to purchase a recording of "Blessed be the tie that binds" to be played as the opening theme.

Mrs. Jones extended an invitation to hold March meeting at her home.

Happy Hour Spent At St. Paul's Valentine Tea

Spending a happy hour together on Wednesday afternoon, and enjoying tea and delicious home-made refreshments, were members and friends of St. Paul's congregation who were the guests of the Women's Missionary Society.

It was the annual tea of this organization and members had selected the day following St. Valentine's birthday for the event. So, their tea table was effectively done in red and white. The centre bouquet of large red tulips was tied with white satin ribbon and set in clouds of white tulle. Red candles were in flanking arrangement, in silver holders, and the handsome white tablecloth had cutwork embroidery and a lace edge.

Presiding at the tea table were Miss Nina Davidson, Mrs. J. McIntyre, Mrs. McQuaig, Mrs. Jas. Dutton and Mrs. Manson Comstock.

Mrs. J. Marsh, who convened the tea, was assisted in serving by Mrs. D. W. Clark, Mrs. Alex. Sollitt, Miss A. Erskine, Miss N. Ross, Miss M. Lees and Mrs. W. A. Burrell.

Selling home baked goods, jams and marmalades were Mrs. H. Eastwood, Mrs. F. Hills, Miss Helen Munro and Mrs. Dickson Hall.

Mrs. C. G. Boyd assisted the retiring president, Mrs. D. T. Diplock, to receive, and Mrs. W. A. Hinds was the treasurer.

What's Right

You and your husband are invited to dinner and you aren't sure that you will be able to get someone to stay with your young child.

WRONG WAY: Ask if you can bring him along, too.

RIGHT WAY: Say that you'll have to see if you can get a baby sitter before you accept the invitation. (Then if your hostess wants you to bring your child along, she will say so.)

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS

A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, Feb. 16th—Do you sometimes envy women with that "neat as a pin" look? Envy no more! Here's something that will keep you neat-n'-tidy all day long! Yes, NESTLE "SPRAZE" keeps your hair under control from morning 'til night, with no need for frequent combing or fussing! It's wonderful, this "Spraze"! Simply spray it on your hair from its handy squeeze-spray bottle. It's quick — easy — fun to use... just a few sprays of this delicate mist and — Presto! — no more straggly ends or unruly wisps! "Spraze" isn't sticky — it dries in a jiffy — it holds your hair-do in place just like a wave-set... gives high lustre and "springiness" to your hair. Try it! — you'll love it! It's available at all beauty counters for $1.50 — complete with the new squeeze-spray bottle with atomizer... and refills available for just 50c!

What's Your Choice In Coffee?...A blend that's smooth and full-bodied?... Then, BLUE RIBBON COFFEE is made to order for you...for this flavourful coffee gives you in full measure both these fine qualities. And the marvelous thing about it is that whatever kind of coffee maker you use, Blue Ribbon Coffee will always make the same delicious cup of good coffee. That's because you have three distinct grinds to choose from ...regular...drip...silex. No matter what grind you use Blue Ribbon has the same wonderful flavour whether you perk it...drip it...silex it. All in all, it's easy to understand why more and more housewives choose Blue Ribbon...it always gives the same flavourful cup of fine coffee no matter what kind of coffee maker is used. You can get Blue Ribbon coffee in the vacuum-packed tin or jar, or if you prefer, in the economical paper container. With three plants across Canada, one of which is close to you, you can be sure Blue Ribbon comes to you always fresh and uniform. See if you don't agree it's the most delicious coffee you've ever tasted.

Something "Good To Eat"? Try this whirly, swirly jelly roll made with SWANS DOWN CAKE FLOUR — the cake flour that's sifted and re-sifted until 27 times as fine as ordinary flour. You can't help but have greater baking success with Swans Down.

MINIKIN JELLY ROLL

1/2 cup sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
1/2 teaspoon Calumet Baking Powder
Dash of salt
2 eggs (at room temperature)
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 to 1 cup tart red jelly

Sift flour once; measure. Combine baking powder, salt, eggs in bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater, adding sugar gradually until thick and light-colored. Gradually fold in flour, then vanilla. Turn into 15 x 10-inch pan which has been lined with paper, then greased. Bake in hot oven (400 deg. F.) 10 minutes. Turn cake out on cloth or towel, dusted with powdered sugar. Quickly remove paper; cut off crisp edges of cake. Cut lengthwise, then crosswise twice, to make 6 pieces of equal size. Spread each with jelly and roll into individual jelly rolls. Cool on cake rack. Each roll may be cut in slices, for daintier servings.

Husbands Are Very "Noticing" People...it may not be noticeable, but they're very awars of whether or not their wives are looking pretty! So keep your husband proud of your good looks! Avoid soaps that chap and dry your skin...insist on only WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP! It's kitten-mild! Soothing Woodbury contains a beauty-cream ingredient used in fine face creams. With Woodbury, there's no "skin-burn" — that roughened condition of skin robbed of its softening oils! For my money — Woodbury Soap is the true beauty soap! It's really a delight for the bath, too—gives an all-over beauty complexion!

Two Soup Successes that I just know will be family "flavourites" in your home...HEINZ CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP and HEINZ CONDENSED VEGETABLE SOUP! Don't wait another day to give your family the flavour-enjoyment of these Heinz soups! Serve them as a first course — or in dressings — meat loaves — rarebits — casseroles! Yes, I've proved to myself time and time again that Heinz Condensed Soups are the perfect bases for so many tempting, time-saving dishes!

Everyone's Talking About the beauty of brassware. It's definitely back again in home decoration. And such a happy revival! For brassware looks as handsome with contemporary furniture as it does with period reproductions! Yes, brassware — candlesticks — door knockers — vases — fireplace accessories...add warmth and character to any setting. Their beauty is not dimmed with time... particularly when you keep your brassware treasures glowing by polishing them regularly with BRASSO. So easy to use — for it's made especially for brass!

Perhaps Your Valentine from your husband was lovely lingerie and, if so, you'll want to know how to keep it looking its lovely best! Well, there's no doubt about it — beautiful lingerie will stay lovely longer when it's washed in VEL! I'm a confirmed "Vel" user for light laundry of all kinds — stockings — lingerie — blouses — soft woollen sweaters! It's so gentle! And yet it cleans thoroughly — penetrating deep and loosening every last bit of dirt! What's more, the life of your lingerie is prolonged because harmful rubbing 'n' scrubbing isn't necessary for "Vel"! I'll be glad to send you a most useful booklet telling of the many ways that "Vel" will help you, if you will drop me a line — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

Does Your Husband's Cheery, "Rise and Shine, Sunshine!", irritate you in the morning? That's a sure sign that your system needs "perking up" — for there's nothing makes us grumpier mornings than that "sluggish" feeling we all suffer sometimes! And I've discovered a way to treat this "slow-poke" feeling without harsh laxatives! The juice of one lemon in a glass of water... taken first thing on arising, helps keep me regular the healthful way, day after day! Lemons help get rid of colds, too. You just pour the juice of one lemon in a half glass of water. Then add — slowly — a half teaspoon of baking soda and drink as foaming quiets. A glass every 2 or 3 hours helps alkalize. Try hot lemonade, too, at bedtime! And be sure always to ask for SUNKIST CALIFORNIA LEMONS ... they're the finest, juciest of all!

A Reader Writes: "Until I read about Sloan's Liniment in your column last week, I suffered terribly from rheumatism. Then I tried Sloan's and I can't tell you how overjoyed I was by results! It brought almost instant relief from the nagging pain! I'll never be without Sloan's again!" Yes, rheumatic pains go deep. That's why you should go after them with deep-acting SLOAN'S LINIMENT! It's a comfort indeed when you're suffering from rheumatism or sore muscles — a sprain, a stiff neck or neuralgia. Such soothing warmth...just pat on Sloan's for quick relief! You'll find it at your favourite drugstore for just 40c a bottle.

Special Offer designed for your kitchen convenience! This dollar-value Plastic Juice Container is yours for just 25c and 10c for mailing! It's unbreakable — non-toxic — spill-proof and it holds five cups of left-over juices. Simply put the juice you want to keep fresh in this container in your ice box! I'll send this handy container to you — post-haste — if you'll simply write to me — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q. — enclosing a 35c Postal Note or postage stamps and one Label from a Bovril Cordial or Concentrate bottle! (The label comes off easily when soaked in warm water for ten or fifteen minutes.) Delicious BOVRIL! It's, without exception, my favourite pick-me-up after shopping. Nothing like a luscious, steamy cup of warm Bovril to give me a lift for the rest of the day. Tastes so good, too!

It's Not Hard To Win A Husband's Approval with a meal like this... Cream of Mushroom Soup — Piping Hot Biscuits — Vegetable Salad and delicious KRAFT DINNER! M-mmm! "Kraft Dinner" is a real main dish. In every package of "Kraft Dinner" is a special, fast-cooking macaroni that cooks to fluffy lightness in only 7 minutes. And, in the same package — cheddar cheese, already grated, to sprinkle in for rich cheese flavour! Your husband will approve heartily, too, of the money you save when you serve "Kraft Dinner". For just a few pennies these are ample servings for four!

DOROTHY DIX

Choose Intelligent Woman Best Matrimonial Risk

DEAR MISS DIX: A professional man has recently married a silly little girl simply because he could put murder over on her and she never once called his bluff. Now, after being married a few months, he constantly wails to his friends that she is driving him out of his mind with her lack of intelligence. He had brains enough to succeed in his profession, but not sense enough to choose a wife with brains. Why do men invariably pick for their wives women who will not question their rights, and then wonder why their children grow up with weak characters and never amount to much?

Dorothy Dix

AN ADVOCATE FOR INTELLIGENT WOMEN.

ANSWER: Nobody knows why intelligent men so often pick out stupid women for wives. They don't know themselves.

Probably the reason why this is thus is primarily a matter of sex attraction. Or because they imagine that a dull wife is easier to manage than a smart one. They think that a clever woman will have ideas and opinions of her own, but that a slow-witted one will simply sit at their feet and yes-yes them and be generally as wax in their hands.

More Pliable

Never was there a greater mistake. The more intelligent a woman is, the more pliable she is, the easier to deal with, the more amenable she is to argument. She can see both sides of a subject. She can recognize the justice of her husband's point of view. She can adapt herself to certain standards. She can overcome her prejudice and correct her faults and do a thousand things that make her livable.

But the stupid woman is hopeless. No man can alter her or improve her. The early impressions she gained as a child stay with her to the end of life and against them her husband beats himself in vain. She is filled with prejudices that are set in solid concrete and neither experience nor argument ever dulls the edge of a single one.

And the queer thing about it all is that, while men pick out wives for every other reason under the son except for their sense, they all want their wives to have sense, and plenty of it, after they get married. Because it takes intelligence of the highest order to enable a woman to get along in peace with a man and make a comfortable home, and manage her end of the domestic partnership successfully, and to bear and rear him children who will be an honor to him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife and I began life together humbly and while we were poor and the children young we were happy, but since I have been fortunate in business I am miserable. My wife has not been able to stand prosperity. She will not stay at home night or day. She does not even want me to go out with her. She goes about with men who flatter her and tell her how young and beautiful she is. She humiliates me by criticizing me to strangers and calls me a poor fool to my face. I am considering a divorce as my home is an empty house and my children grown. What is your advice?

J. G.

ANSWER: Your wife is afflicted with a disease that was much more prevalent many years ago than it is now. It is "new richitis." Their money goes to many women's heads and swells them out of all reason.

Many women have suffered with this complaint and, in fact, it may be said that it takes one with an unusually strong mind to stand sudden prosperity. Take away from her the work which has kept her hands busy and her mind occupied and plunge her into idleness and she is sure to get into mischief.

In your case your wife is the victim of her own suppressed desires. She was a poor girl who craved pretty clothes and could not have them, so now is dressmad. She married before she had any play time and now she cannot get enough of parties. She married her first beau and now she is avid for flirtations and love-making.

Undoubtedly a separation, with a drastic cutting down of her allowance, would be a good remedy to apply to the situation. But I don't believe that breaking up your home and separating yourself from your children wouldmake you any happier than you are. Often it is better to endure the ills we have than to fly to those we know not of.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 18 and in love with a man who wants to get married. But I feel that if I marry now my chances for travel are gone for good. I think I am too young to marry, anyway, but he will not wait. Many people tell me that one should marry one's first love. I am afraid that if I wait L will lose him.

ALMOST NINETEEN.

ANSWER: You are right in thinking that if you marry your chances for travel are postponed, in all likelihood until you have reared your family and are free again. I think you are too young to marry, particularly as you seem to prefer a trip to Europe to a trip to the altar.

6—In Memoriams

SHEWEN—In loving memory of our dear father, William Shewen, who passed away Feb. 16, 1944.
Many a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear,
Always a faithful memory
For him, no longer here.
God gave us strength to bear it,
Courage to fight the blow,
For what it meant to lose him
None will ever know.
—Sadly missed by his daughters Evelyn and Ruth and son Victor.

7—Cards of Thanks

May I take this opportunity of conveying my sincerest appreciation to all my many kind friends and neighbours, who called and sent gifts of flowers, cards, letters, ice cream, fruit, etc., during my illness in the hospital, also since returning home. —Mrs. Wesley McMaster.

SERVELS
ARE BACK!
Yes, back at last and now built in Canada too. Servel—the refrigerator that is different. The only refrigerator that is truly different from all others.
The refrigerator without a motor
Silent in operation—absolutely silent—forever—no motor!
Lasts many years longer because there are no moving parts to wear—no machinery to break down — no motor! That's why Servel offers two types, one for electric operation—uses a tiny heating element instead of machinery. One for kerosene or coal oil, where you are out of reach of hydro—a small built-in Aladdin lamp does the job. See this

42—Legal Notices

IN THE MATTER OF THE MUNICIPAL ACT AND IN THE MATTER OF A PROPOSED BY-LAW OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH TO STOP UP AND CLOSE AN ALLOWANCE FOR HIGHWAY AND LEASE THE SAME TO HARRY B. McGINNESS, OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, pursuant to Section 498 of The Municipal Act, that the Corporation of the City of Peterborough proposes to consider and if deemed advisable to pass at its Regular Meeting to be held at the Council Chamber, in the City Hall, in the City of Peterborough, on MONDAY, the 6TH DAY OF MARCH, 1950, at 7.30 o'clock p.m., a BYLAW to Stop Up and Close ALL AND SINGULAR that certain Parcel or Tract of Land and Premises situate, lying and being in the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, and the Province of Ontario, and being composed of that part of Bethune Street south of McDonnel Street and west of George Street, in the said City, shown coloured red on Plan of Survey made by John G. Pierce O.L.S. and dated January 24, 1950, which said Parcel may be further described as follows, that is to say:

COMMENCING at an iron post marking the north-westerly angle of Lot Number 9 south of McDonnel Street and west of George Street in the said City;

THENCE southerly along the westerly limit of the said Lot Number 9, 98.51 feet to a point;

THENCE westerly parallel to the southerly limit of the said McDonnel Street, 8 feet to a point;

THENCE northerly parallel to the said westerly limit of the said Lot, 98.51 feet, more or less to a point in the said southerly limit of McDonnel Street;

THENCE easterly along the said limit, 8 feet to the point of commencement.

and to Lease the said Allowance for Road above described to Harry B. McGinness of the City of Peterborough.

AND TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that before passing the said By-law at its Meeting to be held at the time and place above mentioned, the Council of the City of Peterborough shall then and there hear in person or by his counsel, solicitor or agent any person who claims that his land will be prejudicially affected by the said By-law, and who applies to be heard.

DATED at Peterborough, this 31st Day of January, 1950

E. A. OUTRAM,
Clerk.

TO THE RATEPAYERS
OF S.S. 5, SMITH

Due to the unfavorable weather conditions, the Vote which was to be held Tuesday Evening February 14, was Postponed. Therefore, Notice is hereby given that a Meeting for the taking of a VOTE will be held in the Bridgenorth Public School, THURSDAY EVENING FEBRUARY 23RD, 1950, at 8:00 p.m. sharp — To empower the Trustees of S.S. No. 5, Smith, to ask Smith Township Council for a Maximum of $42,560 for the purpose of providing a New School for the Section.

R. HARDING,
Secretary.

Four Witnesses

Jones said he couldn't place the time of any of Byrnes' statements "My mind seems bottled up," Jones said.

Vincent Garvey, 182 Hazlitt St., was the next witness. He followed the story of O'Donoghue and Spencer. He said when they stopped the fight he thought both Byrnes and McGregor had been drinking quite a bit.

He said he brought Mrs. Byrnes back from the doctor's about 2.30 a.m.

After the evidence was heard Magistrate Philp asked Byrnes if he had anything to say. Byrnes answered "Nothing."

Court was then adjourned until 2.15 p.m. today.

Did Not See Rifle Pointed

During the all-day hearing Wednesday, four members of the ill-fated party: Mrs. Robert Weir, 634 Park St. N.; Mrs. Edward O'Toole, 665 Gilchrist St.; Joseph Spencer, 24, of 610 Armour Rd.; and Emmett O'Donoghue, 22, of 449 Rogers St., gave evidence. Also heard were Constables Claire McGillen and Andre Dalton who first arrived at the scene of the shooting.

Both Spencer and Mrs. Weir said, under cross questioning by defence counsel T. J. Carley K.C. that they had not seen Byrnes point the rifle at any person at any time during the evening. They were both in the bedroom with Byrnes when the rifle was fired. Spencer said the last time he saw the rifle before the shot came, it was held at arms length by Byrnes, dressed only in his underwear, pointing toward the bedroom door which was swung open inward against the south wall of the bedroom.

Mrs. Weir had fallen to the bedroom floor, because she said she heard a click and her mind seemed to say, "Duck Cele, he's going to shoot." Spencer saw her fall from outside the bedroom and thought she had been knocked out. He stepped across her, knelt and began chaffing her hand to try to bring her around. Another woman was at Mrs. Weir's head trying to raise her up. At that point the gun went off and the slug probably passed between Spencer and the unidentified woman over Mrs. Weir's body.

At the sound of the gun, almost everyone ran from the house leaving only Byrnes, Frost and the wounded Mrs. Kendry in the still darkened rooms. No lights were available until some time after the police arrived when a neighbour, Jack Weinberg, brought some spare fuses from his house across the street.

Evidence showed members of the party met casually at a downtown hotel Saturday night Byrnes and Danny McGregor, 25, of Sherbrooke Place came into the men's beverage room where O'Donoghue, Spencer and Vincent Garvey, 24, of 182 Hazlitt St., were sitting drinking beer. After Byrnes drank one glass of beer, he went out with McGregor and appeared in the women's beverage room sometime after closing time at 11 p.m. where Mrs. Weir and Mrs. O'Toole were just finishing their drinks.

Outside the hotel, Bynes asked O'Donoghue to give him and his party a ride to his Hamilton St. home. When they arrived at the house, Byrnes asked them all in for a drink.

Mrs. Byrnes was in the kitchen just finishing fixing her hair in preparation for bed. After O'Donoghue, Spencer and Garvey drank one pint, they left for another party on Rubidge St.

Shortly after they wetn out, Mrs. Kendry and Frost knocked at the back door. Mrs. Kendry went directly upstairs where her brother, Jack Jones and his wife had a two-room apartment. Frost walked into the living room and Mrs. Kendry soon came down and joined the party.

Fight Started

A fight started after McGregor wakened Byrnes who had been sleeping in a living room chair. Byrnes threw his son's tricycle across the room, accidentally hitting his wife and cutting her left hand. The fight began in the kitchen principally between Byrnes and McGregor although Mrs. O'Toole and Mrs. Weir took part against Byrnes.

At that point O'Donoghue, Spencer and Garvey returned and broke up the fight. O'Donoghue and Garvey took Mrs. Byrnes to Dr. Robert Young's office and were gone almost an hour. During that time, the party quietened down and there was some dancing to radio music.

As she was leaving for the doctor, Mrs. Byrnes asked the visitors to leave, but no one took the suggestion. After Mrs. Byrnes returned, Byrnes went back to sleep and McGregor woke him again.

When wakened, Byrnes told everyone to leave in a loud voice, but he was ignored. A short time later he yelled at his guests again to leave and received the same response.

At this, Byrnes stalked down into the basement and plunged the house into darkness by pulling out all the fuses. He re-appeared at the living room doorway this time with the .43 calibre Spandau rifle in his hand.

"Now will you get out!" he shouted, but no one apparently took him seriously. One of the women, not Mrs. Weir nor Mrs O'Toole, said something to the effect: "Don't point that gun Joe You know it isn't loaded." Or "You know you're only fooling."

Byrnes retreated to his bedroom and for the first time the party began to make some preparations to go. O'Donoghue and Garvey went out the back way and sat in their car. Mrs. Weir and Mrs O'Toole began to put on their coats and goloshes.

As she went to get her coat, Mrs. Weir said she heard a noise which sounded like a draw opening or closing in the bedroom. It worried her and she went into the bedroom and told Byrnes not to point the gun, that they were leaving.

Spencer got as far as the back door on his way out, when the heard Byrnes shout, "Get her out of here! Get her out of here!" He started back and reaching the bedroom door saw Mrs. Weir fall to the floor.

O'Donoghue was coming back into the house to hurry up the people he was going to drive home. As he reached a point approximately opposite the bedroom door, he saw a flash of light, heard the high-powered rifle go off and saw a figure in the living room fall to the floor. He raced back out the back way and backed his car out the driveway.

When he got to the front door, Mrs. O'Toole and Mrs. Byrnes with her baby were there and got into the car. Spencer and Garvey were already in. They drove to O'Donoghue's sister's home on Arndon Ave., two blocks south where O'Donoghue phoned the police.

Constables Dalton and McGillen arrived at the Byrnes house in a couple of minutes and found Mrs. Kendry lying on the floor still alive with Frost kneeling beside her. McGregor and Byrnes, carrying the rifle came out of the bedroom. He handed the rifle to Constable Dalton.

"Byrnes told us to go," Mrs. Weir said, "and he meant it." But the guests did not leave. He went into his bedroom then came out and told the visitors to leave a second time. He then went down into the basement and the lights. Blacked out. Byrnes came up from the basement, went to the bedroom and then came out and said, "Now will you get out!" Under his arm he held a gun. Pointing into the bedroom, Mrs. Weir said.

Mrs. Weir was at first terrified because, "I didn't know what was coming next." However no one made a move to go. Byrnes then went into the bedroom and Mrs. Weir heard a drawer open or close.

She was getting ready to go and went to the bedroom to tell Byrnes not to point the gun, that they were leaving. As she said that Byrnes was standing by the bed, dressed in his underclothing.

Mrs. Weir couldn't recall hearing Brynes say anything. He had the gun under his arm pointing toward the south wall.

She heard a click and fell on her back to the floor frightened of getting shot. She said Byrnes might have shouted "Get out of here!"

"I remember Mrs. Byrnes put her hand under my shoulder, probably to lift me up.

"I did not hear a shot," Mrs. Weir stated. The next Mrs. Weir remembered was rolling over and crawling out of the bedroom.

In the living room she saw Frost propping up Mrs. Kendry in a position on the floor.

"I was happy," Mrs. Weir said when asked whether or not she was intoxicated. She said she was not so drunk she couldn't remember.

When they arrived at the house, Mrs. Byrnes had just finished fixing her hair, as if she were going to go to bed. Mrs. Weir said she did not see Mrs. Byrnes have anything to drink.

Just after O'Donoghue, Spencer and Garvey went out, Frost and Mrs. Kendry knocked at the back door. Mrs. Kendry went straight upstairs and Frost went into the living room. Shortly after Mrs. Kendry joined the party.

"Isn't it correct that at no time in the evening did he point the gun at anyone," Mr. Carley asked.

"That's right," Mrs. Weir said.

She thought he held the gun with two hands but couldn't be sure because of the darkness.

Mrs. Mildred O'Toole said she had four or five beers at the hotel. When McGregor woke up Byrnes, he jumped up, grabbed a tricycle, and threw it across the room.

Mrs. O'Toole said that Mrs. Byrnes, who was sitting in a chesterfield chair, jumped up and apparently ran into the flying tricycle.

"We were all into the fight in the kitchen," Mrs. O'Toole said.

When Byrnes shouted "Now will you go," someone said, "The heck with him we'll raise the blinds."

Neither Mrs. Byrnes, Mrs. Kendry, nor Frost took part in the fight.

After Mrs. Byrnes returned from the doctor's, Byrnes went to sleep again. After he was wakened, he asked them to leave again, and left the room.

LEAVE HYDRANTS CLEAR

Ironically enough a heavy snowfall in the city increases the fire hazard. Snow gets pushed to the side of the road and often covers up fire hydrants. Fire Chief George Smith has asked the cooperation of all local residents to ensure that the snow will be cleared away from all hydrants. The few minutes lost by firemen in doing this job might prove vital.

15 Pupils Shake As Bus Collides

HAVELOCK, Feb. 16 (ENS)—Fifteen children of high school age were shaken up early today when the bus taking them to Havelock High School collided with a car on Highway 7, six miles east of the village.

The collision occurred in front of Russell's service station as the bus made a U-turn out of the service station preparatory to starting the six-mile trip back to Havelock. It stops at that point to pick up a student, Muriel Gaul, after starting out from Cordova Mines.

Charles Chard of Cordova Mines was the driver of the bus and Crawford Russell of Marmora was at the steering wheel of the car. Russell was driving west on the highway and saw the bus turning but he was unable to avoid a collision though he pulled as far over to the right as possible and ran into a snow bank in doing so.

The minor crash dented both left doors of the car and wedged it even more tightly into th snow bank. Damage is set at about $100. Only the right front bumper and fender were damaged on the bus.

The students were able to continue their ride to high school in the same vehicle.

Six Legislatures In Operation, Others To Come

By The Canadian Press.

Ontario and Saskatchewan Legislatures open today, joining four other Provincial Government Houses already in full operation. Others open later.

One of the two Legislatures which opened Wednesday forecast a busy session when the first order paper at Quebec listed a preliminary group of 33 Bills.

Some of the Bills were proposals for amendment of existing laws and others were brand new, including one to change the name of the Lieutenant-Governor's official residence from Spencerwood, to "Bois de Coulonge." The Speech from the Throne underlined the Quebec Government's intention to continue its campaign against subversive ideas.

Open Second Session

Newfoundland opened its second session with a Throne-Speech prediction of legislation in fishermen's insuranec, labor, housing and the tourist industry. Sittings were adjourned for one week after the reading of the Speech.

The second session of Ontario's 23rd Legislature which opens today is expected to debate Bills providing for a low-cost housing scheme and a revised labor code.

Federal responsibility in the fields of health and education was urged at Winnipeg by M. N. Hryhorczuk, Liberal - Progressive member of the Manitoba Legislature for Ethelbert. In starting off the debate in reply to the Speech from the Throne he said both "should be borne financially" by the Dominion.

In a sidelight in the Manitoba House, William Kardash, Labor-Progressive Party member for Winnipeg North Centre, occupied a new seat after CCF members protested a seating arrangement that placed Mr. Kardash in their midst.

A. Wilson Heads Nassau Lodge

LOL No. 457 at Nassau on Monday evening held their monthly meeting with a large attendance of members and visitors. Brb. G. Trennum, county master, occupied the master's chair and conducted the meeting, and Bro. R. E. Langley, county deputy master, occupied the deputy master's chair.

Wor. Bro. H. A. Graham, field secretary, Grand Lodge of Ontario East, conducted the installation of officers, after which he gave a very fine talk on the work being done in the association.

The following officers were installed in office:

Wor. Master, A. Wilson; deputy master, P. D. Howden; chaplain, B. Trennum; recording secretary, Wm. Brown; financial secretary and treasurer, B. Lockington; marshall, Ray Moore; first lecturer, Ken Payne; second lecturer, Cephas Bolton; tyler, Earnie Payne; committee men, Charles Bolton, W Fowler, Reg. Brown, Fred Robinson, Frank Lockington; auditors, J. J. Cunningham, W. Fowler.

At the close of the meeting the draw was held for two suits of clothes or overcoats, ladies or men. Wor. Bro. H. A. Graham made the draw, and the first ticket drawn was held by Bert Lockington of 108 Lansdowne St. The second ticket drawn was No. 465 and held by Miss Audrey Jackson, RR 6, Peterborough.

Lunch was served by members of the lodge, and a very pleasant social eveing was enjoyed.

Medical Services Take 50% Red Cross Budget

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — Various medical services, assistance to veterans and the free blood transfusion service will take nearly half of the Canadian Red Cross Society's $5,000,000 budget in 1950, Honorary Treasurer L. A. Winter said Wednesday.

Mr. Winter said the Red Cross, which opens its annual drive for funds in March, will spend $822,697 on medical and nursing care while services to war veterans both in and out of hospitals will cost $427,456. Services for civilian welfare, including disaster relief, will take $86,756.

Suffers Amnesia

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16 — AP)—John E. Vernon, former representative of Ingrid Bergman and her divorced husband. Dr. Peter Lindstrom, is under treatment today in a San Francisco hospital, an apparent amnesia victim. "He is somewhat confused and does not remember much of anything," said Vernon's doctor. Vernon's wife had reported him missing since Sunday.

Want Farmers To Grow Bigger Flax Crop

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP) — The paint industry intends to tell the Canadian farmer that "there's a future in flax."

C. C. Pettet, general manger, speaking at today's annual meeting of the Canadian Paint and Varnish and Lacquer Association, said that there is at present sufficient flax to meet all requirements of the industry in the first six months of 1950.

"What is of considerable concern to us, however, is the fact that the 1949 crop was so small. If the succeeding years were to follow that pattern it might mean that we would have to look elsewhere for our flax and linseed oil. In the long run this could be a serious problem to the industry.

"The wiser policy seems to be to put forward every effort to ensure sufficent flax production in Canada to meet our requirements. That we are planning to do.

Farmer's Displeased.

"The farmer was displeased by the action of the government last year in withdrawing the floor price on flax and discouraging production on the basis that there would be a considerable price decline and that, therefore, the farmer would lose on the crop.

"The contrary proved to be true and the price of flax held up very well. It seems likely, therefore, that the farmer can be persuaded to reverse his decision this year and grow more flax. Also, with the loss of Canada's overseas markets he will undoubtedly be considering crops for which he can find a domestic market."

Canada's 1949 flax crop was 2,500,000 bushels, approximately 15,000,000 bushels less than the 1948 crop which provided a surplus.

Beaverbrook Press Backs Empire Trade

LONDON, Feb. 16 — (CP). — The outspoken Beaverbrook press is again hammering home the theme of Empire free trade in Britain's general election campaign and has promised to support any candidate who will get behind such a policy.

Canadian-born Lord Beaverbrook, fiery publisher of three big London papers — the Daily Express, the Evening Standard, and the Sunday Express—is back in Britain for the February 23 election. He has predicted that Winston Churchinll will carry the Conservative Party to victory.

But though he and his newspapers are predominantly Conservative, Beaverbrook has never toed the party line and on numerous occasions has clashed violently with the official Conservative organization.

Critics Report Stromboli Very Dull Film

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16 (AP)—Hollywood critics generally agreed today that the picture "Stromboli" is not as good as the story behind its filming.

The much-publicized picture was previewed Wednesday and a cross - section of reviewers' opinions indicates that it was a disappointment.

"I suffer, believe me!" says the star, Ingrid Bergman, at one point in the picture. That she does. For 81 minutes of the film's length she is made miserable. The movie was filmed on the bleak volcanic island of Stromboli in the Mediterranean.

Nearly all of the critics interviewed after the preview expresed dissatisfaction with the picture. Some of the answers were flip: "The volcano was the high point in the picutre."

"I don't think it was worth the trip—for Bergman or me."

Most reviewers criticized the ending, in which the actress climbs the volcano, sleeps the night on a lava bed and returns to the village spiritually refreshed. "What mystery! What beauty!" she utters.

Unscheduled Laugh

Only unscheduled laugh in the picture came when she became ill after watching a slaughter of tuna fish. "It's three months now," she confessed. "I believe I'm pregnant."

Elsewhere in the United States critical reaction was generally similar.

The Chicago Sun-Times and the Washington Post: "Dull."

New York Herald Tribune: "Neither good Bergman, good Rosselini, nor good anything."

New York Times: "Incredibly feeble, inarticulate, uninspiring and painfully banal."

Eliminate Some Frills From Education—Porter

HAMILTON, Feb. 16 (CP). — Elimination of some of the frills from the educational system in the province, and a return to work which cultivates mental discipline, was advocated Wednesday night by Hon. Dana Porter, Attorney-General and Minister of Education for Ontario.

Speaking at the annual dinner meeting of the Big Brothers Association, Mr. Porter said that it is often the dull and difficult part of the curriculum which does the most to develop mental discipline.

"Once the pupil's interest is aroused, then education continues," he declared. "We should try to cultivate mental discipline, and the will to work and seek knowledge."

Ottawa Group Presents New Ballet In Capital

OTTAWA, Feb. 16 (CP) — A new ballet, "Plaisir D'Amour," was performed by the Ottawa Ballet Company Wednesday night before an audience of more than 2,000 persons.

The dance, one of three presented by the capital city group in its fourth annual production was written by Hungarian-born Paul Szilard and will be one of the Ottawa company's two entries in the regional ballet festival.

Approve $8,000 Cut Fire Hazard

TORONTO, Feb. 16 —(CP)— Board of Control gave quick approval Wednesday to an $8,000 expenditure for reducing the fire hazard at the Children's Detention Home on towntown Jarvis Street. The action came a few hours after one of the inmates set fire to the building.

Eleven boys and a girl escaped from the 85-year-old structure, described by District Fire Chief William Culling as a "fire trap."

The proposed expenditure will provide for installation of electrically-operated doors readily opened in event of another fire.

H. S. Rupert, city welfare commissioner, said the fire was set by a boy inmate awaiting transportation to a mental hospital. It was originally believed to have been started by a cigaret butt thrown into a waste-paper basket.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

"MONKEY TRIAL" at Dayton, Tenn., in 1925 was a world sensation. John Scopes, at right above, an obscure teacher of biology, was arrested for breaking the Tennessee law against teaching Darwin's theory of evolution. The test case attracted the top legal and newspaper talent of the nation, and for eight blistering-hot days in July all eyes turned on the trial in Dayton. To the defense came famed lawyer Clarence Darrow from Chicago; aiding the prosecution was the Great Commoner, William Jennings Bryan. Although Scopes was convicted and fined $100 for his offense, the anti-evolutionist cause was held up to ridicule. Final irony in the case was the sudden death of Bryan shortly after he had tangled with Darrow as a witness for the "fundamentalists."

Supreme Court Denies Application To Appeal

TORONTO, Feb. 16 — (CP).— The Supreme Court of Canada has denied the application of the Ontario Attorney-General for permission to appeal the acquittal of Ralph Howlett.

Howlett, convicted of manslaughter in the death of Harry Brow in a fight in Victoria Hall at Petrolia, was sentenced to nine years. But the Ontario Appeal Court recently quashed the conviction on the grounds that a statement attributed to Howlett should not have been admitted at his trial.

A spokesman for the Attorney-General said Wednesday the Department applied to the Supreme court of Canada Tuesday for permission to appeal the Ontario High Court ruling. It was denied, he said.

Mohawk Indian Ordered Home

MOBILE, Ala., Feb. 16 (AP)— The great white fathers in Washington have ruled.

The son of a full-blooded Mohawk Indian who slipped into the United States must be deported to his native Canada, said immigration officer William G. Munro.

Leo Lickers, 21, was picked up at Pensacola, Fla., Jan. 18 for illegal entry into the United States.

At a hearing here it developed Lickers was the son of a Mohawk Indian living in Canada. Under a 156-year-old treaty, American and Canadian Indians were allowed to cross the northern border freely.

Lickers, pleasantly surprised was released. Then immigration officers discovered Lickers' father had renounced his Indian rights 20 years ago. So they picked him up again.

May Legalize Ont. Civil Marriages

Government Considers Introducing Such Legislation

TORONTO, Feb. 17—(CP)—The Ontario Government is considering introducing legislation to permit marriages in Ontario by magistrates and judges, Provincial Secretary Arthur Welsh said today.

At present marriages may legally be performed only by ordained ministers and heads of religious groups such as the Salvation Army. The government has not yet reached a decision.

Mr. Welsh said civil marriages have been advocated by some Churches whose doctrine forbids marriage of certain divorced persons.

Mr. Welsh said minor changes to the Marriage Act will be introduced during the Legislature session which started Thursday. It was "possible" that the power to perform marriage ceremonies would be extended after more consideration.

Spokesmen for the Anglican and Roman Catholic churches indicated there would be no opposition to civil-marriage legislation if it should be introduced.

Not Opposed

The Very Rev. Dean C. E. Riley of St. James' Anglican Cathedral recalled that a special commission appointed by the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada recommended "no opposition if others want it."

The Commission, studying the questions of marriage and divorce, brought in a statement, Dean Riley said, "to the effect that, while it did not feel it right or necessary for the church to advocate civil marriage, the church should not oppose it if others want it."

A Roman Catholic spokesman made this statement on behalf of Toronto headquarters of the Roman Catholic Church:

"We have no objection to the proposed legislation empowering certain civil officials to witness marriages, and realize it may be

Toronto Subway Makes Hit With Miners

Hardrock Experts Leave Mines Behind To Help Do Yonge Street Job

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—Hardrock miners from Northern Ontario are helping to dig the five-mile subway channel up Toronto's Yonge Street.

More than 70 miners have moved south. They find the pay of $1.20-$1.45 an hour higher than their average mine wages and they like the change of scenery.

Ernie Kaizer, former shift boss at the McIntyre Mine at Schumacher and a hardrock man 26 years, has been here since New Year's. He says he prefers construction work and has no intention of going back to the mines.

Doc Sutherland from Timmins put it this way:

"It's a nice change to be so close to the fresh air."

Jack Thibodeau and Jack Morrison, former McIntyre men, confessed to being homesick for the Schumacher curling rink, considered one of the best in Ontario.

Johnn Horvat, who claims to have worked in 20 different mines throughout the north, came to Toronto for "a change of scenery."

H. L. Schmeckpeper, project engineer, said the hardrock miners are especially suited for the job of digging "foxholes" into which concrete is poured to reinforce building foundations before excavation work starts.

"The bracing and close quarters make this underpinning work very similar to mining," he added.

Ottawa Plans Aid Provinces In Forest Fires

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 — (CP). — A joint program may be launched by the Federal and Provincial Governments later this year to reduce the loss from fire in Canada's vast forests.

Resources Minister Winters said Thursday night that prevention of forest fires, now burning over an area of more than 2,000,000 acres of forest lands in this country each year, is the No. 1 objective of the new Federal forestry program.

Outlining provisions of the Canada Forestry Act before the golden jubilee meeting of the Canadian Forestry Association, he said Federal Government will make its "most effective contribution by working out agreements with the provinces covering the problems involved and by paying its share of the costs.

The Forestry Act, passed at the last session of Parliament, authorizes the Dominion to make agreements with provinces to share the cost of forestry conservation and research projects.

Expensive Loss

Mr. Winters said that each year an average of $4,000,000 worth of timber is destroyed.

"The merchantable timber burned equals one-half the yearly consumption of our pulp and paper industry. It has been conservatively estimated that in Canada the present rate of fire loss on productive lands is twice as high as could be tolerated for the practice of sustained yield forestry."

It will be necessary, said Mr. Winters, "to confer with the provincial forest authorities with a view to seeking agreement on the principles and policies involved and to working out details by which co-operative forest fire protection measures might be implemented.

Helicopter Spots Footprints Press Search For 5 Airmen

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17—(CP)—Air-ground search parties today renewed search of rugged, snow-covered Princess Royal Island, about 400 miles north of here, for five United States airmen who parachuted out of a flaming B-36 early Tuesday. Twelve others, two injured, have been found.

A United States helicopter spotted blood-spattered footprints, leading to the west coast of the 1404-square-mile island, at dusk Thursday, but a dwindling fuel supply forced the ship to turn back without investigating.

Four parachutes, one of which appeared to be suspending a body also were located by the 'copter but it is not known whether these belonged to the missing men or to those already rescued.

Search Difficult

The rocky, gully-pocked island made ground searching difficult for crew members of the HMCS Cayuga, a Canadian destroyer which has been anchored off the island since Tuesday. Nearly 18 inches of snow covers the ground.

The 12 men already recovered were returned to McChord Field, Wash., Thursday.

RCAF officials here said on Thursday night they are "fairly sure" the remaining men are somewhere on the island but are not abandoning the search in the icy waters surrounding the island.

Ground searchers from the Cayuga Thursday heard shots and shouts from the innermost part of the island but the fast-gathering darkness forced them to turn back before locating the source of the sounds.

Expert Alpine Club of Canada Mountaineers, under the leadership of Fred Parkes, of Vancouver, are assisting the Cayuga's men in the hunt.

Ask Extension Of Voting Rights

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP) — A resolution supporting extension of the municipal franchise to all persons eligible to vote in provincial elections will be presented by the CCF to the session of the Ontario Legislature which opened on Thursday.

The resolution, moved by Reid Scott (CCF-Toronto Beaches) and published today in the orders of the day, also asks that citizens of Ontario municipalities be entitled to only one vote.

At present, some persons have two votes, one in the ward in which they live and another in wards in which they own property. If the resolution were implemented by Ontario municipalities it would give a vote to residents—mostly young people living with their parents—who vote in provincial elections but are denied a municipal vote because they cannot meet property qualifications.

The resolution will be considered at the discretion of Prime Minister Frost who designates each day which orders are to be debated. It will not likely reach the House—if at all—until late in the session.

Jobs For All Attlee Pledge

LONDON, Feb. 17 — (CP). — The Labor Party tops its election pledges with a promise of jobs for all

The party manifesto for the February 23 general election seeks to assure the working man that under a Labor Government he need never fear the mass joblessness of the inter-war period.

"The supreme aim that we set before the nation is the maintenance of full employment," says the manifesto which reviews Labor's accomplishments since the party came to power in 1945.

"The world's most comprehensive system of social security" is claimed as one of the party's major achievements

To nail the full-employment plank, the Labor platform pledges that:

1—The shipbuilding industry (which already is feeling harder times) will "never again (be) neglected as it was between the wars."

2—Nationalized industries will be ready with expansion programs to take up any slack that might develop in employment.

200 People Thrown Out Of Work

Blaze Breaks Out In Coal Pile, Spreads Rapidly

KINGSTON, Feb. 17—(CP)—The sprawling Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Company plant here is a gutted ruin today, destroyed in a fire that caused $300,000 damage.

Loss of the plant, one of the few of its kind in Canada, threw an estimated 200 workers out of their jobs.

Three workers escaped Thursday night when the blaze broke out in newly-delivered coal and roared through the one-storey brick building in two hours. Kingston firemen threw all their equipment into the fire and saved the office section in the front of the factory.

They also prevented the blaze licked by a brisk wind, from spreading to another nearby factory in the district along the Canadian National Railways line a mile or so north of the city.

P. H. Swalm, general manager, said damage amounted to $300,000, covered by insurance, and would force a complete shutdown of the plant.

One of the workers, Wesley Lyman of nearby Sunbury, said the blaze broke out in a pile of wet coal. He saw a huge sheet of flame which spread rapidly.

Another worker, Fred Miller, ran to give the alarm. An overheated kiln is believed to have started the coal.

The fire broke out shortly after 9 p.m. and broke through the roof of the plant soon after, roaring high into the air. When the roof collapsed it crushed clay processing machines under its steel girders.

Kingston's five pumpers fought the fire until a fire wall arrested its advance and then firemen brought it under control.

HAS TO LEAVE—Count Jacques de Bernonville, dapper French count who faces death in his own country for alleged collaboration with the Nazis, has been ordered deported from Canada by a three-man immigration board.

Red Rail Strike Proves Fizzle Across France

PARIS, Feb. 17 (AP)—Country-wide railroad and coal strikes ordered by Communist unions in protest against unloading of United States arms in France were said by a government official today to have been "nearly a total failure."

Officials at headquarters of the nationalized rail system which employs about 460,000 workers said the two-hour Communist-led demonstration strike had fizzled.

A 24-hour strike call in the northern coal fields also appeared to be ignored by miners, usually responsive to Communist demonstration orders.

Interior Ministry sources reported that the attempted rail strike against unloading of arms under the Atlantic Pact was less than five per cent effective.

Scattered Incidents

At scattered spots strikers tried to halt trains by massing on the tracks or forming picket lines, but police dispersed them without trouble.

Government sources said that in the northern coal fields—the Pittsburgh area of France—work was normal among surface employees, and 65 per cent of the pit workers were on the job.

Trains ran normally in and out of four of the major Paris stations. Traffic was halted between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. at three other stations.

Reports from throughout the country indicated the strike was even less successful outside the capital.

In Marseille, known as a hotbed of Communism, railway officials said all trains left on schedule and that traffic in the whole area was normal.

Non-Communist unions had ordered their workers to stay on the job.

These unions, along with government officials, branded the Communist strike order part of the Cominform - directed campaign to stir up trouble in France.

Hog Producers Told 1950 To Be Prosperous Year, No Danger Of Depression

Experts Doubt Farmers Will Be Able To Fill Bacon Contract For Britain; Melville Johnston President Third Year

The recent advice to farmers by W. P. Watson, Livestock Commissioner with the Ontario Department of Agriculture to muster up confidence in the year that is ahead of them was endorsed by the two visiting speakers at the annual meeting of Peterborough Hog Producers Associations in the YMCA Thursday afternoon. "If this be a depression year, I think it will be one we shall all like," said R. J. Rogers, a hog producing famer living five miles from Newmarket.

Said R. H. Graham of the Livestock branch, who grew up at Lakefield, "It may be the most prosperous depression we ever had."

Both speakers expressed doubt that the Canadian farmer would be able to fulfill the current British bacon contract, and Mr. Graham predicted that the price of hogs would be higher next summer than it is now.

The meeting of 110 farmers re-elected the association's officers with Melville H. Johnston of North Monaghan beginning his third year as president; Willard Waterman, vice-president; and Bruce Graham of Asphodel, secretary-treasurer. Mr. Graham reported a credit balance of $197.11 as shown in the audited financial statement for the year

Herd Summary

Of special interest to the producers was the summarized review of the facts and results of last year's feeding and management of 55 herds of swine across the province in the Department of Agriculture's enquiry of production costs in actual farm experience.

This enquiry was begun two years ago with the appointment of an average farmer in each of the 55 counties. Bruce Graham of Westwood was chosen for Peterborough county. His work last year, combined with his findings and report, gained for him the rating of third place.

One of the facts emphasized by Mr. R. H. Graham in his explanation of the voluminous compendium of the information relating to

Secret Parley Boosts Hope In Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—A secret, late-at-night conference of John L. Lewis, coal operators and government men gave rise today to new hope for an agreement ending the United States soft-coal strike.

From the sparse details obtainable, it appeared that wages and other items were discussed more realistically than at any previous meeting in the eight-month dispute.

The parties were brought together for the unscheduled bargaining by an urgent appeal from Canadian-born Cyrus S. Ching, Federal Mediation Director, and David J. Cole, chairman of President Truman's coal board of inquiry.

Both Cole and Ching, a native of Prince Edward Island, sat in on the three-hour talk, which was described by one informant as a "real dollars and cents negotiation" between the chief of the 370,000 striking United Mine Workers and spokesmen for the major operators' groups.

At the breakup of earlier formal negotiations Thursday, the chief fact-finder said the next session would be held today.

No hint was given that there might be a night session; some of the key participants just came back after dinner. When the secret meeting was over, Cole told a questioner: "I can't say anything."

But it was apparent that the parties at last had something fairly solid to argue about—a set of wage, hour and welfare demands offered by Lewis. The miner leader's terms included one brand new twist: a request for a guaranteed 200-day working year.

Labor Organizer Found Guilty

SHERBROOKE, Que., Feb. 17—(CP)—Labor organizer Rene Rocque will be sentenced today for his connection with the violence which broke out last May 5 in the eastern townships mining town of Asbestos, Que., during a 4½-month asbestos miners strike marked by clashes between strikers and the Quebec Provincial Police.

A court of King's Bench Jury after 25 minutes deliberation Thursday night convicted Rocque of conspiracy to incite violence. Defence counsel Alexandre Chevalier said he would appeal.

Witnesses told how strikers, after Asbestos Companies had reopened plants with non-striking workers, had barricaded roads leading into the town and had seized a number of police who attempted to run the blockade. Some policemen were assaulted.

Business Is Good

KITCHENER, Feb. 17—(CP)—Cots have been provided in the barred corridors of Waterloo County jail to provide sleeping accommodation for the overflow of prisoners. Sheriff G. H. Gilles said there are 51 registered, the largest total in county history. This winter has produced the heaviest demand on jail accommodation on record. The jail normally accommodates about 40.

Suggest Doctors Pay Hospital Part Of Fee

OWEN SOUND, Feb. 17 (CP)—A proposal that doctors pay a percentage of patients' fees in exchange for use of hospital facilities was made Thursday night by Mayor E. Sargent when the 1949 annual report of the General and Marine Hospital showed an operating deficit of $43,241

He also suggested the "unwieldly 27-man hospital board be reduced to four or five members, that efficiency experts be called in to cut costs and that government subsidies be increased.

At the present rate, he said, the hospital will cost taxpayers nearly $500,000 in the next 10 years.

Superintendent James Clark said an addition to the overcrowded hospital would reduce the deficit.

Polish Bishop Under Arrest

WARSAW, Feb. 17—(AP)—The official Polish News Agency disclosed today that Bishop Kazimierz KoKwalski, Roman Catholic Bishop of Chelmo, had been placed under house arrest at his home in Pomerania.

The Bishop, the Agency said, was accused of using pressure and "all types of threats" against "patriotic priests" who supported the government in its allegations of financial abuses in the Church's largest welfare institution, Caritas.

Caritas was placed under State control last month after the State Auditing Bureau made its charges of widespread mismanagement of the organization's welfare funds.

The Roman Catholic hierarchy ordered read in all churches last Sunday a pastoral letter announcing that Caritas had ceased to be a church institution when it came under State control. The Church, the letter said, would not accept any responsibility for Caritas activities.

In effect, this served notice that the Roman Catholic Church no longer sought United States financial support for Caritas.

Yugoslav Family Glad Be Back In Canada

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP)—Oblivious to passers-by, a family of five stood outside Union Station Thursday night and wept—happily and unashamedly.

The family of Sam Stanish was back in Canada after 2½ years in Yugoslavia. Stanish told of a life of hardship and almost daily visits to the Canadian Embassy before the Yugoslav government gave the family permission to leave the country.

Stanish, who worked here 20 years before returning with his family to Yugoslavia, said:

"It is terrible over there. You work all day for $2 and a decent meal costs you $6. I don't want anyone speaking Communism to me. I know what it is like. I'll never go back."

3 Asiatic Lands May Get U.S. Aid

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (AP)—American arms may soon start flowing to three Asiatic countries as part of the stepped-up Truman administration effort to stop the spread of Communism in the Far East.

Officials said the state and defence departments also may recommend giving India share of the $75,000,000 fund which President Truman has a free hand to use for military purposes in the general area of China.

A slice of undisclosed size already has been earmarked for the new United States of Indonesia. Military aid for hard-pressed Indo-China and for neighboring Thailand is reported under urgent study.

Peace In Western Africa Threatened By Natives

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 17 (CP)—A United Nations mission warned today peace in West Africa is threatened by a strong Nationalistic movement among the natives of British and French Togoland.

In a report to the U.N. Trusteeship Council, the four-man mission said the council should not ignore the demands of the Ewe tribe for unification of the territories.

Delegates studied the report in the light of growing demands from Africans for a speedier process towards self-government.

The mission visited the Ewes, estimated at 80,000 to 1,000,000 strong, last December. The investigation of Ewe petitions for unification was part of a tour of the West African territories which come under the Trusteeship Council.

The mission noted that the Ewes made up almost one half the population of British Togoland and more than one third of French Togoland. A large section of the tribe also is in the Gold Coast, a British colony which does not come under the Trusteeship system.

Unless unification demands were met to some extenet it was probably unavoidable, the mission said, that Nationalism would be intensified by Nationalist forces in neighboring territories "of forces from outside of a different character."

"The problem has attained the force and dimension of a Nationalistic movement and . . . a solution should be sought with urgency in the interest of peace and stability in that part of the world," the mission said.

The two Togolands comprise an area about the size of New Brunswick. After the first world war France and Britain divided the former German colony.

Have New Union Plan For Metal Workers

SUDBURY, Feb. 17 (CP) — Plans to expand the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers to include all metal miners in North and South America are being considered.

The move would offset the Union's expulsion for Communist leanings—from the CIO last week and from the Canadian Congress of Labor last fall.

R. H. Carlin, international board member for the union's district 8, said Thursday night the expansion plan will be discussed next week at the union's national conference in Trail, B. C.

"The first move will be to launch negotiations with the Mexican Miners Union," he said in an interview.

2,276 Broken Poles Toll Left By Storm

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—The Bell Telephone Company said today an up-to-date count shows 2,276 poles broken in the sections of Southwestern Ontario hardest hit by Tuesday's snow-and-sleet storm. Another 1,500 are less seriously damaged.

A company spokesman said 15,125 subscribers still are without full service—compared with 20,000 two days ago. Fourteen Bell exchanges still are isolated and able to provide only local services. Thirteen small companies whose circuits connect with Bell's are isolated.

Full restoration of service may take weeks, the spokesman said.

Fishermen Cowboys Round Up Whale Herd

WELLFLEET, Mass., Feb. 17—(AP) — Two fishermen turned cowboys Thursday to round up a herd of 36 pilot whales, lassoing some by the tail and corraling others in the narrow entrance of Chequessett River.

Harold Payne and Robert Bacon spotted the mammals, which measured 18 to 25 feet in length, from their 200-foot scallop boat two miles outside the harbor.

The salt water cowboys gave chase and soon had the herd moving into the harbor at a 15-knot pace. Bacon lassoed three whales and Payne harpooned two others.

The whales will be slaughtered today for their head oil. Payne and Bacon said the mammal steaks are good eating and added:

"The scallops can wait."

Canadians Sleep In Tents In 40-Below Zero Weather

DONJEK RIVER, Yukon, Feb. 17—(CP) — Canadian troops are sleeping in tents in 40-below-zero weather up here in Robert Service's Yukon, and liking it.

A reporter slept with the headquarters section of Lieut. Arthur Poff's Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry platoon Thursday night. He reports it's not the best way to spend an arctic night, but then again it's not the worst.

After four days of exercise Sweetbriar, there are many Canadian tents scattered among the trees and off the Alaska highway. Accommodating five men, they have canvas exteriors and nylon interiors and zippered doors. They were developed by Canada's defence research.

Four Princess Pats were asleep on a floor of snow covered with evergreen boughs when the reporter arrived at 5.30 a.m. after a night patrol.

In their sleeping bags, light brown casings of nylon that took up nearly all the room, their breath came steaming forth from the hoods at the top. Pte. H. D. G. Jones of Victoria was sleeping with a small wireless at his side and occasionall he would stir mumble something like "sugar dog Charlie, Hello Sugar."

It was their first decent sleep in four days.

Food came out of cardboard boxes with American field rations for five men, providing a total of some 3,000 calories a day for each. The boxes are of five varieties, hold a wide variety of food from stews and chocolate bars to fruit juice cocktails.

Wins First Round In Leukemia Fight

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP) Billy Broderick, 7, has gone home to Mount Albert, 30 miles north of here, after winning the first round of his fight with leukemia.

A supply of the new drug, ACTH, was flown from Chicago to be used in treating him for the unusual form of the blood disease which causes white blood cells to multiply until they destroy the red cells.

When the boy was first brought to hospital here, he was identified only as Billy B in news stories dealing with his fight for life. His last name was made public recently.

World Trade Alarms UN Officials

Fail To Get Balance As Situation Grows Worse In 1949

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 17—(CP) — United Nations economists reported Thursday night that the world trade situation became worse in 1949 and that all efforts to make it balance failed.

They suggested a complete revision of world economic policies and programs. This presumably would include the European Recovery Program, although the economists did not say so specifically.

The suggestion was submitted to the 18-member Economic and Social Council in an 101-page survey of major economic changes in 1949. The survey was prepared by experts in the U.N. secretariat.

The space devoted to the world trade situation indicated the economists regarded this as the No. 1 economic problem. They also reported that world production continued to increase and that employment remained at a high level, although it dropped slightly.

Crippling Factor

The drop of imports into the United States was cited as the major immediate factor crippling the dollar-short world.

The experts said that to bring improvement in world trade the United States would have to continue large-scale aid, such as the ERP, increase imports or decrease exports. All might be needed.

In Canada, the experts found the pressure of inflation had subsided, with some increase in real wages. But Canada also experienced some difficulty in finding outside markets for some surplus commodities, including wood products. She could expect the same for wheat.

The report said the effect of devaluation on Britain's dollar problem is uncertain. But some improvement had been brought by restriction of imports from dollar areas.

The basic problem outlined is disruption of the old pattern of three-corner trade. European countries formerly paid for their imports from the United States by selling commodities to underdeveloped countries for dollars.

The under-developed countries now are short of dollars because their exports to the United States have been reduced, through war devastation, development of synthetic substitutes in the United States, and increased consumption in the under-developed countries of their own products.

Besides, some under-developed countries now are manufacturing commodities which they formerly imported.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 17 (AP) — Wheat got a little support from commercial interests, as well as local traders, and climbed higher on the Board of Trade today.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼-½ cent higher, March $2.19; corn was ⅛-⅜ lower, March $1.28⅜, and oats were unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 69¼. Soybeans were ¼ cent lower to ½ higher, March $2.34.

Local elevators were continuing to move out wheat, mostly the soft red variety. Traders believe it it this activity which has created some covering in the March contract, which during early dealings went to its best price since last December.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 17 — (CP) — Early trade was inactive today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, and all prices moved narrowly due to a lack of pressure from either side of the market.

A slight firming tendency was in evidence, erasing light losses posted in initial stages, but trade was thin everywhere, with no major trend established.

Prices:

Oats — May unchanged at 80⅛B; July-Oct. not open.

Barley—May ⅛ higher at 1.24⅛A; July ⅛ higher at 1.15⅝B; Oct. not open.

Rye—May ⅛ higher at 1.44⅞B, July unchanged at 1.45⅝B; Oct. ½ lower at 1.42⅛B.

Flax—Not open.

Commons Opens Party Leaders Start Fireworks

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—The second session of the 21st Parliament opened Thursday with a minimum of formality and a suggestion of possible verbal fireworks to come.

The fanfare centred around the speech from the throne opening the session and read in the Commons by Viscount Alexander, Governor-General.

As members mulled over the words and plans for the sessional campaign party leaders clashed briefly in the Commons over procedure, a possible indication of sharp debate in the future. M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, protested Prime Minister St. Laurent's proposed plans to conduct discussion on the throne speech.

Mr. Coldwell said he objected to a suggestion that the debate be held on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, leaving Tuesdays and Thursdays for government business. He said this was a wartime procedure which delayed the debate.

Lively Wrangle

This was followed by a wrangle in which all four party leaders participated.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, initiated this interchange after the Prime Minister moved that the Commons committees of supply and ways and means be established today. Mr. Drew, Mr. Coldwell and Solon Low, Social Credit leader, said such a motion required 48 hours' notice.

Their objections drew from Mr. St. Laurent a heated statement in which he disclosed the government hopes to table the 1950-51 estimates next week and that he was not going to "waste" a lot of time on the first day of the session on a debate such as this.

Mr. St. Laurent said he was trying to meet the wishes of members who wanted estimates brought down early to permit closer study.

Mrs. Max Clarke New Regent Of COE Chapter

Sixth annual meeting of the Mary K. Birdsall C.O.E. Chapter was held at the home of the vice-regent, Miss Marie Adams, with regent Miss Wanda Deyell, presiding. Twenty members and two guests were present. Miss Barbara Eastwood won a prize for noting an omission from the minutes.

Reports were read as follows: educational, Miss Mary McRae; ex-service personnel, Miss Eleanor Carleton; post war service, Miss Joan Stock; empire study, Miss Kay Adams; standard bearer, Miss Adele Miller; treasurer, Miss Joan Stock; secretary, Miss Marilyn Pomeroy.

Receipts for the year were $205.76 and expenditures amounted to $147.03. Empty picture frames had been sent to Mr. Fred Sloman of the Travelling School Train at his request, for use in isolated homes; books and magazines had been sent to complement 3 rural school libraries, with 240 more on hand for distribution. Nine scrapbooks had been made for local hospitals.

One needy family was given a complete Christmas dinner, as well as clothes, toys and gifts; and a veteran's family was given emergency food relief for two weeks.

A rummage sale and a tea and bazaar brought in the chapter's funds. Eleven different funds of the Order were supported, and $10 added to their Civic Hospital Fund. Twenty IODE calendars were disposed of by the members; and assistance was given during the T.B. canvass.

Mrs. John Duncan and Mrs. Wm. Nash were approved as councillors for the Junior Chapter and made welcome. Mrs. W. Gordon Hall, Municipal Regent read a paper on "The Flag, Its Origin and History," and then performed the ceremony of installing the officers for 1950, as follows:

Honorary Regent, Mrs. H. G. Carleton; regent, Mrs. Max Clarke; first vice-regent, Miss Marina Armstrong; secretary, Miss Adele Miller; treasurer, Miss Eleanor Watson; educational sec., Miss Diana Pearse; standard bearer, Miss Esther Campbell. Mrs. Carleton pinned junior badges on the new regent and councillors, wishing them success for the coming year.

Following close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served, several contests and a social hour enjoyed.

Hog Producers

the 55 herds was this: the average cost per 100 lbs. of pork produced (live weight) was $15.66.

The net returns per 100 lbs. of pork produced showed an average of $6.90.

Mr. Graham's comments on the many sections of the tabulated statement cannot be reported without reference to it. Publication of it would be a big job. Farmers wishing to obtain copies should write to Mr. Graham at the Department in Toronto.

Big Change

In his general talk he recalled that prior to the war, Britain could buy food from other countries with the interest on her foreign investments. With that resource she could buy 80 per cent of her food requirements. To win the war, by the purchase of food, munitions and other necessaries, she liquidated most of those assets. The interest on the remnant today is sufficient to buy only eight per cent of her food needs.

"That is why she has to deal in sterling and not in gold," Mr. Graham said. "Did you ever try to sell to a man who hasn't the money? That is the position we find ourselves in today.

In 1949 we had the highest price we ever had for hogs. Even so, farmers in the west gradually went out of hogs; Saskatchewan to the extent of 50 per cent. Isn't it reasonable to assume that at the lower price today, the westerners will continue to go out of hogs while they are getting guaranteed price for their grain?"

The hog population was decreasing week by week, Mr. Graham said. It looks to me that we will not have 25,000,000 lbs. to ship on our 60,000,000 lb. contract. It was becoming a question whether "we'll have enough bacon for our own people. With that prospect of demand, if we can get sale for our cheese and wheat I feel that we are going to be all right for this year."

Britain is buying the choicest beef from the Argentine for 10 cents a pound.

Will Turn To Canada

"The Peron government is a dictatorship. Ten cents is all he pays the Argentine farmers, and in turn he sells to Britain. The British did not liquidate their assets in that country. She lost them. Peron has taken over railways, power plants and other investments, and all the British have got out of it is a credit for the amount of her assets. When that is all used up, I am looking to the day when she will buy more beef in this country. I hope to see the time when we will have a big market for beef in the United States, and for beef and other products in Britain."

Mr. Graham appealed to farmers to maintain the type and quality of the standard bacon hog this country has developed. The United States have 400,000,000 pounds of fat on their hands and will have to give it away as they are doing with potatoes.

"Don't think of going back to the fat hog. We have got to keep on developing grade "A" to supply the demand we have created for it."

In a further comment on details of the cost of production tabulation, Mr. Graham said: "There is no money in pigs for the man who produces the kind the market does not want, and for the man who can't feed a pig. I say there is a profit in pigs at the present prices and cost. When you hear such statements as one published recently that every pig was losing the Ontario producer $5, I can't agree with it."

Mr. Graham suggested to his audience of producers that they stay in the business "through thick and thin." He recalled the experience of 1947 when control was removed from grain prices and many farmers got rid of their weanlings at $1.50.

No Depression Yet

"I never saw a depression start with grain at a high price. As long as the western farmer is selling his wheat at the contract price, I don't think you are going to see a depression. The western man will sell grain and get out of pigs. If the grain market shows signs of tumbling, that might be another matter."

Continuing steadiness in the wheat market, and the extension this year of the building boom were influences which should sustain the country's economy for 1950. All the people employed in the building industry, and in the building supply industry, those who were manufacturing house furnishings, comprised a big total and they all had to eat.

In the course of his talk, Mr. Rogers said: "I certainly don't look for this year being a depression year as far as hogs are concerned. In a period before the end of last year we sold more boars than at any other time in the last 25 years. I think we may see a scarcity of hog products in the immediate future. Then with more intensive breeding into the fall it would be a year from then before you would see the entry of that production in the market."

Must Cut Costs

"We haven't bought any feed since we threshed last fall. We should be concentrating on cutting our costs. Get some luxuriant pasture fields. They'll help. And I wouldn't overlook growing soms mangolds for the pigs."

Speaking of quality of pork, Mr. Rogers said that in his own home recently a fat piece of butt bacon was roasted.

"There wasn't much of that eaten in the week, although ordinarily with our boys we would consume eight to 10 pounds. They didn't like that fat. That's a little lesson for all of us. It is what happens with our trade and customers when we follow the practice of over-feeding the pigs. If you lower the quality, the consumer is not going to eat as much bacon, and he may turn to other products.

"I don't know any farm animal that lends itself so much as the hog to attractive display over the counter. You've seen it yourselves in stores. And I'm not making any apology when I say that the girl who wants to make an honest dollar in the processing and the wrapping of our bacon, the men who are employed in the industry, and officials, too, are all working in the interest of that hog industry. They are doing a real job, and we should feel happy that our interests are along the same line in producing that animal."

Dubious of Contract

Mr. Rogers said he was decidedly dubious about Canada filling that British bacon contract. "Even if we do ship them 80,000,000 lbs. that is only one pound of pork products for every person over there, and that's not much there, and that's not much."

With the contract for Britain and the average consumption of 50 lbs. of pork products by each Canadian, and with around four million hogs likely to be produced here this year, Mr. Rogers said there seemed no doubt that the supply of pork would be liquidated.

Lumberman Dies Left DP Camp Two Years Ago

HAVELOCK, Dec. 17—(ENS)—Ganis Pikelis, 52, died in a Toronto hospital Tuesday, following an accident on January 11 at his work in a lumber camp in the Sudbury district, when he was struck in the chest by a falling beam.

Mr. Pikelis is a native of Latvia. He and his family came to Havelock two years ago from a DP camp in German, having lost all their possessions. He was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Surviving besides his widow are two daughters, Yuta and Renate, aged 5, of Havelock.

The funeral was held today, the service in the Curtis funeral parlor being conducted by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh of Havelock United Church. Burial was in Maple Grove Cemetery.

Four Accidents Probed By Police

Icy roads were blamed as contributing causes in four accidents reported by city police today.

Three cars were involved in one accident at Burnham and Hunter Sts. Thursday afternoon. Harold Carr, 258 Mark St., told Constable W. A. Scott his car was struck from the rear while travelling west on Hunter St. by a car driven by Blake Matthews, RR 7, Peterborough.

Carr said he had slowed his car to allow a car ahead of him to turn into a service station. Driver of the third car Robert Evans, 651 Rogers St., told police Matthews passed him before hitting the Carr automobile. His car ran into the back of Matthews' car after it struck the front car. Each vehicle suffered some damage.

Constable Edward Niziol reported as he was walking his beat and turned to see a car, later traced to Gerald Joseph Courneya, 63 Olive St., had met in collision with a parked car owned by James Turnbull, Toronto.

The police officer reported that he saw the Courneya car back away from the parked car and then drive north on Water St., past the police station. About 12:30 a.m. today, an hour after the accident, Constable Niziol stopped Courneya on George St. for questioning.

About nine o'clock Thursday evening, a car driven south on Water St. by Kenneth Tully, RR 4, Peterborough, smashed into the rear of a city bus driven by Victor Fairbairn, 96 Dufferin St. The bus had stopped to pick up passengers at Argyle St.

Tully told Constable John Morrow he was not able to drive around the bus because of oncoming traffic. When he put on his brakes to stop, he slid into the rear of the bus. The whole front of his car was pushed in and two panels at the rear of the bus were dented.

A refrigerator truck driven by Wallace Graham, 212 Geraldine Ave. and a car driven by Miss Mary L. Carey, 576 Aylmer St., collided at Lock's bridge on Otonabee St. Friday.

Driving west on Otonabee St. approaching the bridge, Miss Carey said she saw the truck approaching from the other direction. She braked to pass the truck slowly but her car skidded sideways into the path of the truck. About $100 damage was done to the rear of the Carey car and about $40 to the left side of the truck. Constable Herold W. Andrew investigated.

APPOINTED DELEGATE

Delegates appointed Thursday to the convention of the Ontario Hog Producers at the end of the month are: Fred Eason, M. H. Johnston and Bruce Graham.

HOSPITAL DEFICIT

Operating deficit of $4,139.28 last year was reported at the recent annual meeting of Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay. The per day rate was set at $5.13 which was mentioned as the cost of maintaining each person. Provincial average for hospitals of the same size is said to be $6.83 a day.

A GRAHAM PREDICTION

R. H. Graham of the livestock branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture has a little bet with a friend of his that hogs on the rail will be 30 cents a pound before the end of summer. That is his estimate of the 1950 trend, suggesting a market that should do fairly for the producers in spite of all the gloom that has been bruited about in the last two months.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Chinese in Peterborough are quietly observing their New Year's Day today. Special Chinese dinners have been enjoyed during the week when various restaurants were closed and this will be the extent of Peterborough's celebrations. This starts the Chinese year 4647 if you date it from the time of the Yellow Emperor, or the year 2,501 if you date it from Confucius' birth. The Chinese calendar is based on the movements of the moon around the earth.

AT SISTER'S FUNERAL

Miss Jane Layfield, 748 Water St., has returned from Newark and Syracuse where she attended the funeral Monday of her sister Mrs. Thomas H. Mather whose home was in Arlington, N. J. Born in the province of Quebec 80 years ago, Mrs. Mather was a sister of Robert E. Layfield of Vancouver, formerly of this city.

Charged with carrying a concealed revolver, Aden Freeman, 28, who gave a Kingston address, pleaded guilty in police court today. He was remanded for sentence Monday. No evidence was heard.

MOTOR STARTS FIRE.

A defective electric motor in an oil furnace started a small fire in the basement of the Duffus Garage, Water St., shortly after 8 a.m. today. Smoke was so thick firemen had to wear air packs to enter the basement. After dousing the furnace with a chemical extinguisher, firemen were perparing to leave the premisees when the motor sparked off another flash fire. It spread to the oil on the floor but the minor blaze was soon snuffed out by using a fog nozzle. The electric motor will have to be replaced but other than that there was little damage.

advantageous to certain people having no decided religious convictions.

"As far as sincere Roman Catholics are concerned, it will not affect them as they will be married as heretofore in a religious ceremony according to the laws of the church."

Rev. Frank Fidler, assistant secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the United Church of Canada, said he would favor introduction of a Civil Marriage Law in Ontario.

"There are hundreds of people who want to be married, but a Christian marriage is not acceptable to them because they do not subscribe to the idea of a Church ceremony," he said.

It would "avoid making a mockery of the Church," he added.

Dr. W. A. Cameron, Secretary of the Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church, said he was in favor of civil marriages for people who have no religious affiliations.

But a vote in various presbyteries of the Church on the question resulted in a majority being opposed, a Church spokesman said.

The Baptist Convention of Ontario and Quebec has not declared a policy on civil marriage, but Rev. Calen Harris, of the Committee in Social Service, said "Hurrah!" when he heard the change was contemplated. He felt there was a considerable majority of his fellow-Baptists in favor of the civil ceremony.

Victor Gray Hit-and-Run Victim Dies

ROSENEATH, Feb. 17 (ENS)— The death occurred on Thursday in hospital in Toronto of Victor Gray, 25, son of the late George Gray and Mrs. Gray, of Alderville.

His death followed a motor accident in which he was the victim of a hit-and-run motorist at midnight Saturday.

Mr. Gray had been at Roseneath skating rink and called at the home of his sister, Mrs. Daniel Simpson. He then started up the county road for home. He was found unconscious by Don Smoke, of Cobourg, lying in a pool of blood in the centre of the road near the home of Norman Marsden.

He was rushed to Cobourg Hospital and taken by ambulance on Tuesday to Toronto General Hospital where an operation was performed. He never regained consciousness after the accident.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. George Gray; one sister, Thelma, Mrs. Daniel Simpson; three brothers, Lewis, Gerald and Preston, all of Alderville.

Picasso Makes Theatre Debut

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(AP). — Pablo Picasso made his London debut as a playwright Thursday night and most critics agreed he'd better stick to painting.

"One of the most pointless and unsavory plays ever played on the London stage," said the Daily Mail's Cecil Wilson of the famous painter's 50-minute problem piece "Desire Caught By the Tail."

The 68-year-old Left Wing artist, who was born in Spain and now lives in France, wrote the play in 1941. The Institute of Contemporary Arts sponsored its London premiere in a one night stand in Rudolf Steiner Hall.

Hilda Simms, star here and on Broadway of "Anna Lucasta," and 11 other players sat on the stage and read the work.

Stage directions called for the appearance of writhing, disembodied feet and a frying pan full of sizzling potatoes.

The Welsh poet Dylan Thomas served as the commentator. One critic said his job was to "explain the inexplicable."

The program called the play a "strange dish, sweet and bitter, in which the main love theme is expressed chiefly in culinary terms."

"The lovers are "The Tart" and "The Big Foot." Other characters: "The Onion," "Silence," "The Two Bow-Wows," "Fat Anxiety," "Thin Anxiety."

Sample dialogue:

The Tart: Aye, aye, aye, aye, aye, aye, aye, aye, aye.

The Cousin: Aye, aye, aye, aye.

Fat Anxiety: A A A A A A A A!

Activity Very Slow On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP)— Activity continued at a snail's pace as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Price changes were generally held to small amounts. The firmer trend continued in Western oil stocks for a second successive day.

Volume for the first three hours was 412,000 shares.

Royalite led Western oils higher, gaining 20 cents at $9.30. Pacific Petroleum and Federated Petroleum were also higher. Opening prices were the best, with some paring of gains appearing in mid-session.

Industrials continued moving on a slightly lower level. A few individual issues brightened in comparatively brisk dealings. Brazilian Traction bounded ahead ½ at 21⅜ and touched a new high at 21½. Papers, foods and utilities showed majorities of declines in the groupings.

Home For Aged Extension Plans Shelved 'Till June By County Council

COBOURG, Feb. 17—(ENS)—Counties council, at a special session Thursday to consider tenders for a proposed addition to the counties home for aged, decided to look into the possibilities of the old Bowmanville Hospital and deferred any decision until the June session. As the present tenders are for 30 days only, it was decided to call for new ones for the June session.

The tenders, which were considered by the board of management, ranged from $55,802 to $69,264 and the board recommended the lowest tender, which was that of C. A. Smith, of Unionville. However, in view of the decision to defer any action, the report was not accepted.

Council also heard a report of the Fire Marshal's Department which cited certain improvements at the Counties Home in order to make it safer from the standpoint of fire. It is estimated that it would cost up to $25,000 to put these into effect.

Reeve Bert Lingard, of Port Hope, commented that the addition was supposed to look after 12 inmates and that would, on the basis of the tenders, work out to about $4,000 a bed. Deputy-Reeve G. F. Jamieson, of Bowmanville, pointed out that the Bowmanville proposition would be around $880 a bed.

He said that if the hospital were bought now it would not be available for occupancy until next year and the $10,000 purchase price would not have to be paid until 1951. The building was in good shape and had fire escapes, he said.

"It looks like you would have to spend about $25,000 on the present counties home to bring it up to fire protection standards before you could start the new wing," said Reeve E. R. Woodyard, of Clarke Township.

"Do We Want It?"

"This is a heavy problem and we should approach it with due care," warned Reeve Art Wartman, of Percy Township. "We will have to make changes on the present counties home and these are supposed to have priority over a new addition.

"I wonder if we need a new addition. We only have one or two bed patients and there are no more waiting to get into the counties home than here were before. I can't see too much wrong with that building in Bowmanville. The people from Durham are entitled to a little something. We've spent about $7,000 on plans and so on, and have got nothing yet.

"But there are somethings which we want to know about the Bowmanville building and I think we should wait until the June session and by that time we should have all the information we require."

"What about maintenance if the government will not give us a grant toward that?" asked Warden C. B. Jandrew. "Our clerk wrote the Department about that part of it and has received an answer about a grant towards construction but no word about government assistance toward maintenance."

Two Bed Patients

In regard to the number of bed patients, the clerk said there were 10 bed patients last year, six died and there were two in bed. However, there were 20 on the top floor who could not walk down and were only up a few hours a day.

"How much longer are we going to fiddle around? If it is a matter of a road or a bridge we don't fiddle, but when it is a case of flesh and blood and social welfare, why should we delay?" asked Reeve Roy Dodge, of Cobourg. He added that it was very hard to get old people in the home and something should be done to provide more accommodation.

"We have got just the place for those old people in this hospital building which we will sell you," interjected Deputy-Reeve Jamieson.

Wants Early Settlement

"I agree with Reeve Dodge," affirmed Reeve G. A. Walton, of Newcastle. "We should not pass the buck to the June session of council. Let us settle this today. Old people need a lot of care. We haven't a room up there in which they can die by themselves.

"I wish both provincial and federal governments would do something to help the problem of accommodation in counties homes for the aged. The federal government had a 600 million surplus. Let them sit in with the provincial government and work out something for our old people."

"Something must be done for these old people," asserted Reeve O. J. Robins, of Alnwick Township. "The standards of a county are judged by the way the old people are looked after. However we must consider whether the Department of Welfare will subsidize maintenance. I don't think it is passing the buck to leave it until June."

The matter resulted in a motion, that the Bowmanville Hospital be bought, subject to approval of the fire marshal and 50 per cent maintenance from the Department. The amendment was that it be left to the June session and that all information be obtained in the meantime and that new tenders also be called for an addition to the counties home. The amendment carried.

U.S. Railmen Choose Feb. 27 Strike Date

CLEVELAND, Feb. 17 (AP).—The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors have set Feb. 27 at 6 a.m., EST, as the date for a country-wide strike, the Trainmen's News says today.

But, under the Railways Labor Act, an actual walkout would be delayed for at least two months after the date the unions fixed for the strike.

The two unions represent about 250,000 railroad operating employees. They fixed the strike date after a deadlock with the carriers on demands fo a 40-hour week without pay reduction for some 85,000 yardmen and contract improvements for road men and dining-car stewards.

2 Freighters Collide

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Feb. 17—(AP)—Two freighters collided near the mouth of the Panama Canal Thursday, crashing each other's hulls and jolting crew members out of their bunks. No casualties were reported. Port authorities said the 7,164-ton Canadian vessel Lake Winnipeg rammed the 6,711-ton, British-owned Swainby riding at anchor near the Pacific entrance of the canal.

Annual Hospital Show Presented

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 17 — (ENS)—A repeat performance of the CHI-RHO Society variety show was presented Thursday in the Parish Hall. The program was under the auspices of the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary and is presented annually, featuring a "Hill Billie Revue."

Fred Palliser's dancing marionette drew much applause, and he stopped the show with his woeful song "Life Gits Tedious, Don't It?"

The cast included Bruce Elmhirst, Sid Hopping, Cliff Gibson, P. Mellville, Fred Palliser, L. Petherick and George Nicholls at the piano.

The Northumberland Music Makers presented some of the songs which won for them top honors in the recent Junior Farmers' contest.

An operetta entitled "The Wooing of Bridget Casey" was also presented and the audience seemed to especially enjoy a scene played by Percy Mellville and Mrs. Don Nicholson.

Dr. Ross Richardson presented a reading of "Little Albert and the Lion."

Business and publicity arrangements for the show were handled by Harry Cubit and R. Smith acted as master of ceremonies.

Robt. Currie Enters Ski Tests

Robert Currie, jumping artist of the Peterborough Ski Club is the only member of the Peterborough club to enter the Central Canadian Ski Championship in Collingwood this weekend. The meet is sponsored by the Toronto Ski Club.

Fifty skiers were out a Kemp's Hill Thursday night. They experienced one of the fastest nights skiing this year on the crusty well-packed snow.

Reports from the Bethany area reveal a fair amount of snow for the slalom and downhill club championships this Sunday. Saturday, starting at 1:30 p.m. the junior, Class "C" (over 18 years) who have never competed, and the senior jumpers will perform for local honors.

Ski club officials say that the club events will not disturb the skiing at Bethany Sunday. There will be skiing tonight at Kempt's Hill and Saturday and Sunday afternoons at Kempt's and Bethany.

J. D. Cumming secretary of the Belmont Ski Club near Havelock reports good skiing on nine inches of snow on the ski slopes and two and 10 inches on the trails and bush. Thursday there was a thin crust with an inch of light fluffy new snow.

Vigilant For Liberty

There are few private institutions which can do more public good than a well directed newspaper; a newspaper which is conscious of its responsibilities is everlastingly vigilant, and quick to point out abuses. An instance of what we mean has recently been observable in Cobourg. A lease for a dance pavilion in a municipal park was in question, and two men wanted it; one was a native Canadian and the other a naturalized Canadian of Greek birth. The mayor, Mr. J. S. Smith, made the comment publicly that he would "rather see a white running the pavilion than a Greek". The Cobourg weekly, The Sentinel Star, reported this remark and demanded that the mayor resign. He has done so.

* * *

There were other factors in the matter. The bid from the Greek who wanted the dance-hall franchise was more than twice that of the other bidder. The mayor complained that his remark was made in his private capacity at a private affair; in fact it was made at a public dinner at which the press was present; and it may be said that a comment by the mayor of a municipality on a matter of public business before a large assembly cannot possibly be construed as private. But these details are by the way.

* * *

What is important is that a small newspaper exposed a piece of stupid prejudice for what it was, and forced an underground scheme into the light. Canada is a democratic country in its large dealings but in every community there are little pockets of bitter prejudice, racial hatred, mean discrimination and all the nasty breeding grounds of fascism. The Cobourg affair could have been glossed over or conveniently forgotten but that would not have been good for Cobourg; it is possible, but not wise, for a man to pretend that he is not suffering from an abcessed tooth. It is inconvenient, disagreeable and disturbing to stir up these local scandals, but a newspaper which is vigilant for liberty knows that it must do so if it is to keep the respect of the community it serves.

Complete The Trent?

Our northern contemporary the Sudbury Star takes a winter glance southward to the Trent Canal—its view is reproduced elsewhere on this page—and thinks that the Trent system should be completed. We here in Peterborough, at the very Lift Lock heart of the waterway, would very much like to see the canal completely navigable from the Bay of Quinte to Georgian Bay, but the prospects of this ever being accomplished seem so remote that it would be unrealistic to recommend it.

There are eight miles of the "improved natural waterway" (as officials call the Trent canal) which have not been improved by locks. These eight miles on the Severn are at the northwestern end, between Swift Rapids and Big Chute, the latter obstacle being eight miles from Georgian Bay. However, there are two marine railways, which give launches not over twenty tons and four feet draught access to Georgian Bay, and thus, for them, the Trent system is passable over its entire 240 miles. It is regrettable that a system which can accommodate vessels of six and eight foot draught should be so restricted by the lack of only two locks in an eight-mile stretch.

The Trent Canal will never be of any significant commercial use (it was built too narrow), excepting that its touring business is lucratively important, even now when it is bottle-necked. The Sudbury Star visions "white-winged sailing vessels and luxurious mahogany power yachts" plying the completed Trent with their tourist dollars. We invite the Star to drop in on Peterborough next summer and see as many as twenty posh yachts passing through in one day. But we agree with the kindly-disposed Star that a completely navigable route would be beautifully desirable, much more useful, and many times a stronger tourist-dollar channel.

Normal School Students Interpret The Centenary

This evening at their private At Home the students of Peterborough Normal School are presenting a pageant which they planned, wrote and staged based on the settlement and first corporate century of this city. "Centennial Highlights" had a preliminary performance, complete with a well-voiced choir of the students giving musical interpretations, Wednesday evening at the So-Ed meeting. We can report that the effect was good, and the effort praiseworthy. The students, the English master Mr. Potts, the music master Mr. McKinney, and the art instructor, Miss Wagar, are to be congratulated.

Such a project is undoubtedly instructive to teachers-in-training for when they go out to schools in their various districts, they will be stimulated to try similar creative work of local value. It is especially pleasing that the students—most of whom do not belong to Peterborough—should give time and research to the history of this city which they have adopted for the year of their Normal School studies. The dramatic interest which they have found in Peterborough's story, and their pageantry of it should lead other groups in the city to devise ways in which they can share in the city's centenary.

A Curious Contradiction

We learn with pleasure that Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King is to receive the highest honour in the award of The Netherlands, the Grand Cross of the Order of the Netherlands Lion, from Queen Juliana. Mr. King is eminently deserving of honour, and this distinction is also a sign of the friendship between Canada and The Netherlands.

Our pleasure would be greater, however, if Mr. King had not, during his active political life, been the most powerful opponent of the bestowal of honours upon Canadians by our King. Why, we wonder, is he ready to accept an honour from a foreign friendly power when he plainly considers honours from our own King unsuitable to the democratic nature of this country?

We do not see anything undemocratic about honours which are conferred for service to one's country or for special merit. If a man has earned a distinction, let him have it by all means. We would strongly oppose hereditary titles in Canada; an earned title, or mark of honour, is quite a different thing.

One of Canada's oldest and finest educational institutions, Upper Canada College, has as its motto the Latin counsel Palmam qui meruit ferat, which may be translated as 'Honour to him who deserves it'. Honour to Mr. King, by all means. But why not honour to others who have served Canada well?

Sweetbriar

A sport of the military genius is to choose comically inappropriate names for planned operations—or exercises, as the manoeuvres are called in peace time. Exercise Sweetbriar which began Monday based on Whitehorse in the Yukon and extending to Alaska and the Arctic, has nothing to do with its name, except as a pipe-smoking staff officer's inspiration. It is a serious, and we would judge, important exercise, being conducted at Canada's vulnerable northern gate by the largest combined forces of Americans and Canadians ever assembled on this continent. Its purpose is to try out northern tactics, to accustom men to the rigours o. simulated warfare in such wastes, and to test equipment and machines in the frigid zone.

Exercise Sweetbriar's relation to the North Atlantic Treaty countries' preparedness plans is obvious. It should result in real knowledge of the problems and methods of the northern defence of this continent.

Fairly Law-Abiding Peterborough

The Chief of Police's annual report to the Police Commission presented the other evening had no startling tale of increased crime to unfold, and for a city of 36,000 people, Peterborough is really quite a respectable, quiet place.

There were fewer entries made into private homes and shops (40) than in 1948, only four robberies with violence, and seven charges of assault occasioning bodily harm. There were 45 charges of theft. The majority of the 2,398 charges laid were for minor offences against the Liquor Control Act, the Highway Traffic Act and city by-laws. The category of charges showing the largest increase was for traffic offences, in which there were 1,081 charges laid. Only 25 charges were laid for drunk driving. The number of cases for violation of the Liquor Control Act decreased from 481 to 450 in the year.

It is a wry fact that fines paid for infringements of the law (but including parking meter fees) amounted to more than half the total cost of operating the police department for the year. That cost was $96,353.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: Having taught for several years, and having met and talked with teachers from many towns and cities, I failed to find one (upon questioning) who was familiar with a "fee" system for obtaining the pupils' books. Can you tell me if this means of procuring school supplies is peculiar to Peterborough? It seems to me a rather antiquated arrangement—what do you think of it?

ANSWER: It is an old-fashioned arrangement, but it has stood the test of many years, to the general satisfaction of Peterborough. There is no indication that this fee system will be dropped in the near future.

The fees assessed pupils at public schools for their books, pencils and the like, are very small, ranging from five cents to twenty cents (in the top grades) a month. This is no financial hardship. It does two things; brings in to the Board of Education treasury the surprising sum of about $5,000 a year, and gives the pupils a feeling that they have bought the supplies, that they are their very own, and what has cost them money is worth looking after.

The fees do not cover the cost of the pupils' supplies. The Board always has a deficit on them, amounting to a couple of thousand dollars annually.

Not many other Ontario city school boards collect fees as in Peterborough, but some do, K. S. Wightman, Superintendent of Schools, tells me. Toronto has no fee system. The pupils are given the use of the books, which never become their own. One disadvantage of the Toronto feeless system is that frequently school books are kept in circulation and handed down from class to class after their cleanliness and condition have deteriorated. In Peterborough most of the pupils' books are new each year.

If Peterborough dropped the fee system it is likely that the pupils would then have to go out to the bookshops and buy their own. The Board, now pressed for money, is not likely to approve adding $5,000 to its budget. When the Board buys the supplies, as now, the cost to the city (parents and taxpayers) is only about two-thirds of what it would be if pupils had to buy their own individually.

SIR: I get all mixed up between these Labour groups, like C.C.L., T.L.C., A.L.C., etc. I know that as a modern housewife I should be interested in these things, or at least know about them. Please explain.

ANSWER: The Allied Labour Council is a Peterborough organization, supposed to be representative of all Labour groups in town. It could be an important force, but it doesn't seem to do very much, or to say anything of moment. The C.C.L. is the Canadian Congress of Labour, one of the two major general trade union councils in Canada, comprising a great many unions. It is affiliated with the C.I.O. of the U.S.A.— the Committee for Industrial Organization. The Trades and Labour Congress (T.L.C.) is the second great centrifugal union force in Canada. It is affiliated with the American Federation of Labour. The U.E. (United Electrical Workers) was an affiliate union of C.I.O. and C.C.L. until late last year, from both of which it was successively expelled. The I/U.E. (International United Electrical) is the name given to the new union effort to take over from U.E. It is recognized by the C.I.O. and the C.C.L. I/U.E. is now jousting with U.E. to become the recognized bargaining agent at the Peterborough C.G.E. plant.

ALPHA: Another very fine column in your daily paper is that of Mary Moore, cooking expert. Is this written by a Peterborough personage, especially for The Examiner, or is it a syndicated column?

ANSWER: I am not privy to intimate Examiner affairs, but I know that Mrs. Mary Moore, whose excellent column appears in this paper, is an Ontario woman, though not a resident of Peterborough. She writes her column for several papers. I think the Examiner, in buying Mrs. Moore's output, is doing a good service to its readers. Most cookery and fashion syndicated columns in Canadian papers come up from the States, and the recipes and terms are not always suitable to Canadian households. Mrs. Moore is authentic Ontario stuff.

❖ ❖ ❖

SIR: Are there more farm people than town people in Ontario?

ANSWER: No. There are almost exactly twice as many urban dwellers as rural in the province. This goes to explain why five of Canada's twelve largest cities are in Ontario.

❖ ❖ ❖

ALPHA: On a coat-of-arm which is the 'sinister' side and which the 'dexter'? Also is a "bar sinister" an indication of illegitimate descent?

ANSWER: The sinister side is, of course, the left side. The trick is that it is the left side as the garment or armoury was worn. Thus, the sinister side of a coat-of-arms to an observer is on the observer's right, as a man's left hand is on the right of a person facing the man. The dexter side (right) is the opposite. A so-called "bar sinister" of a shield runs from upper right to lower left, to the eye of a spectator. In heraldic terms, the bar sinister is called a "bend sinister" and is a diagonal band from "sinister chief" (top) to "dexter base" (bottom) is the "field" of an escutcheon. Its diminutive, the baton (which does not run completely from corner to corner) is sometimes used as a mark of illegitimacy. A "bar" in heraldry is a fairly narrow band running horizontally across the field. A "field" of an escutcheon (the escutcheon represents the old knightly shield) is the whole surface, background, of the shield, or a single section of its quarters.

Trent and Rideau

(SUDBURY STAR)

THE vision of white-winged sailing vessels, and luxurious mahogany power yachts, bringing hundreds of thousands of tourist dollars into Ontario, is one that is not hard to conjure if the Trent Canal is ever brought to completion.

The Dominion governments of past days poured something like $20,000,000 into the Trent waterway. The plan, of course, was a short cut between Georgian Bay and Lake Ontario.

The Trent Canal, (and it is a canal in name only), offers no inducement to the small boat owner to risk his craft on the marine railways which seek to span the missing links. Only two or three locks remain to be built to make the waterway acceptable to those who will not suffer the inconvenience of a marine railway.

There is another waterway in Ontario—the Rideau Canal—which forms a connecting link between Kingston and Ottawa, that is deserving of some attention from the Ottawa government.

Both the Trent and the Rideau are beautiful water routes that leisurely meander through the Ontario countryside. Their possibilities as tourist attractions cannot be over-estimated, and it seems a shame that they are not developed to their fullest extent.

In the friendlier atmosphere of Dominion-provincial relations that now seem apparent, perhaps the Ontario and Ottawa governments can reach agreement on the completion of the Trent Canal, and improvement of the Rideau Canal.

Letters To The Editor

GOOD HOME NOT ALL A MATTER OF MONEY

Sir: May I be one more to add my views on the current discussion of "Working Married Women." I have read all previous letters some with interest, some with disgust.

I am a housewife, and everyday full-time home maker. My husband an average paid day-worker (no salary); no work no pay. However we make ends meet, have average recreation, a nice home and are dressed as neatly and up-to-date as any average person.

Our home we did not have given us, not even one nail in it. We acquired it through hard work and saving. Where was I during the war? I was a War Worker in a factory the same as many married women whose duty it was. My husband serving four years in the Canadian Active Army two years of which was spent overseas in the theatre of war.

I also know what a hard honest day's work is. I was employed by the same firm for ten years previous to my marriage, not to mention having done part-time work plus my housework. So you see Ambitious girls I am not just running off my chin to put in time.

Now I am not against married women working in some cases; in others I am very much. In cases where it is found necessary by all means work, if it means getting established in a home or due to extensive bills for sickness etc. That only makes common sense. But to condemn a woman for working with good reason.

However in all fairness we must think of unemployment at the present time which does not seem to be improving. One writer asks why the single girls do not write in on this. When a young girl is seeking a job she wants work, wants it desperately but what young person in these situations has the heart to write about it. They travel day after day to the employment office only to be told Nothing Yet, therefore only decide "What's the use?"

To my personal knowledge the greatest "beefers" are the ones who have the most and could quite well stay at homemaking instead of grabbing all. I am very disgusted with such talk in some letters of being jealous, green-eyed etc. For myself and I am sure a great many more agree that a happy peaceful home can't all be bought with extra money.

Thanking you and sincerely hoping the time is not far off when all single girls will have jobs, good ones, not second best.

FED UP WITH FARM PRICES

Sir: I am heartily fed up on what Mr. H. H. Hannam, President of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, has to say about agricultural products, butter, eggs, and the necessity for floor prices and all the rest of his twaddle.

Mr. Hannam is paid to think this and paid to say it so that his opinion has no weight at all. His spoutings over the past three or four weeks have been sickening and it is just about time that his utterances ceased being news.

On page 2 of your valuable paper of Feb. 14, there is ample answer to Mr. Hannam and all like him who are hollering for high prices to be maintained. The heading on the article is "First Decline in 10 Years for Farmers." Prices are still high according to the Bureau in Ottawa. Why should the farmer be protected against decline in prices at the expense of all other people of the community. One of the reasons we have surpluses in this country is due to the fact that prices have been maintained at too high level. If the prices were cheaper a lot of the surplus would disappear.

Between Mr. Hannam and Mr. Gardiner I think they have done their cause a tremendous lot of harm because when people continue to argue a point they put themselves in the class of the young lady referred to when Shakespeare said, "Methinks she doth protest too much."

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour. And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple; who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms....

Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give to thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk. And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength. And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God....And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk? The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus.... And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all. (Acts 3: 1-3, 6-8, 11-13, 16.)

Unconsidered Trifles

A woman much given to gossiping at neighbours' houses was taken ill one morning and sent her husband for a doctor. The obedient man ran part of the way, but then returned to put this query: "My dear, where shall I find you when I get back?"

❖ ❖ ❖

The newly-rich woman was trying to make an impression.

"I clean my diamonds with ammonia," she said, "my rubies with Bordeaux wine, my emeralds with Danzig brandy, and my sapphires with fresh milk."

"I don't clean mine," said the quiet woman sitting next to her. "When they get dirty I just throw them away."

Goldman surveyed the situation for about a minute.

"I'll take the twenty-five dollar one," he decided.

Attlee Confident People To Re-elect Him

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Clement Attlee pulled up in front of No. 10 Downing Street in their 1937 model family car Thursday night, confident they would occupy that address again for the next five years.

It's the official home of the Prime Minister.

Both the Labor Prime Minister and his colorful opponent, Conservative leader Winston Churchill, had finished their various tours of the country to seek votes for the Feb. 23 general election.

Attlee, in a whistle-stop campaign, covered some 1,200 miles of British roads—his wife driving. He made 34 scheduled speeches and an untold number of informal talks clear to Glasgow and back.

Churchill was back from a trip by train in which he asked for Attlee's job as Prime Minister, promised to turn the tide of Socialism in Britain and suggested he might bring about new Big-Three talks that would solve the East-West atom bomb race.

Makes Last Broadcast

Churchill will make his party's last political broadcast tonight. Attlee will continue his campaign by speaking again in his own constituency of Walthamstow, a crowded section of northeast London, after 24 hours' rest.

"I am very confident that we are going to win," he said.

Lord Woolton, the self-made millionaire who gave up several rich private jobs to run Churchill's party campaign, had a different idea. He told the Tory Constitutional Club here Thursday: "We are going to win."

The 67-year-old Prime Minister claims little of the dash and color shown by his 75-year-old opponent. But on his tour he drew quite a few cheers and not so many hecklers. He stuck mainly to the theme that his Labor government had fulfilled all of its 1945 campaign promises. He talked of full employment, "fair shares for all" and social security.

Only once did he waver from this theme to rip into Churchill for what he called "wild whirling words."

Attlee touched only once—in Northampton—on the question of atomic control which was raised by Churchill in his Edinburgh speech.

He spoke of "new weapons of destruction," and added that "if mankind is to survive it must control the blind forces and we shall continue towards that end."

SEMI-FINALISTS in the "Krazy" Dress ladies' competition lined up for judging at the Kiwanis party Thursday evening. Left to right: Mrs. Wm. J. Hickey, Mrs. Jas. Wharry, Mrs. Geo. Solmes, Mrs. Gordon Harrison, "Lucy" (J.R.) Hewitt, "Susie" (E. J.) McWilliam Mrs. Al. Plaskett, Mrs. M. R. Knox. The winners were Mrs. Harrison, and Mrs. Hickey and Mrs. Knox, tied. Amend Currency Act

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—Can[illegible] Currency Act, which deals [illegible] the money in your pocket, is [illegible]g to be amended in the current session of parliament for the first time in 30 years. Forecast of the amendment was contained Thursday in the speech from the throne, read at the opening of parliament's first 1950 session.

Ease Restrictions

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—Proposals to ease investment restrictions imposed on Canadian and foreign insurance companies will be brought before the current session of parliament. The speech from the throne, read Thursday, forecast amendments to several acts and a government spokesman said this would give the companies greater investment scope.

Party Cancelled

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (AP)—The Stork Club Thursday announced an engagement party for Elliot Roosevelt and Gigi Durston—but cancelled it just a few minutes later. The late President's son and the pretty cafe singer had said in the meantime that they're not ready to announce their engagement. Miss Durston indicated, however, that an announcement by her mother might be expected in the near future.

Give Free Car Insurance At British Industries Fair

LONDON, Feb. 17.—When buyers from some 63 overseas countries arrive in Britain to visit the 1950 British Industries Fair, May 8-19, they will find a warm-hearted welcome awaiting them. Already they will have received their official invitations, and this month they will get an alphabetically indexed catalogue, printed in the appropriate one of eight languages.

Visitors taking their own cars will, on arrival, be given a special gas allowance, sufficient for 1,600 miles of travel, a 90-days' tax-free permit, free insurance and a free driving license.

On arrival at the fair, either in London or Birmingham, the visitor will be given a badge admitting him at all times to all sections of the fair, free of charge.

Nice Club Rooms

Comfortable club rooms, staffed by specially selected interpreters versed in translating technicalities in 20 languages will be his to use as a business office or social rendezvous. Cable, banking and secretarial services will be available for the asking.

Two special BIF trains will run each day between London and Birmingham to carry buyers from one section of the fair to the other.

Heavy industries, with civil engineering equipment particularly prominent, will be concentrated at Birmingham, while the lighter products, ranging from toys to printing machinery, cosmetics to television and radar apparatus, will be on show in London.

In addition to the facilities which are being officially provided, many of Britain's exhibitors are planning special hospitality. Apart from social gatherings, there will be visits to industrial plants so that the prospective customer may see methods of production and working conditions.

Beechwood Forum Against Gov't Controls

CAVAN, Feb. 17—(ENS)—Ten members of Beechwood Farm Forum met at the home of George Howden on Monday.

The subject discussed was, "Is there enough land."

It was agreed that there are a number of parasites living on farms who contribute absolutely nothing to agriculture. There would be plenty of land if it were worked properly and the grain sown on it suitable for the particular type of land.

The scarcity of food in the world today, in spite of the fact that some countries have surpluses, was mentioned. The forum disapproved of government control of production but thought there should be a better marketing system, people should be helped to help themselves so that they could retain their dignity.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Finney on Monday evening February 20.

Wins Acquittal

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Feb. 17—(CP)—Vickey Desvignes Thursday was acquitted of murder after being tried three times in less than a year. He had been in custody since April, 1949, when an officer at the nearby Golden Grove prison, where Desvignes was a guard, was fatally shot.

Co-Operative Giving Banking Facilities

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—Establishment of a co-operative providing banking facilities was announced Thursday by the Co-operative Union of Ontario.

It will be called the Ontario Co-operative Credit Society and will have an authorized capital of $1,000,000, divided into 100,000 shares with a par value of $10 each.

John M. Hallinan, secretary-treasurer of the co-operative union, made the announcement. He said the only similar banking co-operative in Canada is in Saskatchewan.

TRIPLETS BORN.

CHICOUTIMI, Que., Feb. 17 (CP)—Triplets were born Thursday to Mrs. Diogene Dufour of nearby St. Honore. The triplets, all boys weighing a total of 14 pounds, were delivered in Hotel Dieu Hospital. This is the first set of triplets born in this Lake St. John region town in several years.

Want Buildings Well Inspected At St. Kitts

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 17—(CP)—The administrative problems of making proper building inspections to prevent faulty construction or creation of fire hazards in new buildings were aired at the fourth day of the inquiry being conducted into a Christmas Eve fire.

Testimony heard on Thursday concerned liaison between the fire department and the city engineer's office on approval of plans for new building.

The question of proper inspection of plans and construction arose because of the fact that much of the trouble experienced by firemen in fighting the Burroughs Furniture Store fire was due to the fact that the blaze spread rapidly into the air space above the suspended ceiling in a second storey law office and became inaccessible.

This type of ceiling construction and the use of wallboard without any plaster backing were criticized, particularly with the lack of fire stops which might have confined the blaze to small bays.

The speed with which the fire penetrated the ceiling was considered in part due to the lack of a fire resistance base material in the ceiling.

BANKS GREW

Total assets of Canadian chartered banks grew from $78,000,000 in 1867 to $7,353,248,764 in 1945.

Judge Orders Retrial In Car Accident Case

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—Retrial of an automobile accident damage suit heard at Kingston, was ordered Thursday in Ontario Court of Appeal.

Mr. Justice W. D. Roach found that the jury had judged the conduct of a driver involved not by common law but by a section of the Highway Act which did not apply.

Telesphore Janveau, who lives west of Kingston on No. 2 highway, collided with another car while backing out of his lane last year. In the resulting suit a jury under Mr. Justice J. L. Wilson found George F. Taskey, the other driver, 60 per cent to blame, ordering him to pay $390 and costs.

Janveau appealed on the grounds the jury's finding was not a proper one.

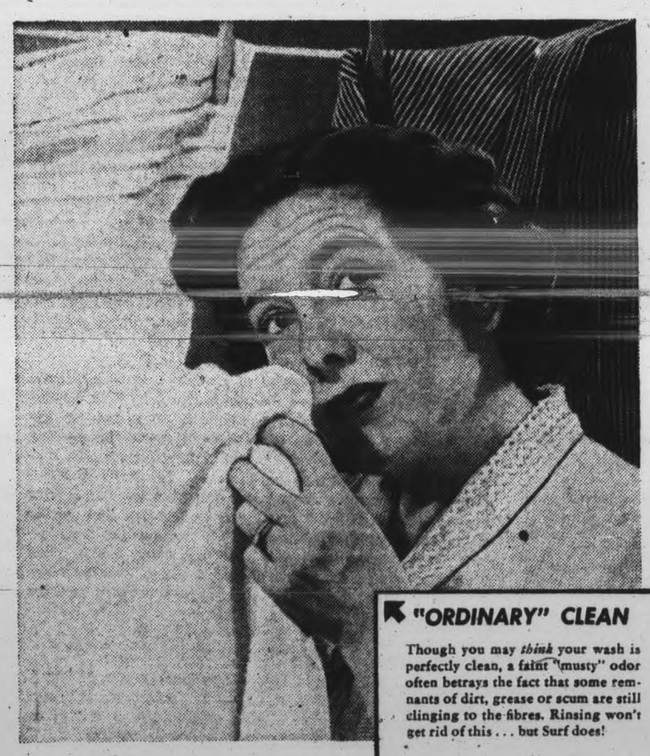
Surf gives you Sweeter Washes

...whiter, brighter to look at!
...fresh-air-sweet to smell!



"ORDINARY" CLEAN
Though you may think your wash is perfectly clean, a faint "musty" odor often betrays the fact that some remnants of dirt, grease or scum are still clinging to the fibres. Rinsing won't get rid of this . . . but Surf does!

SURF CLEAN
Even without rinsing, Surf removes every last trace of dirt, grease (and scum) . . . every trace of odor, too! That's why it gets your clothes so white, so bright . . . so soft . . . so wonderfully sweet to smell!

Surf contains an amazing detergent which removes not only every last trace of dirt and grease...but all "dirty clothes" odor, too. Gets clothes sweeter-smelling . . . cleaner than you've ever known them before.

SURF-CLEAN CLOTHES are so deep-down clean that they not only look snowy white! Rainbow bright! They smell pure and wholesome . . . sunshiny-fresh . . . blown-in-the-sun sweet! SWEET . . . with the sweetness that proves how clean they are!

And that's not all!

They smell that way even if dried indoors! And they stay that way longer . . . retain that "new-washed" sweetness even after weeks in the linen closet or bureau drawer!

And that's not all!

You don't even need to rinse your Surf-clean wash! It will still be the cleanest, sweetest smelling wash you ever had.

First, because Surf has the magic power of grabbing and holding the dirt in the washwater, so when you wring out the water you actually wring the dirt out with it. Out goes every vestige of soil and grease . . . to leave your wash really clean. At the same time, Surf's special purifying ingredient takes out every last trace of "dirty clothes" odor!

When you don't rinse your Surf-clean wash, this purifying ingredient goes on working in your clothes—to keep them sweeter longer! (If you do want to rinse, add a little Surf to the rinse-water.)

Surf suds are rich and long-lasting. In hardest water, they do 3 times the work of ordinary soaps. They're safe, too . . . Surf is all you need for everything from the grimiest overalls to your sheerest lingerie.

All the Surf your grocer now has in his store is the new "no-rinse" Surf . . . especially developed for "no-rinse" washing. Get some today . . .

If it's Surf clean, it's really clean . . . EVEN WITHOUT RINSING

Alaskan Beats Californian In Main Pro Grapple Bout

Wee Willie Davis, the Hollywood villain, found the "law of the Yukon" too grim for him here last night, as he dropped two straight falls to Yukon Eric in the main mat bout. Towering six feet seven, the 274-pound Davis was dumped unceremoniously by the squat and powerful 270-pound Alaskan, who claims Fairbanks as his home.

A big crowd applauded at the rather rapid disposal of the big fellow with the rough tricks from California.

Eric won the second fall in just 12 minutes with his specialty, a back-breaker on his shoulders—sometimes known as the "Kodiak Krush" hold. It was a hard go, with some bitter feeling, and even Eric (who plays it cleanly) was inclined to rough it up before the finish. Despite warnings from the referee, Wee Willie got in a lot of sly stuff, rasping the eyes, kneeing the Alaskan on the ropes and throwing punches. Eric shook these off and did some slugging himself to confound his big opponent with sheer strength, and the crowd loved it. Eric at all times looked quite capable of taking care of the big fellow from the West Coast and he finally picked him up and finished him off.

One-Hand Flips

The first fall went 18 minutes before Yukon slapped Davis to the mat with two sledge-hammer blows and three one-handed body slams. The big villain was "hors de combat" definitely by that time. Eric was just too strong and shed all his rough tactics quite nonchalantly. He seemed in no trouble at all, even when bothered briefly by eye rasps, hair tugs or punches. The referee had to get rough several times in pulling Davis off illegal grips but Eric took care of that by tossing Willie around like a bag of wet feathers, as the crowd applauded.

Got Semi-Final

Rough Dr. Len Hall, weighing 250 pounds, won the semi-final bout in 26 miutes over blond and popular Steve Stanlee, scaling 230, with body slams after a severe, rough softening-up go. The doc—who is really just a pharmacist in California—came back here after a long leave and proved just as villainous as ever. He strutted around and tried to claim victory on illegal stuff, but Steve also got peeved and roughed it, too, to make it a sizzling match, in and out of the ring. While Hall won the scrap finally, it wasn't a popular fall, though the fans enjoyed the hot action throughout.

Conceded Fall

Barney Bernard, going 265, took the prelim over popular Pat Flanagan, at 228, in 19 minutes with a bear-hug, as Pat had to concede the fall and Referee Bunny Dunlop intervened. Barney was big and rough from the start, throwing the book at Pat in a hot match. He stamped fingers, pulled hair and used the old hangman trick in the ropes. Speedy Flanagan came back with plenty of fight; also, even after being tossed out of the ring several times, and Pat once came under the ring to surprise his tough opponent and throw him out as the crowd cheered heartily. It was a lively tangle all through with oodles of action dished up, but the wrong grappler finally won out.

Westwood Wins

Westwood defeated Indian River 4-2 last night in an Otonabee Rural Hockey League fixture at Keene. Jim McMillian scored in the first for Westwood, Bruce Warr assisting, while Percy Elmhirst got that one back, aided by Dick Elmhirst and Walt Fife. Warr counted in the second from McMillian, and Walt Fife evened it from P and D. Elmhirst. The winners counted two in the third. Ray Cardwell and Jim McMillian scoring, as Rex Warr and B. McMillian got an assist each. Teams:

Westwood — W. Warr, J. McMillian, B. McMillian, Wilson, B. Warr, G. Cardwell, R. Cardwell, R. Warr, Neilson, Humphries, Dunlop, Eagleton, Hazlitt, Post, Whalen, A. Wilson.

Indian River — W. Fife, D Elmhirst, P. Elmhirst, B. Fife, Millar, A. Elmhirst, Hope, Stewart, Clydsdale, D. Hope, Davidson, Crabe, Evans, Steed.

Lakefield Midgets Take Round, 13-10

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 17 (ENS)—Defeating Ajax 9-6 in Brooklin last evening, the Lakefield Lions took their OMHA midget series by a 13-10 score. It was a fine fray, kept under control well by Referee Wood of Toronto, and both sides hustled hard throughout. Blake turned in a four-star net showing for the victors, and all his mates toiled hard and effectively.

Shannon got the lone Ajax goal in the first period, as the Lions salted it away. J. Sloan scored a pair this heat, D. Sloan got one. Heffernan, McCracken and Wilfor each hitting the twine once. Morrison and Ogden scored in the even second period, and the third saw Ajax battling back but not quite making it. J. Sloan and Coyle counted for Lakefield in the last heat, as Ogden got two for Ajax, and Wootton and Hart had one apiece. Teams:

Lakefield — Goal, Blake; defence, Twist and Coyle; centre, McCracken; wings, Wilford and Heffernan; alternates, Geraldi, Morrison, Calberry, Montgomery, Pue, D. Sloan, J. Sloan, Wingett.

Ajax—Goal, Burrows; defence, Wootton and Turner; centre, Collins; wings, Hill and Hart; alternates, Barnaby, Carleton, Shannon, Schmidke, Chidley, Stoneman, Ogden, Mcleish, McAllister.

Referee—J. Wood; linesman, T. Junkin.

Volleyballers Tangle

Toronto YMHA volleyballers will try to spike the chances of the local YMCA squad Saturday in the second game of the first round of the Ontario volleyball championship play. Last Saturday Toronto Central YMCA, offensively stronger than the locals but weaker on the defence, edged the "Y" team 15-10 and 16-14. The third game of the round will be played by the two Toronto teams in Toronto. The three teams will then play the second round-robin series in Toronto for the right to enter the championship final.

Al Clark, physical director of the YMCA, said Thursday he expects that Cliff Cadd, ace spiker for the club, will be in the lineup this Saturday. Cadd sprained his shoulder a wee ago. Others who are expected in action for this game are: Steve Csumrik, Howard David, Errol Hanbidge, Ken Kingston, Don McTavish, Stan Payne and Nels Stanger.

The average person walks nearly eight mils per day: letter carriers 22 miles; policemen 14 miles.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Basketball schedules are rapidly winding up in these parts with playoffs looming for the victorious ones. PCVS girls' and boys' teams hit the road this week-end, while the Girls' City League has a twin bill tonight in the YWCA, starting at 8.15. Normals tangle with Nurses Jrs. in the opener, while Nurses Srs. take on Black's in the nightcap. One more week washes out this schedule. Up at the YMCA on Saturday night, the men's City Cage Loop goes in another rousing double-header, these teams being studded with starry cagers, including members of Marines "A" squad. Yeah, group playoffs and provincial playdowns are just around the corner.

* * * * * *

General public, especially those interested in gridiron play, may attend the open meeting Tuesday eve at eight in the YMCA when the new ORFU intermediate setup will be launched. Some local business and professional men are prepared to sink do-re-mi in the deal in order to build up this grid club to what it should be. And to what it will need to be in a stiff grupoing this year with Orillia Bombers, Oshawa Raiders and Cobourg Galloping Ghosts. Probably some good imports will be added after the new club is organized. It will bear a new name and plenty of changes are promised. All play next autumn under floodlights, 'tis planned.

Petes Playing Legion

OHA senior "B" group semi-final series opens at 8.30 tonight in Civic Arena with the Petes playing Legionnaires. First of the best-of-five playoffs, winner then taking on the survivor of the Belleville-Kingston series. Losers, of course, hang up their gear for another year. So, it's really for keeps now, and some gruelling hockey games should result ere the end. Probably a packed house for this one, as fans know the bitter rivalry existing between Petes and Legion. Yes, it's a natural, and the same squads resume their playoff scrap here on Monday next, it being the Petes' home game then.

* * * * * *

Manager Ellis of the Omemee Black Hawks writes in to remind us that the Hawks open their best-of-three ORHA playdown round against Orono tonight, going back to Orono early next week. With low admission price, they hope to draw a hefty district crowd. The team has a couple of players who were with the Petes in those palmy Omemee days ere a rink was built here. Tom and Floyd Parsons, and they took four league victories to set them up for the provincial rural playdowns. The Black Hawks have a fairly lengthy history, being in action years before Tompkins, Kingdon, Heal, Blewett and Harding joined 'em in the early days of the war.

Those Minor Puckists

Secretary Wally Bent of the Peterborough Minor Hockey Association informs us that winners here in juvenile, midget and bantam "A" will be declared by the end of this week, and will go against Oshawa teams next week in provincial playdowns. Marines and Trojans battled to a 4-4 tie last p.m. and they settle their two-game series at 6.00 tomorrow eve at the arena. At 5 o'clock Optimist (who have a 9-3 lead) tangle with Trojan bantams to declare a winner. The juveniles settle matters at 5.30 tonight there with a sudden-deather betwixt Clapper's and the Oddfellows. These playoffs are for playdown teams, but do not mean PMHA titles.

Some of the hefty crowd of grapple fans at the Brock Arena last p.m. may have thought that Yukon Eric was too impetuous in flattening Wee Willie Davis in two straight falls—thereby shortening the evening's entertainment—but most of the crowd was quite happy. Many couldn't see Willie beaten soon enough in that main go. The Hollywood villain (who does extra parts in movies when he isn't touring around wrestling) is six feet seven and scales 274 or so pounds of mat villain. But he couldn't do much to the Alaskan power house, and Yukon Eric had things pretty much his own way. Doc Len Hall, as nasty as ever, won the semi-final over Steve Stanlee, while big Barney Bernard took the prelim against Pat Flanagan.

Mae West Collapses

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Feb. 17—(AP)—Mae West collapsed on the stage of the Auditorium Theatre Thursday night and could not get past the end of the second act of "Diamond Lil." A spokesman for the travelling company said the actress apparently had contracted food poisoning. The last act was presented without her.

Press Gallery Head

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—Roy Greenaway of the Toronto Daily Star Thursday was elected president of the Ontario Legislature Press Gallery. He succeeds Don O'Hearn, correspondent for the Windsor Daily Star and other Ontario dailies. Jack Pethick of the London Free Press was elected vice-president; Robert Marjoribanks of The Canadian Press, secretary-treasurer.

Playoffs Arranged In Girls' Cage Loop

Neill's lead the Girls' Basketball League with 10 wins in as many starts, while Nurses Seniors have six wins in nine games played. Black's have won four and lost five, while normals have taken six in nine. Nurses Juniors two in nine and CGE have two wins and nine losses.

The top team at schedule's end gets a bye for the senior cup finals, while teams No. 2 and 3 playoff in two games—points to count—for the right to meet the top team for the senior cup. Teams No. 4 and 5 have a semi-final two-game series to meet the winner for the intermediate cup. The loser of Nos. 2 and 3 and the winner of Nos. 4 and 5 playoff with team No. 6 for the junior cup. All final games are best-of-three, as announced by Hy. Smith.

Midget Teams Tie

Marines and Trojans tied 4-4 to open their midget hockey playoffs last evening at the arena, and they resume tomorrow at 6.30 in the goals-to-count series, after Trojans and Optimists settle their bantam round. Strickland, Corbett, Turner and Spencer scored for Marines, while Dunn, Patterson, Foster and Goodson were the Trojan marksmen in a nifty number. Teams:

Marines—Goal, Pearson; defence, McGillen, Holden; centre, McGrath; wings, Frizzelle, Strickland; alternates, Byrne, McCormick, Corbett, Turner, Spencer, Kearns, Ball.

Trojans—Goal, Evans; defence, Lockie, Faires; centre, Dunn; wings, Patterson, Foster; alternates, Lundy, Doris, Bloom, Griffin, Goodson, Jackson, Johnson, Chapman.

Queen Mary Victors

Queen Mary defeated Prince of Wales 5-2 in a fast clean School Hockey League intermediate joust at the arena. Brown and Jones went best for the winners, while Hancock, Bowen and Peel stood out for the losers. Not a penalty was drawn in this game. Lincoln scored two in the first period from Jones for Queen Mary, and Hillier got the other, Peel tallying for the losers. Hancock got their other one in the second, while Jones and Hillier hit the mark in the third. Teams:

Prince of Wales: Hollingsworth, Rye, Allen, Tripp, Chamberlain, Peel, Bowen, Northrop, Francis, Douglas, Malby, Hancock, Godfrey.

Queen Mary: Dafoe, Beck, Brown, Jones, Hillier, Lincoln, Dunn, Dobbin, Putman, Finn, Peacock, Dubay.

Spitfires Whip Stratford 5-1, Clinch 2nd Spot

By The Canadian Press.

Windsor Spitfires climaxed a long uphill fight Thursday night by blasting the lowly Stratford Kroehlers 5-1 and clinching second place in Ontario Hockey Association Junior A standings.

After fighting their way up to the second slot earlier in the season the Spitfires were abruptly knocked down to the sixth spot by an OHA ruling that nine games won by them while using ineligible players were "no contest."

The disputed games were played as extra point contests with the other junior teams involved The Spitfires fought their way back up the ladder, losing only two of the extra-pointers.

Windsor lost little time Thursday night as they rapped in four goals in the first frame and added a single in the second. The Kroehlers, resting in last place in the standings, finally clicked in the third period.

Goal Scorers

Goal scorers for the winners were Erwin Grosse, Eddie Stankiewicz, Jack Bailey, Jim Hay and Glen Skov. Doug French clicked for the losers.

Windsor will open a best of seven series on Feb. 25 with Toronto Marlboros in the first series of the playoffs. The other four clubs will battle in best of five arrangements.

Tomorrow is Saturday, and as usual, men's bonspiel 2:00 p.m. Mixed rink bonspiel 7:45 p.m Rinks to be drawn off the board.

There were no less than three extra end games on the early draw Thursday night. On ice No. 6 Jim Dutton was forced into overtime by C. Westbrook before he won.

On ice No. 5, E. Northey's rink had to go the extra end before J. Johnston would give in; and on ice No. 2, J. Walker's rink won from R. Bacon by the extra end—but in all three games, they were close, awfully close.

Two rinks from the ladies' club are taking in the bonspiel at Midland. They leave Monday afternoon. Included in the party are: Mrs. Doughty, Mrs. Steer, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Dulmage, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Welbourne, Mrs Purvis, and Mrs. Dunkerly.

Richard Stalkers Slip Up Canadiens Tie Leafs 3-3

By JOHN D. HAMILTON,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard has found a lot of chaps in the National Hockey League who believe in the Biblical adage about the friend "who sticketh closer than a brother." But they aren't friends; the sole reason for their chumminess is to prevent him from scoring goals for Montreal Canadiens.

Thursday night the Toronto Maple Leaf "Rocket Club" slipped up a little in their solicitous attendance of the rugged, 29-year-old right wing. With the greatest of glee, Maurice scampered away to score two goals and give the Canadiens a 3-3 tie with the visiting Leafs.

Thursday night's goals put him back into the league scoring leadership with 29 markers—one more than Detroit's Sid Abel. Richard also has 18 assists for a total of 47 points, fourth-best mark in the circuit.

In Same Position

The Toronto-Montreal tussle, the only NHL game scheduled, left the teams just where they had been in the standings—Toronto in second place with Montreal two points behind in third The Leafs are eight points behind the leading Red Wings.

Tonight, all six clubs are idle and on Saturday New York Rangers visit Montreal to play Canadiens while Detroit battles at Toronto.

Leafs jumped into an early lead when Bill Ezinicki outguessed Roger Leger to slip in on Montreal goalie Bill Durnan and fire in a backhand shot. In the second period, Richard counted his first goal.

Cal Gardner, with Ezinicki and Bill Juzda assisting, put the Leafs out front 2-1. In the finale, Howie Meeker stole the puck and counted.

The Canucks launched a series of power plays that culminated in a score for Leo Gravelle. It was in the last minute of play that big defenceman Kenny Reardon roared in on Toronto's Turk Broda, took the puck into a corner, then passed out to Richard. Richard put the puck away neatly

Hockey's Big Seven

By The Canadian Press.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard speedy Montreal right winger, last night sank two markers to regain his lead in the sniping field with 29 in the National Hockey League individual scoring list.

With his goals and 18 assists, Richard holds steady to fourth spot in the scoring race. Still top man is Detroit's Ted Lindsay with 58, three ahead of Detroit captain Sid Abel who is a close competitor for the sniping lead. Abel has 28 markers to his credit and 27 assists for 55 points.

Completing a three-man Detroit line at the top of the list is Gordie Howe who has 50 points.

Paul Ronty of Boston and Chicago's Doug Bentley are tied in fifth position with 45 apiece, while one point behind is Metro Prystai of Chicago.

Executive Gives Schedule For Junior OHA

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—The six contenders for the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A championship will compete in five series to decide the winner of the John Ross Robertson Trophy, emlematic of OHA junior supremacy.

At a meeting of the league executive Thursday night, a tentative schedule was presented to representatives of the six clubs. Clubs represented were, in order of their standing: Toronto Marlboros, Windsor Spitfires, St Catharines Teepees, Guelph Biltmores, Barrie Flyers and Toronto St. Michael's College Majors.

Marlboros and Windsor will open the post-season schedule Feb. 25 in a best-ofseven series While Windsor and Marlboros are battling, St. Catharines and Guelph will play a best-of-five series, the winner to meet the survivor of a like series between Barrie and St. Michael's.

The tentative schedule had the two minor series list as best-of-three arrangements but on agreement of the clubs concerned they were changed to the longer series. The survivors of the fourth round meets either Windsor or Marlboros for the championship.

Discussion of referees also came up and it was decided a board of 10 would be chosen to handle the playoff games with four held in reserve in case of emergency.

In case of ice being booked by outside groups of playoff dates the executive and representatives of teams involved will meet to decide on another site.

ORHA Announces Playoff Draws

WELLAND, Feb. 17 (CP) — Secretary Horace Ovenden of the Ontario Rural Hockey Association today announced the first round play-off draw for the ORHA as follows:

Intermediate A Series:—Bolton and Nobleton League vs. Tri-County League; South Oxford League vs. Oxford Waterloo League; Tri-County League vs. Haliburton Victoria League; 3 out of 5, winner by March 8.

Intermediate B Series: — Erie League vs. North Wentworth League; Central Oxford League vs. South Oxford League; Hillsburg League vs. Boulton and Nobleton League; Lakeshore League vs. Pickering Township League; South Simcoe League vs Tri-County League; North Oxford League vs. Oxford Waterloo League; North Brant League vs. South Waterloo League; games to be arranged, winner by March 8

League winners must be declared not later than Feb. 22

Golfers Train At 'Y'

Golf muscles, soft from the long layoff, are being hardened early this year as a number of golfers are seen daily on the driving range in the YMCA. Open throughout the day the old handball court which is being used to house the range is 35 feet long, room enough for practising. A canvas pad has been placed at one end of the room to take the full force of the balls.

Al Clark said Thursday that there is a supply of old golf balls at the YMCA but the golfers must bring their clubs. Last year the range was restored after a number of years of non-use. It was used extensively. Lex Robson, professional at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club, was an instructor on the range prior to World War No. 2, when the range was first erected.

The SLATE-COLORED JUNCO is perhaps our commonest winter bird. Small and grayish-black, about the size of a sparrow, he's known by his flashing white outer tail feathers. You'll find him by the sides of snowy fields. He's a cheery visitor and should be protected.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

There will be no addition to baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., this year.

Members of the Baseball Writers' Association, casting their annual ballot for diamond immortals they deem worthy of admission to the shrine, failed to give any player the necessary number of votes—126.

Of the 125 stars of other years who figured in the balloting, Mel Ott, great home-run hitter of New York Giants, came closest to gaining admission with 115. Bill Terry, Ott's long-time team-mate on the Giants, ran second with 105.

The Billy McTavish rink from Winnipeg Elmwood Thursday night won the Manitoba curling championship by defeating Gord Taylor of Rivers, Man., 12-6 in a sudden death final.

The victory, at Winnipeg, which ended a straight knockout series, gives McTavish the right to represent Manitoba in the Dominion curling finals in Vancouver next month.

He also won the triple crown in Manitoba's 62nd annual bonspiel.

Handsome Joe Maxim rode happily down Cleveland's main stem in a snow-pelted open convertible Thursday as thousands cheered the second world boxing champion in that city's history.

Joey had come home from London, where he won the light-heavyweight title from Freddie Mills. No sooner was he off the train than he was hustled to a ceremony where acting mayor Lee Howley expressed the town's thanks.

Baltimore Orioles Thursday announced their first five signed baseball contracts for the 1950 International League season

Agreeing to terms were outfielders Anse Moorse and Butch Woyt, infielders Bobby Young and Yogi Chihocki and pitcher Lum Harris.

New York Rangers of the National Hockey League Thursday night defeated Quebec Citadels of the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association 7-4 in an exhibition game before nearly 3,000 fans at Quebec.

The battle of the peanuts ended Thursday night, when president Paul Fagan of the San Francisco Baseball Club surrendered completely and apologetically to public opinion.

Fagan's ban Wednesday against the sale of Goobers in Seals Stadium caused a backwash of tidal proportions.

Newspaper sports sections all along the Pacific Coast League front pointed editorial fingers at Fagan for this affront to any ally that has marched hand in hand with the diamond pastime for generations. Radio newscasts sounded the depressing state of local affairs.

Fans discussed this unprecedented action on the streets, in business establishments and elsewhere. The demand for justice for the peanut became a universal clamor.

Fagan, who had thrown an old stand-by out of cozy quarters because he claimed it cost $20,000 to clean up the litter caused by empty shells, beat a hasty retreat before the barrage of indignation.

He threw up his hands and shouted "aw nuts."

"I had no idea this thing would cause such a furore," he said. "I have read all the newspapers and listened to the newscasts and commentators. Now I know I made a mistake.

"Why, I never dreamed this would prove a story of nationwide interest. And I never thought I would be kayoed by a peanut. I have found out the public wants peanuts. The public shall have peanuts."

THE THREE MARLETS, garbed in traditional red and white, and depicting academic and sports figures, won the McGill Carnival snow sculpture contest for members of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity at McGill University. The Delta Upsilon, and the Kappa Alpha Theta fraternities also of McGill, were runners-up in the contest.

Hastings Gets Series Over Orono By 7 to 6

HASTINGS, Feb. 17 (ENS) — Hastings midgets defeated Orono 2-0 tonight on Hastings ice, in the second game of the series to take the round 7-6 and earn the right to advance in their quest to retain the A. P. McEvoy Memorial Trophy.

Orono came here leading the series 6-5, and for 2½ periods it looked as though they would retain the lead, as the heavy ice helped in their defensive play. But in the third period, and when Hastings was awarded a penalty shot, Morrow picked a corner to tie the round. Then with four minutes to go Bethune scored the winning goal, assisted by Morrow and Condon.

Montgomery, Morrow and Bethune starred for Hastings while Armstrong, Cramer and K. West stood out for Orono.

Hastings—Goal, D. Montgomery; defence, B. Chambers, B Orr; centre, J. Morrow; wings, W. Dodd, K. Forde, alternates G. Eath, D. Bethune, J. Warrington K. Vaughan, W. Fisher, D. Condon, B. Wilson, D. Fisher.

Orono—Goal, B. Goode; defence, C. Armstrong, J. Cramer; centre, K. West; wings, B. Hall, P. Gilmer; alternates, H. Boyd R. Brown, R. West, D. Phasey, D. Foster, R. Spencer.

Bears Tip Applecart Trounce Indians 7-2

By The Canadian Press.

Hershey Bears — with little chance of breaking into a playoff berth themselves—are certainly making it tough for other teams in the American Hockey League.

The eastern-division last place Bears handed Springfield Indians a 7-2 drubbing last night and thus prevented the Indians from gaining ground in the tight playoff scramble.

It was the second victory in as many nights for Hershey over Springfield. Wednesday, they won out 5-4.

The loss was doubly costly for the Indians as they lost three players through injuries. Keith Allen suffered a broken nose, Ralph Hosking suffered an injured knee and Vernon Kaiser was cut below the right eye.

Report Battle In Full Swing On Grain Rates

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP) -The battle over Western Canada's "Crow's Nest Pass", grain rates was in full swing today before the Royal Commission on Transportation.

The first of a series of Western defenders of the rates was engaged in trying to break down the Canadian Pacific Railway's claim that the low statute-set tolls should be lumped with other rates under the Board of Transport Commissioners.

The antagonists at this stage OK the scrap were M. A. MacPherson, Saskatchewan government counsel, and C. E. Jefferson, traffic vice-president of the CPR and the company's chief witness on behalf of repeal of the Crow's Nest statute.

First indication of what repeal of the 1925 legislation would mean to the West came Thursday when Mr. Jefferson told the prairie lawyer on cross-examination that the CPR considered some of the rates should be more than doubled.

Not Unreasonable

He said he would not think it unreasonable to boost the Crow's Nest rate on grain from Regina to the head of the lakes from the present 20 cents to around 42 cents per 100 pounds. And he said a "reasonable" rate might be even higher.

The special rates on grain, under which most of the West's grain traffic moves, were negotiated originally by the CPR with the federal government in 1897 in return for help in building a line over the Crow's Nest Pass in the Rockies. They were embodied into a 1925 Dominion statute, which also extended them to other railway companies.

The claim of the CPR is that the rates now are out of line with grain prices and railway operating costs.

Bill Uses Glass Eye To Play Marble Game

LONDON, Feb. 17 (AP)—Britain's National Health Service ruled Thursday that a kid named Bill must stop putting his big brown eyes into a game of marbles. They get broken.

Said the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children: "Eleven-year-old Bill, who lost an eye in an accident some years ago, turned up at school recently minus his glass optic.

"Questioned by an NSPCC inspector, young Bill confessed that he had used his glass eye, plus his emergency spare, to play marbles with his school friends. While doing so he broke both of them.

"The National Health Service is providing him with another glass eye. It has made a proviso that he keeps it in its appointed place and does not roll it around the playground."

New YMCA Building Damaged By Flames

HORNEPAYNE, Feb. 17 (CP) —Fire of undetermined origin caused $35,000 damage to the new YMCA here Tuesday. The building was just nearing completion and had been scheduled to open within the next two weeks.

The fire broke out on the second floor and burned out almost the entire interior before the volunteer fire brigade was able to bring the flames under control. Only the walls remain standing today.

Firemen were hampeed by a high wind. Despite the cold, the water pressure was high and assisted materially in saving much of the building.

Board of Health Requires $38,245 From City Council

The Peterborough Board of Health estimates it will require $38,245 in 1950 and city council will be asked to provide this sum. The figure represents a cost to the community of $1.07 for every Peterborough resident and is an increase of $2.245 over the estimates for 1949.

Bulk of the increase is due to an extension of the Well Baby Clinic service, the fourth having been opened in November and a fifth is proposed. Towards the end of 1949 Dr. Mildred Green was engaged to relieve Dr R A Kelly, Medical Officer of Health in the baby clinics. She takes two clinics a week.

Salaries of medical officer, stenographer, public health nurses, clerical and clinical assistance, temporary office help and temporary M.O.H. totals $22,418.84; office supplies and postage, $550; light and water heater, $60; telephone, $225; insurance malpractice, $150; office furnishings and incidentals $700; dental services, separate schools, $200; conveniences and courses, $200; V. D. accounts, $300; cost of clinics including rentals etc, $2,995.

Receipts are estimated as $1,600 from the Separate School Board for nursing service, $225 for service at St. Anne's school $200 for dental service to the Separate School Board, $225 from the Province as V. D. as refund.

Estimated expenditure by the food and sanitation division is listed as follows: Salaries, $8075; transportation, and auto maintenance, $1,100; rental of refuse grounds, $180; incidentals and supplies, $200; pest control, $125; educational material $75; fogging, $500; courses and conventions, $150.

Federation of Agriculture Receives Swift Hearing By Canadian Government — Newmarket Farmers Find British Goods Scant On Ontario Store Shelves — Two Farmers Increase Frontenac Forums From One To Eight.

The fact that members of the Federal Cabinet received the recommendations of the recent convention of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture within a week after its sessions at Niagara Falls was mentioned only in passing by Mr. R. A. Stewart in his talk to the Peterborough Federation here Tuesday.

"The government showed prompt action in meeting us," was the simple reference by Mr. Stewart to that hearing of the brief prepared by the representatives of the farmers of Canada. Probably it was arranged on short notice for the timely advantage of conference prior to the opening of Parliament. Presumably, too, the day is passed when a vice-president and former president of the Ontario Federation should feel or express anything more than ordinary satisfaction that organized agriculture has obtained accommodating access to the Federal Government.

One of the early objectives of the Federation was to attain just such recognition as that meeting in Ottawa last week signified. It was a gradual accomplishment developing with the stature of the central organization of the farmers of Canada, and its actuality no longer causes surprise.

The executive of the Federation has combined a sense of responsibility on behalf of their legion of members with the recognition they now receive in high places. They have sought the one, and been mindful of the other. By moderation in their requests as they are fashioned in convention and other sessions and by holding to the reasonable proposals for presentation they have arrived at status in the nation which they sought from the outset of their organization.

The Federation has acquired a reputation that has taken years to build up, and it can be further strengthened as that reality becomes more generally understood and appreciated by those farmers who are content to remain on the fringe of indifference instead of sharing the centre of activity.

County groups realize that there is still a membership job to be done. And, membership is firmly the basis of the other interests which local and provincial effort has been promoting.

In some sections of Ontario, organization reaches down further to township units. Obviously that extension is to gather into the fold those who "just have not been bothering."

Broader District Scope

When, as in this area, the Federation turns its hand to various enterprises for the benefit of farmers and their families—medical and hospital service, the Forum, Folk School, Grassland Days, co-operative affairs, and so on, county boundaries appear to be illogically confining and limiting.

The interests of Cavan and Asphodel farmers are virtually identical with those of Emily and Hope. But, if Peterborough Federation wishes to engage a fieldman for promotional work, the cost falls upon a comparatively small area, whereas his work could be extended beyond boundaries, thereby permitting full-time employment.

The automobile invites and facilitates the farther ranging, and in some respects of enterprise it has overridden local custom and loyalties. One of the first meetings of protest in Western Ontario last month against the plight of the poultry industry brought together nearly 1,200 farmers from three neighboring counties.

On the other hand, the extension of interest in some affairs to zone proportions hereabouts has not produced the continuing support and integration that might be expected. People are inclined to hive together in neighborhood affinities, thereby missing the stimulus of broader association.

In the municipal field no one is surprised that the township of Blackstock is incorporated with the townhip of Seymour and Brighton in the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham. But, let someone suggest that the townships of North Monaghan and Otonabee and Asphodel dying between those extremes of United Counties territory sholud be included in the same corporation, and the local sentiment of Peterborough would rise up against the idea.

And so the municipal anomaly will remain in effect because the county barriers were erected a century ago. The Department of Highways, however, can set up an office in Port Hope to supervise its roads in four or five counties.

Boundaries are of little concern to the Department in its practical work of road building and maintenance, but in most community affairs, and likewise municipal, the counties of that area remain singly apart. They are to a large extent affected by the conditional reflex to the county borders.

FORUM SUBJECT

The forum subject for Monday, Feb. 20, is: "Conservation is everyone's business." This subject has received increasing attention in the last few years, and it still is a basic concern.

PATRONS GET $208,013.28

Total receipts of the Tavistock Cheese and Butter Co., Ltd., last year were $234,687.74, and expenditures $231,926.42. Production figures were 323,033 lbs. of butter, valued at $191,465.28; and 118,409 lbs. of cheese yielding $35,800.28. For milk, cream and share benefits the patrons received $208,013.05.

LUCKNOW CO-OPERATIVE

Annual meeting of Lucknow Co-Operative reported gross earnings of $133,300 from its mixing plant, farm supplies department and grocery store last year. Increase over 1948 was $54,000.

✦ ✦ ✦

HAS 34 FORUMS

Middlesex county has 34 farm forums with a total membership of 1,100. Their 34th forum group was organized a week ago.

✦ ✦ ✦

SOWING FORUM SEED

Eight farm forums were recently organized in Frontenac where there was only one up to that time. Many sections of the eastern townships have been slow to resolve their communities in forum activity.

Hugh Wilson, chairman of Ontario Farm Forum Zone 5, living near Kingston, and Clarence Dorman, who lives in Leeds, took on the job of kindling Frontenac interest in the forum and its weekly broadcasts. They travelled into prospective communities and talked to farmers in their homes. They persuaded some person in each community to invite his neighbors to the Monday night forum meeting. The result was the organizing of eight forum groups where other methods failed.

One of their arguments was that intelligent discussion and understanding are essential to the concrete results many farmers seek. Wilson and Dorman said it was only after every farmer becomes acquainted with the problems facing agriculture that constructive action can be taken.

✦ ✦ ✦

ENGLISH FARMERS' UNION

The National Farmers' Union of England and Wales has a membership of 2,000,300, or 94 per cent of all the farmers of the country.

A letter reporting their recent annual meeting said it was similar to such agrarian conventions in Canada.

"Their strength does not lie in greater ability of leaders — our Federation leaders are as good—but in the sincere support their leaders receive from the members. The NFU revenue last year amounted to £200,000. Compare that sum with the financing of the Canadian Federation; also the average donation of 35 cents per Ontario farm with the yearly membership fee of £2 in England.

The English farmer realizes the importance of concentrating their strength in their administrative headquarters. All resolutions and problems are sent through the county offices to the head office. Only the national committee have the right to approach government.

Marking practice here is similar to that of Ontario—the formation of marketing boards for the different agricultural commodities. The English board is similar to the usual Ontario board operating under the Agricultural Products Marketing Act.

For example the milk marketing board is formed by a majority vote of the producers. When passed it requires all milk producers to register and market through the board which is authorized to buy the product, adapt it for sale, transport or store as required, to help the farmer with production, to determine grades, quality which may be sold and in some instances the quantity of product which may be grown or produced by the individual producer.

In return for his acceptance of control, the producer finds himself a member of a large business on a national scale and to compete for prices with commercial firms he had formerly feared. This is a little freedom for a great deal of security.

The Union farmer believes that in order to give agriculture a fair chance, some form of price support and guaranteed prices are necessary. In the past and recently, too, evidence is such that a small surplus can cause a violent dip in prices of farm products.

For various reasons and experience the British farmer is demanding assured markets over a period and guaranteed prices at least one year in advance. His position is somewhat different from ours in Ontario. He has not been faced to the same extent as we have been with the spectre of surpluses. With us a long term plan is needed, not a temporary expedient. Is the British plan the correct one?

✦ ✦ ✦

DOLLARS FOR BRITAIN

Farmers have been hearing much about buying British goods to provide the Old Country with dollar credit for the purchase of Canadian farm products.

R. J. Rogers, of Newmarket, in his talk to Peterborough hog producers Thursday, said he had reached the conclusion that something should be done about it.

"We were told during the war we should be prepared to buy more British goods. A few imported cars don't begin to balance the trade we would like to maintain with Britain. We have got to buy more from them if we expect them to buy our bacon. With that in mind and just as one humble Canadian farm producer I went into one of the larger stores in Newmarket and asked them if they had any British goods on their shelves. They had nothing more than a few dishes. I went into another place, and they were in the same boat.

I took one of my boys to Toronto to buy him a suit of clothes. In a department store I said I wanted Donegal twist, Scotch tweed or English worsted. They told me they did not have any of that cloth, but they had a lot of sharkskin and tropical worsteds. That was my exeprience in trying to do something about this trade problem. If the British goods are not here, we can't purchase them. I think it is time something should be done about it."

What Mr. Rogers suggested was that Canadian farmers could help materially in building up dollar credits overseas by enquiring for British goods as a means of helping the Old Country through their exchange crisis. In the meantime, there was a selling job the British themselves, should look to.

Potato Dump At Caribou, Maine

Untold thousands of bushels of potatoes are being smuggled across lonely stretches of the Maine border. By avoiding the duty and taking advantage of the high support price in this country, illegal operators are making from 30 to 45 cents a bushel.

If this traffic isn't controlled, Agriculture officials admit it might mean that the net cost of the spud surplus will be higher than the $100 million top estimate made by Secretary Charles F. Brannan.

In some cases, it is said, U.S. farmers are buying Canadian potatoes, sneaking them over the border past customs officials, and selling them to the government at the support price. This operation nets about 45 cents a bushel.

Under the law, Canadian potato growers are allowed to ship into the U.S. 4,000,000 bushels at half the normal duty, which is 75 cents per hundred pounds. This quota was quickly filled this year. But even at the full 75-cent duty Canadian potatoes have been underselling American potatoes by from 13 to 15 cents a bushel.

Last year total Canadian potato sales in America amounted to about 10,000,000 bushels. This year it is expected to be close to that figure, adding that much more to the estimated 70,000,000 bushel U.S. surplus.

SPORTSMANSHIP IN "CANADA UNLIMITED"

Curling's first!

It was a big day for Canadian curling when East and West first met!

From Quebec City to Kincardine, Canada's pioneer curlers had gathered on the ice of Burlington Bay. It was a crisp February day in 1858 and the brothers of the broom were meeting for the country's first East-West Bonspiel.

Thirty-two rinks—or teams—shouted their encouragement round the tees. Many easterners used heavy iron "stones", the westerners had granites. Bonneted figures brushed the ice with new vigour as the scores grew closer. But when the last stone skidded to a stop, the westerners sent up a cheer. They had won by 14 points.

Today the East-West Bonspiel is one of our major sporting events. With its keen competition and team spirit it's an example of good sportsmanship. And together team spirit and sportsmanship keep our opportunities for work and play in Canada ... unlimited.

This year's East-West Bonspiel will be held at Vancouver, March 6th to 9th. The West are the present champions.

U.S. Navy Trying To Knock Salt Out of Vocabulary

By GEORGE KITCHEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17—(CP)—The United States Navy is trying to knock some of the salt out of its vocabulary. It is against the use of such terms as "brass hats," "trade-school boys," "gyrene," "sea-going bellhop," "airedale" and 'mustang.' 'Reason: they aren't good for service unification. Word that the Navy is launching an offensive against slang within its ranks came from its public relations news letter, which informs "flag and other ranking officers" of current policies.

Brass hats have been called brass hats within the memory of the oldest sailors and their grandfathers. It began because of the gold braid decorating their hats.

Marine Adjectives

U. S. Marines have been called gyrenes and sea-going bellhops by navy men, sometimes with the term preceded by a choice adjective or two.

Trade-school boys was tagged on graduates of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md., during the Second World War, when most Navy men were reservists.

Airedales are Navy aviators while mustang is a long-standing term for an officer who rose from the ranks.

But these terms, the Navy has decided, make for disunity.

"Unification, like charity, begins at home," said its news letter "There has been much talk of late about unification of the armed forces, but not enough has been done inside the Navy about unifying our own service. The Navy, the only service represented on land, on the sea, and in the air, must realize the necessity for carrying on an unification program internally."

Slashes At Disunity

The letter slashes at disunity on another front, too:

"There should be no discrimination between reserves and regulars. The reserves are an integral part of the Navy and no distinction should be made between U.S Naval and U.S. Naval Reserve personnel."

The list of undesirable terms is preceded by a brisk:

"All of us in the Navy must avoid using such terms as. . ."

Another forbiden terms is "black-shoe Navy." This refers to the non-aviation Navy as distinguished from "brown-shoe-wearing airedales". . .er, aviators.

Find Tall Girls Becoming Stylish Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 17 (AP)—Tall girls are becoming stylish, much to the delight of Charlotte greenwood, who has penned a book titled "Never Too Tall."

Towering Carol Channing is the toast of Broadway. Ava Gardner is a new standard for beauty in Hollywood. And the fashion magazines seem to dote on long-stemmed models. These developments must please Miss Greenwood, who has long grappled with the disadvantage of being tall and female.

"When I was born, a long girl-baby was extraordinary," she recalled. "I recently read a survey that said the average girl between 18 and 28 years is from five-feet-four to five-feet-seven. In 1900, the same age group was between five-feet and five-feet-two.

"I've seen predictions that by the year 2000, six feet will be a common height among women."

Freedom For Women

Miss Greenwood attributes the rise to increased freedom for women. "They work at jobs that were once considered only for men," she explained. "They've thrown away the boned corset and the overstuffed fashions of yesteryear. They've learned about proper eating and exercise.

"They no longer hide demurely in the background. Nature gets a chance to take its course, and edded height is one of nature's endowments."

Miss Greenwood admitted she once wished she had been shorter.

"When I was 12, I was five feet 10 and awkward as I could be. I suffered every time people laughed, because I was sure they were laughing at me.

"Then I learned making people laugh was a lucrative business. I capitalized on the gawky movements of my long legs and made a success on the stage. That cured my sensitivity. I haven't been sensitive about my height for 45 years."

Capsule Review

"Chain lightning" (W. B.) is the first feature on jet airplanes. It is engrossing when the focus is on flying, but the plot never gets off the ground. The story is an unconvincing maze and the characters are never quite sure where they're going. Humphrey Bogart and Eleanor Parker play the leads. The jet scenes are fascinating trickery.

Sign New Contract

CALGARY, Feb. 17 — (CP) — A new contract was signed Wednesday, affecting 3,500 miners in Southern Alberta domestic coal fields, by representatives of District 18, United Mine Workers of America (CCL) and the Domestic Coal Operators' Association of Western Canada. No changes were made in the average basic wage and hours of work. Wages at present range from $9.79 to $10.74 a day for a five-day week.

Heavy Storms Reduce Cattle Receipts

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP)— Cattle receipts were reduced by heavy storms causing transportation difficulties and prices gained $1 or more a hundredweight on a light run, the Dominion Marketing Service reported today in its weekly livestock review.

Calves were steady while hogs gained 25 cents a hundredweight. Sheep and lambs were strong to 75 cents higher.

The cattle run totalled 5,351 head. Medium to good weighty steers sold at $22-$25 with a few choice up to $27. Good light steers were $21.50-$22.50 with choice at $23. Good heifers were mostly $21-$22. Medium to good cows sold at $16-$17.50. Canners and cutters were mostly $12-$14.50. Good export bulls brought $19-$19.50. Fed yearlings were $21-$25. A few medium to good stockers sold at $17-$19.50.

Export demand was poor with only 12 loads shipped.

Calves were only 1,045 head. Prices were firm at $29-$31 for choice vealers with a dozen tops at $32. Common to medium vealers ranged from $18-$27.

Hogs totalled only 2,316 head. Grade-A sold generally at $27.50 with sows at $16 dressed.

Sheep and lambs totalled 367 head. One car of good Western lambs sold at $26.50-$26.75, with good Western sheep up to $14. Good local lambs were $26-$27. Common to medium local sheep sold at $6-$11 a hundredweight.

Utilities Cuts Water Rate To City $2,000

In another round of their all-out fight to keep the city tax rate down to 50 mills, the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council Thursday afternoon managed to get the Utilities Commission water bill down to $33,000.

This agreement was reached when a delegation of the City Council waited on the Utilities Commission. Led by Alderman Douglas Miller, chairman of the committee, and Mayor M. J. Swanston, the delegation persuaded the Commission to lop $2,000 off the original estimate of $35,000.

The Commission turned thumbs down on a proposal by Alderman Miller that the $35,000 be levied on the water bills of the consumers. He estimated that the extra cost would be about $3 per consumer.

$30,000 Suggested

As a compromise Alderman Miller then suggested that the $35,000 be pared down to $30 000, the same as 1949. But this met with the firm refusal by the Commission.

Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Utilities, said the Commission members had worked hard to reduce their estimates to a minimum, and pointed out that the actual cost ran well over $54,000. The balance was absorbed by a levy on the water rates of the consumers.

It was Mr. Matthews who made the counter estimate of $33,000.

Alderman John A. Dewart tentatively accepted the $2,000 reduction, but suggested that if similar parings on other civic estimates failed to bring civic taxation to the 50-mill rate, the city might be back again.

Objective is 50 Mills

Mayor Swanston re-emphasized that the No. 1 objective of the Council was to keep rates at not more than 50 mille. He thanked the Commissioners for their co-operation and stated that if other money spenders were equally considerate the rate probably would not be exceeded.

The meeting with the delegation ended on that note of tentative agreement.

Although owned by the property owners through the agency of the Council, actual management of the waterworks system is in the hands of the Utilities Commission. It plans extensions, lays the mains, connections and hydrants, and finances the work by collecting from the water consumers.

Rising operating costs is given by the Commission as reason for the boost. Water services have to be extended and pressure in mains must be maintained for the sake of fire protection.

Was Gun Fired At Mrs. Weir Crown Attorney Asks

Joseph Byrnes, 26, won't know until Monday whether Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, will commit him for trial on the charge of the murder of Mrs. Helen Kendry, 26, who was shot at the end of a beer drinking party about three a.m. Sunday, Feb. 5.

After hearing the arguments of Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw and defence counsel T. J. Carley, KC, Magistrate Philp announced he would reserve judgment until Monday.

Directs To Two Clauses

Crown Attorney Bradshaw in his address said the shooting of Mrs. Kendry could come within the jurisdiction of two clauses (c) and (d) of the murder section of the Criminal Code.

"Culpable homicide is murder," reads clause (c) "if the offender means to cause death, or, being so reckless as aforesaid, means to cause such bodily injury as aforesaid to one person, and by accident or mistake, kills another person, though he does not mean to hurt the person killed;

By clause (d) murder has also been committed "if the offender, for any unlawful object, does an act which he knows or ought to have known to be likely to cause death, and thereby kills any person, though he may have desired that his object should be effected without hurting any one."

In simpler language clause (c) says if one persons shoots at another person, but missing that person, hits and kills a third person, the shooter has committed murder.

Applying this principle to the Kendry shooting, the question was, argued Mr. Bradshaw, whether or not Byrnes fired at Mrs. Weir. Only a jury can decide that, he concluded.

He pointed out that the bullet hole in the door and wall was in the exact spot in the bedroom where Mrs. Weir was said to have been standing before she fell to the floor. He added that there was evidence Byrnes was angry, that he had shouted "Get her out of here!" And when Spencer went to the bedroom door, the woman in the room with Byrnes was Mrs. Weir.

BACK TO NORMAL

A minor crack in the brine pump at the Civic Arena forced the cancellation of skating and hockey schedules Thursday. Luckily the break was discovered in the last period of the IOOF-Orono hockey game Wednesday night before too much brine escaped. Workmen from the Canadian Ice Machine Company repaired the pump Thursday. Everything was back to normal today.

ONLY THING TO DO

One of the occasional little social tragedies which by their nature are not for publication was recorded in the correspondence before the council recently.

It was a transcript of the evidence in the case of a young mother giving up her child for permanent care as a ward of the Children's Aid Society.

She was married to a man who had a child of his own, and who had told her that he did not want her around.

The decisive question of the court was: "You are prepared to give up the child?"

"I am afraid that is the only thing I can do."—H.T.

Ask Municipal Board To Approve Debenture

A deputation from the council and Industrial Commission is in Toronto today asking permission of the Ontario Municipal Board to issue debentures for $22,000 in an extension of the authority granted by the ratepayers by their vote in 1945.

The Commission has proposed to the council purchase of 150 acres south of Lansdowne St. and west of Erskine Ave. for industrial sites. With 20 acres bought two years ago, the total area in that section, owned by the city, would be increased to 170 acres.

As reported some weeks ago the parcels on which options have been obtained till March 1, are, Ernest Adamson $15,000; Arthur Stinson $5,000; James Anderson $15,000; Pietro Fisico $10,000; and Roseana Minicola $12,000.

Weather, Wedlock, Wagger Take Stage With Gay Force

By T. J. ALLEN

A mixed theatrical fare was offered the P.C.V.S. audience Thursday evening in the Peterborough Little Theatre's annual public presentation: the pre-Shakespearean John Heywood's 'Wether', Robertson Davies' The Voice of the People and the Irish dramatist J. M. Synge's The Tinker's Wedding. A mixed group in time and theme, yet related. None has a plot of any account. The Play of the Weather is poetic and witty; Mr. Davies' play is witty and homely; Synge's is homely and poetic. The most popular by far with the audience was the Davies' Voice of the People. If a Peterborough audience can ever be said to laugh with its belly, it did over this local (local to every smaller Canadian city which has its newspaper) domestic interlude with its shafts of wit, earthy colloquialisms, and sly preaching.

This play—the second on the bill, the first in the interest of any local audience — will take Peterborough by the ears. In more rugged times it ought to cause shootings on George St., or at the Examiner office. It is about an electrician (Arnold Olmstead) tinkering with an electric stove, a teen-ager (Jean Leach) who chews gum and chaws with her parents, a little man with bumptious talk and ideas (Albert Hill) and his wife who is late with the meal (Musa Cox). The little guy decides to write a Letter To The Editor, and since the author knows whereof he talks, this theme sparkles and stings. Mr. Hill, in the part of Shorty, has undergone a transformation from his earlier Little Theatre characterizations, and does not seem to be sure of the pitch in the new role. He pitches it rather low and slow. Miss Cox was hilariously convincing in her subjection and sloppiness as wife of the big little fellow. It was the first Peterborough presentation of this play written for the Peterborough Little Theare, although it has been played elsewhere.

The play was direected by Fern Rahmel. The set was the work of Gertrude Cox and Percy Windrim. The first spontaneous guffaw to greet the play came when the curtain disclosed a static pair, with Missis poised to open a painted refrigerator. It is an amusing set.

Rev. E. W. Young Plans To Retire

Rev. Dr. E. W. Young, minister of Wellington St. United Church, Brantford and formerly of St. Andrew's Peterborough, will retire June 30 from active work.

His application to be placed on the list of retired ministers was accepted Wednesday at a meeting in Galt, of Brantford Presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

Now in his fifth year at Wellington Street United Church, Mr Young conducted his early ministry in Ireland, where he was born. During those early years he was a minister of churches at Belfast, Dublin and Cork.

In 1928 he came to Canada and took up the ministry of Dundas Central Church, London, Ontario, where he served for nine years. Eight years at St. Andrew's Church, Peterborough, followed, and he came to Brantford in 1945.

ESTIMATES UP $46,622

The Kitchener-Waterloo Board of Education has approved its Collegiate or Secondary school budget for an expenditure of $410,791, being an increase of $48,622 over that of last year.

Fell From Snow Plow Employee Hurts Back

A fall from a snow plow Thursday resulted in an injured back for a Department of Highways employee, Henry Garrett, 45 R.R. 4, Laefield. He was taken to Civic Hospital here, but officials said it is not believed Garrett's back is fractured.

Gerald Pullyblank, 35, of 88 Lansdowne St., also injured his back while lifting coils of wire at the Raybestos plant Thursday. Civic Hospital officials do not believe his back is fractured.

Labor Relations Board Re-Opens Hearing Into Application of IUE

A precedent was set today by the Ontario Labor Relations Board when it re-opened its hearing into the application of the IUE (CIO-CCL) to supplant the UE as the bargaining agent for the 3047 productio workers at the Peterborough CGE works. The original hearing was on January 4 in Toronto when the IUE filed 1628 cards which they claimed represented the majority of the CGE workers. In a counter move the UE produced 1312 cards purporting to be signed by workers who had either never signed an IUE membership card or had never paid the dollar initiation fee.

According to the Ontario labor laws the applicant must not only have a majority of the eligible workers signed but the initiation fee must be paid at the time of the application.

Claim Overlapping

The Board decided on the two-day hearing, which began early today at the Empress Hotel, when the UE claimed there was an overlapping in signatures and probable fraud. On January 18 the Board sent examiners to the plant to investigate some of these claims and the result was the continuation of the hearing.

Three principal witnesses appeared before the five-man Board under the chairmanship of P. M. Draper.

All stated that on January 4 when the IUE handed in their three cards among the 1,628 they had not paid a dollar as required, though they had signed for membership. Investigation probed into the reasons why their cards were filed by the right wing union.

Four other principal witnesses have been subpoenaed by the Board for this alleged discrepancy.

Opposing counsels early got into a wrangle but the trouble was smoothed over by Chairman Draper.

C. L. Dubin, appearing for the UE which is opposing the IUE's application for certification, held that where there was any evidence of fraud revealed the whole application would be tainted with fraud and the application should be thrown out.

E. B. Jolliffe, counsel for the IUE (and head of the CCF party in the Legislature) said he was unable to accept Mr. Dubin's "principle of taint."

There were several heated exchanges when Mr. Jolliffe accused his legal adversary with mixing fact and law while questioning.

First witness called was Mrs. Alice May Dauncey of fractional motors. She recalled she had signed a yellow (IUE) card early in November but she could not recall the exact date. And she identified the signature as hers on the exhibit.

"Did you pay any money to the union (IUE) at any time?" asked Chairman Draper.

"No," Mrs. Dauncey replied.

"Can you account for a receipt then signed 'M Dauncey'?" the chairman continued.

"No. I can't account for it at all."

Subsequently she had signed a blue card (UE, indicating she had put her signature to a yellow card but at no time paid the dollar) when she didn't like the IUE "set-up."

"Dou you ever recall having a phone conversation with Orville Deyell?" asked Mr. Jolliffe. Mr Deyell was one of the right wingers who had a receipt book and took in the initiation fee money.

"Yes, he wanted me to pay a dollar but I told him I'd signed a blue card and the other was null and void."

Mr. Deyell testified that somebody had given him the dollar, stating it was from Mr. Dauncey, and he had issued a receipt. He later heard she had switched allegiance.

"As far as you're concerned she was a dues paying member since November 4 when you issued the receipt," queried the chairman.

Mr. Deyell replied that was his understanding until he found Mrs. Dauncey had become pro-UE.

He reported this discrepancy to John G. Morton as the two were heading for Toronto on the train on the eve of the original hearing. Mr. Morton had assured him that the card had been personally taken out of the IUE file by him when Mrs Dauncey's allegiance became suspect.

Muriel McQuade, also of fractional motors, had warned him about Mrs. Dauncey because she seemed too friendly with Art Hunter, vice-president of the UE.

Called to the stand Mr. Morton said he believed the card was not included among those filed with the OLRB. A mistake must have been made, he felt.

There was no evidence as to the party who originally signed Mrs. Dauncey and brought the dollar to Mr. Deyell.

The two other chief witnesses were Harold James and George Henry Johnson. The hearing is continuing.

Suggests More Cat Fighting To Improve Breed In Thailand

BANGKOK, Feb. 17 —(AP)— Now it's cat fighting—for the improvement of the breed.

A retired Thailand police officer is seeking government permission to promote cat fighting as a sport in Bangkok, which already has fish fighting, cock fighting and a strange sport known as Siamese boxing.

The crass thought of profits seems never even to have entered the mind of the would-be promoter. Disturbed by the realization that the famed Siamese cat is no longer what it used to be, the animal lover decided that the only way to encourage Thailanders to breed more cats is to have cat fighting.

Once upon a time, the Bangkok municipality did sponsor contests for cats, but they were held on points of beauty and charm and were not exciting enough to push people to extend efforts along catbreeding lines.

Will Attract Crowds

"Cat fighting will attract large crowds of people because it will be the first time in Thailand that this kind of thing will come into being," the former police officer explained. "Proceeds from the fights will go at least one half to the furtherance of the welfare of cats of the realm."

The promoter says he is ready to construct a special enclosure of bamboo, big enough and high enough to prevent the feline opponents from running away into neighboring houses. There will be rows of spectator seats for humans paying cash.

A cat fighting commission would be established to see that the rules and regulations of feline combat are adhered to by the cats. Fighting would be clean. The entire program would come under the ministry of the interior.

The proposed sport raises some intriguing questions. Who is going to tell the cats they must fight clean? Will those hideous backfence screeches be permitted in the ring? Will spitting be forbidden?

Editorial Board Of The Varsity Resign Posts

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—The 16-member editorial board of The Varsity, University of Toronto undergraduate daily newspaper, resigned Thursday over a dispute with the Student's Administrative Council.

Stan Fillmore, editor-in-chief, said the action was taken because of a council directive giving E. A. Macdonald final say in Varsity advertising matters. Mr. Macdonald, a full-time official appointed by the University Board of Governors, is secretary-treasurer of the student council and advertising manager of the paper.

Lack of Confidence

Mr. Fillmore said he interpreted the council's decision as indicating lack of confidence in him and his staff.

"The regulation, in effect, takes the control of the paper out of the hands of the student body and places it in the hands of a university official," he said.

Mr. Macdonald said the resignations are "most regrettable" but declined further comment.

The resignations take effect March 2, date of the last issue for the student year.

The Varsity, published since 1880, is the largest student newspaper in the British Commonwealth. Its editor-in-chief is appointed annually by the Student Council.

The Varsity gives its circulation as 13,500.

Scientific Farmers Needed, Dean Says

VANCOUVER, Feb. 17 (CP) — The need for scientifically-trained farmers was stressed Thursday by Dr. Blythe Eagles, dean of agriculture at the University of British Columbia.

He told the annual meeting of the B.C. Jersey Breeders' Association.

"Students must have the basic principles rather than the technical details, for the details change constantly.

"The next great step in improvement of dairy cattle may come from some scientist who has never ever seen a cow."

The highest Jersey porducer in Canada, announced at the 50th annual meeting of the Canadian Jersey Club here, was Fawndale Vesta's Joyce, owned by Bellavista Farms at Milner, B.C. She set the record with 18,930 pounds of milk.

Ontario Co-Ops Said Booming

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—Co-operatives are booming in Ontario, Dan Stauffer, president of the United Co-operatives of Ontario, said Thursday.

"Get 75 per cent of the people well-informed and private business is on the way out," he told the annual meeting of the Co-operative Union of Ontario.

He reported that UCO's volume of business last year hit the $45,000,000-mark, as contrasted with only $10,000,000 in 1938. Co-operative union officials said that by the end of 1949 it represented 150 co-operatives with an annual business turnover of $76,875,000.

John Hallinan reported that present assets of Ontario's 440 credit unions total $20,000,000 and that the unions loaned from $14,000,000 to $16,000,000 last year.

Manitoba Indians Out On Warpath

WINNIPEG, Feb 17 (CP) — Manitoba's Indians are on the warpath.

A. E. Thompson of Dallas, secretary of the Manitoba Indian Association, said Thursday in an interview that the federal government has "deprived the Canadian Indian of his proper treaty rights." Mr. Thompson was chairman of a one-day association meeting held in Winnipeg Wednesday.

The Indian leader termed the Indian Act "obsolete," charging that "under it, Canadian Indians are treated like people in Communist countries."

Mr. Thompson said that at the Wednesday meeting, attended by 25 chiefs and delegates from the Cree and Saltaux tribes from Manitoba and Northwestern Ontario, attention had been given anew to a brief submitted to the Canadian government last March.

The brief urged establishment of a joint parliamentary-Indian committee to study and revise the Indian Act, establishment immediately of the claims commission to investigate the rights of Canadian Indians.

Labelled Propaganda

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Feb. 17 (CP)—Recent Washington reports that New Brunswick potatoes are being smuggled into Maine on a wholesale scale were labelled "propaganda" Thursday night by leaders of New Brunswick's potato industry. "The stories are being cooked up by our neighbors in Maine in the hope of promoting the idea of a United States embargo against Canadian potatoes," said a veteran shipper.

Sue Film Board

MONTREAL, Feb. 17 (CP) — The National Film Board was sued Thursday for fire loss in the windows of a shoe store. In Exchequer Court the Travelers Fire Insurance Company claimed the film board's high-powered floodlights generated extreme heat and caused the fire. The company asked reimbursement of $2,267 it paid Beck's shoe store on St. Catherine Street West.

Correspondence Courses

TORONTO, Feb. 17 (CP)—Some 5,000 Canadian boys are getting Boy Scout training through correspondence courses. Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, chief executive commissioner of the Canadian Boy Scouts, told the Empire Club of Canada Thursday that the lads are "Lone Scouts" who live in communities which have no Scout troops.

Spend More Money

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP)—Canadian spent more money in retail stores in 1949 than in any other year in history. They spent $7,695,340,000, the Bureau of Statistics reported Thursday. Retail sales in 1948 were six-per-cent lower—$7,276,720,000.

Denies Price Exorbitant

DUNDEE, Scotland, Feb. 17 — (CP)—Food Minister John Strachey, addressing an election meeting here Thursday night, denied that Britain had paid "exorbitant" prices for Canadian wheat. An elderly man in the audience had asked him: why have dollar countries been given preference over wheat deals at a higher cost?" The spectator said Australia had been refused a deal although "she keeps offering wheat at lower prices."

Stage Two Meetings On UK School Issue

LONDON, Feb. 17 (CP)—Two elaborately-staged mass meetings have given a fillip to the campaign of Britain's Roman Catholic bishops to get the Catholic school question before voters in the Feb 23 general election.

The bishops are fighting a provision of the 1944 Education Act which they claim would force an outlay of £50,000,000 ($155,000,000) by Catholic schools for building improvements. They assert it amounts to a "death sentence" for the schools.

Bernard Cardinal Griffin, Archbishop of Westminster, and 21 archbishops and bishops in ecclesiastical robes shared the stage of London's Albert Hall with Catholic mothers at a first protest meeting attended by 7,000.

Urges Women Ru..

LONDON, Feb. 17 (Reuters) — George Bernard Shaw made a second intervention in the election campaign to urge the "pressing need" for more women on representative bodies. "Many of the male parliamentary candidates in all parties are mere party yesmen and superannuated gossips," he wrote to Marian Billson, wishing her success as Labor candidate for the constituency of Croydon East, near London.

To Buy U.S. Wheat

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17 (CP) —The economic co-operation administration Thursday approved a $5,600,000 Marshall-plan purchase of United States wheat by Belgium and Luxembourg. France and its overseas territories were allotted $3,218,000 for extensive purchases of industrial machinery and agricultural equipment, as well as industrial metals to be bought in the United States and Canada.

Named Editor-In-Chief

HAMILTON, Feb. 17 (CP) — Robert Jones, second-year political economy student, was elected editor-in-chief of the McMaster University board of publications for 1950-51 by a special electoral committee of the board and the students' council Thursday night. Others elected to the board were: Victor Sim, as editor of the Silhouette; David Smith, editor of the Marker and Ruth Thomasson, editor of the Directory.

Weekly Livestock Auction Draws 1,000 Buyers To Farm

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 17—(ENS)—If you happen to be driving along the Campbellford-Sterling highway some Monday afternoon, about a mile west of Hoards Station you will see one of the largest concentrations of cars and trucks ever to be seen on that highway. J. C. (Ray) Williams is holding one of his weekly Community Auction Sales. Trucks from all over southern Ontario converge on this farm every Monday, bringing livestock, farm machinery and practically anything else that can be sold at a public auction. Mr. Williams trys to stick exclusively to livestock, but sometimes will handle machinery. He discourages the host of other articles that some enterprising individuals tote along to the big sale.

Mr. Williams used to hold these auctions once every two weeks, but now it has come to be a weekly affair, and sometimes the list of articles is so great that the sale lasts until well after supper.

The actual selling and bidding is done in a large barn with a small fenced-in arena in the centre. Seats for the spectators extend outwards from this enclosure in all directions and slope upwards nearly to the roof of the building.

Like Big Arena

While the sale is in progress, this particular building takes on the appearance of Maple Leaf Gardens, packed for a Saturday night hockey game. Buyers can see quite plainly what is going on in the enclosure below, and as Mr. Williams and his assistants herd a litter of pigs, a thoroughbred Jersey cow, or a large bull, bids are called out from the bleachers. When bidding has ceased, down comes Mr. Williams' cane, and he announces in true auctioneer fashion, that the animal is "Sold to the man in blue coveralls in the fourth row."

Mrs. Williams has been licensed auctioneer for a number of years and is well known in the Campbellford district. He lives on a large farm on the highway half way between Campbellford and Stirling. His son, Stanley assists him at these auctions which have been going on for the past nine months.

Auctions of this type have been tried before in the district, but they never seemed to be a success until Mr. Williams took it into his head to start one again. The only other auction of comparable size is held at Ancaster, Ont., west of Toronto. Mr. Williams points out that numerous community sales are held in the United States, and they attract people from great distances, so why should they not be successful here?

It is amazing to see such large numbers of entries on the auction list. Sometimes a truck will arrive from some distant point such as Newmarket, Ontario, with a load of choice pigs. A short time later the same pigs are liable to be loaded on another truck going back to Newmarket, some other farmer attending the sale from that district having purchased them.

Women Attend

While men predominate at these auctions, the women are there also, although as a rule they do not follow the men folk around the stables. Lunches are served by members of church organizations in the district. Each organization taking its turn week by week. All profits, (and you'd wonder how they would make any when you see the lunches,) are retained by the group operating the booth that particular week, and the money is used to further the work of their particular organization.

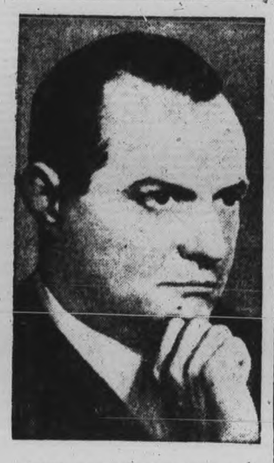
J. C. Ray Williams has operated the farm where he now resides, for about four years, having taken it over from his father, who took it over from his father before him.

1000 People A Week

The sale usually attracts an average of more than 1000 persons each week, and buyers have come from as far away as Vermont State.

At the sale held last Monday, about 900 pigs, 50 calves, and 300 cows were sold, as well as some farm equipment. Fifteen to eighteen thousand dollars is the average weekly amount of the sale, although at one sale last fall close to $22,000 worth of livestock and equipment passed through the hands of the auctioneer.

Mr. Williams is assisted at the sale by Frank Heagle who acts as clerk in the stock arena, and also by Bruce Bell, who is the bookkeeper.



DENIED U.S. AID, Robert A. Vogeler, above, US.. Businessman held for trial in Budapest, Hungary, on charges of spying and sabatage, will not be allowed to have an American attorney defend him. Efforts of his American firm to have Morris L. Ernst, New York attorney, defend Vogeler in his trial, set for Feb. 17, have been stymied by Hungarian officials.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Allen Receive Wedding Gift

ROSENEATH, Feb. 17 (ENS)—A dance and presentation was held in the LOL hall recently for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen (nee Joan McMillan).

Minife's Orchestra, Harwood, provided music for dancing and following lunch served at midnight, Miss Frances Crego read an address to the bride and groom. Miss Pauline Down presented them with a chenille bedspread and a purse of money.

He Likes Pen Life Gets Sent Back In

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 17 —(AP)—Isaac Richardson has tried out life in the United States penitentiary and, frankly, he likes it.

The 61-year-old man likes it so well that he deliberately added two more years to the 26 he has spent inside prison in the last 30.

He got the newest term Wednesday for mail theft. A witness in court said he calmly bashed a postoffice lock box with a rock, took out two letters and asked to be arrested

Richardson pleaded guilty, willingly—although apologetically.

"Your honor," he told Judge Marion S. Boyd, "this will be the last time. I'll never bother you again."

Life Imprisonment

SANTA ROSA, Calf., Feb. 17—(AP)—Carl Schwarz, 39, ranch foreman, was sentenced to life imprisonment Wednesday on his plea of guilty to the Christmas Eve slaying of Mrs. Jane Maggard Dickson, prominent San Francisco newspaper woman and the mother of two children—expecting a third.

Silverware Given By Choir, YPU

ROSENEATH, Feb. 17 (ENS)—A social evening and presentation was held in the Town Hall Monday by Roseneath Y.P.U. and the choir of the United Church for Mrs. Jack Allen, nee Joan McMillan.

Prior to her wedding last month, Mrs. Allen was an active member of the YPU and a member of the choir.

Douglas Coyle was chairman and the program opened with a sing-song with Miss Lois Arthur as pianist. Mrs. A. J. Campbell read "Three Lovers"; a quartette composed of Fred Lewis, Ambrose Atkinson, Douglas Coyle and Warren Atkinson contributed two songs.

Douglas Coyle read an address to Mrs. Allen and Miss Helen Arnold made the presentation of a half a dozen silver teaspoons from the YPU and tablespoons and a sugar shell from the choir.

Members of the YPU also held their weekly meeting with Neil Adams presiding and Miss Lois Arthur as pianist.

Mrs. Reg Timlin, treasurer, reported a balance of $73.95. It was decided to purchase new stage curtains before presenting the play next month.

Rev. R. C. White showed slides. A recreational period followed, both organizations participating. Lunch was served.

Business Plays Big Role In World Events

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

One of the conditions of the times is that business and international politics are part of the one bundle.

Robert T. Elson, former Canadian newspaper man, drew attention to this Thursday in an address to the Canadian Paint Varnish and Lacquer Association in Toronto.

Mr. Elson, who now is chief of correspondents for the North American bureaux of Time and Life magazines, reviewed briefly the international scene and commented:

"What has this to do with business in 1950?

"Well, the first task certainly must be to be sure that we have the military strength to defend the industrial plant of this continen against Soviet attack. We must be prepared to defend it because the industrial and agricultural production of this continent provides the surplus which gives the free world hope for survival.

"We can only do this if our economy keeps operating at top capacity. Business today must not only keep itself profitable but it must also produce enough to maintain our defence establishment and guarantee continued aid to Europe and such parts of Asia as are yet free from the Communist menace.

"This means we must continue to operate on a tight and narrow margin, and that we cannot expect—not in the foreseeable future at least—any relaxation of the demands that our governments now make on all of us.

"All we can hope for is to see that the government spends the tax dollar carefully and that we get full value for our taxes."

Heads Federation

KINGSTON, Feb. 17 (CP) — G. Earl Shepherd, of Pittsburgh township, Thursday was elected president of the Frontenac County Federation of Agriculture. He succeeds Oscar J. Lindsay.

Motion Made No Confidence In Manitoba

By The Canadian Press

The first want-of-confidence motion in the new sessions of the provincial legislatures has been heard.

At Winnipeg Opposition Leader E. A. Hansford moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

It said the opposition "regrets" the government has "failed to give constructive leadership . . . particularly in providing adequate aid to Manitoba's municipalities for education and social service."

The C.C.F. leader's action said the coalition government also has taken no steps to cope with problems of housing, rent control and loss of farm markets.

Meanwhile Ontario and Saskatchewan houses opened new sessions, joining four provincial legislatures already in full swing.

Saskatchewan opened the second session of its 11th legislature with a Throne-speech forecast of government action in the fields of rentals, health service, natural resources—especially in oil—farm products marketing, prison reform, rural electrification, highway construction and labor legislation.

The rentals bill, likely to come into effect April 1 when the province is scheduled to take over this field from the Dominion, will "prevent undue hardships and provide for more equitable adjustments in rents."

Opening debate on the Throne Speech in Quebec's Provincial Upper House, Hon. Gerald Martineau told the legislative council that the province is in the midst of an era of development with precedent.

In the Legislative Assembly, the Lower House, Premier Duplessis announced provincial legislation to provide for censorship and seizure of obscene publications.

Snow No Obstacle

MEAFORD, Feb. 17—(CP)—Buyers' eagerness to reach an auction sale was demonstrated Wednesday when 12 miles of road was broken open and 200 buyers waited hours until William F. McKay, veteran Meaford auctioneer, arived. Armed with shovels, more than 25 men were with the large county plough which was unable to buck the heavy drifts. Word was continually flashed ahead to the waiting buyers over the rural phone as the miles were conquered.

Seize Newsprint Stock

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 17 (AP) —The Argentine government seized control of all newsprint stocks Thursday. Newspapers limited to 12 pages daily since last March 10 may suffer further cuts under a new decree. All stocks of newspapers and private dealers are affected.

Present Proposals

OTTAWA, Feb. 17—(CP)—Ottawa Master Plumbers said Thursday night they will present sometime today their proposals for ending the paralyzing strike of some 400 Ottawa plumbers. Roger Maher, association president, said the proposals would be in the nature of a reply to the Plumber Union's compromise proposals for ending the wage dispute that enters its 40th day today.

Keep Names Secret

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 (CP) — Names of the Canadian medical men named to supervise allocation of this country's ACTH production will remain secret. Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, president of Canada's National Research Council who appointed the men forming the allocation committee said he could not disclose the names.

SENT HOME, Joan von Goetz, 26, of Washington, D. C., was being returned to the United States under guard, American authorities in Berlin said. She was formerly secretary of the three-power Military Security Board in Berlin, and had recently spent two months in the Soviet Zone with her German sweetheart.

British Assistant To US Businessman E. Sanders Pleads Guilty As Spy

BUDAPEST, Feb. 17—(AP)—Edgar Sanders, British assistant to American business man Robert A. Vogeler, Jr., pleaded guilty today before a Hungarian Peoples Court to charge of sabotage and espionage.

Sanders was arraigned this morning with Vogeler, 38-year-old assistant vice-president and European representative of International Telephone and Telegraph Company, and five Hungarians. Hungarian treatment of Vogeler has brought strained relations between the United States and Hungary.

The indictment against Sanders, read in court today, charged he had been a British spy since 1940.

Thursday night Britain charged in a note that Hungary had breached civilized standards of justice in preparing for the trial of Sanders.

Irem Geiger, Hungarian managing director of the IT & T Budapest branch, told the court he became a U.S. agent in 1946 and delivered his espionage reports, "prepared in five copies," to various Americans. Since 1949, he testified, Vogeler had received the reports.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

MOST FAMOUS FIVE children in the world were the Dionne quintuplets — Cecile, Marie, Annette, Yvonne and Emilie — born May 28, 1934, in the little French-Canadian town of Callander, Ont. Here they cluster around Dr. Allan R. Dafoe, the country doctor who brought them into the world and who gave eight years of his life to keeping them alive and healthy. For years the quints lived in their own unique nursery and enclosed recreation grounds. A special one-way-vision glass separated them from the public, enabling them to be seen without seeing the curious throngs that came from all over the world. Since their births hit front pages almost 16 years ago, an adoring public has followed their growth, largely through newspaper and magazine pictures and stories.

Preparing Fish Causes Cook Many Headaches

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 — (CP) — "Friday—fish-day," is more than a line from a nursery rhyme. It often can be a headache for the cook faced with preparing variations of this weekly dish.

The Quebec department of fisheries has issued several recipes calculated to pep up the Friday menu, complete with tantalizing pictures of how the fish should look when ready for the dinner table.

There's fried codfish saute, for which fresh cod fillets, corn flour and vegetable fat are the necessary ingredients.

Wipe fish with a damp cloth. Cut into portions. Roll fish in flour, dip in salted milk and then roll in dried bread crumbs or in corn flour.

Sear fish in a sufficient quantity of hot oil or fat to prevent the fillets from sticking to the pan. Brown on one side, then on the other. Sprinkle with salt.

Melt some butter in a saucepan and while still bubbling pour over the fish. Serve with slices of lemon. Two pounds of fillets will serve six persons.

Baked Fish Creole — Ingredients: two pounds cod fillets or sliced halibut; one-third cup minced onion; one cup chopped celery; one tin tomatoes; four tablespoons salad oil; salt and pepper.

Cook finely chopped onion and celery in salad oil for 10 minutes. Add tomatoes. Season. Clean fish. Cut into six or seven portions. Place fish in greased pan. Cover with vegetables. A few slices of lemon may be placed on the dish. Cook 15 minutes in hot oven (500 degrees Fahrenheit).

"Fillets in turbans" add an extra something to the Friday dinner.

Ingredients: small fillets of sole or cod; prepared mustard; one egg; dried bread crumbs; vegetable fat.

Wipe fillets with a damp cloth; salt, cover with a light coat of mustard. Roll and fasten with short skewer or toothpick. Dip in egg beaten with two tablespoons of water. Roll in dried bread crumbs and place on a greased baking sheet.

Cook 12 to 15 minutes in a hot oven. Serve with melted butter, not browned, which must be poured over fish while butter is still bubbling. Garnish with parsley.

Fish Chowder — Ingredients: four tablespoons butter; two onions thinly sliced; three-quarters cup minced celery; two cups uncooked potatoes diced; two cups chopped uncooked codfish; four cups boiling water; three cups milk; one tablespoon minced parsley; one tablespoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon pepper.

Cook onion and celery five minutes in melted butter. Add boiling water, potatoes and fish. Cook until potatoes are soft. Add milk, parsley and seasonings. Do not let boil after having added milk.

Africa's Women Defy Traditions To Get Equality

NZEGA, Tanganyika —(CP) — African women are fighting their own battles to gain emancipation from the age-old tribal tradition of female inferiority. British colonial administrators have records of many women who made their way from the bush to become nurses, lawyers and teachers, helping their fellow-women and at the same time making their contribution to improving African life.

Leah George, who was in her 40s when she decided to become a nurse, is typical of such African women.

After spending months teaching hygiene and treating women in isolated villages, she heard there was a course for midwives in Uganda, many miles to the north. Before she could take the three-year course she had to learn Luganda, the language used in the classes.

She completed the course and came to Nzega as a qualified nurse. In this lonely settlement in the flat bushland of western Tanganyika there are a few government offices, a school and a maternity hospital where Leah George has worked for 10 years.

It was hard work, for the wards were always crowded with cases of hookworm and malaria and women walked 15 and 20 miles to have their confinement at the hospital.

The story of Leah George is unusual, even by western standards, but in Africa where women are only just beginning to emerge from centuries of ignorance and submission it is a remarkable achievement.

The old traditions still remain in many places. No respectable girl can remain unmarried; childless women are rejected as outcasts; wives are still treated as chattels, married at an early age and inherited by their husband's brother if they become widows.

Yet records in the 14 African territories administered by Britain show that these traditions have been succesfully defied by a number of African women.

Surgeon, Lawyer

Dr. Susan Ofori-Atta graduated as a surgeon from Edinburgh University and returned to become the first woman doctor in the Gold Coast.

Another brilliant African, Stella Thomas, took her bar examinations in London and went back to start a law practice in Nigeria. Now in her early 30s she is a Supreme Court commissioner and as magistrate of Lagos, capital city of Nigeria, she has powers of jurisdiction over 70,000 Africans and Europeans.

At present the number of such women with professional careers remains small. Education of girls has lagged behind education of boys. The custom of early marriage has retarded co-educational progress in Africa, and with few unmarried women there is a corresponding shortage of teachers nurses and welfare workers.

But signs of emancipation are increasing. In the Sudan, free schools for girls started 29 years ago. In 1939 there were 43 such schools; today there are 80 with 10 more planned for next year. Women students now may enter Uganda's Makerere College in competitive examination with men.

Women education officers have been appointed in all African dependencies. These women, some of them African, are responsible for establishing new girls' schools, maternity clinics and welfare centres.

There are also indications the African people themselves are beginning to do away with the tradition of female inferiority. The Basutoland council has elected Regent Mantsebo Seeiso as paramount chief, the first time a women was entrusted with the government of the Basuto people over an area of 11,700 square miles.

Mrs. Wm. Steinkrauss Heads Local Council of Women

Mrs. Wm. Steinkrauss was duly installed president of Peterborough Local Council of Women at opening of the regular meeting on Thursday in the YWCA. She was elected to this position at a meeting of the executive, following her election as first vice-president at the annual meeting in January. She has just completed a three-year term as recording secretary.

Mrs. A. W. Nelson was elected by the executive as recording secretary, and was also installed.

Mrs. M. Moncrieff was named fifth vice-president, the others each moving up one position owing to the vacancy left by Mrs. Steinkrauss. Vacant convenerships were filled as follows: education, Mrs. J. Wood; laws, Mrs. F. Merrett; public health and welfare, Mrs. D. Hill.

Gavel Presented

A gavel with inscribed silver band was presented to the Council by retiring president, Mrs. Wm. Addyman, and becomes the property of the organization to be handed to succeeding presidents.

A stirring speech by Mrs. Steinkrauss, as she proceeded to take over the reins, asked for aid and support from each Local Council member, and also for support and help when needed from every member of the 42 affiliated societies.

"I hope you will give your best to this Council, and I know you will find by giving service and performing duties you will reap pleasing results and gain greatly in experience," she said, adding "don't be too small to do the big things, or too big to do the small things."

A Centennial Tea was planned for March 31, to be held at the YWCA with citizenship convener Mrs. E. B. McWilliams in charge assisted by the vice-presidents. Purchase of tickets for the tea was authorized and these will go on sale shortly.

Food Drive Planned

Fresh impetus for the UEFB fund has been raised and women were asked to make a drive for food and clothing at a meeting in Toronto Saturday to which Mrs. Steinkrauss was invited. It was decided at the meeting that Local Council would send letters to affiliated organizations informing them of details on this. Mrs. J. Londerville, Mrs. C. Olaveson and Miss M. Bowers were appoint to set up a receiving station for donations prior to close of the drive on March 4. It is planned by Toronto authorities to have the entire shipment arrive in Britain in time for distribution during Easter week when it would be even more deeply appreciated.

The president of Mrs. W. H. Morton were delegated to attend a meeting on February 23 called by the YWCA Public Affairs Committee to discuss the advisability of forming a Women's Electors' Association in this city.

Plans for a Brotherhood Week meeting on February 24 at the Empress Hotel were announced by Mrs. Addyman who extended an invitation to attend. Two members from each women's organization are invited and each will be charged 25c. Quota of Protestant attendants is 150; Catholic 100 and Jewish 50. There will be three prominent women speakers, representative of each.

Plea For Funds

A plea for funds to set up fellowships and scholarships for Canadian therapists who will contract to stay in Canada and treat polio victims for several years, was made by a victim of the dread disease who was introduced by Mrs. Addyman. Organization representatives took envelopes to distribute to their fellow members for donations to this cause.

To plan for raising $100 with which to make one Council member a member of National Council this year, and the possibility of a second, a committee of Mrs. W. A. Burrell and Mrs. E. Wand was appointed to work with Mrs. Fanjoy.

It was suggested by the president and approved by all present that the Local Council would make a donation of books for the library in the new Civic Hospital. A request will be sent to each affiliated organization asking for each member to donate used books which are in good condition for this purpose. They may be fiction, history, travel, biography, educational or children's books. It was also suggested that the donor might put a brief synopsis of the book on the fly leaf to aid Hospital Auxiliary workers in selecting books for patients.

Welfare Group Organized In South End

First meeting of a newly organized women's group, to be known as the South End Welfare Group, was held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. L. Thibadeau, 549 Arndon Ave.

Members will work for the benefit of various charities in the city and ways and means of raising funds were discussed. It was decided to hold a rummage sale in the near future.

Officers of the group are: president, Mrs. E. A. Adams; secretary, Mrs. L. Thibadeau; treasurer, Mrs. R. Ebbett.

Kiwanis Krazy Dress Party A Gay Evening at Aragon

"Clothes make the man" is an old saying from which it might follow "Crazy clothes make crazy people", and a radio comedienne says "People have more fun than anybody."

Some people are Kiwanians.

Therefore, "Krazy klothes make krazy Kiwanians who have more fun than anybody."

Which is exactly what happened Thursday night when Kiwanians and Kiwani Kweens and their guests got into "krazy" dress and went to the Club Aragon for dinner, entertainment and dancing.

If costumes adopted for the evening were a revelation of suppressed longings, these possibly amazing tendencies predominate in Peterborough Kiwanians: the men sleep in good old-fashioned nightshirts and favor the Major Hoople type of headgear; the less rugged aspire to the prize-fighter's ring; women want to be gypsies, pirates and hussies; to dress in bright colours, be loaded with jewellery and wear low heels.

However, when past presidents of the club got into a huddle, they chose the pretty "western cowgirl", Mrs. Gordon Harrison as first prize winner. Petite Mrs. Wm. J. Hickey in checked gingham dress, traditional Dutch style cap and apron of white organdy and Holland-made wooden shoes, in which she danced all evening, was tied for second place with Mrs. Mort Knox who had dressed as a little girl in short white dress, trimmed with embroidery to match her red hat, tied under the chin, so each received a prize.

Close scrutiny revealed two imposters in the semi-final selection for ladies' prizes and since their slim ankles had nearly fooled the judges, "Lucy" (J.R.) Hewitt and "Susie" (E.J.) McWilliam were awarded certificates for nylon hose.

Ben Myers as a chef and Norm Elliott, be-moustached and garbed in velvet with glittering Turkish fez, copped the men's prizes.

During dinner Kiwanis president Al Plaskett called upon Gordon Hancock to extend a welcome, especially to the ladies, and to introduce members' guests and the Kiwanians and their ladies who came from Cobourg for the occasion. A toast to the ladies was then proposed by John Bradshaw, and the response was made by Mrs. Walter Howell, a member of the Kiwani Queen's committee in charge of the evening's entertainment.

For the latter Jack Allen was the master of ceremonies, carrying through to the end of the evening with droll remarks each time [illegible] number or hand-ed out a prize for spot dances and novelties.

Acclaimed as the program highlight was the Cobourg trio of singers, Albert Hircock, Lloyd Stinson and Lloyd Harper. Encores brought a Hircock-Stinson combination that was most pleasing and later Mr. Stinson sang solo, accompanied in the final chorus by Mr. Hircock. Their accompanist, Mrs. D. J. Fitzgerald of Peterborough, did a splendid job and she also played for a singsong led by Mr. Hircock and Mort Knox of the local club.

Floor show time brought on the "can-can girls", Mrs. Bob McLellan, Mrs. Walter Howell, Mrs. S. T. McCallum and Mrs. M. R. Knox, flipping gay bustles of their '90's costumes. For the second number they paired with silk-hatted "gentlemen" Mrs. C. Hurst, Mrs. Geo. Solmes, Mrs. Ben Myers and Mrs. Jack Comstock, and sang choruses of "I met her at the fountain" and "Daisy." Mrs. Fitzgerald was again the pianist.

When the dancing program commenced, Bob Kinsman and his orchestra appeared in costume too, and with Bruce Sargent to call they played for a thumping square dance and for a grand march that was a test of racing form and staying power.

For their graceful waltzing, Lloyd Stinson and Miss Hircock of Cobourg and Mr. and Mrs. Mort Knox won prizes, and Mrs. Fred Stenson won the birthday dance. Spot dance prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. McCrumb of Cobourg, Mrs. Ben Myers and Mac MacCallum and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dougherty.

Walter Howell had charge of the prize list and during dinner he asked guests to look underneath chair seats for a postage stamp, found by Doug McGregor who received the "post office" prize.

Children's Theatre At YWCA Opening Saturday

A permanent group for the advancement of drama for young people in Peterborough is being formed at the YWCA on the grounds already built during the past few years by the community-[illegible] Mrs. R. H. McLellan, Mrs. J. Dobbin and Mrs. J. Kirkwood. The latter, it is regretted, has left the city to reside elsewhere.

These ladies have done excellent work in the past, having produced a number of plays and playlets. Outstanding amongst those presented was "How the Seasons Began," produced for the Young People's Festival in 1949 at which Prof. Edinburgh adjudicated, commending the ladies highly on their choice of play, and also the remarkable results of their work with the young people, and hoping that it would be carried on and encouraged to the fullest.

The new theatre will be directed by Mrs. J. G. Campbell, formerly of YWCA in Oshawa and Scotland. Mrs. R. H. McLellan and Mrs. J. Dobbin will continue their support. Elocution classes will be formed in the future according to the demand.

First meeting of the young people will take place on Saturday morning at ten o'clock.

Women Curlers Forget Fashion Dressing for Game

Fussy, impractical millinery goes by the boards when women take to the curling rink. It's the one place where a woman doesn't turn red with anger when she sees another hat like the one she's wearing.

In a recent bonspiel women brought home this point. The contestants weren't particularly fussy about their headgear so long as is kept them warm and didn't hinder them as they swept the stones down to the button.

As with the men curlers, the Scottish tam-o'-shanter was by far the favorite of feminine skips and sweeps.

The hardier women sported ear muffs alone; a few wore peaked ski caps; some others wore the babushka. But parkas, attached to their workmanlike jackets, got an almost unanimous veto from the women.

"They are too confining," puffed one woman as she went sweeping down the ice. "They slow you down, and anyway you can't hear what's going on with those things on our head."

And as for hearing things — there's much more noise coming from a women's bonspiel than from an all-male contest. The noise that accompanied the recent women's spiel brought some sarcastic comments from male onlookers used to the quiet concentration of their own game.

"Sounds like a bunch of magpies," said one.

"Can't hear yourself think," muttered another.

And another: "Don't know what in the world they are talking about. It certainly isn't curling talk. But at least they don't insult each other like the men do."

Yet sometimes, when the women sweeps go flailing down the ice with their brooms, striving for some all-important point, a feminine roar comes up from the sidelines:

"Sweep, sweep, for goodnes' sake sweep."

Women Teachers Collect $3,300 To Buy Bibles

TORONTO, Feb. 17—(CP)—More than $3,300 has been subscribed by the women teachers of Ontario's public schools in their drive for funds to purchase Bibles and New Testaments for distribution among school children in the British zone of Germany.

Eva Gordon of Ottawa, director of the "Bibles for Berlin" committee of the Federation of Women Teachers' Associations of Ontario, said the amount will buy 4,000 Bibles. Some 40,000 Bibles would be required to supply each teacher in the British zone with one. The total need for all Germany is estimated at 4,000,000 Bibles and 6,000,000 Testaments.

Funds are turned over to the Secretary of the United Bible Society, in charge of distribution of the Bibles.

Masterful Approach Best Bet For Love-lorn Bachelors

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: You are constantly telling women in your column "how to get their man." Why not tell us eligible bachelors a sure way to get the girl we want?

RUSSELL

Dorothy Dix

ANSWER: No specific rule can be given for winning a girl, because it all depends upon the girl. But, generally speaking, the way to get a girl is just to go after her tooth and nail, hammer and tongs, as you would after a big order or a political office or anything else that you really wanted.

A stormy, impetuous wooing goes big with nenety-nine girls out of a hundred because in their hearts nearly all women are still cave women. It is the laggard lovers who do not put any pep into their courting, the ones who let girls shilly-shally with them, who lose out. Many a girl would like to say "no" instead of "yes," if only she dared to, to the bashful suitors who haven't even got the nerve to ask for what they want.

Be Persistent

If you are in love with a girl, never take "no" for a final answer until she marries some other man. Success nearly always comes to the patient suitor. Just camp on your lady love's doorstep and always be Johnny-on-the-spot. Make yourself a necessity to her. Accustom her to little attentions.

Then suddenly some day remove yourself. Begin to rush some girl a little younger and a little prettier than she is, and it is a hundred-to-one shot that she will wake up and find out that without knowing it she has fallen in love with you and that you are the great and only where she is concerned.

If a girl is very puritanical, a good line is getting her to reform you. Confess your sins to her, and the blacker you make them, the better she will like them and the more you will pique her interest. If she is sophisticated you can reverse the process and reform her. Register shock over her cocktails and cigarettes, and when once you have constituted yourself her mentor you will have her tamed and broken so you can lead her to the altar.

If you want to make a hit with all girls, be neat in appearance, modest in demeanor, dance without stepping on their feet, talk to them about themselves, and, finally, be bold, but not too bold.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: For two years I have been engaged to a man waiting until he is in a financial position to marry. Two months ago I met an older man who is very successful and I began to go out with him. The first man told me I would have to decide between them. I refused to give the second man up, as I have been starving for fun, so our engagement was broken off. My brother, who has been mother and father to me, said to me, when he heard of it: "I never thought that my own sister would be a quitter." He now shows me no affection and this hurts me terribly, as he has always been wonderful to me. Is he right? I did love the first man, but having to wait so long to get married killed that love. Won't I in time be able to forget entirely the first man?

A SISTER

ANSWER: Sure you will. If money and a good time are all you want, you will be happy with any man who can give them to you. But suppose this second man loses his money after you are married to him? But I know the answer to that. I have seen it happen too often. You will buy a ticket to Reno and hunt up some other man who still has the dough.

It takes real love and a real woman to stick to a man and love him the more just because he needs her love and needs to feel her back of him when he is fighting to get ahead. Your brother is right in saying that you are a quitter.

It is the women who have whined and complained and called men failures; the women who can't stand the gaff, who are really responsible for many a man putting a bullet through his poor, tired brain.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have a chance to attend college or get married. I am 17 years old and cannot decide which I want to do. Will you please advise me.

UNDECIDED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Go to college by all means. When a girl is undecided as to whether to marry or not the answer is invariably no. The only thing that justifies any girl in getting married is to be so much in love with a man that she feels that she cannot live without him. Four years of college will give you your playtime in life, it will give you new experiences, a new point of view, and if it teaches you nothing else it will at least teach you what you want in a husband.

Here Comes Summer

Although winter's frosty nip is still in the air, new swim suits are already appearing on the horizon to prove that summer is not far away as far as fashion is concerned.

Artful detailing—such as built-in bras, high-rising waistlines and trousers pleats—in the suits pictured promise maximum flattery for figures. The designer eliminates unnecessary frou-frou in favor of sleek slim styling which adds not a whit of bulk to a figure.

The "garcon" bathing suit (left) of cactus pink sharkskin owes its streamlined appearance to a neat fly front which buttons to a white bra top. Trouser-pleated "little boy" shorts are cuffed in white. Waistline is trimly defined by a sharkskin belt which stays on for swimming. Straps can be detached for even sun-tanning.

A spectacular dandelion-printed cotton makes the beach outfit (right). The bra top can be worn with or without a halter strap. The sliming, high-waisted shorts have pleats to release fullness across the hips. Both bra and shorts are fully lined. Enormous balloon push-up sleeves with elasticized cuffs add top-side interest to the short, full beach coat.

What's Right

A young man that you know hasn't much money but is interested enough in you to ask for several dates a week.

WRONG WAY: Expect him to take you to a dance, a movie, or out to dinner each time.

RIGHT WAY: Without making it obvious that you are thinking of his pocketbook, occasionally suggest going to a free concert, getting the crowd together at your house, etc.

TROLLOPE—In loving memory of Mrs Frances Trollope who passed away February 17, 1947:
Peaceful be thy rest, dear mother,
It is sweet to breathe they name;
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.
—Lovingly remembered by Lilla, Mildred and Hilda.

WHATMAN—In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Roy Whatman, who passed away February 16, 1946.
Many a lonely heartache,
Many a silent tear
Always a faithful memory
For her no longer here.
God gave us strength to bear it,
Courage to fight the blow
For what it meant to lose her
None will ever know.
—Sadly missed by Margaret, Charlie and grandchildren.

WHATMAN—In loving memory of Mrs. Roy Whatman, who passed away four years ago today, February 16th.
When days are dark and friends are few,
Dear mother, how we think of you,
Friends are friends if they are true;
We lost our best friend when we lost you.
—Ever remembered by daughter Millie and husband.

Convert 908 Places To 60-Cycle Power

TORONTO, Feb. 17 — (CP) — Electrical equipment in 980 Ontario households and business places was converted from 25 cycles to 60 cycles during the week ending Feb. 11, the Ontario Hydro Commission announced today. This brought the total number of conversions to date to 10,488.

Of that total, 9,814 are in the suburban East York and Scarboro district and the others in the Sarnia region.

The Commission said its stock-taking equipment to be changed over is progressing satisfactorily in the London district. In London, 8,266 consumer's electrical equipment has been checked. At St. Marys the crews have inspected the appliances of 62 commercial and industrial consumers.

Survey crews have also been active in the Dorchester and Delaware districts and in the Mitchel area.

New Residential Area For City Of Brockville

BROCKVILLE, Feb. 17 —(CP) —This city is to have a new residential area. Formerly known as the Butterfield estate, the property of the late George Butterfield in the north east section of community has been sold to outside interests and will be divided into 34 lots strictly for residential purpose.

The old Butterfield residence will remain intact while the surrounding property will be crisscrossed by two new streets. As soon as the lots have been subdivided, they will be disposed of through a local real estate office.

Bad Port Fire

LIMA, Peru, Feb. 17—(AP)—Oil scum on the water in the Port Talara caught fire Wednesday in a gigantic mystery blaze. Nine persons are dead, one is missing and six are severely injured, the International Petroleum Company said Thursday. Telara is Peru's most northern port, close to the Ecuador border. Victims were fishermen on boats anchored in the port.

Rejected As Suspects

BERLIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—Thirteen per cent of the 16,000 Soviet-zone refugees who fled to West Berlin during the last year were rejected as suspected Communist agents or vagrants, the United States High Commission said Thursday. It predicted the refugee influx would "increase very greatly during the next months due to increasing political pressure in the Soviet zone."

4 Die In Explosion

BOLOGNA, Italy, Feb. 17 (Reuters)—Four persons were killed in an explosion here Thursday night in a house where police suspected gunpowder was being made illegally. Most of the building was shattered. A number of persons were injured.

Plan To Split Canada's 2-Ocean Fleet

OTTAWA, Feb. 17 — (CP) — Details of plans to split up Canada's two-ocean naval fleet into two broad main segments, one concentrating on operations and the other a training, Thursday were announced by naval headquarters.

The plans envisage a clear-cut division between operational and training ships, with operational ships and carrier-borne aircraft welded into a specialized anti-submarine force.

Headquarters said this force will be "developed to the highest possible standard of efficiency."

Training ships will be employed solely for the purpose of providing sea experience for new entries, reserve personnel and naval cadets.

Headquarters said in a statement:

"This dual program has been blue-printed for some time, but a shortage of manpower and lack of trained personnel delayed its introduction.

Expected Soon

"It is anticipated that the next few months will see these deficiencies sufficiently overcome to clear the way for what is considered to be the most important step taken by the navy since the war."

The change-over has top priority. However, on the operational side of the picture, tangible results are not expected to be apparent before 1951.

The creation of a fully operational team of anti-submarine ships and aircraft will constantly remain the No. 1 target.

The operational force, in its early satges, will consist of the aircraft carrier Magnificent, and the destroyers Micmac and Huron on the east coast, and the destroyers Cayuga and Sioux on the west coast.

The training force will enfold the 11,000-ton cruiser Ontario, the destroyer Athabaskan, and frigates Antigonish and Beacon Hill on the west coast and the Swansea and La Hulloise at Halifax.

When the manning situation permits, they will be joined by another destroyer. Meanwhile, the Micmac and the Huron will help out in the event of an overflow from training vessels.

RHINE TRIBESMEN

The Franks were a confederation of Germanic tribes living in the lower and middle Rhine valley during the third century A. D.

Weather Wedlock

Play of the Weather

The first play of the evening the English Renaissance "Wether" makes considerable demands of the audience. The idiom is strange, the historicity of the play not generally perceived. What a wonderful experience it is to have such a play performed so well, presented so colorfully and richly in Peterborough. Although Thursday evening's audience was quiet until the curtain calls, I do not doubt that it appreciated the treat.

The theme is, briefly, the perennial greed of different sorts of of people for different sorts of weather. Jupiter (nobly portrayed by Lorne Mitchell, complete with godlike beard) hears the supplicants and gives his weather, and answer. George Cobb, the Merry Report, is an accomplished performer. As servant of Jupiter and earthly entrepreneur lithe in movement and tongue, he gives an artistic and amusing performance. I feel that he is a little too kindly of mien and voice—too humane. Others taking part were Roger Davis (who made an immediate physiological impression; he gave his lines fast but with a sense of rhythm), Helen Staples (always good), Harvey Wilson, Leonard McNeill, Lindy McIntosh, Maralin Munro (always attractive and her voice has advanced with her stage-craft) and a lad, Tom Krogh who did admirably. There were too many hands and arms waving around inconsequentially and amateurishly.

Better parts of the presentation were the costumes, the set, the dramatic conceptions (such as the mingling of performers with audience) and the coloration. Good results were achieved from the new lighting system installed by the Board of Education.

Tinker's Wedding

The final play of the evening was Synge's The Tinker's Wedding. It is strong meat for the people who do not admit the existence of gypsy Irish life and minor country clerics such as may be found in Italy or Ireland.

An Irish tinker (Jack Nichols) and his mistress (Brenda Davies) decide to get married. They dicker with a priest (Donald Munro) to marry them. The itinerant drunken mother of the proposed bridegroom (Mildred Bailey) distrusts marriage ceremonies, and their ministers, and thinks the cleric's fee better spent on porter. The priest asks too much money and suffers indignities. The couple go their way without benefit of the sacrament of marriage.

It is a comedy, but not of the roaring kind, for the imagery, poetry and folk pathos of Synge touch the sympathy and imagination too strongly. This is not to say that the audience did not laugh. They did—especially over the reeling mother, whom Miss Bailey portrayed extraordinarily vividly and well. Jack Nichols suited in voice and appearance his role, which he played with accomplished ease. Brenda Davies made her part of coquette, beauty and gamin a lyric of earth which set the tone for the play. Donald Munro as the peasant priest convinced his audience that Synge was not dreaming when he wrote the part.

The charming, evocative set (too brightly lit throughout the first part?) was done by Jack Hamer. The play was directed by Robertson Davies, and Margaret White stage-managed it.

The three plays are being repeated tonight and Saturday.

Pickering Plans To Build New High School

PICKERING, Feb. 17.—(CP).—A high school building with a set-up that will permit expansion with a minimum of difficulty is planned by the high school board in this community 22 miles east of Toronto.

It is expected the new 13-room building will be ready to open in time for the fall term of 1951. Estimated cost is more than $400,000.

Plans for the present call for a school to take care of 400 students, with a cafeteria capacity of 200. But the building will be erected in such a way that temporary walls can easily be removed to permit expansion into a school to serve 600 students. Further minor changes would provide accommodation for 1,200 students.

Other innovations include electrically-folding doors in the gymnasium to provide separate sections for boys and girls. If the gymnasium is expanded it will contain a completely equipped stage, a gallery and a new set of shower and change rooms, doubling the present shower capacity.

BUSINESS FIRST

An estimated 40 per cent of present foreign visitors to Britain's trade and industrial exhibitions are there on business.

Was Gun Fired

Sub-section (d) refers, for example, to a case in which men go into a bank to rob it. In the robbing (their "unlawful object") if one of them shoots and kills someone, then murder has been committed again.

The "unlawful object" argued Mr. Bradshaw, was the implied threat to use the gun to get the guests to leave the house. The crown attorney said Byrnes had a perfect right to use any reasonable means or reasonable force to eject his guests.

"I submit he used more force than was reasonable," Mr. Bradshaw stated. He said that the force did not have to be actually applied to constitute an unlawful act; it was necessary merely that a person be only "put in fear of bodily harm" to have an unlawful act committed.

This argument introduced the question of whether or not Byrnes pointed the gun at any one.

Witnesses said Byrnes did not point the gun at anyone, the crown attorney said, yet at one point Mrs. Weir said she was directly in front of the gun. Mr. Bradshaw said witnesses indicated by demonstration that Byrnes was not merely carrying the rifle at arms length, but that he held it with both hands at hip level.

On top of that, the crown attorney declared, there was the evidence that Byrnes, just after coming from the basement with the rifle in his hands, said, "Now, will you get out!"

In saying this, Byrnes was referrring to the gun, Mr. Bradshaw said. There was also the evidence that Byrnes had clicked the bolt of the gun at the living room door and Mrs. Weir had heard a click in the bedroom shortly before the gun was fired.

All this showed Byrnes intention to eject the visitors "regardless", the crown attorney argued. There was also no evidence that Byrnes had not fired the gun entirely voluntarily.

On the evidence, said Mr. Bradshaw, he thought Byrnes should be committed.

Mr. Bradshaw argued if there was any evidence on which a jury could possibly convict the accused man, then the magistrate should send him on for trial. On the evidence, said the crown attorney, the magistrate should commit Byrnes for trial on a charge of murder of Mrs. Kendry.

Need More Than Possibility

Mr. Carley said the magistrate must find more than a possibility from the evidence that the accused man could be found guilty by a jury. He argued that the magistrate could only commit an accused man for trial by a higher court if he believed a jury would probably convict the accused man. He cited several judgments to back his argument.

Mr. Carley said the evidence heard showed nothing that even approximated the charge that Byrnes might have been shooting at Mrs. Weir.

He also argued that there was no evidence that Byrnes had any intention of doing an unlawful act. He said two witnesses, including Mrs. Byrnes herself, had testified that Byrnes had not pointed the gun at any person. In the bedroom, Spencer, had testified, the gun was pointing toward the door. He said pointing a gun must be a conscious act. If Byrnes had brought the gun up near his shoulder, that might constitute pointing the gun.

The defence lawyer declared that after Byrnes said "Now, will you get out!" he went back into the bedroom: and took off his clothes preparing to go to bed.

He added, that in the bedroom after Mrs. Weir heard the click and fell to the floor, there was time for Spencer to step into the room, step over Mrs. Weir, bend down and begin to chaff her hands. Some considerable time elapsed for that to have taken place and "Spencer was apparently not concerned about the gun."

Mr. Carley said it was only by sheer accident that anyone was hurt. He said the court could not fill in the gap about Burnes' reason for firing the gun and say that he was shooting at Mrs. Weir.

School Grants Revised By Porter

New Suburbs Benefit Will Help Building; Grants On Population

TORONTO, Feb. 18—(CP)—A new system of education grants, aimed at giving a "square deal" to suburban municipalities faced with heavy school-building costs and high enrolments, was announced Friday by Education Minister Porter.

Mr. Porter made his announcement during an unexpectedly lively second-day sitting of the Legislature. Members divided for the first time of the Session over the question of whether the Legislature's Hansard should be printed or merely mimeographed.

The government was upheld by a vote of 47 to 27. All opposition groups voted in favor of an amendment by C. C. Calder (L.-London), which would have referred the question to the printing committee of the Legislature.

Mr. Porter announced that the system of education grants would be revised to separate capital outlays from operating costs. He said later in an interview that this would benefit areas around such centres as Windsor, London, Hamilton and Timmins where the suburban population is increasing.

Public and Separate schools will receive:

1. $16 for every pupil.
2. A percentage of teachers' salaries up to $75 a pupil.
3. A percentage of costs of new buildings, additions and transportation services.

Based on Population

Where a school has less than 30 pupils they will get $480. The percentage paid on items 2, 3, is based on population ranging from 16 per cent for communities of 20,000 and over to 38 per cent for communities of between 2,500 and 2,999.

Secondary schools will receive:

1. A per-pupil grant based on assessment.

2. A percentage of expenditures based on population.

Under the present system the government pays a percentage of school board expenses—capital or otherwise — up to a limited amount. School boards in suburban municipalities, faced with the necessity of building new

A CANADIAN GOVERNOR-GENERAL was given the royal salute of 21 guns for the first time in history when the second session of the dominion parliament opened. Here the guns boom out as Viscount Alexander, the governor-general, arrives at Parliament Hill in Ottawa. Formerly governors-general received a salute of only 19 guns. The 21-gun salute was approved by the King for this occasion in recognition of the Governor-General as his personal representative.

Dead, Living Tangled In Wreckage

Doctors Work Inside Twisted Coaches, No Hysteria Reported

By STAN JOHNSON

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y., Feb. 18 — (AP)—Many sat where they were killed, the rescue lights flaring on the pale dead faces. They were part of the 28 who rode to their deaths in this peaceful suburban town in the collision of two commuter trains.

Some were crushed between the twisted plates. Some were torn where the steel cars shredded each ether.

But some lived, most of them beyond outcry from pain and shock.

"The dead and living were all mixed up . . . there were legs and arms scattered around . . . .

"There was a Negro man sitting by a window like he was going on a trip. We looked at his head, and the top was sheared off."

That's what garageman Lanny Haff saw before he grabbed a cutting torch and started the slow agonizing race to free first the living and then the dead from the steel wrapped about them.

Within moments after the lead cars of the east and west trains crashed together, a crowd of thousands started to gather.

Silen Crowd Waches

They stood on a high embankment north of the tracks and watched the life and death spectacle under the floodlights.

It was a silent crowd that only murmured

The crowd had no trouble telling the dead from the living.

Those beyond all human help got brisk, respectful treatment—a blanket, a stretcher, and a short carry to the little Negro Baptist Church south of the track, now turned into a stucco morgue for the night.

The injured got tender care.

Many hands lifted them to waiting ambulances after the doctors were done with them.

Doctors Work In Wreckage

The doctors were inside the cars, shoulder to shoulder with the men with torches and the men who pried up steel beams with jacks.

"More splints!" came the cries from inside the wrecked cars.

Sometimes it was "morphine."

"Everybody was rather calm . . there was no hysteria," said Dr James A. Rogers.

"I was watching a basketball game on television when I got the call. I grabbed my kit and ran to a section of the eastbound car.

Cut Off Legs

"One man was conscious I had to cut off both his legs. He didn't shriek at all.

"I had to take legs off two other victims."

700 For Dinner

KITCHENER, Feb. 18 — (CP)—Mrs. J. W. Maus, Ayr, had chickens for dinner Wednesday—700 of them. They were day-old pullets which arrived from the hatchery just after a Hydro failure Tuesday. As all the brooders were electrically operated the pullets were piled up beside the kitchen stove in their shipping crates. Now, 700 chicks take up a lot of floor space in anybody's kitchen—even a spacious one like the Maus kitchen. So do six hungry men for meals. One of the other had to go, so the men went to a restaurant to eat all Wednesday's meals.

Saw Off Limbs To Free Some Of 100 Injured Trapped By Mashed Steel

Motorman Arrested On Manslaughter Charge Said Ran Through Red Signal Light; Every Doctor In Area Rushed To Scene

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y., Feb. 18—(AP)—A crowded Long Island railroad train ran through a red light on a makeshift siding last night and sliced into an oncoming train, killing at least 28 persons. More than 100 other persons were injured as the two electric trains—loaded with about 1,000 passengers—were sheared lengthwise in two. Motorman Jacob Kiefer, 55, of Baldwin, N.Y., was arrested and charged with second-degree manslaughter by District Attorney Frank Gulotta, who said:

"He ran past the signal."

Kiefer was injured—but not critically—and a police guard was placed at his home until he could be moved to Nassau County Jail for arraignment.

It was metropolitan New York's worst railroad tragedy.

Screaming victims were smashed between tons of twisted metal as the trains came together at 10:38 p.m. EST with a crash heard for half a mile.

Sawed Off Arms, Legs

Doctors hacked and sawed off arms and legs to free some of the injured.

Thousands of awed but curious spectators flocked to the scene while the desperate cries of trapped victims still echoed on the night air.

Rockville Centre, a community of about 20,000, is 20 miles east of Manhattan island on the south shore of Long Island in Nassau county.

Every available doctor in the area was called to the scene.

More than 50 responded and relayed the injured into nearly a score of ambulances for transfer to hospitals.

Many of the victims screamed and prayed—in pain and fright.

Others lay dead, twisted like rag dolls, their bodies broken in the split-second impact of grinding steel.

"Kill me, please kill me," one man pleaded to rescuers.

Another woman, tons of metal crushing her chest, screamed:

"Get the weight off me."

A white-faced, heart-sick rescue worker looked up at reporters and gritted through clenched teeth:

"We're not taking out bodies; we're taking out parts of bodies."

Used Floodlights

Floodlights played on the wreckage as acetylene torches, axes and crowbars to pry into the twisted coaches of the two 10-car electrict trains.

Finally, railroad wreckers bulldozed their way in to jerk apart the lead coaches so the hunt for bodies could go on.

A little white stucco negro church stood a few feet from the scene. First bodies recovered were laid on its lawn.

Then the pitiful row of corpses began to grow. So the interior of the church was converted into a morgue and the remains moved inside.

Normally, the Long Island operates a two-track line through Rockville Centre for its trains

Coal Conference Deadlocked, 10-Day Supply

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18—(AP)—A grim "no progress" report from Presidential observers at the soft-coal negotiations heightened prospects today of White House court action to head off a fast-approaching national coal famine.

Apparently fearing that such action might include a request for a contempt citation against the United Mine Workers, union leader John L. Lewis issued an urgent new order to the 370,000 striking miners Friday to get back to work "forthwith," as instructed by Federal court. But the miners' reaction was cool.

Soft-coal supplies were reported barely enough to last the United States 10 more days.

Three Possibilities

There were three moves reported under consideration by the White House:

1. A request for contempt action against Lewis and the union, with fines for each day the strike continues. That might pose a grave threat to the U.M.W. treasury—reported to contain between $13,000,000 and $20,000,000. Previous contempt citations have cost the union $2,130,000.

2. A special message to Congress asking presidential power to seize the soft-coal pits for at least a limited period, with profits going to the U.S. treasury. This would be intended to prod the operators into diligent contract bargaining with Lewis.

3. A request for the 80-day strike-halting injunction provided for under the Taft-Hartley Act Emergency Procedures. This step was contemplated a week ago, and nothing short of a sudden contract agreement would be likely to head it off.

Order Police Shoot To Kill In Bandit Hunt

VANCOUVER, Feb. 18 (CP)—Orders to "shoot to kill" if necessary went out Friday night as police combed the city for an apparently - deranged bandit who touched of a chain reaction of bullets and terror.

The series of events began when the man entered a downtown branch of the Royal Bank of Canada and attempted to cash a $97 cheque. A teller challenged the cheque and a police officer made the man drive with him to an address he gave.

Three blocks up the street, the man pulled a gun and jumped out of the car. The constable chased him for three blocks, both firing several shots, before losing him.

The gunman next hailed taxi driver Dick Telford and ordered him at gunpoint to drive him to a "quiet bank, and make it snappy."

Telford took the gunman to a suburban branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, where he told cashier Rosemary Hollive, 17, it was a stickup and emphasized it by firing a bullet in a counter.

She handed the bandit an undetermined sum.

Then he fled in the taxi, ordering Telford to halt the car several blocks later. Before fleeing from the cab, he gave Telford half the holdup roll. Police would not say how much it totalled.

1,000 May Picket Eviction House In Oshawa Fight

OSHAWA, Feb. 18.—One thousand members of the United Steel Workers of America will be called out to picket a wartime house on Drew St. if Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation goes ahead with eviction proceedings against Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Vandewalker and their three children. A fourth child is expected momentarily.

The decision was announced Friday by Michael Fenwick, district representative of the union which became interested in the case when the family was ordered out nearly two weeks ago.

Eviction Orders

A sheriff's deputy, J. A. Anderson, of Whitby, called at the Vandewalker home Friday with orders from a local solicitor of the corporation to evict the family. A stay of execution of the order was given until Feb. 22, through efforts of Fenwick.

When he learned of the corporation's action Friday, Fenwick immediately wired Reconstruction Minister Winters requesting that the family be permitted to remain at least until spring.

Several offers of accommodation have been made, Fenwick declared, but none proved suitable.

"A two-room flat certainly could not accommodate a family of six," he said. "This was the largest accommodation offered."

The corporation contends that Vandewalker is trespassing because he is not a veteran and had sublet the property. This is not unusual in the housing unit, the union contends.

Campbellford Farm Man Discovered Shot In Cabin

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 18—(ENS)—Oscar Curtis, 36, a worker on Carleton Rowe's farm at Stanwood, was found Friday lying dead on his bed, with a bullet wound in his forehead. The fatal wound was apparently inflicted by a .25 calibre rifle found near his body.

The body was discovered by Mr. Rowe, when he visited the shack on his property which was Curtis' home. He went to see why he had not been at work since Tuesday. Curtis was in the habit of taking a day off now and then so that Mr. Rowe had not worried when he did not appear on Wednesday.

Suicide is suspected, but investigations which went on through the night until the early hours today, have not yet been completed. The incident is cloaked in mystery and it is expected extensive investigations will be necessary before police will be able to determine whether the bullet wound was self-inflicted.

Made Previous Threats

It is reported that Curtis sometimes went through periods of despondency and had, on previous occasions, threatened to take his own life. He and his wife separated several years ago and he lived in the shack by himself. He has two children, Helen Irene, aged six, and William Henry, seven. Her served four years with the Canadian Army during the war, spending most of that time at Brockville.

Mr. Curtis was last seen disappearing into the bush toward his home Tuesday at about 9.15 p.m. He had received some money that afternoon from his employer and had purchased three dozen eggs from William Rowe, father of Carleton Rowe. Curtis had worked for Rowe intermittently during the past 16 years.

He was in a general store in Stanwood, owned and operated by John Rowe, Carleton Rowe's uncle, during the day and had purchased a gallon of coal oil.

Gets No Answer

Describing how he found Curtis, Mr. Rowe says "I pounded on the door but could get no answer there, so I opened the door and walked in. I saw him on the bed. I didn't go right up to him but I figured he was dead when I saw all the blood on the floor. I went out and closed the door and didn't touch anything."

Rowe notified Chief Constable George Hardy, who called in provincial police and the coroner, Dr. W. W. Baker.

Curtis' parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Curtis of Norwood. His brothers are Henry of Dummer Twp., and Frank, a hydro worker. His sisters are Mrs. William Carr of Campbellford; Mrs. M. Lee, Dummer Twp., and Rita of Welcome.

Vaughan Says Criticism Unfair

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP) — R. C. Vaughan, retired Canadian National Railways' system president, said last night that a statement made in the House of Commons by Transport Minister Chevrier regarding the CNR coal supply situation was "unfair and I resent the form in which it was given."

"The one and only reason for the coal scarcity is the coal miners' strike in the United States," said Mr. Vaughan. "If the U.S government could not prevent it and could not persuade the men to go back to the pits, how could I be expected to have any influence upon them?"

(Mr. Chevrier told the Commons that Mr. Vaughan, while CNR president, had disregarded a decision by the company's board of directors setting a stockpile objective for Dec. 31, 1949, of 2,365,000 ton of coal.)

Mr. Vaughan said the CNR would have had plenty of coal to meet any emergency if its orders had been filled.

"Late last summer when it was indicated the trouble would continue in the U.S., the CNR made every effort to secure coal of grades suitable for locomotives from mines in Canada but none was available."

Tombstone Lies Corpse Alive

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP) — Emile Lepage of Lachine told superior court today he is not dead, even if his tombstone says so.

He wants $307 for what he claims was an engraver's error in transposing his own and his wife's names.

He said he engaged Jacques Vincent, tombstone dealer and engraver, in 1945 to do some lettering on the tombstone given him by his father. The inscription was to be for his late wife, and was to read: "Dorila Thauvette, espouse de Emile Lepage."

When the engraver got through with it, said Lepage, the inscription read: "Emile Lepage espoux de Dorila Thauvette."

Spoiled Correction

Lepage said Vincent agreed to make a correction, but spoiled the whole tombstone, which has names of other members of the Lepage family. A new tombstone will cost $300, Lepage said, and he wants back $7 he paid Vincent.

Vincent denied making any mistake. He said the inscription was identical with that given him by Lepage' father. with whom he dealt throughout the undertaking. Chief Justice O. S. Tyndale reserved judgment.

American Confesses Espionage In Hungary

BUDAPEST, Feb. 18 (AP) — American business man Robert A. Vogeler pleaded guilty to spy charges today and said that as an American agent he had been instructed to help atom physicists escape from Hungary.

Calmly confessing to all the charges in the indictment against him, the 38-year-old telephone company executive asked a Hungarian people's court for "a mild sentence."

He said he used his position as assistant vice-president of the International Telephone and Telegraph Company as a "cover for my espionage work."

Ponder Keeping Poacher's Plane

QUEBEC, Feb. 18 (CP) — It still was a toss-up Friday night whether a fish-poaching plane would remain confiscated by the Provincial Government.

The plane, owned by Resaire Fiset of Quebec, was seized by the Quebec Department of Game and Fisheries and three persons, including Fiset, were charged with illegal possession of 50 speckled trout caught through the ice.

It is understood here that it was the first time in Canada's legal history that a privately-owned plane has been seized under a law providing for confiscation of means of transportation used in illegal fishing or hunting. Boats and automobiles have been seized however.

Fiset, Emilien Blondeau and Donat Tanguay—all of Quebec—Friday were fined $100 and costs when they pleaded guilty to the charge.

Big Explosion Heard In USSR

OSLO, Norway, Feb. 18 (CP)—Unconfirmed reports received early today from Kirkenes, in northern Norway, said a terrific explosion was heard on Russian territory Tuesday in or near the nickel producing town of Salmijaervi, in the Petsamo area.

This area was taken from Finland by the Soviet Union under the terms of the peace treaty between the two countries after the Second World War.

The unconfirmed reports said electric power was shut off for 30 hours in Salmijaervi.

Salmijaervi, known as the "nickel town" because of the nickel deposits in the area, lies on the Russian side of a lake near Svanvik, a Norwegian town in the South Varanger country.

Aid Anti-Red. Gov't

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Four British Commonwealth countries have raised a £7,500,000 ($23,250,000) loan by passing the hat around to help the shaky, Red-beset Burmese government. This was rpeorted today by diplomatic officials who identified the countries as Britain, India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

Home Brew Not Beer Bottled Tomato Juice

SIMCOE, Feb. 18—(CP)—The court Friday pondered the case of the 90 bottles of home-made tomato juice that were mistaken for full bottles of beer.

Before the court were Herbert Legresley, who said he came to southwestern Ontario recently from Montreal, and Cullum Evans, a North Carolinan. Each accused the other of taking the bottles from Wilfred Langland's cellar, thinking they held beer.

The court accepted Evans' version, dismissing the charges against him. Legresley was convicted of break-in and theft and remanded for sentence.

'Outright Fraud'—Mother Son Must Return $160,000

TORONTO, Feb. 18. (CP) — In a finding that "undue influence" was used by John J. Clemens of Sudbury in gaining power of Attorney over a $160,000 estate, the Ontario Supreme Court has ordered return of the estate to Clemens' mother.

Mrs. Katherine D. Clemens, now living with a daughter in Philadelphia, attended earlier hearings of the case in a wheel-chair. She said the power of Attorney which she signed at her son's request, was an "outright fraud"". Clemens, a Sudbury chemical engineer, gained control of the estate in 1948.

Mrs. Clemens testified that she meant to give her son $75,000 of the estate left by her husband, a Sudbury brewmaster.

In the judgment handed down Friday, Mr. Justice J. K. Mackay said there had been "undue influence, rather than fraud."

"I am of the opinion that the inescapable conclusion is that the defendant did advise or counsel his mother to effect the transaction which would be to her financial benefit."

Transfer of the estate saved an annual fee paid to the Crown Trust Company, who held the securities.

At the time Clemens gained control the estate was valued at $172,000. At the trial it was said that Mrs. Clemens' daughter had advised her that the son intended to claim all the securities in the estate.

Costs of the action on behalf of the mother were assessed against the son, while costs of the trust company were assessed against the estate.

Hint Careless Smoker Caused Office Fire

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 18 (CP) —Fire which destroyed the offices of Bench, Keogh, Rogers and Grass Dec. 24 was caused by spontaneous combustion or careless smoking, Fire Chief Arthur Burch said at the public inquiry which concluded Friday.

Fire Chief Burch said the fire might have started from spontaneous combustion of rags steeped in some volatile oil used for cleaning or polishing and left partially covered.

He did not think that defective wiring would be the cause of the fire as the building was new and had been passed by inspectors of the Hydro Electric Power Commission.

Loss in the fire will probably run a little higher than the $77,000.

Expect Top Sugar Output Growers Fear Competition

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 (CP)—Canada's sugar production this year is expected to be the highest in history and sugar beet growers are becoming uneasy about foreign competition, government agriculture and trade officials say.

Although the world market for sugar appears stabilized, the officials explained that most of the uneasiness has its roots in the huge sugar refineries of Cuba.

Biggest market for Cuban sugar is the United States, but the U.S. imports sugar only on a quota basis, thus leaving Cuba with surpluses which it is felt she may dump on world markets—including Canada — at rock-bottom prices.

Sugar beet growers therefore have questioned the federal government about raising the tariff barriers against foreign sugar imports as a means of offering better protection for the fast-growing Canadian industry.

However, government officials show little signs of agreeing with the growers, and it appears likely they will make no move to change the tariffs one way or another.

Alberta, which had 30,000 acres under cultivation last year is expected to have 40,000 this year. So is Ontario. Manitoba, another sugar-beet province, is expected to sow the same acreage as last year—12,000. Quebec, fourth of the sugar-beet provinces, is expected to double its acreage from 6,500 to approximately 12,000.

All this will mean more sugar for Canada. Instead of last year's production of 200,000,000 pounds, this year's output may total more than 225,000,000.

Irish Colleen Seeks Australian Dream Man

LONDON, Feb. 18 (Reuters)—Esther Butler, pretty 21-year-old Irish girl from Tipperary, is looking for a husband in Australia because she cannot find her dream "he-man" in Britain.

According to her, all men here are "soft, sloppy and ungallant."

Esther, who works in London, recently saw an Australian film and "fell in love with that beautiful vast country and the open-air type of man who lives there."

So she is advertising in a Sydney newspaper for her ideal specimen of masculinity. He must be "tanned and rugged in appearance, a strapping six-footer and preferably a cattle rancher."

Labor Chiefs Rap Gov't Over Jobless

Failing To Meet Unemployment With Public Works

OTTAWA, Feb. 18—(CP)—The leaders of Canada's two major labor congresses Friday sharply criticized the government for failure to meet the country's growing unemployment problem.

Both Percy Bengough, head of the 460,000-member Trades and Labor Congress, and A. R. Mosher, his counterpart in the 350,000-member Canadian Congress of Labor, said they were "very disappointed at the failure of the government to institute public works programs to lessen unemployment."

Commenting on a report that the number of people seeking work through the National Employment Service was 375,000, the labor leaders warned that the peak in unemployment still has not been reached.

Falling Down

"There can be no question about it," said Mr. Bengough. "The government has fallen down horribly when there is so much work to be done and such a wonderful country to develop."

He said unemployment is "unduly high" in Canada and fast action by the government to halt the trend towards even greater unemployment and hardship "is urgently required."

Want Jobs

Mr. Bengough said it was not enough to tell job seekers that "by and by you are going to get more insurance." The country's job seekers wanted jobs, not insurance. The Throne speech said parliament "will be asked to give consideration to a bill to widen the scope and extend the benefits of unemployment insurance."

Mr. Mosher said the latest Labor Department figures on unemployment "more than justified" a joint statement issued by the CCL and TLC at the beginning of the year warning that unemployment was increasing rapidly.

Western University Elects Queen Of Ball

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 18 (CP)—Joan Thrasher, 19-year-old co-ed with the jet-black hair, from Harrow, Ont. is the new "queen" at the University of Western Ontario.

She was elected Friday night from eight other contestants at the annual university college ball.

Amid the roll of drums and the blare of trumpets, the tall and statuesque all-round girl was crowned queen by Dr. H. R. Kingston, dean of arts and science.

In second-year honor psychology, Joan plans to take up personnel work after graduating. She is well known as a former drum majorette with the U.W.O. band.

Junior Farmers Ask Citizens To Films

ROSENEATH, Feb. 18 (ENS).—Alnwick Junior Farmers were hosts to the people of the community Thursday when the film "Farmers of the Future," was shown. Mr. Jack Buttars, of Plainville was in charge of the film, and also showed three other short pictures. The president, Mr. Reginald Timlin, presided, and the meeting was held in the Township Hall.

Withdraw Opposition

FRANKFURT, Feb. 18 (Reuters)—The western allies have withdrawn their opposition to German firms accepting steel rail contracts placed with them by the Chinese Communist government, high commission officials said Friday night.

Protests Jail Term

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 —(CP)—Alfred Parsons, 36, of Ottawa, who was recently sentenced to five consecutive five-year terms in the penitentiary for holdup, Friday sought leave to appeal the punishment, claiming that it was too severe for a first offence. He pleaded guilty to five charges of store robberies last Jan. 31 and was sentenced to 25 years.

Summary for Sunday: Windy and colder.

Air Shuttle Service Gets Seamen Around

LONDON—(CP)— Flying ship crews to distant ports has become big business.

The Baltic Shipipng Exchange, London's maritime centre, has set up a special section to handle the business. Deals are closed by members of the Air Brokers Association.

Shipowners save large sums by flying seamen to and from ships in specially-chartered aircraft. Long delays in port awaiting passage are eliminated. Lengthy sea voyages during which seamen must be paid are made unnecessary.

"There is a regular flow of crews of seamen being flown back from the Far East to Britain, the Scandinavian countries and other parts of Europe," said one air broker.

"It is a two-way business. The crews of ships being launched in England for Norwegian owners are being flown over here, while other crews going on leave are taken home to the Scandinavian countries by air, the replacement crew being first flown here."

Canadian crews were flown to various overseas destinations during last summer's shipping strike.

Top-Heavy Clothing Invitation-To Pain

MONTREAL —(CP)— Women who wear furs upstairs and nylons downstairs expose themselves to some of the rheumatic diseases.

Dr. Henry P. Wright, vice-president of the Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, told a meeting of the Quebec division of the Society that in a two-storey building, the lower storey is heated so as to provide sufficient warmth in the upper storey.

"How then can women not expect to suffer pains if they wear a fur in the upper storey and nylons in their lower?" the doctor said.

Union Head Fired

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP) — Leo Guindon, president of the Montreal Alliance of Roman Catholic Teachers, said Friday night in a radio address that his dismissal as a teacher by the Roman Catholic School Commission was for "union activities". The commission claimed he was dismissed because he refused to resume a teaching post after having been on leave of absence for several years. The commission also claimed the dismissal was ordered because Guindon had set a bad example during last year's teachers' strike.

Dangerous Driver

MONTREAL, Feb. 18. (CP) — John Joseph McKinnon, 28, of Green Valley, Ont., pleaded guilty here Friday to a charge of dangerous driving and was fined $100 and costs. The dangerous driving charge followed an accident in which McKinnon's 30-year-old sister was killed. He was originally charged with manslaughter.

Divorcing Hero

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP) —Actress Wanda Hendrix filed divorce papers Friday against the most-decorated United States soldier of the Second World War, Audie Murphy. The 21-year-old screen player and Murphy, 25, were married Jan. 8, 1949. She charged "grievous mental suffering."

400 Mules Burned

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 18 (AP)—Between 350 and 400 mules were burned to death early today in a fire that gutted the building occupied by the National Stockyards Commission Company.

Fireworks Due In Parliament As Session Opens

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Some of the major fireworks in the debate on the speech from the Throne will be set off Monday during speeches of the leaders of Canada's four major political parties.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, will start formal debate on the Throne speech read Thursday at the opening of the second session of the 21st parliament. He will be followed by Prime Minister St. Laurent. Then will come M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit leader.

Formalities opening free-swinging debate were completed Friday, F. R. Larson (L., Kindersley) and Armand Dumas (L., Villeneuve) moved and seconded the traditional motion for adoption of an address in reply to the speech from the Throne. The address thanks the Governor-General for having read the speech.

To Announce Successor

Justice Minister Garson said that possibly within a week he will be able to announce appointment of a successor to F. A. McGregor, former Chief Combines Investigator, who resigned Jan. 1 in protest against failure of the government to table his flour-milling report within the 15 days required by law.

In opening the Throne-speech debate, Mr. Larson, a Saskatchewan farmer, said he was glad to hear the government intends to extend unemployment insurance benefits at this session.

Reverse Trend

However, he believed the unemployment situation would be relieved if there was a reversal of the wartime trend which saw many people leave rural areas to work in large centres.

"There is talk of unemployment in the larger centres, but I find farmers having a hard time to get good men to do farm work," said Mr. Larson.

Mr. Larson suggested changes in income tax procedure; stressed the need for national unity; touched on defence problems; mentioned currency and trade difficulties, and appealed to Labor leaders to act as statesmen.

Temporary Track Used

But for months a grade separate project has been under way to elevate the tracks through Rockville Centre. So trains have been operating on a temporary one-track line.

George A. Arkwright, State Public Service Commissioner, said that one-way operations were normal procedure during a grade separation job.

An east-bound passenger train out of New York City was supposed to hold up on a siding until a west-bound train from Babylon cleared it on the main line.

The eastbound train failed to hold back.

One of the first eye-witness accounts of he wreck came from 21-year-old Paul Back, a college student going home from Brooklyn. Said Back:

"There was a tremendous shock. My head hit the wall and the lights went out in all the cars.

Heard Screams

"I got up and walked toward the exit door and I heard screams for help. So I started to investigate the westbound train.

"There were a lot of people lying around seriously cut and hurt —broken bones and so forth.

"One man was screaming 'Kill me, please kill me.' He thought his back was broken.

Witnesses said the first cars of both trains telescoped, one coming to rest above the other at a 45-degree angle.

Workmen ripped down signal houses, rail-side shacks and a small garage to give rescue personnel elbow room along the right of way.

The Long Island operates out of Pennsylvania Station in New York City, carrying hundreds of thousands of commuters to and from Long Island each day.

30,000 Spectators

Police estimated that as many as 30,000 spectators ringed the ghastly heap of wreckage at one time.

Many were anxious residents of Rockville Centre and nearby Long Island villages, trembling, shaken and in dread doubt about the fate of loved ones aboard the ill-fated trains.

The wreckage did not burn.

Priests and clergymen elbowed their way through the milling throngs to give what comfort they could do to the injured.

District Attorney Gulotta said of Motorman Keifer:

"It's a miracle that he escaped."

The motorman of the westbound train also escaped death or serious injury. He was George W. Markin of Astoria, NY.

The motorman's tiny compartment is in the front of the train, on the right hand side.

The impact came on the left hand side.

There was no estimate of the speed of the trains when they met.

Canadians Lead Western Lands In Arctic Work

DONJEX RIVER, Y.T., Feb. 18 —Exercise Sweetbriar is the most important thing the Canadian Army has done since the second world war—an experiment in conquest that is like no war Canadians have ever known.

In its first five days, it is demonstrated that development of northern equipment has been one of the Defence Department's major post-war efforts. It also showed that Canada in important respects is leading the western nations in its fight to know and beat the Arctic. But there still is a long, long way to go.

A year ago the department was told it had to be known if troops could fight and be maintained in the sub-Arctic.

The Ice-box of America—the Donjek is 60 miles from the meteorological shrine of Snag, North America's coldest spot—has become a laboratory. The Alaska Highway is a physical test tube that has bestowed temperatures of 40 below zero upon those who have come here to know its worst. Snag has known 81 below.

In its first half, the joint Canadian-American manoeuvre has emerged as bitter prophecy of what war here would be like. But it has also thrown back a fear of the unknown that is the northland's primary weapon.

Lt.-Col. Donald Cameron of the Princess Pat's Canadian Light Infantry, the main Canadian unit involved, is satisfied men can fight here. Senior officers agree.

Dead, Living

The stench of the burning hair in the seat stuffing spread over the crowd, which misunderstood its meaning.

"Oh, they're burning alive in there," voices gasped. "Why don't they get them out?"

No victims burned, however, but many had been so badly torn that bits of flesh and parts of limbs hung on the jagged steel edges where the front cars ground together upon the full-length aisle and ripped out rows of seats.

From one window a dangling hand dropped.

A head slumped from another; someone had covered it with a white handkerchief.

Inside another window the rescuers saw a man's body, opened from throat to thighs.

Needed Torches

Hardly a body—live or dead—could be freed without help from the torches.

The workers burned through the sides, the roofs, the windows, and once inside they burned through steel beams and girders twisted atop the victims.

The hiss and flash of the white-hot torch flames mixed with the moans of the injured and the muffled orders of the doctors.

After the torches had done all possible, six dead and two injured still remained in the fantastic wreckage.

To burn further was hopeless and railroad officials ordered their Deisel wrecker to move up with its big crane to wrench the cars apart by main force.

The last body was removed at 4:45 a.m. EST.

The Unwelcome Guest

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 18 — (ENS)—Visitors had arrived at the adjoining stores operated by Mrs. Clara Webster and Miss Molly Thompson before the two women arrived to open shop early Thursday morning.

A skunk, which had found its way underneath the building, had left its calling card. Both doors were wide open all day, but thanks to the unwelcome visitor, business was far from brisk!

OBITUARIES

JOHN AGNEW

John Agnew, RR 5, North Monaghan (Lansdowne St. West) died Friday in his 86th year after a short illness in hospital. Mr. Agnew was a retired foreman of the CNR and a member of Bethel Baptist Church.

School Grants

schools to accommodate a growing population and of hiring additional teachers, often far exceeded the limit on which the government paid grants.

Unfair Distribution

In establishing communities, many schools were faced only with operating expenses and received the lion's share of grants.

Mr. Porter estimated that grants in 1950 will amount to more than $41,000,000, or about $5,000,000 more than last year. The increase, however, is normal and would likely have been about the same under the old system. The effect of the new system, he said, is to spread government funds more evenly.

The debate over Hansard was started by Premier Frost's motion that the Speaker be authorized to distribute mimeographed copies of Hansard to members of the gallery. It made no provision for printing the report or providing copies for the public.

The wording of the Premier's motion put the government in the position of voting either for limited distribution of Hansard or no distribution at all. After dividing on the amendment the members decided not to have a recorded vote on the main motion.

Test Syphilis

The CCF presented a bill requiring persons about to be married to undergo a blood test for syphilis. Another provided equal pay for men and women for equal work. A third bill would limit overtime worked to eight hours in any week.

No Apology

LONDON, Feb. 18 (CP)—The Labor party has declined to apologize for allowing photographs of two Conservatives to be used in a socialist leaflet. The two Conservatives, Barbara Dursford and T. J. Heath, were pictured in a propaganda pamphlet entitled "We live by the land." Both said they did not know their photographs were to be used for political purposes, and demanded an apology.

Want Explanation

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The United States has asked Britain to explain its plan to sell Communist China a huge order of steel rails. The order is believed to run into tens of thousands of tons of railroad rails costing many millions of dollars. Diplomatic officials said the American request was not a complaint, but merely for information.

U.S. Train Wreck Said Worst In Four Years

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—(AP)—The head-on crash of two Long Island passenger trains at Rockville Centre, N.Y., Friday night was the worst train wreck in the United States in four years.

At least 28 were killed and more than 100 injured, the greatest toll of death since April 25, 1946, when 45 were killed in a train accident at Naperville, Ill.

Other previous major train train wrecks in U.S. history include:

Aug. 9, 1945—Michigan, N.D., 34 killed.
Dec. 31, 1944—Ogden, Utah, 50 killed.
Sept. 14, 1944—Terre Haute, Ind., 29 killed.
Aug. 4, 1944—Near Stockton, Ga., 47 killed.
July 6, 1944—Jellico, Tenn., 35 killed.
Dec. 16, 1943—Lumberton, N.C., 73 killed.
Sept. 6, 1943—Frankfort Junction, Philadelphia, 79 killed.
Aug. 30, 1943—Wayland, N.Y., 29 killed.
July 31, 1940—Cuyahoga Falls, O., 43 killed.
April 19, 1940 — Little Falls, N.Y., 31 killed.
June 19, 1938—Miles City, Mont. 46 killed.
June 17, 1925—Hackettstown, N.J., 51 killed.
July 9, 1918—Nashville, Tenn., 115 killed.
June 22, 1912—Ivanhoe, Ind., 68 killed.
March 21, 1910—Green Mountain, Iowa, 55 killed.
March 1, 1910 — Wellington, Wash., 96 killed.
Dec. 30, 1906—Washington, D.C., 53 killed.
Aug. 7, 1904—Eden, Colo., 96 killed.
Dec. 23, 1903—Dawson, Pa., 65 killed.
Oct. 10, 1888—Mud Run, Pa., 55 killed.
Aug. 10, 1887—Chatsworth, Ill., 81 killed.
Dec. 29, 1876—Ashtabula, O., 84 killed.

Most serious train disasters in the world's history were at Nowy Dwor, Poland, on Oct. 22, 1949, when 200 were killed, and near Paris, on Christmas eve, 1933, when 160 were killed and more than 300 were injured.

Adjudicator Praises Windsor Presentation

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 18 (CP). —English adjudicator Maxwell was more receptive Friday night to the second program of the Western Ontario Drama League festival when the Windsor Theatre Guild presented "Kind Lady," a psychological drama written in England by Edward Chodorov, from a Hugh Walpole short story.

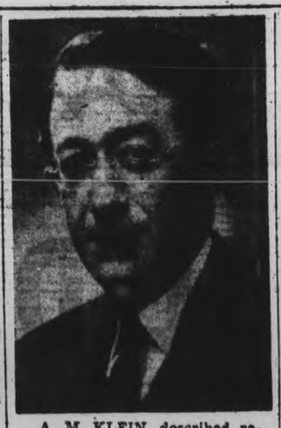
At the Thursday night opening he criticized the Players' Guild of Hamilton for attempting something out of the amateur class—Samson Raphaelson's "Jason." He called the comedy itself "trivial rubbish."

Of the Windsor Guild's effort, he said he could not give 100 per cent praise, "but I can give quite a lot of commendaton."

Festival of four, one-act plays closes to-night with a play by the Welland Little Theatre.

County Prisoners Riot

SUMMERSIDE, PEI, Feb. 18—(CP). — Seven prisoners staged a small riot in the Prince Edward County Jail here Friday night. They barricaded themselves in a back room and defied all comers but they were subdued without injuries about 90 minutes later by three town police, five RCMP, and two jailers. Jail authorities said they believed the men had been supplied liquor from an unknown source.



A. M. KLEIN, described recently by an Irish critic as "easily the foremost poet in Canada today" will speak in the Jewish Community Hall, Reid St., on Sunday night under the auspices of the Jewish Welfare Council, to open Brotherhood Week.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18 (CP)—Oats and barley prices moved in a narrow range Friday in a dull session of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Both commodities managed to firm. Rye came in for buying for American accounts, which kept prices on an even but narrow keel. Flax was listless Exporters put in a busy day, with allocation of 200,000 bushels of wheat to the United Kingdom, 335,000 to Japan and 265,000 to Spain. Class 2 wheat moved up in price 1 cent, closing at $2.16.

Churchill Asks High-Level Talks With Reds

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP) — Winston Churchill, defying censure by his Labor opponents in Britain's election campaign, repeated his plea Friday night for high level talks betwen the west and Russia on atomic bomb control.

Prime Minister Clement Attlee promised to comment on the proposal in a political broadcast tonight.

The 75-year-old Tory leader reiterated his call for east-west atom control talks—outside the United Nations—in a final broadcast to the country allotted to his partly over the CBC.

Attacked by Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin for stepping into the international ring in his Edinburgh speech last Tuesday, Churchill defended himself.

Must Agree

"It is only by the agreement of the greatest powers," Churchill declared, "that security can be given to ordinary folk against the annihilating war with atomic or hydrogen bombs or bacteriological horrors."

He angrily rejected Bevin's accusation that his suggestion was a political stunt.

"By this," Churchill growled, "he (Bevin) only showed how far his mind dwells below the true level of events."

Churchill commented that "the United Nations cannot function while it is rent asunder by the conflicting forces of the two worlds which are ranged against each other."

Liberal Splinter Out To Defeat Socialism First

By DON GILBERT

LONDON, Feb. 18 —(CP)—The National Liberal Party, fighting the Feb. 23 General Election in alliance with the Conservatives, says in its manifesto that 'our first immediate duty is to secure the defeat of Socialism."

"This means open and honorable co-operation with Conservatives," the policy statement said.

The National Liberals are separate from the regular Liberal party, which is equally opposed to Labor and Conservatives. The manifesto's points include:

1. Social security against the "common adversities of life" but limited "by what the national economy can fairly sustain."

2. Reduction of expenditure and lower income and purchase taxes.

3. Opposition to all further nationalization projects.

4. Opposition to a "closed shop" in Labor relations.

5. Commodity markets should be reopened so Britain "will again become the market place of the world."

6. For farmers and farm workers: "secure markets, remunerative prices, good wages, and the best possible housing and other amenities, in return for effective production."

7. Bulk buying to end when current contracts have run their course.

Of trade and commonwealth relations, the National Liberals manifesto says:

"It is our duty to work towards the widest flow of multilateral trade between all nations, without which Britain's economy can never prosper.

Gas Department Shows $2,458 Profit

During 1949, the Gas Department of the Utilities Commission showed a profit of $2,458.68. In 1948 there was a deficit of $9,621.87.

These figures were revealed in the annual report of the department for the past year.

Total revenue increased by about $1,600 and operating and other expenses decreased by $11,500. The latter decrease was due to a considerable reduction in labor costs at the gas plant on account of the change to propane gas. Only three men are now required where nine were needed formerly. The change to propane was made on July 1, 1948. 400,000 gallons of liquid propane have been used during the year.

When the plant was started the price of propane was 14 cents per gallon, delivered at the plant. It now costs 12.4 cents, and in September of 1949 it was even lower, at 10.9 cents.

The total sales of gas for the year were 48 million cubic feet, and for 1948, after making allowance for the difference in heating value, the corresponding total was 53 million. This is a decrease of 11%.

Greatest loss in sales was to domestic consumers. At the end of 1948 there were 3,232 of these, and at the end of 1949 there were 3,124, a loss of 108.

The average consumption per consumer per month was 710 cubic feet, and the average monthly bill was $2.10.

Consumption Down

Total domestic consumption in 1949 was 27 million cubic feet, 11.5% less than in 1948.

The total commercial sales were 7¼ million cubic feet, which was a little higher than the previous year. There are 215 of these consumers, mostly restaurants and laundries.

Industrial sales total 13½ million cubic feet, compared with 14½ million in 1948. However, for the last six months, there was a slight increase, and there is reason to believe that sales for 1950 will be much greater.

There was only one extension to the distribution mains during the year, 100 feet of 3" main to serve an industry on Park Street North.

Sixteen new gas services were laid, and 24 repaired.

One advantage of the new gas is that there are fewer frozen gas services because of its dry nature. In the year 1948 there were 321 frozen services as against 13 in 1949.

Key Clubs Meet For Oratory In Belleville

Peterborough Key Clubs, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, are being well represented at the Ontario - Quebec - Maritimes District convention in Belleville this weekend. Twenty-eight boys, 16 from the St. Peter's High School club and 12 from the PCVS club, will attend, accompanied by three Kiwanians, Walter Howell, Dennis Fitzgerald and Charles Huffman.

Peterborough will be one of a few cities with two Key Clubs from one Kiwanis Club; London and Ottawa are the only other clubs in Ontario with two.

The theme of the convention is "Declare Yourself for Democracy". The boys will discuss the extension of club, service projects for the year, ideals of clubs and elect officers for the year.

As at all the conventions an oratorical contest will be held on the topic "Making Democracy Work". The winner will speak for the Canadian Clubs in the International contest in Columbus, Ohio in April. Last year William Dingan, a Peterborough boy, won the Canadian honor and represented Canada in the contest in Washington, D. C.

This year Jack Kennaley of St. Peter's High School and Sam Murphy and Jim Fowler of the PCVS club will represent Peterborough in the speaking contest.

BRADENTOWN, Fla., FebS. 18 —(CP). — Charles Sidney Leary 60, former British Columbia Works Minister, died Friday at his island cottage near here.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS' ASSOC. of Peterborough heard A. A. Johnston, regional manager for Canada of the Prudential Insurance Company of American at its monthly meeting Friday.

100 Underwriters Hear Insurance Official

A. A. Johnstone, regional manager for Canada of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, was guest speaker Friday at the monthly meeting of Peterborough Life Underwriters' Association.

Roy Irwin, president of the Peterborough Association, was in the chair and nearly 100 members were present.

Ed Henwood, manager of Peterborough office of the Prudential Company, introduced Mr. Johnstone.

Hysterical Blonde Nearly Crashes Plane

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP) — A wild "kiss-and-kick" battle between a hysterical blonde and the co-pilot aboard a chartered New York-to-Florida plane was reported to police Frirday.

Co-pilot T. C. Salee, 32, said the struggle lasted 15 minutes and threatened to send the plane crashing out of control.

Finally, the pilot, K. H. Dubanowich, made a shaky, unscheduled landing at Washington National Airport.

The woman was identified as Willie Jane Frost, 38, of Coral Gables, Fla. She was taken to hospital.

Salee said the woman chartered the plane in New York for a trip to Miomi.

Silk Mill Shuts Down Owners 'Centralize'

SMITHS FALLS, Feb. 18 (CP) The local plant of the Superior Silk Mills has been closed down in what officials describe as an effort to centralize work in the interests of economy.

Machinery in the plant will be moved to Prescott, where the company has head offices, and plant employees here will be given a chance of employment at Prescott, said J. G. Andrews, plant manager.

5 Arthritis Clinics To Open In Ontario

Pope Raps Bombs

VATICA NCITY, Feb. 18 (AP) —Pope Pius said Friday too much is known of "hateful chemical processes"—an obvious reference to the atomic and hydrogen bombs. In a statement published by the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano, he called again for an awakening of public opinion throughout the world against "abuse of force" that restricts freedom of religion and thought.

Rosa's Methods Carried On In Opera Group

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Seventy-five years ago, Carl Rosa, a native of Hamburg, came to Britain with the idea of presenting opera to people who had never heard it.

Today the company he started —the Carl Rosa Opera Company— is an established institution.

It has played in almost every theatre in Britain and been heard by more than 50,000,000 persons.

Present owners of the company are Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Phillips, who bought it when the company was financially low after the First World War.

Phillips, now 83, follows the fortunes of the Carl Rosa from his pleasant hoem in Campden House Terrace, London, while his wife travels around with the company, attending rehearsals and productions.

Had Great Faith

"We are proud of the fact that we have perpetuated Carl Rosa's work," Mrs. Phillips said. "He first came here in 1865 and played his violin at the Crystal Palace. Then he went to the United States, but he had great faith that the people of Britain would love opera if it were played to them.

"He returned here and formed his own company. It opened in 1875 at the Princess Theatre in Oxford Street.

"Gradually, he built up a tradition. Today, although we sometimes make changes to keep up to date, most of Carl's methods are still carried on. They have become a kind of unwritten law."

The Carl Rosa recently started a two-month tour of London's outer suburbs. Because of the election, most halls suitable for rehearsals are in brisk demand and prices are high.

"Sometimes it is impossible to find a vacant place anywhere," Mrs. Phillips said, "but we manage somehow."

Public Excluded

QUEBEC, Feb. 18 — (CP). — Court officials said today that the public at large will not be admitted to the trial starting on February 23, of J. Albert Guay, Quebec jeweller charged with the murder of his wife in a plane crash at Sault au Cochon, Que., last September.

1,000 At Funeral

WINNIPEG, Feb. 18 (CP). — More than 1,000 persons Friday attended the funeral of E. A. (Eddie) Armstrong, city editor of the Winnipeg Free Press. The 40-year-old newspaperman and sports offiical died Wednesday of a heart attack a few hours after playing in a curling match.

ZOOT SUITS, with their drape shapes and "reet" pleats, aren't as new as you might imagine. Although the name came into the language on the heels of the jitterbug craze, the long-drape coats and the peg-top trousers were in vogue as far back as 1907. The dandy at right is a product of that year, which saw more color applied to men's wear. Note the almost brimless, high-crown, fancy-ribboned straw hat and the choke collar. The solid gate in the "neat set of threads" at left belongs in the zoot suit tradition of World War II. The waistline of the high-rise pants stops just short of the Adam's apple, adorned by a flyaway bow-tie. Zoot suiters suffered a decline when wartime material shortages forced curtailment of their coattails.

JOHN A. MARSH, MBE, noted international speaker and former Member of the Dominion Parliament, will address the Rotary Club at its luncheon Monday. Mr. Marsh was educated at Peterborough Collegiate and Toronto University and has since held a number of public appointments.

John A. Marsh Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at the Rotary Club's luncheon Monday will be John A. Marsh, MBE, a former Peterborough Collegiate student with a distinguished career in public service.

At one time a businessman and purchasing executive with several Canadian firms and the Canadian Government, Mr. Marsh became a Member of the Dominion Parliament in 1936, holding the seat for four years.

From 1940-41, he was director of purchase investigation for the Canadian Government and was special assistant deputy minister, Dept. of Munitions and Supply and Dept. of Reconstruction between the years 1942 and 1945.

During this period he was loaned to other Departments three months of each year for publicizing Canada abroad. In this capacity Mr. Marsh toured the United States and the United Kingdom on special assignments.

National Speaker.

During the past 15 years Mr. Marsh has toured Canada several times as national speaker for the Association of Canadian Clubs; was the Canadian speaker at the U.S.-Canadian Goodwill Congress in 1942; has spoken at 200 institutes for International Understanding in 24 States of the U.S. under the auspices of Rotary International.

At the request of the British Government in 1945, Mr. Marsh toured the British Isles speaking on various phases of Canadian life and business. In 1939 he was featured as Hamilton's Man of the Year and as Canada's Man of the Week in 1942.

Nude Statues To Go On Trial

MONTREAL, Feb. 18—(CP)—Robert Rousill's controversial Family Group is going to go on trial.

Last November, Roussil, a young war veteran sculptor, carved a 14-foot family group of three out of a single tree trunk. The figures were nude and anatomically complete. When it was taken to an art exhibition, there were complaints. The group disappeared—only to turn up on Sherbrooke Street. Police "arrested" the group.

Friday night it was learned that several art lovers plan to obtain a 12-man "jury" of Montreal art critics who will be asked to judge on the statues' merits.

Liked Fires—Jailed

ST. JEROME, Que. Feb. 18 —(CP).— Olibert Senecal, 40-year-old floorwasher at the Roman Catholic Agricultural College of Oka, Que., who admitted setting fire twice at the institution because he loved the sight of flames, Friday was sentenced to 10 years in Penitentiary.

Trouble—But For Whom?

The U.S. Secretary of State, Mr. Dean Acheson, says that the newly released agreement between Russia and China means the beginning of trouble for the Chinese. Mr. Acheson's pronouncement is undoubtedly true, but we feel that it does not go far enough; we feel that the agreement may also mean a good deal of trouble for Russia.

• • •

Superficially the agreement appears to be a very clever one. It is conceived in somewhat cynical terms; Russia shows her generosity to China by giving back several things—Manchurian industries, the Manchurian railway, Port Arthur and Dairen—which she originally took from China. Russia gives China a credit of $300,000,000 in Russian money, to be repaid in Chinese goods. The agreement provides for a thirty-year alliance, and for a speedy conclusion of peace with Japan.

• • •

As well as the terms which have been made public there are probably some secret agreements. Russia may have agreed to send troops into China to help complete the Communist struggle there; that would give Russian troops access to Chinese bases and would put Soviet ships in the China Sea—a state of affairs by no means pleasing for the U.S.A. But the biggest and most obvious advantage to Russia in the agreement is that it provides for a huge Communist land area, and for 700,000,000 people, all ostensibly Communist in sympathy. That appears to be a great victory for Russian diplomatic strategy.

• • •

Nevertheless we stick to our contention that Russia may find trouble in this Chinese alliance. The Chinese are a remarkable people, strongly tenacious of their own way of life. That way of life is by no means the highly-organized, solemnly efficient Communist way. If the Russians can succeed in changing Chinese nature they will have done what no other conqueror has been able to do. Further, the Chinese are deeply devoted to China. To say that they are nationalistic in their thinking is to give a wrong impression if "nationalistic" is understood in the Western sense. But they are not readily influenced by strangers. It has taken two months of negotiation to arrive at the Russo-Chinese treaty, and there have been strong indications that Mao, the Chinese leader, is not the perfect satellite in his attitude toward the U.S.S.R. He may, after a period of Russian assistance, prove to be as awkward as Tito.

• • •

When Mr. Acheson says that trouble has begun for the Chinese people he speaks truly, and we must feel deep pity for that abused and suffering mass of humanity. But we cannot believe that the Chinese leaders, with that huge country at their disposal, are ready to take orders for thirty years from Russia. And Russia will find, as every other invader or conqueror of China has found, the difficulty of compelling the Chinese to do anything which they do not wish to do. The difficulties of an Empire, which Russia has already met with in the West, are about to be hugely magnified in the East.

A Feeling For Time

A culturally debilitating and nationally stunting weakness among Canadians is our inability to feel a past. Time for us is our own personal day and tomorrow's hour of progress. 'There's no time like the present' is our up-and-doing slogan. 'The twentieth century belongs to Canada', or 'the future is in the hands of youth'. We pay a modicum of lip-service to 'our glorious past' but we do not feel this past in the marrow of our bones. There may be no time like the present (there never is) but there were other times to beacon us. The present century may be a Canadian prize but we are products of many centuries before. The youth of today is the man of tomorrow, but a narrow-sighted one if he cannot look over his shoulder. We live on the fringe of time—the tatting without the doily. We have a vision of tomorrow without the dream of yesterday which makes the future sweet.

The flaw in most Canadians has been unavoidable. The country is new and we are new to it. Our buildings are new: in Northern Ontario a house forty years old is ancient, in south-eastern Ontario a building a century old is antique. We have a long national history, but most of it is French-Canadian and largely outside our sympathy, or British and not of this country specifically, or aboriginal. Our grandfathers were immigrants, usually humble folk who had to live from day to day.

One of the more refreshing aspects of Quebec is the aura of time — unique in Canada—which emanates from it. Of us all, the French-Canadians, who sing truly of O Canada, terre de nos aieux, of the land of their forefathers, are best poised in the stream of Canadian time. We others sing O Canada, our home and native land without feeling a deep sense of home, and often with a lie on our lips, since Canada is not native to all residents of our tongue.

Time itself will remedy the defect, if we do not scorn the backward look, and allow buildings to age without refurbishing them in chromium. And there are agencies at work now to bridge the gap, one of them being the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada. This advises the National Parks Service in its restoration, preservation and administration of historic sites and parks, and the commemoration of the public service of outstanding persons. A Fort Henry is restored; a museum put up at Fort Beausejour; a tablet recalls an ancient Indian portage in New Brunswick; a cut-stone monument with tablet is erected on the grounds of the Gananoque High School to commemorate the events that took place there during the War of 1812-14; a tablet is placed in the memorial room of the Kingston City Hall, recollecting the work of Sir Richard Cartwright; another tablet in Belleville Public Library is for the writer Sir Gilbert Parker, Bart. And so all across Canada these visual records to men and events of our Canadian past are being given the present, through this Federal agency. It is a work of great national importance, a just and decent summons to time past which we disregard only if we are hollow of heart and over-stuffed with the present.

Something New To See In Toronto

Much as Peterborough people may deride Toronto, they all go to that commercial metropolis, to check up on relatives, fashions, the stock market, the zoo, or the city's morals. We discovered the other week when we paid a cousinly call on the place that there is a new Toronto interest: the subway a-building. Half the access to the Union Station and the Empire's Largest Inn is blocked. And Yonge Street is paved with wood. The prodigality of timber in down-town Toronto is remarkable, and the daring use to which it is being put is eye-taking. Huge props, scantling a foot or two thick, millions of board feet of lumber, are strewn all over the place. What the clever engineers are doing is to dig up the street superficially, put in props set on steel and wood, and then give the street a wooden surface. When that work is accomplished, traffic flows again (as now on Yonge Street), and men and machines tunnel below, digging the big long hole which will eventually be Canada's first underground street railway. Next time you are in Toronto on the way to the zoo, take a half hour to inspect this really remarkable work. It is as good as seeing a new Customs House rise on Charlotte street.

Brotherhood Week

Peterborough gives little evidence of racial or religious intolerance, and there is no reason why it should. Nevertheless, the fact of having here a healthy, easy mingling of people of various creeds should not blind us to its benefits and virtues. So "Brotherhood Week", which begins tomorrow on proclamation of the Mayor, and which is being observed throughout Canada, gives us occasion to assess the degree of tolerance, to be thankful for it and to practice what we preach. The Week is sponsored by the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Look at the future"—catchline on a fortune teller's advertisement. We'd rather not. Looking at the present gives use all the headache we can endure.

An economist in the U.S.A. says that in 30 years people in that country will be twice as wealthy as they are today. Very rich, or fried to a crisp in their own fat—it will be a tossup.

A fashion writer says that "the average gentleman's clothing bill for a year is over $500". If that is true there is a lot of cut-rate gentility in this country.

The Marchbanks Correspondence

To Mrs. Gomeril Marchbanks
Dear Aunt Bathsheba:

Upon the whole I think you would be wrong to kill Uncle Gomeril. I recognize, of course, that mercy-killings are all the rage these days, and that any jury which knew him would probably compliment you on a good job well done, but there would be a lot of disagreeable publicity about the whole thing, and you don't know what sort of people you might have to meet before the affair blew over. Newspapermen, and such riffraff.

Don't think that I have not given a lot of thought to Uncle Gomeril's condition. He has had acidity for years, and it seems to be getting worse. In fact, I think he is the sourest old man I have ever met. It would be a mercy to put him out of his misery, though the blow to the bicarbonate of soda industry might cause a sag in the stock-market. It is dreadful to have to watch him suffer, and it is even worse to hear him, but I suggest that you look upon this as a cross, and bear it as best you can. Mercy-killing, as a means of putting inconvenient people out of the way, has its attractions, but there is always the chance that there might be some crackpot on the jury who would ask toward whom the mercy was directed.

Therefore, dear aunt, I suggest that you order in another keg of soda, buy yourself a good book on Yoga, and put this tempting scheme out of your mind. The Marchbanks are a long-lived tribe, but it will get him at last.

Your affct. nephew,
SAMUEL.

To Miss Minerva Hawser
Dear Miss Hawser:

Your suggestion that a few people in Canada try to revive the lost art of letter-writing is a worthy one, and I am flattered that you should include me in your group. I am grateful for the copy of "The Maple Leaf Letter Writer" which you have sent me, and I have read it with great care. But there is one point on which I disagree with the book, and that is its insistance on absolutely conventional spelling. Although I am myself a fair speller, I have thought for some time that a reasonable amount of personal choice should be allowed in this matter. After all, the passion for spelling according to a dictionary is only about a hundred years old; every writer of any importance before that spelled a few words at least in his own way. If you doubt me, look at the letters of Keats, Byron, Shelley and others of that era. And during the eighteenth century and earlier spelling was a free-for-all.

Only the other day I was looking at a book of letters from the seventeenth century, in which one writer expressed himself thus: "As for Mr. A——, I esteem him no better than a Pigg". Consider that word "Pigg". The extra "g" is not strictly necessary, but what power it gives to the word! How pig-like it makes poor Mr. A——! How vivid his swinishness becomes! And look at that capital "P". It seems to enrich the sentence by calling special attention to the most important word.

I am not a spelling reformer. I am a laissez-faire liberal in matters of spelling. I do not care that our present system of spelling wastes time and paper. I firmly believe that both time and paper are of less importance than the perfect expression of the writer's meaning. Anyone who thinks otherwise is a Pedantick Booby.

Yours for orthographicall freedom,
SAMUEL MARCHBANKS.

To Amyas Pilgarlic, Esq.
Dear Pil:

The Americans are a remarkable people, and I admire them quite a lot. But I never cease to be astonished at their powers of self-deception which are, like so many of their institutions, gigantic, collossal, mammoth, gargantuan, jumbo, atomic and merely large. Today I saw a book in a cigar store which was called "Ballet — The Emergence of an American Art"? Since when, I wonder, did ballet become an American art? During the past ten years a number of American dancers have, by dint of the whole-souled energy which characterizes their nation, learned to jump as high, and twiddle as dizzily as dancers in other lands, and undoubtedly they sweat and puff more while doing so. But because ballet has gained what may properly be called a toehold in the U.S.A., does that make it an American art? Ponder before replying.

A number of U.S. book critics have recently hailed the "discovery" of Joyce Carey, the novelist. Before his epiphany in the U.S.A., Carey had languished in the obscurity of England, where nobody ever heard of him except Englishmen and such English-reading people as Canadians, who have had all his books for some years.

It is always an interesting point in a nation's history when it becomes so great that it does not believe that anything has real existence outside itself. The Romans reached it. The British kept it up during most of the nineteenth century. Will Canada, I wonder, ever achieve this delightful form of insanity? Ponder well upon this.

Yours,
SAM.

To Chandos Fribble, Esq.
My dear Fribble:

You know everything; can you tell me when the last writer of religious tracts died? I assume that all of them are dead, for though I am constantly receiving tracts through the mails from people who are anxious about my soul, I have yet to read one which appears to have been written within this century.

Yesterday I received a fresh batch. One of them shows a picture of a business man (called "Mr. O. U. Foolish man") confronted by the spectre of death in his office. He sits at a roll-top desk, on the top of which are two large bags marked "$"; he wears a white vest and at his feet is a spittoon. Now, Fribble, let us apply Sherlock Holmes' methods to this picture; the roll-top desk, the white vest and the spittoon all place it in the nineteenth century; what business man uses such trumpery now? They all sit at steel desks and spit in the bottom drawer of the filing cabinet.

Another tract in this bunch—there were seven altogether—is called "My Experience With The Tobacco Habit". It begins with this information: "I was a slave to tobacco for twenty years; Mother and Father used tobacco and I had the poison in my blood; Mother found me with her snuff box, when I was about eight years old". Later he says that he would pick up used quids of chewing tobacco from the street and chew them.

The last woman I know of who took snuff was my great-grandmother, who was born in 1800 and who lived to be 87; she did not chew it; she sniffed it. As for chewing tobacco, the habit has completely vanished from all settlements where civilization has a firm hold. Obviously this tract was written not less than sixty years ago.

Is no strong, new generation of tract-writers coming up to continue the work? Or will this remarkable literary form continue to rely on its past glories? Here is a meaty subject for research, Fribble.

Your admirer and crony,
S. MARCHBANKS.

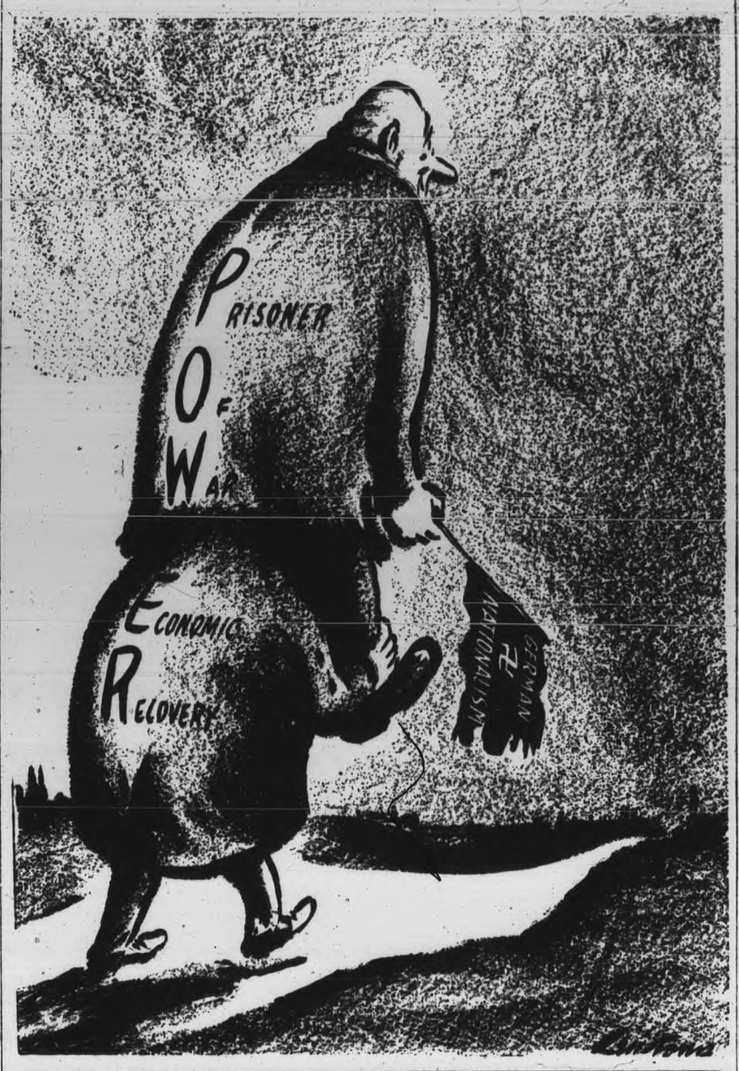
THE ROAD BACK



Letters To The Editor

NEUROTIC WIFE REPLIES

Sir: My portrayal of the harassed and inefficient housewife seems to have met with far more success than even I anticipated in provoking a few candid opinions from those who would otherwise have remained sitting in the bushes until all criticism had ceased. Thank you, sir, for printing every last word of it—much against your editorial principles, I am sure. Now at last we have some concrete ideas to discuss, instead of all this volley of verbal spitballs and abstract mud-slinging.

Frankly, I would like to state that primarily my interest is entirely with the "unemployed", and I have no interest whatsoever in the private lives, or ambitions, of those women who continue to work. If that is what they really want out of life they are welcome to it, circumstances being favourable. Their individual stories for years have been every bit as indigestible and poor fare, from my point of view, as my theories are to them. Each to his own taste, for that is human nature—granted! A real overdose of their own medicine certainly brought forth protest, because no one wants to hear about the other fellow's personal gripes, do they? Better they should be left at home on one's own doorstep, but when they are flaunted daily in public life (at work, on the buses, in social gatherings, and in our homes)—that half-apologetic explanation of how we couldn't meet the $10,000 policy payment, or afford that new fur coat, or car, or build that home — don't you honestly think it prompts a little inner speculation on our part?

No, it isn't jealousy, for we have already made our choice, and can't see why we should again in striving to keep up with the Joneses, who are in turn struggling to aspire to the Smith's standard of living. Most of us are quite contented with our lot, and realize that it does take time and patience and hard work to achieve our goals, nor can we see the necessity of living like a squirrel in a cage and wearing ourselves out in a constant bustle of activity between the job and the home. Call me lazy if you wish, and I'll plead guilty—it is just that I don't place too much value on the material things and prefer to devote my time and energy to the raising of children, which offers me far more satisfaction. In no way do I see how a mother can possibly earn enough money and hire sufficiently competent "help" to relieve herself of this responsibility, and I would be the last person to wish it.

As previously stated, the private reasons are no concern of ours, but we are minding our own business when we attempt to investigate a possible cause of the economic and moral conditions of our country as they stand today. That is the right of every citizen and someone must know the answer. If we happen to tread on anyone's toes in so doing, that is unfortunate—pardon us please! Since the opposition have made exception and thoroughly criticized "Homemaker's" perfectly logical letter, and invaded her privacy with their jibes, I feel entitled to offer my opinions on some of the letters in response to mine, in order to clear up a few points. Apparently there are no disgruntled wives left in the homes (bless them)!

In the first place there do seem to be several allusions to a dictatorship on our part. Personally, I find the collective attitude of "we'll grab what we can get for ourselves, and who is going to stop us" equally suggestive of that era. So, let's skip it! I certainly think the Bachelor Girls who have worked themselves into a decent job are entitled to support themselves and why drag that into it, "Working Married Woman"?

Many thanks for your support "Sympathetic Girls", for I have had experience in what the single girl is up against both before, and after, procuring a job. One cannot acquire efficiency without being given a chance. The married ones were not born with it either, as I remember.

"Pantywaist" seems to have nothing constructive to offer, but if he is happy in hitching his wife up to the financial team, more power to them. I am glad to hear at last that it isn't always the woman's idea. I will return his "sympathies" intact, for my husband is bigger than I, decidedly no cripple, and seems to be able to take it.

"A Happy Working Wife" is more than a little confused and unhappy herself. I admit that rents are exorbitant and more complaining should be done, but the cost is just as high for those who rent a house to accommodate a growing family, and the fuel and Hydro are not inclusive either. She speaks of democracy! I lived in three furnished rooms for three years and during that time managed to have two babies without any help or advice from the landlady. She was a very outspoken Old Maid, too! Howe er, we managed to keep a real friendship flourishing in spite of our differences on the matters quoted. One has to learn to consider the other person's viewpoint and make adjustments. We had no modern plumbing there and did most of the washing by hand. Shades of my grandmother's nightgown! If that wasn't putting your shoulder to the pump and being an ambitious wife! Perhaps if some of you had the courage of your convictions you would take a chance on having that family and make yourselves eligible for a separate roof of your own as we have done. There was a long time when we couldn't even get rooms, and had to live in separate localities all on one pay cheque.

Then came the house, "Ambitious Wife", with all the usual overhead, our first furniture to buy, and no money in the bank. How would you manage that on an average man's pay, just day to day, no workman's compensation, no union to back us up, no group insurance available, and starting at a much lower figure than the $45.00 you quoted? That was to cover the food and clothing for five people as well. Don't answer for it can be done, and is being done all around us without a lot of complaining, but we don't guarantee to include a home and a car just yet. To many of us, it seemed more worthwhile to sacrifice some luxuries for the advantages of a D.V.A. course. It appears that some of you could benefit by a course in home economics.

"A Working Wife" has solved her own problem. We all have our worries re hospital and medical care in direct proportion to the number in the household. I am pleased to note she reads the want ads. I do, too, (out of idle curiosity), and happen to know that it is very difficult for an experienced single girl to find a decent job right now as all office workers are not secretaries or even bookkeepers. As for the unemploment insurance, there are people and there are people! I know of one banker's wife who collected hers for months, after being transferred to a small town where there was not the remotest chance of an opening in her line of work—nor did she want one. You are welcome to any I contributed during the war years. At least your statement leads us to believe that you are aware of the scarcity of jobs for needy married women, or you would not be so confident of collecting your benefits. I hear it is quite a racket. Perhaps "One of the Anti-Christians" would like to get in touch with you and put some of his magnanimous theories to the test?

As for veterans, it may [illegible] to priority in adequate employment, will someone please tell me who is? After sacrificing several years away from their families, their homes and their jobs all they ask is just the privilege of continuing to be independent.

Now for the $64.00 question—the answer is emphatically "No" to working after marriage! I saw enough of it in the '30s to sicken me for a lifetime. The majority of us eliminated the cabbage patch theory of producing a family 'way back when, and marriages of convenience went out with the last century. So far we've heard of no other way to go out and "buy" our children ready-made. They don't always just happen along, either.

We sense that the Editor is very bored, and you are bored, and I am bored! We have read much defence on both sides of the question, and there remains but to hear a decisive verdict, free of personal antagonism, from some reliable source. We look to the older ones, with a whole lifetime of experience back of them, to help us out. Can anyone supply the statistics which will prove conclusively whether the unwarranted employment of feminine labour would alleviate the prevailing situation, if it were temporarily discontinued? We are all anxious to settle this endless debate once and for all. Meantime we have every right to go on making inquiries into a matter which, to many, seems most unfair in a democratically-minded country with government "of the people, by the people, and for the people".

Sincerely yours,
"NEUROTIC WIFE AGAIN".

SOME MEN TOO EASY

Sir: In regard to married women working, no jobs for single girls anywhere, I would like to know why every store I go into it's Mrs. this, and Mrs. that? I'm disgusted. Don't they like working at home? I lived next door to a couple that worked, and the girl that looked after their children was very cruel. So why don't their husbands make the mothers stay home. Some men are too easy.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel. Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know how to refuse evil, and choose the good. (Isa. 7: 14, 15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

But thou, Beth-lehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting. (Mic. 5: 2.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. . . . And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David:) to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. (Luke 2: 1, 4-7.)

Tawdry Talk

The Alberta Liberal Association's decision to ask for a Canadian flag, "free from the national flag or emblem of any other nation" —in other words, without the Union Jack—is frankly incomprehensible.

Hitherto, the agitation for abolition of the Union Jack from our flag has come mainly from voluble groups in Quebec. That is Quebec's own business, and it must do as it pleases. But it is no reason why conventions meeting in Calgary, in an area which is as solidly Anglo-Saxon as any region in the country, should insult us with this tawdry talk about national feelings which, obviously, they do not begin to understand.

—Calgary Herald.

In open running water on the Otonabee and other streams at this time of the year small flocks of ducks can be seen industrially fishing. Observers write them off with a wave of the hand and say contemptuously, "fish ducks", and let them go at that.

Actually their correct name is merganser and at least three distinct types can be spotted in common feeding waters from which they fly north their separate ways in spring. There are American, red-breasted and hooded mergansers, very showy birds, all of them. The thing is to get close enough for a good look.

Once this winter on my way to work, I startled one that had been overnighting under the sod river bank; it was about five feet away but normally they float well out to a distance of three to four hundred yards and, as likely as not, half a mile off where they keep a wary eye on all movement. On Sunday I counted 18 birds in and around the narrows at the foot of Lake Katchewanooka (Lakefield's lake).

The hooded merganser drake with his stunning plumage is the most handsome of any of the species. Its wide white chest is bordered in black with white breast and under parts and dark brown on wing, rump and tail. Its wings are marked with black and white crescent bars.

When disturbed, which is often, it springs into the air and flies low and fast with unusual speed and has the ability to raise and lower its flights position instantly.

Experts say that it nests in hollow trees often 20 feet from the ground and the female occasionally fights with wood ducks for possession of the nest. Other species nest in low marshy ground near water.

The merganser ducks range from northern United States to Alaska and Hudson Bay. Natives in the Aleutian islands consider their fishy flesh a delicacy. Another branch of their family lives in the swift mountain torrents of the Andes in South America. Because they are able to dive and swim against white water they are known as torrent ducks down there.

Their diet consists of small fry fish which they pursue for great distances under water and catch in their long cylindrical bills that are equipped with pointed teeth and a sharp hook on the ends. So, don't disregard the "fish duck"; it is really something to watch.

Padding Toward Next Season

The two American Canoe Association paddlers from the Bronx who paddled new canoes from Peterborough to New York City last year, Messrs. Power and Picker, have stirred up club interest. At least their canoes have, for, Louis Wermelinger and Rudolph Mercado have ordered like craft and will have them shipped to New York in June. It would be interesting to know what long trip they have planned; perhaps we can find out.

While on the subject of boats there is a modified fisherman's dory on display in town. They are being built in Fredricton on mass production basis for the inland waterway market. The boat is 14 feet long, weighs 160 pounds, but don't let the weight fool you. They will spin around completely in their own length with one pull of the oar; I've tried it. They are great for rocky lakes and a safe boat to cast from and ride along very nicely with a 5 h.p. motor.

Kawartha Pickerel On Their Own, Now

Biologist Charles Weir, Department of Lands and Forests, Lindsay, says that the most recent plans for restocking district waters will be changed this year somewhat. Their overworked Deer Lake hatchery, the only 'lunge incubator in Ontario, has had to cope with the problem of handling and rearing speckled trout, pickerel and bass as well as muskies. He and his colleagues have found that pickerel have reached the stage of natural propogation in the Kawarthas and their rearing will be left alone for a while.

We have some lakes around here that contain quantities of stunted black bass. Many fish have been netted and placed in other lakes where there is enough natural food for their numbers to grow to maturity.

There will be no muskie traps in Lake Katchewanooka this spring; public pressure groups have seen fit to have it stopped because they thought it interferred with seasonal catches. In my opinion, it's the thirty-boats-to-the-square-mile trouble that prevents fishing of any kind. Because the nets have been lifted the objectors will lose out in another way; they will get only their normal plantings by the department whereas when the lake was trapped previously, four times the normal number of fry were released.

Postman Walks The Dog

Clare Heard of 146 Park St. N., owns a non-descript collie by the name of Trixie. Nothing unusual about owning a dog of this nature, you will say, but Trixie is something special. For the past two of her three years she has claimed the friendship of mailman Norman Thomas; no other substitute will do, just Norman. Each morning she waits for the postie at the corner of Park and Wolfe Sts., and accompanies him on his rounds, about 425 calls. In the afternoon she does the same thing, the same number of calls. Trixie has no tricks, such as carrying mail in her mouth; she is just a companion of the road and a very faithful one. There have been occasions when she was locked in when mail time came around and she created a great racket until owner Clare released her. Postie Norman lives in the south end and finishes his route at George and Rink Sts., on the way home. A pat on the head at the finish of each delivery is enough to send Trixie back to her home to wait for the next "walk".

The continent's dean of outdoor writers and constant plugger for the Kawarthas, Morris Ackermen, died on Jan. 17. After 30 years of hunting and fishing in our district "Ack" made his last trip to Peterborough in the fall. At that time he found difficulty in not being able to obtain indoor night parking for his car and had something to say about this lack of tourist service. Ack will be remembered, too, for his famous resort guide that went into its 32nd year of printing in 1949. I recall Ack personally when he used to take over the upper part of the launch house at Glenwood; it was always called "Ack's Roost". His daily column stint has been taken over on the Cleveland Press by Hank Andrews. The Kawarthas have indeed lost a valuable friend in the passing of Ack Ackermen.

Ladle In A Pot Of Gold

Late And Soon

The world is too much with us; late and soon,
Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers:
Little we see in Nature that is ours;
We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!
This Sea that bares her bosom to the moon;
The winds that will be howling at all hours,
And are up-gathered now like sleeping flowers;
For this, for everything, we are out of tune;
It moves us not.—Great God! I'd rather be
A Pagan suckled in a creed outworn;
So might I, standing on this pleasant lea,
Have glimpses that would make me less forlorn;
Have sight of Proteus rising from the sea;
Or hear old Triton blow his wreathed horn.

WORDSWORTH

Progress of Peterborough: VII

Settlement In Emily and Cavan 1819-25

By HOWARD PAMMETT, M.A.

Before Emily township was officially opened for settlement several families had pushed north from Cavan. David Best located on Lot 20, concession 2, in 1819, returning to Cobourg for the winter. Humphrey Finlay and his wife were next, followed in 1820 by Maurice Cottingham with his sons William and Samuel, and James Laidley, who came up from Cavan. In 1821 a group of 400 Protestant Irish from County Fermanagh were settled together in Cavan and South Emily.

Kirkconnell, in his History of Victoria County, lists many of their names which are still familiar: Adams, Allen, Armstrong, Balfour, Beatty, Bedford, Collum, Cornell, Curry, Davidson, Dixon, English, Evans, Fee, Grandy, Hanna, Hartley, Hughes, Irons, Ivory, Jackson, Johnson, Jones, Knowison, Lamb, Matchett, Mitchell, Moore, Morrison, McCrae, McNeely, McQuade, Neal, Norris, Padget, Redmond, Reel, Robinson, Sanderson, Sherwood, Stephenson, Thornton, and Trotter. Between 1819 and 1825 the Land Board made 273 locations in Emily mostly on 50 or 100 acres.

The Gore of Emily (Ennismore) was withheld from ordinary settlement by reserves and surveyors' grants. Until 1825 Emily settlers had to depend on one or two small gristmills in Cavan or tramp to Port Hope or Cobourg, but in that year William Cottingham erected a mill on Pigeon Creek with rough local stones.

Taxed Without Vote

As the people of Emily were joined to Cavan for administrative purposes, they joined together in 1821 to protest a common grievance—the fact that they were taxed but were not given the vote until they paid their fees and obtained title to their land. Having rightly little hope of reform from the Family Compact which ruled Upper Canada, they appealed in 1821 directly to the King, George IV., outlining their complaints: ". . . THAT your memorialists in common with a large portion of H.M. subjects in other parts of this province hold lands on which they have resided for several years under tickets of location . . . which are liable and subject to certain conditions of improvement therein mentioned and certain fees upon the respective patents. THAT the period for performing the conditions aforesaid is from 1½ to 3 years and that by several acts passed in this province the said lands so held are liable to assessments for payment of the wages of members of the House of Assembly and for other purposes; and likewise to road duties . . . THAT from various causes the patents for confirming the titles to such lands frequently do not issue for 3 or 4 years after the persons entitled have taken possession of and improved the same and sometimes even for a much longer period. THAT at the last election for the County of Durham your memorialists . . . were deprived of what your memorialists conceive their undoubted and most valuable privilege which under the provisions of the above in part recited act they are entitled to exercise . . ."

Those signing included William Sowden, Joseph Thompson (a missionary in Cavan), John Huston (surveyor), Samuel Fox, Edward and Robert McCamus, Archibald Kennedy, William and Robert Widdiss, Henry Soinks, William Lang, J. W. and George and Thomas Dixon, Thomas and Henry and William Fee, Robert and John and Henry Jackson, John Hodgson, Samuel Redmond, Joseph and Robert and Michael Graham, Humphrey Finlay, Florence and Charles McCarthy, William Sr., John and William and Charles Armstrong, Joseph Sharp, Michael Cooney, David and William and Robert and Thomas and Abraham and Francis Henderson, Timothy Collins, James Deyell, Jonathan Hodges, John Kiven, James Renalds, Alex Brown, John Porter Foster, William Taylor, Robert Jessek, John and Matthew Wilson, Robert Morison, George Manning, Samuel Wills, John and George Elliott, George and William Casmore, John Montgomery, John Laing, Joseph Walker, Francis Nigel, William Morrison, William and Andrew Breakey, and Michael Delaney.

This democratic protest against taxation without representation may have had little effect on the ruling Family Compact in Upper Canada, but it indicated the unrest which culminated in the 1837 Rebellion and the winning of responsible government in Canada.

First School

South Monaghan Township received its first settlers at the same time as Cavan, sturdy Irish and English and Scots farmers like the Rutherfords and Smithsons. Alex Davidson, newly arrived from Wexford, Ireland, determined as early as 1822 to set up a school for the surrounding families, which is believed to have been on the road running from Waddell's Corners to Squirrel's Creek bridge and Wallace's Point, close to the boundary between Monaghan and Cavan townships and the present Highway No. 28.

On December 24, 1824, he petitioned the Lieutenant-Governor for the grant of lot 2, concession 4, South Monaghan, stating "Previous to my arrival there was here no school of any kind, and seldom any public worship; and being convinced that next to religion, education is of primary importance . . . I immediately established a school on the boundary of Cavan and Monaghan . . . and undertook to conduct it, which I have done ever since (1822) . . . I have gratuitously established a Sunday School with moral and religious lectures for adults as well as children; and that I hope to be able to procure a Sunday School library . . . Since I came here I have brought to this country 3 brothers and other friends, and expect 2 remaining brothers next year with others who have written letters consulted me on the propriety of removing to this province . . ." Later Davidson moved to Douro.

Other Pioneers

Another school was set up about the same time across the road on the hill from the present school on the 9th line of Cavan just east of the middle line, on land now owned by Roy Lough and at that time, according to Margaret Argue, by Dr. John Hutchinson. Hutchinson was the first doctor in Cavan, later moving to Peterborough. As the school was not supported by taxes, the teacher received a meagre salary and was boarded around in various homes free of charge during the school term.

When the eight northern concessions of Monaghan were surveyed in 1818, settlers began coming in through Cavan and up the Otonabee in the same year. Among the first were William Fowler, Robert Morrison, Robert Thompson, John Tully, William Birdwhistle, Thomas and Robert Leadbeater, Richard [illegible]er, Robert Cross, John Foster, James and Matthew and William Wilson, Wilford Drysdale, John Birney, Thomas Spiers, Peter McIntosh, Daniel Stewart, John McNaughton, Alex Robertson, Richard Lillico, Alex and Richard Laing, John Bothwell, Edward Sanderson and his sons Joseph, John and Edward, William Robson, David Smyth, Robert Meharry and William Beavis.

A typical pioneer was William Fowler, a Scot who arrived in Port Hope in 1817, then came north in 1819 to take land on the north half of lot 1, concession 11, North Monaghan. Later he bought 240 acres more on the same concession, but did not get his land patent until 1830. Most of the settlers in this township in early years were United Empire Loyalists, half-pay officers, militiamen and friends of the Family Compact, who obtained their land grants directly from New York, as the only settler located by the Land Board in the township before 1825 was George Thompson, February 25, 1823.

The first patent to an actual settler was issued January 25, 1821, to Thomas Ledabeater, and the second on May 30 of that year to James Parker. Peter Robinson, founder of Peterborough, of whom we will hear more later, was given the patent to 100 acres, the west half of lot 3, concession 8, on May 29, 1823. Up to June 1827, 40 patents were issued for land in North Monaghan.

Absentee Landowners

Unfortunately, settlement in North Monaghan was delayed by a number of large grants to absentee landowners who had influence with the government, from 1818 on, such as Captain Francis Spilsbury 800 acres, Allan Otty 400 acres, Alexander Garden 500 acres, Augustus Baldwin 600 acres, and Walter Boswell, a member of the Land Board, 500 acres. Charles Fothergill, another member of the Land Board, was given a lease on the millsite where Peterborough now is, as we shall see, but had to surrender it to the government on May 20, 1829.

The Family Compact which ruled Upper Canada because of its limited revenues, had the fixed policy of recompensing surveyors, members of boards, immigration agents, and in fact anyone with influence, with grants of lands in areas being opened to settlement, where the toil of numerous small settlers would increase the value of such large land grants. We shall note this practice in operation throughout the townships around Peterborough and its effects in future decades. In cases where the grantee brought out immigrants to occupy his lands the results were beneficial, but in other cases where such large blocks of land in specially good locations on lakes and rivers were held by absentee land speculators, they hampered the development of the whole district

(One of a series of 14 special articles on the ancient art of tea-cup reading, written by the Examiner's own teacup reading expert. These are appearing intermittently on this Feature Page.)

No. IV: "Does My Wish Come True?"

Many seers, especially amongst the old followers of the cult, leave out the wishing rite; but the making of the wish lies close to the heart of many people and their first interest, when the cup is examined, is expressed in the eager question, "Do I get my wish?"

When the wish has been included, the seer therefore generally first looks for an omen regarding it. The wish is represented by a complete figure such as a circle, square, oblong, or irregular figure formed by the tea-leaves, enclosing a clear section of the tea-cup's surface. If the outline surrounding this clear space is slightly broken, the wish will not be filled completely.

The closer the wish-figure is placed to the rim and handle of the cup, the more promptly the wish will be realized. If the figure lies low on the side or on the bottom of the cup but is still complete the wish will only be filled at the latest possible moment.

In the absence of the wish-figure, no definite hope for the fulfillment of the wish can be held out by the seer and should the omens of ill-fortune predominate in the cup, it is probable that the wish will not "come true."

Camera Club Holding 7th Annual Show

By NICK NICKELS

The making and enjoyment of good photographs as a hobby is practised by purists of all walks of life. In the Peterborough Camera Club there are electrical engineers, draftsmen, bakers, meat packers, cooks, refrigeration and automotive engineers. There are also professional photographers who make their living taking pictures and spend their evenings experimenting. In some cities there are many women members but in Peterborough this year there is only one, a telephone supervisor.

Writing as a professional photographer who has worked on large press assignments from time to time, I can say that you will never find a more companionable group of people. In this high-pressure news-photos business, where each is trying to outdo the other fellow, there is much swapping of bulbs and film and conferences on light meter readings and shooting positions.

Doings at camera clubs take on a leisurely pace in comparison, and perfection rather than speed is the ultimate objective.

Similar to other branches of the art profession, lack of money is the constant bugbear to camera clubs. The one in Peterborough has had its ups and downs but seems to be on firm financial ground during the past few months.

Began 1944

It was started by Sidney Bond who is the only original member in the present club, back in 1944 and was known as the CGE Genelco Camera Club. The club room in the staff house had to be abandoned when that establishment closed the same year; members then met in each other's homes. This was unwieldy and space was found at the YMCA at which time the present club name was incorporated and other than CGE employees were invited to join.

Their first salon show was held in the Roy Studio with a display of 135 prints in 1944.

The club moved quarters again to the rear of Walsh's barber shop on Hunter St., where the Imperial Bank have premises now. Rent was too high and almost broke the financial back of the photo group until they were able to locate three spacious rooms above Grant and Loucks' electric store on George St.

Due to much hard work the present rooms are practical and presentable. There is a lounge-exhibition room, a portrait studio and completely equipped photo laboratory—not a darkroom, please.

Here the present 20 members meet to talk shop, and experiment at leisure with picture-taking and development. They supply their own chemicals and papers and the yearly $2.50 membership is applied to renovations and rent.

Their spring salon was judged on Friday evening by non-members Bill Thompson of Garfield Studio and myself. Pictures will be hung in the Public Library auditorium from Saturday Feb. 18 to March 4th.

Arrangements are under way to have some of the winning prints shown at the PCVS and the Peterborough Normal School as a travelling exhibit after the main showing. There is some very definite merit in the material being offered this year.

Club executive for the current year are S. Bond, president, Bill Goodswan, vice-president, Bob Williamson, secretary and Norm Seaton, treasurer. The exhibition committee is headed by chairmen E. W. Glover with the assistance of Bill Goodswan and Bill Riddle.

The show is worth a visit.

Isle of Capri With Lizards!

(Ed. Note:—Mrs. William Tinker and her husband of Burnham St. toured in Italy last summer.)

By A. F. TINKER

On the plains in the north of Italy and through the Apennines to the South there was no sign of wild life and, as I have already stated, few domestic animals were sighted; maybe even cats had been transformed into veal.

But there was no scarcity of wild life on the Sorrento peninsula and on the Isle of Capri. Lizards everywhere. And what person likes lizards and snakes harmless though most of them are? If lizards would flee when they saw me I would like them better, but no, they remained still and entirely unseen till I was right at their feet, or they were right at mine, then they scampered away rattling as if all their teeth were loose. When walking quietly in the garden of Tiberius on the cliffs of Capri, meditating on ancient history, we would be startled by lizards flashing through the dry grass and amazed to see them scurrying up the next pine tree, peering around it at a safe height like an inquisitive squirrel.

Lizards basked on the stone walls bordering the roads of Capri, slid over the edge to reappear further along to reconnoitre the enemy. To stop to rest on a rock meant the scuttling of numerous lizards into crevices. They must thrive best on rocky places for they grew fat and a foot long among the deserted house walls of historic Pompeii. They looked too much like miniature crocodiles for me to become accustomed to them. They can have them, I don't want them.

Hunter St. Bridge, Paid For, Vindicates 1920 Planners

By HARRY THEOBALD

Few people in Peterborough today remember the name of the man who drew the profile of the bridge. And, it may be said, that few ever did hear of him. He was Claude Bragdon of New York city, architect, artist and writer, a man of broad cultural background, of high standing in his profession.

Frank Barber one told the Examiner that he was going to give Peterborough the finest bridge he could build for the money.

Hunter St. bridge is one of the few in Canada with a three-hinged arch.

That comment was recently expressed by Roy H. Parsons, former city engineer, who said he occasionally looked at the huge span, and could not find any sign of movement of its hinged parts.

This type of construction provided for one "hinge" at each end, and the other at the centre or crown of the arch.

Frank Barber of Toronto was the engineer and architect who designed the bridge and prepared the specifications.

Naturally, Mr. Parsons said, the ends of the span were planned to rest on rock footings. Borings were taken for that purpose, and as the work was begun it was found that the base on the west bank of the river was the hardpan that had been indicated. It was rock, but on the east side of the first excavation did not locate the solid condition suggested by Barber borings

The council called upon the Peterborough branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada for their advice and help.

Give Local Opinions

"They turned out and I remember Mr. A. L. Killaly was one of them. We simply did not find rock, but there was a hard clay that impressed everybody as being suitable for foundation. The only practical suggestion we could make was to widen the area of the footing, considerably beyond Mr. Barber's original drawing."

It meant putting in more concrete as substitute for the expected rock. The excavation for the east end of the arch was made deeper and broader, and as Mr. Parsons remarked, there has been no appearance of flaw.

Sketched Profile

"And I have decided I'm going down to New York to tell Claude Bragdon I want him to do the profile for me," Mr. Barber said. "It won't be much more than a sketch on paper, but I feel it is an essential detail in my idea of what the bridge should look like."

Whether the council was informed of the Bragdon refinement in the planning is not known now. Possibly they were. At any rate Mr. Barber expected the bill for the profile would be $5,000 or $10,000. Whatever the amount was and the manner of payment are other details that have dimmed with the years.

The generation which has grown up outside the discussion of costs and controversy about contractors and so on has a great appreciation of the fine lines and the rugged strength of bridge. Consensus after all the bills have been paid is that it is a beautiful structure with full value for the money it cost. The debenture are, after 30 years, being retired this year.

"The council made just one mistake," Mr. Parsons says. "They should have accepted the width that was first proposed. The saving by narrowing was a comparatively small item, especially when we consider the growth of the city and its traffic needs."

Petes Edge Legionnaires As Playoff Series Opens

That "old master planter"—planter of pucks in hemp, that is—came through last night for the Petes as they beat Legion 6-5 at Civic Arena. The "old master" was Honey Tompkins and he helped on one goal and scored another in the third period for the close victory as the best-of-five OHA senior "B" semi-finals opened before a full house. The former starry forward, who hung up his skates early this season, played defence, but showed he still had plenty of scoring punch when the chips were down.

STILL SCORING — Honey Tompins may be a veteran defenceman now, but he is still scoring, being in on two important third-period goals last night for the Petes as they edged Legion 6-5 to open the semi-final playoffs.

It was a typical Petes-Legion battle—and they resume it here Monday—as far as speed and hustle-up hockey went, but both sides played it fairly cleanly this time. Each had orders to stay on the ice, and Legionnaires (who can be rugged at times) drew only four of the 11 penalties handed out by two referees. But it was keen hockey throughout, being 3-2 for Legion in the first frame and 4-all to end the second.

Costs A Goal

A Legion penalty in the third (when it was 4-4) cost them a goal, and the Petes got another right after with both sides at full srength. Legion battled back hard to score one, but time ran out on them, and they are down one now with four to go in this important series. The Petes looked at their best as they all fought hard from start to finish, while Legion battled hard but missed out around the net a lot on close-in thrusts. Play was generally even and quite fast over the route, with little to choose between these old rivals.

Both goalies were good, though the odd goal was scored on screened shots as plays piled up at either end. There wasn't much to choose either, between the opposing defences, and the forwards gave it the old college try every minute. Crowley, Rochetta and Doug Mortimer were each in on two goals for Legion, while Leonard, Pagett and Tompkins were in on a pair apiece for the Petes, a number of the others being in on one each.

Turned It On

Several fans were hit by flying pucks again as both sides turned it on. Murray Fife played, though sick with the flu. Coach Ed. Foley of he Petes was absent, attending a CGE foremen's meeting, Red Creighton handling the club. Legionnaires missed Chum Fryia—still out with a fractured collarbone—but they made it a sizzling scrap all the way. Parnell and Tompkins nearly tangled once when the going was hot. The Petes had the Legion goal judge changed on one of the disputed goals, arguments occurring twice on tallies at either end of the rink. Legion argued that the Petes' goal judge should be changed, too, but the refs refused.

It was fairly even in the first, but Legion earned a 3-2 margin on their hustle. Petes came back to gain a 2-1 edge in the second. For a time in the third, Legion swarmed in on Harding but again it turned out to be a 2-1 Petes" chukker. All of the goals were earned close in on quick passes and slap shots, corner passouts, or else screened shots right in front of the goal.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Tompkins and McMaster; centre, Leonard; wings, Fife and Legrow; alternates, Pagett, Griffin, Collins, West, Conlin, Garvey, Horton and Jopling.

Legion: Goal, Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and Burns; centre, Rochetta; wings, Crowley and Vitarelli, alternates, Parnell, F. Mortimer, Greenlaw, Hill, Stewart, Coombs, Montgomery and D. Mortimer.

Referees, J. Crombie and W. Wilson.

Summary:

Nurses Victors For Girls In Cage League

Both Nurses teams won out last night in the Girls' Basketball League in the YWCA, though Nurses Juniors didn't have to go through the motions. They won by default from Normals, who didn't floor a team. Ruth Green dropped in a basket to make it official, and her teammates were B. Sutton, S. Longdon, B. Gamble and R. McElroy.

The other game a 25-13 victory over Black's for Nurses Seniors. Play was fast and rough, the score at the half being 14-5 for the ultimate victors. Anita Davis led the attack for the winners with 13 points, sh and Bev Pringle working well together on passing charges, though the whole squad clicked good. C. Ferguson worked hard for the losers, with Ruth Hewitt, M. McKee and R. Beard most effective. The teams:

Nurses Seniors—A. Bowler, G. Weichorek 2, J. Deyell, J. Smith, B. Deyell 1, A. Davis 13, B. Pringle 7, M. Collins 2.

Black's—C. Ferguson, R. Naylor 2, R. Beard 1, M. McKee 2, M. Beggs, A. Hickling, M. McGill, R. Hewitt 8.

Referees, D. Plunkett and W. Davidson; timer, E. Gandy.

TAKES ON HI LEE—Whipper Billy Watson, pictured above, who clashes with Hi Lee in the main bout of next Thursday's wrestling show at the Brock. When Manager Jim Laidlaw found out that Watson was back from his western invasion he lost no time in signing the British Empire champion for the feature spot. In Hi Lee Watson will meet a fomidable opponent, big and rough. The Whip seems to thrive on tough opposition and fans can always look forward to a sizzling bout when the champ is in action. The remainder of the card will be announced later.

Packers Tops With 3507 In 'Y' League

Canada Packers hit high pinnage of 3507, and top single of 1257, this week in the YMCA senior men's bowling circuit. Artists blanked B'nai B'rith, Commercials won 6-0 from Tip Top, while 4-2 wins were marked by Quakers over Aberdeens, and by Packers against Jaybees. Artists now have 70 points, followed by Commercials with 66, Aberdeens 60, CPC 59, Quakers 50, Jaybees 46, Tip Tops 44, and B'nai B'rith 41.

R. Bennett Jr. had high three of 838, including a neat 312, but G. Walton led in singles with 339 in his 760 total. Others neat counts were: P. Blodgett 809 (319), A. Guerin 759 (310), G. Coleman Jr. 756, T. Vurvin 714 (307), F. Willison 703 and a 314 single by R. White.

Aces Get Sweep

Aces were the only team to get all points this week in the YMCA Senior Girls League, applying the brush to Hurricanes. hTe Bombers, Corvettes and Commandos each took two points from Tigers, Glengarry's and Lucky Strikes. Gladys Pinch had high cross of 791 and top single of 297, while Joan Alexander rolled 774, Betty Castle 717, A. Merrett 639, Ag Anderson 653 and M. Dinsdale 603. Other good singles were: G. Pinch 294, J. Alexander 284, B. Castle 276, F. Brown 269 and M. Dinsdale 252. Aces rolled high pinnage of 3090 and leading single of 1097.

Clapper's In Draw With Oddfellows

Clapper's and Oddfellows fought to a 3-3 tie last evening in the arena in their sudden-death PMHA juvenile playoff, and the team to go into playdowns still isn't settled. Douglas, Saunders and Richardson scored for Clapper's, while Bacon got two and Buckton one for the IOOF crew. Gandy had two assists and Sullivan one for the Clapper crowd, with Referee [illegible] and Collins and Ferguson being in on one apiece for the Triple Links in a swell, even scrap.

Clapper's: Goal, McGrath; defence, Stewart, Jones; centre, Clapper; wings, Wilson, Douglas; alternates, Sullivan, Murdock, Heffernan, Ferguson, Seabrooke, Saunders, Gandy, Richardson, Mongraw.

IOOF: Goal, Batley; defence, Shearer, Kimball; centre, Armstrong; wings, Bigford, Pammett; alternates, Buckton, Ferguson, Jensen, Floyd, Golaski, Robinson, Bacon, Collins, Ryan.

Lakefield Wins

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 18 (ENS)—The Lakefield midgets opened their OMHA series here last night with a 10-5 win over Deseronto in the cleanest tilt of the season, but one penalty being handed out. The second game may be Monday in Napanee. Crabbe got the first goal for Deseronto in the first, but Sloan tallied two for Lakefield and Heffernan got another from Spencer and Brown, Brant winding up the sniping.

Brant scored one and aided Crabbe on another for the visitors in the second, as Pue got the only home marker. In the third, Twist and Henry got singles and Sloan a pair—Hunter being in on two—before Maracle counted from Brant for Deseronto. Henry then scored one more for Lakefield and assisted Spencer on another to wind it up. Teams:

Deseronto: Goal, Bayette; defence, Barker, McAvery; centre, Sexsmith; wings, Crabbe, Edwards; alternates, Grant, Fraser, Maracle, Marade, Burley, Babcooke, Brant.

Lakefield: Goal, Wingett; defence, Twist, Pue; centre, Coyle; wings, D. Sloan, Henry; alternates, Brown, Spencer, Hunter, Darling, Burger, Heffernan, Pratt, Todd, Leonard.

Referee, H. Payne; linesman, S. Brant.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Results of last night's basketball numbers should be in elsewhere, but we're running off the upper part of this pillar a bit in advance and haven't the info at the moment. Don't forget the men's City Cage Loop twin bill in the YMCA tonight, as both games should be rousing struggles—and none too gentle, either, for hoop contests. One more week winds up the Girls' League schedule with top team having a bye into senior finals, semi-finals being two-game series between Nos. 2 and 3, winner meeting the top team in finals. Nos. 4 and 5 have a semi-final to meet the winner for the intermediate cup. Loser of Nos. 2 and 3 play the winner of Nos. 4 and 5 for this intermediate title, while the loser of Nos. 4 and 5 play No. 6 team for junior honors. Got it? Neither have we.

* * * * * *

Boxing fans who want to see a free show should set aside Monday next and trek over the bridge to Ashburnham Hall at eight of the clock. A seven-bout amateur mitt card between Lindsay and Peterborough scrappers, ranging in weight from 108 to 158 pounds. Flyweights to middles, you might say, in ring parlance. Several real experienced ringmen in there, a few from here and several from the Scugog centre, where they have been at it quite a spell. Anyway, it should be good entertainment for fans and good training for the participants.

Big Chuck Apologizes

Following Chuck Conacher's apology to scribe Lew Walters of Detroit for punching the latter in the Hawks' dressing room after a game in Olympia, we imagine Lew will withdraw his charge of assault against the Hawks' coach. Both were partly to blame, in our opinion. A coach has no business punching anyone, and especially not a sports writer, who can make it tough for a long time to come. Neither has a scribe much judgement to go into a losing team's dressing room and argue with any angry coach. He is asking for trouble, especially if the coach is as big and scrappy as Conacher. But it should now wind up on a happier note.

* * * * * *

And the next episode in the "Feud of Legion and Petes" will be shown Monday night at 8.30 in Civic Arena. Second of their best-of-five OHA senior "B" group semi-finals, third one being on Wednesday. Time is rapidly running out for folks to catch some of these hot tussles betwixt these bitter ice enemies, as soon one of them will be through for the season. And some of the veteran stars in those lineups may not be back another year, as time catches up with us all. Yeah, there'll be hectic action again on Monday here when these clubs clash in another game that really counts, so puck fans should get their ducats early, if possible, and avoid the rush.

* * * * * *

A Mighty Close Tussle

They didn't play it too roughly last eve, but it was a swell scrap all through as Petes nudged out the 6-5 nod o'er Legion before a full house. This time the Petes hustled all through, instead of sloughing off in the third period, and it was just a tossup. Honey Tompkins proved the payoff man, being in on one of their two third-period goals and scoring the other one. Some guys, who are slo[illegible] as forwards, after a lengthy and smart career, turn out to be good defencemen. Like Dit Clapper, who starred in both roles for Boston Bruins. Ned Vitarelli and Red Creighton are local examples, and we think Honey will be another when he has learned more about the blue-line blocking job. He can still score.

* * * * * *

The large crowd enjoyed it, as it was a fast, clean and even scrap throughout. Some stiff bumping in spots and a few roughing and interference penalties, but both teams tried to play hockey and stay on the ice. Neither squad spared itself at all. Only "rhubarb" that developed was when the refs changed one goal judge but declined to switch the other one—and, as far as we know, there's no rule covering that, it's up to the referees. A lot of hot fans on deck and many an argument, and bet, came up but that's all to the good. Let 'em go to it, and may the better team win on its merits. Legion and Kingston are generally considered favorites for the final playoff, but anything can happen yet. And Petes are now one up.

Lakefield Team Hands St. Andrew's 1st Loss

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 18 — Lakefield pucksters handed St. Andrew's College their first loss of the Prep School Junior B season here Friday, posting a 4-2 victory. The teams tied 3-3 in a previous meeting.

Hugh McCulloch with a pair of goals, Burns and Wilkes were Lakefield marksmen, while goalie Hugh Faulkner played a standout game for the winners. Wansborough and Malone were the SAC scorers.

PCVS Damsels Get Two From Hopers

PCVS girls' cage teams invaded Port Hope High School successfully Friday night to run their string of victories to four each. Miss Doreen Pemberton's seniors had a little trouble salting away their encounter 25-8 while Miss Eva Scott's juniors edged the Hopers 27-22 in a fast fray.

Port Hope lasses threw up a strong defence in the senior game but could do little in the offensive line against the shifty PCI'ers. Mary Braund, assisted by Carol Raper and Mary Craw, accounted for eight of the PCVS 10 points in the first half. The lakeshore cagers kept close to the locals with six points.

Mary Braund kept up the pace in the second half on speedy passing plays with her teammates to run in another eight points to lead PCVS to the 25-8 final score. The offensive play of the Port Hope cagers fell apart in the second half and they couldn't hit the basket. Marg. McTaggart was the only member to dent the rope.

Led The Way

Mary Braund with 16 points led all scorers while linemate Mary Craw was good for five. Carol Raper was contributing factor in the scoring by setting the girls in scoring position with neat passes. Cath Graham, Donna Howson and Nancy Mason were firm on the guard position.

The PCVS junior cagers rolled up a 16-6 score in the first half which just carried them through the second half and that was all. Pat Nixon whistled in 10 points along with baskets by Lorraine Derry, Ida Hollend and Joan Krogh to easily outmatch the scoring of Anne Lingard, Carol Caswell and Fae Jones of Port Hope.

Jones and Caswell led the lakeshore squad in the second half as they drifted in to pull the score up with six and eight points respectively. Rosie McInroy with two baskets, Pat Nixon with five more points and Joan Krogh with one basket, kept the PCI'ers ahead throughout to send them to their fourth victory by five points.

Pat Nixon of the PCVS quintet with 15 points was top scorer in the junior fray while Carol Caswell placed second with 10. Marg Clark, Shirley Leggett, and Audrey McGee checked well at guard.

Lineups, senior game:

Port Hope — Norma Trawin, Carol Chestnut, Elizabeth McLennan, Doris Reynolds 2, Nesta McWilliams, Margaret McTaggart 4, Alice Moncrief, Shirley Stephenson, Patsy Shill 2, Barbara Wilson, Irene Knight.

PCVS—Mary Craw 5, Mary Braund 16, Lois Hutchinson, Carol Raper 2, Peggy Estlick 2, Jane Tivy, Cath Graham, Nancy Mason, Donna Howson, Marnie Hollingsworth, Marilyn Jackson.

Junior game:

Port Hope—Marie Bobson, Anne Lingard 4, Carol Caswell 10, Elsie Schwartz, Anita Pochon, Nancy Bruns, Marg Boulden, Barb Patton, Nancy Hutchings, Carolyn Boulch, Anne Tychansk, Marg Tallo, Fae Jones 8.

PCVS—Pat Nixon 15, Rosie McInroy 4, Lorraine Derry 2, Marg Laing, Ida Hollend 2, Joan Krogh 4, Marg Clark, Anne LaPointe, Eleanor White, Audrey McGee, Shirley Leggatt, Phyllis Peryer.

IN ON THREE—Doug Free, playing coach of Campbellford, was in on three goals for his team last night as they edged out Norwood 5-4 in a sizzling TVL encounter.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Ezzard Charles said Friday at Pittsburgh a heavyweight title bout between him and Joe Louis only awaits an announcement of the time and place by the former titleholder. The National Boxing Association king made his declaration before leaving for Buffalo for this third title defence against Freddie Beshore Feb. 23.

But the Cincinnatia Negro appeared more interested in "The Old Man" as he calls Louis, than Beshore. Of Louis he said

"Sure he's going to fight me. He's just waiting until the time is ripe."

The Cincinnati Negro had a quick answer when asked if Louis might be afraid he'd lose to him. Snapped Charles:

"No, the Old Man's not afraid of me or anybody else. But I'm not scared of him, either. I won't say how I'd do against Louis but I can assure you I'd do my best."

Edmonton Mercurys Friday suffered their second defeat in 21 European contests, bowing to the fast-skating Harringay Racers 6-3 at London, England. Pete Payette, of Cornwall, one of several Canadians on the London outfit, tallied after a brilliant checker-bard play. Danny Linton, of Sudbury, closed out the scoring for the Racers one minute before the end of the game.

Joe (King) Krol, triple-threat backfielder with Toronto Argonauts, Friday signed his 1950 contract with the Big Four football club. Krol said he was satisfied with terms offered by club President Bob Moran.

Skiing conditions were excellent at Barrie and Haileybury Friday and good at Collingwood, Fort William, Port Arthur, Kenora, Midland, Orangeville, Owen Sound and Toronto Summit, the Department of Travel and Publicity reported. Conditions for skiers were only fair at Cobourg, Dagmar and Huntsville and poor at Flesherton, Markdale and Haliburton.

University of Toronto will be hosts Feb. 24 and 25 for the Senior Intercollegiate championships. Boxers from U. of T., McGill, Queen's and the University of Western Ontario will compete.

Silver Ace, owned and driven by David Cleveau, of Limoilou, Que., won Friday's trotting feature at Toronto's Dufferin Park, winning both dashes.

V. Day Todd, owned and handled by James Somerville, of Hillsbury, Ont., and Daisy Ingomar, with owner Jack Bannerman, of Stratford, driving, divided the first—a pace over the 6½ furlong route each time.

Toby patch, from the W. H. Madill stable of Shelburne, Ont., won the second, a pace, for Shorty Guise. The horse lost the second dash to the fast-finishing Guy Worthy, owned by Wells and Hess, of Morrisburg, Ont and driven by Curt Baker.

A band of 35 tanned athletes, the first homecoming contingent of Canada's 63-athlete British Empire Games team, arrived Friday at Vancouver by air from New Zealand. Tragedy tingde the arrival. Swimmer Peter Salmon, of Victoria, who won the 110-yard free-style event for Canada, was informed that his mother died early Friday. The remainder of Canada's game contingent will arrive later by boat.

Don McEwan, of Ottawa, University of Michigan's sophomore distance star, Friday ran the fastest mile posted in the United States this year on the cinders. McEwan, running in a duel indoor track meet against Illinois University, posted a 4:11.7 for the distance, bettering two records in so doing.

Ike Williams chopped down Sonny Boy West at New York Friday night just as a lightweight champ should handle a 20-year-old "kid," winning by a knockout in 43 seconds of the eighth round of a non-title bout at Madison Square Garden. Referee Petey Scalzo stopped the bout without bothering to count after Williams flattened West with a jarry right hand.

Dutchmen Stay In Fight With 5-4 Win Over Marlies

By The Canadian Press.

Facing playoff elimination, Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen snapped out of their lethargy last night and edged Toronto Marlboros 5-4 to win the fourth game of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior A round robin semi-finels.

After Kitchener lost the first two games of the 12-contest, three team series, Billy Flick paced the winners to their first victory by rapping in three goals.

In junior contests last night Danny Lewicki pounded in five goals to lead the Toronto Junior A Marlboros to a 12-0 victory over Barrie Flyers, St. Michael's tied Guelph Biltmores 5-5 and Stratford Kroehlers bounced Galt Black Hawks 8-3.

The Dutchmen fought off a desperate last minute rally by the Toronto crew to hand Marlies their first defeat in three starts.

Just Miss Tie

Frank Sullivan potted one Marlboro counter with less than a minute remaining in the game. Pressing with six forwards, the Dukes just missed tying it up.

Harvey Jacklin and Butch Martin clicked for the twin-city singles while Scotty Mair, Howie Lee and Red Johnson notched the other Marlboro goals.

The fifth place Barrie Flyers held the league leaders to a 0-0 tie in the first period but the powerful Marlies smashed through for five in the second. With nothing at stake, the Barrie defence folded in the third period and Toronto crashed the gates for seven more tallies.

Besides Lewicki's five goals, nearly everybody got in on the act as Lorne Pirie and George Armstrong each clicked for a pair while singles went to Jack McKenzie, Don Windley and Tom Fyles.

Tie Count

St. Michaels tied the count with Guelph with less than two minutes to go in regulation time. The split in points moved Guelph into a third place tie with St. Catharines Teepees.

Paul Plata was the big gun for the Majors as he came up with a two goal performance while singles were counted by Fred Sandford, Bill Dineen and Bob Sabourin. Guelph marksmen were Jack Ashley, Herb Dickenson Ron Plumb and Walt Clune.

For a game that meant nothing to either club, the Galt-Stratford clash turned out to be a real battle. No less than 34 penalties were handed out.

Doug French was the big man for the winners, potting four goals while Dinny Flanagan clicked for three. Earl Clements potted the single. Pete Conacher scored twice for the losers, the single coming off the stick of George Ford.

Detroit, Leafs Clash Tonight, Lindsay Back

By HARRY ECCLES,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

The National Hockey League has a sparse schedule this weekend, only four games, but it may turn out to be the weekend in which the Detroit Red Wings are at last hauled down to common levels.

Long leaders of the pack, the Wings earlier this season soared almost out of sight of the five other contenders. Now they're eight points in front of Toronto, and Toronto has two weekend games, Detroit only one.

The two top teams collide tonight in Maple Leaf Gardens. Should the Leafs beat Wings and then triumph against New York Rangers Sunday, Detroit's lead is going to be cut down to four points. But that's only a possibility. Over the season to date the Wings have the best record against Toronto of any club, with seven Detroit victories, three Toronto wins and one tie.

Rangers at Montreal

Besides the Detroit-Toronto game, the New York Rangers will be playing at Montreal Forum tonight against the third-place Canadiens. On Sunday Toronto is at New York and Boston Bruins at Chicago.

Detroit will have Ted Lindsay back in the line-up against Toronto tonight. The Wings have Lindsay, the league's top point-getter, a week's holiday at Hot Springs, Ark., and undoubtedly Lindsay will be full of ginger when he rejoins the club.

Leafs also will be at full strength, with the possible exception of Bill Juzda, suffering a sore knee from the 3-3 tie between Leafs and Canadiens at Montreal Thursday.

A sell-out crowd is assured for Maple Leaf Gardens tonight and the recent NHL rhubarbs certainly didn't scare away the customers.

At the moment you have Chicago coach Charlie Conacher facing a court case over the Detroit incident where he allegedly socked a sports writer, Lew Walter. League president Clarence Campbell is being panned by hockey writers for failing to back up his referees. Toronto's manager Con Smythe is feuding warm-heartedly with the Canadiens' manager on over alleged player-trading manoeuvres.

Vaguely Familiar

It all sounds vaguely familiar. Conacher was in Toronto Friday to scout the senior amateur play-off game in which Kitchener-Waterloo edged Toronto Marlboros, the Leaf farm club. He still has hopes of getting an NHL playoff spot and he's interested in Bev Bentley of Kitchener and Bob Gilhooley of Marlies.

Conacher said that as of Friday night he had no acknowledgement of the apology he tendered to Lew Walter for hitting the Detroit scribe.

Jim Vipond of the Toronto Globe and Mail had a refreshing slant on the Conacher-Walter incident. He noted that Walters is no weakling; he's six feet two inches, weighs 200, 28 years old, a former football tackle for Michigan. Conacher is 40 and 215 pounds. "Personally we'd avoid Walter as eagerly as we'd sidestep Conacher," confesses Vipond.

GRATEFUL CHIEFS—In full regalia, Chief William Scow, president of the Native Brotherhood of Indians, right, and Chief Frank Assu, leader of the North American Brotherhood of Indians, appear before the Bar of the British Columbia Legislature as the session opened Feb. 14 to thank the legislators for being granted the franchise. Chief Scow reads his petition while Chief Assu holds the rattle to show the Raven is happy and the speaker's staff of red cedar, bearing the crest of Kolus, sister of the Thunderbird, mythical bird of the coast Indians.

Junior Farmers' Double Program

"New machines and their use" will be the subject of a practical talk to junior farmers by Leonard Moore of International Harvester Co., Ltd., Hamilton, at the Normal School Tuesday, Feb. 21 at 8 p.m.

In a separate room at the school Mrs. Olga Turner of its staff will discuss two topics of feminine interest for the girls of the junior group. They will be "color harmony in clothes," and "spending the clothing dollar."

The dual program has been arranged as one of the series in the junior farmers' winter meetings. It continues from 8.30 to 10.15 p.m., will include several films, and the two groups will unite for a closing period of recreation. Mr. Burritt Mann, president of the club, is recommending these subjects to the members and to others in the junior brackets who are interested.

Crash Investigated

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 18 —(AP). — A board of inquiry to investigate the B-36 crash early Tuesday off the British Columbia coast was named Friday. Twelve United States airmen aboard it were rescued, but five are still missing.

Stock Market Has Dull Week, Coal Strike Felt

By The Canadian Press.

Stock markets settled into a narrow rut this week in some of the dullest sessions of the year.

Selling pressure continued comparatively heavy. Trading activity slowed to a crawl when sellers predominated and increased when buyers held the field. This is considered by streeters an indication of solidity in the market.

The coal strike in the United States began to show its effects on industry and mounting unemployment figures kept investors wary.

New York was open for four days, with the market closed on Monday, Lincoln's birthday. Prices slipped Tuesday and Wednesday, though individual groups found support.

Rails Up Friday

Rails pulled the market upwards Thursday and held the leadership in a comparatively strong advance Friday. The Associated Press 60-stock average closed the four days at 73.6, a gain of .1 from the previous Friday.

Canadian markets ended lower over five days of trading. A late recovery movement Friday failed to erase earlier losses.

In Toronto, industrials dipped 1.07 on the exchange's index. Paper and steel stocks attracted considerable attention for some good gains. Base metals also slumped on the index, losing 1.64. Golds eased .23. Volume for the five days was 3,759,000 shares, compared with 5,170,000 shares the previous week. It was one of the quietest weeks in some time. Grain markets were mixed from the previous Friday.

STRATFORD, Feb. 18 (CP).—

CULTURE CENTRE — This 28-room house is an arts centre for Calgarians. Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the royal commission on arts and science, calls it a "unique contribution to Canadian culture". Once the mansion for an executive of a Calgary natural gas utility, the house now provides recreation and culture for 1,500 persons. Every room is used — the wine cellar for props, the billiard room for theatricals, the drawing room for record listening, the laundry for ceramics and the attic for model trains. Coste House has a $21,000 annual budget made up largely from membership fees and contributions from 25 affiliated associations.

Three Printing Unions Reach Agreement

TORONTO, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Settlement has been reached in the wages dispute between Toronto commercial printing firms and three unions, it was announced Friday night.

A membership meeting of the International Typographers Union (AFL) voted to accept the terms. They still have to be ratified by membership of the Toronto Printing Pressmen Union and the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, both AFL affiliates.

The settlement provides for a two-year contract with a 10-cent-an-hour increase the first year for all except apprentices, and 7½ cents the second year.

Mayor Crowns McGill Queen

MONTREAL, Feb. 18 (CP) — They rolled out the red carpet for petite Ann Dohan here Friday night and crowned her 1950 Queen of McGill University's annual winter carnival.

The 19-year-old arts sophomore from Montreal was crowned by Mayor Camillien Houde while more than 10,000 fans at the Montreal Forum cheered her. Miss Dohan, a pretty brunette, won over four other finalists in the competition. She succeeds Beryl Dickinson-Dash, a Montreal girl of West Indian parentage who won last year.

Bootlegger King

WINDSOR, Feb. 18 — (CP).—Joe Assef, alleged king of Windsor's bootleggers, will appear in County Court Monday to face two liquor charges, his attorney, Ross Riddell, said on Friday.

Cut Food Surpluses With Chain Co-Ops

TORONTO, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Narrowing the price spread between producer and consumer would help eliminate food surpluses, C. Maurice Weiting, of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation said Friday.

Speaking to the Co-operative Union of Ontario's annual meeting, he said such a move would open a tremendous market among lower-income families.

"Our problem now is to work out methods of pooling resources of all co-operative consumers as well as producers. In time we should build chains of stores so as to compete with the great chains."

Blockade Set Up

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 — (CP).—External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons Friday that Canadian shipping companies have been advised of the blockade set up by Chinese Nationalists in Pacific coastal waters.

WestpointMeets Kingston RMC In Clean Series

KINGSTON, Feb. 18 (CP) — Canadian and United States cadets next month will renew a hockey feud dating back to 1923 that has yet to produce a penalty.

The second post war meeting between Royal Military College and U. S. Military Academy sextets is scheduled at this home of hockey's Hall of Fame March 11.

Canadian cadets, representing all three branches of the armed forces for the first time since the series was inaugurated, are grooming a powerful squad to clash with the West Pointers, winners of the last three games.

RMC this year will have close to 200 cadets to select the team from compared with 100 last year before the college was broadened into a training ground for prospective air force and naval officers as well as army cadets.

Won 14 of 18

Coach Johnny Carr-Harris is rounding his red and white clad squad into the peak of condition for the big contest and is confident his charges will return to their winning ways that has given them victory in 14 of the 18 games played. The 1935 game ended in a 4-4 tie.

The U. S. squad also is reported hopeful of repeating last year's 5-4 victory. West Point this year raised hockey to the status of a major sport as a result of last year's win.

Sport writers have dubbed the series one of the world's "most sporting" athletic events. Never once during the entire history of the series has a player been penalized despite the keen rivalry and robust play between the two military colleges.

The series was instituted in 1923 by the late Lt.-Gen. Sir Archibald MacDonnell, then commandant of RMC, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, now commanding general of the Far East command and at that time superintendent of West Point.

They felt it would be profitable for both Canada and the U. S. to have young men from the two national military institutions meet each other, exchange ideas and discuss common problems as well as competing annually in some sport.

Campbellford Wins Hot Trent Loop Tilt

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 18 — (ENS)—Campbellford nosed out Norwood here last night 5-4 in a sizzling Trent Valley Hockey League encounter. It marked the official ending of the TVL schedule, unless there is a postponement here or there about the circuit, before playoff time. A good-sized crowd saw the hectic action, marked by a free-for-all among players with just 36 seconds left to play, delaying the game some 15 minutes.

Evans scored the only goal in the first frame for Norwood, getting a pass from Kelly. Campbellford counted two in the second, Doug Free getting the first from Robinson, and Peake hitting the twine on a solo effort. Brown tied it up before the heat ended, aided by Webb and Hamilton. Gilbert notched one to open the third from Fennell, [illegible] it up before the heat ended, aided by Webb and Hamilton. Gilbert notched one to open the third from Fennell, [illegible]

Norwood Victors

NORWOOD, Feb. 18 (ENS) — Norwood intermediate Circle "C" defeated Marmora 2-1 on the former's ice Thursday evening. It was poor ice, but the best following of the season was on hand for a hard-fought game.

It was a scoreless first period, but referee Hartley Morrison handed out four penalties, to Robson and Leal for roughing and Nicholson and Joe Maloney.

Charles Lobb scored on a nice set-up by Don Andrews.

C. Lobb and Andrews again counted in the first few seconds in the third, with Forrestell and Nicholson getting Marmora's lone goal two minutes later. Rusaw.

Lobb and Maloney were given minor penalties.

Line-up: Marmora—goal Paul Maloney, defence Nicholson, Doyle, centre Forrestell, wings F. Leal, Moss, alternates, D. Shannon, Joe Maloney, Hulsman, M. Walker, Van Heukelon, B. Hewett, J. Hermanes, P. Grey.

Norwood—Goal, H. Stinson, defence, Bob Garden, S. Rusaw, centre K. Sutton, wings Freddie Waldon, A. Scott, alternates, Howard Scott, Jack Robson, Allan Fairfield, Jim McMillan, Don Andrews, Charles Lobb, Ken Cuthbertson, Arnold Lobb.

Referee, Hartley Morrison.

Commons Getting Mikes Tough On Politicians

By MEL SUFRIN

OTTAWA, Feb. 18—(CP)—A politician with mike-fright will have a tough time in the parliament of the future. The curious affliction which robs a person of ability to talk coherently when placed before a microphone will have a fertile field if present plans are carried out to install a modern amplifying system in the Commons.

The Session which started Thursday may be the last in which members will have to depend on the natural power of their voices to make themselves heard.

For[illegible]t Of Mikes

A Montreal company has been hired to wire all 272 desks as well as the speaker's dais and the clerk's table with microphones hooked to an amplifying system.

Work is expected to begin this fall and the set-up will probably be ready by the time Parliament meets again next spring.

Each of the microphones, under present plans, will be operated by a button on each desk. An operator in a booth under one of the galleries will listen at all times, turning up the volume for soft-spoken members and reducing it for those with lusty voices.

A number of members, among them George Cruickshank, Liberal for Fraser Valley, have been campaigning for years for installation of the system.

Hard On Hecklers

But Mr. Cruickshank also likes to heckle on occasions and the psychological effect of a microphone in front of him and other hecklers may prove interesting.

What it will do to the time-honored custom is questionable A strong-voiced heckler will be able to make himself heard without turning on his mike. But the less audible ones may be discouraged. The art of heckling in parliament may be on the way out.

While the amplification will be a boon to listeners, there are some members who fear it might have adverse effects on the debating personality of the commons.

Stanley Knowles, C.C.F. member for Winnipeg North Centre, said he's afraid it might lead to more preparation of speeches, removing the spontaneity of present debates, giving them an artificial air.

Only Magistrates May Commit Aged To Homes

TORONTO, Feb. 18 (CP)—The head of a municipality may no longer commit elderly persons to homes for the aged against their will. Regulations published in the Ontario Gazette provide that such persons may be committed to the home only by a magistrate.

W. A Goodfellow, acting minister of health, said Friday there has been no change in the regulations concerning medical certification. To be admitted to a home for the aged, an applicant must provide among other documents a certificate of examination by the doctor officially assigned to the home.

"We want to do away with this involuntary commitment as far as possible," Mr. Goodfellow said when asked for clarification of reports of the change. "We visualize the new homes for the aged as attractive places where elderly peope will want to live."

Magistrates, however, would have authority to commit "persons who might be described as recluses."

Hire Rain Maker

NEW YORK, Feb. 18—(AP)—Mayor William O'Dwyer announced Friday he had taken steps to hire a "rain maker" in a desperate attempt to obtain more than a billion gallons of water daily needed here before summer.

NOVA SCOTIA CHAMPS—This Truro rink will represent Nova Scotia in the Canadian schoolboy curling championships at Quebec. Left to right are Don MacKenzie, lead; Peter Johnstone, second; Ralph Stevens, third; and Bill McCarthy, skip.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

June nine years ago tonight Boston Bruins ran an unbeaten streak to 22 games by holding the Toronto Maple Leafs to a 2-2 draw. This improved a National Hockey League record they established five days earlier when they broke New York Rangers' mark of 19 undefeated games set in the 1939-40 season. Bruins extended their streak another game —to 23—before being stopped by the Rangers.

Biblical Figures Depicted In Collection Of Narratives

By The Canadian Press

Collaboration by a newspaper publisher and a noted artist has produced a religious book that is at once original and arresting.

"In Our Image," (Oxford University Press) is a collection of Old Testament narratives selected by Houston Harte, newspaper publisher of San Angelo, Texas, and illustrated by Guy Rowe, american painter.

The book contains 32 four-color reproductions of Mr. Rowe's paintings of Old Testament figures. Because of his unique delineation of ancient characters familiar to Bible lovers, "In Our Image" has caused considerable discussion in religious and artistic circles.

Houston Harte, with the help of a group of clergymen, selected 26 famous stories from the Old Testament, including those of the Creation, the Flood, Abraham, Moses, David, Saul and Samson. Told in the language of the King James version of the Bible, only unimportant material has been omitted.

The publishers hit on the idea of presenting the Biblical figures as living persons and in 1945 Mr. Rowe undertook the unusual commission. At the time he says he was only a nominal Christian but he settled down to a three-year study of the Bible before undertaking his task. He found subjects for his Old Testament greats among his friends, casual acquaintances, great world figures of today and in his own family. In some cases his models were images created in his mind by the words of the Bible and the people he met.

Worked As Cowhand

The 55-year-old artist was born in Salt Lake City and had little formal schooling. He worked as a cowhand, acrobat and lumberjack before seriously studying art. After a period as a commercial artist, Mr. Rowe did portraits for private collectors and cover pictures for Time, the news magazine.

Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press and and old friend of Mr. Harte, in a foreword tells of the Texas publisher's great interest in the Bible and the development of the idea that led to publicaion of "In Our Image."

NEW ART CONCEPTION—Guy Rowe, noted commercial artist and portrait painter, studied the Bible for more than three years before starting on the illustrations for "In Our Image."

"The man who conceived the idea of this book and the motive that led him to act should be known to the vast company of grateful strangers who, through this imposing volume, may find new interest in the Great Religion, the literature of which this work so fairly typifies," writes Mr. Cooper.

He emphasizes the importance of the illustrations. Their style had to be so timely that readers would see the Biblical characters "as great leaders of old but also as men of today with a message of today.

"Guy Rowe's portraits make use of a great deal of symbolism and an extraordinary amount of detail. They are today's faces, but they are also yesterday's and tomorrow's. There is about them a universality which is found only in great art. Rarely has an artist, and perhaps never before has a Biblical artist, been able to bring to his public such extravagant use of brilliant color."

Ascension Began New Race Men And Women In World

REV. E. R. JAMES

While The Disciples Beheld Jesus Was Taken Up And A Cloud Received Him Out Of Their Sight. Act 1: 9.

This physical separation took place on Mount Olivet, just outside of Jerusalem. "Jesus was taken up". Science says there is no such thing as up or down but through limitations of speech we are obliged to say these words. Jesus has passed into the spiritual world all around us.

It may surprise you to remember that Our Lord after His resurrection never speaks of His rising from the dead. To Mary Magdalene and the Apostles He speaks of his ascension. He looks forward to His ascension. His human soul looks forward passionately to the moment when He shall look into the Face of His Father. He looks forward to the vision of the Father. I leave the world and go unto the Father".

"Jesus was taken up" teaches that His work on earth was satisfactory to the Father. "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased". He stands before the Father as the perfect man. His character has been perfected by trial and strain of temptation. He is clad in the best robe, which He has woven through tears and agony and death. In Him the ancient prophecy is fulfilled: "He saw the travail of His soul and was satisfied." He has taken that best robe into heaven not for himself only, but that He may throw it around everyone who accepts Him as the Saviour and Lord.

Many times you read that Jesus sat down on the right hand of God. An important truth. A Man is seated at the right hand of God. He is still a man with a distinct human soul. He has not ceased to be man, bone of our bone and flesh of our flesh. As "THIS JESUS" we think of him in all his tenderness, love and compassion. It is most comforting to keep in mind that he will judge us. He will be touched with the feeling of our infirmities and is not ashamed to call us brethren."

Moreover Jesus has taken up into heaven that which had never been there before. He has taken up our human nature. At the creation God said: "Let us make man in our own image." The Father now looks upon Jesus and sees the fulfillment of that thought. God saw the Man. But that is not all. He is taken up to come back again. The ascension is the beginning of a new race of men and women whose lives are being changed into the very image of the Lord through his indwelling Spirit. It is the answer to the question: "What is man that thou art mindful of him?" It means that man is intended to live in the highest rank of created beings, to be on the right hand of God.

THE LORD JESUS SAYS I WILL THAT WHERE I AM THERE YE MAY BE ALSO.

Mrs. Reynolds Entertains BethanyGuild

BETHANY, Feb. 18—(ENS)—Mrs. Carl Smith entertained St. Paul's Ladies' Guild on Wednesday and Mrs. Charles Reynolds presided.

Rev. T. S. Gault led the devotional exercises, the secretary, Mrs. Hector Horton, read letters of thanks from the Women's Auxiliary for the work accomplished by the Guild during the past year: from Mrs. Sanford, Mrs. Grigg, Mrs. Lentham and Mrs. Butler, of Somerset, England, which is the home village of the rector's wife (Mrs. T. S. Gault) for parcels of food sent during the Christmas season; and from The Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto, acknowledging the Guild's donation of $10.

The sum of $25 was received from St. Mary's Guild, Lifford, and $25 from Trinity Church at The Marsh to help in repairing the rectory roof and eavestroughing.

Two quilt tops were donated and one of these is to be quilted at the home of Mrs. Mervin Smith on Wednesday, February 22.

A Sunshine Box, containing a surprise parcel for each day of the week was packed to be sent to Neal Finney, who has been ill at his home for some time.

Valentine gifts were exchanged and a social hour spent during which Mrs. Smith and her committee served lunch.

Rev. T. S. Gault closed the meeting with prayer and the ladies were invited to hold their March meeting at the rectory.

POWER TO FARMS

During the last six years 84,248 new rural customers in Ontario have received hydro-electric power.

CHURCH ADMINISTRATOR—Most Rev. J. C. Chaumont, auxiliary Roman Catholic Bishop of Montreal, has been appointed apostolic administrator of the archdiocese of Montreal. He succeeds Most Rev. Joseph Charbonneau who resigned as Archbishop of Montreal because of ill health.

MORNING DEVOTIONS

The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon minister of Trinity United Church and president of then Ministerial Association is scheduled to take the morning devotions over radio station CHEX every morning next week Monday to Friday.

Whitehorse Bests Lake Placid Flier Affirms

Service with the RCAF affords plenty of opportunity to travel, even in peace time, F/O Geoffrey Cridland, son of Mr. and Mrs John Cridland, Albertus Ave., is finding. He left Winnipeg last week for Whitehorse in the Yukon Territory in conjunction with "Operation Sweetbriar," the mock war at present being staged there.

"We are not actually attached to "Sweetbriar," F/O Cridland said in a letter to his parents this week. He is member of a crew providing transport for an Air Commodore and is seeing a great deal of Canada in the process.

"Whitehorse is a beautiful spot, right in the centre of the mountains. It makes Lake Placid and other places in the Adirondacks look pretty sick" he says.

"Some day I would like to make the trip up here by car" he tells his parents. "It is about 1400 miles north of Edmonton by the Alaska Highway and there are many private cars here with license plates reading Nova Scotia, California, Florida, Alaska and, of course, Yukon Territory.

Flight To Whitehorse

Describing his flight from Edmonton to Whitehorse, F/O Cridland writes: "I was quite disappointed with the trip up here. We were in clouds all the way and I didn't get a chance to see the mountains at all."

He also tells of the married quarters for servicemen. "I went over to see Sgt. Ratta and his wife," he writes. "They live in the married quarters up here which really are something. Lovely little homes completely furnished right down to the silverware. I understand the approximate cost to the Government is about $18,000 for the house and furnishings.

"Bill Divine and I were in the town of Whitehorse yesterday" he writes. "It is a really quaint spot and I hope to get some pictures when the weather clears up.

"There are paddle wheel steam boats that look like fugitives from the Mississippi.

WARMING UP FOR THE WEEK-END, five members of the Peterborough Ski Club took to Kempt's Hill on the Warsaw road late Friday afternoon. Snow conditions, they found, were extremely sticky. Hear 12 Principal Witnesses Describe Mix-Up In Signing Union Cards

After a seven-hour session in which 12 principal witnesses were heard the Ontario Labor Relations Board Friday night ended the first day of its hearing into alleged irregularities surrounding the application of the IUE (CIO-CCL) to be the certified bargaining agent at the Peterborough CGE works. The original hearing was January 4. At that time the IUE filed 1638 membership cards with the OLRB to substantiate their claim to represent the majority of the 3047 CGE production workers.

In a counter move the UE produced 1312 "blue cards" with signatures of workers who claimed either not to have signed the "yellow cards" (IUE) or to have signed but not paid the required dollar initiation fee.

Some signatures were on both the yellow and the blue cards and the UE, which is opposing the right wing electrical workers bid for application, claimed fraud.

On this basis the left wing UE, at present the certified bargaining agent at CGE, hopes to have the IUE application rejected.

Send Own Examiner

The Board investigated the charges laid by the UE and a couple of weeks after the Jan. 4 hearing sent their own examiners to question some of the doubtful cases at the Peterborough plant. As a result the hearing was re-opened and key witnesses were subpoenaed by the Board. Witnesses are being heard today.

Sitting on the OLRB are P. M. Draper, chairman, William Corbett, Russell Harvey, David Archer and E. N. Davis.

Harold James was the second of the seven witnesses subpoenaed by the Board because of their claim to have signed an IUE membership card but not to have paid the required $1 fee.

He had the Board members shaking their heads with either bewilderment or disbelief as he told of confusing two IUE men—George Melhuish and George B. Dillon. Furthermore, he said, he later signed the wrong side of the UE "blue card"—to the effect he had never previously put his signature to the IUE membership card.

Just Mixed Up

Instead, he explained, he had intended to signify he had never paid the dollar to the right wing union. A summary of his testimony taken down on January 18 by the OLRB examiner indicated he was of the opinion Mr. Dillon had paid the initiation fee but subsequently he learned it was Mr. Melhuish who originally obtained his signature on the yellow card.

Testimony was further obscured by confusion as to the identity of the two men.

Never Paid Money

F/O GEOFFREY CRIDLAND, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cridland, Albertus Ave., flew 1400 miles from Edmonton to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory last week for "Operation Sweetbriar" the mock war staged by Canadian Services. As transport pilot for an Air Commodore, he is travelling a great deal. The mountains here make Lake Placid and other places in the Adirondacks look pretty sick, he wrote to his parents this week.

What Will Ladies Do Now?

City Assessors Required To Obtain Ages of Women

City assessors have recently been polishing up their tact of approach in the delicate matter of obtaining the ages of Peterborough's womanhood. An official and statutory imperative stands behind this detail of information making it mandatory, Assessment Commissioner N. A. Wilkes told the Examiner today.

"It has always been necessary to get the ages of the ladies," Mr. Wilkes said, 'and if in the past there has been some shading of the facts, in some instances at least, the department is now requesting the women of the city to disclose this little intimacy of the exact number of their winters.

This is not a curious prying into personal and private matters. It is required by the Ontario government, who alone are taken into the confidence of the assessment department.

What Mr. Wilkes would like to say in broaching this question through the members of his staff is: "Ladies, we must impose on your good nature by asking you to tell us your age. The purpose, as we understand it is, for a government census of age groups. It is an additional duty thrust upon the assessment department, and we have no choice other than to submit the question as diplomatically as we can."

Relating to Pensions

Intention of the government may be to have at hand precise information about the ages of the people of Ontario, possibly with an eventual eye to facts relating to pensions and pension schemes.

Mr. Wilkes stressed the fact that this is confidential between the person and her government. The assessment chief is concerned with [illegible] appearing when she slipped [illegible] detail does not affect the assessment of property. This householder is required to give this information to the assessor upon request, and is liable to a heavy fine for withholding or giving false statement."

Fine Sense of Civic Duty

Mr. Wilkes said he did not relish mentioning penalty, which is also set out in the statute, but there it is. His experience has been that women have a fine sense of civic duty, possibly with the aforementioned exception in some instances of the recalling and admitting of the exact number of calendars in their lives.

"The assessors have usually received thoughtful co-operation and we are expecting the same courtesy this year," was Mr. Wilkes' compliment. He did repeat that the incidental reference to age is not wanted by his department except as an agency, in the respect, for the government of the province, and quite presumably for the public good.

So, the assessors began this week in Ashburnham the round of calls for the preparation of the assessment roll of 1951. It compiles the values of all city properties for the purpose of the tax levy next year.

More than 10,000 interviews at every residence and place of business have to be made within the next few months.

Here is the scope of their enquiries. They must obtain and record the name and address of the property owner also the name and address of tenant, with age, religion, occupation, school support; name and age of the tenant's wife; occupations and age of all roomers and boarders, and of all persons under 12 years of age. In addition they are required to check on such details as to the rent and whether it is paid, and where

Davies' Play Festival Winner

HAMILTON, Feb. 17 —(CP)— The comedy "Voice of the People" by Robertson Davies, editor of the Peterborough Examiner, and presented by sophomore students at McMaster University won the annual University Inter-Year Dramatic Festival here Friday night.

Benson Jones, who had the leading role in the Davies' play, was chosen best actor of the festival. Winners of best supporting roles were Victor Burville and Lois McLennan.

The play "Shanghai" by W. Stukes was given its opening performance at the festival and will be McMaster's entry in the intervarsity drama festival to be held at Queen's University, Kingston, next Monday.

Power Revenue Up $44,000 For Utilities

Surplus shown by the Electrical Department of the Utilities Commission for 1949 was reduced $2,081.95 from the 1948 figure, according to the annual report of the department.

In 1949 it was $71,979.29 compared with $74,061.24 the previous year.

Domestic Revenue increased by $29,000 over last year; Commercial revenue by $13,000; and the revenue from Power Consumers $4,000. The total revenue for 1949 was $44,000 over 1948.

Restrictions in the use of power were imposed in January and February, and again in October, November and December. These were not as drastic as in 1948, and through the co-operation of all users of electric current the department was able to comply with the requests of the Ontario Commission.

Operating Costs Up

Operating expenses were increased by $5,000 over 1948, and the cost of power purchased was $35,000 higher. In November the Ontario Commission raised the wholesale cost of power from $29.40 per kw. per year to $32,-80, and this will necessitate a corresponding increase in rates charged to consumers.

The average monthly peak for the year was 24,500 hp. In 1948 this was 23,000 hp.

There are now 9,189 domestic consumers, an increase of 445 over 1948. The average monthly consumption per consumer was 328 Kwhrs, and the net cost per Kwhr. was 0.8¢. For 1948 the [illegible] per kwhr. or $17.00 per hp. per year.

The new unit sub-station at the corner of Clifton Street and Armour Road was placed into service on March 22 and has operated ever since.

Nearly five miles of primary circuits and two miles of secondary were constructed; 1,100 3-wire services were run, and 562-wire. More than half of these were for new dwellings.

The growing load necessitated the installation of 125 new transformers totalling 5,000 kw.

Mile Rural Lines

In addition to the above about a mile of rural lines were constructed and 325 services run.

More than 400 new street lights were installed, about 150 of these replacing lights of obsolete design.

There were 824 flat rate water heaters added to the system, making a total of 4,900.

The meter section changed 2,-182 electric and 783 gas meters for Government Inspection which takes place every six years. There are now 10,643 electrical, 3,105 gas and 307 water meters in operation in the city.

Early in the year the new addition to the office on Aylmer Street was completed and occupied. This building houses the operating staff and workshops, and an up to date meter inspection and repair shop.

Nets Thieves 75 Cents

Russelle's Service Station, Water St. was broken into Friday night but only a few coppers, approximately 75 cents, are reported missing. Constable G. Trennum discovered a window at the rear of the building was broken and three gallon tins were stacked underneath the window. He found seven packages of cigarettes and books of matches left by the window.

City's Religious Leaders Approve Civil Marriages

Proposed legislation to legalize civil marriages in Ontario met with the general approval of Peterborough religious leaders contacted in a survey. Four ministers of Protestant denominations all expressed their willingness to accept civil marriages. The Most Reverend Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough, was not in Peterborough to give the Roman Catholic view of the marriages which would be performed by judges and magistrates.

Rabbi J. Mayer said, as a member of the Orthodox Jewish Church, he would condone marriages by judge or magistrate only if they were followed by a religious ceremony in conjunction with the civil formalities. But he was opposed to a civil ceremony alone.

Approves Idea

Canon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church, declared he was "very much in favor of it." He stated the present legislation which legalized marriage only by an ordained minister or heads of religious groups such as the Salvation Army was very hard on those people with no church affiliations. It was still more difficult, he added, for the ministers who on occasion must refuse to marry some people.

He explained that the Anglican Church cannot and will not marry divorced people. A divorced Anglican then must go to a minister of another denomination if he wants to be married again. Canon Robertson pointed out civil marriages were almost universal and had a long legal status in Great Britain.

At present [illegible] apply [illegible] would be people who had previously been divorced. He said [illegible] would fill a need that churches were often reluctant to meet.

Not Much Demand

The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church said his reaction to legalization of civil marriages was on the whole favorable. He said he thought there would not be much demand for them in Peterborough where almost all the people had some connection with one of the city's churches.

He stated that in Manitoba and British Columbia where these ceremonies are legal, only a very small percentage of the people take advantage of the non-religious marriage.

He added with the passing of a regulation in the United Church about one year ago, ministers were authorized to marry divorced persons if they have been given two week's notice. An enquiry must be held and decided, perhaps with the help of a senior church body, it might with discretion, marry a couple one of whom is divorced.

The Rev. E. C. Moore of St. George's Anglican Church said he believed the general feeling would be favorable to the plan. He pointed out under the present law one clergyman or another is almost bound to marry a couple who want to get married, even though the clergyman may, with good reason, be reluctant to do so.

Taxpayers Need Additional Aid

"The greatly increased cost of education has been worrying educational authorities for some time," G. Wilson Craw, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Peterborough Board of Education said today in commenting on the new system of school grants as announced by Hon. Dana Porter.

"It is rather difficult at present to estimate what the new provincial grants will mean to Peterborough. The announcement appearing in the press did not say the grouping Peterborough would be in as to the percentage of costs grant. However, under the $16 per pupil for the Public Schools that portion of the grant should amount to approximately $64,000."

Estimates Well Advanced

Committees of Board are well advanced with their estimates. So far they have been kept close to last year's figures. The Finance Committee has not met, and it is in the estimate of this committee that the increases in salaries for teachers and other employees appear. "That is when we will know where we stand," Mr. Craw said.

This committee has been called for next Thursday night, and it is hoped by that time that the next grant system will be completely analyzed.

[illegible] Payment

an assessment against this year's rate, but the [illegible] sinking fund will be sufficient to make the payment. These debentures, one for $240,000 and the other for $37,000, have been held for 30 years and through that period the ratepayers have been paying 6 per cent interest on the larger one and 6½ on the smaller amount.

"Gone are the days of the 6 per cent 30-year debentures, and we are most happy for that, for with all the new building no municipality could stand such expenditures," Mr. Craw said.

SCOTTISH ADMINISTRATION

Scotland is divided for administrative purposes into countries, burghs and districts, administered respectively by county, town and district councils.

Newspaper Circulation Hits New High In US

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18 (AP)—More than two out of every three persons in the United States spend some time daily reading a newspaper according to N. W. Ayer and Son's Directory of Newspapers and Periodicals.

The agency drew its conclusion after announcing Thursday that daily U.S. newspaper circulation has reached an all-time high. The directory reports a combined circulation of 52,271,000 and figures that the average copy of a newspaper is read by more than one American.

Other statistics listed by the directory included:

The 392 U.S. morning papers have a combined circulation of 20,151,000, an increase of more than six per cent since the end of the war.

The 1,498 evening papers have a circulation of 30,911,000, a gain of slightly less than six per cent.

Hollywood Picks 10 Best-Liked People In Films

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 18 (AP)—Want to know the 10 most popular stars among Hollywood stars themselves?

While pounding the Hollywood beat, a reporter hears lots of things about movie stars. Some comments are good, some not so. The stars themselves can make some pointed remarks about their colleagues, as long as the speakers know they aren't being quoted.

I have summed up these years of listening to stars' comments about other stars. The results is a list of the 10 stars most respected by their colleagues. Here they are, with the reasons:

1. Cary Grant. He is the actor's actor. Performers realize that comedy is the toughest of mediums and they hail Grant as the king of film comedy.

2. Jimmy Durante. I have never heard anything but the highest praise for Schnozzle. This is unusual in the highly competitive field of comedy. Everyone agrees that Jimmy's heart is as big as his nose.

3. Ethel Barrymore. Most stars hold her in awe, as one of the last links with a great era of the American theatre. She is admired as an actress and as a woman who can talk in a salty manner about baseball and other topics.

4. Walter Huston. A majority of the stars would agree that the Toronto-born Huston is the best actor of the current era.

Best Liked

5. Barbara Stanwyck. Affectionately called "Missy," she is the best liked actress among set workers. She is generally admired for her lack of pretence and her cussing ability.

6. Claudette Colbert. Her charm and wise handling of her career have made her a favorite in the movie colony.

7. Loretta Young. Her surprise Academy Award for "The Farmer's Daughter" demonstrated her popularity with her fellow workers. Her Christian approach of her life and work is respected in Hollywood.

8. Gregory Peck. He has shown that it's possible to be a "regular guy" as well as a movie star.

9. Irene Dunne. She is another wise handler of her career. And her good works for charity and tolerance have brought added respect.

10. James Cagney. Stars admire his highly styled acting and his ability to keep his private and public lives separate.

Checking Extension Cords For Broken Wires, Plugs

By BOB SCHARFF

Every extension cord in your home is a compromise between safety and convenience. Therefore, before they give real trouble, check and repair any damaged ones you spot.

Repairing a frayed cord or replacing a broken plug is both simple and good insurance. If the insulation is broken, but not the wires, remove the cord from the socket and cut off the worn covering.

Wrap the wires separately with rubber tape and then wrap them together, with friction tape.

If the wire is broken, cut out the damaged section and remove the covering for about 2 inches back on each of the cut ends Scrape wire ends bright, twist together as illustrated, and wrap with rubber and friction tape To add strength to a joint, offset the two splices slightly rather than have them side by side.

Many modern wall plugs cannot be repaired and must be replaced Replacement male plugs are available at hardware stores as are the type already on older lamps For loose cords in this type of plug, remove the fiber shield and tighten the screws.

To replace a broken plug or cord, push the cord through the cap from the rounded side. Take off the outside braid of the cord for an inch from the end, exposing the two separate covered strands of wire inside.

Cut the insulation from these wires and scrape them bright. Tie an underwriter's knot in the wires where the insulation ends and pull it against the plug shoulder. Run each wire clockwise around a prong and a binding screw. Be sure there is no contact between the bare wires.

On the other end of an extension cord is a female plug or tap in which loose and broken wires are repaired in much the same manner as in a plug. But, before working on a tap be sure the main house switch is turned off.

The tap is opened by removing the screws or small bolts that hold its two parts together and the spring contacts and binding screws will be exposed for repair work.

Care must be exercised when using extension cords too.

1. Never jerk an extension cord from an outlet by pulling on the cord. Always grip the plug.

2. Never run cords where they can be stepped on.

3. Never allow a cord to become pinched or kinked.

4. Never nail cords to the floor or wall and keep them away from radiators and other metal equipment which might become electrified.

Your Garden

Winter Gives Spare Time For Making Of Seed Flats

By HENRY PYREE

During the winter months there is usually plenty of spare time in the gardener's program. A pleasant and useful activity for those who are handy with tools is making seed boxes for raising young plants in the spring.

Discarded packing boxes or fruit crates can be cut up to advantage for this purpose and a good supply of these little seed "flats" will be very useful later on.

Another line of work for the winter months is the making of bird houses and garden furniture

MAKING A BIRD HOUSE IS EASY, PLEASANT WORK IN THE WINTER.

A few well constructed nesting boxes placed about the garden will result in attracting birds and a sturdy bench or two, even though not of fancy construction, will provide a resting place where the garden owner or his friends may sit and enjoy watching both the birds and the flowers.

After a heavy snowfall it is a good plan to dislodge the snow from shrubs and small trees. If this is not done, some damage may result from branches breaking under the weight. This advice is most important for evergreen plantings.

If the gladiolus corms have not yet been cleaned this should be done at once. Trim off the old flower stalk and remove the old corm and roots, but do not take away the husk which covers the new corm, as they help to retard drying out.

This is a good month for repotting house plants which need such attention. As a rule, plants do better if they are not in too large a pot.

In answer to several novice gardeners who wonder whether or not to follow their nurseryman's recommendation to wrap the trunks of oaks and maples set out last November, the old gardener says that this is a wise precaution.

It not only prevents possible sun scald but may prevent the entrance of borers in the spring, it being impossible for the beetles to lay their eggs through this protective covering. This wrapping should be left on for two years.

Interesting Menu Concocted For Broadway

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (CP) — An interesting menu is being concocted for Broadway theatregoers for the season starting next fall.

Aldous Huxley's play, "The Gioconda Smile," described as a powerful melodrama, is due to be unveiled in September. Shepherd Traube is set to produce and direct the play, seen in London two years ago. Sir Ralph Richardson and Rex Harrison are mentioned as desirable candidates for the leading role.

John C. Wilson plans to bring back from London for autumn showing here Christopher Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning," a current success in the British capital. John Gielgud and Pamela Brown will be seen in the drama, to be sponsored by Wilson, Hugh Beaumont and the Theatre Guild.

Negotiations also are under way to stake Lester Cohen's dramatization of Thoms Wolfe's novel, "The Web and The Rock," and a stage version of Daphne du Maurier's book, "The Parasities."

Cronyn Drama Due

"Now I Lay Me Down To Sleep," directed by Hume Cronyn, come to Broadway March 2 and will be housed at the Broadhurst. The comedy, based on Ludwig Bemelman's novel, had its premiere in January at the Grand Theatre in London, Ont., Cronyn's native city.

Frederic March and his wife, Florence Eldridge, stare in the play, adapted by Elaine Ryan Since leaving the Ontario city, "Now I Lay Me Down To Sleep" has been seen in Philadelphia and Boston.

Anent Canadians

Betty Jean Hagen, 19, Edmonton-born girl now studying violin at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, received an enthusiastic reception when she gave a recital for the Canadian Club of New York last Sunday. Miss Hagen, who was educated in Calgary and has played with the Vancouver and Toronto Symphony Orchestras, hopes to make her public debut in New York next year. . .Raymond Massey, Toronto-born stage and screen actor, will have a featured role in "Sugarfoot," a movie starring Randolph Scott and Patricia Neal (Warner Brothers).

Quizzing Gardener

Q—What are onion "sets"?

A—They are dwarfed onions, grown last year. Most home gardeners raise their onions from sets to insure an early crop. Sets produce green onions in three weeks and mature ones in three months.

Q—How soon can I prune fruit trees?

A—Right now. Cut off all sucker growth. This is a good time to feed them, too. Broadcast complete plant food at the rate of one pound for each year of growth up to 15 years.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Cost of Building In City Unchanged From Last Year

The man with $2,000 in hand and an income warranting rental payment of $45 to $50 a month is in a favorable position to undertake the building of a house for himself with a mortgage value of $7,000 at 4½ per cent, repayable over 20 to 30 years.

That was a comment from a source close to the building industry in a reference to the continuing work that has been carried on in the favorable weather conditions of this winter.

Realty information here and elsewhere is that cost of new building, generally speaking, is about the same as last year while rents in many instances have been boosted. One result of this change in the position of the tenant is reflected in various enquiries that are being made these days about building or buying. The same trend is reported from other centres in the province.

Projects Terminated

Government projects for rental purposes have been terminated, and there will be no continuance of the Central Mortgage housing as is now being completed in the southwest end of the city. And that project is restricted to ex-service men and their families.

Indications in realty and building offices point at present to probable activity by tenants who feel that they can finance a home for themselves and escape the higher rental levels. Several tenants have been combing the city for suitable houses in the necessity of having to move from their present quarters. Their story is that owners in many cases are willing to sell, but are not interested in leasing.

Rental Houses Scarce

The present evidence is that rentable houses are just as scarce as they have been at any other time in the last five years. Solution of the difficulty is in the direction of ownership. Some of the reported increases in rents have been regarded as excessive by tenants, and out of line with actual housing value, but the tenant has almost no choice but to accept the higher rate or move. And when he looks around the city for available houses for rent he finds the Peterborough realty market just about bare.

It is this enquiry and prospect of private building which is now being shown in the offices of building supply companies. It is said that the outlook in the cost of building is no more than last year, but neither is it much less.

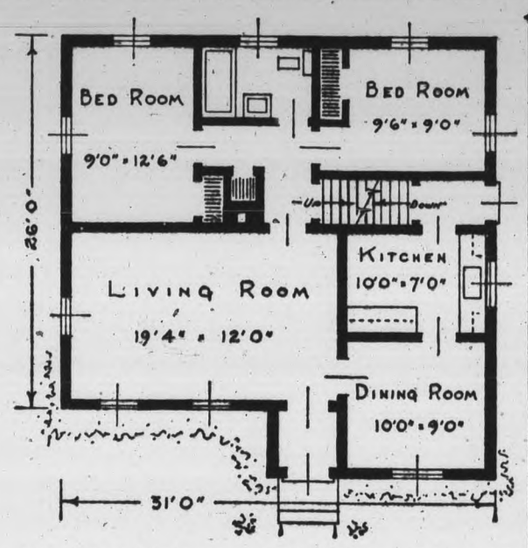
Rental pressure on the tenant is forcing him to investigate the conditions of building this year, and it may be that the volume of ths business will continue in 1950 at close to the same level as in 1949.

Fix-It Forum

Q—In laying bricks, is it all right to use plain cement and water without putting sand in the mortar?—H. A.

A—No. Use a mortar consisting of 2 or 3 parts of clean sharp sand to each part of cement. This mix will give less shrinkage and a stronger bond.

THE EXAMINER'S FEATURE HOME



HOUSE NO. 405—It isn't every day you see an owner-designed economy house as well done as this one erected in Ontario, by Murray Kirk, builder. There are two first-floor bedrooms, separated by the bathroom, across the rear of the house, Each of these rooms has a good closet and two exposures. The living room is ample in size, but has no fireplace. A small vestibule provides privacy and protection from the weather. Arrangement of kitchen, dining room and service entrance is commendable, although one corner of the dining room carries considerable traffic. Stairs rise to the unfinished second floor from the centre of the house. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Wanting Colonial House? New Methods To Build Well

Once you decide to build a Colonial type of house, the question of inside walls, floors and other interior finishes is easily answered. It is simply a matter of choosing which of several correct Colonial styles of treatment best meet your individual requirements, which you like the best and which you can afford.

Fortunately, it is no longer difficult to obtain the right interior treatment. Makers of inside trim have given close attention to this subject and the house builder can buy ready-made doors, mouldings, wall panels, mantels, cabinets, bookcases, etc., copies from originals, at most reasonable prices. One of the great advantages of the Colonial type of house to the average house-builder is that it calls for no unusual or expensive materials. In the old days moulded work was all fashioned by hand, but with the aid of modern machinery these beautiful old models are now perfectly reproduced at an enormous saving of time and labour.

The walls of the living room, dining room and hall may be finished with wood paneling, which is most attractive when carried out in natural pine or plywood with the knotty pine finish.

At a somewhat lower cost the walls may be finished with rough plaster or with tinted or scenic wallpaper. Upstairs rooms may be painted or papered.

The ceiling of living room and dining room may be finished with broad beams or painted a somewhat lighter tone than the walls. Floors, simply treated, with wide boards of pine or other wood, well waxed and polished or painted, for the rooms above.

The entrance hall should be planned carefully. A charming entrance is the keynote to the rest of the home. The stairway the main feature of the entrance hall, should be a simple one in the Colonial house. It can be constructed entirely of pine if the walls are finished in pine; of the walls are papered, the staircase can be finished in mahogany and white.

So, the traditional simple beauty of the Colonial House, as much admired today as two hundred years ago, can be achieved by the home builder with good quality woodwork, plaster, paint and other usual materials.

One-Man Exhibit Portrays Life In Ottawa

OTTAWA—(CP)—For one artist at least the nearby Gatineau Hills have lost their picture appeal.

Twenty-four-year-old Gerald Trottier has broken away from the tradition which for years has bound many painters to this picturesque terrain.

The Ottawa-born artist has found a wealth of material in the back streets of the capital, and proves what can be done with it in several water-colors now exhibited in a downtown art gallery.

Young Mr. Trottier, who works as an artist with the agriculture department and also conducts several night classes in art, was on hand for the recent opening of the exhibition—his first "one-man show."

Paintings he did while studying in New York also are in the exhibit, among them two boxing scenes he says are his favorites.

While in the navy during the war Mr. Trottier confesses he did a little boxing, but that isn't why he chose the sport as subject material.

"There's a lot of life in a scene like that, he said pointing to a painting of two boxers in action.

Interested In People

He is interested in people, and that is why he prefers painting city life to pure landscape.

A little-known street in Ottawa, a group of figures huddled under a lamplight in nearby Hull, are typical of his work in which a heavy grey-blue often is the predominating color.

Mr. Trottier cares little for splashing on a variety of hues The colors on his palette are few.

He says "it isn't the color you put in the picture, it's the color you suggest that's important."

While water-color is his favorite medium, he also has worked in oils. An action scene of the Second World War now hangs in the canteen at the Ordnance Depot, Plouffe Park, Ottawa. It is one of the largest murals in Canada, eight feet high and 48 feet long.

Another military mural by Mr Trottier hangs in Louisville, Kentucky.

Special Service In Eastwood For Bus Men

EASTWOOD, Nottinghamshire, England, Feb. 18—(CP)—One thousand people streamed into St. Mary's Church (seating capacity 750) for a special service for bus and railway men.

It was the second of a series of "specialty" services conducted by Rev. Peter Caporn.

Huge crowds arrived hours before the service was due to begin. Three hundred stood in the aisles, in the porches and even in the belfry. The doors could not be shut.

Behind the cross on the altar was a bus radiator. Hanging on the walls were busmen's caps, money pouches and ticket punches.

Nottingham City Transport Silver band accompanied the hymns. Bus drivers took the collection—and it took three hymns and part of the sermon before they finished.

"I am not running these services as a stunt," Mr. Caporn said. "I am simply extending the idea of plow Sundays and harvest festivals."

MARK STREET

Mrs. Murray was in charge of games as the meeting opened this week. In the absence of the president, Mrs. G. Easson conducted business and led in the worship service, using "Leadership in the Church" as her theme and centering her remarks on Trinidad. Carolee Ferguson gave an interesting talk on "To and Through Trinidad". Girls were chosen to prepare material on Africa, China and Japan for next week. Ruth Hendren reported this meeting.

✧ ✧ ✧

ST. PAUL'S

Repeating of the pledge and reading of scripture by Irene Kelly opened the meeting. The secretary, Helen Ward, read minutes. Josephine McMeekin announced CGIT week posters and also reminded girls to bring in jingle boxes. During business period it was moved by Mary Irwin and seconded by Irene Kelly that the group have an Easter vesper service. There was also discussion regarding the group having a mother and daughter banquet. Ruth Curtis asked the girls to help when the Explorers entertain their mothers on February 27, and Mrs. Boyd requested assistance from the group for the operetta "H.M.S. Pinafore".

President, Jean Smith, and Mrs. D. T. Diplock then introduced Miss M. Lees who spoke to the girls on her trip to Japan. As the group are studying Japan this year, they were most interested in her talk and enjoyed looking at her pictures and souvenirs which she had brought. Josephine McMeekin expressed appreciation to Miss Lees.

TRINITY

Edythe Nicholls presided at this week's meeting which opened with a sing-song. In absence of secretary Anne Grant, Janet Hughson was appointed to take the minutes. "The Church" was the theme for the worship, when Anne Gordon read the scripture. Anna Edmondson introduced Mission Study for this year, "Growing With the Years" when Trinity girls will specifically study the work of the United Church in Canada in preparation for "All Nations Night" being held in March. The girls divided into two groups and illustrated in pantomime the mission work of the United Church in Canada through worship and overseas relief.

Normal Students Salute Peterboro's Centennial Year

The young men and women enrolled at the Peterborough Normal School have made the first grand salute to the city on its 100th birthday, although the majority of them have previously lived in places as far distant as Midland and Lennoxville, Que.

A pageant called "Centennial Highlights" which covers the century of progress in Peterborough was the feature presentation at the annual At Home Friday evening. Every member of the student body was called upon to participate in at least one phase of its preparation and production and the result is being highly acclaimed.

Teachers-in-training who, in future years, may be the leading figures in small community entertainments, will themselves be served by this experience in creative work. With the aid of Mr. Cecil Potts, English master, they composed the script, using old newspaper files and books for historical authority, and this is the first class to be originators of their play. Music was directed by Quirt McKinney who found some splendid voices to lead in the choruses and he featured that of Edward Hewitt of Millbrook in a solo "Dear hearts and gentle people."

Principals in the pageant were: Miss June Harrison, Glenarm; Alex McLeod, Oshawa; Wayne Tompkins, Napanee; Miss Mary Grant, Belleville; Bill Anderson Ennismore; Miss Roberta Brooks, Havelock; Bruce Gorrill, Little Britain; Francis McTague, Peterborough; Douglas Nichols, Harrowsmith; Allen Moore, Cobourg; Ronald Crews, Trenton; Miss Shirley Fisk, Peterborough; Rodger Hendren, Peterborough; Miss Betty Snare, Tweed, and William Burgoyne of Belleville, chairman of the program committee.

Costumes and stage effects were in charge of Miss Elma Scriver, Keene; Miss June Wilcox, Midland; Howard Parliament, Wellington; Gerald Woof, Codrington; Donald Cairns, Ameliasburg; Douglas Beatty, Peterborough; Clarence Brooks, Domorestville.

Exceptional Art Work

Outstanding evidence of extra ability in art in this versatile and talented student body was in every part of the building open Friday evening. Murals for three scenes of the pageant depicting the cultural and industrial life highlights of the century were the work of Paul Walton of Picton, chairman of the art committee, and Ken Trumpour of Little Britain.

Donald Bissett of Peterborough painted in oils a mural that will be a prized possession of the Normal School for many years, in which he has interpreted the progress since 1850 with the figure of a redskin on the left, pioneer settlers clearing the land with oxen in the centre, and the cultured well-dressed business man of today to the right. Background of the painting shows industrial changes and embodys the city's famous lift lock.

Twin brother Ronald Bissett also paints and did a splendid mural of old Irish settlers, and he has exceptional abilitiy in wood carving. For the library reception room where the murals were hung he made a table centrepiece showing a pioneer couple and their log cabin home and their ox, pig and fowl. His figures closely resemble those of the French Habitants.

In the first floor entrance hall, old style house furnishings, candle snuffers, lanterns and antiques were set up as the home of Peter Robinson. A large size likeness of the city's founder, a scroll and a drawing showing his route were done by Miss Marion Mull of Campbellford.

The second floor hall was a 1900 street scene in Peterborough that was as authentic as could be managed from newspaper advertisements looked up by Miss Shirley Gilmour of Kingston. Past the canopied front of the National Hotel was Douglas' Shoe Store where high button pointed-toe shoes of that day were displayed, and across the street was Black Pete's Saloon, with swinging doors wide, and Harry Adams' New Outfitting Store.

Elaborate dresses chosen by the lady of style in that day were on show window figures and really old-style hats completed the display. Another "window" was filled with such items as moustache cups, a fine shaving mug in a red plush case, berry bowls, a picture album and a viewmaster, gathered and labelled by Miss Marjorie Huffman of Newburg and Miss Gladys Clark of Stirling.

Decorations in the assembly hall were in Valentine colors and featured red boy and girl figures silhouetted on glittering green windows and a great ribboned heart over centre of the dance floor, edged with red carnations.

All art and craft work was done under the direction of Miss C. E. Wagar and Mr. G. Munro. Playing a large part in this work, in addition to those already mentioned, were Miss Joyce Pitchford, Peterborough; Miss Truth Hamilton of Lennoxville, Que.; and Roger Hendren who was in charge of third floor.

Refreshments at the At Home are always especially tempting and this year was no exception. Mrs. J. Allen of the home economics department was in charge and they were served by students who were directed by Miss Norma Wartman of Newburgh.

For Bad Winter Cough, Mix This Syrup Yourself

If you want a splendid cough medicine, mix it at home. It costs very little, yet the way it takes hold of distressing coughs, giving quick relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. To make syrup, use 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) It's no trouble at all and gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money—a family supply. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

It is surprising how quickly this loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps to clear the air passages. This three-fold action explains why it relieves an annoying cough in a hurry.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a very reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

Pinex Is Quick Acting!

Handicraft Groups' Work Placed On Exhibition

An exhibition by members of handicraft groups of the Peterborough Women's Art Association was held Friday in the YWCA. All the work displayed has been done in the year past and indicated improvement in skill and expanding interests.

Dainty floral decorations to enhance comestic jars and such were being fashioned by Mrs. W. C. McCreery and her watchers were incredulous when told the simple materials were kleenex, dipped in flour and water and vegetable colouring, and a darning needle for shaping. For permanency a lacquer is put on the finished design and it is baked.

Mrs. W. L. Hardwicke was busy weaving in the cross threads to make a pretty coloured belt. She had several feet of it completed on her Inkle loom and was intending to make it long enough to tie and finish the ends with tassels Needlepoint fabric is very difficult to obtain these days so the only piece on display was that being worked by Mrs. C. L. Upper.

Mrs. J. Gatz who is well-known for her beautiful metal work demonstrated fabric painting. She was putting pansy centres on covered buttons, using a saucer on which to mix tiny bits of colour. A scarf and blouse on display had attractive decoration she had created.

Mrs. Chas. Elliott was a new exhibitor of oil paintings and had hung a number that were greatly admired.

A fascinating "peep show" made by Mrs. G. Reinhardt was called "Winter sports with Stuart Little." The figure of Stuart, mouse, was tobogganing on an icy slide, and his playmates were in snow laden trees roundabout. Some of her materials were pottery clay for houses in the background and figures, kleenex and wall board dipped in flour for the snow covered terrain and mirrors for ice.

Mrs. H. R. Sills had a variation from the usual style among the hooked rugs on display. Potter pieces included some in the unfinished state.

Among the many showing keen interest in the display of crafts was the city's new recreational director, Mr. Alex Sinclair.

President Mrs. N. D. Seaton was on hand to greet guests. She was called upon by the Guild of Arts and Crafts to make the draw for a painting, done by Mr. C. S Browne, on which tickets have been sold in past months. The winner was Mrs. H. R. Sills.

Tickets were sold on a large decorated angel cake which was drawn for at close of the exhibition and won by Mrs. V. S. Foster.

Afternoon tea was served by members of the Art Study group. The tea table was covered with a handsome lace cloth representing many hours of fine work by Miss Linden Hall, and was centred with a bouquet of tulips and daffodils. Mrs. Jas. Ellis and Mrs. B. W. Harvey poured the tea

LOOKING TO SPRING — At left, white waffle pique hat with tucked brim and feather shot through one side. Centre, a white bonnet with uneven brim adorned with clusters of tiny roses and a froth of green veiling and, at right, navy blue felt off-the-face has white waffled pique for spring contrast with navy feather giving that popular tall look.

Auntie May Fired as Dowdy Glamor Typist

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Feb. 18 — (CP). — "Auntie May," a dowdy, elderly woman with a grim smile who appeared on a civil service recruiting poster as the typical over-40 typist, has been fired.

Civil service typists, young and old, resented her. Her place is to be taken by a drawing of a 40-year-old, described by a Ministry of Labor official as "not bad looking."

Typists were loud in their denunciations of the "Aunty May" poster.

"I think it is an insult," said Cicely Crosby, grey-haired stenographer at the British Treasury. "Just because they do not want only young women, they don't have to make us look like hags."

But Mary Cartlidge, 15, who came to the Treasury straight from school, disagreed. "I think she looks a nice, motherly person," Mary said.

"She looks too efficient by half," said Vivien Stack of the Foreign Office."

All agreed that civil service typists are not dowdy. Said one: "We may not look like fashion plates, but we have got dress sense."

The Ministry of Labor official gave this excuse for "Auntie May's" appearance:

The Common Touch

"We felt that if she looked too glamorous the over-40s would not apply. If she looked like an ordinary person they would say 'that looks something like my type' and write in.

"Anyhow, we have decided to sack Auntie May and substitute another middle-aged woman, a little more glamorous."

News that the dowdy old lady was being killed off was greeted with enthusiasm by Hilda Hart, general secretary of the Women Civil Servants Association.

"Obviously the Ministry of Labor had to withdraw the poster after all the criticism that has been levelled at it," she said. "I hope her successor will look a little more sensible and intelligent."

Commented The Daily Telegraph in an editorial:

"Members of the women's fighting services and nurses have in the past complained that official posters misrepresented them as glamor-girls.

"Women civil servants have the opposite grievance: An official advertisement has depicted a middle-aged typist."

The Telegraph described the poster as "tactless."

Canadian Travels Charm Busy Wife of Belgian Envoy

By KAY REX,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 (CP)—The interview with the Vicomtesse du Parc never did get around to that sterotyped question—how the wife of the Belgian ambassador liked Canada. It wasn't necessary.

The Vicomtesse is such a friendly warm-hearted person that it can be taken for granted she always gets a kick out of meeting people and living in a new country.

Also there's the fact that since coming to Canada the Belgian envoy and his wife have travelled as far west as Prince Rupert, B. C., as far east as the Gaspe Peninsula.

Said the Vicomtesse, a twinkle in her eye: "I don't think we have done too badly for our first year here."

Boat trips along the coast from Prince Rupert and along the St. Lawrence shores are what she remembers with particular delight. In the near future she hopes to complete the trans-Canada tour travelling throughout the Maritime provinces.

The Vicomtesse was asked about Belgium, how big a part the women there play in the public life of their country. Public-spirited women of Canada should take heart from her words. Even before they had the vote, Belgian women were being elected to parliament.

"We have women in the Senate and many women in parliament," said the Vicomtesse.

Women have been elected to the Belgian parliament for some years past although last year was the first time they were allowed to vote in a national election.

Stayed With Husband

Keeping up with the day-to-day events at home isn't an easy thing when you have been away as long as the Vicomtesse has. Except for visits, she has seen little of Belgium during the last 10 years, choosing instead to travel with her husband wherever his missions have taken him.

But she knows a great deal about what Belgium is doing in the family welfare and health field. Her voice fills with quiet pride when she talks about the social work developments in her country.

This summer she plans a trip to Belgium where she will visit her 24-year-old son, Joseph, who looks after the family estate at Chateau Harlue, near Namur about 35 miles southeast of Brussels.

The couple's other child, a 13-year-old daughter, Claude, attends school at Congregation de Notre Dame in Ottawa.

The many social obligations, looking after her daughter and managing the big residence in Ottawa's Sandy Hill district, leaves this diplomat's wife little time to indulge in hobbies.

But occasionally she turns to her tapestry—several pieces of her work now cover chairs at the Belgian embassy.

More often though, when she has a few spare moments, she knits. Garments for Claude and Joseph are the favored items.

"It takes a lot of knitting for Joseph," she said, smiling. "He's tall you know—over six feet."

PLANNING TRIP HOME—The Vicomtesse du Parc this summer hopes to visit her native Belgium. In the last 10 years the wife of the Belgium ambassador has seen little of her homeland, choosing instead to travel with her husband wherever his missions have taken him. The Belgian envoy and his wife have been in Canada a year.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Must Consider Children When Widower Remarries

A woman is going to marry a widower with two adolescent children who have been living with their grandmother since their mother's death. The father is particularly devoted to the elder of the children, who is a beautiful and attractive young girl of 16, and the prospective stepmother frankly admits that she is consumed with jealousy of her and wants to know if I do not think that she should tell her fiance that she is not willing to have the children live with them after they are married and that he must leave them with their grandmother.

Dorothy Dix

Well, if she feels that way about the children, the only decent thing to do is to state her position unequivocally on the subject and give the widower a chance to choose between her and his children. Otherwise she will bring misery down on the heads of all concerned.

Shock To Father

Of course, it will be a terrible surprise and shock to the father to find out that his beloved children are regarded as a fatal handicap to him. It never enters his dear dumb head that the more a woman loves her husband, the more she is apt to resent the first wife, who had his youth and romance and all pertaining to her, and that there are no sirens of whom she is so passionately jealous as she is of his children. Every display of affection that he makes to them, all the little petting that would be so precious to her if shown to her own children, tear her heart to tatters when they are lavished on the children of his first marriage.

Of course, there are some women whose arms ache for children, who can take their husband's children to their breasts and love them as if they were their own. There are big and generous-hearted women who can be fair and just to their stepchildren, but if a woman is at all inclined to be jealous and if she is of a possessive nature, it is a dangerous experiment to bring the stepchildren to live with her.

It is not to be denied that the lot of the stepmother is a difficult one. Taking it by and large, it is the hardest and the most thankless job on earth, and one wonders why any woman ever has the courage to undertake it.

All that their own mother has put up with in children, all the sacrifices their own mother has to make for them, all the work she has to do in making them comfortable and creating a happy home, the stepmother has to do. But there is this great difference: The own mother's love is a magic that makes her children's noise music to her ears, that turns every sacrifice into a pleasure, and makes labor a joy because it is done for those she cares for more than she does for herself. But the stepmother has no such affection to gild her labor and sacrifices. Her self-denials, her toils, are just blood offerings laid on the altar of duty.

Children Unappreciative

And if very few children ever show any perception of what their parents do for them or express any gratitude, still less are stepchildren appreciative of their stepmothers. As a general thing they resent her and regard her best efforts in their behalf as unwarranted meddling in their affairs. The discipline they will accept from their own mother they will not take from a stepmother, and this makes more difficult the task of the woman who is trying to guide aright her husband's children and be a mother to them.

If there are cruel stepmothers there are also demon stepchildren, but the stepmother should always bear in mind the fact that her lot is of her own choosing. She knew what she was doing when she married a widower with children. She deliberately elected herself to the position of mother to them and she is, of all women, the most damned if she fails in doing her best to take their mother's place to them.

Oh, it is a hard job being a stepmother. Hard for her and hard for the children, and a woman should search her own soul before she undertakes it.

Mount Pleasant WA Plans Irish Supper

MOUNT PLEASANT, Feb. 18—(ENS)—The president, Mrs. H H. Lowes, was in chair for the February meeting of the Women's Association held at the home of Mrs. Lawson Sr., on Wednesday.

Eighteen members were present. The devotional period was in charge of Mrs. Norman Fee, and the scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Thomas Graham.

Mrs. Gardiner was thanked by the president for the work she had done in the sale of Christmas cards.

Cards of thanks were read from Mrs. Richard Graham, Mrs. Archer, Mr. Honey and Mrs. W H. Lowes for being remembered in illness and at Christmas.

Committees were appointed for an Irish supper and program to be held St. Patrick's day, March 17. Program committee: Mrs. J. Fee, Mrs. H. Jamieson and Mrs. I. Lowe; Menu, Mrs. Norman Fee, Mrs. T. Graham and Mrs. Armstrong; table, Mrs. A. Bland, Mrs. R. Carr and Mrs. H. Baker.

A donation of $5 was voted for the Canadian March of Dimes national campaign.

Mrs. H. Jamieson conducted a contest on Women of the Bible. Mrs. Lawson Sr., sang, accompanied by her son, Alex, at the piano; Mrs. H. H. Lowes read an article on the World Day of Prayer; Mrs. W. H. Lowes recited a poem; Mrs. W. Downer, conducted a Valentine contest and Mrs. D. Lawson a flower and nut contest.

The hostess served tea, assisted by the co-hostesses, Mrs. D. Armstrong and Mrs. H. Baker.

LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE

Extend to the public of Peterborough a cordial invitation to see the sound films explaining the benefits of The Moose Fraternity THE CHILD CITY OF MOOSEHEART and MOOSEHAVEN at PETERBOROUGH, LODGE 813 on FEBRUARY 23rd, THURSDAY at PETERBOROUGH CRIBBAGE CLUB, 408½ GEORGE ST. NORTH.

For Your Information

"THE CHILD CITY" Built on Faith

"MOOSEHEART" one of the orders international Benefits

Men of sound minds and great vision planned the beautiful child city of MOOSEHEART . . . not for themselves, not for their own children, but for the children of others less fortunate . . . for the children who have lost one or both parents.

MOOSEHEART was founded July 27th, 1913. It is 35 miles west of Chicago. It is primarily a home and school for deceased Moose Brothers' wives and children. A widow may, if she so chooses, accompany her children to Mooseheart, and be given employments, that she may be near her children. Or the widow, is she so chooses, may stay at home and receive a monthly cheque based on her dependency until her children become of age.

Today, Mooseheart is internationally known as a model city that combines vocational training, thorough education, scholarship awards, citizenship and religious training.

In a little more than a quarter of a century, Mooseheart has developed from a few acres of rolling prairie to more than twelve hundred acres of parklike estate on which are included all that goes to make the city beautiful. More than ninety million dollars has been expended in the development, maintenance and operation of the "CHILD CITY" built in those acres.

The glory of MOOSEHEART is the glory of the "LOYAL ORDER OF MOOSE." To them belong the credit. As Moose members, they are more than elated to know that their few cents a day makes possible this child city. A home for some two thousand children who otherwise may not have had the opportunity that the Order has provided for them at Mooseheart, to become, first, useful to themselves, and then, worthwhile citizens and of service to the world.

"Thou shalt believe in GOD, and worship him as thy conscience dictates. Thou shalt be tolerant to let others worship each in his own way. And—whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them." (Moose Ritual.)

Every young married man in PETERBOROUGH and district owes it to himself and his family to investigate what is offered in the

Attention Catholics
Our problems being no longer local or diocesan, only the "National" Catholic weekly—The Ensign carrying the world news and covering the many varied problems of life can now adequately serve our needs.
A diocesan weekly is definitely no longer sufficient.
We are all aware of the seriousness of the hour.
Let us act while there is still time.
To keep properly abreast of current events and to effectively support the spreading of the truth, it is best to take the Ensign on a yearly basis.
By subscribing during February you save 50c on each year's subscription. Rates $2.50 yearly now (in Canada) $3.00 yearly after March 1st.
Also there's an introductory offer for new subscribers: 4 months—$1.00.
Those wishing to subscribe just write to the address below and the representative will call. K. Twomey, authorized repres. of "Ensign," 306 Brock St., City.

SERVELS ARE BACK!
Yes, back at last and now built in Canada too. Servel—the refrigerator that is different. The only refrigerator that is truly different from all others.
The refrigerator without a motor!
Silent in operation—absolutely silent—forever—no motor!
Lasts many years longer because there are no moving parts to wear—no machinery to break down — no motor! That's why Servel offers two types, one for electric operation—uses a tiny heating element instead of machinery. One for kerosene or coal oil, where you are out of reach of hydro—a small built-in Aladdin lamp does the job. See this

Have Requiem Mass For Richard Killen

Requiem mass for Richard Killen, who died Wednesday at his home 346 Dublin Street, was celebrated Friday at St. Peter's Cathedral. He died a month after the death of his wife.

The Rev. K. Malane was the celebrant and present in the sanctuary were Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. V. McAuley of Lindsay, Rt. Rev. Monsignor P. P. Butler, Peterborough, the Rev. C. J. Carroll, Norwood, and the Rev. V. J. Gillogly, Ennismore.

Relatives and friends attended from New York, Detroit, Ennismore and other districts.

Graveside prayers were said by the Rev. Raymond Garvey, assisted by the four clergy present in the sanctuary. Pall-bearers were six grandsons: M. D., Claire and Romeo Sullivan, Donald Hagerty, Kenneth Crough, and Terry Killen.

possible, the age of the building, and noting changes in structure, heating and so on.

As a facility to this work of the assessment department, householders can help by having beforehand these details, thereby obviating subsequent recalls at homes.

The first age group is that of children three years and under. Altogether tthere are thirteen of such groups. The broadest is the adult stretch of years from 20 to 59; followed by 60 to 64 years; 65 to 69 and finally 70 years and over.

The assessors who started out this week are Cyril Agnew, senior member under Mr. Wilkes, James Moher and Murray Thomas.

May Cancel 1949 Licences

TORONTO, Feb. 18 — (CP) — Ontario Highways Minister Doucett said Friday that unless there is an immediate increase in applications for new automobile and drivers' licences, the period for use of 1949 permits "will be terminated without notice."

February registrations to date are about 30 per cent below those of last year, he said. January registrations were seven per cent greater than in January, 1949.

At Feb. 10, only 265,000 motor vehicles had been registered and only 300,000 drivers had obtained 1950 licences. Total vehicle registration last year was 968,000 and 1,275,583 drivers were licenced.

Car Strikes Truck Suffers $250 Damage

A car owned and driven by Fred Jones of Bobcaygeon received about $250 damage Friday when it collided with a truck on Highway 36, three miles south of Bobcaygeon.

Neither Jones nor the driver of the truck, Carl Wilson of Buckhorn, was injured.

The two vehicles met as the car had just rounded a bend in the road. The truck had passed a sleigh and team on the highway as it travelled along in a northerly direction toward Bobcaygeon, and had finished swinging back into line when Jones' car approached.

When the brakes were applied Jones' car slewed sideways into the path of the truck striking the larger vehicle in the rear end.

Provincial Police Constable George Stevens and Fred Pollitt, who investigated, estimated damage to the car at $250. The left rear tire of the truck was badly cut.

Hold Funeral Service For Mrs. J. Marshall

Funeral services of the late Mrs. James Marshall were conducted by the Rev. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson of St. John's Anglican Church on Friday from the funeral home of A. Comstock & Sons. Interment was in Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Marshall was born in London, England, and had resided in Peterborough for the past 39 years. Following a sudden illness, she died in Hospital.

Pall bearers were Charles Coleman, Hector Thompson, Harry Campbell, Wilfred Boorman, Robert Northcott and Earl McNabb.

Bridgenorth Club Sponsors Dance

First dance by the Teen Agers Club of Bridgenorth, held Friday evening in the Foresters' Hall, was a gay and happy affair. The entire program was arranged and carried out by club members who are sponsored by Bridgenorth Home and School Association.

The hall was gaily decorated in Valentine colours and an evening of round and square dancing was enjoyed, with music by McCauley and Drimmie orchestra. Refreshments served were hot dogs and soft drinks.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jopling were winners of the lucky spot prize, and Miss Laurie Mann won the door prize.

Program committee was Marjorie Forsythe, Nancy Heard, Joan Wannamaker, Glen English, Bob Hardill and Ralph Heard.

Mrs. C. Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. M. McWilliams were patrons for the occasion.

3 Counterfeit Bills Found In Peterboro'

Three counterfeit ten dollar bills have been found in local circulation since the first of the year. Bankers suggest there may be others in the neighborhood, and advise the public to scan this denomination for the time being.

A. D. Cameron, of the Bank of Montreal, said today that this bogus bill is a clever imitation. A ready means of detection is by passing a wet finger over the serial number. On the spurious bills the figures show a smudge that should lead to further enquiry.

Counterfeit tens were reported around Guelph some time ago, but these recent instances are the first appearance of false money here of late.

Collide On Bridge

The trunk of a car driven by D. Gerolamy, 30 Edgewater Blvd. and the front of one driven by James Choate, 711 Armour Rd., were damaged Friday evening when they collided on Hunter St. bridge.

Gerolamy was driving east on Hunter St. when he had to pull up suddenly. Choate's car, which was immediately behind, hit the trunk of the front car resulting in a damaged trunk to the first car and a broken grill and punctured radiator to Choate's vehicle. Constable Andy Dalton investigated.

McKENNEY Answers Your CANASTA Questions

I'm taking this week's columns to answer questions from readers which seem to cause the most confusion. Remember, don't be thrown off the track by conflicting local rules. Canasta had to be good to achieve its tremendous popularity. Don't ruin the game with queer rules that throw it out of shape. Stick to the standard National Law Commission rules.

Q—May I at any time discard a card that is playable on a meld previously made?

A—You certainly may. As a matter of fact, it is good strategy in Canasta to discard a card matching a meld you have down on the table. For example, if you have a natural canasta, it is foolish to meld the 8th card on your canasta. That 8th card is as good a discard as a black trey because you know that your opponent cannot pick it up.

Then again, suppose that you have 4 kings down and pick up another king. It may be vitally important for you to discard the 5th king, rather than give your opponents a card that they are more likely to be able to pick up, thereby getting control of the pack.

There are also times when you may be working on 2 or 3 canastas. Now if you have a meld of 2 kings and a deuce and another king in your hand, the discard of the extra king has a slight percentage of safety—and after all, you cannot work on too many canastas at one time.

Q—I had several melds down. One of them was 3 five-spots. My opponent discarded a five-spot. I claimed that I could take the pack and play the five-spot on the 3 fives I had previously melded. He claimed I could not do this, that I must have at least one 5 and a wild card in my hand in order to take the pack. Who was right?

A—You were right. When the pack is not frozen, and the player on your right discards a card that matches one of your melds, you can play it on your meld and then put the balance of the discard pile in your hand. Even if your meld is a completed canasta, you can take that up-card, play it on your canasta, and pick up the balance of the discard pile. Of course, if the pack if frozen, you must have 2 natural cards in your hand matching the up-card before you can take the discard pile.

Q—During the play I drew a red trey. I put it down on the table and then drew another card which gave me a pair to match the up-card on the discard pile. Could I now take the discard pile?

A—No, you could not. You made your choice when you first drew from the stock pile. When you drew the red trey, you had to put it on the table and replace it with another card from the stock pile. All you could do after that was to meld and discard.

Q—When my opponents discard a wild card and freeze the pack am I supposed to try to keep them from getting the pack?

A—I certainly would not ruin my hand in an attempt to keep them from getting the pack. Remember that it is their wild card that froze it, and if you think you will have to give them the pack, give it to them early.

Q—We needed 50 points for an initial meld. My partner had 3 tens, a deuce and a joker in his hand. He melded the 3 tens and the deuce. Later when I asked him why, he said he wanted to conceal the joker, and the deuce fulfilled the minimum requirement. I still claim he was wrong and should have melded the joker.

A—You are absolutely right. A deuce and a joker serve the same purpose, but the joker, if melded, counts 50 points for you, while if your partner was eventually caught with the joker in his hand, it would count 50 points against you.

* * *

Some of the questions in today's article are based on points that came up during the recent match between Oswald Jacoby and John R. Crawford vs. Sam Fry Jr., and Theodore Lightner.

Q—A player made a meld of 4 cards. His partner, at his turn to play, threw over on this meld enough natural and wild cards to complete a canasta. However, the original player did not notice that it was now a completed canasta, and did not close it up. When the play came around to him again, he added a deuce to the same meld. As he gathered it up, he noticed that he now had 8 cards in the canasta. Could he take his deuce and move it to another meld?

A—No, he may not. He has made himself an 8-card canasta. Law 12 of the Official Canasta Laws clearly states: "A card is melded as soon as it is placed face up on the table with evident intent to meld. If the exact location of a melded card is in doubt, any player may ask that the meld be clarified."

This law further states that a melded card may not be discarded and may be shifted only if it has been melded illegally; or to join two melds of the same rank provided the merged meld does not contain more than three wild cards.

In the above case the deuce was not melded illegally, as it is permissible to add wild cards to a canasta.

* * *

Q—Should my partner's discard give me an indication of his holding?

A—Yes. There was an interesting example of this point in the Jacoby, Crawford, Fry, Lightner match. The discard pile, which was frozen, was quite large, numbering approximately 45 cards. No tens had been discarded. Mr. Lightner was squeezed and finally let go a ten spot, which Mr. Jacoby could not take. Then it was Mr. Fry's turn to play, and he also was embarrassed for a safe discard.

Remember that the large discard pile contained no tens, and Mr. Fry's partner had discarded a ten, which Jacoby could not take. Fry held 3 ten-spots, and he therefore had a right to assume that his partner held at least 3, and possibly 4, ten-spots, because he would not risk discarding a free card on a large discard pile.

Fry decided in view of these circumstances, that the discard of a ten from his own hand might be a fairly safe discard. However, Mr. Crawford, on his left, happened to have the seventh and eighth ten, and was able to pick up the discard pile, thereby melding close to 5,000 points. Although Mr. Fry made a good and proper deduction from his partner's discard, it went wrong in this match.

* * *

The following question came from one of my readers:

Q—The discard pile was quite large. I drew a card from the stock pile. It was a red trey, so I drew another card. I did not have a safe discard and I wanted to freeze the pack, but I did not have a wild card in my hand. Could I forfeit the right to put the red trey down on the table for 100 points, and discard it to freeze the pack?

A—No. You may, if you wish, hold a red trey in your hand, but if you get caught with it, it will cost you 500 points. The only other thing you can do with it is to put it down on the table. If you make a legal initial meld, the red trey will count 100 points for you; otherwise it counts 100 points against you.

Hearing March 3 On $22,000 Property Bylaw

Ontario Municipal Board decided in Toronto Friday to hear in Peterborough on March 3 any objections to the council's bylaw to borrow $22,000 by debentures for the purchase of 150 acres of industrial site property south and west of the city.

H. L. Garner, chairman of the Industrial Commission, said today that the Board was favorably inclined toward the purpose of the council in securing land for industrial expansion.

However, to make sure of public approval of the project, it was felt that if any ratepayers wished to object to the investment they should be given a hearing.

"The Board has instructed the council to advertise the bylaw in two successive weeks," Mr. Garner said, "and then they will hold a sitting here on Friday, March 3, in the city council chamber."

Has Two Readings

The council has given the borrowing bylaw two readings. If it finally receives assent it authorizes the acquiring of 150 acres south of Lansdowne St., and west of Erspine Ave. With 20 acres already owned by the city in that section, the total land available for Peterborough's industrial development will be 170 acres.

The property is adjoining the city. It is in the line of present expansion of the city's industrial sector. The main advantage is to put into the hands of the city, property for sale to factory interests at the council's own terms and not at suddenly inflated prices quoted by private owners.

Mr. Garner accompanied Mayor Swanston, Ald. H. F. Waddell and City Clerk Outram in the interview with the Board.

Mrs. Mary J. Jordan Buried At Little Lake

The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church conducted the funeral services of the late Mrs. Mary Jane Jordan on Friday from the funeral home of A. Comstock & Sons. Interment was in Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Jordan died at the residence of her sister, Mrs. William Enoy in Toronto. She was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, having taken an active part in the work of the Ladies' Aid and Women's Missionary Society.

Pall bearers were Herb Mason, Stewart Finnie, Robert Fowler, Robert Lackey, Ross Jordan and Leonard Mahood.

Two Cars Damaged

Cars driven by Irwin Sloan, 499 Sherbrooke St. and Harold Payne, 89 Park St. collided Friday evening at the intersection of Sherbrooke and Reid Sts. The left front fender and headlight of Sloan's car was damaged. Payne was driving a taxi.

FIREMEN POUR TONS OF WATER into the Brooklyn Window Cleaning Co. building in Montreal, when an explosion caused by smoke and flames caused an estimated $50,000 damage. The building was undergoing extensive repairs. Fire fighters battled the blaze for nearly three hours. No one was hurt.

Hear 12 Witnesses

day's hearing he had never undertaken to pay back any member of the IUE and he later signed a blue card, though on the wrong side.

"There never was a period in which you believed you owed any money?" asked Chairman Draper.

"No," said Mr. James. He stated he signed the yellow card in the first place but would not pay the fee as he wanted to think the matter over.

Mr. Dillon who witnessed the James application card said he received the signed card and a dollar from Mr. Melhuish and he presumed the latter would hold the receipt for the money until such time as James paid up.

When C. L. Dubin, UE counsel, suggested no one could pay a dollar on behalf of someone else he became engaged in a legal dispute with E. B. Jolliffe, counsel for the IUE. The latter insisted this was a matter of law.

"You knew that James had not paid the money with his own dollar, did you"? questioned Mr. Draper.

"Yes," said Mr. Dillon.

Never Paid Either

George Henry Johnston who signed his name to an IUE card solicited by Chester Grant also insisted he had never paid a dollar before the hearing on January 4. And he also stated he had not authorized Mr. Grant to pay it.

He subsequently signed a blue card but a week ago paid Mr. Grant the dollar. Mr. Johnston claimed he did not know he was considered an IUE member until approached by the OLRB examiner last month because of the duplication of signatures.

"What would you say if Johnston claimed he didn't know about a dollar being paid on his behalf until January?" the chairman asked Mr. Grant.

"I'd say he was mistaken."

Made Arrangement

Austin Stanley Killingbeck, formerly of the diesel locomotive department, said he had signed an IUE card on November 16 and told Keith Chiles, financial secretary of the IUE local he would pay the dollar back as soon as he had it.

"You had an arrangement then with Chiles to pay him." asked one of the Board members.

"Yes."

Mr. Chiles testified the receipt was not handed over to Mr. Killingbeck as he intended to withhold it until the applicant reimbursed him.

Jeers At Procedure

At this point Mr. Chiles was verbally attacked by Mr. Dubin. The UE counsel jeered at such procedure being carried out by a financial secretary and added: "You were just faking the records."

Mr. Killingbeck's card was put in on December 2, claimed Mr. Dubin, for the sole purpose of including it in the IUE application for certification. Later Mr. Killingbeck signed a blue card.

William Edward McFadden testified he signed a yellow card on November 15 but told Mr. Dillon, an active member of the IUE in that department, to return for the dollar initiation fee in a day or so.

Changes Mind

By that time he had changed his mind about joining the right wing membership.

He contended he made no agreement with Mr. Dillon or anyone else for payment of the fee on his behalf but realized something was amiss when he received an IUE membership card in the first or second week of January.

Somebody paid the dollar but the Board was unable to find out at the Friday hearing who it was.

Mr. McFadden denied paying it; Mr. Dillon testified he turned it into the IUE headquarters on Charlotte St. with no money attached. John G. Morton who issued the receipt said the dollar was attached when he saw it but he didn't know where the money came from.

"Are you suggesting that somebody came right out of the blue and put a dollar on that yellow card"? asked Mr. Dubin.

Hints Explanation

Mr. Morton replied he didn't know for sure and hinted that the explanation would be found in another case not yet aired before the Board.

"You made out a receipt for McFadden without knowing or seeing him"? continued Mr. Dubin, pressing the case.

"Yes," said Mr. Morton.

"Did you have any reason to suspect this card"? asked Mr. Jolliffe.

"No."

John Warren Smith recognized an IUE card signed by himself together with other particulars but denied the date was correct or in his handwriting. And he said also that he had not authorized anyone to pay his initiation fee, though he had stated he would pay later.

Second Receipt

Mr. Morton said he had also issued a receipt for a dollar received from Mr. Smith. J. A. Wilson was the witness according to the signature on the yellow card (although Mr. Smith testified he didn't see him) and D. O'Hearn originally signed him.

Raymond Arthur Wilde said he signed a yellow card toward the end of November but wished to pay the money personally to his friend Keith Chiles. He claimed he paid no money after all and received no receipt.

And, according to Mr. Wilde, there was no arrangement whereby Mr. Chiles would pay the money and he would later give it back.

Mr. Chiles testified that Mr. Wilde was short of cash at the time.

"My understanding was that I'd look after it (i.e. payment of the initiation fee) and he'd pay me back."

The IUE financial secretary said he held onto the receipt until he would be able to pay.

Concludes First Section

Mr. Wilde's evidence concluded the first category of witnesses called by the Board in the hearing. In all cases the investigation was undertaken to establish whether or not initiation fees had been paid by the individual members as claimed by the IUE at the time of its original application.

The next line of investigation was whether or not six CGE employees had actually signed blue cards as claimed by the UE. These interviews took place on Friday night.

Cecil Ford Greer was queried by the OLRB examiners in January and at that time stated he wasn't sure if it was his signature on the blue card. Previously he had signed an IUE membership card.

He explained to the board on Friday: "At first I wasn't sure but since then I recalled I had signed it and I recognize it."

"Weren't you asked on various occasions to sign a blue card and refused to do so?" queried Mr. Jolliffe.

"Yes."

"Now is it your recollection or is it because people have been telling you you signed it?"

Names' Workman

He conceded that he had been bothered "quite a bit" the past few days by fellow workmen advising him he had signed. Pressed by the chairman of the Board to name one, he reluctantly said: "Tom Kay."

Mr. Jolliffe intimated the possibility of pressure being brought to bear on him, but Mr. Greer insisted he had made up his own mind.

Another witness, George Harvey, said he had signed a membership card in the IUE and also paid his dollar. Later he signed a blue card which stated he had never paid any money to the IUE and this discrepancy was noticed by the examiner.

Mr. Harvey explained he was under the impression he was signing a revocation slip. Charles Collins issued him with the blue card originally. Later he twice asked Mr. Collins to destroy it when he realized his mistake but this request was not complied with.

Joseph Leonard Hayes signed an IUE card, paid his dollar, and then signed a blue card thinking it was a petition. He asked vice-presidept of Local 524 UE, Art Hunter, to destroy the card but it went through to the OLRB in the UE submission.

Mr. Hunter said he was under the impression Mr. Hayes had not paid his dollar to the IUE at the time and after consultation with C. R. Sullivan they decided to hold onto it for tactical reasons.

Mixed On Cards

Jerome Orville Hoar paid his IUE initiation fee but later signed a blue card thinking it was a revocation slip. He told Clifford Shields and T. P. Davies, president of Local 524 UE later that he had made a mistake and they should destroy his card.

Mr. Davies said he told the office workers to take out Mr Hoar's card but he did not check to see if this had been done.

Joseph Edward Marsden signed an IUE card and paid his dollar. He then signed a blue card but the examiner queried the signature and Mr. Marsden was called to verify it.

The sixth witness in this category did not appear.

At 9 a.m. today the second day of the hearing resumed. The Board hopes to complete the hearing of evidence today.

Stage Facilities In Schools Rapped By Judge

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 18 (CP)—School auditoria as settings for the living drama came in for a few digs Friday at a theatre forum held in connection with the Western Ontario Regional Drama Festival now in progress at the Grand Theatre here.

Lighting equipment in some collegiates was criticized by Roy Irving, formerly of the Dublin Gate Theatre in Ireland who was preliminary adjudicator of the 18 plays offered for the four spots in the finals.

But even costly lighting equipment isn't of great use unless used correctly. A lighting plant "tied together with string and stuck together with postage stamps" had possibilities if used properly.

Dr. Alan Skinner of London, honorary director of the Dominion Drama Festival, commented on a "sameness" in the Canadian theatre. There were too many "copies," instead of drive, originality, experimentation and creative genius.

"There is," he said, "something lacking in the Canadian theatre We have no great actors or playwrights and only a few questioning directors."

Mine Union Head Protests Raiding

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (CP)—Sibly Barrett, Canadian director of the United Mine Workers of America, Friday confirmed reports that he is protesting "raiding" tactics of the United Steel Workers of America.

Barrett, here from a UMW meeting, said, "That's right," when asked about the reports.

The Steel Works' Union has been trying to organize smelter workers in Trail, B.C.

"The UMW certainly is opposed to raiding by the steel workers," Barrett said.

Barrett is also a member of the executive board of the Canadian Congress of Labor, which expelled the Mine and Smelter Union. His criticism of the steel workers might indicate, therefore, that he is not taking the CCL line.

Barrett, however, denied that he is running counter the CCL policy because "as a member of the CCL executive I opposed the handing over of jurisdiction to the steel workers."

Steal $27,800

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—A three-man team of bank robbers stole about $27,800 at gunpoint Friday from a branch bank at the northern tip of Washington near the Maryland border.

MEMBERS OF 410 FIGHTER SQUADRON, RCAF, flying Vampire jet fighter aircraft, arrived at Whitehorse in the Yukon to participate in the joint Canadian-US Arctic manoeuvres now underway north of Whitehorse. In the above photo the pilots are checking last minute instructions before taking off to repel a reported "enemy" attack on troops north of their base. They are, right to left: F/O M. G. Seuder, Edmonton; F/O R. D. Schultz, Bashaw, Alta.; W/C D. G. Malloy, Halifax; S/L L. A. Hall, Montreal, OC of the Squadron; F/O D. J. Morrison, Nordegg, Alta.; and S/L Bill Skelding of Winnipeg.

Pro-Labor Archbishop Not Criticized For Work

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 (CP)—Archbishop Ildebrando Antoniutti, Apostolic delegate to Canada, said in a statement Friday night he has "always approved and encouraged the very charitable attitude" of the former Archbishop of Montreal, Most Rev. Joseph Charbonneau, towards all victims of war, strikes and social injustice.

The statement, issued over the signature of his secretary, the Rev. W. A. Carew, marked the first time Archbishop Antoniotti has broken his silence concerning the resignation of Archbishop Charbonneau.

The resignation was announced by the Vatican Feb. 11. The announcement said Pope Pius had accepted the resignation for "health reasons" and appointed Archbishop Charbonneau to the titular post of Archbishop of Bosphorus.

Approved Attitude

The brief statement Friday night said that Archbishop Antoniutti wished "to deny categorically . . . that he ever asked Archbishop Charbonneau to draw back from his pro-labor stand, since he has, on the contrary, always approved and encouraged the very charitable attitude of Archbishop Charbonneau towards all victims of war, strikes and social injustice."

Father Carew said the statement had been issued because the Apostolic delegate's name had been "ill-advisedly" linked with comment on the resignation.

Archbishops and bishops in Quebec last year authorized special collections in their archdioceses for some 5,000 striking miners at Asbestos, Que.

Marksmen Score Shots For Bronze Medals

Several of the marksmen of the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association's rifle club have completed their five-target shoot in the bronze division and are continuing a like number to finish up the silver class. From there they advance into the gold section finally to shoot for the Export shield.

It is reported that their club numbers are increasing at each Wednesday evening shoot at the Armouries butts. Top eight bronze marksmen who have finished the first hurdle scored as follows:

M. Hartin, 98, 96, 99, 99 100; E Kimball, 97, 99, 99, 97, 100; W Perry 96, 97, 99, 99 100; W. Byer, 96, 96, 97, 98, 99; R. Lee, 91, 94, 95, 98, 98; Jack Law 93, 93, 95, 96, 97; H. Tighe, 84, 93, 95, 96, 99; G Longhurst, 81, 89, 91, 95, 99.

Press UN Charges

(CP)—Britain, United States and Canada Friday took another step in pressing charges of violation of human rights in Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. United Nations delegations of the three Western Powers separately asked Trygve Lie, U.N. Secretary-General, to circulate among all U.N. members exchanges of notes concerning the charges.

Judgement Reserved

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 18—(CP)—Decision was reserved in county court Friday on the appeal of Alan Mackinnon, 27, against a conviction on a charge of obstructing police. Mackinnon, son of Joseph Mackinnon, 65-year-old registrar of voters who was murdered Dec. 18, was convicted and sentenced to one month in jail after being arrested during police investigation of the father's death. Exmayor Dan Jack McLean now is awaiting trial for the murder.

DON'T "PANIC" OUT OF POULTRY . . . FOR

EARLY Chicks Will PAY

Panic selling of laying birds has reached such proportions that there's every likelihood that laying pullets will be mighty profitable property next summer. And so far very few chicks have been started — the pullet chicks that should be laying next Summer, the cockerels that should be meeting the tourist meat demand.

There's never any sizable egg surplus during the Summer and early Fall . . . always a shortage of big eggs. This year the supply situation is likely to be the same as in previous years — only more so! Everything points to good prices and a wide spread for size through Summer and early Fall . . . June to October. And the same shortage is likely to show up in the broiler and light roaster market.

There's opportunity here for the poultry raiser who starts good chicks right away . . . starts them "flying" on Startena Checker-Etts . . . grows them fast and fully on a good Purina growing ration . . . gets big eggs to sell on that top market . . . well-finished meat birds for the tourist season.

Best Feed Investment You'll Ever Make!

Both cows and sows need special feed while they're "dry" — to help them build both their own bodies and the bodies of their young. This is probably the best feed investment you will ever make—if you pick the right feed. Ask us about the Purina Programme for these two classes of stock.

Would you like to put more milk in the cans, less in the calves . . . make money, save money, save time and work, and still raise topnotch calves? Here's how you can do it. Start your calves on Calf Startena . . . no milk after the first month, less work, top results.

Swelling Costs Squeeze CBC May Cut Quality

OTTAWA, Feb. 18 (CP)—The CBC, in its 1948-49 report to the government, said that it also is being caught in the squeeze between stable revenues and rising costs.

The report, covering the fiscal year ending March 31, 1949, was tabled by Revenue Minister McCann, who reports to parliament for the publicly-owned radio system.

Much of the content was made public in submissions of the CBC to the Royal Commission on Arts and Science.

The CBC asked the Commission to recommend that the licence fee on radio receiving sets by increased from $2.50 to $5.00 yearly. The Commission's report on its hearings is expected to be made to the government this fall.

National System Worst

"The greatest matter of concern to the corporation has been the financial position of the National Broadcasting System," said the report.

"In fact, because of swollen costs, the corporation will have to reduce drastically its services and program standards unless its revenue basis is changed. Reductions would have to include the cutting down of some program services, dropping of the quality of the programs, less use of Canadian talent and the elimination of network coverage in some areas."

$44,000 Deficit

In the year ended March 31 last the operating deficit, after provision for depreciation, was approximately $44,000.

"Costs, however, have again risen during the year and are continuing to go higher," said the report. "The effect of increases in cost levels on the corporation's expenditures, already a matter of serious concern will be fully felt only over a period of several years."

Enough Farm Land

WARKWORTH, Feb. 18 (ENS)—The Happy Gang Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Knight with a large attendance. The topic was "Is There Enough Land?" Everyone thought there was sufficient if better farming practices were used to increase production. The next meeting is to be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yabsley on Feb. 20. Community singing and playing cards was enjoyed.

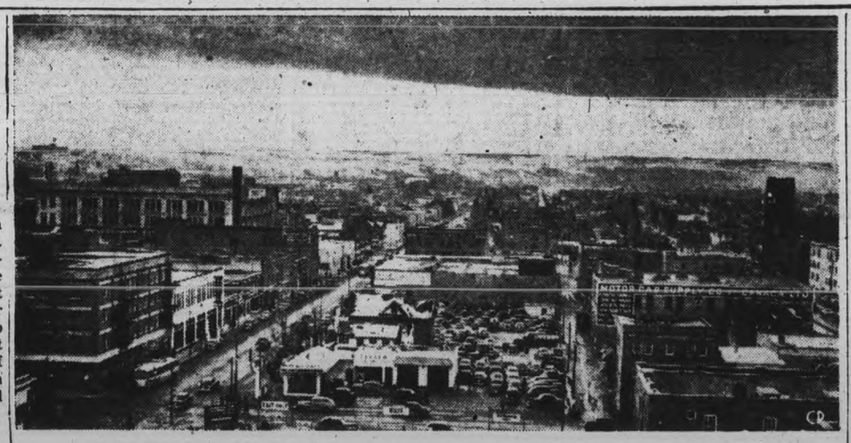
LONDON, Feb. 18 — (AP). — Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-tung and his foreign minister Chou En-lai, left Moscow Friday to return to China, the Moscow radio said.



CHINOOK'S COMING — This peculiar cloud formation is called a Chinook Arch and appears with those celebrated winds of southwestern Alberta which turn winter into spring in a couple of hours. This photo shows the arch with a section of downtown Calgary in the foreground. Most popular theory as to the cause of a Chinook is that air moving from the Pacific Ocean is dried and heated as it is lifted over the mountains. The arch is a cloud formation, believed built up where the moisture leaves the air.

Practical Course On Movies

A film workshop, the first of its type in Peterborough, will be held next weekend at the Public Library under the auspices of the Peterborough Film Council. There will be lectures and interest groups Friday night and Saturday afternoon and evening.

The workshop will stress films for use in communities, schools, industries and churches. William Graff librarian, said the speakers will be: Mr. A. Crossland, Kingston, Canadian Industries Limited, industrial films; Mrs. Wanda Sine of Foxboro, school films; R. H. Macklen, Hastings County inspector of schools, films for discussion and a demonstration on how a film discussion should take place; the Rev. Ivan Morgan, religious films.

Interest groups will be held on the four topics as well as an advanced course for projectionists.

Mr. Graff added that the workshop is an opportunity for all organizations in Peterborough to learn how to use films to a better advantage.

Coldest Weather This Year Grips Ontario, Slightly Milder Tuesday

Coldest Spot At Pagwa, With 48 Below Zero Timmins Next With 40 Degrees; Predict Scattered Snow Across Province

By The Canadian Press

Arctic winds sweeping down from Hudson Bay today clamped icy hands on Ontario. The cold wave spread across the province during the weekend. Many sections shivered in their coldest weather of the winter. The temperature dipped to 11 below zero overnight in Toronto, six degrees lower than the city's previous low.

Weather Bureau officials in Toronto predicted that the weather would soon moderate slightly, though no balmy breezes are in sight.

Temperatures will range between 10-15 above today throughout most of southern Ontario, they said, climbing to 15-25 tomorrow. In northern and eastern parts of the province, the weather will "moderate" to zero or higher.

The overnight icebox was Pagwa. The tiny settlement, 200 miles northeast of Fort William, reported 48 below zero. Timmins was almost as chilly, with a low of 40 below. Other northern Ontario cold spots: North Bay 27 below; Sudbury 24 below; Sault Ste. Marie 20 below.

Everybody Shivers

Ears and fingers felt just as numb in eastern Ontario in such temperatures as 20 below at Ottawa, 19 below at Peterborough, 19 below at Brockville, and 14 below at Trenton.

Teeth chattered as hard in southern Ontario as the cold caught residents without their blood thickened for it. Windsor reported a low of four above, about the only section of the province where temperatures didn't dip below zero. It was five below in London and Brantford and three below at Owen Sound, coldest of the winter in that Georgian Bay city.

Weather Bureau officials said the cold Arctic air that swept down the Hudson Bay corridor first struck Northern Ontario on Saturday, then fanned across the remainder of Ontario. The initial blast was being followed by slightly milder air, they said.

As evidence, they pointed out that temperatures in Port Ar-

Judge Issues 2nd Order Stop Strike

Miners Still Refuse To Go To Work; Ration Coal In N.Y.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP)—Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech today issued a new no-strike order against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers. It runs until March 3.

Keech has had a "stop strike" order out since Feb. 11, but the 372,000 miners have ignored it.

Lewis himself has observed it to the extent of twice sending instructions to the miners that they should go back to work.

The miners' refusal to obey the order has the government casting about for possible new actions to get coal mined. One move that is a possibility is contempt action against the United Mine Workers. This could result in big fines of the Union.

There has also been talk in Congress of legislation to let the government seize the mines. But Democratic leaders are not taking to that idea.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania soft coal miners today led defiant miners who refused to end their strike until they get a new contract.

Didn't Show Up

Overnight crews did not show up at 15 mines in West Virginia and four in Pennsylvania.

These two States together employ more than half of Lewis's 400,000 dues payers in the bituminous industry.

Wives of some miners in West Virginia advised their bread winners to continue on strike until they get a contract guaranteeing them five days a week.

Few of the hundreds of UMW locals voted on Lewis's back to work order during the weekend.

Of the 24 which did the vote was the same:

"No contract, no work."

Scores of other locals which met simply ignored the Lewis order.

Judge Richmond B. Keech, who issued the strike-end order Feb. 11, was to hear argument at 10 a.m. EST today on whether to grant an 80-day injunction. His present restraining order against

Magistrate Reduces First Charge

New Trial Slated For Assizes Beginning Feb. 27

Joseph Byrnes, 26, charged with the murder of Mrs. Helen Kendry, 26, was committed for trial on the reduced charge of manslaughter by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., in police court today.

He will be tried on the manslaughter charge at the next general assizes of the Supreme Court opening Feb. 27. Bail was set at $10,000.

Magistrate Philp said there was not sufficient evidence to warrant considering that Byrnes was shooting at Mrs. Weir and hit Mrs. Kendry by accident.

Mr. Philp said he considered that Byrnes was shooting indiscriminately and therefore could not be charged with murder.

He discharged Byrnes on the charge of murder, but said the evidence warranted that Byrnes be committed on a charge of manslaughter.

$80,000 Blaze Destroys Orono Church

ORONO, Feb. 20—Park Street United Church, which had stood for 87 years and was renovated only last summer at a cost of $25,000, burned to the ground Sunday afternoon. Loss was estimated at $80,000.

After three hours of battling the flames, firemen from Orono and Newcastle had to abandon the church and concentrate on saving the parsonage.

Almost the entire population of 500 lined the street, watching silently as the old church burned. Scores of cars from the surrounding countryside brought in volunteers who joined villagers and firemen in, trying to save the church.

The blaze started at 3:30 p.m., reportedly from an overheated furnace. When water being pumped from cisterns ran out, firemen turned to a creek that runs through the village. Dense smoke made it impossible for firemen to enter the burning building.

Park Street Church was the only United church here. It was built in 1862. Last summer the congregation decided to renovate it. Besides a complete redecoration of the main church auditorium, a new organ. chimes, Sunday school room and a pulpit were added.

Warns Canners Guarantee Pay For Growers

TORONTO, Feb. 20—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Kennedy today asked Ontario Canners work out a system of guaranteeing growers payment for their crops.

Mr. Kennedy told a representative group of canners that if growers and canners can't find a solution to the problem during forthcoming price negotiations, legislation will be introduced in the Legislature to protect growers.

Failure of Niagara Canned Foods at St. Catharines last year cost growers $110,000. The Wentworth Canning Company of Hamilton was on the point of failing this year with a possible loss to growers of $125,000.

The agriculture minister suggested canners should make payments to growers every two weeks instead of keeping them waiting as long as three months until the crop is packed. The canners suggested this system would involve a good deal more work and expenses of bookkeeping during the busy packing season. They suggested canning companies might be recompensed for this expense by a discontent—say five per cent—on the price paid growers.

Troops Jubilant As Weather Beaten In Arctic

DONJEK RIVER, Yukon, Feb. 20 — (CP). — Exercise Sweetbriar's Canadians and Americans had driven 30 hectic miles and were skirmishing along the Alaska-Yukon border to-day, and, biggest news of all, weather had surrendered.

After seven days of crackling temperatures between 25 and 40 below zero, the thermometer capitulated and headed upward to hover around zero. The troops, jubilant as they drew nearer to Thursday's climax of the first joint sub-zero manoeuvre, were still going strong. They took off some of their bulky clothes and talked cockily about banana belt temperatures.

50% UK Political Experts Predicting Labor Victory

LONDON, Feb. 20—(AP)—Ten of 20 political experts in Britain forecast a Labor victory in Thursday's general election. Six see a Conservative win. Four say the race is so close they wouldn't hazard a guess.

All foresee a narrow margin for whichever party wins. The Associated Press sought the views of 18 of the country's leading political journalists and the strategists of the two principal minority parties.

Both Labor and Conservatives predict victories for their side, in statements put out for home consumption.

Of the 20 polled, seven said their forecasts might well be upset by political oratory in the closing days of the campaign.

Bookmakers' odds still favor Labor.

Douglas Stuart, Limited, one of Britain's biggest bookmaking houses, quoted four to six on Labor (you bet $6 to win $4) six to five against Conservatives.

108 Passengers Abandon Ship

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 20 (AP) —Flames swept a little Danish steamship in fog-covered Kattegat Strait early today, driving 108 passengers into lifeboats for saf-pick[illegible] up safely a short time later by a Swedish-American liner, which answered the burning vessel's distress call.

A spokesman for the Kronprins Olav said all passengers were taken aboard the Swedish-American liner Stockholm, but a few were injured in abandoning ship.

The fire broke out amidships when the Kronprins Olav was seven miles off Kullen Peninsula, Sweden.

Chiang Pledges China Offensive

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 20 (AP) —Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek Sunday promised a Nationalist offensive on the Chinese mainland in the near future, execution of Communist chairman Mao Tze-tung and eventual trial of Prime Minister Stalin of Russia as a war criminal.

These assertions were contained in 100,000 leaflets scattered over government coastal cities by Nationalist planes to coincide with the lunar new year celebrations.

Chiang did not disclose how he intends to invade the mainland, from which he was driven only last December, but indicated he is counting on internal uprisings and a new world conflict to help him make good on his promises.

100 Hardy Folk

Some [illegible] of northern Saskatchewan this week will brave cold weather and rough roads to form a motorcade to The Pas in northern Manitoba.

The caravan, composed of some 20 motor cars, will leave Carrot River, Sask., about 65 miles east of Prince Albert and travel 125 miles—some 66 of them over a winter road—to The Pas.

The motorcade grew from a proposed meeting between The Pas and Carrot River Chambers of Commerce to discuss the building of an all-weather highway following the route of the winter road.

The proposed highway, following the Carrot River valley, would provide a northern link for the road systems of the two provinces. The need for such a link has been emphasized by a recent announcement of a survey planned for 186,000 acres in the Carrot River triangle for possible establishment of 320 new farms.

Other northern Saskatchewan communities joined in the planned motorcade, and representatives from Prince Albert, Saskatoon, Ridgedale, Melville and other points will be in the caravan.

Hint Hon. W. Hamilton Provincial Treasurer

TORONTO, Feb. 20 — (CP).— Appointment of Hon. W. E. Hamilton, present Minister of Reform Institutions, as Provincial Treasurer, is slated for the near future, it was reported today.

Premier Frost is expected to announce soon he is relinquishing the Treasury post to Mr. Hamilton, the newest member of the Cabinet.

Mr. Hamilton has been groomed in Treasury duties since his appointment to the Cabinet, and now is handling most of the duties of that Department.

In Freight Rate Appeal

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP).— The Board of Transport Commissioners today ruled against Newfoundland in an application by the provinec for a new set-up in railway freight rates.

The Board found that the terms of confederation with the Island Province did not bar the Canadian National Railways from exercising its usual discretion on rates with respect to Newfoundland.

The Newfoundland government had asked the Board to cancel the whole system of freight rates existing for Newfoundland and to order the CNR to replace it with one based on the Maritime Provinces rate structure.

growers' payment might be guaranteed by a letter of credit. In this way canners who were in a shaky financial position could not obtain a letter of credit from a bank and thus would not be allowed to operate and threaten farmers with a loss.

Referring to recent losses by growers, Mr. Kennedy said "when farmers lost that much money it becomes the government's business to put a finger in the pie."

Can manufacturers in some cases would not extend canners more than one week's credit, Mr. Kennedy said. Farmers should be on the same footing.

The government's main concern was that canning companies should not fail while still owing farmers money.

Rail Motorman Faces Manslaughter Charge

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y., Feb. 20—(AP)—A dazed and grief-stricken motorman, blamed for a railroad collision in which 29 persons were killed and 105 others injured, was ordered into court today on a manslaughter charge.

Authorities said, however, that the doctor attending the motorman, Jacob Kiefer, 55, told the policeman on duty at the motorman's home that Kiefer was in no condition to be arraigned and might not be for a week.

Hollywood Kiss Cooling Off Old Clinch Much Weaker

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 20 (AP)— Love in Hollywood is supposed to be wonderful and wicked, but actually the clinch is weakening, the kiss is cooling off.

This recession started a long time ago, yet you can hear or read almost anything: That kisses are limited to 16 seconds, that actresses won't do love scenes while their husbands are on the set, that great real-life romances blossom between stars in that final ardent camera embrace. Never, or almost never, true.

Is it fun, kissing the gorgeous blonde or the rugged leading man? Well, hardly. Not with 160 other people standing around, and the tryst lighted by enough kilowatts to power a battleship.

In rehearsals and takes for three kissing scenes, Montgomery Clift kissed Shelly Winters 329 times. They got pretty sick of it.

it. Rita Hayworth once had a leading man with a penchant for garlic bread.

Movie kissing is governed by the industry's production code and that nebulous yardstick "good taste."

In sharp contrast to 20 years ago, there is a flat ban on: Excessive and lustful embraces, suggestive postures, such as horizontal kissing scenes, suggestive gestures and movements, neck kisses, open-mouthed kisses.

Back in the silent days, a screen lover could get away with a kissing routine that resembled eating corn on the cob. He started at the wrist and worked up.

Film editors have a lot to do with the way the kiss is finally shown on the screen. If the kiss stirs the cutter, he snips it off and splices in the next scene.

Won't Be Worse

Weather experts, key men in an exercise that wooed and wanted bitter weather, were doubtful Sunday night that the thermometer would recover its really vicious mood before it ends. But they said it already has been tough enough—it was 45 below at one point—to give them one of the things they wanted, a full test of men and machines under really raw conditions.

What they would really dislike, they said, is a dip to around 50 below. That is so cold the whole exercise might have to grind to a stop to allow the men to concentrate on mere survival.

The American-made snowmobiles, called Weasels continued to be the major casualty of the manoeuvre. Thirty-one of 87 have required major repairs. The last of 12 spare engines was being installed. Canada's counterpart, the newer, bigger Penguin, was standing up better.

Secret-Weapon Part Dumped By Saboteurs

NICE, France, Feb. 20 (AP).— A secret-weapon part, dumped into the harbor last week by the Communists, today was successfully loaded aboard ship.

The cargo is part of a ramp for launching experimental guided missiles. Communist demonstrators routed a small police guard last Tuesday and threw the part into the Mediterranean.

Saturday, the rumor was launched that another ship would be brought to take it on and the Jean Dolo, to which it was originally consigned, left port. Port authorities then proceeded to fish it out. When the job was done, the Jean Dolo returned to Nice. A force of 500 police, with about 15 small tanks, protected the loading at dawn.

Expect UN To Make Plea For Lowering US Tariffs

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 20 (CP)—A concerted plea from United Nations delegates is expected this week urging the United States to lower tariffs and other trade barriers.

The call will come in the UN economic and social council. The council is scheduled to discuss the world economic situation and possible methods to improve a dark picture.

The UN talk will perhaps be phrased in even more diplomatic terms than those voiced in New York Feb. 10 by Canada's Prime Minister, Louis St. Laurent.

He urged the U. S. to reduce tariffs and other trade barriers as a possible huge boost to western security.

Canada is expected to have a detailed statement on "major economic changes in 1949," a report by U. N. economists. The 101-page survey released last week will form the basis for the Council's discussion.

The drop of imports into the U. S. during 1949 was seen by the U. N. economists as the major factor aggravating the chronic unbalance in the world trade — excluding Russia and the Soviet-bloc countries.

The experts did not lay down any hard and fast rules for solving the stiffening trade problem but made these two major general suggestions:

1. Increase in U. S. imports, decrease in U. S. exports or both, coupled with continued large-scale U. S. economic aid.

2. Re-adjustment of western Europe's trade and production to supply the requirements of under-developed countries during their period of economic development.

Released Later

[illegible] Feb. 20 — (CP) — Premier Frost said today he "will have something to say later" on a request by the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters for a Royal Commission to study the pollution of lakes and streams.

Mr. Frost said in an interview following a closed meeting with the Federation delegation that the government is already dealing with the problem of pollution "in a very positive way."

He said dthe government is "contemplating another angle" but decline to specify what the angle is. Already the government had announced legislation which will set up a corporation to help municipalities with construction of sewers, filtration plants and other works designed to eliminate pollution. A Provincial committee was co-operating with the Federal government in studying pollution of Lake Ontario by extensive oil stocks.

Mass North Bay Hunt Success–For Wolves

NORTH BAY, Feb. 20—(CP)— A mass wolf hunt staged in the Pimisi Bay area Saturday by the North Bay Hunters and Anglers Club was an outstanding success —especially for the wolves.

At the end of the five-hour hunt the scoreboard stood at:

Hunters seen	125
Wolves seen	1
Hunters shot	0
Wolves shot	0
Hunters lost	0

The hunt, unofficially dubbed "Operation Wolf," was held as an experiment to guide future trips and to guage the enthusiasm of district hunters for the idea. As a productive wolf hunt it failed miserably, but the outing won wide approval from the 125 or more hunters who turned out for the event.

US Government Approaches New Communist Crisis With Ranks Split On A-Plan

Break With Bulgaria Due Very Soon But Truman Lacks Support Of Many In Senate For Big Showdown Move

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20—(AP)—With its ranks split over proposals for an atomic showdown with Russia, the United States government is approaching a new crisis in its relations with the Eastern European Communist bloc. Barring some unexpected development, the United States is due to break relations with Communist satellite Bulgaria in the immediate future. The Bulgarians were first notified of the American stand four weeks ago. Last Thursday the State Department called for an immediate response to its warning that relations would be broken unless Sofia dropped its demand for recall of American Minister Donald Heath on charges of spying and plotting. The charges were labelled false.

The threat, a major policy decision on the part of President Truman and State Secretary Acheson, raises the question as to the continuance of American relations with all the eastern European countries.

At Crucial Point

The question catches the administration at a critical point in the conflict with Russia. It is becoming increasingly apparent that the President and Acheson have not yet been able to rally for their cold war strategy the Senate support which they normally require to make a line of action effective.

The position of Truman and Acheson is essentially that it would do no good to seek by dramatic means to bring about an atomic agreement with Russia at this time. Both are committed to a policy of hope that a balance of power against the Communist bloc some day will make possible atomic and other agreements that will really work.

But voices in Congress are being raised on the other side of the question.

Chairman Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee declared Saturday that the time might soon be appropriate for a meeting of the American, British and Russian foreign ministers on questions of atomic peace. The object would be to lay the groundwork for renewed negotiations in the United Nations.

Country Doctor Tried For Mercy Killing

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 20 (AP)—Dr. Hermann N. Sander, 41, a slim, quiet country doctor, goes on trial on a charge of murder today in the mercy killing of a dying cancer patient.

Dr. Sander, one-time Dartmouth College ski team captain, is accused of killing Mrs. Abbie Borroto, 59, by injecting air into her veins last December.

International attention is focused on the case because of the euthanasia—mercy killing—angle.

HALF-a-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

CHANNEL SWIMMER extraordinary was Gertrude Ederle, left, who became the first woman to make the treacherous 19-mile swim in 1926. Hopeful aspirant of 1950 is 17-year-old Shirley May France of Somerset, Mass., right. "Trudy" Ederle gained fame and fortune when, at age 19, she swam the Channel in a record 14 hours and 31 minutes. The welcome given this daughter of a New York butcher on her return home surpassed, "in numbers, noise, spontaneity and variety," any reception ever given by the big city to a distinguished visitor. After the Mid-Twenties, public interest in Channel swimming died out, but was revived with a bang in 1949, when Shirley May France announced she would tackle the Channel. Unsuccessful last year, she will try again this summer.

ST. ETIENNE, France, Feb. 20 (AP)—Premier Georges Bidault said Sunday he hoped Winston Churchill would have a second thought about a "big three" meeting without France. He noted that in the past Churchill has fought for the inclusion of France at big power parleys.

Hannam Backs Security Farm Programs

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP)—H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said Saturday the majority of Canadians have no way of building security for themselves without the assistance of national security programs in some form.

Mr. Hannam was commenting on a speech by Leslie Mutch, Liberal member of parliament for Winnipeg South and parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister Gregg.

Mr. Mutch told the Toronto Liberal Business Men's Club that Canadians are making a creed of security and it is an evidence of softening of our moral fibre. He said that, next to labor, the best-organized group of fear-ridden Canadians are the farmers.

Mr. Hannam said Mr. Mutch's speech indicated a most unfortunate attitude of mind..."There may be in this modern world a minority of men who can build security for themselves by their individual effort. Mr. Mutch, I presume, is one of those...Mr. Mutch's remarks take no account of the great majority of the people who have no means of building security for themselves without the assistance of national security programs in some form."

If farmers were a fear-ridden group, they have every reason to be after the licking they took in the 30's, he added.

Mr. Hannam said that farmers are leading the parade toward lower incomes and prices and ask only some support of a reasonable level of prices until such time as the entire economy of the country moves downward in a parallel movement to a lower level of prices.

Prices Slip Slowly On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP) — Prices slipped slowly lower in dull trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Base metals showed signs of holding against the trend with some moderate gains appearing as the session progressed. Volume for the first three hours was 445,000 shares.

Fractional advances by Quemont and Noranda held base metals on steady ground. Consolidated Smelters was lightly lower. United Keno Hill and Waite Amulet were higher in active trading and Golden Manitou continued in brisk demand.

Market leaders slipped fractions in industrials. Bell Telephone was under active selling pressure, touching a new low at 39⅝. Papers and refining oils also steadied.

Losses ranged up to 10 cents in western oils.

Junior gold producers slipped pennies from early advances. Chemical Research Corp., was under heavy selling following recent strong advances while Little Long Lac traded actively for a slight gain.

thur, which had an overnight low of 22 below, had climbed o 2 above by 7:30 a.m. and were still rising slowly.

A clash of weather forces also seems to be in store. The Weather Bureau reported that a disturbance forming over the North-Central United States will move into Ontario today, bringing an inch or less of snow to most of the province.

Scattered Snow

Snow fell only in scattered regions during the week-end cold snap. The Bruce Peninsula maintained its reputation as the Georgian Bay snow belt when up to 2 inches fell. Owen Sound, at the base of the Peninsula, reported an overnight low of 3 below.

Winter slapped Sudbury a double blow.. Saturday night a blizzard, the second within five days, dumped six inches of snow on the city. The reading of 24 below this morning was one degree colder than the winter's low set on January 20.

The Highways Department reported fair driving conditions throughout most of the province. Snow plows were operating in Northern Ontario as wind-blown snow plugged rural roads.

Crush Plot In Soviet, New Purge

Fear Stalin Coming Close To War Blamed For Sabotage

BERLIN, Feb. 20—(AP)—Western intelligence officers attempted today to sift a German newspaper report that the Stalin regime has just crushed a revolutionary plot in Leningrad.

The West Berlin paper, Der Abend, said Saturday that nearly 200 high Leningrad officials, including Marshal Leonid A. Govorov, were involved in the conspiracy. There has been no official confirmation.

Der Abend said it got its information from sources close to the Soviet Commission in Eastern Germany.

It declared that fear that Prime Minister Stalin was coming close to war with his expansionist policy was one motive for the plot; disillusionment at the Soviet Government's failure to raise the living standards of the people, despite wartime promises, was another.

Noting that the Soviet Union restored the death penalty last month for espionage and sabotage, the newspaper said this was a measure to carry out a blood purge of the conspirators, not all of whom had yet been caught.

With the purge under way, Der Abend said it learned from circles close to the Soviet Control Commission in Germany that Russian officers in Berlin were considerably disquieted.

It said the conspiracy reached into the political directorate of the Red Army, the Leningrad municipal administration, and the Soviet Ministry of State Security.

FALLEN WIRES ARE DANGEROUS

As the result of a storm, falling trees sometimes snap the wires of a high-tension power line. If you should come across such a broken wire, give it a wide berth. Don't touch it. Don't let anyone else touch it. Report the matter to the nearest authorities at once. Contact with the wire will ground the connection completing the circuit, sending thousands of deadly volts through the human body. You might escape with a nasty burn—you could be electrocuted. Always follow safety rules. It's "Good Citizenship".

Says Paper Bags For Potatoes Most Practical

BETHANY, Feb. 20 (ENS)—The Durham 500 Bushel Potato Club met Friday in the Town Hall to hear Richard E. Goodin, Toronto, of the Crop Improvement Association, who was introduced by E. A. Summers, the Agricultural Representative.

Mr. Goodin discussed the recent support price in the United States, saying Canadian interests benefit from this policy.

"Canada should raise the standard of seed potatoes", he said. The packaging of this product could be improved but with the scarcity of jute, which comes from India, bags were expensive. He supported the idea that paper bags would be more practicable and cheaper. He also said 50 lb. bags would be more suitable for purchase in the average household, particularly in cities, both from the farmers' and consumers' standpoint.

Mr. Goodin discussed the quality of potatoes on today's market, stating that complaints had been received that potatoes were inferior in flavor and that some varieties turned dark during the cooking process. He suggested the fault might lie in some potatoes not being properly matured at digging time, also that change of temperature from storage and during transportation might have this effect.

Another suggested cause was that too great a quantity of potash might be present in the fertilizer used for some types of soil, and that in some cases the quantity of phosphate, which hastens maturity, might be blamed. Investigation and tests are being made, he said.

Another suggestion made by Mr. Goodin was the lack of proper storage space throughout this area. He thought a proper building under co-operative management might be the answer to some of the growers' problems.

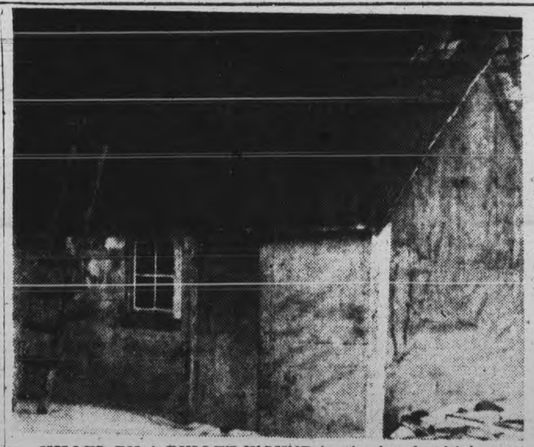
Tells of Experiments

Norman Thompson of Guelph, and representative of the Ontario Agricultural College, was introduced by Mr. Goodin. He spoke about the experiments in potato growing at the College Experimental Farm. He said that ideal potatoes should contain 80% water and 20% dry matter and efforts were being made by various tests to increase the solid matter of the tubers.

Using the "Specific Gravity Test" he examined more than 20 pecks of potatoes brought in by members of the Club. Although Durham county rates high as to yield and quality, none came up to this particular test, all samples containing too much water content, due, no doubt to last year's exceptional dry season during the regulation growing period and the heavy rains later in the early fall before digging commenced.

Mr. Thompson said that while testing was being carried on, all the time at Guelph, it was still up to the individual farmer to do a lot of experimenting in his own plot as types of soil varied the results of any experiment. He predicted many new varieties of potatoes soon to be grown and marketed as the results of tests now being carried out.

Ernest Cavano's sample potatoes of the Chippewa variety tested the highest during the afternoon's experiment, with a 17.05% dry matter. Others coming close in the 16% bracket were Donald Lowes, Carleton Patton, D. Olan, Thomas Ward, Henry Blakely and [illegible] Hudson. A sample from



KILLED BY A BULLET WOUND in the head, which may have been self-inflicted, Oscar Curtis, 36, (Right), was found Friday by his employer, Carleton Rowe, in the cabin shown above, located on Rowe's farm at Stanwood, seven miles north of Campbellford. Provincial police and coroner were inside the cabin as the photo was taken, investigating the shooting which is still in the doubtful class. A .25 calibre rifle was found near the body lying on the bed with considerable blood on the bed and floor. Curtis was a veteran of the Second World War serving with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

Campbellford Hospital Gets Provincial Grant

TORONTO, Feb. 20.—(CP) — Premier Leslie Frost announced today further financial assistance has been given Ontario hospitals by the Ontario government to the extent of $112,999.98, which will increase the hospital accommodation of the province by 100 patient beds and 39 infant bassinets.

Campbellford Memorial Hospital was awarded $43,666.66. It represents the government's grant toward this hospital's increased accommodation of 38 patient beds and 17 infant bassinets.

The Port Colborne General Hospital was awarded $69,333.32, representing the government's grant toward this hospital's increased accommodation of 62 patients and 22 infant bassinets.

Continue Probe Into Death Of Farm Hand

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 20 (ENS). —Investigation is still under way into the death of Oscar Curtis, farm hand, whose body was found on Friday by his employer Carleton Rowe, in a cabin on Rowe's property seven miles north of Campbellford.

Members of the special investigation branch of the Ontario Provincial Police from Cobourg spent all day Saturday working on the case, and studying extensive photographs taken at the scene. There are many complicated angles to the case which so far have not been explained to the satisfaction of the police, and they will not yet commit themselves as to just how the deceased came to his death.

A post-mortem was performed and the findings will not be made known for possibly a week.

The body was discovered with a bullet wound in the head. The fatal shot was apparently self-inflicted by a 25 calibre rifle found near the body.

The funeral was held at 2.30 p.m. in Norwood today.

Four Years In Army

Curtis spent about four years in the Canadian Army with the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment during the last war. Transport Hits Milk Wagon Driver Escapes

COBOURG, Feb. 20 (ENS) — Dennis Pittuck and his mare, Min are doing all right, but the milk wagon and the milk, are a mess. Dennis is alive because he left his wagon to deliver some milk a half minute before a transport driven by Hubert Young of Belle[illegible]nday smashed into the wagon. How the horse escaped is a miracle.

Mr. Pittuck had left the horse and wagon standing on the west side of William St. about six a.m. A red tail, lighted by a candle within, apparently was not seen by the south bound transport. Dennis turned when he heard the crash. Milk flew in all directions, the wagon was reduced to splinters. The horse got up on her feet, snorted, and then galloped for the stable. When a vet looked her over later, Min didn't have a scratch.

"It was a lucky thing for me that I wasn't in that wagon when the truck hit it," commented Pittuck.

Constable E. Butler investigated the accident.

Edward Reid Heads Seamen

TORONTO, Feb 20 (CP)—Edward Reid of Toronto was elected president of the newly-formed Canadian Brotherhood of Seamen at its founding conference, concluded Sunday.

A statement after the meeting said that the newly-elected executive represents units from the Atlantic coast to the head of the lakes.

One resolution adopted pledged support to the Trades and Labor Congress and the Canadian Congress of Labor "in their struggles for full employment of all workers."

The executive was instructed to apply for a charter from the TLC, while another resolution urged unity of all seamen in one union based on traditional policies of the established Canadian labor movement.

Decision to seek a charter from the TLC came after discussion in which Mr. Reid said the new brotherhood would be free of all politics.

U.S. Republicans Still Lack Policy Union

The rude blow the United States Republican Party received in the Presidential election of 1948 sent its members scurrying for a scapegoat. They settled, more or less, on party policy as the culprit, and since that policy had been drafted in part by Thomas E. Dewey, Republican Presidential candidate, Mr. Dewey became secondary whipping boy. The party then began an investigation, under new officials, with the aim of drafting a policy acceptable to all, and which would enable the party to present a united front to the nation in the next Presidential year, 1952, as well as in the off-year contests to be held this year.

* * *

Some 12,000 Republicans crowded an arena in Washington, D.C., recently to launch the product of the investigation, a "restatement of Republican Party principles". The meeting appears to have been a combination of box lunch festival, revivalist meeting and political rally, and was a huge success—as far as those attending were concerned. Nothing like it could be recalled by the oldest Washington Republicans. Republicans not at the meeting, however, recalled something like the policy it launched—the 1948 policy, except that the latter was stronger and more adequate, in their opinion.

* * *

As far as we can see, the new Republican policy is the same in principle as that of 1948, the same in principle as that of the Progressive Conservatives in the last Canadian election, and the same in principle as that of the Conservatives in the current British election campaign. It promises expansion of social security coverage and benefits, protection for industry and farmers, and price support for the latter. At the same time, it promises a balanced budget, decreased federal expenditures, general tax reductions, and greater freedom for private enterprise. In short, it woos the moderate left while seeking to retain the support of the far right, which would be a highly effective manoeuvre if it could be successfully performed.

Sometimes It Fails

We are accustomed to hearing of escape specialists like the late Harry Houdini getting out of impossible situations. It was one of Houdini's boasts that he could be chained hand and foot, and locked in a mail-bag and thrown off a bridge into water, and that he would swim ashore within three minutes. If memory serves, he made this boast good on at least two occasions. But occasionally such feats go awry, and such a case occured in England last week.

A young magician and illusionist called Alan Alan allowed himself to be tightly bound with ropes and thrown into a grave four feet deep; it was immediately filled with earth. A rope which was tied round his waist was his only connection with the surface; the agreement was that when he was free of his bonds he would pull the rope as a signal that he wanted to be dug out. After fifteen minutes had passed without a sign Alan's manager gave orders for him to be dug up; it took eight minutes for this to be accomplished. When the magician was disinterred he was very close to death. However, a cup of tea brought him round, and he offered to try the trick again. His manager forbade him to do so.

We relay this story for no special reason, except that it comforts us to know that magicians are not infallible. If Houdini has a successor it is not Alan Alan. But we must give him full marks for courage.

Port Hope Highway Poplars

Trees have character, internal and external. It is to their external nature that most people give their attention and sympathy, unless roots have interfered with drains or foundations, or granddaddies of elm or pine have toppled on their barns or garages. Experts, lumbermen, Hydro workers and fastitious gardeners tend to discount the appearance for the pith. Some such people loathe elms as being all front and no backbone—hollow deceivers of trees. Others castigate Lombardy and even the common poplar, as waste wood hardly suitable for burning, as stealers of water and the soil's goodness.

So we must class with the stony-eyed, the Hydro and highway men who view a venerable tree as an old crock cracked and useless, a Lombardy poplar ripe in years as a menace and better done away with. We are thinking particularly of that once stately fringe of Lombardy poplars bordering the Port Hope highway at the old Waddell farm, near the Millbrook turn.

These graceful spires of trees, admittedly now rather seedy and better to look on from the sky-line than near at hand, are disappearing. They are being cut down, because they are old, liable to shed boughs and trunks over the highway. Even those still standing have had the finger of death put upon them; like tombstone plaques, little yellow plates are fixed to them, marking their order of destruction.

Perhaps these trees are now dangerous. They may be dying and it may be kinder to them and the road users to hasten their death. We are not pleading for their individual survival, but for the continuation of the species. Have arrangements been made to replace these gallant, handsome poplars? It will not be good enough if they are to be replaced by Norwegian pines or flowering shrubs. Poplars should come up again; it is the just due of the pioneer forbears.

What does it matter if forty years hence Lombardy poplar saplings set out now become dangerous and have to be taken down? During thirty of those forty years they will have gladdened the eyes and lifted the hearts of tens of thousands of passers-by. This district and Province can afford to splurge on Lombardy poplars—even if the wood is almost useless, even if the experts view their internal character with dislike.

One of the most pleasing features of the beautiful Haute Savoie department of France (bordering Switzerland) is the Lombardy poplars rising singly and in copses in graceful aspiration from the valleys. This stately tree should continue to adorn our district, and the reach of the Port Hope highway where Lombardy poplars have stood for half a century.

Forgotten Element In The "Stromboli" Scandal

The moral hullabaloo which has been raised about the film Stromboli has concentrated so fiercely upon the relations of the star of that film, Ingrid Bergman, and its director, Roberto Rosselini, that the aesthetic aspect of the matter has been forgotten. But it looks as though aesthetics, rather than uproarious super-morality, would be the decid[ing] [fac]tor in the film. Let us [say] is a poor film. New [York] critics who have seen it say that it is dull. The story is poor, the acting ordinary and the action unduly prolonged. These revelations will kill it more effectively than the curse of every women's club on the continent. Millions who refuse to fret about the morals of film-makers will quickly condemn a film which is boring.

Sportsmanship

Last Wednesday a man appeared in a Woodstock magistrate's court and was convicted of striking a visiting player on the Brantford hockey team with a cowbell, inflicting a wound which demanded six stitches. The Crown Attorney said: "The city shares in the disgrace which follows an attack of this kind; I think a term of imprisonment is called for as well as a fine." The magistrate fined the man $50, charged him with $46 costs, and sent him to jail for 30 days.

We think that this matter was well handled. Without a high standard of sportsmanship among players and spectators, games quickly become brawls. A game is a competition; unless certain rules of behaviour, as well as rules of play, are observed, they lose all their sporting character. Fans who attack players must be taught that no game is an excuse for viciousness.

NOTE AND COMMENT

An English court has been asked to decide how much meat should go into a meat pie. While they are at it, they might as well decide how many raisins the customer may expect in a bun.

Musical Notes

By PETER PIPER

THE other day a pianist played a Mozart sonata at a local concert. A friend of mine afterwards was scandalized at the audience applauding between the movements. It is true that it is customary nowadays in these cases to reserve one's applause until the end, and there is much to recommend in this practice, especially where the work is of a "cyclic" character; but it was not always so, and I was compelled to rally to the defence of the audience. In Mozart and Beethoven's day applause between movements was customary—in fact the Allegretto of Beethoven's Seventh symphony was applauded so vociferously at the first performance that it was repeated forthwith. Audiences of those days were readier to express their disapproval of boredom by booing and whistling or going to sleep. It was for the sleepers that Haydn put the surprise in the "Surprise" Symphony. Modern audiences, especially in English-speaking countries are too polite; applause has come to be a ritual of "good form", like raising one's hat in the street, an atavistic survival of a custom that once had a meaning. Even the most inadequate performances are applauded, in order not to hurt the performer's feelings. This detracts from the value of applause after a fine performance. This Laodicean lukewarmness is the direct result of the portentous Teutonic conception of music as something "improving", not as an ordered procession of sounds for the enjoyment of the senses. Aiding and abetting this still lurks the old Puritanical idea that what is enjoyable is probably Wrong. Certainly the Latins are less inhibited when it comes to applause. I have seen Madam Butterfly commit harakiri a second time on the stage in Italy in response to enthusiastic demands for an encore. For the guidance of the rising generation I have written the following tabloid playlet in two scenes.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE YOUNG PERSON'S GUIDE TO APPLAUSE.

Scene 1. At Home.

Parent: As a great treat I am going to take you to a concert.

Child: Oh, goody-goody!

P. Now, I don't know whether you will like it, but I think it will be good for you.

C. (not so enthusiastic) Oh.

P. Well, I think you will enjoy it, but remember, you must behave yourself, or else I shan't take you again. (Pause)

C. If I don't like something, am I allowed to boo?

P. Of course not.

C. Aren't I allowed to clap if I like something?

P. Yes, yes, of course you are—don't be awkward.

C. But we don't clap the choir in church, do we?

P. Of course not.

C. Why?

P. Well, it's different. You see—look here, I'm not going to have you contradicting everything I say.

C. But I wasn't contradicting you.

P. Oh well, stop it, whatever it is. Go away and play, and don't bother me.

Scene 2. At the concert. The pianist has just finishing playing the first movement of a Beethoven sonata. Child starts clapping—then sees nobody else clapping, and stops.

C. What have I done wrong this time?

P. Sh—you aren't supposed to applaud between movements.

C. But I thought you said—

P. Sh

C. Aren't we supposed to enjoy it?

P. Haven't I told you to be quiet? We'll get thrown out.

C. I don't understand.

P. (hissing the words) Will, you, be, quiet!

(Author's note: Owing to my inexperience as a dramatist I had to present the character of the parent in an unfavourable light. From more experience I would have [illegible] philosophy.

[illegible] 200th birthday. 1750 was a vintage year for composers. Two giants, Bach and Handel, and one near-giant, Domenico Scarlatti, were born in it. The actual date of Handel's birthday was of course according to the Old Style, before the Julian calendar was corrected, but one day is as good as another for an anniversary. Handel himself would probably be surprised to know that his works are being performed with tolerable regularity. He wrote for the occasion, and not knowingly for posterity. If he had written for posterity he would doubtless have written with greater care. Most of his manuscripts are little better than hasty sketches jotted down at white-heat, the bare outlines to be filled in under the direction of the composer himself. He very seldom indicates forte or piano, bowing and phrasing marks are conspicuous by their absence, and he sometimes omits to give any indication of speed. Those that he gives are somtimes so ambiguous that even scholars are puzzled: the chorus "For unto us" from "Messiah" is marked "Andante Allegro" (Slow fast). Handel's music has the Mediterranean qualities of clarity, balance, sobriety, and proportion—as Baudelaire said 150 years later "a toute est ordre et beauté, Luxe, calme et volupté"! Handel's monumental simplicity should not blind the listener to its depth. He is one of those few that can be simple without being common-place. His melodic invention is at least equal to Schubert. Comparison between him and Bach is inevitable, but this must be held over until a later date.

Letters To The Editor

KEEP THE WOMEN BUSY

Sir: A short while ago, I called at my neighbour's for a little change from the humdrum of bachelor life. It is good once in a while to share life with others whose views differ from our own. Upon arrival, I found myself surrounded by women from the neighbourhood. Being the only male visitor present, there was naturally nothing to do nor say for as you well know, when women have the floor, man is wise to keep silent; at least I thought so. I sat and listened for quite some time, wondering if my thoughts would be allowed freedom of expression. The chance finally came however and believe me the discussion rose to the boiling point.

Is it right for a married woman to leave home to work in office or factory? To which I replied. I said it is alright for a wife to earn wages if her husband felt agreeable to her doing so. And why not? Man and woman have joined forces to build a career between them, for better or for worse. I contended that it is no person's business whether the wife worked outside or inside. They have their obligations to meet, and they are certainly entitled to some small measure of comfort and pleasure in the bargain whilst they are working out their destiny. Is it not true, that the married women have equal rights with man? In that, she has the right to vote and the right to express her opinions on national affairs. Believe it or not, the married woman employed in office or industry is an industrious person. Most women that I've seen at work in offices and factories are a healthy lot. (I'm referring to married women.) They are not sophisticated nor smug, but plain congenial folk.

Well, Mr. Editor, I sure had a warm evening. As I was leaving, one good lady told me that I had a lot to learn. I told her that I had a lot to unlearn. I have been thinking about my visit to the neighbour's a great deal of late, and as I've been reading the many spicy letters to the editor, I could not resist writing also.

Keep the women busy, then there will be being so, then some of you without a doubt, will be swallowing your own words some of these fine days. How very interesting it would be to sit back and watch you girls during the next few years when some of you (if not all) will marry, and to see just how many of you 'sympathetic' creatures will continue working—that is, of course, if your employer will have you around! This I'd love to see! Give it some thought girls, you may find yourself in our 'boat'.

You speak of us being greedy, but how many of you yourselves are those girls who are working on a piecework basis at your jobs. If you are in this class then there's no doubt whatsoever but what you are amongst those who quibble week after week at your $40.00 cheques, and reach out and make a grab for the $55.00 and $60.00 ones, amounts of which the majority of our husbands never see. So you think we married women are selfish, do you? Well, maybe we are, but if this is the case, then we'll move over in our 'boat', and make room for you too.

Apparently you are also of the opinion that two can live as cheaply as one. Well girls, I hate to disappoint you, but you have a surprise in store for you. Wait and see.

Yes, girls, how I'd love to be able to look in on you all in the not-too-distant-future, taking note of those of you who have since married, and say 'didn't-we-tell-you-so'. I bet you a dollar to a doughnut, the majority of you that are beefing now, will have a much different story then.

A WORKING WIFE.

MALE PROTEST

Sir: I am a male. As such, the petty war which has raged between a bunch of dissatisfied, neurotic females, has not interested me in the least. However, I do take exception at the insults which these females insist upon hurling at the male sex.

According to them we are but a group of "namby-pamby", spiritless creatures without an ounce of backbone.

This accusation I denounce as a lie. Such are a man act as such and bring your errant wife back where she belongs, in your kitchen, and beside your child's cradle."

I thank you for your space.

I remain,

A PROUD MALE.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Lord, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?....They break in pieces thy people, O Lord, and afflict thine heritage....Yet they say, The Lord shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob regard it....

He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see? (Ps. 94: 3, 5, 7, 9.)

◇ ◇ ◇

The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry. (Ps. 34: 15.)

◇ ◇ ◇

The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them. (Prov. 20: 12.)

[illegible] in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles; to open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners: from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house. (Isa. 42: 5-7.)

Ron Corwardin Ski Champion

COLLINGWOOD, Feb. 20 (CP) —Ron Carwardin, of the Ottawa Ski Club emerged as the only double winner in the Central Canadian ski championships concluded on Sunday.

The Ottawa skier flashed across the finish line with a victory in the slalom event and then came back to cop a hard-earned win in the downhill combined. Both were stiffly contested by other Ottawa skiers.

In the slalom competition, 15-year-old Art Tommy finished the course just a little over a second behind Carwardin. The winning time was 1 minute 8.3 seconds, while young Tommy recorded a 1.10 mark.

Eric Norrpa of Haileybury finished the cross-country course in a little over 1 hour 6 minutes with Bill Pipher of Oshawa bringing up the second spot.

Marmora Defeats Norwood 9-5

NORWOOD, Feb. 20 (ENS) — A postponed game between Marmora and Norwood TVL teams was played in the arena here Saturday evening before a good crowd of fans. The score, 9-5 for Marmora, was not indicative of the play. Norwood appeared to have the edge. Referee Leggitt gated a couple of Norwood players at one time and Marmora took the lead, in the first period; their three goals were scored with Norwood's first line, Gilbert and ed the usual good team work. Norwood shortsided. Marmora show-Payne were outstanding.

Lineup.

Norwood: Goal, Morrison; defence, Pettersen, G. Payne; centre, Webb; wings, Brown, Rogers; alternates, B. Kelly, D. Evans, V. Clements, H. Smith, B. Payne, Gilbert.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

United States colleges dominated McGill University's gala 1950 winter carnival which ended on Saturday night. Seven schools from Canada and the U. S. took part. For the second consecutive year, Dartmouth College from Hanover, N. H., took first place in the skiing events which formed the main part of the three-day, $15,000 carnival.

The skimeister trophy, awarded the most outstanding individual performer, went to Norwegian born Tor Arneberg, captain of the Dartmouth ski team. He also won the trophy last year.

Middlebury College from Vermont took second place with 565.12 points, 29.02 behind the Dartmouth group. Next was McGill University with 561.97 points. Fourth position was taken by University of Maine and the Universities of Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa came next in that order.

Defending champion Tim O'Keefe, Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, Sunday reached the semi-final round at the Provincial squash championship at Quebec when he defeated Dr. E. L. Davey, Ottawa, 15-9, 15-8, 15-4. O'Keefe now will meet fourth seeded Bernard Fortier of Quebec Winter Club in the semi-final, today, when the three day tourney winds up. Fortier defeated Mike Brodeur of McGill 18-16, 15-13, 15-12 to reach the semi-finals.

Veteran Cliff Mannahan's Edmonton rink won the Alberta curling championship at Edmonton Saturday. The Manahan quartet won the right to represent Alberta in the Dominion curling championships in Vancouver on March 6 by taking the provincial round robin classic in three straight games. The 59-year-old skip has won the dominion title twice.

D. F. Downey of Toronto was elected president of the Ontario Rugby Football Union at its annual meeting Saturday. Harold Bailey of Toronto was named secretary for the 24th consecutive year. ORFU Intermediate representatives announced plans to ask the Canadian Intermediate champions and to aid financially in promoting championship games. Junior representatives plan to ask for aid in staging Dominion finals. Bailey said prospects were bright that London would field a senior entry next season to round out a loop with Toronto Balmy Beach, Windsor and Sarnia. Sleepy Knowles of Sarnia Imperials was awarded the Imperial Oil Trophy for the mast valuable player to his team in the senior loop.

Jay R. Graham, once world champion trap shooter, died on Saturday in his Long Lake, Ill., home. He was 79. Graham won the world crown at the Olympic Games in Stockholm in 1912. For many years, he fired high gun in meets throughout the United States.

Stocky Jack Burke, Jr., of White Plains, NY, Sunday ripped in with a six-under-par 65 to capture first money in the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley open golf tournament by two strokes at Harlingen, Texas.

Dick Button of Englewood, NJ, world and Olympic figure skating champion, on Sunday was awarded the James E. Sullivan Trophy as the outstanding amateur athlete of 1949 in the United States.

Your Host Winner

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP) —Santa Anita got ready today for the big race of the meeting Saturday, the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap, but there was still an echo of praise for last Saturday's victory of Your Host in the $100,000 Derby. Your Host, the prohibitive favorite, won the Derby looking back, as the railbirds say, outdistancing the field by 2½ lengths in 1.48 4-5. His jockey was Johnny Longden, the veteran Western Canada booter.

Omemee Victors

OMEMEE, Feb. 20 (ENS)—The fans saw fast hockey Friday night in the arena here when the Omemeee Blackhawks whipped Orono 8-2 in the first game of the two out of three round. The second will be in Orono Tuesday night. Orono played good hockey appearing better than the score indicated, but the Hawks were better finishers. Orono bagged the first goal after five minutes of play and then left it to Omemee to the end of the second period. The third was a good scrap, both teams getting down to business in fast clean play.

Lineup:

Omemee—Goal, W. Fisher; defence, F. Parsons and T. Parsons; centre, R. Crawford; wings, H. Crawford and R. Elliott; alternates, A. Jamieson, J. Deyell, D. Armstrong, J. Evans, D. English, G. Kellett.

Orono—Goal, S. Brenton; defence, E. Johnston and I. McCullough; centre, P. Lunney; wings, B. Ward and D. Simpson; alternates, C. Cornish, T. Emoly, J. Wilson, C. English, G. Cox.

Referee—R. Bell; linesman, Dean West.

Hastings Juveniles Take OMHA Round

...teams worked hard on ice that got worse, but Hastings carried most of the play and showed more finish around the net.

Tempers flared at times, but referee Herb Payne, used a heavy thumb and kept control of the game.

As the teams skated off at the end of the first period, Morrow and Pingle started swinging, and were joined by J. Fairman and Haskin. Fortunately no fans interfered and order was soon restored.

Morrow was top goal getter with four, while Shelter scored the hat trick for Harmony.

Hastings—Goal, A. West; defence, B. Chambers, J. Fairman; centre, J. Morrow; wings, A. McMillan, K. Forde; alternates, Laver, D. Forde, W. Wartman, R. Issac, H. Lynch, D. Fairman.

Clapper's and Kawarthas Take Cage League Victories

Clappers finally did the trick The Ab Stewart-captained squad chalked up their second win in the City Basketball League Saturday night trouncing the previously unbeaten Shockey Cleaners quintet 44-33. Kawartha Sports edged the Marines Bees 44-42 in a hard-fought fray of the double-header.

Shockeys had five straight victories before their encounter with the Clapper crew Saturday night. Each one of those games was fought right down to the final whistle but the cleaners seemed to have the scoring punch. Doug Plunkett and Jim Thorburn kept the cleaners alive in the first half as they were outscored 26-22. Ab Stewart ran in eight points for the Clapper squad of which six were foul shots while Ted Evans and Ted Payne were making baskets to build up their score.

Stewart ran in five foul shots and a basket in the second half as the Clappers again edged the Shockey boys 17-11. Smith, combining with Ted Payne, rattled in the much-needed points to hold the slim lead. Thorburn was good for five points as the Clapper quintet held them away from the basket.

Nice Pitching

Ab Stewart collected 15 points for the Clappers only four points coming from baskets. Out of 12 foul shots he only missed one for a nearly perfect score. Jim Thorburn had 13 points for the cleaners of which three were foul shots. He only missed one foul shot attempt.

Kawartha Sports battled the uphill way to victory in their fast, clean and even fracas with Marines Bees. Gordie Burns, Eddie Nicholls and Darrell Ackford fired points for the Bees in the first half to give them a slight margin of one point over the Sports at the half 20-19. Neil Thompson, smooth-working forward for the Sports and the PCVS senior cagers, sank five baskets for Kawarthas in the first.

Thompson with Al Northcott went out on a tangent in the second half as Thompson added eight more points and Northcott 10 points as the Sports went ahead to scrape through the second half with a 25-22 score. Burns and Ackford tried to keep the Bees in the game with scores but fell short of the required number.

Thompson's 18 points was tops for the evening while teammate Northcott had 12 points. The best for the Bees were: Ackford 12, Burns 11 and Nicholls 10.

Lineups:

First game, Clappers—A. Stewart 15, Evans 6, V. Griffin 2, Menzies 3, Dadson 2, Taylor 3, Payne 8, E. Smith 5.

Shockeys—J. Stewart 3, Thorburn 13, Dundas 6, Young 5, Plunukett 6, Hanbidge.

Second game, Kawartha Sports—H. Dibben 7, Trimm 2, N. Thompson, Northcott 12, Grafstein 5, Sergeant.

Marine Bees—Burns 11, Nicholls 10, Green 6, Gillespie, Ackford 12, McIlraith 3.

LEWIS TO REFEREE—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, the famous headlock artist and five times champion of the world, will be the referee Thursday night at the Brock Arena, when those two high-powered wrestlers, Whipper Billy Watson and Hi Lee will collide in the feature. The expected fireworks between Watson and Lee seemed to call for an exceptionally strong and authoritative official. The great Lewis certainly fills that order.

In the semi-final, Dr. Len Hall will oppose Kay Bell, the handsome young speedster from California. Barney Bernard will meet talented Johnny Barend in the opener of the all-star card.

Diesels Hold Nylons To 4-4 Deadlock

KINGSTON, Feb. 20 — Belleville Diesels held Nylons even at 4 to 4, in the first of their OHA Senior B group semi-finals and looked impressive while performing this unexpected feat. Seventeen hundred fans saw a tense duel which went 10 minutes overtime.

Diesels, who had lost five games in succession to the rampaging Blakemen, matched the locals in all departments of play. In the see-saw scoring bee neither team ever held more than a one-goal advantage.

The Gerow, Partis, Catlin forward line carried Nylons scoring punch. Gerow, former Belleville star, scored two goals and set up another.

Barons And Bisons Split Weekend Tilts

By The Canadian Press.

Buffalo Bisons and Cleveland Barons split a pair of weekend encounters as the American Hockey Laegue's divisional leaders met for the last time during the regular season.

The power-laden Barons, who are making a runaway of first place in the western section, came up with an easy 6-2 triumph on Saturday night. But the Bisons bounded right back at home Sunday and handed Cleveland a 5-2 trimming.

Meanwhile Indianapolis Capitals by-passed Pittsburgh Hornets and moved into the runner-up position behind Cleveland with a pair of victories over St. Louis Flyers. The scores were 6-2 and 3-1.

Cincinnati Mohawks, cellar-dwellers in the western division, came up with one of their best weekends this season with a tie and a victory in two outings Saturday, they battled to a 1-1 draw with Pittsburgh while edging New Haven Ramblers 2-1 the following night.

NEW FASHION—That sockerino Coach Charlie (One Punch) Conacher of Chicago Black Hawks handed to Detroit Writer Lew Walter seems to have started something in dressing-room etiquette. Here Baz O'Meara of the Montreal Star, despite a little surplus poundage about the midriff, showed up in Montreal Canadiens' dressing room well prepared. Coach Dick Irvin, caught barehanded, starts a lethal swing from an unorthodox left-handed stance. In the background Leo Gravelle of Les Canadiens can be seen taking things far more seriously than the principals.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard speedy Montreal right winger, got his 30th goal of the National Hockey League season as well as one assist to remain on top of the individual scoring race.

With his 30 goals and 19 assists he moved two points higher to consolidate his fourth place. Following him with a two-point margin is Boston's Paul Ronty who broke a 45-point stalemate with Chicago's Doug Bentley and definitely moved to sixth [illegible]

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It's been several years since there was an amateur boxing show here, but there's one tonight at eight in the Ashburnham Hall. It's sponsored by the Peterborough Boxing Council and is definitely an amateur card, there being no admission and no money paid to any official or participant. Seven Lindsay boys oppose seven local chaps, ranging from flyweights to middles. Ralph VanAllen fights Mike Herlihey of Lindsay in the main go, while Bill Davis takes on Johnny Angers of Scugogville in the semi-final. Other local mitt-slingers are Ira Bradley, Jerry Tyler, Bob Lagana, Louie Carveth and Ron Emery. It ought to be interesting.

Puck fans will funnel into Civic Arena from all directions tonight ere 8.30 to see Legionnaires and Petes resume their best-of-five OHA senior "B" group semi-finals. The second game, Petes having yanked out a 6-5 verdict in the opener on Friday. Yeah, on lightning fast ice, these two well-matched squads will be flying, the Petes trying to take a firmer grip on the series and Legion desperately attempting to sew it up. In a short series, anything can happen, and the bets tonight will be mostly on an even basis, we imagine. It'll be another sizzler and take your choice.

* * * * * *

Those Petes And Legion

The Petes and their supporters act not unduly surprised at winning that first one, claiming the Foley flock weren't up to par previously but are hitting their true stride at this important stage. And then they have a real money player back in Honey Tompkins. Legionnaires, however, say they weren't at their best last game, and also had poor luck. They point out that they hadn't lost once to the Petes all season up till Friday, and that they will tie it up tonight and go on to win out ere the week's end. Well, we'll just wait and see, but don't wait too long—better get in on these dandy playoff tilts while they last, folks.

It was 8-7 for Oshawa Bees o'er the local Oddfellows in the Motor City on Saturday night. The IOOF-ers wound up their OHA junior "B" schedule, though some of the other squads have a game or two to pick up yet ere playoffs. Looks like group semi-finals will commence this week-end, and it will probably be the up-and-coming Kingston Vics vs. Bun Kingdon's crew in this bracket, a best-of-three series, with Oshawa and Belleville in the other. Lindsay tilts counted in the standing, though they were a "C" club, while Cobourg, [illegible] had no bearing on the group by Westclox vs. Brintons, both second games of two-game series. Shades edged De Laval 6-5 and Brintons won 5-2 o'er Westclox in openers. Thursday at nine in Civic, Keene meets Quakers, followed by the Westclox-Brinton victor vs. the Shades-De Laval winner. First fray is the opener of that two-game series, whilst the nightcap starts the two-of-three semi-finals. Quakers and Keene settle their best-of-two series at 8.30 p.m. Friday in Keene. That's the score for the week.

Haven't the weekly setup as yet on basketball tussles as schedules wind up all over the place. Though we do know that the last two listed Girls' League jousts at the YWCA are Friday in the gloaming with Nurses Srs. tackling Nurses Jrs. in one end of the twin bill and Neill's playing CGE in the other. Togs should be about ready for LOBA playdowns now, though we note where Port Hope girls edged out Cobourg 27-26. Three PCVS boys' teams rolled to victories in their week-end contests. At the YMCA on Saturday, Clapper's won over the previously undefeated Shockey's 44-33 with Ab Stewart sinking 15 points for the winners and Jim Thorburn getting 13 for the other side. Neil Thompson's 18 marks helped Kawarthas to a 44-42 verdict against Marine Bees, Darrell Ackford leading the Bees with 12.

Ed Stankiewicz Gets 7 Goals In 14-6 Victory

By The Canadian Press.

Saturday night's game between Windsor Spitfires and Oshawa Generals didn't mean much but that didn't stop Eddie Stankiewicz from putting on the most prolific scoring display seen in the Ontario Hockey Association this season.

The husky winger pumped home seven goals to lead the Junior A Spits to a 14-6 demolition of Oshawa Generals. On two other occasions earlier in the season big Eddie smacked home five goals in the Windsor cause.

In the fifth game of the Senior A playoffs Kitchener-Waterloo came up with their second win of the round robin, semi-final series. Beating Hamilton Tigers 2-0 put the Dutchmen in second place behind Toronto Marlboros with two wins in four starts. Hamilton have now dropped two and won one, while Toronto dropped one of three.

In other junior activity, Marlboros continued their torrid pace by walloping Barrie Flyers 9-4, St. Michael's upset Guelph Biltmores 5-2 and Galt Black Hawks trounced Stratford Kroehlers 6-2.

Reibel Overshadowed

Earl Reibel was the big point man for Windsor but had his 10-point feat overshadowed by Stankiewicz. Reibel clicked for two goals and eight assists to raise his season's total to 124 points. Every point for the flash centre automatically sets a record.

Glen Skov clicked for three goals while Vic Howe and Martin Zorica popped in singletons. Enso Zanatta and Ted O'Connor each scored twice for the losers with singles coming off the sticks of Frank Hooper and Ted Janowski. Windsor are assured of second place but the Generals are doomed to watch playoff activity from the sidelines.

The Dutchmen and Bengals battled through almost 2½ periods of scoreless hockey before Mickey Roth blasted one past Bruce Dale to put Kitchener-Waterloo one up. Ted Grasser clinched the victory with only three seconds remaining in the game.

Even On Points

Kitchener-Waterloo are even with Marlboros on points after Saturday night's contest but have also played one more game than the Dukes and Tigers.

George Armstrong continued his hot pace as the league-leaders belted Barrie. The clever centre clicked for three goals and three assists for a six point total.

Barrie took a one-goal lead in the first period but the Toronto kids blew the lid off in the third to take the win. Singletons were scored by Danny Lewicki, Karrys, Larry Regan, Lorne Pirie, Jack McKenzie and Tommy Fyles. Barrie marksmen were Gord Warner, Jack Shedden, Mirl McCarthy and Doug Towers.

On Tuesday of this week there [illegible] out at the [illegible] chart will give you an information. If time permits the games committee intends running a consolation series in connection with this bonspiel.

The rink that represented our club in the Dominion championships classic was eliminated 12-11 by an Oshawa rink in Lindsay on Saturday night. We understand that Oshawa took an early lead of 4-0 and then Peterborough came back with a 5. They were 6-all in the sixth end and from there to the finish it was see-saw. They were all square coming home with Oshawa getting the counter to win. Many local curlers motored up to see the game. The lobby of the rink was crowded and the overflow lined up on each side of the rink, out on the ice.

The local rink was: B. Harrison, K. Bissett, V. Brown, D. Best, skip.

There was a "full house" Saturday afternoon. The winning skips were H. Baptie, I. Moore and J. Lowes.

In the evening H. Baptie and N. Hamley skipped the winning rinks.

Two Peewee Shutouts

NORWOOD, Feb. 20 (ENS) — Red Wings defeated Boston Bruins 7-0 in the Pee Wee League series game. Elwood Begg was outstanding with his net minding chore. Mainland, Rooney and Van Volkenburg won the points, but the close checking and good defence work of Fredericks, Hanivan, H. Scott and Bill Colby all tended to make a good game. Bruins were short of players but sparked by Hannon and Johnnie Ferguson made things interesting to the end. Fredericks received the only penalty of the game for cross-checking.

Summary:

First period—No score. No penalties.

Second period—Red Wings, Van Volkenburg (Rooney, Mainland) 2.30. Red Wings, Mainland (Rooney) 2.45. Red Wings, Van Volkenburg (Rooney, Mainland) 3.15. Red Wings, Mainland (Van Volkenburg) 13.50. Penalty, Fredericks.

Boston Bruins—Goal, B. Mullan; defence, J. Ferguson, L. Gordon; centre, Mauriel Hannon; wings, Ross Stewart, Roger McManus; alternates, H. Parker, Bobby Carbrey, Ed. Colby.

Referee—Jack Stackhouse.

Black Hawks still retain the lead in the Pee Wee League. They defeated Leafs 1-0 Saturday morning in the arena.

L. Hie was sensational in goal with Doug Lockhead and E. Kavanagh playing good defence. Pete Rusaw, Bunny Miles, Bruce Mulholland and Carmen Brown, and newcomer Billy Thompson in the forward lines all worked hard.

Bob Tedford, Leaf goalie, was given plenty of hard shots to stop, but was finally beaten by a rolling puck in the third.

First Period

No score.

Penalties—Victor Mullan, and Pete Rusaw.

Second Period

No score. No penalties.

Third Period

Hawks—Delvin Rusaw (C. Brown) 13:00

Oshawa Edges OHA Win Over The Links

Junior "B" standing:

	W.	L.	T.	Pts.
Oshawa	11	4	0	22
IOOF	8	7	1	17
Belleville	7	8	0	14
Kingston	6	8	0	12

The schedule will finish early this week and playoffs are due to commence Friday or Saturday, with the first and third, and the second and fourth teams in two-of-three group semi-finals. Kingston may play here this week-end to open it.

Oshawa Bees squeezed an 8-7 victory over Triple Links Saturday night at the Motor City as the teams met in their farewell league game, prior to playoffs, before a good crowd.

Bun Kingdon's boys outplayed the Bees most of the route in a furious two-way struggle from bell to bell in every period but the fickle finger of fate dealth unkindly to Links in the dying minutes of the third. The Bees potted two lucky counters by Wilson and Etcher, the latter's shot sliding in off Wasson's skate as he slipped in clearing, to accidentally drag the biscuit in and gave Bees the nod.

Stiff Battle

It was a wide-open battle throughout and very cleanly played. Neither team asked nor gave quarter—a thriller from a spectator's standpoint—as goal followed goal on hustling efforts.

Ron Turner led all marksmen with three goals and one assist in a nice display while Wilson and Myles each scored a pair for Bees. Brabin with four assists was the real Oshawa star while McAllister, Attersley and Deeth looked good. Bob Wyatt played a strong game for IOOF with Floyd, the Mason brothers and Fennell very effective in a game that saw every man giving his best.

Oshawa: Goal, Hurst; defence, Crust, McAllister; center, Myles; wings, Brabin, Wilson; alternates, Etcher, Johnson, Bannon, Deeth, Attersley, Weddup, Pollard, Edwards, Dyray, Marshall, Olesuk.

Peterborough: Goal, R. Wasson; defence, Fennell, Millar; center, Turner; wings, Wyatt, Floyd; alternates, Richlark, D. Wasson, Desjardins, B. Mason, R. Mason, Doris, Baker, Casey.

Referee—Hefferling; linesman, Doug Love.

The summary:

Rangers Take 2 At Weekend Maple Leafs Split Pair

By HARRY ECCLES,
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

New York Rangers, the only team gaining four points during the weekend, have ridden a six-game streak into a solid hold on the National Hockey League's fourth and last play-off spot.

The Rangers edged Toronto Maple Leafs 2-1 at Madison Square Garden Sunday, after beating the Canadiens 4-2 at Montreal Saturday. The Leafs on Saturday had extended their own streak to seven games, including three ties, by defeating Detroit Red Wings 3-2. There were only four weekend games and Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks deadlocked 4-4 at Chicago in the remaining fixture.

The league's 70-game string is beginning to run thin, with only 14 games left for Toronto, which has played more than any other club so far. Figuring Detroit, Toronto and Montreal as sure things for the play-offs, it looked today as though New York would join them barring a collapse. Rangers now have a six point lead over the fifth place Boston Bruins, and have two games in hand.

Two Stars

Centre Edgar Laprade and goalie Chuck Rayner starred in both the Ranger victories. At Montreal Saturday Laprade scored two goals, Ed Slowinski and Buddy O'Connor getting the others, as Canadiens were held to two counters, by Maurice Richard and Elmer Lach.

At Madison Square Garden, where a crowd of 15,024 saw one of the roughest games of the season, Laprade scored the first Ranger goal and Bill Ezinicki tied it up for Toronto. Then Alex Kaleta came through with his winning goal for New York after a face-off late in the last frame.

At Toronto Saturday the league's two top teams turned on a thriller for 13,931 fans. Leafs winning on a three goal outburst in the second period. Sid Smith scored two of the Toronto goals, Ezinicki getting the other, while Broda was beaten only by Gordon Howe and Steve Black.

Leafs showed a new forward combination of rookie Johnny McCormack at centre with Vic Lynn and Joe Klukay. Klukay's usual line-mates are Dipsy-Doodle Max Bentley and Ray Timgren.

Watch Deadlock

A crowd of 14,814 saw the deadlock between the Bruins and Hawks at Chicago Sunday night with Bruins gaining a tie on a last minute goal by Ed Kryzanowski. Johnny Peirson, Phil Maloney and Ken Smith had all scored for Boston in the first 10 minutes of the opening period. After that Chicago drive into the lead on goals by Bill Gadsby, Metro Prystai, Gus Bodnar and Roy Conacher. Kryzanowski's tying goal glanced into the Chicago net off Hawk defenceman Ralph Nattrass' skate.

The schedule was something new this week, a Monday night game which sends Montreal Canadiens against the Wings at Detroit tonight. Detroit now leads the league with 66 points to 60 for Toronto, 56 for Montreal and 53 for New York among the top four, Boston fifth with 47 and Chicago last with 44.

Marmora Group Observes Founder's Day

MARMORA, Feb. 20 (ENS) — The Founder's Day ceremony was carried out at the monthly open meeting of Marmora Home and School Association held in the Public School on Thursday evening under chairmanship of the president, Mrs. W. G. Chrysler The Rev. G. D. Young introduced the program and soft music was played by Mrs. A. F. Fraser as the various readings were given Mrs. Chrysler spoke on Founder's Day with special reference to Mrs Courtice.

Mr. Young gave a brief history of the Home and School Association and Judy Fraser lit the first candle. The candles for the national Federation and the Ontario Federation were lit by James Sproul and Mrs. E. Manchester respectively. W. J. Cottrell was delegated to give a short history of the local association following which the candle was lit in its honor by Mrs. Chrysler. The ceremony concluded with Mrs. E. C. Prentice singing "Bless This House."

Parents and grandparent attendance was then taken by principal E. S. Prentice. Mrs. F. Hannah's class represented by six girls sang three numbers.

To Plant Shrubs

The matter of planting shrubs on the school grounds was presented and it was decided the Department of Lands and Forests would be contacted with a view to obtaining some assistance.

Bruce McKenzie as guest speaker of the evening, showed colored slides of scenes visited by him in Mexico last year and described some of his impressions of that country. He also showed supplementary slides of local scenes. Refreshments were served and included the third birthday cake.

Percy Grants $400 To Agriculture Group

WARKWORTH, Feb. 20 (ENS) —The Percy Council granted $400 to the Percy Agricultural Society for the centennial this year, at its regular meeting.

Arthur Watrman, Reeve, presided and other members present were George Broadworth, deputy reeve; and R. B. Nelson, Cecil Grills and Ambrose English, councillors.

The council decided to advertise for tenders for the supply of one or two tractors 75 h.p. or over, on an hourly basis, and equipped with an angle dozer and self-loading scraper for use on certain construction work on township roads.

The council accepted the following tenders—100 cedar posts from John Peters at 35c; 100 cedar posts from R. Carter at 39c; 100 cedar posts from W. C. Allen at 39c; 300 ft. pine plank at $70.00 per thousand from Wm. Graham.

The council went on record as being satisfied with the amount of each bond and the bond companies in connection with the treasurer and tax collector and voted to have the bonds deposited in the vault in the Town Hall.

Assistant Scout master Lynn Pratt were in charge of the weekly Sea Scout meeting held in the United Church basement this week.

John Leonard was invested as a scout, and Jack Hinton was put through the mill for letting the flag touch the floor.

Floor hockey was enjoyed by the boys. Announcment was made of the paper drive to be held on Saturday afternoon.

The Sea Scouts will be in charge of the Church service at Lakefield United Church on Sunday evening.

Roseneath News

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Smith, Ronald and Brenda, Baillieboro were guests of Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown.

Mrs. Walter Down Jr. and infant daughter Lyn have returned home from Cobourg General Hospital.

Good Ski Snow Finds 300 Bethany Slopes

Over 300 skiers battled the cold northwest wind Sunday to zoom down the white slopes of Bethany. Skiing was tops for the 1949-50 season as five inches of powdery snow on a good firm crusty base met the waxed hickory slabs. No bad accidents were reported although a few skiers had facial bruises and scratches.

The Peterborough Ski Club continued club championships from Saturday as the downhill events for the men, women and juniors, were held. The slalom events were planned for the afternoon but time elapsed before they could be started. They will be held next Sunday if the snow holds.

Ken McIntyre captured the men's downhill by zipping down the 1,000-foot zig-zag course in 49.3 seconds to outdo his nearest opponent Toby Westbye who was clocked at 50.3 seconds. Cyril Monkman placed third nearly three seconds slower than Westbye 53.1. Most of the entrants managed to complete the course in 55 or 56 seconds.

Pat Moyles took the women's honors in the downhill on a slightly different and easier course. Her time was 1:02.2 minutes. Mollie Craig placed second with 1:27.8 minutes and Mary Dodds 1:33 minutes, third.

Peter Bowen who won the junior jumping Saturday also won the junior's downhill event on the same course as the women with a cool 45.3 seconds. Dave Ward whistled in seven-tenths of a second later to place in the second slot. Ian Blaiklock placed third completing the course in 54.8 seconds.

Two bus loads of skiiers from Toronto spent the day on the Bethany slopes with local skiers Some of the Toronto men entered the local club events and did well. One of them completed the men's course in 53 seconds but was not an official entrant.

Drifted Road

After a cold afternoon's skiing car trouble vexed the skiers. Three buses, one from Peterborough, and nearly 40 cars lined the small country road which was filled with drifting snow. A small traffic jam occurred when cars tried to get out into the town of Bethany. At one place about a quarter of a mile from the towhill about ten cars were bottled up for nearly an hour. Twelve men shoved and bounced the cars out of the drifts and started them back to Bethany.

Ski Club officials said Sunday that the northwest wind was perfect for the Kempt's hill area. A large number of skiers had a full afternoon of excellent skiing there. This week there will be skiing at Kempt's hill Tuesday and Thursday nights and Wednesday afternoon. The skiing under the lights will start at 7:30 p.m. and close at 10.

Youth Suffers Frostbites To Hands, Feet

Found on his hands and knees in the snow near George St. and Parkhill Rd. about 2:35 a.m. today, Jack Steinkrauss, Jr., 21, Smith township, had frostbitten hands, feet, ears and parts of the face.

He was taken first to the police station by Constable William G. Scott, but as soon as the extent of his frost bites was seen, he was taken immediately to Civic Hospital.

Hospital officials said today Steinkrauss had suffered a mild case of frost bite and described his condition as "good."

Constable Scott reported a panel truck was found parked behind the Civic Hospital by police shortly before seven a.m. today. The battery of the truck was dead. A hat and one of his gloves was found beside the light truck.

Constable Scott and E. E. McDonald had been directed to investigate a report that a man had been prowling around the home of E. C. Braund, 718 George St. N.

They found Steinkrauss kneeling in the snow between Braund's home and his store. It is presumed he walked in the 20 below zero temperature from where his car was left as far as Parkhill Rd. and George St.

Alderville Arrest

COBOURG, Feb. 20 (ENS)—Donald Smoke, 24, pleaded not guilty to a charge of public mischief in police court today. The charge was laid by P.C. Lyle Erskine of Cobourg, in his investigation of the accident which occurred on Feb. 11 near Alderville in which Victor Gray received fatal injuries. Gray who resided in Alderville, died five days later in Toronto General Hospital. Police said that Smoke told them he found the body of Gray, who was unconscious, lying on the shoulder of the road near Roseneath.

Board Of Works Estimates Ready

City council will take a step in the preliminary stage of compiling the civic budget for this year when it adjourns after its meeting tonight to look into the estimates of the board of works. Mayor Swanston said last week that most of the detail should be listed by the end of this week or by the end of the month next week.

Ald. H. Dodds, chairman of the board of works, told the Examiner today that the statement of the works department for last year, as prepared by City Engineer Chalmers, showed a total expenditure in 1949 of $628,090.66.

The largest bulk item was $336,230.12 spent on local improvements; $69,761.12 expended in the capital account; and $222,099.47 largely representing routine costs.

Fox Pelt Bounty Top Claim 10 326 To Date

Fifty-one fox pelts were brought into the office of the County Clerk and Treasurer last week to collect the $3 bounty. William Northey, of Harvey, claimed the biggest bounty, $30, for six foxes trapped and four others shot.

But guns and traps were not the only lethal weapons. Ivan Fletcher collected $3 for bagging one when the confused Reynard dashed into the path of his bus as Mr. Fletcher was driving along the 6th concession of Otonabee.

To date 326 foxes have been brought in for payment of the bounty, which ends Feb. 28.

Following is the complete list of successful hunters and trappers and the location of their bag: Bruce Warr, Asphodel, one shot in Asphodel; Gerald Brown, Peterborough, two shot in Douro—one two miles east of the settlement and the other near Douro church; G. Cooper, Otonabee, one shot in Otonabee; C. Westlake, Smith, one shot on Concession 3, Smith; William Emmory, Asphodel, one shot in Asphodel; Percy Sucee, Otonabee, one shot in Otonabee, near Stewart's Hall; Earl Carl, Peterborough, one shot in Otonabee east of Lang; Kenneth Esson, Otonabee, one shot near Lang, Otonabee; Gordon Varty, Belmont, three shot and one trapped in Belmont; John McColl, Asphodel, three shot on Concession 4, Asphodel; Ralph Jopling, Smith, two shot near the hamlet of Ennismore; William Northey, Harvey, six trapped and four shot in Harvey; Robert Prescott, Peterborough, seven shot in Smith, Otonabee and Douro; Herman Rusaw, Norwood, seven shot south of [illegible]nds Ivan Fletcher,

St. Peter's Pupil Key Speech Wins Ohio Trip

Jack Kennaley of St. Peter's High School Key Club won the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime District Key Club oratorical contest at the convention in Belleville over the weekend. This is the second time in the past three years that a Peterborough boy has won this honor. Bill Dingnan won it two years ago and represented Canada in the International contest in Washington last year.

For Kennaley it was a win over last year's attempt when he placed second. This year the topic for the 14 speakers representing the clubs attending was "Make Democracy Work." Clyde Batton of the East York Club placed second this year. Kennaley will now represent the Canadian Key Clubs at the international convention in Columbus, Ohio, April 28.

The 125 Key Clubbers voted to hold the convention next year in Peterborough, one of the few cities which was represented by two Key Clubs. Four new clubs made their first appearance at the convention, Ottawa Tech, Ottawa Vocational, Niagara Falls and Barrie. Interested boys and Kiwanians from Kingston and Cobourg attended to see Key Clubs in action.

The keynote address was given by Past Governor Jim Leith which was followed by the secretaries' report for the year. At the Saturday noon dinner Mayor Jack Allin of Belleville welcomed them to the city. Guest speaker for the luncheon was the president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, Taylor Franklin. Malcolm Robb, a Belleville barrister, was the speaker at the supper meeting. The boys attended a dance in the evening where a special number was played for each club by the orchestra.

Went To Church

Sunday morning the delegates had church parades to St. Michael's Church and to Bridge St. Baptist Church. Regional Key Governor Ken Lougheed was guest speaker at the Sunday luncheon where he installed the Key Club District officers: Governor Leo Marcus of Belleville and secretary-treasurer Graham Kirby of London.

The Peterborough members who attended were from St. Peter's High School Club; Jack Kennaley, Walter Ryan, Michael Fitzpatrick, Terry Wolffe, Bob McCormick, Gerald O'Neill, John Jones, Leverne Jones, John Armstrong, Don LaPlante, Jack Coursey, Jack Pearson, Bob Fitzgerald, Ed Corkery, and Bill Flanagan; PCVS Club: Harry Taylor, Sam Murphy, Jim Fowler, George Fanjoy, Ron Duncan, Dave Mitchell, Art Low, Bill Carruthers, Bill Nicholas, and Rod Delaney.

FANGS SINK DEEP

Many a tooth has been lost in hockey battles but Friday night teeth became a defensive weapon. During an Industrial League hockey game in Norwood a DeLaval player collided with a Venetian Shade player with the former's teeth sinking into the latter's head. Three stitches were required to close the cuts. Ironically the DeLaval player's wife had told him before the game to watch his teeth. D.G.

City Warmest At 19 Below

The weather has really given everyone something to talk about today after temperatures skidded away below the zero marker overnight. In a district survey, Peterborough was the warmest spot of 15 checked upon; the night low was 19.

Other communities, all with minus temperatures were Marmora, Omemee and Campbellford, 20; Young's Point, Lakefield and Coldsprings, 21; Gore's Landing, Hastings and Havelock, 22; Bridgenorth and Buckhorn, 24; Garden Hill and Bancroft, 25, and Burleigh 26 below.

Dominion Public Weather Bureau office reports that cold polar air completely covered Eastern Canada during the weekend. Starting with a high of zero in Winnipeg, it was 21 below in Ottawa, 27 in North Bay, 38 in Kapuskasing and at the perennial cold spot, White River, 45 below. The forecaster says temperatures can be expected to moderate slowly through the evening.

Sixty Pictures Put On Display

Judging of the 60 pictures entered by members of the Peterborough Camera Club at their spring salon took place on Friday evening. The judges Nick Nickels and William Thompson broke down the entries into four classes still life, portraits, pictorial and general.

In still life, Dr. R. E. Morgan was first with "Forgotten," E. W. Glover took second with "Daffodils" and mention was given to Bob Williamson's "Nubian."

In the portrait class, first and second places were taken by Dr. Morgan and Mr. Glover with "Meredith" and "Bathtime," two very excellent child studies. The same two were given mention in the class for two lesser child studies, "Can't Catch Me," a Glover, and "Chocolate Milk," a Morgan picture.

Mr. Glover took first with "The Three Musketeers" and mention with "Locking Through" in the general class, while Bill Riddle came second with his print "When Day Is Done."

The most outstanding print of the show was another Glover entry entitled "May Morning—Trent Canal"; this photo had everything to be desired in a pictorial type picture, mood, skillful exposure, careful development and printing. It is indeed a print worthy of a trip to the Public Library [illegible]ther in the pictori[illegible]

Claim Fraud and Deception In IUE Applications As CGE Bargaining Agent

The four-month-old battle between the IUE (CIO-CCL) and the left-wing UE entered another round late Saturday afternoon after the Ontario Labor Relations Board completed its two-day hearing into the IUE application for certification. Closing arguments of rival counsels will be heard Wednesday in Toronto. At that time it is expected C. L. Dubin, UE counsel, will ask for the rejection of the IUE application on the grounds of fraud while E. B. Jolliffe, representing the IUE, will press for the Board to disregard the argument of the intervener and hold a vote among the CGE employees.

Fraud and deception were claimed by the UE to have been uncovered in the right wingers' application and because of this the UE say the IUE bid to be the certified bargaining agent among the 3047 production workers at the Peterborough plant should be thrown out.

Top Officers Called

Among those subpoenaed by the Board as witnesses were the top IUE officials: John G. Morton, Canadian director and president of the local; Cyril O'Donnell recording secretary; Keith Chiles, financial secretary, and Joseph Murphy, treasurer.

All were subjected to searching examinations by C. L. Dubin, acting on benalf of UE. At times the exchanges were unusually acrimonious to the delight of the spectators. On several occasions F. M. Draper, chairman of the Board, had to rap his gavel to stifle comment or laughter.

Mr. Dubin clashed with Mr. Morton on the first day of the reopened hearing and on the same day he accused Mr. Chiles of "taking the records."

26 Witnesses

In all 26 principle witnesses gave evidence before the Board at the two-day hearing, unprecedented in Ontario labor history. About the same number of other witnesses were also called.

From the standpoint of spectator interest the highlight of the hearing was Saturday noon when Mr. Morton, chief foe of the left-wing UE in Canada, was called on to testify.

At a preliminary investigation held by the Board examiners on January 18 in the CGE plant it was discovered that the yellow card and the attached duplicate receipt of Miss Iris Marie Hamilton were dated December 4. However it was established Miss Hamilton did not actually sign the IUE application card till December 31.

TCS Rink Open Honor Man Once City Son

Formal opening of the Peter G Campbell Memorial Rink at Trinity College School, Port Hope, Saturday night, costing $105,000 was a splendid tribute to the Peterborough boy of years ago by his friend Mr. George McCullagh of Toronto.

Mr. Campbell died of a heart attack in November 1948. He was a son of Peter Campbell, manager of the Peterborough branch of the Bank of Toronto for years, and Mrs. Campbell.

He began a brilliant career in football as quarterback with the TCS team prior to the first war and graduated to same position with the University of Toronto team in the Inthercollegiate Union.

At the time of his death he was president of the Toronto Maple Leaf Baseball Club. A Peterborough friend of his youth, Mr. Wilfrid W. Stratton, was chairman of the building fund of the Memorial Rink.

Plan More Aid For Unemployed

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 (CP) — A plan to extend additional aid to Canada's mounting unemployed population will be introduced in the Commons today.

Labor Minister Mitchell gave notice Saturday that he intended to introduce a resolution asking Commons approval for broadening the scope of unemployment insurance and providing supplementary winter benefits for workers who have exhausted their benefits.

With more than 375,000 Canadians—7.4 per cent of the total labor force of 5,100,000—now out of work, the unemployment problem is expected to come under searching scrutiny in the Commons in the next few days.

One of the main features of Mr Mitchell's proposed amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act would provide supplementary winter benefits to contributors exhausting normal benefits and unable to find work in the January-March period.

Two Cars Damaged In No. 7 Collision

A total of $125 damage to two cars was the upshot of a collision on Highway 7 Saturday about a mile west of Norwood.

Morgan Harrison of Cordova driving west had stopped his car on the highway with the intention of putting on his chains. Norman Clements, RR 3, Norwood, was driving in an easterly direction and tried to slow his vehicle when he saw Harrison parked. He was unable to stop in time and crashed diagonally into the left rear of the stationary car.

Damage to Harrison's car was estimated at $75 and to the other, $50.

Provincial Constables Archie Grayling and Roy Feeley investigated.

Charge Boys Under 10 With Arson, Break-in

TORONTO, Feb. 20—(CP)—Two small boys, aged 8 and 9, were charged with arson and attempted shopbreaking Sunday night following police investigation into a burglary and fire Friday at the Imperial Mattress Co.

Police said 30 miniature camera lighters were stolen, office furniture damaged and an attempt made to set fire to the building.

MINISTER BEREAVED

Charles J. Goodfellow, 85, of Colborne, father of Welfare Minister W. A. Goodfellow of Ontario, died Sunday. He retired from farming in the Brighton district a few years ago and took up residence in Colborne. Among the other survivors are his widow, another son Cecil of Codrington, and a daughter, Mrs. Bertha Buchanan of Brighton.

Carried Hidden Pistol Gets Month On Hill

Thirty days in jail was handed out to Aden Freeman, 28, Kingston, who pleaded guilty today in police court to carrying a concealed revolver Feb. 17.

Constable William G. Scott testified, on a tip relayed through provincial police, he and Constable Gordon Trennum stopped a truck on Charlotte St. about 2.45 a.m. Friday. They searched Freeman and found a .32 calibre revolver in his inside jacket pocket.

He said the gun was not loaded but Freeman had three shells which fitted the gun.

Freeman said he "didn't have it to do any harm," but had bought it from his brother-in-law and intended to resell it in Peterborough at a profit.

He said he was frightened to take it to a police station to register it for fear he would be locked up.

Charged As Accessory In Car Swindle Case

A third man, James King, formerly of Peterborough, was charged with being an accessory after the fact in connection with the $100,000 Hancock and Imming car finance swindle in police court today.

His case was adjourned until Tuesday. Both other men charged with the same offence were later released when the charges were withdrawn.

Poet Sees Our Future Brighter For Letters

A. M. Klein, acclaimed by some critics as the outstanding Canadian poet of our time, says there is great hope for a brighter literary future for Canada than the somewhat insignificant past. He attributes this to Canada's rise in status as a "second" world power, with a developing industrial and political life.

This opinion was expressed to an Examiner reporter Sunday when Mr. Klein paid a fleeting visit to the city. He came to Peterborough to address the Jewish community on his recent travels in Israel, Africa and D. P. camps in Europe. He arrived in the city from Montreal Sunday evening and returned the same evening.

"With the growth of industry and the development of politics there seems every likelihood of Canada producing greater writers than at any time in the past," Mr. Klein said.

Cpl. Wm. A. Lawson At Whitehorse

Peterborough has a representative on Operation Sweetbriar in Corporal William A. Lawson of the RCAF. Corporal Lawson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lawson, 19 Ware St., writes that the northland scenery is "out of this world." He is stationed at Whitehorse.

He is a veteran of long standing in the Air Force having spent five years overseas with 408 Squadron, an RCAF unit.

Hereford Breeders Will Continue Sale

Hereford breeders of Central Ontario organized at the weekend to continue the spring sale begun here by John Stuart.

Col. F. E. Birdsall was elected president, Homer Hawkey vice-president and E. V. O'Toole, secretary-treasurer.

The proposed consignment sale will take place in Peterborough about the end of May with an offering of at least 35 head. Breeders were present at the organization meeting from the area between Claremont and Madoc and from Cobourg to Bobcaygeon. It was agreed that the interest stimulated by the sales at Old Orchard Farms should be sustained this season, although the Stuart herd has been dispersed.

Animals will have to be government approved and inspected before acceptance on consignment. Col. Bill O'Neill of Denfield will be in charge of the sale. Prominent Hereford breeders from all over the area are actively interested in this enterprise.

Report Mexico Most Developed Latin Country

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Mexico, in the words of G. S. Messersmith, chairman of the board of the Mexican Light and Power Company, Ltd., is the fastest developing country industrially in Latin-America.

He gave this view at a press conference Saturday following meetings of the preceding four days which gave approval of security holders to proposals for capital reorganization of Mexican Light and two of its subsidiaries, Mexican Electric Light Company, Ltd., and Lachuca Light and Power Company.

The companies serve Mexico City and federal district with light and power, and the rapid industrial development there is part and parcel of the need for a $50,000,000 expansion program now under way, and accordingly for the proposed reorganization.

The reorganization is to meet requirements of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (World Bank), which is prepared to lend the company $26,000,000 on a long-term basis to meet the foreign exchange requirements of the program.

Complicated Exchange

The reorganization involves a complicated exchange of eight classes of securities which company executives believe establishes the company financial structure on a sounder basis and ensures its future.

Apparently the security holders affected felt, for the most part, the same way. The securities are heavily held in Britain and on the Continent and by many people, but representation at the meetings of the eight classes of holders was in excess of 50 per cent of outstanding securities in all instances and as high as 78.1 per cent.

In three classes the vote was unanimously in favor of the plan presented and in four others it was more than 99 per cent in favor. Only in the case of the six-per-cent cumulative income debenture stock was there any considerable opposition and the vote in this class was 91.9 per cent in favor.

The next step is application to the Supreme Court of Ontario for sanction of the plan. Head office of Mexican Light is in Toronto.

Man Found Strangled Launch Police Inquiry

SAULT STE. MARIE, Feb. 20 (CP)—An inquiry by the Criminal Investigation Branch of the Ontario Provincial Police was launched Saturday into the death of Peter Mossey, 47, formerly of Toronto. Mossey was found strangled last week in his hotel room at Oba, 180 miles north of here.

A thick leather belt was securely tied around Mossey's neck, said police, with the other end of the best fastened to a towel rack torn loose from a wall near his bed.

Some Quebec Liberals Ask Asylum For French Count

OTTAWA, Feb. 20—(CP)—Some Quebec Liberal members may ask the government to grant political asylum to Count Jacques De Bernonville, whose deportation to France was ordered Thursday by an immigration board. The Count, who entered Canada on a false passport after being sentenced to death in France for alleged collaboration with the Nazis during the war, has appealed to immigration Minister Harris to rescind the board's deportation order. Mr. Harris' decision is not expected for several days.

Strength of the Liberal move to have the deportation order rescinded may be known Tuesday after the Quebec Liberals hold their first caucus of the new Session.

One Quebec Liberal said he felt there were several reasons why De Bernonville should be granted political asylum in Canada. He said it has been an accepted international practice to grant refuge to persons unjustly accused in their own country. De Bernonville, he said was sentenced to death by a Communist court.

Precedent

There are at least two prominent Canadians who probably would not have played such an active part in the life of Canada if their ancestors had not been given political refuge in other countries.

One is Rt. Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, whose grandfather—William Lyon MacKenzie—was given asylum in the United States after leading a rebellion in Canada in 1837. The other is Henri Bourassa, famed Quebec Nationalist, whose granfather, Louis Joseph Papineau, fled to France after rousing the wrath of Canadian authorities.

Bill Of Rights

Montreal Man Gets Scholarship

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP)—Jean Pouliot, 24-year-old reporter on the Montreal Gazette, is awarded the fourth Kemsley scholarship in journalism. He will spend a year in Britain gaining experience in the various offices of the Kemsley newspapers.

Announcement of the award to the bilingual former RCAF tail-gunner was made by Senator W. Rupert Davies, chairman of the Canadian section, Empire Press Union. Object of the annual scholarship, also given in Australia, New Zealond and South Africa, is to encourage an exchange of ideas and experience among British and dominion journalists and to strengthen commonwealth ties.

Candidates were required to be on the permanent staff of a Canadian newspaper, to be under 30, and to have five years' newspaper experience. They undertake to return to their newspaper following the year in Britain. There were 16 applicants.

Bethany Elects Rev. T. S. Gault Red Cross Head

BETHANY, Feb. 20 (ENS) — The annual meeting of Manvers branch of the Red Cross Society was held in Bethany Town Hall on Thursday, the Rev. T. S. Gault presiding. Officers were elected as follows: G. L. Jarvis, honorary president; Rev. T. S. Gault, president; Miss Laura Morton, first vice-president; Dr. G. McNeil, second vice-president; Mrs. Clarence Page, third vice-president; Hildon Johnston, fourth vice-president; Mrs. Preston Neals, fifth vice-president; Mrs. Ross Carr, secretary; Miss Evelyn Mantle, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Price and Miss Lily Thompson, women's work conveners; George Smith, chairman of first-aid committee; Hildon Johnston, campaign manager, with T. M. Weatherilt assistant.

Correspondence included a letter of thanks from Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Healey for household articles and clothing received when their home and contents were destroyed by fire; from Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Woods and family for groceries supplied when they moved here from Newfoundland, their home and contents having been totally destroyed by fire previous to their coming here; from the pupils of Lifford School for the supply of cod liver oil capsules, and from William B. Hanna, president of the Ontario Division, congratulating the branch on the results of last year's campaign, during which the sum of $357.10 had been raised. The treasurer's report was read by Miss Evelyn Mantle.

Mr. Gault reported that during the year a set of baby scales had been purchased at a cost of $30.70 and had been used throughout the township. The first-aid kit purchased was at present in use at the Community Rink and during the summer months would be placed at the Athletic Park.

Two hospital beds had been purchased, one stationed at Dr. G. McNeil's office in Pontypool and the second was at present in Mr. Gault's home. Both beds had been almost constantly in use, and it was felt their purchase had been a worth-while investment.

Cod liver oil and vitamin pills had been purchased at a cost of $120.38 and distributed to all the schools of the township.

A discussion followed concerning the use of the hospital beds. On several occasions they had not been returned after use. It was decided that each patient be responsible for transportation and that they must be returned immediately after use. The bed for Bethany district is being kept at St. Paul's rectory. The loan cupboard also contains supplies for the sick room. Some repairs to the loan cupboard were reported necessary, and Mrs. W. R. Price and Miss L. Thompson were appointed to do whatever they thought necessary in this connection.

BRITAIN'S WARTIME AID

WILL TRY AGAIN—Diver Raymond Quick went through the ice at the Back River at Pont Viau, Montreal, recently, in search of plates believed tossed in the river by counterfeiters. Quick said there wasn't room to move around, so the search was a failure, but he said there was an 80 per cent chance of finding them in the spring. Another try will be made then, he said. Inset shows Quick being readied for his dive, while main photo shows him returning to the surface as RCMP officers clear the channel for him.

Ask Royal Commission Study Water Pollution

TORONTO, Feb. 20 (CP) — A request that a Royal Commission be appointed to study pollution in Ontario's waterways will be presented at Queen's Park on Monday by a deputation from the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters.

The resolution, to be presented to Premier Frost, asks that a study be made into the best methods to preserve lakes, rivers and other waterways from the inroads of pollution.

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—(AP)—Anthony Gallo, 36, a liquor company employee, was found strangled Saturday in a midtown hotel room, and an attractive blonde was arrested Sunday on a homicide charge in the case. A pencilled note found near the body read: "He made me do this and I love him, Barbara." Police arrested Mrs. Barbara Barazani, 37, of Manhattan.

Naval Flier Killed

OTTAWA, Feb. 20 — (CP) — Ottawa Naval Service Headquarters announced Sunday that Lieut Leslie Fry Peever, 25, of Lynn Valley, B.C., was killed Saturday when his Firefly fighter plane crashed into the Atlantic Ocean during exercises off the east coast of South Carolina. The aircraft crashed shortly after taking off from the deck of the aircraft carrier Magnificent.

Plant Produces Month After Fire

KINGSTON, Feb. 20 (CP)—The Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Co., Ltd., swept by flames early Friday, will be back on at least 50 per cent production within a month, and curtailed operations will commence on Monday with a kiln put back into work, P. H. Swalm, general manager, said Saturday. Fire damage was set at $300,000.

Mr. Swalm said immediate rebuilding plans were being drawn up and reconstruction will commence as soon as possible. The plant is one of the largest tile producers in Canada.

Woman, Combines Printers' Ink And Stage Makeup

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 —(CP)— Do printer's ink and greasepaint mix? Ask Madeline Kaufman; she should know.

Attractive, brunette Miss Kaufman, with her brother Henry, runs a printing business. She also plays—this is her 10th consecutive season—the title role in "Veronica's Veil," a passion play presented annually at Union City, N.J.

It takes a bit of planning, she admits, to arrange her business schedule to allow for the necessary rehearsals and performances during the six weeks of the passion play season. But with four weekly performances confined to Saturdays and Sundays, it's not too difficult.

Week days find her in her printing-shop office in downtown Manhattan, dealing like an expert with problems involving picas, nonpareils, and the like On weekends she exchanges her simple working garb for the velvet and gold-metallic costume of Veronica and proceeds to "forget all about business—the role demands it."

Printing is something she grew into naturally. Her family has run the business for 50 years and she was "brought up on printer's ink."

She plays Veronica because: "I love dramatics and I'm impressed with the beautiful message the play carries."

This is Madeline's 19th year in the passion play which, with a cast of 250 under the direction of the Rev. Benjamin Wirtz, is in its 36th consecutive season. After two years in a minor part she tried out for the title role and has held it ever since.

Besides dramatic ability, the role requires that the actress playing it be unmarried.

Norwood News

Prize winners at the Legion euchre part in the hall on Wednesday were Mrs. Rose Mathews and William Heffernan. There were 14 tables, and lunch was served. Joseph McKey was MS.

Burping the Baby National Issue

LONDON, Feb. 20—(CP)— To burp or not to burp, baby?

That was the question of interest to mothers, posed recently by an article under that title in Lancet, of British doctors.

After summing up the arguments for and against, Lancet concluded:

"If the psychologists are right who attribute aggression in later life to difficulties at the breast, then the question of burping is important in national and international affairs. A campaign to study it seems overdue.

The question has been going the rounds for a year. It began when a London woman doctor, Dr. Joan Tanner, had a baby of her own and wrote a letter about it.

Dr. Tanner made a study of the burping problem and concluded that wind was the cause of many difficulties with baby. She said the best burping technique was by "holding the baby up and patting or stroking firmly over the left lower ribs at the back and side."

She did not hold with the average mother who" thumps indiscriminately over kidneys, liver and lungs.."

What's Right

You and your wife and another couple are visiting in a friend's home and the talk is a little boring, you think.

WRONG WAY: Pick up a magazine and start leafing through it.

RIGHT WAY: Do your part to liven up the conversation—instead of retreating behind a magazine.

Claim Fraud

Mr. Morton who witnessed the signature of Miss Hamilton and issued the receipt for her $1 initiation fee, was called on to explain these discrepancies in dates.

The IUE leader verified that on December 31 he had signed Miss Hamilton and had issued a receipt which he believed was dated correctly. Miss Hamilton said she had since lost the original.

Keep Application Secret

The card, apart from his and her signatures, was not filled out at the time. Miss Hamilton had wanted her application kept secret and Mr. Morton said that in accordance with her instructions he had not put it in with the other yellow cards until the morning of the OLRB hearing.

On January 4 he completed filling out the form. He contended that he had meant to date the card and receipt January 4 but by mistake put down December 4.

(December 4 was the day previous to the IUE's application to the OLRB at which time they claimed to have a majority of the CGE production workers signed up and paid. The OLRB hearing when the IUE filed 1628 yellow cards came a month later, and at that time the UE produced 1312 cards from workers stating either they had never signed a yellow card or if they had done so they had never paid the required dollar.)
